BALLOTING LASTS BUT TWO DAYS LONGER.

Question of Municipal Ownership is Still Before The Public For Decision.

DON'T FORGET TO VOTE.

BALLOTS ARE COMING IN FROM ALL PARTS OF CITY AND BOROUGH.

Boroughites Are Showing Special Interest in The Plan—Everybody Must Vote in Order to Make The Plan a Complete Success.

The Daily Press is trying to obtain the opinion of the public on the subject of the municipal ownership of the local water supply plant. The co-operation of the public is required in order to make the attempt a success. The vote will end Wednesday and all ballots must be mailed or left at this office by noon of that day. Ballots are printed in today's Daily Press or may be obtained by application at this office. The last ballot will appear in tomorrow's Daily Press. There isn't much time left so don't forget to send in your ballot.

A steady stream of the ballots are arriving in the office from all parts of the city and borough. The interest seems to be general but the response from the borough is larger, in proportion, than it is from the city. So far, the vote in the West End of the city has been comparatively light.

There is no doubt but that those who have considered the question are almost unanimously in favor of municipal ownership. Such is the story that the ballots tell. If there are opponents to the city ownership of the water works, they are not making themselves known. It is to be hoped that they will before the voting is over. The Daily Press wants to get the opinion of everyone who pays taxes of any kind, poll, personal or on real estate.

HARNEY'S MEETINGS ENDED.

Rev. Gilbert L. Harney Concluded His Meetings at Reform Hall Last Night.

The series of evangelistic meetings which have been conducted at Reform Hall, under the leadership of Rev. Gilbert L. Harney, of Maine, terminated last evening. There was a good attendance and the usual interest was manifested. Mr. Harney's subject was "A View of Christ Demanded by Modern Conditions," and it was delivered in the forceful manner which has characterized all of his addresses. The meetings will be resumed at intervals with other leaders.

EXERCISES AT HOPE CHAPEL.

SPECIAL PROGRAMME ARRANGED FOR THE ANNUAL REVIEW.

Music by Choir of Crescent Avenue Church. Recitation by Miss Overton —Address by Dr. Richards.

Instead of the usual Sunday-school exercises at Hope chapel yesterday, the pupils held the annual review, for which an appropriate programme had been prepared. In addition to the numbers contributed by the members of the school several pleasing selections were rendered by the choir of the Crescent Avenue church, composed of Mrs Dutton, Mr. Fish, Mr. Lott and Ward Stevens, accompanist. Miss Grace E. Overton recited very impressively, "The Story of Melody."

The remainder of the programme was as follows: Recitation, "The Girl Who Smiles," Sarah Pearson; song "Dropping Pennies," Anna Warnock; singing by kindergarten and primary classes: Recitation, "Gentle Words," James Kenney; recitation, "Sweet Pansies," Hattie Walls; recitation, "Singing in God's Acre," Bertha Jones; reciting of golden texts for three months by Miss Anna Warnock Miss Warnock is but five years old, but she recited the twelve texts without the least hesitancy and in a manner which surprised every one present.

The exercises were concluded with an address by Rev. Dr. W. R. Richards, pastor of the Crescent Avenue church.

COUNCIL MEETS TONIGHT.

Several Slight Increases in Appropriations For Year Are Expected.

The Common Council will hold its regular April meeting this evening Among the important matters to be considered will be the fixing of the appropriations for the coming year. It is expected that in several departments there will be a slight increase in the amount thought to be necessary to carry on the city government. The police, streets and other departments expect to be improved to greater or less degree, and in order to fully meet these expected expenses a little more money will be asked for. Several other matters of importance are to be considered also.

EIGHT JOINED CHURCH.

At Morning and Evening Services at First M. E. Church Yesterday.

Interesting services were held at the First M. E. church yesterday, morning and evening. The pulpit platform was appropriately decorated with palms, and extra music was rendered by the choir. At the morning service four young people from the Sunday-school were received into membership on probation. At the evening service, Rev. Dr. W. C Snodgrass preached a sermon appropriate to the day, after which four persons were received into membership. Mr. and Mrs. John Hope on probation, Mrs. Norris, of Baltimore, by letter, and Mr. Norris on probation.

PARADISE AS IT IS PICTURED BY DANTE.

Prof. E. W. Griggs Continued His Series of Lectures on The Great Florentine Poet.

GIVEN IN VINCENT CHAPEL.

TOOK UP ANALYSIS OF THE THIRD PART OF THE DIVINE COMEDY.

The "Paradiso" Was The Theme of Prof. Griggs's Lecture—Dante Depicts It As The World of Perfect Rest and Peace.

The "Paradiso," was the theme of Professor Edward Howard Griggs' fifth lecture in the course on Dante, delivered in Vincent chapel Saturday afternoon.

Paradise, as Dante depicts it, said Dr. Griggs, is the world of perfect rest and perfect peace. Here are commingled the beauties of the flowers, the winds and the songs of birds. Joy and beauty are alone given expression in this division of the Divine Comedy.

All art that tries to reproduce transcendental faith fails, for art appears to the soul, only through the senses And the same is true of all conceptions of Heaven. Heaven and earth are entirely dissimilar and hence all are lost in their efforts to imagine the former state. The human imagination cannot transcend the earth and sky.

There exists two kinds of virtue, virtue of action and virtue of contemplative life, declared Dr. Griggs When duty disappears and one acts for love solely, the height of life is reached.

Some are great for what they have done; others for what they were. Matilda, in the "Paradiso" is great, for what she does, and Beatrice for what she is. Matilda represents the active religion; Beatrice, the ethical Christianity. The love of Beatrice in the "Paradiso" is the grandest expression and is much higher than is found in the "Inferno." True love is the kind that can say: "I forgive you in so far as I am concerned, but for your sake I cannot forgive."

Punishment is moral medicine, said he, and love that is willing to hurt in order to cure is the true type. Remorse has its true value, as well as punishment, for it brings home to one just how far he has departed from the true life.

Dante teaches in the "Inferno," etchical death; in "Purgatory," the struggle, and in "Paradiso," the mystical idea of freedom and love The most important teachings of life are found in the "Paradiso" For instance it dwells on hope that leads one to a higher life and sets forth the correct relation of truth to love. The "Inferno" pictures gloom; "Purgatory," darkness and dawn, and "Paradiso" imagines life, music and motion. Life means truth and music means love, while motion or action expresses harmony. Perfect action Dante understood as individual circular motion and this mechanical idea represents life.

DEATH OF J. L. ANDERSON.

Passed Away at Home on Third Place After a Long Illness.

John L. Anderson, aged 66 years, who, for the past eighteen years, has resided in this city, died Saturday afternoon at his home 813 Third place, following a long illness from a complication of diseases. During the past two weeks Mr. Anderson was confined to his room and he declined rapidly.

Mr. Anderson was one of the best known tea and coffee merchants in New York, having been engaged in that business for a great many years, first at 131 Pearl street, and later at 93 Water street, New York. He was born in Edinburg, Scotland, and later spent several years in Amoy, China, where he became identified with tea interests. Mr. Anderson leaves a mother, Mrs. A. L. Anderson, who lives in Edinburg; a wife and two children, Miss J. M. Anderson and Kenneth Anderson. The son will continue the tea and coffee business at 93 Water street, New York.

The funeral services will be held at St. Mary's church tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. Interment will be at Greenwood cemetery.

Rev. Hobart Clark Preached.

Rev. Hobart Clark, of New Brighton, S. I., formerly pastor of the Unitarian church, greeted old friends in this city yesterday. In the morning he preached at All Souls church in exchange with the pastor, Rev. A. C. Nickerson.

WOMEN BATTLED.

Story of Fight Told at Hearing Before Justice Nash Saturday Afternoon.

An examination for the purpose of fixing bail was held by Justice Nash in police headquarters Saturday afternoon in the case against Mary Vantellar, who is charged with having committed an assault and battery upon Annie Murphy Monday last. Both parties were represented by counsel and the examination was quite extended.

Mrs. Murphy and Mrs. Vantellar live in adjoining houses in Morse's row on West Fourth street. The fracas, it appears, was caused by Mrs Murphy insisting on digging at a place in the rear of the houses, which Mrs. Vantellar claimed was included in her lease, and where she usually hung her clothes. This aroused her and, it is said, she rushed at the Murphy woman with a broomstick, which she proceeded to use with effect on the latter's head, not, however, it is claimed, until Mrs. Murphy was warned to cease. Mrs Murphy armed herself with a clothes pole and the Vantellar woman fled. No witnesses were called by the defense.

Justice Nash held the woman under $100 bail to await the action of the Grand Jury.

EVERYONE HAS INFLUENCE.

STRONG APPEAL FOR CHRISTIAN LIVING BY JUDGE RUNYON.

City Judge Wm. N. Runyon Addressed The Men's Meeting at The Y. M. C. A. Yesterday Afternoon.

City Judge Wm. N. Runyon addressed the men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon and his remarks were such as could not fail to stir the hearts of those who had the good fortune to hear him.

The service was conducted by George M. Rittenhouse, and the singing led by Horace J. Martin. Several solos were rendered during the course of the services by Professor George H. Morris, the gifted baritone.

The scriptural lesson, read by Mr. Rittenhouse was Corinthians viii, and it served as the appropriate theme for the discourse delivered by Judge Runyon, who spoke on "The Power of Example."

Mr. Runyon implored his hearers to choose the path which leads to eternal life, rather than to walk in the ways of the world, during the short temporal existence. Each one, said he, is here for a purpose and, as a free agent, his talents can be used for good. God wants the soul to come back to him tried and true, scarred but pure.

Every creature, declared Mr. Runyon, possesses an influence upon the life of another and, hence, one can realize how serious it is when considered that he is a pattern for some one's actions. The influence exerted is generally unconscious and it is impossible to escape. Man should make himself as much like God as possible. If another becomes steeped in evil, because of your misdoing, then the responsibility rests on your shoulders The father should lead a pure life for the sake of his child, and the older brother, as an example, to the younger brother. If one wants to please the master, he must be true to himself.

Before closing Mr. Runyon impressed upon the men assembled, the necessity of making sacrifices, when it is evident that one's action has an evil influence upon another.

CHAS. HYDE PLAYING GOLF.

Picture in The Mail and Express Shows Him at The Teeing Ground.

The Mail and Express illustrated Saturday magazine, contained a fine picture of Charles Hyde, of this city, and John D. Rockefeller, the oil magnate, playing golf at Palm Beach, Florida. In the descriptive artice the following is very interesting: "Golf has been styled as a game for all ages, and so it would seem, after a glance at the picture of John D. Rockefeller and Charles Hyde. The pair are engaged in a match, and although seventy years of age Mr. Hyde is able to put up a fair game."

Communion Service at Marconnier.

Yesterday afternoon Rev. SOCIETY IS PREPARING FOR EASTER GAIETY

Plans For the Third and Last Assembly at Casino Easter Monday Night.

ELABORATE PREPARATIONS.

EASTER WEEK WILL BE AN ACTIVE ONE FOR SOCIETY CIRCLES.

Decorations for Last Assembly Will be Particularly Typical of the Spring Season—Flowers Will Be Brought From the South.

After the Lenten season of quietness, Plainfield society circles will resume their wonted activity next Monday when the third and last of the series of society's formal functions, the Assemblies, will be held at the Casino Following the Assembly will come a round of pleasure and amusement which will continue all of Easter week and well into the week following.

Several unusual features have been introduced in the Assemblies this winter and the concluding dance of the series promises to be a trifle out of the regular run. The decorations will probably be the most novel feature of next Monday evening's dance. They will be essentially emblematic of spring and the committee in charge is preparing to go to considerable expense to make the effect complete. Flowers for the decorations will be brought up from the south especially for the dance, and the ball room of the Casino is to be converted into a veritable bower of flowers.

The double music of the last Assembly, Austen's orchestra and Brooks and Denton's banjo quintette, was decidedly effective and there have been many inquiries as to what new plans for music the committee had in view. Austen's orchestra will again furnish the music but, in addition to the regular orchestra, there will be cornets, trombone and other brass instruments to give a change to the usual style of music.

There are now 150 regular subscribers to the Assemblies With many of the young people home from college and university for the Easter vacation, there will be a number of extra guests. Several house parties have also been planned which will add a number of out-of-town society folk to the guests at the Assembly.

A number of those, who were invited to subscribe to the series of formal dances, but who, for various reasons were unable to do so when the subscription list was made up, are now desirious of attending the last of the series and so the committee has decided to issue invitations for the single dance for $2 each. Only those who were originally invited to subscribe to the Assemblies will be allowed to take advantage of this special invitation. Tickets may be obtained from any of the patronesses or Lewis E Waring, treasurer. The committee is desirious that those who wish to take advantage of this invitation will do so as soon as possible so that the committee will know how many to provide for at the dance.

The young married folk, who have held a series of subscription dances at the Casino during the winter, will hold the last of their series at the Casino Wednesday night of Easter week. Plans of unusual elaborateness are being made for that event. On the next night the junior set will enjoy a dance which will follow the prize speaking contest and dramatic performace to be given by the boys of Leal's School at the Casino.

Returned to Attend Wedding.

Mrs. T. Logan Murphy and her daughter, Miss Anna Murphy, who have been sojourning abroad for the past two years, returned home Saturday on the steamer St. Louis, of the American Line. They had a delightful trip and are enjoying most excellent health. They returned to attend the marriage of Mrs. Murphy's youngest son, Arthur Murphy, to Miss Lydia P. Ackerman, which takes place April 10 Yesterday they were entertained at dinner by former Mayor and Mrs. W. L Saunders, of Washington Park. They are now stopping at the Park Avenue Hotel.

Will Protect Local Merchants.

Philip Gehler, a Hebrew peddler from New York, was arrested and given a hearing this morning for peddling without a license. He pleaded ignorance of the law and City Judge Runyon in declaring that the local merchants must be protected at all hazards, imposed a fine of $3 in default of which Philip will have to serve ten days at Elizabeth.

WHY BAPTISM IS ESSENTIAL.

PLAIN TALK GIVEN BY REV. J. W. RICHARDSON ON THE SUBJECT.

Explained Why the Baptists Believe That Every Christian Should be Immersed.

The Park Avenue Baptist church contained a very large congregation last evening, most of whom were drawn thither by the announcement that Rev. J. W. Richardson would give a plain talk as to why the ordinance of baptism is essential. It was particularly appropriate to the occasion inasmuch as eight pupils from the Sunday school received the rite of baptism at the close.

Rev. Mr Richardson began his remarks by quoting passages from the Bible in which mention is made of baptism in various ways. The Baptists, he said, adhered only to the plain teachings of God. It was He who commanded baptism, therefore it must be essential. John the Baptist did only as God told him. He came bearing the mould of Christianity and received the ordinance of baptism which he was to administer to Christ. The Saviour traveled one hundred miles to the Jordon river, enduring all manner of physical discomfort and braving dangers, in order that He might be baptized. But His personal comfort was not to be considered. It was a matter of obeying God. If it were not essential it would have been beneath the dignity and consistency of the Father to command it.

Baptism is a symbol of repentance and acceptance of Christ and a public allegiance to Him. Jesus Christ commanded baptism, therefore in order to obey his commands it must be followed out.

The pupils who were baptized at the close were the Misses Margaret Ostrom, Marjorie Brown, Evelyn Stutzman, Grace Weeks and Mary Leveridge, and Irving VanWinkle and Martin Stutzman.

FOURTEEN BAPTIZED.

At Morning Service in First Baptist Church Yesterday—Thirteen to be Baptized Wednesday.

The morning service at the First Baptist church yesterday was largely attended, every seat in the edifice being taken. Much interest was centred in the baptism of fourteen young persons, recent converts at the special services held. One week ago fifteen young people were baptized, and there now remain thirteen to be baptized Wednesday evening of this week. Dr. Yerkes officiated, and there was special music appropriate to the occasion and Palm Sunday rendered by the choir A beautiful soprano solo, "These Are They," was sung by Miss Luella Harris.

Those who were baptized included the Misses Gussie Reanence, Bessie Flanders, Anna Morrison, Mazie Day, Tillie Mulford, Della Grant, Edna Carson and Albert Utzinger, Christian Utzinger, Edward Neal, Edward Baker, Alfred Drake, Harry Woodland and Guyon Fountain.

COMMITTEE INDIGNANT.

At False Story Published in Another Paper Regarding Printing Done For A. O. H.

P. Harrington, secretary of the committee from Division No. 4, Ancient Order of Hibernians, was a caller at The Daily Press office Saturday evening. He was very indignant, not at The Daily Press, but at another newspaper for publishing a false story concerning some printing done for the Hibernians. The article stated that the committee was very indignant over the fact that the adverting cards had all been printed on orange cardboard. Both of these facts were incorrect, he said. The committee was perfectly satisfied with the printing and there was not the slightest foundation for the article. He declared that the committee was highly incensed over the matter and the subject might be acted upon at the next meeting.

Important Meeting.

The Ladies' Aid Society of Hope chapel will hold an important meeting Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. At that time the newly-elected officers will assume their positions. They are president, Mrs. William Hangliter; vice-president, Mrs. Harriet Sweeney; recording secretary, Mrs. Robert Gow; treasurer, Mrs. George Redford.

Supper In Vincent Chapel.

The Woman's Home Missionary Society of the First M. E. church will hold a regular meeting tomorrow afternoon, at which time it is hoped that all mite boxes will be returned. In the evening at Vincent chapel the society will give a supper, followed by a social and informal programme of music.

WHAT CONFUSIANISM HAS NOT ACHIEVED.

Rev. Daniel Rapalje, Formerly a Missionary in China Spoke on That Subject.

AT THE TRINITY CHURCH.

ITS MOST GLARING FAULT WAS POINTED OUT.

Teaches Only Relation Between Man and Man and Not Between Man and His Maker—Not Taught Sin in the Sight of God.

A large and attentive congregation was present, last evening, at Trinity Reformed church to hear the pastor, Rev. Cornelius Schenck, and Rev. Daniel Rapalje discuss the shortcomings of Confusianism, as a creed.

Dr. Schenck was unfortunately prevented by a cold from making any extended remarks, but in introducing Mr. Rapalje, his utterances manifested the fact that he possesses a thorough knowledge of the philosophy of the state religion of the Chinese. He recalled to the attention of his auditors that the Chinese minister, Wu Ting Fang, had taken occasion to enlighten the American people on the strong points of Confusianism and had neglected to speak of its failings.

Mr. Rapalje in opening his address on "What Confusianism Has Not Done For China," declared that the religion of the major part of the Chinese people was not wholly responsible for all the degradation that exists in China. Confusianism, said he, is the state religion Its principles are adopted by the rulers, and its doctrines shape the policies of the country. Thus far can the present condition of China be attributed to its religion.

He quoted a late professor of Chinese literature of Oxford University as summing up the indictment against this creed, in saying that it throws no light on the relation to God; gives no impulse to religion, nor has any sympathy with progress Its precepts on propriety, the speaker praised, but he declared that the most glaring fault in the religion was that it teaches only the relation between man and man and not between man and his Maker.

Its staunchest supporters, the Chinese literati, neglect to practice its teachings and its followers in general praise, but do not make their lives conform to its precepts.

In the follower of Confucius, there is no sense of sin because he is not taught of sin in the eight of God. Selfishness, sharp dealing, ignorance and superstition are the natural outcome of the creed, declared Mr. Rapalje, and progress is unknown to the belief. The devotee of Confucianism looks back at the golden days of China, and does not desire to improve as the years pass by.

When Mr. Rapalje had finished, Dr. Schenck gave a lucid explanation of the Chinamen's unwillingness to improve and exhibited a sample of an idol of Confucianism. Said he, "The final test of religion is what it does for the people. The Chinese are today as they were two thousand years ago. They look to the setting sun and not to the glory of a rising sun, and hence it becomes Christians to send them a new light."

Invitation to Parliamentary Club.

The Woman's Parliamentary Club has received an invitation from the Westminster Club, of Elizabeth, to attend a lecture to be given Tuesday evening, April 9, in Westminster Presbyterian church, by Mrs. Henry Elliott Mott, one of the Women Commissioners for the State of New Jersey to the Pan-American Exhibition. The lecture will be illustrated with stereopticon views of the plan and scope of the exhibition.

Sentence Suspended on Hackmen.

Michael Kennedy and Dennis O'Brien, who were arrested Friday evening for violation of the city hack ordinance, were given an adjurned hearing this morning before City Judge Runyon. The court was inclined to be lenient and said that inasmuch as there was an element of doubt, the men would be released on a suspension of sentence.

FUNSTON REWARDED.

Made a Brigadier General In Regular Army.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—The reward of General Funston for his brilliant and meritorious conduct has not been tardy. The president and secretary of war have decided the matter in a manner which ought to give general satisfaction to the general, his friends and the country at large. The story is told in the following announcement made at the White House:

"To be major general United States army, Brigadier General Lloyd Wheaton, vice Miles, promoted lieutenant general; to be brigadier generals in the regular army, Colonel Jacob H. Smith, Seventeenth infantry, brigadier general volunteers, vice Daggett, retired, and Brigadier General Frederick Funston, United States volunteers, vice Wheaton, promoted."

One interesting feature connected with the appointment of General Funston to the regular army with the rank of brigadier general is that he is likely to become the lieutenant general commanding the army. The recent appointment of officers to be brigadier generals showed that General Leonard Wood would become senior major general of the army in about ten years and thus become eligible for appointment as lieutenant general commanding the army. Should he be appointed to the head of the army he would continue in that position over ten years, during which time General J. Franklin Bell and General Jacob Smith, the officers next preceding Funston, would retire. Their retirement would make him the senior major general commanding the army upon General Wood's retirement. His selection then to be the lieutenant general of the army would be probable.

General Lloyd Wheaton, just promoted to be major general, was appointed a brigadier general only a few weeks ago. He has had an excellent record. During the civil war he served in the Eighth Illinois regiment, first as a sergeant in Company E and later as first lieutenant. In 1862 he was made a captain and about a year later a major. In 1864 he was promoted to lieutenant colonel and in 1865 was brevetted colonel for his services in the campaign against Mobile. General Wheaton was made a major in the regular army in 1891 and lieutenant colonel of the Twenty-second infantry in 1895.

Colonel Jacob H. Smith, promoted to brigadier general, is another civil war officer. He was made a lieutenant of the Second Kentucky infantry in 1861, was promoted to captain in 1862 and at the close of the war was made a captain of the Eighteenth regular infantry. In June, 1893, he was made lieutenant colonel of the Twelfth infantry and later colonel of the Seventeenth infantry.

Logan Statue Unveiling.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Arrangements for the ceremonies attending the unveiling of the statue of General John A. Logan in Iowa circle April 9 have been completed by Colonel Theodore A. Bingham, superintendent of public buildings and grounds. General Granville S. Dodge, the presiding officer, will open the exercises, after which Rev. Frank W. Bristol of the Metropolitan M. E. church will deliver the invocation. This will be followed by the presentation of the sculptor, Mr. Franklin Simmons, and the unveiling of the statue by Master John Tucker, a grandson. President McKinley will make a short address, after which Senator Chauncey M. Depew of New York will deliver the oration. Benediction will bring the ceremonies to a close. Many veteran organizations will take part in the ceremonies, and it is expected delegations will be present from the Society of the Army of the Tennessee, the Army of the Cumberland and the Loyal Legion.

Rebellion Records.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—The work of publishing the official records of the rebellion, including both the Union and Confederate collections, is practically completed with the publication of volume 3, series 4, which has recently been distributed to beneficiaries by Captain R. W. Kerr, in charge of the war department document room. It is true there is still a volume of statistical matter to follow and two volumes of a general index, covering the entire 127 volumes of text or records. One chief indexer, at $1,800 a year, with a number of assistants, has been engaged upon this general index for nearly ten years. The statistical volume yet to be issued is supplemental, added by former Secretary Alger to the scope of the compilation as originally planned 25 years ago. This, with the two index volumes, will run the total number of books up to a round 130.

Michigan State Election.

DETROIT, April 1.—It is generally conceded that when the votes cast today by the citizens of Michigan are counted the Republican candidates for justice of the supreme court and two regents of the state university will be elected by a large majority. The campaign has been a very quiet one throughout the state. Neither Judge Allen C. Adsit of Grand Rapids, the Democratic candidate for justice, nor Judge Robert M. Montgomery of Grand Rapids, the Republican candidate, has made an active canvass. An amendment to the state constitution fixing the compensation of state legislators at $1,000 per term and mileage, instead of $3 per day when the legislature is in session and mileage as at present, will also be voted on.

Aged Man Celebrates.

NEW YORK, April 1.—For the last 36 years Noah Raby has celebrated his birthdays in the poorhouse near New Brunswick, N. J. Today he reached the age of 129. On his previous birthdays at the institution he has held a reception, many people coming to see him, but this year his extreme feebleness has made it necessary to forbid anything of the kind.

HE DIED FOR HIS MEN

Heroic Fate of Lieutenant Commander Roper.

FIRE ON THE GUNBOAT PETREL.

Brave Officer Suffocated While Attempting to Rescue a Seaman From the Burning Hold of the Ship.

CAVITE, April 1.—At 7 o'clock yesterday morning a fire was discovered in the sailroom of the United States gunboat Petrel, Lieutenant Commander Jesse Mims Roper commanding. The sailroom is a small compartment adjoining the magazine. The heat was intense, the smoke suffocating and the flames difficult to extinguish.

Lieutenant Commander Roper was the first to descend into the hold, but he was forced to return to the deck. Others then went down. Seaman Patrick Toner was prostrated and about to perish when Lieutenant Commander Roper endeavored to rescue him and was suffocated in the attempt.

Lieutenant Josiah Slutts McKean and Cadet Lewis suffered severely in bringing the body of Lieutenant Commander Roper to the deck.

Twenty-two of the crew were prostrated, Toner, Evans, Flaherty, Larsen, Kessler, Cahey, Burton, Smith, Sullivan and Forsboon seriously, but all will recover.

The contents of the sailroom were destroyed, but the damage to the gunboat was slight. The origin of the fire has not been ascertained. Possibly it was a case of spontaneous combustion.

The death of Lieutenant Commander Roper is greatly deplored. His body will be sent to the United States April 5 by the Buffalo.

A CABLE FROM REMEY.

The Death of Lieutenant Commander Roper Announced to His Friends.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—The navy department has received a cablegram from Admiral Remey, commander in chief of the Asiatic station, giving a brief account of a fire in the sailroom of the gunboat Petrel and of the death of the commanding officer, Lieutenant Commander Jesse Mims Roper, as a result of a heroic effort to rescue the men below. The dispatch also shows that 22 other officers and men were prostrated, but all are recovering. Admiral Remey's dispatch, dated Cavite, March 31, is as follows:

"Fire discovered sailroom Petrel 7 this morning, Roper commanding. After going below once went again against advice. Attempted recover men below. He suffocated. Died at 7:45. Twenty-two other officers and men entirely prostrated. All recovering. Fire out. Damage immaterial. Send Roper's remains by Buffalo."

The navy department at once sent a telegram to Mr. H. F. Fay, the brother-in-law of Lieutenant Commander Roper, at 73 Monmouth street, Longwood, Mass., asking that he inform Mrs. Roper of the news. The following expression of sympathy and appreciation is also made:

"With this sad news the department sends to Mrs. Roper deep sympathy in the great loss she has sustained and the highest appreciation of the gallantry and self sacrifice with which Lieutenant Commander Roper gave his life for his fellow men. It was a hero's death."

The deceased officer was born in Missouri and entered the naval service June 25, 1868. He was commissioned to the rank held by him at the time of his death on March 3, 1899, and ordered to command the Petrel Nov. 15, 1899. The Petrel was one of the vessels under Admiral Dewey at the battle of Manila Bay, when she was in charge of Lieutenant Commander E. P. Wood. The latter officer came home shortly after, and Lieutenant Commander Roper succeeded him.

Neil Gilmour Dead.

BALLSTON, N. Y., April 1.—Neil Gilmour, former state superintendent of public instruction, died Sunday morning from an embolism arising from valvular disease of the heart, with which he had been an invalid for five months. He was born in Paisley, Scotland, Jan. 8, 1840; came to this village in youth and graduated from Union college in 1862. He was chosen a school commissioner of this county in 1866, elected state superintendent in 1873 and was twice re-elected, serving nine years. He was registrar of the United States land office at Bismarck, N. D., during Harrison's administration. Since then he had practiced law in this village. Mr. Gilmour is survived by a widow, one son, Harney J. Gilmour of Brooklyn, and a brother, Allan Gilmour of Albany.

The Kentucky Futurity.

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 1.—Secretary Horace Wilson of the Kentucky Breeders' association officially announces that 1,379 mares have been named in the rick Kentucky Futurity, value $21,000, for foals of 1901, which closed March 15. This is 109 less than were nominated in the record breaking list of 1900, but is in itself a magnificent showing, attesting the popularity of the stake and the association giving it. This is the twelfth renewal of the Futurity, which is universally regarded as the greatest trotting event in the world. Thirty-five states and territories are represented in the entry.

Deserters Frighten African Town.

ACCRA, Gold Coast Colony, April 1.—Three hundred men of the British West African regiment who deserted at Kumasi marched armed to Cape Coast Castle, where all business has been suspended owing to a fear that the deserters will loot the town. One hundred and twenty troops have been dispatched from Accra to Cape Coast Castle to suppress the revolt.

Famous Violinist Dead.

HENNIKER, N. H., April 1.—Christopher Columbus Gibson, the celebrated musician and composer, is dead at his home here from an attack of apoplexy. Mr. Gibson was born here on Aug. 24, 1824, and had always resided here. He was one of a musical family and had played in all of the large cities of the Union as a violin virtuoso.

A Raid on Crap Shooters.

LYNN, Mass., April 1.—The ordinary Sunday quiet of the city was disturbed by a wholesale raid by the police upon crap shooters, the arrests numbering 56. Several men were injured in trying to escape from the clubroom in which the shooters were corralled.

The president and secretary of war have decided the matter in a manner which ought to give general satisfaction to the general, his friends and the country at large. The story is told in the following announcement made at the White House:

"To be major general United States army, Brigadier General Lloyd Wheaton, vice Miles, promoted lieutenant general; to be brigadier generals in the regular army, Colonel Jacob H. Smith, Seventeenth infantry, brigadier general volunteers, vice Daggett, retired, and Brigadier General Frederick Funston, United States volunteers, vice Wheaton, promoted."

One interesting feature connected with the appointment of General Funston to the regular army with the rank of brigadier general is that he is likely to become the lieutenant general commanding the army. The recent appointment of officers to be brigadier generals showed that General Leonard Wood would become senior major general of the army in about ten years and thus become eligible for appointment as lieutenant general commanding the army. Should he be appointed to the head of the army he would continue in that position over ten years, during which time General J. Franklin Bell and General Jacob Smith, the officers next preceding Funston, would retire. Their retirement would make him the senior major general commanding the army upon General Wood's retirement. His selection then to be the lieutenant general of the army would be probable.

General Lloyd Wheaton, just promoted to be major general, was appointed a brigadier general only a few weeks ago. He has had an excellent record. During the civil war he served in the Eighth Illinois regiment, first as a sergeant in Company E and later as first lieutenant. In 1862 he was made a captain and about a year later a major. In 1864 he was promoted to lieutenant colonel and in 1865 was brevetted colonel for his services in the campaign against Mobile. General Wheaton was made a major in the regular army in 1891 and lieutenant colonel of the Twenty-second infantry in 1895.

Colonel Jacob H. Smith, promoted to brigadier general, is another civil war officer. He was made a lieutenant of the Second Kentucky infantry in 1861, was promoted to captain in 1862 and at the close of the war was made a captain of the Eighteenth regular infantry. In June, 1893, he was made lieutenant colonel of the Twelfth infantry and later colonel of the Seventeenth infantry.

Logan Statue Unveiling.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Arrangements for the ceremonies attending the unveiling of the statue of General John A. Logan in Iowa circle April 9 have been completed by Colonel Theodore A. Bingham, superintendent of public buildings and grounds. General Granville S. Dodge, the presiding officer, will open the exercises, after which Rev. Frank W. Bristol of the Metropolitan M. E. church will deliver the invocation. This will be followed by the presentation of the sculptor, Mr. Franklin Simmons, and the unveiling of the statue by Master John Tucker, a grandson. President McKinley will make a short address, after which Senator Chauncey M. Depew of New York will deliver the oration. Benediction will bring the ceremonies to a close. Many veteran organizations will take part in the ceremonies, and it is expected delegations will be present from the Society of the Army of the Tennessee, the Army of the Cumberland and the Loyal Legion.

Rebellion Records.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—The work of publishing the official records of the rebellion, including both the Union and Confederate collections, is practically completed with the publication of volume 3, series 4, which has recently been distributed to beneficiaries by Captain R. W. Kerr, in charge of the war department document room. It is true there is still a volume of statistical matter to follow and two volumes of a general index, covering the entire 127 volumes of text or records. One chief indexer, at $1,800 a year, with a number of assistants, has been engaged upon this general index for nearly ten years. The statistical volume yet to be issued is supplemental, added by former Secretary Alger to the scope of the compilation as originally planned 25 years ago. This, with the two index volumes, will run the total number of books up to a round 130.

Michigan State Election.

DETROIT, April 1.—It is generally conceded that when the votes cast today by the citizens of Michigan are counted the Republican candidates for justice of the supreme court and two regents of the state university will be elected by a large majority. The campaign has been a very quiet one throughout the state. Neither Judge Allen C. Adsit of Grand Rapids, the Democratic candidate for justice, nor Judge Robert M. Montgomery of Grand Rapids, the Republican candidate, has made an active canvass. An amendment to the state constitution fixing the compensation of state legislators at $1,000 per term and mileage, instead of $3 per day when the legislature is in session and mileage as at present, will also be voted on.

Aged Man Celebrates.

NEW YORK, April 1.—For the last 36 years Noah Raby has celebrated his birthdays in the poorhouse near New Brunswick, N. J. Today he reached the age of 129. On his previous birthdays at the institution he has held a reception, many people coming to see him, but this year his extreme feebleness has made it necessary to forbid anything of the kind.

HE DIED FOR HIS MEN

Heroic Fate of Lieutenant Commander Roper.

FIRE ON THE GUNBOAT PETREL.

Brave Officer Suffocated While Attempting to Rescue a Seaman From the Burning Hold of the Ship.

CAVITE, April 1.—At 7 o'clock yesterday morning a fire was discovered in the sailroom of the United States gunboat Petrel, Lieutenant Commander Jesse Mims Roper commanding. The sailroom is a small compartment adjoining the magazine. The heat was intense, the smoke suffocating and the flames difficult to extinguish.

Lieutenant Commander Roper was the first to descend into the hold, but he was forced to return to the deck. Others then went down. Seaman Patrick Toner was prostrated and about to perish when Lieutenant Commander Roper endeavored to rescue him and was suffocated in the attempt.

Lieutenant Josiah Slutts McKean and Cadet Lewis suffered severely in bringing the body of Lieutenant Commander Roper to the deck.

Twenty-two of the crew were prostrated, Toner, Evans, Flaherty, Larsen, Kessler, Cahey, Burton, Smith, Sullivan and Forsboon seriously, but all will recover.

The contents of the sailroom were destroyed, but the damage to the gunboat was slight. The origin of the fire has not been ascertained. Possibly it was a case of spontaneous combustion.

The death of Lieutenant Commander Roper is greatly deplored. His body will be sent to the United States April 5 by the Buffalo.

A CABLE FROM REMEY.

The Death of Lieutenant Commander Roper Announced to His Friends.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—The navy department has received a cablegram from Admiral Remey, commander in chief of the Asiatic station, giving a brief account of a fire in the sailroom of the gunboat Petrel and of the death of the commanding officer, Lieutenant Commander Jesse Mims Roper, as a result of a heroic effort to rescue the men below. The dispatch also shows that 22 other officers and men were prostrated, but all are recovering. Admiral Remey's dispatch, dated Cavite, March 31, is as follows:

"Fire discovered sailroom Petrel 7 this morning, Roper commanding. After going below once went again against advice. Attempted recover men below. He suffocated. Died at 7:45. Twenty-two other officers and men entirely prostrated. All recovering. Fire out. Damage immaterial. Send Roper's remains by Buffalo."

The navy department at once sent a telegram to Mr. H. F. Fay, the brother-in-law of Lieutenant Commander Roper, at 73 Monmouth street, Longwood, Mass., asking that he inform Mrs. Roper of the news. The following expression of sympathy and appreciation is also made:

"With this sad news the department sends to Mrs. Roper deep sympathy in the great loss she has sustained and the highest appreciation of the gallantry and self sacrifice with which Lieutenant Commander Roper gave his life for his fellow men. It was a hero's death."

The deceased officer was born in Missouri and entered the naval service June 25, 1868. He was commissioned to the rank held by him at the time of his death on March 3, 1899, and ordered to command the Petrel Nov. 15, 1899. The Petrel was one of the vessels under Admiral Dewey at the battle of Manila Bay, when she was in charge of Lieutenant Commander E. P. Wood. The latter officer came home shortly after, and Lieutenant Commander Roper succeeded him.

Neil Gilmour Dead.

BALLSTON, N. Y., April 1.—Neil Gilmour, former state superintendent of public instruction, died Sunday morning from an embolism arising from valvular disease of the heart, with which he had been an invalid for five months. He was born in Paisley, Scotland, Jan. 8, 1840; came to this village in youth and graduated from Union college in 1862. He was chosen a school commissioner of this county in 1866, elected state superintendent in 1873 and was twice re-elected, serving nine years. He was registrar of the United States land office at Bismarck, N. D., during Harrison's administration. Since then he had practiced law in this village. Mr. Gilmour is survived by a widow, one son, Harney J. Gilmour of Brooklyn, and a brother, Allan Gilmour of Albany.

The Kentucky Futurity.

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 1.—Secretary Horace Wilson of the Kentucky Breeders' association officially announces that 1,379 mares have been named in the rich Kentucky Futurity, value $21,000, for foals of 1901, which closed March 15. This is 109 less than were nominated in the record breaking list of 1900, but is in itself a magnificent showing, attesting the popularity of the stake and the association giving it. This is the twelfth renewal of the Futurity, which is universally regarded as the greatest trotting event in the world. Thirty-five states and territories are represented in the entry.

Deserters Frighten African Town.

ACCRA, Gold Coast Colony, April 1.—Three hundred men of the British West African regiment who deserted at Kumasi marched armed to Cape Coast Castle, where all business has been suspended owing to a fear that the deserters will loot the town. One hundred and twenty troops have been dispatched from Accra to Cape Coast Castle to suppress the revolt.

Famous Violinist Dead.

HENNIKER, N. H., April 1.—Christopher Columbus Gibson, the celebrated musician and composer, is dead at his home here from an attack of apoplexy. Mr. Gibson was born here on Aug. 24, 1824, and had always resided here. He was one of a musical family and had played in all of the large cities of the Union as a violin virtuoso.

A Raid on Crap Shooters.

LYNN, Mass., April 1.—The ordinary Sunday quiet of the city was disturbed by a wholesale raid by the police upon crap shooters, the arrests numbering 56. Several men were injured in trying to escape from the clubroom in which the shooters were corralled.

A SHOT AT THE CZAR

Officer of His Household Tried to Kill Him.

REVOLUTIONARY COMMITTEE SEIZED.

Seventy-two Members Taken After a Sharp Fight With Police—Students Released—Riots at Kiev.

LONDON, April 1.—A dispatch to The Morning Leader from Kiev says it is reported that an officer of the household attempted to assassinate the czar. He fired at his majesty, but missed. He then shot and killed himself before he could be arrested.

A dispatch to The Telegraph from St. Petersburg says that the headquarters of the committee of the revolutionary movement has been raided and the whole body, consisting of 72 members, captured.

The police surprised the committee at night. They made a desperate defense, firing at the police, but were finally overcome. The police found quantities of proclamations.

The board of education is considering, as a means of diminishing the number of university students, a proposal to admit any one qualified to enter the universities to examination for university diplomas whether they ever attended the universities or not. This, however, would hardly be a satisfactory solution of the difficulties which result from restrictions of university freedom.

Sixty-nine students who were arrested during the recent riots have been released.

It is reported that severe riots have occurred during the last few days at Kiev, but were quelled by the military authorities. No further particulars are available.

Altogether 3,000 arrests have been made. It is reported that some of the ministers now wear steel cuirasses.

Whisky Scarce and High.

LOUISVILLE, April 1.—Edson Bradley, president of the Kentucky Distilleries and Warehouse company, when asked to account for the sensational advance in the price of whisky held by his company replied: "Because the conditions of the market warranted it. I anticipate a further advance in all fine whiskies. It will not surprise me to see some Kentucky bourbons go to $1.25 per gallon. In fact, some are selling at and above that figure now. There is a shortage of Kentucky whiskies in bond. That accounts for the strong condition of the market. Whisky consumption is steadily on the increase, and the shortage in certain ages buoys the market. The crop made by the Kentucky Distilleries and Warehouse company will not be much in excess of 12,000,000 gallons. That is not an overproduction, but, on the contrary, it is very conservative."

Burned Herself to Death.

SYRACUSE, April 1.—A special to The Post-Standard from Canastota says: "Saturday night William Welch and his wife Mary quarreled. Yesterday noon the woman, brooding over her trouble, decided to end all in death. She saturated her clothes with coal oil and, going out of the house to avoid setting fire to it, applied a match to her dress. People coming from church discovered her burned almost beyond recognition, but still conscious. They carried her to the house, but physicians could do nothing."

Serious Mining Accident.

PRESCOTT, A. T., April 1.—A serious accident occurred at the United Verde mines at Jerome in which two men were killed and four others seriously injured. A number of holes had been loaded, and the men were engaged in lighting the fuses for their discharge. The fuses were too short, and before all had been lighted the first one exploded, with the above results. The names of the victims could not be learned.

An Express Robbery.

NEW YORK, April 1.—Five thousand dollars in bills sent from the Bank of Columbia of Columbia, S. C., to the National Bank of Commerce in this city by the Southern Express company was stolen somewhere on the way. The package supposed to contain the money was delivered to the Bank of Commerce on Saturday morning. It contained nothing but brown paper cut to the size of bills.

Sister Hermits Dead.

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., April 1.—The Disbrow sisters, two widely known spinsters who for 60 years have lived secluded in a gloomy mansion on the Boston post road, overlooking the sound, are both dead. The older sister died a week ago of pneumonia. Cordelia, the younger, followed her yesterday morning. Their exact ages are not known, but it is believed that both were considerably over 80.

A Fatal Fire.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., April 1.—By the upsetting of a lamp in the boarding house of John Gordon at Georgetown, a suburb of this city, the house was set on fire. The boarders all succeeded in making their escape with the exception of John O'Donnell, aged 40, who was burned to death, and Dan Sullivan, who received burns on the face and upper portions of the body which may result fatally.

John C. Calhoun's Scheme.

MONTREAL, April 1.—Mr. John C. Calhoun, grandson of the famous southerner of that name, has formed a company for the working of the large deposits of bituminous slate in Albert county, New Brunswick. He expects to spend $100,000 in erecting a plant to secure an output of 3,000 tons per day. The deposits are similar to those found in Australia.

A Strike Averted.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., April 1.—The blast furnace operators of the Mahoning valley have acceded to the demand of the furnace workers by granting them the increase of 20 cents per day asked for. The men would have gone on a strike at 6 o'clock this morning if the operators had refused the demand.

Anticlerical Riots In Spain.

BARCELONA, April 1. — Twenty thousand persons participated here yesterday in an anticlerical demonstration in the Plaza del Toro. A large crowd stoned the Jesuit college. Finally the police charged and dispersed the demonstrators, injuring several.

NEW YORK LEGISLATURE.

Charter Revision the Principal Business on Hand.

ALBANY, April 1.—The New York charter revision will of course hold first place in the legislature this week. It is problematical just how long it may take to get this measure through both houses and repassed over Mayor Van Wyck's veto.

Should the governor send in an emergency message to the senate today the bill could of course be passed and sent over to the assembly by Wednesday. Another emergency message would pass it in that house the same day, and on Thursday it might be laid on Mayor Van Wyck's desk in New York. Assuming that he will take the full 15 days allowed him for consideration, the legislature could repass the bill over his veto on Friday, April 19, and adjourn the next day. The fact is that all other business of importance is cleared up, and the legislature only waits for the settlement of the charter revision question before it ends its work for 1901.

Some time during the week Senator Davis of Erie county is expected to introduce his bill providing for the submission to the people of the proposition to expend $25,000,000 on the canals of the state.

Andrew Carnegie's princely gift of $5,200,000 will be accepted by New York through the aid of proper legislation before ten days are over. During the present week the Seymour and Stranahan bills will be passed, and one of them will be at once sent to New York for Mayor Van Wyck's approval. This approval, it is said, will take no longer in being made manifest than the transit of the bill from Albany to the mayor's office.

The mortgage tax bill, which was reported favorably in the senate with some amendments last week that did not destroy the basic clause of a tax of one-half of 1 per cent, will likely be passed and sent over to the assembly. Governor Odell is said to approve the measure, and this fact, regardless of the opposition there is said to be to the measure, will be sufficient, it is thought, to put it through.

CONVERTS GIVE ALL.

Houses Sold and Cash Turned In After Revival Meetings in Tacoma.

TACOMA, April 1.—The recent revival meetings have resulted in a mania for giving away property to religious sects.

Mrs. Frank Grinnell this week sold her home in Tacoma for $2,300 and left last night for Florida to join a sect which preaches that Christ has returned to earth and is now living among them. She became fully imbued with this idea and was so eager to go away that she could scarcely find time to say goodby to the neighbors.

W. H. Watkins, a baker at Whatcom, has disposed of all his property and given the entire proceeds, together with his savings, to Shiloh college, in Maine. The institution is conducted by a sect which has taken as its special work the training of people how to properly serve God. Watkins is 60 years old and turned over $4,000 to the Shiloh elders who came here for converts. Watkins, his wife and four children have left for Maine to enter the college and will subsequently become missionaries.

A Shiloh party of three converts which left for Maine last week would not buy tickets offered by five competing railroads until "the spirit moved them." It finally moved in favor of the Canadian Pacific, which quoted the lowest rates. Watkins' money paid for the tickets. Homer Houseler, a well to do merchant, sold two houses here and joined the Shiloh party, taking his wife and daughter.

The son of ex-Congressman Crowley of Lockport, N. Y., was arrested in San Juan, Porto Rico, in connection with alleged postal frauds.

The university boat race on the Thames was won by the Oxford crew, defeating Cambridge by half a length.

An anarchist recently returned from the United States has been arrested in Rome on a charge of being concerned in a plot to destroy the lives of the king and queen of Italy.

The state department has called Minister Loomis from Caracas to Washington, desiring to consult him regarding issues with Venezuela, which are said to be growing more acute.

A Fish Packing Trust.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1.—A $30,000,000 syndicate deal is pending in San Francisco, and with its successful consummation the entire fishing and packing industry on the Pacific coast will be controlled by one big corporation. The principal shareholders in the syndicate should the deal be closed include the well known New York financiers, J. Pierpont Morgan, August Belmont, W. Seligman, J. Seligman and the presidents of several large banking houses in New York city. Representatives of the eastern capitalists have secured options on a large majority of the canning plants, and the syndicate will be able to control the entire salmon industry, with the exception of that controlled by the Alaska Packers' association of this city.

Blizzard In Texas.

FORT WORTH, Tex., April 1.—One of the worst blizzards of the season is prevailing in the Texas panhandle. Reports from up the Denver road say snow began falling early Sunday morning and at 9 o'clock was nearly four inches on a level at Quanah. The thermometer registered 25 degrees at Texline. Above this point the blizzard is much worse, the snow fall being accompanied by a fierce wind. The storm will have a bad effect on the cotton interests in the panhandle.

No Clew to His Identity.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., April 1.—Referring to the mutilated body of an unknown man found on the bank of the river on Friday without mark or clew to identify it, Coroner Goring has found a verdict setting forth these facts. It is doubtful if the mystery of the supposed murder will ever be cleared up.

Corporation Notice.

Notice is hereby given that the following Ordinance has been introduced before the Common Council, read the second time and ordered engrossed preparatory to its third reading, and that it is the intention of the Council to adopt the same.

J. T. MACMURRAY, City Clerk.

Plainfield, N. J., March 18, 1901.

AN ORDINANCE

to provide for the improvement of Sewage Disposal Works, Beds and Appurtenances of the City of Plainfield.

WHEREAS, Pursuant to the provisions of an Act of the Legislature entitled, "An Act to Provide for Drainage and Sewerage in Cities of this State," approved April 7, 1890, and act amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto, a system of sewerage has been constructed and operated in said city, and the Common Council of said city hath deemed it expedient and doth hereby ascertain, adjudge and determine that it is expedient to collect the sewage of said city from sewers constructed under said acts of the Legislature and to deodorize and dispose of the same in the manner hereinafter specified, and to construct a sewage receptacle and other structures and works for treating and disposing of said sewage in the manner hereinafter specified, and to erect all necessary buildings, works and machinery therefor, and

WHEREAS, The Common Council having duly investigated the premises and considered the same, is of the opinion that the public good requires the adoption of the plan of sewage disposal and the construction of improvement of sewage disposal works, beds and appurtenances hereinafter specified, and the Common Council hath so determined and doth hereby so determine.

The inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, by their Common Council, do enact as follows:

Section 1. That the Common Council doth hereby determine, direct and order that the plan of improvement of sewage disposal works, beds and appurtenances above referred to, and particularly set forth in the plans and specifications filed in the office of the City Clerk and adopted by the Common Council by resolution on the twenty-first day of January, 1901, providing for the construction of two septic tanks under one roof and eight bacterial contact beds, all to be placed in the present filter beds on lands heretofore purchased and acquired by the city under and by virtue of the acts of the Legislature above referred to, which filter beds are numbered 6, 10 and 14, as particularly described and set forth in said plans and specifications, to which reference is hereby made for greater certainty and the same hereby made a part of this ordinance, be and the same are hereby adopted, and that the improvement therein specified be and hereby is ordered to be made pursuant to the said acts of the Legislature and in accordance with said plans and specifications.

Sec. 2. That whereas the Common Council has duly solicited bids for doing the work and furnishing the materials for the making of said improvement, and caused due advertisement to be made calling for such bids as in said acts of the Legislature directed, and at the time and place specified in said advertisement received numerous sealed proposals, and thereupon the Common Council proceeded to unseal the same and publicly announce the contents in the presence of the parties bidding or their agents, and also to make proper record of the prices and terms upon the minutes of the Council, and the bid deemed most advantageous for the city was also the lowest bid of any person offering satisfactory security, namely, the bid or proposal of Gleason-Kiely Contracting Company of Syracuse, N. Y., the aggregate of which bid was the sum of Thirty-Seven Thousand One Hundred and Eighty-Seven Dollars and Fifty-Seven Cents, and the surety proposed being United States Fidelity & Guarantee Company of Baltimore, Maryland; that said bid be and the same is hereby accepted and the contract awarded to said Gleason-Kiely Contracting Company, and that the Mayor and City Clerk be and are hereby authorized to execute the contract on behalf of this city in the form annexed to the above mentioned plans and specifications.

Dissolution Notice.

Notice is hereby given that the partnership lately subsisting between Andrew Vanderbeek and Joseph Sattels, under the firm of Vanderbeek & Sattels, was dissolved on the twelfth day of February, 1901, by mutual consent.

All debts owing to the said partnership are to be paid to the said Joseph Sattels, and all demands against said firm shall be presented to him for payment.

The business will be continued by said Joseph Sattels, at the old stand, 221 Park avenue, second floor.

A SHOCKING ACCIDENT.

Three Fall Over a Cliff Near Poughkeepsie—One Instantly Killed.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., April 1.—Between 5 and 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon Mrs. Daniel Patterson, wife of a mechanic; her 12-year-old daughter and Nellie Chase, aged 14, all living in Cold Spring, went out for a walk. They stopped on Table rock, half way up Breakneck mountain, to watch the forest fires burning on Crow Nest mountain, across the river.

Suddenly the Patterson child slipped and fell over the cliff. The mother sprang forward to save the child and also fell over the rock, both screaming in turn as they fell. Nellie Chase became greatly excited as she saw her friends go over, and she, too, fell after them.

Table rock is 200 feet above tide water, and the side of the mountain under it is very steep. The place where the woman and children fell is in the rear of Rocknoath, W. H. Haldene's residence, and adjoining Daniel Butterfield's place. One McCarthy, employed by Mr. Haldene, heard screams and ran up the hill. He found Nellie Chase in the branches of a large tree, where she had fallen. She was uninjured, the tree having saved her life, but she was awfully frightened. McCarthy climbed the tree and got her down.

The Patterson girl was found a few feet farther down with a broken arm and a cut and bruised body.

Mrs. Patterson was found farther down the mountain dead. She had fallen at least 100 feet and was dashed to death on the rocky side of the hill. She was about 45 years old. Her husband is employed in the Cornwall foundry at Cold Spring. Nellie Chase is the daughter of W. G. Chase, a shipping clerk in the foundry.

THE MARSEILLES STRIKE.

Masters Refuse to Consider Eight Hour Day.

MARSEILLES, April 1.—The situation is unchanged as a result of the conference between the premier and the masters. The latter persist in their refusal to discuss a day of eight hours, which has all along been regarded by the strikers as the crucial point in the dispute.

In spite of the increasing number of free dockers now working, quantities of perishable goods lie rotting on the docks. Twenty-one steamers are awaiting discharge.

The general strike while it lasted and the continued suspension of most dock work has done enormous injury to the commerce and industry of Marseilles. The calculations show an industrial loss of some 25,000,000 francs, while the men have lost more than 2,000,000 francs in wages.

The commerce of Marseilles is for the time being almost at a complete standstill. Foodstuffs, which are largely imported, are scarce. The prices of sugar, coffee, flour and other necessary articles have doubled. A number of factories have been obliged to close.

At strike meetings held last evening and attended by about 3,000 dockers and coal heavers it was decided to continue the strike until the masters concede an eight hour day.

The Far Eastern Situation.

LONDON, April 1.—The Yokohama correspondent of The Daily Mail, who records various indications of preparations for war on the part of Japan, says: "Interviews have appeared with prominent statesmen, all breathing the war spirit and expressing the general opinion that it is impossible to allow Russia a free hand in Manchuria. This is the gravest crisis from the point of view of Japan since her war with China." According to a dispatch from St. Petersburg to The Daily Mail, the Koreans at Sa-mau, a frontier town, recently repulsed an attack by 200 armed Chinese.

Usual New York City Probe.

ALBANY, April 1.—Assembly John H. Weekes introduced a bill today to have New York city's municipal departments investigated with a view to the adoption of wholesale salary list reforms. A commission of 15 is to be appointed by the governor within 30 days to inquire whether or not the number of employees and salaries in New York city cannot be reduced. The commission is to make a report on Dec. 1, 1901, to the governor and at the same time submit bills necessary to carry into effect any reform measures recommended.

Building Trades Strike.

TRENTON, April 1.—A general strike of all the men belonging to the different building trades unions in Trenton was inaugurated here today. The men are striking for an eight hour day at the same wages they have heretofore been receiving for a nine hour day. The men gave notice some time ago that they would ask to have a change go into effect April 1. The master masons and other builders have decided to deny the men's demand. About 800 to 1,000 men are concerned.

Hotel Burned Near Yonkers.

NEW YORK, April 1.—The new Hendric Hudson hotel at Park Hill, near Yonkers, was burned yesterday. The building was to have been ready for occupancy on May 1, and part of the furnishings had been put in. The cost of the structure and furnishings was $150,000, and the building was so thoroughly damaged by the fire that the walls had to be pulled down. There is said to be ample insurance to cover the loss.

Seventy-two Boers Captured.

LONDON, April 1.—The war office has received advices from Lord Kitchener, dated Pretoria, March 31, reporting the capture of 72 Boers in Orange River Colony and officially announcing that General French has taken 51 prisoners and received the surrender of 93 Boers, as already announced in press dispatches. Lord Kitchener also reports upon recent wrecking of trains at several points.

Suez Canal Blocked.

PORT SAID, April 1.—The Suez canal is temporarily blocked by a dredger, and the steamer Ophir, bearing the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York, en route for Australia, was compelled to stop about three hours' sail from Suez.

Will Be Ratified In April.

LONDON, April 1.—"There is reason to believe," says the St. Petersburg correspondent of The Daily Mail, "that the Manchurian convention between Russia and China will be ratified in April."

Weather Probabilities.

Fair; brisk and possibly high northwesterly winds.

FRAUDS IN MANILA.

Sensational Discoveries In the Commissary Department.

CHIEF AND HIS CLERKS ARRESTED.

Investigation Just Begun Shows a Scandalous State of Affairs—Government Robbed of Immense Sums.

MANILA, April 1.—Interest in the capture and fate of Aguinaldo is well nigh overshadowed in Manila by sensational developments, present and prospective, of frauds in the commissary department. How widely these extend has not yet been ascertained, but enough is already known to justify the belief that they are farreaching.

Captain Frederick J. Barrows of the Thirtieth volunteer infantry, quartermaster of the department of southern Luzon, together with seven commissary sergeants, several civilian clerks, a prominent government contractor, the assistant manager of the Hotel Oriente, the proprietors of three of the largest bakeries in Manila, a number of storekeepers and other persons, has been arrested.

The investigation has scarcely begun, but thousands of sacks of flour, a quantity of bacon and wagon loads of other goods, all bearing government marks, have been found in the possession of unauthorized persons.

It is alleged that the contractor in question, who has been doing a business approximating $100,000 a month, has spent huge sums in entertaining officers. A prominent commissary officer is accused of leading a scandalously immoral life. It is asserted that large quantities of stores have been lost or stolen in transit and also that there is a shortage in the commissary depot.

New scandals are developed daily. Illicit transactions have been traced back to June, 1900, and it is possible that there are others of earlier date.

The exorbitant tariff on provisions makes the surreptitious sale of commissary supplies immensely profitable.

It is understood that other United States officers may be arrested.

Lieutenant Philip K. Sweet of the Forty-sixth volunteer infantry is prosecuting the investigation under the direction of Colonel Wilder, chief of police.

Aguinaldo continues to express himself as pleased with and impressed by the courteous treatment accorded him by General MacArthur. "I am a prisoner," said he yesterday, "but I am treated like a guest."

Ohio Elections Today.

CINCINNATI, April 1.—Municipal and township elections are being held all over Ohio today. The most notable exception is that of Cincinnati, where a full ticket was elected one year ago for three years. Considerable interest, however, is taken here in the suburban elections, as these places have persistently opposed annexation. These local elections have quite a bearing on state and national politics, in which Governor Nash and Senator Foraker, who are both candidates for re-election, are taking part. In some counties nominations for members of the legislature are made by popular vote at the April election. The legislature that is selected next November will choose a successor to Senator Foraker. At the same election Governor Nash will be a candidate for a second term, and especial interest is being taken at Columbus on his account.

Saved by Her Son.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., April 1.—Mrs. Ann Clark, a widow living at Sylvan Lake, in the interior of Dutchess county, one day last week threw hot tea on her son James, aged 20, painfully scalding his face. She then ran out of the house and threw herself into the lake. The son followed and saw her come to the surface for the second time, when he jumped in and, holding her by the hair, took her ashore. She suffered from the shock and is still under the care of a doctor. It is said the woman was temporarily insane through worrying over her son's health.

Lord Salisbury's Condition.

LONDON, April 1.—The following bulletin regarding the condition of the premier has been issued by his physicians: "Lord Salisbury was attacked with influenza March 23. The illness has run the normal course and has been attended by the usual prostration. The temperature, however, has been almost normal for the last two days, and his lordship's strength is improved, with increasing power of taking food. It is hoped that he will be able shortly to get a change to the south, which he had been contemplating at the time of the attack."

The Stephens Funeral at Dublin.

DUBLIN, April 1.—The funeral of Mr. James Stephens, leader of the Fenian movement of 1866, who died here last Friday, took place yesterday, the remains being interred in Glasnevin cemetery in the presence of a great assemblage of people, including delegates from the various Nationalist organizations. Mr. Michael Davitt was among the pallbearers. The coffin was drawn by six horses with outriders and covered with beautiful wreaths from political societies. An Irish flag floated over it.

Bulgarian Troops Killed.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 1.—Advices from Salonika say that a band of 60 troops from Bulgaria endeavored to invade Macedonia near Djumabala March 27 and came into conflict with the Ottoman troops. Ten of the Bulgarians were killed, and the others fled. Further fighting is reported to have occurred in the Nejd district of Arabia between the sheik of Koweyt, on the Persian gulf, and Bin Rashid, the self styled "king of Arabia." A strong earthquake shock was felt here yesterday.

Platt and Odell Confer.

NEW YORK, April 1.—Senator Platt and Governor Odell had another talk yesterday. It is said that it has been settled that Henry H. Lyman of Oswego will be reappointed state commissioner of excise. His term expires this week. It is also reported that a choice for state commissioner in lunacy, to succeed Dr. Wise, removed by Governor Roosevelt, has been agreed upon, but his name was not divulged.

More Plague Cases.

CAPE TOWN, April 1.—Seventeen fresh cases of the bubonic plague, four European and 13 colored, were officially reported yesterday.

Action is Needed.

A misapprehension seems to prevail in the minds of some people regarding the criticism by The Daily Press as to the present condition of the banks of Green brook, as viewed from the new bridge which connects Madison avenue and Duer street. We have not said nor has it been our intention to convey the idea that garbage was being dumped into the brook. As far as we know, no such thing has happened. What The Daily Press has pointed out was that the bed of the stream is strewn with tin cans, loose paper and other rubbish while along the banks there are unsightly sheds, old boxes and barrels and much other rubbish.

The health of the community does not depend on the removal of this rubbish. It is simply a question of appearance. Plainfield has long been noted for its beauty and cleanliness and there is no reason why that reputation should not continue. Before the new bridge was built, the section in question was practically hidden from the public view. Now, however, that people are constantly passing over the bridge, this collection of rubbish and the group of unsightly structures is shown in all its ugliness. It is not pleasant to look at and every stranger who crosses the bridge can not help but be impressed by that fact. It is not in keeping with the rest of the city and borough and should be attended to without delay.

The Board of Health of North Plainfield acted promptly when the matter was called to the attention of that body. But the borough side of the brook is by no means as bad as the city side. The Daily Press has called the attention of the Plainfield Board of Health to the existing situation, but nothing has been done. While it may not be in the province of the board to compell property owners to remove or repair old and unsightly sheds, such an end could undoubtedly be attained by the use of a little moral suasion.

As far as the cleaning of the brook is concerned, it is certainly the duty of some department of the city government to have it done and without delay. It should then be duly impressed on the owners of the abutting property the necessity of keeping the back yards of the long row of store and office blocks in a neat and orderly condition in the future.

During the past two weeks there have been scores of strangers in town looking for homes in which to locate. Many of them have passed over the new bridge. The view must certainly have impressed them unfavorably. Scores of others will visit the city and borough this month. There should be no delay, therefore, in improving the appearance of the banks of Green brook and bringing them up to the standard of the rest of the city.

Dunellen is to have a Board of Trade. The citizens of that borough believe that considerable good can be accomplished by such an organization. There is no doubt that a live Board of Trade can materially assist the progress of any municipality. The only trouble is to keep it alive. Plainfield had a Board of Trade which lingered along and finally passed away. Out of its ashes sprang another organization which is still alive today although its career has seen periods of lethargy. At present, it appears to be a useful body and is growing again. There was a Plainfield Advancement Association once, but it has never been heard from since its clam-bake. If the Dunellen citizens will stand by their Board of Trade and maintain their interest in it, there are great possibilities before it. Otherwise, it will be another of those organizations of that nature which spring up in a night, only to wither away and die after a very brief existence.

The April meeting of the Common Coundil will be held this evening. It is expected that the annual budget will be presented by the finance committee. There will probably be a small increase in the budget over the figures of last year. As there will also probably be a small rise in the valuation of the taxable property of the city, the rise in the tax rate is not likely to be a large one. At present the tax rate is 2 46 A year ago it was 2 56 The increase is hardly likely to make it as high as the latter figure. The increase is occasioned by added municipal improvements. They cannot be enjoyed without being paid for. The question that the Council has to answer is how far shall they go in providing these improvements so that the taxes in the city shall not become excessive.

There is no doubt but that it would be preferable to have the trolley line extended out Somerset street on the opposite side of the brook from the present road. It would be considerably more expensive to the trolley company, however, and as the company will not build now on account of the heavy demands of one property owner, it is exceedingly doubtful whether the company would consent to spend even a greater amount to build a road bed across the brook from the route now under consideration.

The Daily Press was the first newspaper in the State to announce to the public the appointment of George W. Hope as postmaster at Raritan. The Daily Press gives the first news of important happenings through Union and Somerset counties.

Easter is now less than a week away and then will come the resumption of social activity. The week following Easter promises to be a very active one for the social circles of Plainfield. Many affairs of a pleasant nature have already been planned.

The last Municipal Ownership ballot will be published in The Daily Press tomorrow. Don't forget to send in your vote so that a full expression of opinion may be obtained.

The Board of Trade has decided to turn its next regular meeting, Monday evening, April 15, over to the public for the discussion of the water supply question.

WHAT OTHERS SAY.

Clippings From Other Newspapers Which May Be Of Interest to Plainfield and Its Citizens.

The Union county representatives in the recent Legislature have returned home full of honor and having much hard and effective work to their credit. Senator Cross, who will probably be president of the Senate next year, has added to his record another year of careful, studious, conscientious work. There is not a man in either House of the Legislature whose judgment is relied on to a greater extent than is that of Senator Cross. No measure has his support without his thorough understanding of its every section. His conservatism and caution are not liked by some who have measures to rush through, but Union county and the State have been saved many a complication by just these qualities. A more reliable member of the Senate Union county has never had. Assemblyman Meeker has fulfilled all the promises based upon his record last year. Not only this, he has far exceeded these promises. His work during the past three months has been marked by an aggressiveness that was as effective as it was surprising. The measures he introduced were remarkable for forcefulness, radical innovations and breadth of utility. He has made for himself a reputation second to none in the Legislature. Assemblyman Foote has added in no small degree to his former legislative acquirements, and though not so successful in securing the enactment of some of the measures he advocated, he again proved an able debater and an influential member of the House. He was found always on the right side, and his judgment weighed well with his associates in the House. Assemblyman Smith did not seem to have much opportunity to work except in a quiet way, but for the most part his vote was cast for measures that were right and proper. Union county's representation was, in the main, able, conscientious and eminently satisfactory.—Elizabeth Journal.

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence.)

Dunellen, April 1—The parlor meeting held at the home of Mrs. John Runyon, Saturday, under the auspices of the W. C. T. U., was largely attended and proved very interesting. The address of Miss Clementine Yates, of Plainfield, was greatly enjoyed. Refreshments were served at the close.

A peculiar accident, which fortunately did not result seriously, occurred on North avenue near Gallagher's corner yesterday afternoon. Two carriages, each containing a party from New Brunswick, were being driven along at a rapid pace when a horse, attached to one of them, suddenly dropped to the ground. The momentum of the carriage was such that it forced the animal upon the sidewalk, inflicting a number of bad cuts. The occupants, two men and two women, were badly shaken up but escaped with a few bruises. Several men who were near at the time raised the fallen horse, and after a brief rest it was able to proceed. It is alleged the animal had dropped from sheer exhaustion.

The Mandolin, Banjo and Guitar Club will be among the artists who will appear at a concert to be given in the Monroe Avenue church tomorrow evening.

The regular monthly meeting of the Borough Council will be held this evening at which several matters of importance will come up for consideration.

A slight improvement has been noticed in the condition of Thomas Barrett, of Jefferson avenue, but he still remains very weak.

Smith Watson will move shortly from his present residence on Front street to William Craig's house on Church street.

A service commencing at 10 o'clock was held in St. John's church yesterday in observance of Palm Sunday.

George W. Day is preparing to erect a dwelling on Front street on the lot occupied by the Call office.

Mrs. William Gulick has been confined to her home by illness.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence.)

New Market, April 1—H. J. Ofenshaw, the returned Chinese missionary, conducted the morning services at the First Baptist church yesterday. In the evening he was dressed in his Chinese costume and gave an instructive talk on China, accompanied by a number of Chinese songs.

The annual business meeting of the Seventh Day Baptist church and society will be held April 7, in the session room to elect one trustees for five years and one trustee for one year, also such other business as may properly come before the meeting.

S. R Dayton is very ill. He was not expected to live through the night.

Luther Davis, of New Brunswick, spent Saturday with James R. Dunham.

Percy Vail, of Orange, spent Sunday in town.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD

(Special Correspondence.)

Scotch Plains, April 1.—In some mysterious manner the valuable timber back of Miller's farm was set on fire last evening. The fire department was called out about 8 o'clock to extinguish the blaze which threatened to do much serious damage. The firemen worked for almost an hour before the fire was put out, and while much of the timber was saved, a great deal was destroyed and the loss will be considerable.

The following members of Fanwood Council, Royal Arcanum, represented the Council at the class initiation held at Arcanum Hall in Elizabeth, Saturday evening: Regent I. R. Collins, past regents Wm S Corey, John P. Bornman, Wm B. Noble and W. E Collins, secretary Norman Dunn, orator F. R. Allen and guide Wm. R Stanbery. Charles Sheelen, of Fanwood, who had been elected to membership in Fanwood Council, was the man chosen to ride the goat for the class.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD

(Special Correspondence.)

South Plainfield, April 1.—The Middlesex Juniors played a game of baseball with the New Market team on the Middlesex Athletic Club grounds Saturday afternoon. The local team was victorious with a score of 13 to 12. An agreement had been made to play but seven innings, otherwise the score might have been reversed. The New Market players were as follows: Battery, Piddington and Myer; Morris, Dantz, Johnson, Waglow and Eckert. The Middlesex Junior team was Maher, Smith, Randolph, Cubberly and Arrowsmith; battery was Keefe and McDonough. A return game will be played next Saturday at New Market.

The 'rubber' social, to be given by the Ladies' Aid Society, will be held this evening in the lecture room of the church. For admittance every one is required to bring something in the line of rubber goods and also to bring sufficient lunch for one person. A good programme will be presented and the social features will be excellent.

Rev. J. A. Cubberly preached Sunday afternoon and evening at the East Third Street chapel, Plainfield The evening service at the local church was conducted by the Christian Endeavor society under the leadership of Mrs. Oscar Thorn.

THRASHING OR REFORM SCHOOL

WILLIE GLEASON PREFERRED THE THRASHING TO LEAVING HOME.

Up in Court Again for Being Naughty—City Judge Runyon Gave Him His Choice.

Little Willie Gleason, who has a fondness for disobedience, was brought again before City Judge Runyon this morning for the usual offense, incorrigibility. Willie is an orphan, but has a good home with a kind aunt on West Sixth street. He lacks appreciation of his home and is continually in trouble. All his badness he blames on his chum, the VanNest boy, who has figured with him in police cases before. Both youngsters are night owls and the guardian of Willie has tried all means to reform him.

The young offender had been in court frequently of late and at the hearing this morning the Court declared that it had about exhausted all peaceable methods of reforming Willie and there remained but two things for the lad to choose between, either to become a pupil of the Reform School or to receive a sound thrashing for each future offense. Willie selected the privilege of remaining with his aunt and receiving the rod when warranted.

City Judge Runyon advised Willie to administer a sound drubbing to the VanNest boy whenever the latter attempted to lead him into temptation. The boy was escorted home by a patrolman.

AT THE THEATRES.

Something About the Attractions Which Plainfield Theatre-Goers May Care Ito Witness.

The advance sale for the opening performance of the Little Irene Myers Company at Music Hall, tonight, opened Saturday and the demand for seats indicates a large audience. As a special inducement to the women a limited number of the best seats are sold at fifteen cents provided they are purchased at the box office before 6 p. m. "The Stowaway," that sterling English melodrama, has been selected for tonight, presenting Little Irene as "Chucky" Connors, the London news boy. The performance will be on the continuous order, high class specialties being supplied between the acts. The vaudeville contingent is said to be sufficiently strong to give an entire evening's performance.

Joseph K. Emmett, son of the late J. K. Emmett, the greatest German dialect actor and vocalist that was ever known in this country, with Lottie Gilson and very efficient company, will be seen at Music Hall Tuesday night of next week, in a new play entitled "Fritz in a Mad house."

* * * * * *

"At Piney Ridge" will be the attraction at Music Hall Thursday, April 11. It is a romantic southern play, and through it is woven a sympathetic picture of life in the Tennessee mountains. The company engaged to interpret the drama is a powerful one, and the scenery is elaborate and true to the region.

THE YEAR'S WORK.

Annual Meeting of Sabbath-School of the Seventh-Day Baptist Church Held Last Night.

The annual business meeting of the Sabbath school of the Seventh-Day Baptist church was held last evening in the parlors of the church. W. C Hubbard was chairman of the meeting and Frank J. Hubbard acted as secretary. The reports of all the officers were presented, including that of Miss Nan Randolph, superintendent of the home department work, and showed much improvement. A number of additions have been made to the school during the year, and there is a balance in the treasury after all bills were paid

The following officers were elected: Superintendent, David E. Titsworth; first assistant, H. M. Maxson; second assistant, Asa F. Randolph; secretary, Miss Lila F Randolph; treasurer, Miss Mary T. Green; librarian, Miss Luella Clawson; pianist, Miss H. Elizabeth Allis.

During the meeting it was announced that J. Wendell Mosher had only been absent from one session of the school in six years. He is the banner pupil of the school and occupies first place on the roll of honor.

GOAT WINS BATTLE.

Big St. Bernard Dog Is No Match for Billy and Is Badly Gored in a Conflict.

A fine St. Bernard dog, belonging to James McCann, of Stony road, Paterson, N. J., had a fight to a finish with a billy goat the other afternoon. The goat was browsing among the rubbish on the dumping ground when the dog came across it. Billy resented the manner in which the dog sniffed around him, and, poising himself on his hind feet, he butted the dog in the ribs, sending him to the ground. This aroused the fighting blood of the dog, and he charged upon the goat, but again recoiled from the butting he got. The dog then changed his tactics. He made a spring intended to carry him over the goat's horns, but Billy saw him coming, and, instead of raising on his hind legs, he planted his four legs firmly and lowered his head. When the dog made the leap he went further than he expected to, for Billy raised his head, and, catching the dog underneath, he threw the big animal clear over his body, at the same time goring him badly.

The St. Bernard dog was game, and, although he yelped with pain, he returned to the attack. Billy stood stock still. The dog did not spring again, but he charged on the goat again and again, but always with the same result, and each time receiving a new wound from Billy's horns. It was a one-sided contest all the way through. Some of the men got long poles and tried to chase off the goat, while others dragged the dog away The dog was taken home to its owner, who had to kill him to put him out of pain.

LITTLE GIRL BURGLAR.

Astonishing Case of Depravity Which Has Recently Come to Light at Milwaukee.

The authorities of Milwaukee have recently had to deal with a most astonishing case. Little Gertrude Gehritz, a pretty girl of ten, with wide blue eyes and yellow hair, was brought into court charged with burglary. It was proved that the child had, unaccompanied and unassisted, broken into the house of Dr. J. H. Huennekens in the dead of night and had stolen and carried away the clothing of the doctor's little daughter, who is about the same age. Later, it appeared, Gertrude ran away from home and slept for several nights in the basement of a neighbor's house, her whereabouts being entirely unknown to her parents. Her mother, who is a woman of respectability, was in court with the child, and pleaded that her "baby" be not taken away from her. The evidence was so strong, however, and there seemed so little chance of her father and mother having any influence over her that the judge reluctantly sent her to the industrial school. The little girl seems to be entirely void of the natural fear which would keep an ordinary child from going abroad alone at night.

THE BABY GIRL BURGLAR.

Makes His Bride Too Old.

Cora A. Wendell, of Toledo, O., was a very angry expectant bride the other day. Fred W. Rauch, her prospective husband, appeared in court to secure a license, and as is customary in such cases, was somewhat embarrassed when asked to give the age of his future bride. He made a slip and gave her mother's age, 56 years. As he was 26, the license made his bride out 30 years older, which took the romance out of the matter in a moment. The bride objected warmly when she heard about it. She is only 26, and had no desire to carry an extra load of 30 years. The figures were changed by the probate judge next day.

SOME PEOPLE eat because they think they ought to, not because they want to. They do it mechanically. They have no appetite but yet they feel they must eat to sustain life. Food does very little good under such conditions.

Sometimes a loss of appetite is the beginning of a physical break up. It is then, some simple, practical remedy like Ripans Tabules is needed. These Tabules stimulate the flow of gastric juice in the stomach, create a zest for food, wake up the liver and clear out the intestinal tract. They strengthen and invigorate the body and make it clean within. They cost but little, 10 for 5 cents, and are genuinely good.

REPUBLIC OF TEXAS.

Its Establishment Due to the Defenders of the Alamo.

They Died That Freedom Might Live Forever in the Land They Loved —Fought as Nobly as the Heroes of Thermopylae.

[Special San Antonio (Tex.) Letter.]

THE battle, or rather, the siege, of the Alamo, which began on the 23d of February, 1836, culminated on March 6 of the same year, in the slaughter of 190 Americans, at the hands of not less than 3,000 trained Mexican soldiers, under the command of the president of Mexico, Gen. Antonio Lopez de Santa Anna, who was the Gen. Weyler of his day.

The defense of the Alamo was not only one of the most heroic deeds emblazoned on the pages of history, but it marked an epoch, the importance of which has not yet been fully realized. At that time Mexico, a thoroughly organized nationality, with 7,000,000 population, was engaged in a supreme effort to wipe out of existence 30,000 scattered Americans, who had settled in Texas, on the invitation of the Mexican government.

The importance of the battle of the Alamo is based on the fact that the stubborn defense of the garrison enabled Gen. Sam Houston to collect his scattered forces and annihilate Santa Anna at San Jacinto, on April 21, 1836. But for the Alamo, the Mexican despot would have carried out his threat of subjugating the province and putting all the inhabitants to the sword. It was the Alamo that made San Jacinto, one of the decisive battles of history, possible. Indirectly it secured the establishment of the republic of Texas, which later on was annexed to the United States. Few people realize the immensity of Texas or the greatness of its resources. Its northern and southern boundaries are 670 miles apart, while from east to west it measures 825 miles. It extends over ten degrees of latitude, and from the sixteenth to the thirtieth degree of longitude west from Washington. Texas has a population of millions and cities of upwards of 50,000 inhabitants, with every invention and convenience of modern improvement.

That this wonderful empire state, with her great natural resources, her pasturage for millions of cattle and sheep, besides vast mineral wealth, fell into the arms of Uncle Sam, was due, indirectly at least, to the heroic determination of the hero of the Alamo and his intrepid followers, to neither retreat nor surrender. Another great result of this wonderful battle was the war with Mexico, in which the Texans once more "glutted their ire" on their former oppressors, and more than wiped out the old scores of the Alamo and Goliad, at which last-mentioned engagement 330

GEN. SANTA ANNA.
(President of Mexico and Mexican Commander in Chief.)

Texans under Fannin, who surrendered with the guarantee that they were to be treated as prisoners of war, were horribly massacred in cold blood by their inhuman captors. This explains the war cry of the Texans, when at San Jacinto they shouted: "Remember the Alamo! Remember Goliad!" to the dying Mexicans, whom they butchered like sheep, who on bended knees and with uplifted hands pleaded in vain: "Me no Alamo! Me no Goliad!"

To a proper understanding of this heroic tragedy, a few explanatory remarks may be necessary. The Spanish word Alamo signifies a cottonwood tree. In a large grove of cottonwood trees the mission buildings were erected. The proper pronunciation of the word Alamo is with the accent on the first of its three syllables. The mission buildings were located in the western portion of the Presidio, or garrison town, of San Antonio de Bexar, the first part of the name being in honor of St. Antonio of Padua, to which it was changed by royal decree from San Fernando, in 1810. The latter part of the name, "de Bexar," was intended as a compliment to the duke of Bexar, possibly a descendant of the grandee to whom Cervantes dedicated his immortal work, "Don Quixote de la Mancha."

The Mexican commander, Gen. Antonio Lopez de Santa Anna, was born in 1798 in Jalapa, Mexico, and early in life assisted in throwing off the Spanish yoke. In 1833, after having emerged successfully from several revolutions, he was elected president, which was only another name for dictator. He was a typical Mexican revolutionist, but a man of immense energy, considerable military ability, inconceivable vanity, and constitutionally cruel.

Col. William Barrett Travis, who commanded the Texans, in the Alamo, was a native of North Carolina. He was a lawyer by profession. At the time of his death in the Alamo he was 28 years old. In person, he was six feet tall, weighed 170 pounds, had light hair, blue eyes, with reddish beard and whiskers, well proportioned, a fine-looking figure. Penned up, and doomed to die with Travis and his little band, were David Crockett and James Bowie, men of heroic mold, whose names are household words wherever the English language is spoken, men who had they lived in the middle ages would have been classed with Godfrey de Bouillon and Richard, the Lion-hearted.

Shortly after midnight on Sunday morning, March 6, 1836, the eleventh day of the siege, the Alamo was closely surrounded by the entire Mexican army. At daylight the charge was sounded, but the Texans were ready, and the assaulting columns were hurled back by the withering fire of the defenders. A second assault was made, but again the Mexican soldiers reeled and fell back in dismay before the deadly shower of grape, musket and rifle balls. Then there was a pause, and for a while it seemed as if the Mexican soldiers could not be induced to renew the attack. A third assault, due mainly to the threats and promises of Santa Anna was made. At length the exhausted Texans could no longer keep back the hundreds of Mexicans who took the place of those who were killed or hurled down from the scaling ladders. Then the plaza of the Alamo swarmed with infuriated Mexicans.

But the fiercest fight was to come when the Mexicans undertook to dislodge the surviving Texans who took refuge in the church and convent. Many of the Texans had four or five extra guns, and were protected by breastworks composed of bags of sand. The Mexicans forced their way inside the church, which was a seething mass of enraged demons, stabbing and hacking each other, until finally there were no Texans left capable of offering resistance. The feeble garrison could not hold out against such overwhelming numbers.

Travis, who had so nobly redeemed his promise neither to retreat nor surrender, mortally wounded by a musket ball, impaled with his sword a Mexican lancer who attempted to dispatch him, and they died together.

Crockett, after performing prodigies of valor, took refuge in a small room, the baptistry of the church, and clogged up its door with dead Mexicans before he was killed.

Bowie, who was sick unto death with fever, was in one of the small rooms adjoining the chapel, during the final struggle. He was lying on his pallet, his head in the lap of a kind-hearted Mexican woman. The Mexican soldiers rushed in and tossed about on their bayonets the body of the dying man.

Every soldier had fallen at his post, but three American noncombatants and several Mexican women were spared. The bodies of the dead Texans were stripped and exposed to all manner of indignities, some of the Mexican officers stabbing and slashing them with their swords. The bodies of the Texans were then burned by piling fence rails and brush upon them, and then setting fire to the pile. On the 25th day of February of the following year, Col. Juan Seguin, a Mexican, who adhered to the cause of the Texans and was then in command of the town, had the charred bones of the heroes of the Alamo gathered up and decently and honorably interred in the vicinity, but the exact location has been lost, and to this day no one knows where it is.

In the words of a gifted Texan author: "The sacred memories of the past cluster around the Alamo and its crumbling walls stained with the blood of heroes. It is a monument of freedom that thrills the heart and fills the mind with admiration. This is the spot where were consummated deeds of valor that outshine the feats of arms of the knights of the middle ages. The Alamo will remain a living influence as long as noble deeds have power to call forth the enthusiasm of men."

Some Interesting Gossip of the Royal and Ancient Game of Golf

FOLLOWERS of golf in the east may never know or realize how near their official representatives in the United States Golf association brought them to a split with the great body of adherents of the royal and ancient game in the jurisdiction of the Western Golf association. Happily, however, the conservative element in the U. S. G. A. prevailed and the amateur championship for this year will be played during the first two weeks of September on the links of the Atlantic City Golf club in New Jersey.

Had the national organization insisted upon ignoring the plea of the west for a date later than June, golf history of a startling nature would have been made. I am in a position to know that the man who represented the Western Golf association in the annual meeting in New York city, Vice President Hobart C. Chatfield-Taylor, of the Onwentsia club, would have communicated the ultimatum of the west to the U. S. G. A. that the Western Golf association would worry along without the national body.

In a nutshell, the west asked that the big event of the year be set for a date that would be late enough to permit the western golfers to get into form—that would mean, of course, some time after the annual championship of the W. G. A. The facilities for play on the inland links are not the best until June, at the earliest. Sea coast courses have such varieties of climate and physical qualities that play all winter long naturally affords the eastern golfers an advantage over their western rivals.

The telegraph furnished a real sensation when it was reported that John Reid, "the father of golf in America," and first vice president of the United States Golf association, had made the motion before that body that the annual championship be held in June. He subsequently withdrew his opposition and the Atlantic City course was chosen as the place and September was assigned as the all-important month. Mr. Reid is the "Grand Old Man of Golf" and the founder of the St. Andrews Golf club, named after the celebrated Scottish club. With Robert Lockhart, Mr. Reid introduced the game to the United States and he has traveled extensively to see the effect of his "inoculation," so to speak. It was supposed that when the amateur championship was held at Lake Forest in 1899 and Mr. Reid gave so many expressions of friendship for the western golfers that he would have been the last man in the national body to insist upon a date for the amateur event which would shut out thousands of square miles of the United States without a single golf representative in the national tourney. I have been informed by a gentleman who was present at the meeting that Mr. Reid's action was but part of a friendly plan to get the argument properly before the association so that the west might triumph.

The new executive of the U. S. G. A., R. H. Robertson, is rather aristocratic in his ideas, but he is the golf official that was unanimously chosen by the east to be president of the national body. Connected with the Shinnecock Hills Golf club, where Miss Beatrix Hoyt, some time woman's champion of the United States, belongs and plays, he was selected last year to head the list of officers of the Metropolitan Golf association.

The latter is to the east what the W. G. A. is to the west. Inasmuch as the executive committee of the U. S. G. A. has failed to plan any decided changes in the rules governing either the game or the championships, the duties of President Robertson will be light. The women's championship was assigned to the Baltusrol Golf club in New Jersey—a delightfully located course near the picturesque Short hills. The officers of this club have made extensive improvements for the women's event, which will be decided in October. The Myopia Hunt club at Hamilton, Mass., will have the honor of conducting the open championship at a date to be selected later.

Harry Vardon, the greatest golfer in the world, without any doubt, has repeatedly said that the Atlantic City course was the finest links he played over in the United States. His views are accepted by the majority of critics of the east, although they know full well how much Vardon thought of Glen View Golf club course, near Chicago. There is a lack of picturesque features at Atlantic City, but the greens are almost perfect and the hazards and bunkers are assigned with scientific accuracy. If Walter J. Travis, the present champion, successfully defends his title on these links this year he will be hailed as a remarkable golfer. Myopia's course is admirably suited to the open championship, and Baltusrol is an ideal course for the women.

There has been no time this winter that the golf enthusiast has not been seen on the links somewhere in the vicinity of New York city. The rigors of winter have had no terrors for the winter golfers. The large class of men who don sweaters, dress warmly and traverse the links when the mercury is hugging the zero mark has no use for the Florida courses. To play where women might wear shirtwaists in February and men might go in their shirt sleeves would have no attraction for these lovers of the sport on frozen links.

Washington's birthday there were several clubs in the east that had special tournaments scheduled. The open tourney at Lakewood, N. J., February 21 and 22 attracted the attention of a considerable number of golfers. At the Dyker Meadow course on Long Island several of the Metropolitan Golf association courses, notably Findlay Douglas' course at Fairfield county, the players have derived a great deal of enjoyment out of the game. Sometimes, when snow has made it hard to follow the flight of the red gutta percha balls, the enthusiastic golfers have engaged enough shivering caddies to dig out the balls and scrape the snow from the greens. One of the first remarks that this sort of thing might cause a stranger to the game to make might be "idiots, blamed idiots, all of them." But if they are mad they are physically strong, healthy, wealthy and socially great "idiots." Doctors rarely have to visit these red-cheeked, broad-shouldered athletes. The cutting winds that sweep across the dreary wastes are braved and all aglow with the satisfaction of giving "Col. Bogey a hard rub" the golfer spends the evening in the clubhouse dreamily gazing into one of the most inviting log fires in the big smoking-room of the clubhouse. To such enthusiasts as these there is no particular sport in going to the Palm Beach, Belleair, Kissimee or other Florida courses during the winter. Out in southern California, where the conditions for golf in February and March are prefect, the annual championship has just been contested. On some of the Texas and Mexico links, to say nothing of the Audubon club course in the outskirts of New Orleans, there has been golf playing all winter. But in the greatest center of golf in the United States outside the Metropolitan Golf association district, the territory covered by the Western Golf association there has been no play since Thanksgiving day, unless the few spasmodic attempts of a small coterie of fun makers may be termed golf. Snow in the west and north has been too much for even the enthusiasts. In the vicinity of St. Louis, where it was predicted there would be play all winter, no matter what the weather would be, there has been a pronounced bottling up of enthusiasm.

How Nature Protects Animals.

In countries where the snowy winter season is long, the animals, as a protection against natural enemies, put on white coats. The arctic bear and fox are white throughout the year. The northern hare is brown in summer and white in winter. The weasel is especially curious. It retains its brown coat until the first snow appears and then whitens in a few hours, becoming the ermine of commerce. Among the birds who put on white plumage are the snowy owl, the snow bunting and the ptarmigan, the last named retaining a few brown feathers in its tail. The coats of most animals become thicker during the cold season. The famous cashmere wool is made from the short hairs that add to the winter coverings of mountain goats.

HOUSE WAS BURNED DOWN.

EXPLOSION OF GASOLINE STARTED SERIOUS CONFLAGRATION.

Fire in Residence of Albert Brinkley, 312 Berckman Street, Last Night —Loss $3,000—No Insurance.

A destructive fire occurred shortly after 7 o'clock last evening at the residence of Albert Brinkley, 312 Berckman street. An alarm was sent in from box 16, and although the fire department responded quickly to the call, the fire had gained considerable headway owing to the high wind that prevailed at the time. Before the flames could be gotten under control the house and a storehouse in the rear were practically destroyed, only the shell of the former remaining. A conservative estimate places the loss at $3,000. There was no insurance.

The cause of the fire was due to a mistake of an employe of Brinkley's, who struck a match too close to a demijohn of gasoline which he mistook for kerosene. An explosion resulted throwing fire in all directions. Mr. Brinkley had left the house temporarily and was just returning when the flames broke out. The employe and his brother were the only occupants and both had narrow escapes from burning.

It has been the impression of the people residing in the vicinity that the house was constructed of dry goods box wood and other light material but this is not true. The timber was solid and was covered with strong cedar and three ply felt. Its construction had been paid for by the ower with the exception of $300. The house was valued at $1 200 and the remainder of the loss is placed on the contents.

S. D. Drake's Plan to Unite Boards of Trade and Have a Central Office in New York.

Silas D. Drake has on foot a scheme to merge all of the Boards of Trade of the cities and towns along the Jersey Central and P. and R railroads for the purpose of securing greater results at a small outlay of money. It is his plan to have all the towns join the organization, which is to have a central office in New York. A competent man, versed in real estate matters, will be in charge.

Already communications have been sent to the presidents of the boards at Elizabeth, Westfield, Plainfield, Dunellen, Bound Brook, Somerville, Hopewell and Pennington requesting them to send a prominent member to meet at Mr. Drake's office next Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock at which time the plan will be discussed. In the formation of the organization, the member from each board is to be made a director and in this way each town will have its interests looked after.

PRUDENTIAL DYKERS WON.

DEFEATED LOCAL TEAM AT ASSOCIATION FOOTBALL.

Newark Boys Won by Score of 5 to 2—Game Played on Clinton Avenue Grounds Saturday Afternoon.

The usual large crowd of foot ball enthusiasts thronged the Clinton avenue grounds Saturday when the P. A. F. C. met the Prudential Dykers, a team from Newark, who boast of having the pick of the players of that city. Their appearance showed it, for they were by far the heaviest men the local team has had to contend with since its organization. In addition to this their playing was far superior and the two combined resulted in the Plainfield men being defeated by a score of 5 to 2.

During the greater part of the entire game, the ball was kept in Plainfield's territory but by the hardest kind of work they blocked their opponents' attempts to score. The goals they made were gotten by long kicks. The Dykers made three in the first half while the local men made one.

In the second half the Newark men succeeded in passing the ball through the goal twice making their score five. The Plainfielders made one more goal which was the last.

Although the latter team was defeated it must by no means be inferred that they played below the average. It was better than usual, if anything, they made every effort to win, not relaxing their exertions until the final blow of the referee's whistle.

The line-up of the teams was as follows:

P. A. F. C.		PRUDENTIAL DYKERS
Dodd	goal	Welit
Turner	fullback	Wendell
Nicholson	fullback	McMahon
McCollough	halfback	Ramsey
Hendry	halfback	Murray
Head	halfback	Wilson

Conly	right wing	Anderson
Blair	right wing	Craighton

PALM SUNDAY.

Commemorated in the Various Churches of City and Borough.

The Roman Catholic and the Episcopal churches in Plainfield and vicinity appropriately commemorated Palm Sunday, the first day of Holy week. The chancels and altars in the several churches were banked with beautiful large palms, symbolical of the day.

The altar cover, rerados and church hangings in the Episcopal church were purple and this was also the color used to drape the crucifix and statues in the Roman Catholic edifices.

Special Holy Week services are held today in all the churches of these two communions.

Officers for East Third Street Chapel.

The annual business meeting of the Sunday-school of the East Third Street chapel was held yesterday afternoon. All the reports were encouraging and showed steady progress. The following officers were elected: Superintendent, L. W. Randolph; assistant superintendent, Clifford Braider; secretary, Robert Schreiner; treasurer, Miss Alice Woodland; librarian, William Ulmer. Albert Uzinger and Edward Baker will probably be chosen as assistants in the work of the school.

LOOKING FOR GREEN'S BODY

MEREDITH DRYDEN HAS RETURNED LEAVING OTHERS IN CHARGE.

Work is Still Continued—Mr. Green Will Probably Go Out When River Returns to Normal Proportions.

Meredith Dryden, of West Sixth street, returned from Des Moines, Iowa, last evening, where he went to superintend the search for the body of Volney F. Green, his brother-in-law, who was drowned in the Des Moines River two weeks ago. Everything possible was done to find the body but all the efforts were unavailing. Business duties necessitated Mr. Dryden's return and he left the work of searching for the body in the hands of the officers of the S. S. Still Medical School of Osteopathy, who were personal friends of the young man.

Fred S Green, of West Sixth street, father of the young man, expected to go to the scene of the fatality at once on Mr. Dryden's return, but the latter reports that the Des Moines river, ordinarily a stream forty feet wide and two or three feet deep, is now a raging torrent two hundred and fifty feet wide and from eight to ten feet deep. It is not believed that the body will be found until the river returns to its normal proportions, and Mr. Green's trip will probably be delayed until then.

At present, two boats are kept at work with grappling irons, but the river is so swift that it is difficult and dangerous work. Several irons have been lost, having been caught on logs which threatened to capsize the boat. This work will be continued until the river goes down.

RODE THE GOAT.

Great Gathering of Royal Arcanumites at Elizabeth Saturday Evening to See Initiations.

Four hundred members of the councils of the Royal Arcanum, in Union county, were the guests of Resolute Council, No. 803, of Elizabeth, Saturday evening, to witness the initiation of a class composed of candidates for membership.

The positions in the council chamber were filled by the following officers of the Grand Council of the State: Grand Regent C. A. Lightfoot, of Westfield, Grand Vice Regent Horace I. Bowne, of Hoboken, Grand Trustee John H. Farrell, of Paterson, Supervising Deputy Grand Regent Jeptha VanVliet, of Newark, Grand Secretary R. H. Alberts, of Hoboken, Grand Guide William E. Collins, of Fanwood, Grand Committeeman William T. Tuttle, of Jersey City, and George W. Hall, secretary of Resolute Council.

The number of candidates for each Council were as follows: Fanwood Council, one; Roselle Council, two; Firestone Council, of Westfield, six; Resolute Council, of Elizabeth, four; Elizabeth Council, four; Abernethy Council, of Rahway, one; Cranford Council, one; and Greenbrook Council, of Plainfield, five, making a total of twenty-four. Charles Sheelen, of Fanwood, was chosen as the member of the class to ride the goat and he went through the ordeal very successfully. After the initiation, speeches were made and the meeting then adjourned, everybody present agreeing that the evening was a most enjoyable one.

CALLED TO PARIS.

Rev. T. Logan Murphy Invited to Assume Charge of American Church in Paris During Absence of Rector.

A very flattering invitation has been extended to Rev. T. Logan Murphy, formerly rector of the Church of the Holy Cross. He has been asked to assume charge of one of the American churches in Paris, while the rector is absent for an indefinite time. While Mr. Murphy was abroad he made many acquaintances in Paris, and it was the desire of the congregation and the vestry of this particular church that he should take charge of the parish.

Mr. Murphy has accepted, and will sail for Paris soon after the marriage of his son, Arthur Murphy, to Miss Lydia P. Ackerman, April 10. At present Mrs. Murphy and her daughter, Miss Anna Murphy, will remain in this country, but later they may go to Paris and join Mr. Murphy.

Consumption in Canada.

Consumption causes one-fifth of all the deaths in Canada, and physicians attending the tuberculosis congress at Ottawa declared that the long skirts worn by the women are responsible for many a death. The trailing skirts pick up the disease germs and carry them into the home. Another argument in favor of the common sense skirt which misses the ground by an inch or two.—N. Y. Times.

The war in South Africa has led to a novel and singular use of the telephone in surgery. Army surgeons search for bullets by means of the telephone probe. An Unexpected Result.

An amusing episode occurred at a political meeting at Lavendon during the general election. After hearing the speeches of the candidate and his supporters an aged conservative from Wolverton mounted the platform and caused some mystery by dramatically holding aloft a walnut, when he proceeded to say:

"This is a political walnut. The rough shell represents the radicals; the next, the thin, bitter skin, is the liberals, and the kernel represents the good conservative."

A man in the audience cried out: "Now crack it."

The Wolverton tory did so, when, lo and behold! the kernel was rotten! The admixture of laughter and chagrin that followed may be imagined.—London Spare Moments.

Chinese Tea.

A man asked a friend to stay and have tea. Unfortunately, there was no tea in the house, so a servant was sent to borrow some. Before the latter had returned the water was already boiling, and it became necessary to pour in more cold water. This happened several times, and at length the boiler was overflowing, but no tea had come. Then the man's wife said to her husband: "As we don't seem likely to get any tea, you had better offer your friend a bath!"—History of Chinese Literature.

Rare Astronomical Event.

The sudden blazing into view of a star previously invisible ranks among the very rarest of astronomical events. TOMORROW ENDS VOTE ON CITY OWNERSHIP.

Last Municipal Ownership Ballot Appears in This Issue of The Daily Press.

MAY VOTE UP TO NOON.

EVERY ONE SHOULD VOTE SO THAT EXPRESSION MAY BE GENERAL.

Ballots Must Be Left at, or Mailed to This Office by Noon Tomorrow—in Order to be Counted—Vote so Far is Overwhelmingly For Plan.

A final opportunity will be given to the taxpayers of city and borough today to express their opinions on the question of municipal ownership of the water supply plant. The last ballot will be printed today. Votes must be left at this office or mailed before noon tomorrow to be counted. If you haven't voted already, don't forget to send in your ballot at once.

The Daily Press has given to taxpayers of city and borough a chance to express themselves on this question of municipal ownership. By taxpayers is meant those who pay any kind of tax, personal, poll or on real estate. All such are entitled to cast their ballots. Ballots have been published in The Daily Press for a week. They may also be obtained at the office. The Daily Press' object has been purely a disinterested one. If the people of city and borough want municipal ownership, The Daily Press will do everything in its power to bring it about. If the people do not want it or do not care whether the city controls the water works or not, little can be done.

According to the ballots already received, those who have voted are almost unanimous in their opinion. Those who do not vote can only be understood to be totally indifferent on the subject. There has been a steady stream of ballots flowing into the office since the balloting first began. There are many, however, who have not voted on the question. For their benefit let it be stated that the names on the ballots will not be made public.

WORKING ON THE WEST SIDE.

VIVID PICTURE OF LIFE AMONG FOREIGNERS IN LOWER NEW YORK.

Described by Miss E. M. Pendleton, One of the Missionaries at the Italian Gospel Mission.

An address, which awakened much interest in the members of the Christian Endeavor society of Trinity Reformed church, was delivered last evening before this helpful organization by Miss E. M. Pendleton, one of the missionaries in charge of the Italian Gospel Mission of New York.

Miss Pendleton possessed much power of expression, and, in vivid language, she pictured the dense ignorance, extreme poverty, intense suffering and awful distress of the unfortunate mass of humanity which dwells on the west side of New York, particularly in the neighborhood of Washington square.

To show Christ you love Him, said she, one must do His commandments and practice sacrifice, and self denial as well as undergo hardships and this is the great work one must do for the love of Christ.

Miss Pendleton described the life of the people who cluster about the west side in herds. They are almost all immigrants, who are cast on these shores without friends or money and unable to speak or understand the English language. When here evil and poverty stares them in the face, and they and their children suffer as only they can know.

She told of the difficulties confronting the missionaries of the mission and the ignorant opposition it was necessary for them to combat.

Pathetic incidents of her work, she related and explained at length the methods used to interest and amuse the children in this tenement district. Telling of the growth of their work and the needs of the missions, she closed with a strong plea for aid to this deserving work.

FREE WITH REVOLVER.

John Foster Paid a Fine of $3 for His Little Fun of One Night.

John Foster, formerly of Plainfield, who claims Newark as his home, was given a hearing yesterday afternoon, by City Judge Runyon, on a charge of disorderly conduct.

Foster, it is alleged, was feeling a little hilarious on the evening of March 17 and, while driving along South avenue, he became rather reckless with a revolver, discharging the weapon unsparingly. Information was lodged against Foster and he was finally rounded up Saturday evening and brought to police headquarters.

At the hearing he pleaded guilty and was fined $3 which he readily paid.

REPORTS AND OTHER BUSINESS OF COUNCIL

Many Minor Matters Were Considered at Meeting of Common Council Last Evening.

PETITIONS WERE PRESENTED

ASKED COUNCIL TO ESTABLISH LOCAL WATER SUPPLY PLANT.

Corporation Counsel Marsh Trying to Solve Tangle Over School Law—Reports of City Judge and City Collector—Other Business Done.

Although the fixing of the annual budget was the principal work of the Common Council at the regular meeting last evening, there was considerable other business done at the session. The facts concerning the year's appropriations will be found in another column.

The Council received a communication from Corporation Counsel C A Marsh, in which he stated that it would be best for the Councilmanic members of the School Board of Estimate, Messrs. Dumont and VanHerwerden, to resign and then be reelected. This he suggested as there is a question as to whether they can legally hold over from last year. The law makes no provision for their holding over, and to be on the safe side the above action was suggested and followed out. Mr. Marsh also stated that he had sent a similar notice to the Board of Education.

The report of City Judge Runyon showed that 116 cases had been disposed of during March, of which number 23 were fined. Sentence was suspended on 64, and 25 were committed. Four were dismissed. The sum of $21 39 was reported as expenses for Chief Kiely during the months of January and February, and $102.61 was reported as having been made to the city treasurer. The amount of fines received was $124.

Collector F. H. Smith reported on collections made according to the action of the Council by resolution on February 13. The collector has issued forty-six warrants, and eighteen were returned. Constable Geo. E Rogers collected $154 13, as a result of serving warrants on delinquents.

Mayor Jenkins appointed John H. Conroy as special policeman and the same was confirmed. Building Inspector T. O. Doane reported that twelve building permits were granted during March.

The Plainfield Electric Light Company reported having located six lights, as ordered, as follows: LaGrande avenue, east of Berckman street; Kensington avenue, south of LaGrande avenue; Carlton avenue, south of LaGrande avenue; Park avenue and city line; Jefferson avenue and Dunellen avenue; Jefferson avenue and Short Front street.

Sylvester Sharkey, in a petition, asked the Council to remit his personal tax for 1898, as the property is in his wife's name and has been paid by her.

Two petitions bearing one hundred and twelve signatures of citizens asked the Council to take immediate action toward establishing a municipal water works for Plainfield. President Dumont referred the matter to the street committee, composed of five members, each one being in touch with every other committee.

James B Guttridge, as an exempt fireman, asked for exemption on $500 personal and $1 poll tax for the year 1895. The same was granted.

Mr. VanHerwerden offered resolutions providing that $2,000 be transferred from the general to the fire fund; that a $2 dog tax be remitted at the request of Frederick Kiener; that $250 be appropriated to keep the gravel pit dump in condition; that the estimate of expense for lighting the streets of the city during the coming year be fixed at $12,800; that the dog tax be made $2 for every dog in the city. Mr. VanHerwerden also introduced an ordinance providing that the return of all delinquent taxes be made in November instead of December, to conform to the rule regarding the collection of other taxes.

Mr. Buckle offered a resolution asking for $300 for the purchase of clothing for the police and a cabinet to be used for a rogue's gallery. All of the resolutions were carried unanimously.

Mr. Tolles made a motion that when Council adjourn it be to meet Thursday evening, April 4, at which time action will be taken on the sewer ordinance. The Council then adjourned.

THE FUNDS NEEDED TO RUN THE CITY.

Annual Budget of Appropriations Fixed By Common Council Last Evening at $95,000.

AN INCREASE OF $5,500.

EXPECTED THAT TAX RATE WILL NOT BE INCREASED VERY MUCH.

Small Increase in Nearly All of the City Departments—Original Request of Street Department Was Slightly Reduced.

The preparation of the annual budget was the chief work at the regular meeting of the Common Council held last evening. As originally prepared, the appropriations for the year amounted to $95,200, but by gentle paring they were reduced to $95,000. Just what will be the total amount to be raised by taxation in Plainfield will not be known until August when the county tax will be fixed. A conservative estimate places the tax rate for the next fiscal year of the city at 2 48, two points higher than at present, and it is generally conceded that it will differ but little from that.

This question of the yearly appropriations was considered at once. Councilman VanHerwerden, as chairman of the finance committee, had an ordinance all ready providing for the budget. Before action was taken on it, however, President Dumont pointed out the advisability of first considering the subject as a committee of the whole. The suggestion was followed and Councilman Coriell took the chair.

A recess of five minutes, on motion of Councilman VanHerwerden, was taken and the members adjourned to the lobby where they gently but firmly began operations on the budget. The result seemed satisfactory for the Council returned into regular session again and promptly adopted the amended ordinance on first and second readings and ordered it engrossed and advertised.

The appropriations were fixed as follows: General fund, including $16 000 for the police department and $24 000 for streets, $44 100; lights, $12,800; principal on sewer bonds, $5 600, interest on city obligations, $7,000; poor, $3 500; library, $4,000; fire department, $21,000.

This budget shows an increase of $7,000 over the figures of a year ago, but it will be remembered that $1,500 was added to the street department from funds collected under the Martin Act during last year so that the actual appropriations of the year amounted to $89,500, instead of $88,000, as was fixed at the meeting a year ago. Counting in the additional $1,500 received by the street department, the increase for that department this year is $2 500. The street committee desired $26 000, but that amount was reduced to $24,000 after the recess. There is an increase of $400 in the appropriation for lights and an increase of $2,500 in the poor appropriation. $500 additional is given to the fire department. The appropriations for principal on sewer bonds and interest on city obligations were not changed. The library appropriation was not altered.

The general fund was increased from $39,500 to $44,000 It provides for streets, the purchase of a steam roller, street signs, police, maintenance of the sewer system, salaries, city park and other minor affairs.

ANNUAL CHURCH MEETING.

Seventh-Day Baptist Church Will Hold Its Annual Meeting Next Sunday.

The annual church meeting of the Seventh-Day Baptist church will be held Sunday afternoon and evening. At this time reports from every department of the church will be presented, and letters from absent members will be read. At 5 o'clock in the afternoon a social hour will be observed at which time supper will be served in the church. Many interesting features have been arranged for both the afternoon and evening services, and as this is the first event of the kind ever held in the church, there should be a large attendance.

Easter Services.

Services appropriate to Easter will be held Sunday morning and evening at Trinity Reformed church. There will be special music by an augmented choir.

STARTING ANEW FOR CITY HIGH SCHOOL.

Plainfield Board of Education Conformed With Provisions of Latest School Law.

NEW BOARD OF ESTIMATE.

TOOK INITIAL STEPS TO SECURE NEW HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING.

Asked Council for Policeman to Act as Truant Officer—Appointment of Valedictorian and Salutatorian Were Confirmed.

Conforming with the provisions of the new school law, the Plainfield Board of Education has started anew in its attempt to build a new High School. The initial steps, together with such action as would make the mode of proceedure valid, were the chief matters of importance brought before the regular monthly meeting of the Board of Education, which was held last evening. Secretary Lounsbury and Mr. Richards were absent and the former's place was filled by Mr. Lovell.

The usual number of bills were read and ordered paid after which the report of the tax collector was given showing $1,224 45, including interest, had been collected and deposited to the credit of the board. The custodian of school moneys reported a total of $6,541.28 remaining after all disbursements. This report also stated that a balance remained in the bank of $1,576 62 of the state school tax. According to the report of the medical examiners, eighty pupils were examined during the past month.

Mr. Lovell then stated that a doubt existed as to whether it was legal for the Board of Estimate, appointed last year, to hold over and in order to observe a strict compliance with the law, he tendered his resignation. Mr. Abbott, the remaining member from the school board, followed suit, but both were immediately re-elected. The following resolution was then made by Mr. Lovell: "Whereas the Board of Education deems it necessary to raise money for the purchase of lands on which to erect a High School; resolved, that a statement of the amount necessary be given the Board of Estimate to be proceeded with according to section eighty-one of the school law." The resolution was adopted.

Upon request of Superintendent Maxson, it was moved and seconded that the time within which children, who have never attended school, may be admitted, fixed by the law of 1900 as the first five days in April, be extended to April 20, since the time fixed by law is at the close of the winter term instead of the beginning of the spring term.

The following resolution was also adopted: "That the City Council be requested to appoint a member of the police force who shall act as truant master, in accordance with article xv of the school law." It was stated by the superintendent that it was his desire that this be done at once, as a large number of boys were remaining away from school without their parents' consent.

The Board decided to extend a vote of thanks to the New York University for its offer of two free scholarships to the pupils of the Plainfield schools.

The appointments of Miss Kizzie Eager as valedictorian and Miss Madeline Evans as salutatorian of the annual commencement to be held in June, were confirmed. Superintendent Maxson was empowered to procure a speaker for this occasion and report at the next meeting. Having no other business for consideration the Board went into executive session.

To Be Married April 20

The marriage of Miss Adah Elizabeth Woolston, daughter of Former Councilman and Mrs. L B. Woolston, and William Newell Woodland, both of the borough, will be celebrated at the home of the bride's parents, 30 Fairview avenue, Saturday evening, April 20, at 6:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Pearson's husband, Lieut. Pearson, of the Ninth U. S. Cavalry, has been ordered to the Philippines, where he will be at least one year.

Lieut. Pearson goes with the Third Squadron of the Ninth, which includes two companies from the Apache reservation and two from Fort Duchesne, and they will sail from San Francisco Friday, April 12 Lieut. and Mrs Pearson were married April 23, of last year, at Salt Lake City, Mrs. Pearson having gone there to meet her husband, he being unable to come east at that time.

OFFICERS FOR TRINITY.

Annual Election Held at Conclave of Trinity Commandery, K. T.

At the regular conclave of Trinity Commandery, No. 17, K. T., held last evening the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Commander, H. W. Marshall; generalissimo, Samuel Bingaman; captain general, R. A. Meeker; senior warden, H. A. Smith; junior warden, G. T. Dunham; recorder, F K VanAuken; treasurer, C. H. Rugg.

The knights received an invitation to go to East Orange Saturday evening and work the Order of the Temple at a meeting of the new Commandery, No 19, of that place. The members will probably go.

To Consider Municipal Ownership.

The Borough Council meeting Friday evening will be of unusual moment. The question as to the advisability of municipal control of the water works will be fully considered. The people of North Plainfield seem thoroughly aroused, and the speeches which will in all probability be made by the Mayor and Councilmen, will attract a large proportion of the interested citizens to the Councilmanic chamber on this occasion.

Arranging For Alumni Reception.

A joint meeting of the graduates from the classes of 1899 and 1900 of the Plainfield High School was held last evening at the home of Miss Marion Woodcock, of West Seventh street. A VENERABLE CITIZEN HAS PASSED AWAY.

Phineas M. French Died Last Evening After an Eventful Career of Eighty-Nine Years.

PROMINENT BUSINESS MAN.

LONG BEEN IDENTIFIED WITH PROGRESS OF THE BOROUGH.

Survived by Ten Children, Six of Whom Reside in This City—Sketch of His Career—Was Well Known in City And Borough.

Phineas M. French, a venerable citizen of North Plainfield, died suddenly at his homestead on Somerset street at 10:30 o'clock last evening. The immediate cause of death was apoplexy.

Mr. French was attacked by a stroke Sunday afternoon and Dr. Jenkins, the family physician, was hurriedly summoned. He grew perceptibly weaker and early yesterday morning a second stroke came upon him. From this time on he sank rapidly and despite all medical treatment he passed away last evening, surrounded by his family.

Mr. French was not only the oldest but also one of the most highly respected business men in the city and borough. He was in all respects a model citizen. Honest and upright in his character; strong in his religious zeal; progressive in his business; and ever watchful to the interests of the borough, Mr. French occupied during a long and busy life an enviable position in the affairs of North Plainfield.

Coming here when the borough was in its infancy, Mr. French, by his endearing qualities, has for years been looked upon as the borough patriarch and has unceasingly exerted a great influence in the advancement of all that was for the welfare of his church, his borough and his friends. He will be missed by a legion of friends who looked up to him for guidance and advice in their every-day life.

Mr. French was born near Union village, Somerset county, New Jersey, August 10, 1812 and passed his boyhood days on his father's farm. In 1836, he was married to Mary E. Oswald and built the house, 106 Somerset street, in which he resided for two decades and then erected the present family homestead on Somerset street. In 1839, he purchased an interest in the mill, which stood where the city mill now is, and later bought the entire plant. Some years afterwards he erected the City Mills.

Mr. French was one of the original directors of the Beach Bank, incorporated in this city in 1847 and also of the Union County Bank and the First National Bank which succeeded it in turn. At one time he owned the Plainfield Gas Works and has for years possessed large real estate holdings in the city and borough.

For twenty years he was a member of the Court of Appeals and has also been a freeholder of the county and was a member of the town committee years ago.

In 1861, Mr. French's wife died and in the following year he married Sarah J. Lees, of Montclair. For a period of sixty years he had been a trustee of the First M. E. church and has ever been prominent in religious circles.

He is survived by six children of the first marriage: Mrs. George H. Whitney, of First place; Mrs. J. C. Smith, of Summit; Mrs. H. P. Shepherd, of Forestville, N. Y.; Theodore F. French, of East Front street; John H. French, of West Seventh street, and Louis M. French, of Craig place, and by the wife, Mrs. Sarah J. French, and four children of the second marriage: Miss Harriet French and Elston M. French, who reside at the homestead, and Wm. A. French, of St. Paul, and David H. French, of Texas.

The funeral services will be delayed until the two sons who are now in the west can arrive. They are expected here sometime Friday.

Drill Hall For Police.

The Police Board of the Common Council has about completed arrangements for resuming the weekly drills of the police force. The large hall in the upper part of the Marsh building on Park avenue has been rented for this purpose and the first drill will be held in a short time.

Easter at First M. E Church.

He Kept His Leg.

Twelve years ago J. W. Sullivan, of Hartford, Conn., scratched his leg with a rusty wire. Imflammation and blood poisoning set in. Then the best doctors urged amputation, "but," he writes, "I used one bottle of Electric Bitters and 1½ boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve and my leg was sound and well as ever." For Eruptions, Eczema, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Sores and all blood disorders Electric Bitters has no rival on earth. Try them. L. W. Randolph will guarantee satisfaction or refund money. Only 50 cents.

—Bonn, Plainfield's enterprising and up to date milliner, will celebrate the second anniversary of his business career in this city Tuesday, March 23.

—Skin troubles, cuts, burns, scalds and chafing quickly heals by the use of DeWitt's witch Hazel Salve. It is imitated. Be sure you get DeWitt's. L. W. Randolph.

—John P. Powers, the Somerset street druggist, is making a specialty of Huyler's fine candies and bon bons. He is taking orders now for boxes of Huyler's to be delivered Easter day or whenever desired during this and next week.

—You will only waste time if you try to cure indigestion by starving yourself. That only makes it worse when you do eat heartily. You always need plenty of good food properly digested. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is the result of years of scientific research for something that would digest not only some elements of food but every kind. And it is the one remedy that will do it. L. W. Randolph.

GERMANS TO VACATE.

Seven Thousand Soon to Leave Peking—Bishop Favier's Denial.

PEKING, April 2.—About 7,000 Germans whose time of service in the army will shortly expire are to be returned home as soon as transports are available. It is not expected that their places will be filled.

The railroad expects to be taxed to the limit during the month of April.

Bishop Favier denies utterly the accounts published in Europe and America to the effect that he conducted an immense loot sale. The bishop says he never looted in his life. After the siege many presents were made to him by rich people, and he ordered them to be sold in behalf of the native Catholics. Probably some of the things at the time of the general loot may have been acquired that way by the donors, but not to his knowledge.

It is claimed here on reliable authority that China had asked Russia to allow her until the end of March before deciding the question of signing the Manchurian agreement. Both M. de Giers and the Chinese officials refused to talk on the subject.

The Molineux Case.

NEW YORK, April 2.—As soon as a copy of the printed record on appeal in the Molineux case is furnished by the printers David B. Hill will begin a study of the testimony preparatory to appearing before the court of appeals. The testimony is voluminous and will not be ready for two weeks at least. Former Senator Hill called on District Attorney Philbin yesterday and had a brief conference regarding the probable time that will be consumed in preparation and argument. In the event of the judgment of the trial court being confirmed General Molineux, the father of the condemned man, will seek to carry the case to the supreme court of the United States. Mr. Hill, it is said, will retain his connection until the last appeal is disposed of.

The Maryland Census Frauds.

BALTIMORE, April 2.—Stephen A. Abel, who was first accused of padding the census return in St. Mary county, came from Washington yesterday and surrendered to United States Marshal Airey. He was taken before Commissioner Rogers and released on $1,500 for the federal grand jury. Bail was furnished by his brother, George C. Abel of Leonardtown. After giving bond he immediately left for Washington. Daniel J. Bolles, the fifth man arrested in connection with the census frauds in St. Mary county, was brought to Baltimore and given a hearing before Commissioner Rogers. Like the other accused enumerators, Bolles waived an examination and was released on $1,500 bail for the action of the grand jury.

Medical Director Hord Dead.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Medical Director William T. Hord of the navy died here last night. He held the relative rank of captain on the retired list. His naval service covered a period of nearly 40 years. He was born in Kentucky and was about 70 years old. He was a volunteer aid on the staff of General Nelson from the battle of Pittsburg Landing to the evacuation of Corinth, Miss., by General Beauregard. On the steam sloop Pawnee he participated in all the operations against Charleston under Admirals Dupont and Dahlgren and General Gilmore. He was commissioned medical director May 1, 1879. He was retired on account of age in 1893.

Half Time For Collieries.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., April 2.—Notices are posted at all the mines of the Delaware and Hudson company that until further notice the collieries will work only half time. In the Wyoming region about 4,000 men and boys are affected. During March or since a strike of miners was first talked of the output of coal has been very heavy. Everybody who could stocked up. But now that the operators and miners have settled their differences there is a big falling off in the demand.

Lake Navigation Opened.

DETROIT, April 2.—Navigation between Detroit and Cleveland was opened yesterday when the City of Detroit of the Detroit and Cleveland line left here for Cleveland with 100 passengers aboard. There was considerable floating ice in the river, but Pelee passage is reported clear.

Express Office Robbed.

COLUMBIA, S. C., April 2.—The express office at Laurens, S. C., has been robbed of $500. The robbery occurred Saturday while the agent, Mr. Foster, was out of the office for a few moments. The money was in transit from the bank of Laurens to a merchant at Simpsonville.

Insurgents Still Surrendering.

MANILA, April 2.—The recent surrenders include General Gonzalez, 11 officers and 44 men, with 45 rifles, at Malabon; Colonel Herrara, 3 officers and 25 men, with rifles, at Laguna, and Colonels Pablo, Tecson and Sibul at Bulacan.

Ex-Congressman Bradley Dead.

NEW YORK, April 2.—Former Representative Thomas J. Bradley is dead at his home in this city. Mr. Bradley was 35 years old. He was twice elected representative from the Ninth congressional district, his last term ending March 4.

MICHIGAN AND OHIO.

State and Municipal Elections Held Yesterday.

WOLVERINE REPUBLICANS WIN.

Johnson Carries Cleveland by Large Majority—Jones Re-elected In Toledo—Results In Other Cities.

DETROIT, April 2.—Robert M. Montgomery of Grand Rapids, Republican, has been re-elected justice of the supreme court by about 40,000 majority, and Frank W. Fletcher of Alpena and Henry W. Carey of Manistee, Republican candidates for regents of the State university, have also been elected by a majority almost as large. The vote cast was light, excepting in those cities where there was a fight on some local issue. There were two constitutional amendments voted on, both of which were defeated. One fixed the compensation of state legislators at $1,000 per term and mileage instead of $3 per day when the legislature is in session, as at present, and the other provided for an increase in the salary of the circuit judge in Bay county. The Democrats made a marked gain in Jackson, where their entire city ticket was elected. The city went Republican last year.

In Owosso Emery (Pro.) was elected mayor, overcoming a Republican majority last year of 650. He was the only member of that ticket, however, who was successful.

In Detroit John B. Whelan (Rep.) was re-elected police justice, the only municipal officer voted for, by 4,285 majority. Judge Montgomery carried Detroit by over 2,500 majority. Of the 17 school inspectors elected 11 were Republicans and 6 Democrats.

OHIO ELECTIONS.

Johnson Elected Mayor of Cleveland and Jones of Toledo.

CLEVELAND, April 2.—The most interesting municipal election held in this city in years resulted in the election of Tom L. Johnson (Dem.) to the office of mayor over William J. Akers (Rep.) by a plurality that may go as high as 6,000. Only the head of the Republican ticket was defeated, the candidates for the minor offices on that ticket being successful.

In Toledo Mayor S. M. Jones is re-elected for the third term as a nonpartisan over General W. V. McMaken. Jones' former majority, however, was nearly lost, and he will not have over 1,200 or 1,500 majority.

John N. Hinkle (Dem.) was elected mayor of Columbus over Henry C. Taylor (Rep.) by about 200 plurality.

There was no election in Cincinnati. Mayor Fleischmann and the other Republican city officers were elected one year ago for a period of three years. There will be no election at Dayton for mayor until next April, the contest in that city being for police judge only.

Special interest was taken in the contest at Columbus, where the Republicans for the past two years have had all the city offices. Governor Nash and former Congressman Lentz reside at Columbus, and both took great interest in the contest there.

Democratic administrations were in control at Cleveland and Springfield, where the Republicans made hard fights to control the political machinery of as many cities as possible at the state election in November.

How Ohio Towns Voted.

TOLEDO, April 2.—Returns show Democratic victories in Delta, North Baltimore, Lima, St. Mary, Ottawa, Continental, Upper Sandusky, Tiffin, Gibsonburg, McComb, Sandusky, Bellevue, Milton Center, Deshler, McClure and Custar. The Republicans carry Swanton, Kenton, Columbus Grove, Bellefontaine, Payne, Port Clinton, Prairie Depot and Weston.

Police Measure Dead.

ALBANY, April 2.—The three platoon system for the New York police proposed in the charter revision bill submitted by the senate committee on cities is already abandoned. Public opinion may be said to have rejected the proposition that New York should be forced to increase its police force 3,000 men in number and add to its expenses $4,000,000 yearly merely at the mandate of a legislature a majority of whose members live and pay taxes elsewhere in the state. Possibly Governor Odell saw the wisdom of not permitting the legislature to bear the burden for 24 hours longer of such an obnoxious feature in the charter revision bill.

Steel Company's Immense Capital.

TRENTON, April 2.—The United States Steel corporation filed a certificate at noon yesterday increasing its capital stock from $3,000, the amount in the original certificate, to $1,100,000,000. This is $100,000,000 more than was expected. Rumor here has it that this $100,000,000 will be used to purchase the American Bridge company. The state fee for filing the certificate was $220,000.

Merrick Camp Meeting Fire.

NEW YORK, April 2.—Twelve cottages situated on the grounds of the Long Island Camp Meeting association near Merrick, N. Y., were destroyed by fire yesterday and six others as well as a large portion of the woodland damaged by the flames. The cottages belonged to people living in Brooklyn and Manhattan. The loss is estimated at $30,000.

Snow In Kansas.

TOPEKA, April 2.—Kansas is covered with six inches of snow, and it is still falling fast. Thousands of range cattle will die of hunger if the snow remains on the ground several days, as the food has been exhausted by the long winter. The big railroad snowplows have been sent west to clear the blockades.

Wants "Aggie" to Tell His Story.

LINCOLN, Neb., April 2.—W. J. Bryan has cabled Aguinaldo for a lengthy dissertation on his side of the Philippine question and expects to devote one whole issue of The Commoner to a discussion of the question as propounded by the rebel leader.

Another Shipload of Horses.

NEW ORLEANS, April 2.—The chartered British government steamer Rossetti, carrying 950 horses for the British military operations in South Africa, has cleared from this port for Cape Town.

TOLSTOI BANISHED?

Rumor Strengthened by Recent Russian Advices.

TRIAL OF BOGOLIEPOFF'S ASSASSIN.

Students Proclaim Police Reports "Intentionally Untrue"—Released Prisoners Shut Out From St. Petersburg and Moscow.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 2.—It was rumored several days ago, but generally disbelieved, that Count Leo Tolstoi had been banished from Russia because of the attempted assassination of Privy Councilor Pobiedonostzeff, chief procurator of the holy synod, who was shot at early in the morning of March 22 while sitting in his study, the attempt being attributed to a desire for revenge, growing out of the excommunication of Count Tolstoi. Owing to the indefiniteness of the rumor it was disregarded. Now, however, a correspondent has received a private letter from a usually trustworthy source in Vilna, capital of the government of that name, saying that Count Tolstoi was reported to have passed through Vilna March 26, being escorted to the frontier by two gendarmes.

The trial of Peter Karpovich, the assassin of M. Bogoliepoff, the Russian minister of public instruction, who, as previously cabled, has been sentenced to 20 years' penal servitude, with a loss of civil rights, was strictly secret. Admittance was only by card. Among those present were the ministers of justice, of the interior and of finances. Only 50 cards were distributed.

The court deliberated for 25 minutes and condemned Karpovich to 20 years' hard labor in Siberia and the loss of all civil rights.

The police are continuing their inquiry into Karpovich's connection with the general revolutionary movement in Russia.

Lieutenant General Viasemski, who protested against the conduct of the police and Cossacks in the recent riots, has been excluded from the imperial council, of which he was a member, until the czar by special ukase restores his privileges. The prince has gone abroad.

Advices from Kiev shaw that the disturbance there March 24 was a dangerous affair. A few students and many workingmen participated in the outbreak. The military were called out in large force and fired on the rioters, many of whom were wounded. No details, however, are obtainable here.

The students of St. Petersburg have issued a proclamation protesting against the "intentionally untrue" report of the police on the last riot. A majority of the released prisoners have been ordered to leave St. Petersburg within three days. They will not be permitted to live in St Petersburg or Moscow.

Students Ask Excommunication.

LONDON, April 2.—"One thousand students of the University of Kiev have forwarded a petition to the holy synod," says the Odessa correspondent of The Daily Express, "in which they ask to be excommunicated with Count Tolstoi."

Boston's Milk War.

BOSTON, April 2.—Each contestant in the war over the price of a can of milk in this city, the producer or farmer and the contractor or wholesaler, is claiming a victory in the first test of strength. The producers are asserting that yesterday's supply for the Boston market was at least 15,000 cans below normal. The contractors admit that the shortage averaged about one-third, which means in round numbers 10,000 cans. The consumers were not placed on short rations, however. The contractors, anticipating that their full consignments of milk would not be received, had taken the precaution to have their tanks stored to their fullest capacity on Sunday.

Chamberlain's Statement Criticised

LONDON, April 2.—Mr. Chamberlain's announcement that the British Chartered South Africa company has escaped the payment of £1,000,000 as indemnity in connection with the Jameson raid has given rise to considerable dissatisfaction. "It reveals a scandalous state of things," says The Daily Chronicle. "Ministers owe it to their own reputations and to the reputation of the country to take action, even at the risk of failure, to recover this money." The Daily Graphic also regards it as "most unfortunate that the company should thus escape the penalty of its misdeeds."

Griscom Starts For Home.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 2.—Mr. Lloyd C. Griscom, the secretary of the United States ministry, left Constantinople yesterday for the United States on several months' leave of absence. He had an audience with the sultan at the same time that Mr. Leishman, the new minister, presented his credentials Friday last. Later Ibrahim Bey, the master of ceremonies, visited Mr. Griscom, conveying the sultan's best wishes.

Three Miners Killed.

CUMBERLAND, Md., April 2.—Three miners were killed in Allegany county, John Clupp and John Kirkpatrick of Lonaconing by a fall of roof coal in Pine Hill mine, near that place, and Thomas Gracie of Eckhart by a similar accident at the Hoffman mine.

Carpenters and Joiners Strike.

PORT HURON, Mich., April 2.—The members of the local Carpenters and Joiners' union, 150 strong, went on strike yesterday because their demand for 25 cents an hour and a nine hour workday was refused by the four largest contractors in the city.

RUSSIA THREATENS.

She Sends a Stern Ultimatum to China.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Russia has plainly intimated, according to advices received at the state department, that means will be taken to punish China if she persists in her refusal to sign the Manchurian agreement. What shape this punishment will take is not known, although it may result in a termination of diplomatic relations between Russia and China.

It is known officially that the agreement has not been signed, and numerous reasons are given for nonaction. It is thought that the notice served upon China by Russia that China must sign the agreement or take the consequences will bring the matter to an issue at once.

The only advice from an official channel is a dispatch relative to divergent views between the Chinese officials. This comes from Special Commissioner Rockhill. The Peking date it bears is that of Friday last.

Emperor Opposes Russia's Scheme.

LONDON, April 2.—"The Chinese emperor, I am officially informed, has instructed the Chinese plenipotentiaries," says the Peking correspondent of The Daily Mail, "not to sign the Manchurian convention even in a modified form." The Daily Express says: "An English Peking syndicate, with some Italian financiers, has secured a concession in the form of a lease of 71,000 square miles of territory in the provinces of Shansi and Honan rich in coal, iron and petroleum. The concession includes an unbroken coal belt of 3,100 square miles. It bears a date prior to the present crisis."

Stranded In New York.

NEW YORK, April 2.—Ten men who have arrived here on the British steamship Dunstan of the Bruce line say they have contracts to be taken from South Africa to New Orleans, but instead were shipped to South America and then to this port and put off, with little money left. They applied at the outdoor poor department for help. The men have been working for years at the New Orleans docks. Dec. 13 they shipped on the steamship Hydes of the Houston line for Cape Town in charge of a lot of mules for the British in South Africa. They assert that their contracts called for $15 pay and passage and that they for some reason were not sent back to New Orleans.

In Charge of Soldiers' Home.

BATH, N. Y., April 2.—Dr. James T. Burdick of Brooklyn yesterday assumed charge of the hospital at the State Soldiers' home as surgeon in chief. Dr. O. W. Smith of Union Springs, who has held the position since September last, on retiring entered a protest with the secretary of the board of trustees claiming he had the right to withdraw his resignation before it had been acted upon by the board. Dr. Smith about three months ago resigned and then sent a letter withdrawing the resignation, but the board accepted it and appointed Dr. Burdick.

Sunday Opening Opposed.

BUFFALO, April 2.—A mass meeting attended by about 1,000 persons was held at the Delaware Avenue Baptist church Sunday evening at which resolutions were adopted protesting against the opening of the Pan-American exposition on Sunday. Rev. J. W. Hathaway of New York, general secretary of the American Sabbath union, and others spoke. Dr. Hathaway called attention to a mass of signed petitions containing, he said, over 1,000,000 signatures asking that the gates be closed on the Sabbath.

Public Debt Decreased.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—The monthly statement of the public debt issued by the treasury department shows that at the close of business March 30, 1901, the debt, less cash in the treasury, amounted to $1,007,142,909, which is a decrease as compared with March 1, 1901, of $18,876,595. The debt is recapitulated as follows: Interest bearing debt, $1,001,500,410; debt on which interest has ceased since maturity, $1,770,140; debt bearing no interest, $382,315,880; total, $1,385,586,430.

Dead Letter Service For Hawaii.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Postmaster General Smith has issued an order establishing a dead letter service for the territory of Hawaii for the disposition of unclaimed and unmailable matter originating in or reaching the various postoffices in the Hawaiian Islands. The usual return of such matter hereafter will be made to the postmaster at Honolulu instead of Washington.

Large Russian Defalcations.

BERLIN, April 2.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Lokal Anzeiger announces that an examination of the accounts of the Russian imperial comptroller general shows what are believed to have been systematic defalcations between the years 1893 and 1898. The sums not accounted for aggregate 44,000,000 rubles.

A Late Session at Albany.

ALBANY, April 2.—Leader Allds in the assembly last night introduced a resolution extending the time for the introduction of bills and reports of committees. This means that the legislature will not adjourn for some time. While an effort is being made to adjourn on April 1 it is not believed that the legislature will adjourn April 26.

Painters and Decorators Strike.

CINCINNATI, April 2.—Five hundred and fifty members of the Journeymen Painters and Decorators' union have struck because of the refusal of the Master Painters and Decorators' association to sign the scale recently adopted by the union demanding $2.80 for an eight hour day.

The back aches because the kidneys are blockaded.

Help the kidneys with their work.

The back will ache no more.

Lots of proof that Doan's Kidney Pills do this.

It's the best proof, for it comes from Plainfield.

Mr. Richard Day, of 134 East Front street, says: "I had a miserable pain across by back and a sort of lame feeling over my kidneys. Standing any length of time, or walking any distance aggravated it greatly. I was never sick much in my life and consequently never took much medicine, so when I first began having these attacks I paid but little attention to them. They, however, grew worse instead of better, so I had to look about for a remedy. I read quite frequently in our papers about cures brought about by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills, so I got a box at L. W. Bardolph's drug store, and after taking them I felt greatly relieved. I have recommended them to my friends and those who have used them speak very highly in their praise."

Watch Your Kidneys!

They are Filters For the Blood. Impure Blood Causes Disease.

Few people understand the important part performed by the kidneys in filtering the blood. As the blood in its circulation through the body passes through the kidneys, its impurity is left in the kidneys, which in turn empties the secretions into the bladder in the form of urine.

If the kidneys are blocked and filtration of the blood from poisonous or diseased germs is prevented thereby, the result is one or all of the following: Sleeplessness, Nervous Prostration, Weak Back, Pains in the Back and Loins, Scalding Dark and Cloudy Urine, Dizziness, Rheumatism, Diabetes, Congestion of the Kidneys, Bright's Disease and Inflammation of the Bladder.

Unhealthy Kidneys Must Be Treated

A medicine is needed that will properly promote the filtration of the blood and check the over-secretion of urine.

THE BOOZ CASE.

Charges Against West Point Not Sustained.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—The findings of the military court of inquiry which investigated the treatment alleged to have been accorded to the late Oscar L. Booz, a former cadet at West Point Military academy, have been made public at the war department.

The findings of the military court are summed up in a letter written by Secretary Root which accompanies the report. This letter says:

"The findings of this court of inquiry, which are sustained by the evidence, show that the statements which led to the convening of the court, to the effect that former Cadet Oscar L. Booz came to his death by reason of injuries received by hazing at the academy, were not true. They show that at the time Cadet Booz was a member of the academy hazing was prevalent there to a deplorable extent, that the present officers of the academy have shown commendable energy, zeal and efficiency in detecting and punishing offenses of this character and that they greatly decreased the practice and improved the public sentiment among the cadets upon the subject. The testimony and findings of the court were placed in the hands of the committee of congress charged at about the same time with the investigation of the subject, and the very efficient and beneficial action of that committee, followed by the legislation upon the subject contained in the act of March 2, 1901, renders further action by the department unnecessary."

LOOMIS ORDERED HOME.

The Scorpion to Bring Our Minister From Caracas.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Minister Loomis, at Caracas, who has been ordered home in connection with the differences between this country and Venezuela, has been directed by the state department to embark on the gunboat Scorpion and proceed to San Juan, Porto Rico, where he will sail for home on a passenger vessel. The Scorpion was ordered back to La Guayra to take Mr. Loomis away.

Copies of cartoons and translations of newspaper attacks on Minister Loomis published in Venezuelan papers have been received at the state department. They are believed here to reflect the bitter feeling of the official set at Caracas against Mr. Loomis and the United States government. One cartoon represents Mr. Loomis holding out one hand to President Castro in a friendly fashion, while in the other he holds a knife and is reaching over Castro's shoulder to stab him in the back. Another shows Mr. Loomis with two faces, one of the worse forms of insult that can be placed on a man in Latin-America.

An Eastern Milling Combine.

PHILADELPHIA, April 2.—The consolidation of practically all the flour mills in this section has been completed with the transfer by the executors of the estate of James McCormick at Harrisburg of the Paxton mills and the leasing by the same persons of the Steelton Flouring Mill company to the Eastern Milling and Export company. The consideration named in the deed was nominal, but the revenue stamps affixed would indicate $200,000 as the amount paid. The object of the combination is said to be to compete with the Western Milling company, which now controls the price of winter wheat. A director of the Eastern Milling and Export company said that options had been secured on vessels for export trade. They will sail from this city.

Big Drop In Rubber Goods.

BOSTON, April 2.—The United States Rubber company announces a further reduction in its price list of 5 per cent. The annual price list is made public. In comparison with the price list of April 1, 1900, it shows a total reduction of 28 per cent, as cuts amounting to 23 per cent were previously made from the 1900 list. A director of the United States Rubber company says: "We have thrown down the gauntlet to our competitors. We are going to sell our goods and retain our business independent of the action of any of the outside concerns." It is figured in the trade that the additional 5 per cent cut in prices means a loss of $2,000,000 to the United States company on its rebates and orders on hand.

Died Very Suddenly.

PLATTSBURG, N. Y., April 2.—Benjamin B. Mason, a well known attorney of Keeseville, N. Y., died suddenly here last night. Only one hour before Justice Leslie W. Russell in the supreme court here directed a verdict in Mason's favor in a lawsuit involving about $400. Mason left the courthouse, ate supper and, feeling unwell, went to a doctor's office, where he dropped dead almost instantly. He was 42 years old and leaves a wife and a 9-year-old son.

Loving Cup For Duell.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Charles H. Duell of New York, who recently resigned as commissioner of patents, was presented a magnificent loving cup, for which every employee of the patent office subscribed. The presentation took place in the patent office and was witnessed by a large number of employees. Mr. Duell made a speech expressing his gratitude.

Dying of Hiccoughs.

NEWBURG, N. Y., April 2.—F. W. Magee, a hotel clerk, is dying here of hiccoughs. He became ill with the grip on March 22. Pneumonia developed, and on Sunday there were symptoms of inflammation of the brain. With this came hiccoughs, and since yesterday he has hiccoughed almost incessantly and is steadily growing weaker.

CUBANS STILL AT SEA

Secret Session of the Constitutional Convention.

ALL PROPOSITIONS ARE REJECTED.

Majority Report Laid on the Table. A Resolution to Send Delegates to Washington Defeated.

HAVANA, April 2.—A secret session of the Cuban constitutional convention was held yesterday and attended by 25 delegates. Among the absentees were Senor Giberga, Senor Quilas and General Sanguily, strong supporters of the Platt amendment.

The first matter considered was a resolution from the Planters' association recommending the convention to accept the amendment with a proviso that the United States government should make a reduction of 50 per cent in the duty on Cuban products or at least make a preference in their favor over similar products from other countries. The resolution was tabled without discussion.

The majority report of the committee on relations, signed by Senors Gomez, Silva and Villuendas, was read, but after a discussion which showed that a majority of the delegates were opposed to it a resolution to lay it on the table was carried. A similar disposition was made of reports from Senors de Quesada, Tamayo, Nunez and Giberga.

A motion by Senor Monteagudo to appoint a commission to go to Washington was defeated by a vote of 13 to 12.

It was finally decided to hold a public session of the convention today, when an attempt will probably be made to reconsider the action on the Monteagudo motion.

Senor Alejandro Rodrigues, who was elected mayor of Havana June 16, 1900, has resigned the office, and the ayuntamiento will elect his successor today.

For the first time in the history of Havana the month of April begins without a single case of yellow fever in the city. Major W. C. Gorgas, chief sanitary officer, is confident that with the sanitary measures now being enforced and the valuable information gained during the recent investigations of the yellow fever commission there will be but few cases during the coming season.

Pennsylvania Coal Output.

GREENSBURG, Pa., April 2.—Mine Inspector C. B. Ross of this district yesterday made public his report for the past year. It shows that in 1900 there was an increase of 1,570,789 tons of coal over the output of 1899. There was an increase of 2,794 persons over the number employed in 1899. The H. C. Frick company leads in the number of tons produced, its output being 2,245,000 tons, while the Southwestern Connellsville produced 1,381,793, the New York and Cleveland 1,447,849 and the Westmoreland 1,270,766. The other mines varied from 500,000 to 4,649 tons. The total output for the year was 13,648,199 tons.

No News of Missing Package.

NEW YORK, April 2.—President Hendrix of the National Bank of Commerce states that nothing further has been heard respecting the missing $5,000 in the express package consigned to that institution by the Bank of Columbia at Columbia, S. C., which was found to contain nothing but brown paper. At the offices of the Adams Express company, which handled the package for the Southern Express company, it is stated that no light on the loss has yet been obtained, but that the Southern Express company has ordered a rigid search for the package.

An Effort to End Boer War.

CAPE TOWN, April 2.—Sir Gordon Sprigg, premier of Cape Colony, has appealed to members of the colonial defense force and the town guards to volunteer for an additional month's service. It is understood that when the whole of General Baden-Powell's police force is ready to take the field a final and determined effort will be made to end the war. There have been 304 cases of the plague to date and 100 deaths. The latter included a physician and 18 other Europeans. There have been 630 cases under observation.

Naval Movements.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—The north Atlantic squadron, the Kearsarge, Alabama and Massachusetts, arrived at San Juan Saturday. The mosquito fleet sailed from Colombo yesterday for Singapore. The Lancaster has left Boston for Tompkinsville, the Leonidas from Pensacola for Lamberts Point and the Eagle from Key West for Havana. The Mayflower, with Governor Allen of Porto Rico on board, has left San Juan for Hampton Roads.

Soldiers Cutting Wood For Board.

NEW LONDON, Conn., April 2.—Eleven soldiers from Fort Griswold who were blown across the sound to Gardiners island Sunday afternoon while practicing the boat drill were picked up yesterday by a government tug after a prolonged search. The men were found engaged in chopping wood for a farmer who had given them shelter and food and demanded their services in remuneration.

Gans Too Much For Flaherty.

BALTIMORE, April 2.—Joe Gans of Baltimore defeated Martin Flaherty of Lowell, Mass., in the fourth round of what was scheduled to be a 20 round bout. Flaherty was completely outclassed and did not land a blow of any consequence. After he had been knocked down twice in the fourth round his second threw up the sponge. George Mantz was the referee.

Botha and De Wet to Join Forces.

LONDON, April 2.—Dispatches from Cape Town and Brussels talk of General Botha and General De Wet joining a gathering of 13,000 men for operations against General French in the Transvaal Two hundred Boers have reappeared near Richmond, Cape Colony, and the town guard has been called out to defend the place.

The Annual Budget.

As The Daily Press stated several days ago, there will be no special increase in the city tax rate this year unless the county tax grows beyond all expectations. At the meeting of the Common Council last evening, the year's budget was prepared and adopted on first and second reading. To run the city's affairs during the coming year, $95,000 will be necessary. Last year the total appropriations amounted to $89,500.

In fixing the appropriations for the year, it was not expected that there would be any substantial increase in any of them. The Council merely intended to continue its present policy, making necessary allowance, of course, for the growth of the city. This programme was carried out. The total increase in the appropriations will amount to $5,500, which, it is expected, will be partially made up for by the usual growth in the taxable property of the city. There will probably be an increase in the tax rate, but, unless the county tax increases considerably, it will hardly be more than two or three points.

There was a slight increase in the appropriations for nearly every department but they can be accounted for by the general growth in the scope of the work as is natural as the city grows. The largest raise was in the amount appropriated for the streets. Under this will come the payment for the new steam roller and the street signs.

There was nothing really new in the action of the Plainfield Board of Education last evening in bringing the subject of a new High School before the Board of School Estimate. Twice already has the Board of Education attempted to secure a new High School but each time have legal difficulties intervened and the Board was compelled to start over so that there might not be any possible legal hitch. Last year, the matter was referred to the Board of School Estimate, but the passage of the amendment of the school act made it necessary to begin anew this year. The act of last evening was therefore not new, except as merely providing for any possible contingency which might prevent the erection of a new High School building in this city. After being considered by the Board of School Estimate, the proposition will have to go before the Council.

A petition, signed by a hundred and twelve people, was presented at the meeting of the Common Council last evening, asking the city to establish city water works. The petition was referred to a committee. There is no doubt but that the Councilmen are interested to know what the feeling of the public of Plainfield is on this question of municipal ownership but it is hardly likely that even any investigation of the subject will be made before there is a more general expression of opinion.

In these days when householders are cleaning up their lawns and preparing them for spring, it would be well if the city authorities provided for the proper cleaning of Green brook and its banks.

The union Good Friday service is only another happy illustration of the church unity which prevails among the evangelical denominations of the city and borough.

The last of the Municipal Ownership ballots appears in today's Daily Press. Don't forget to fill it out if you have not already done so.

WHAT OTHERS SAY.

Clippings From Other Newspapers Which May Be Of Interest to Plainfield and Its Citizens.

The State Dairy Inspector has been after the milkmen in Plainfield. No tests were made there but samples were carried away to be tried by the Babcock method, the only one which will hold in the courts or by which milk can be judged with any approach to certainty.—Morristown Chronicle.

* * * * *

The Somerville Unionist-Gazette, in closing an editorial eulogistic of Lewis A. Thompson, who has just been superseded as clerk in Chancery by ex Senator Stokes, says:

"We only wish to add that if the reward of merit is not to be bestowed on such officials as Mr. Thompson, then party fealty, official capacity, careful attention to duty and integrity are not worth fostering in the public service."

From the sketch of Mr. Thompson's career, printed in the legislative manual, it is learned that he has served three years as sheriff of Somerset county, two years as president of the Board of Commissioners of Somerville, nine years as Senator from Somerset and five years as clerk in Chancery. Here are nineteen years of office-holding which would seem to be a tolerably fair reward of merit to people of average modesty. Mr. Thompson's deserts must indeed be great if the people are still in his debt.—Newark News.

TEA TABLE TALK.

Short and Cossipy Sketches That Are Not Always News, But Just as Interesting.

A peculiar incident occurred Sunday last at the home of K. Rottberg, West Fourth street. A sparrow flew down the chimney at Mr. Rottberg's home and descended to a point near an elbow in the stovepipe. Just at that time Mr. Rottberg was building a fire in the stove and his attention was attracted by a peculiar sound. For several minutes he could not locate it. Finally, he looked in the stove and near the opening he found the sparrow. His wings were slightly scorched, otherwise he was all right. After being fed a square meal, Mr. Rottberg allowed the bird to fly away.

AT THE THEATRES.

Something About the Attractions Which Plainfield Theatre-Goers May Care to Witness.

Joseph K. Emmett, son of the late J. K. Emmett, the most popular and versatile German dialect actor that was known on the American stage, assisted by Lottie Gilson and a select company of metropolitan artists, will be the attraction at Music Hall Tuesday evening of next week, appearing in the musical comedy of "Fritz in a Mad-house."

* * * * *

David Higgins' great southern play, "At Piney Ridge," which has been accorded such a hearty welcome throughout the country for the past three years, will be the offering for a third time at Music Hall Thursday evening of next week. In "At Piney Ridge" Mr. Higgins has given to the stage a life-like picture of the Tennessee mountaineer. He brings out the droll humor and inborn generosity and honor of the southern gentleman, together with the picturesque dialect so common to southerners, in a very natural and interesting way. The company is a large one and the scenery is novel and beautiful.

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence.)

Dunellen, April 2—Among the latest changes made by borough residents are those of George Vail from his present residence on Dunellen avenue to one of William Craig's houses on the same street; Mrs. Pierce, to Point Pleasant; Samuel Richardson, to Plainfield; Henry Garretson, from the New Market road to Samuel Richardson's house; Mrs. Cottrelly, from Plainfield to her house on Front street.

Fowler Vail's park gang began work yesterkay for the first time this season. The first park to receive the spring overhauling was that of the borough which now presents a pleasing appearance despite the fact that the grass and shrubbery is somewhat behind in its growth.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Education will be held at the Whittier School this evening. It is expected the committees for the ensuing year will be appointed by the president.

Miss Nellie Brown returned home yesterday from Bristol, Conn., where she has been spending some time with her brother, Edison Brown, a former resident of the borough.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Vance, who have been spending the winter in New York, returned to the borough yesterday and are now at their home on the New Market road.

The Crokinole Club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Bodine Saturday evening. There was a good attendance and a pleasant time was had by all.

Theodore Hubbard will leave next week for Baltimore, where he has secured an excellent position with a large contracting firm.

The Misses Maud and Hazel Earl left yesterday for Savannah, Ga., where they will join a theatrical enterprise.

The Misses Barrett have returned home from Brooklyn, where they spent the last three months with relatives.

Miss A. B. Weatherwax entertained the Literary Circle at the home of Lewis Titsworth Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Fowler Vail have been entertaining their niece, Miss Ethel Case, of Phillipsburg.

Miss Kittie Finger, of Plainfield, was the guest of Miss Martha Kratzel yesterday.

The choir of the Presbyterian church is preparing special music for Easter Sunday.

Miss Virgie Tunison was the guest of her parents at Glen Gardner, Sunday.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence.)

New Market, April 2—The Town Committee will meet at the Hotel Nelson today to open the bids received for crushed stone to be used in repairing the roads of Piscataway township.

A number of painters and decorators from Brooklyn have arrived in New Market for the purpose of painting the Hays place.

Mrs. Hannah Nelson has returned from Union, where she has been visiting relatives.

Miss Irene Day and Mrs. Wm. Ackerman are spending the day in New York.

Joseph Winkler has gone to Basking Ridge where he has taken a position.

Over three hundred signers to the trolley petition have been secured.

Miner Griscome, of Philadelphia, visited friends in town yesterday.

Mrs. Stanley Day has recovered from a severe attack of grip.

John Downey has purchased a new horse to work on his farm.

Mrs. Philip Jenner and daughter are visiting in Newark.

F. O Nelson has taken possession of the Brokaw farm.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence.)

Scotch Plains, April 2—Rev. P. A. Bright, pastor of the Methodist church, has received a call to the Methodist church of Providence, R. I. Although he has been in Scotch Plains but a short time, he has made many friends, not only among his own people, but with the people of the town as well. All regret that he is so soon to leave, but the best wishes of his many friends will go with him in his new charge.

Miss DeMott, of Pluckamin, a niece of Postmaster Norman Dunn, will succeed Miss Emma Clark, as assistant postmaster. She will enter upon her duties within a few days. Miss Clark will seek a position as typewriter and stenographer.

Rev. Charles Davison, of Drew Theological Seminary, Madison, will be present and assist with the music in the Methodist church Easter Sunday.

A theatre party of young people from this town attended the performance at Music Hall, Plainfield, last evening.

Miss Helen Whitenack attended the monthly musical in the Presbyterian church at Bound Brook, Sunday evening.

William Nestor, of Park avenue, is moving in the Hollingsworth cottage on the hill, back of the factory.

John Miller and family, of Park avenue, have taken up their residence in Fanwood.

Carpenters are busily engaged in repairing the front porch of the Methodist church.

George Randolph, who has been seriously ill, is steadily improving.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD

(Special Correspondence.)

South Plainfield, April 2—It is learned, upon the best of authority, that a trolley line is to be built between here and Plainfield. All the necessary permits have been obtained from property owners. The only opposition offered was that of William E. Smith and he has also signed the right of way. The work upon the new line will begin about May 1.

The annual church meeting was held at the Baptist church last evening and was largely attended. Rev. G. M. Shott, pastor, presided. The reports showed the church receipts and expenditure, also the receipts and expenditures of the estate which the church has in trust. These reports were very encouraging and shows a good balance. The membership of the church was also reported to be on the increase. After the presentation of reports the following trustees were elected: Dr. Westcott, A. D. Beeken, Norman Dunn, John Bornman, W. B. Noble, Edward Johnson and Charles B. Vincent. The last named person is a new member.

The "rubber" social held in the lecture room of the Baptist church last night was well attended. Much amusement was furnished by the men's attempts at trimming hats. The women blew soap bubbles. Ice cream and lunch was served.

Joseph Eckhart has been subpoenaed to appear as witness before the Grand Jury in New Brunswick upon the case of McDonough, against H. J. Manning and C. A Cubberly.

John Bergen has been subpœnaed to appear before the Grand Jury as a witness, and not as was before stated Ad Bergen. John Bergen is in the employ of Joel Manning.

C. A. Barton, supervisor of the Lehigh Valley Railroad, has moved his office from Easton to the local depot.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Thuma have returned home after a short visit with relatives in Bloomsbury.

Miss Nellie Manning will resume her duties as teacher at the Union school house tomorrow.

Easter music will be rehearsed tonight at the home of Mrs. William H Manning.

FRENCH'S NEW OFFICES.

Are Located at 171 North Avenue and Are Finely Equipped.

Elston M French's new insurance offices, at 171 North avenue, are arranged on an elaborate scale and are up-to date in all the appointments.

The main office for the transaction of business occupies the middle part of the floor, and is in charge of an efficient corps of clerks. At the rear is enclosed a spacious room used for consultation purposes and for the settlement of large real estate transactions. This room is elegantly furnished, as are also the remainder of the offices. In the front is an office used by Mr. French, himself, in superintending the business.

The walls are finished a gorgeous style of crepe paper and the wood work is painted ivory white. Steam heat and electric light add much to the comfort of the offices.

Mr. French represents the oldest insurance companies of this country as well as of Great Britain. He had been established for a number of years and has built up a lucrative trade by honest dealing and satisfactory service.

Local Rogues' Gallery.

Preparations are being made for the early installation of a rogues' gallery at the police headquarters. Chief Kiely has received from Phillipsburg, N. J., a batch of photographs of crooks of various types and conditions, which constitutes a valuable addition to the Chief's present collection. The police board purposes to procure a good-sized cabinet to hold the collection, and it will be placed in the private office of the headquarters

LITTLE IRENE MYERS IS GREAT

LARGE AUDIENCE AT MUSIC HALL WAS GREATLY PLEASED.

Initial Performance Last Evening of the Twelve-Year-Old Actress Here —Strong Supporting Company.

A decided novelty in the dramatic line is the advent of little Irene Myers, who is the star of the company which began a week's engagement in repertoire at Music Hall last night. It is perfectly justifiable to say that a most agreeable surprise awaits any one who attends the performance of this very talented company this week, and every one will be delighted with the impersonations of little Irene.

The play presented last evening was "The Stowaway" in which the little actress appeared in the character of "Chucky." She proved herself a perfect little artiste in every sense of the word, the very embodiment of the part, and one was lost in contemplation on the thought that the impersonation was that of a child of twelve years. Everything that has been said or chronicled of her abilities or talents, was fully justified in the presentation of last night. In the plays to be presented during the week, a verification of her wonderful talent will be given.

Her supporting company is good throughout. Manager Myers has evinced judgment in the selection of his people and all acquitted themselves in praiseworthy manner. The introduced specialties are most pleasing, a show in themselves, and the large audience present at the opening last night testified their appreciation of the entire bill by loud and prolonged applause.

Tonight the company will be seen in Wm. Haworth's great naval play entitled "The Ensign," in which little Irene will be seen in the character of Dot. The following plays will be given during balance of the week: Wednesday night, "Little Lord Fauntleroy;" Thursday, "The Corner Grocery;" Friday, "Under Two Flags;" Saturday matinee, "The Maid of the Mill," and Saturday night, "The White Rat."

Friday night there will be an amateur contest, entries for which may be made on application to Manager Maze Edwards at the box office.

VALUABLE GIFT.

Presented to Retiring Chief Clerk Whitenack of Plainfield Post Office by Fellow Employes.

As a token of respect and esteem, the employes at the postoffice have presented John Whitenack, for many years chief clerk, with a handsome roll top desk. Saturday Mr. Whitenack finished his work at the office, and resigned to make room for James A. Martin, his successor, a Republican.

When Mr. Whitenack reached home Saturday evening he found this handsome desk there awaiting him. Within was a pleasant note explaining the situation, and it was signed by all the employes of the office. The gift is intended to be a remembrance of the many years of pleasant association among the clerks, carriers and all employes in the office, and Mr. Whitenack thoroughly appreciates the very kind expression of good will.

Yesterday Mr. Martin, who succeeds Mr. Whitenack, assumed the position at the post office. The latter was in the employ of Uncle Sam nearly eighteen years, and during that time he always faithfully performed his duties to the satisfaction of his superiors. He entered the postoffice under President Cleveland's first term, when the late William L. Force was postmaster.

Dresden. Der durch das 13. Deutsche Bundesschießen in Dresden entstandene Fehlbetrag von 172,000 Mark wird nunmehr endgiltig gedeckt, da der Stadtrath 50,000 Mark zur Deckung des Defizitrestes aus der Stadtkasse bewilligte. Zur Deckung der übrigen 122,000 Mark haben die wohlhabenden Garantiefondszeichner die gezeichneten Summen meist voll gezahlt, während die übrigen 26⅔ bis 66⅔ Prozent zahlten. Außerdem haben mehrere gemeinnützig denkende Bürger größere Beträge zur Deckung des Defizits gespendet.—Vor einigen Monaten wurde für den Bau eines neuen Rathhauses in Dresden ein Preisausschreiben unter den deutschen Architekten erlassen. Auf dieses Konkurrenzausschreiben sind 77 Projekte, außer dem vom Hochbauamte vorgelegten, eingegangen.

USES OF THE LEMON.

In Almost Any Form This Fruit Possesses Admirable Properties as a Home Medicine.

Sick headaches may often be cured by taking half the juice of one lemon in a teacupful of strong black coffee. Headaches from biliousness or torpid liver sometimes yield to the simple treatment of half a lemon squeezed into a cupful of hot water without sugar, taken night and morning.

Lemon juice and sugar mixed very thick furnish a common household remedy for coughs and colds. Hot lemonade is also good, but the very best form in which the lemon can be used for such cases is the following: Put a good-sized lemon in the oven and let it remain until thoroughly baked. It will then be soft all through. Take it out and add enough sugar or honey—honey is preferable—to make a thick sirup with the juice. Keep this warm and take a teaspoonful every few minutes.

When you make a hot lemonade for a cold remember that glycerin instead of sugar will make the remedy more valuable.

For feverishness and unnatural thirst soften a lemon by rolling on a hard surface, cut off the top, add sugar and work the sugar down into the lemon with a fork. Then slowly suck the lemon.

Lemons in almost any form have a beneficial effect in cases of rheumatism, and are recommended by doctors.

As a remedy for an obstinate corn, bind a piece of lemon upon it, renewing every morning for three or four days. Then the corn will be easily removed. Bread crumbs soaked with lemon juice may be used for the same purpose. Rubbing with pieces of lemon will relieve sore and tender feet. Chilblains can be cured by rubbing with a sliced lemon that has been sprinkled with salt.

The chapping of the hands by exposure to heat or from hot soapsuds may be prevented by rubbing with lemon juice; and with salt lemon juice will remove iron rust and nearly all vegetable stains.—N. Y. Herald.

THE APRICOT HARVEST.

Out in Arizona the Entire Population, Men, Women and Children, Are Interested in It.

Like hop picking in the Mohawk valley, cranberry gathering on the Jersey and Cape Cod bogs or huckleberry harvest on the granite hills of New England, "cot" picking and packing in the Salt river valley of Arizona is an industry shared by the entire family. From the time the fruit "sets," in early April, bright eyes watch its rapid development, and small fingers keep pinching the spheres to see if they are getting mellow, for to the children "cot" harvest means the jolliest kind of a holiday. The birds, too—red-winged blackbirds and clear throated mocking birds—are on the qui vive, as is abundantly attested by the flash of circling wings, the chorus of song and the punctures left in the ripening fruit by the sharp bills of these connoisseurs in fruit.

As the auspicious day draws near (and the Arizonians pride themselves on antedating by a week at least the earliest California shipment) all other work is suspended. By sunrise the whole family is astir, and while the women prepare breakfast the pickers are busy in the laden orchards. As fast as gathered the brimming baskets are carried to the brush sheds, where the women and older children sort and pack the fruit. It is arranged carefully in layers, separated by paper.

All the ripest ones are rejected as liable to spoil in transit. These are not wasted, however, for the Pima and Maricopa Indians from the reservations have watched the ripening of the crop quite as solicitously as the birds and the children. With surprising prescience the first day of the harvest sees a dusky procession afoot, horseback or crowded into a dilapidated lumber wagon, all with mouths watering for the delicious fruit. There is no money used in this transaction, sacks and baskets of wheat being the commodity with which the Indians barter. It is the women, of course, who carry the burden, splendidly poised on their heads, while a papoose slung over the shoulder or a youngster riding astride the maternal hips rounds out the picture.

Keen at a bargain are these redskins, and the "cots" are critically examined and passed upon before the wheat is poured into the waiting bags.—N. Y. Tribune.

Eggshells for Cleaning Bottles.

"Did you know," said the old housekeeper, "that crushed eggshells are good for cleaning discolored or stained bottles? I used to think I must have a small amount of shot in the house for cleaning the inside of bottles. Of course, chopped pieces of potato are good, but eggshells are better."

I have a family of six children and they always got along nicely until three of them started to break out on their faces and body. I took them to the doctor and he said it was eczema and he would cure them, but he failed after running a bill of $[illegible], and at last I got tired of taking the children to him. Their faces would become scaly and then break and run with water and they almost had me crazy attending to them. I got no sleep night or day until a friend of mine recommended Ripans Tabules. I had not much faith in them but consented to give them to the children. Well, I gave the Tabules to the children and the first box did them more good than all the medicine the doctor ordered. I first began to notice the change at night, as I could get a little more sleep, and now, after five weeks' treatment, the children are almost well, and I consider this a miracle, considering the condition they were in and that nothing did them any good except Ripans Tabules. I will recommend the Tabules to anybody in a similar condition.

WANTED—A good medicine for the stomach; one that RIPANS will not benefit. They banish pain and prolong life. [illegible] RIPANS on the package and [illegible] no substitute. RIPANS, [illegible] Ten samples and one thousand testimonials will be mailed to [illegible] Chemical Co., No. 10 Spruce St., New York.

WOOLEN GOODS.

Indications For the Spring and Summer Seasons.

Cloth costumes are to be worn until warm weather sets in. They are employed for every occasion and range from the simplest tailor made styles in dark or neutral tones to elaborate formal toilets in pale and bright colors.

The newest woolen goods are hairy in texture, yet brilliant, with silky reflections. They are exceedingly light, although their rough surface gives an effect of weight and are more or less transparent. Many of these fabrics are of the buse and canvas order and are excellently adapted for lightweight tailor made gowns for warm weather use.

Cloth continues to be specially favored, especially the thin, satinlike varieties.

LOOSE COAT.

They are exquisitely soft, and the folds are richer than in the real silk satins.

The illustration given today shows a long, loose coat of black cloth. It is bordered and ornamented with stitched bands of cloth, which form a sort of yoke, passing across the top of the sleeves. The stitched collar is lined with fur and fastens by crossed tabs, and the coat closes diagonally. The loose pagoda sleeves are open at the outside seam, and beneath them are fur puffs, with a narrow band at the wrist. The large hat is of gray silk and is trimmed with gray ostrich plumes and choux of ruby velvet, with a buckle.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

FASHION'S FANCIES.

Boleros of Tucked Silk Again to the Fore.

Boleros of tucked taffeta, although far from new, have reappeared among the advance models for summer. They are, as a rule, short and are sometimes open, sometimes closed, with one or several large ornamental buttons. The tucks run diagonally on both the body and sleeves of the bolero, and the sleeves are often of half length, allowing the sleeves of the bodice to appear below them.

A bolero for a tailor made costume is of black cloth, entirely stitched with white. This is worn with a black cloth skirt and a wide belt of white kid.

The passion for gold trimmings increases rather than diminishes. Gold braids of all widths, gold ribbons, gold passementerie, gold galloon with embroidery of silk or of metals of other colors, gold tips for ribbons and cravats, gold buttons, gold buckles, gold net and muslin, even gilded feathers—all these are used in profusion in gowns and millinery.

The cut shows a walking costume of gray wool goods. Around the foot of the skirt are three narrow bands of black velvet. The short, round bolero and the revers are bordered with two bands of black velvet, and the tight sleeves are trimmed to match at the wrists. The wide, draped corselet is of black velvet; the collar and full chemisette are of printed Japanese silk. The hat of gray silk is trimmed with black velvet, black plumes and a large rhinestone buckle.

SPRING COLORS.

They Are Soft, Brilliant and Generally Light In Tone.

Pink of a cherry tone is a new spring color. It is clear and brilliant, with a tinge of yellow. Blue continues in high favor and shows a wide range of shades, melting on the one side into mauve and violet and on the other into pale green.

CLOTH COSTUME.

Green itself has lost not any of its prestige and is seen in all variations of medium and light tones, always soft and of a more or less veiled quality. Violets and grays are also well worn. The tendency of all the newest shades is toward vague, delicately pure colors, soft, veiled, but never muddy. All crude colors are avoided, as a rule. This mistiness of tone permits the combination of colors which in their frank, decided phases could never be put together.

The cut shows a costume of light laurel green cloth. The skirt is ornamented with lengthwise clusters of stitched corded plaits, and a horizontal band of the corded plaits borders the front. The bodice is tight and plain at the back, with a cluster of plaits at each edge of the open front. The wide collar and the revers are of ecru guipure, and the fronts are connected by a scarf of green panne with gold tags. The chemisette is of plaited mauve mousseline de soie and the plaited belt of green panne. The green cloth sleeves extend almost to the wrist, being cut in points and bordered with ecru guipure. Beneath are full puffs of mauve mousseline de soie gathered into a narrow band. The toque of laurel green panne is trimmed with a cluster of large pink roses.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

EMBROIDERED GOODS.

Elaborate Applications on Grounds of Net or Silk.

Exquisite materials are now shown in which flowers of guipure or of colored silk are embroidered upon a ground of net. This class of material is exceedingly expensive when purchased, but it may be made at home with comparatively little expense. The floral designs of old damask or even of fine cretonne or batiste may be cut out and applied to plain net, the edge being covered by a fine gold or silk cord or chenille. The cut out designs should be carefully pasted in place before they are sewed, as the paste not only holds them securely, but gives them a degree of stiffness which is a great aid in doing the embroidering.

The illustration shows a girl's gown of periwinkle blue wool goods. The skirt is slightly plaited at the sides and back and has lines of guipure arranged lengthwise at intervals. The blouse bodice has a yoke of plaited white silk, bordered with a band of guipure and a plaited ruffle. The collar is of guipure. The upper half of the sleeve is of plaited white silk with a band of guipure and a plaited ruffle at the elbow, while the lower half is entirely of guipure. The belt is of white grosgrain. The hat of periwinkle blue straw is trimmed with white flowers and natural foliage.

HELP FOR OUTCASTS.

Grand Work Accomplished by the Chicago Medical Mission.

In Its Charitable Endeavors Physical Health Is Considered Quite as Carefully as Moral and Spiritual Regeneration.

[Special Chicago Letter.]

"FAITH, without works, is dead." This must have been the compelling thought of Dr. J. H. Kellogg, of Battle Creek, Mich., which caused him so earnestly to desire to help the unfortunate in Chicago. So fully was the idea of this work formed in his mind that, when two brothers from the Kimberley mining district offered him $48,000 with a question as to how he would use it, his reply was: "We will go down to Chicago and undertake a work for the submerged people of that great city." They have never had cause to regret the investment. The money was used for a sanitarium at 28 Thirty-third place, the earnings of which institution formed a nucleus of a sum with which the mission work was begun in a little basement under No. 40 Custom House place, near Van Buren street. After the old basement was cleaned and whitewashed, some little stalls were made, shower baths and laundry tubs installed and a small room partitioned off in one corner for dressing wounds; for these intensely practical people believed that, in order to efficiently minister to the needs of the soul, the wants of the body must often be first considered. Work was begun one Sunday. Soon 30 and 40 people per day received free treatment in a locality where no provision had heretofore been made for such as they. The frequenters of the neighborhood soon came to know the workers and many touching incidents are told of their appreciation of the most real Christian help and sympathy that had ever been extended to them.

During the first winter relief was given to over 100,000 people. Over 75,000 garments were distributed. A policeman who from curiosity entered this place one day when it was full of crooks, the "most dangerous and wicked men in Chicago," said: "I see you don't need any clubs down there." He further remarked that if all those men were in the street together it would take a dozen policemen to keep them in order.

The work has progressed until now it includes six institutions, all cooperating in a manner which seems truly wonderful to an outsider to whom it is first explained. One of the first to respond to the call for volunteers was the present secretary, who does not wish his name used, as he says none of the workers desire to be personally considered. They have given their lives and the work speaks for itself. It was soon seen that the clothes of those who were cleaned up at the mission were again unfit for contact with man (or beast either, for that matter) after one night spent in the low lodging houses in the district. A mission was started at 436 State street, near Polk, where religious services are held every night, but after the men came out they had no decent place to sleep. So a building was secured at 1311 State street, where clean beds are supplied for ten cents. Each man is obliged to take a bath and have his clothes fumigated. When necessary, fresh clothing is given. Food is supplied at a penny a dish, the cost of the raw material at wholesale. Mission nurses prepare the food. A penny's worth of mush is a large amount. A half loaf of bread costs a penny.

In order that no imposition be practiced, a rug-weaving factory has been added to the establishment, where an absolutely penniless man may work for his board and lodging. Thus none are turned away as long as any room remains for an applicant. Physicians are in attendance, and a man's physical condition is easily determined. If he be ill, he is at once sent to the mission dispensary, 1926 Wabash avenue.

Here is the great headquarters of the work, in a large building, the two upper stories of which are used as a medical school, the two lower as a nurses' training school, with a free dispensary in a wing opening on Twentieth street. Below these are the kitchen, dining-room, laundry and printing offices. In the latter job printing for the various establishments is done and type set for the Life Boat, a 16-page magazine, which, from an issue of less than 500 in 1898, has increased to a circulation of 15,000. In it is only printed such matter as may be comprehended by the most ignorant in the city's slums, and many a simple Gospel story of transformation in the lives of mission visitors is told in its pages. A few pages are devoted to prisons and prisoners. An occasional special prisoners' number is issued. Many pathetic letters come into the hands of the editors from different jails and penitentiaries. The mission finds employment for as many paroled and discharged prisoners as possible, but the number of those who are willing to employ them is limited. At the dispensary are given not only free prescriptions, but baths, massage and electric treatments. In the regular hospital wards charges are made according to the circumstances of the patient. The mission nurses visit the poor and sick all over the city and render them such aid as is possible. Many victims of the morphine habit have been cured here. While, occasionally, members of wealthy families apply for treatment, the greater number of opium patients have spent all their money, either for the drug or some bogus remedy.

The nurses live on the community plan. An allowance, according to the needs of her work, is made to each one. Those who receive pay give it over to the institution and it is applied to the use of those who are nursing destitute patients. Those received as students into the medical mission, whether to prepare themselves as physicians or nurses, are expected to devote themselves to missionary work. No others are received. During the first year work is given them sufficient to pay for their board and tuition. After that time a small allowance is made them for their services. The study of the Bible is a leading feature in the training, for soul and body are to be treated at the same time. In the maternity ward, in the wing of the building, many an unfortunate little one has first seen the light, the mother, in the meantime, beginning life anew and soon joining in the work of aiding others. The mission has also a home-finding department, by means of which orphans and mothers with young children are placed in homes. At 2408 South Park avenue is the Children's Christian home, where little ones under eight years old, rescued from want by mission workers, receive care and training. A day school and kindergarten are maintained. There is a branch of this home at Berlin, Wis., under charge of a corps of workers from the Chicago home. Not only orphaned children are welcomed here, but those with mothers for whom work is found among those who are unable to receive the child also. Often the mother may require hospital treatment, and her cure is hastened by the assurance that her children are in kind hands.

Another branch of the work, the latest, having been started but a little over a year ago, is so great that its demands for self-denial of every description, its almost incomprehensible dangers, render it impossible to describe the self-sacrifice of the grand, noble women who are in charge of the Life Boat Rest, on South Clark street, near Polk, said to be the worst district in Chicago. Here a home, medical treatment and loving care are freely given to any young girl of the neighborhood who desires to accept them. No service is required of them; nothing, in fact, but that they remain indoors unless accompanied by one of the nurses, who do all the work, maintain the home and pay the exorbitant rent by the sale of the Life Boat and contributions from well-wishers. The whole building has been furnished by donations from friends of the work. When asked what was most needed at the present time, the matron replied: "Soap and underclothing." This brave litle woman receives no remuneration whatever for her services. An entirely self-supporting, steam-heated, electric-lighted hotel is conducted by the mission workers at 1351 State street, where men may board at low rates.

"OLD IRONSIDES" Is Again to Sail the Seas

The Historic Old Frigate That Is to Be Rebuilt as a Naval Training Ship

UNDER an act of congress, the famous frigate Constitution is to be rebuilt once more and thoroughly refitted for the sea. The work is to be done where she was originally built—at Boston—and the money is to be raised by the Massachusetts State society, United States Daughters of 1812, through an appeal to patriotic Americans for the preservation of this historical object lesson, which will once more cruise under "Old Glory" as a training ship for naval apprentices. Subscriptions are requested from all who have a pride in the record of the United States navy and who wish to see this monument to early American shipbuilding skill and seaman valor permanently preserved.

In 1830 it was reported in the newspapers that it was the intention of the government to destroy the Constitution, together with a number of other ships. But the very announcement met with a great deal of opposition, and two days after it was made, Oliver Wendell Holmes, then 21 years old, flung the poem of "Old Ironsides" to the world, and with the stirring lines beginning: "Aye, tear her tattered ensign down," struck the popular chord full and strong; the ship, as it afterward appeared, was saved.

THE UNITED STATES FRIGATE "CONSTITUTION."
As She Appeared During the Time She Was the Pride of the American Navy.

No one could help thrilling with indignation at those lines:

"The harpies of the shore shall pluck
The eagle of the sea."

A modern sailor, in looking at the Constitution as she lies at her pier, might very well say, at first glance, that "the old tub couldn't get out of her own way;" and that would be to emphasize the fact that the lines of the old frigate above the water are wholly different from those of modern clipper ships. The bows of the Constitution are as round and bluff as a duck's breast. Nevertheless, a little attention given to her dimensions will show that her model was not as bad as it looks to the modern sailor.

As designed, the Constitution was 174 feet 10½ inches long, molded breadth of beam in the extreme part of the ship, 43 feet six inches; depth in the hold, 14 feet three inches. This means from the gun deck down to the inside plank laid next but one to the keelson. Because of the thickness of the timbers in the bottom of the ship she drew about 20 feet of water when loaded for a cruise. With these dimensions she measured, according to the rules of the time, 1,576 tons. The Constitution is more than three times as wide as she is deep. In other words, this famous old Yankee warship was what a yachtsman might call the original Yankee "skimming dish." She depended on her breadth of beam to keep her upright when the wind blew high, just as our typical yachts of 20 years ago did. In her famous race with the British squadron off the Jersey beach—a race that had taken place only a few miles south of the international yacht racing grounds—the wide and shoal model was victorious, just as the Yankee yacht model has always been victorious. This is not to say that a breadth of beam equal to three times the depth of hold is the best known, but that the model of the Constitution was better than that of any warship she ever met.

The bows of the Constitution were made rounding, because long 24-pounders were to be pointed out of ports on each side of the stem for "bow chasers." The crew needed deck space when handling one of the old-time guns with its side tackles. But if the bows were round the lines were not as hard under water as one might think at first glance. Indeed, the under-water body of the old Constitution, if it be examined critically, will be found astonishingly near to that of some of the swiftest of our tiny racers, wherein the toboggan model always whips that approaching a needle.

And speaking of yachts suggests another very interesting comparison. The water-line length of the yacht Columbia (the cup defender) is a little less than four times her beam, and so was the Constitution's. The beam of the Columbia is a little more than twice the draft of the hill, properly speaking—that is, excluding the fin keel—and so, too, is that of the Constitution. Of course, this is not to say the two models are alike; it is to call attention to some remarkable coincidences in their main proportions. Joshua Humphries, who designed the Constitution, knew how to determine the main proportions of his ships. Just how fast the Constitution could sail has been recorded often in her log books. When the squall struck her in her first famous race for the life of the nation she reached away with a wind that was barely free at 11 knots (sea miles) an hour. By her log during the year 1809 she showed "a speed of 13½ knots, going free under top-gallant sails." Undoubtedly she had more than half a gale to drive her. It is likely, considering that her royals were furled, that the wind varied from 30 to 40 miles an hour. She certainly had the wind just as she wanted it, and we may therefore compare her with the cup defender once more. In the latter's last race with the Shamrock the two had all the wind they wanted; they carried all the sail they could stagger under, and it took the Columbia one hour 17½ minutes to run 15 miles. It was the race of a lifetime. No one need hope ever to see a more magnificent spectacle; but at best the flyer was able to sail at a rate of a little over 12 knots for short spurts. With a beam wind and smooth water she could do better—if she had things just to her liking, she might equal the record speed of the old Constitution.

They called her "Old Ironsides," and the name was first applied, it was said, when one of her crew saw that a shot from the Guerriere failed to penetrate her plank. As the shot rebounded and fell into the sea he shouted: "Her sides are made of iron."

It is easy to believe this story, although her planking above the water-line was but four inches thick. The Guerriere carried on her poop and forecastle 16 32-pounder carronades—short, light-weight guns that used round, cast-iron shot weighing 32 pounds each. To hurl a shot of that weight a charge of powder weighing no more than 2½ pounds was used. How small was the power of this charge will be better comprehended if we consider that in the long 32-pounders of late years the powder charge varied from six to nine pounds, and in a modern gun throwing a shot of that weight the charge is about 16 pounds of a vastly superior kind of powder.

SPORTING.

ON THE DIAMOND.

The second team of the borough High School will cross bats with the Third class nine of the Plainfield High School, Friday afternoon.

Manager C. H. Kinsman, of the Plainfield High School Athletic Association base ball nine, has announced that the opening game of the team will be played Saturday afternoon. The schedule arranged is: Saturday, April 6, Hope chapel, at home; Wednesday, April 17, Leal School, at home; Wednesday, April 24, North Plainfield High School, at home; Saturday, April 27, Newark Academy, at Newark; Saturday, May 4, Leal School, on opponent's grounds; Monday, May 8, North Plainfield High School, on opponent's grounds; Saturday, May 18, Rutgers Prep. School, at New Brunswick; Saturday, May 25, Hope chapel, on opponent's grounds. The closing game will be played at home, May 30, Decoration Day afternoon, with Rutgers Preparatory School.

GOLF.

A meeting of the Board of trustees of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club will be held this evening. It is now planned to open the links of that club for regular play on the third Saturday in April, provided the weather continues good. The enlarged course will probably be ready for use not later than June 15.

Work on the new course of the Westfield Golf Club is progressing rapidly. Already several of the enthusiastic golfers who are numbered in the membership of that club are out practicing. The course is not ready for play, however, but it is expected, will be ready for use by the first of May. The under-drains for the greens and low places on the course are now being put in.

Matthew Roger Brown, who was the professional at the course of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club last year, left Saturday for New Hamsphire, where he will lay out a course for a country club in that State. Expert Brown has decided to go regularly into the work of laying out and preparing courses. After his work in New England is completed, he is engaged to locate and superintend the construction of a course near Media, Pa

BASKET BALL.

The Business Men and the Leaders' five played a snappy and clean game of basket ball at the Y. M. C. A. last evening. The play was unusually exciting throughout. The Business Men were defeated by two points. The score by halves was: First half, 7 to 6; second half, 8 to 7; final score, 15 to 13

CONSTABLE SETTLED IT.

Trouble Again Between Fred Anderson and His Son Over Anderson's Horse.

Trouble has again broken out in the Ohl domicile on Central avenue between the members of that family and Fred Anderson, who is, at present, under bonds to keep the peace. Wishing to quit the premises yesterday, Anderson began gathering his effects together when his eighteen year old son refused to allow him to take his horse. The animal was placed in the Ohl barn and Mrs. Ohl, it is alleged, backed the boy in his refusal to allow the father to have it.

Anderson appeared before Justice Moffett this morning and stated his grievances. The latter sent Constable Gjetlesen to the place. After an interview with the parties concerned, the constable advised Mrs. Ohl to refrain from interference in Anderson's affairs and allow him and his son to settle their own troubles. His suggestion was accepted and Anderson will leave the place tomorrow, the horse having been returned.

PARTNERSHIP DISSOLVED.

Ira L. LaRue and Thomas A. Cuming Will Operate Individually Hereafter.

Ira L. LaRue and Thomas A. Cuming, who for two years past have conducted a general real estate and insurance business on North avenue, under the firm name of LaRue & Cuming, dissolved partnership yesterday by mutual consent.

During the past year, the firm has devoted its energy to working up local trade and has now concluded to operate individually. Mr. LaRue intends to develope the local field; while Mr. Cuming will operate largely in New York.

JOHN SCOTT HAPPY.

Borough Board of Health Remitted Fine for Dumping at Wrong Place.

John Scott, of Somerset street, is happy. Last week he was fined $20 for violating the health ordinance for dumping refuse at the head of Grove street and last evening the Borough Board of Health remitted the fine.

Scott satisfactorily explained to the board that he was the victim of a mistake. He believed that he was using the authorized dumping ground and did not know that the Buck kiln was the proper place to deposit ashes. The board believed him and now he's rejoicing.

Ants, Cockroaches, Bed Bugs.

Mix, say, a 25c. box of "Rough on Rats" carefully with a pound or so of mashed boiled potatoes, or with a loaf of finely crumbled dampened bread, or two tin cups of fine powdered sugar, and place about their haunts, out of reach of children or pet animals. Even the hardier Black Cockroaches, Beetles, Wood or Water Bugs, in one or two applications will be completely annihilated. "Rough on Rats" is the only thing that will effectually and permanently annihilate Bed Bugs, and it stands unrivalled the world over for the prompt and effective extermination of Rats and Mice. 15 and 25 boxes at druggists.

Fire Broke Out Again.

A second fire broke out shortly after noon yesterday in the partially destroyed workshop of Albert Brinkley at 312 Berckman street. An alarm was turned in and the chemical engine responded. The flames were quickly extinguished and it was then discovered that the fire was rekindled by some carpet lining which lay in the shop.

BOARD WILL ACT PROMPTLY.

IN CASE THE RESERVOIR ON THE MOUNTAIN IS USED AGAIN.

State Board Advised Borough Board of Health to Secure An Injunction in Case of Further Trouble.

The Borough Board of Health met last evening and considered various matters of importance to North Plainfield.

A communication from the State Board of Health, in response to an inreesponse to an inquiry as to the proper action to be pursued on relation to the condition of the water, advised the board to refer the matter to the borough counsel or apply for an injunction. It was determined that should the water company again use the tank to store water, which is intended to be used in the borough, immediate action would be taken.

The State chemist had made some report of his analysis of the milk, which State Dairy Commissioner Vanderuff procured in the borough last week. A quantity of very poor milk was discovered. In one case the cream was only 7 per cent where it should have been 15 per cent. The Board of Health has traced the poor milk supply to points near Sterling in Morris county.

It was reported that certain parties were using the brook for sewage purposes. Directions were given to have this stopped and the inspector with several members of the board, will examine the brook this week and also notify those polluting the stream to cease their actions at once.

NEW GROCERY COMPANY.

Began Business at Rockfellow's Old Stand Yesterday Afternoon.

The Rockfellow Grocery Company, incorporated some time ago, commenced business yesterday afternoon at the stand formerly kept by George W. Rockfellow individually, at the corner of Park avenue and Fourth street. The active spirits of the enterprise are Mr. Rockfellow, Fred J. Stack and C. L. Beach.

An entire new stock has been purchased and the interior of the store has been considerably improved. Mr. Stack will have charge of the concern and it will be his constant effort to please the trade by handling only first class goods and selling them at reasonable prices.

Polite and quick service will be a feature of the business.

QUIETLY MARRIED.

John Mayer, of This City, and Miss Rosie Loerch, of South Sterling, Wedded.

John Mayer, of this city, was married to Miss Rosie Loerch, of South Sterling, Sunday evening, at the parsonage of the German Reformed church by the pastor, Rev. G. Hauser.

The ceremony was witnessed by Mr. and Mrs. John Kestel, of Scotch Plains. The bride and groom will reside at Mount Bethel, where Mr. Mayer is engaged in farming.

Stole Furniture Saved From Fire.

After the fire at Albert Binkley's home on Berckman street, Sunday evening, thieves made away with a lot of his furniture which had been rescued from the flames. Mr. Brinkley realizes that misfortunes never come singly but feels that it is doubly hard for one to suffer loss by fire and thieves at the same time.

SCOTCHMEN GATHERED.

Members of the Thistle Club Were Delightfully Entertained at Home of John Mortimer.

Thirty members of the Thistle Club, of this city, were very pleasantly entertained last evening by Mr. and Mrs. John Mortimer at their home on West Seventh street. The gathering was by far the jolliest of the many which this organization has had since its formation over a year ago

The feature of the evening's programme was the playing of familiar Scotch airs on the bagpipes by John Anderson, of Newark. Several Scotch songs were sung by Wm. Wilson. Chief McDuff recited "The Major" and vocal selections were given by James Stewart. Thomas Hendry, Andrew Blair, Robert Kenney, Mrs. Donald McInnis, Mrs. Wm. Gray and Mrs. Wm. Gloak. The evening's enjoyment was brought to a close at midnight with the serving of refreshments.

Little Japanese Cook.

O, he was a perfect jewel—her little Japanese cook! So watchful and attentive! He wrote in his little memorandum book all her instructions, so there could be no mistake. His cuisine? Incomparable. His manners? Divine. But, like all good things and perfect jewels, he had to go. He begged the privilege of calling and say good-by before sailing for his native land, and in due time his card was presented by the footman with a "Ph. D." after his name. Madame found him in full evening dress and some foreign decorations. He informed her that his degree had been conferred by a celebrated German university, and that he had been in America to obtain at short range material for a book on the manners and social customs and the daily domestic life of the upper-class American people. At first inclined to the horrors and hysterics, madame finally yielded to the humor of the situation and forgave the former cook his amazing duplicity. If I am not in error she invited him to dinner to inveigle her husband into the joke.—N. Y. Press.

Cooperation in Farming.

The Dane thoroughly understands the value of cooperation. Butter was at first made on every farm, but partly owing to the difficulty of procuring trained butter makers, partly to the smallness of the farms, Danish butter was at first of uncertain quality and fetched a low price in England. So the goahead Danish farmer combined with his fellows, and at the present day almost every parish has its cooperative dairy. On an average 150 small farmers combine together to establish a dairy, subscribing between them £1,000, that is eight pounds sterling each, this being enough capital for a dairy of 850 cows. A cooperative society has also been formed for organized egg collecting for export. Local societies are established all over the country, whose members engage to deliver fresh eggs. They are fined five pounds six shillings for every bad egg delivered after fair warning.—London Express.

A Chinese Choir.

A church choir, complete in all its parts and composed exclusively of Chinese vocalists, accompanied on the organ by a young Chinese matron, is one of the unique practical sights and results of Christian effort in San Francisco. Of course it has required years to accomplish this result, but in those years the zeal and hope of Rev. I. M. Condit and his missionary wife have known neither flickering nor wavering. As a result, Dr. Condit presides Sunday after Sunday at the services in the Presbyterian church on Stockton street; a Chinese congregation composed of men, women, children and infants in arms attend for worship, and now sufficient advance has been made to have the music of the service rendered by a double quartette of male and female voices. — San Francisco Chronicle.

Gambled Away His Front Stairs.

One of the most extraordinary mementoes of gambling mania is to be seen to this day at Houghton hall, the residence of the marquis of Cholmondeley. This is a blank space where the central flight of steps leading to the entrance hall should be. The hall at one time belonged to Robert Walpole, earl of Orford. Lord Orford was a tremendous gambler. One of his feats was to gamble away that particular flight of steps. The winner carted them off, and they have never been replaced. The effect of the blank space is most singular.—London To-Day.

CITY'S RELATIONS WITH THE WATER COMPANY

Present Ten Year Agreement Between Them Expires May 2, 1902.

FIXES THE RATE SCHEDULE.

NO PROVISION IS MADE FOR PURCHASE OF PLANT BY THE CITY.

Water Company's Charter Came From the Legislature And For Many Years Went Begging—May Continue Present Agreement.

Just at present many people interested in the question of the water supply are wondering what the relations between the city and the Plainfield Water Supply Company are, in view of the fact that there is considerable discussion as to the advisability of the city having its own plant.

According to an agreement between the city and the water company, the company agrees to furnish the city with water for fire purposes and the residents, as private consumers, under specified stipulations. When this agreement was made May 2, 1892, it was for a term of ten years, and this will expire May 2, 1902. No doubt the fact that the agreement expires next year has led many people to think more seriously of a change from the present method of supply.

The city did not reserve any right to purchase the system of water supply in this city, neither did the company grant any options. There was a contract made December 27, 1889, whereby provisions were made for the purchase of the water system by the city on a basis of the actual cost of construction, plus 40 per cent. This contract was repudiated and is now null and void. According to the present agreement the city agrees to pay $15 for each fire hydrant.

It is not generally known that the Plainfield Water Supply Company is doing business under a Legislative enactment and that the company did not get its right to operate from the city. This right was granted many years ago and for several years it went begging, not a person could be found who would take it up and invest a dollar in a water plant. It was in 1890, that the present company took hold of the matter and began operations. After the water was located, a preliminary test was made May 5, 1890, and this, as well as subsequent tests proved that the supply was apparently inexhaustible. As a matter of fact, North Plainfield made a contract for the city water before Plainfield did. It was just after the Boice, Runyon & Co., fire that Plainfield contracted for water. At the time of the fire there were several hydrants about the city and they were very convenient at that time.

The Plainfield Water Supply Company is reported on good authority to be perfectly willing to continue to furnish water to the city as at present and is willing to make a contract from year to year after the present agreement expires. There are now 296 five hydrants in this city for which the sum of $4 440 is paid by the city.

While there are no provisions in the agreement whereby the city can purchase the water plant, it is a question if the company would sell if the city was anxious to buy. If the city should decide to establish a plant of their own this might interfere with the business of the Plainfield Water Supply Company, as a majority of Plainfielders would probably take water from the city plant, thus shutting out the other company.

SERVICES DURING HOLY WEEK

ON MAUNDY-THURSDAY, GOOD FRIDAY, SATURDAY AND EASTER.

Special Services Mark These Days In The Episcopal and Roman Catholic Churches.

Tomorrow will be Maundy-Thursday in the church calendar and both the Episcopal and Roman Catholic churches will celebrate the day with fitting services, as they will also celebrate Good Friday, Saturday and Easter Sunday, which follows.

Maundy-Thursday is the day set apart to commemorate Christ's institution of the Blessed Sacrament of the Lord's Supper and Good Friday is the memorial of the Saviour's crucifixion. On Holy Saturday, He was in the tomb and on Easter morn He rose again from the dead. During the first three days mentioned the services will be unusually solemn and impressive in both churches and not until Easter morning, when the church celebrates the glad tidings of Christ's resurrection, will the services be of a joyful nature.

In the Episcopal church the purple drapings will remain until Easter. The cross will be veiled and the church will have a sombre appearance. On Easter day in both churches the altar cover and all the hangings will be white and the symbolical Easter lily will be conspicuous.

In the Roman Catholic church the crucifix and the statues will be unveiled during the singing of the Gloria in Excelsis at the Good Friday mass. Between tomorrow and Sunday the Paschal candle will be relighted for the year. The Holy water will be blessed by the priest as will also the baptismal font. It is the custom in both churches to bless the Easter gifts in the shape of church furnishings before the Easter day services.

The services at St. Mary's R. C. church are: Maundy-Thursday: mass and procession at 8 o'clock. Good Friday: mass of the pre sanctified, 8 o'clock; evening devotion and sermon on the Passion, 7:30 o'clock. Saturday: mass at 8 o'clock.

The services at St. Joseph's R. C. church will be: Holy Thursday, 8:30 o'clock, mass and procession of the children, who convey the Blessed Sacrament from the altar to the repository where it remains until Saturday. Good Friday, mass at 8::0 o'clock. In the evening at 8 o'clock adoration of the cross and a sermon on the Passion. Saturday, mass at 7:30 o'clock.

Grace (Episcopal) church—Maundy-Thursday: Celebration of the Holy Eucharist, 7:30 o'clock. Good Friday: Morning prayer and sermon, 10 o'clock; the three hours service of prayer and meditation, 12 noon until 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Easter eve: Prayer and reading, in the afternoon, at 4:30 o'clock.

The Church of the Holy Cross (Episcopal): Maundy-Thursday: Evening prayer, 8 o'clock. Good Friday: Morning prayer and sermon, 10:30 o'clock. Saturday: Even song and holy baptism, 4:30 o'clock.

Appropriate services will also be held at St. Stephen's (Episcopal), Netherwood, and at the Mission Church of the Heavenly Rest (Episcopal), on Clinton avenue.

PRIMARY TEACHERS ELECT.

Annual Meeting of Primary Sunday-School Teachers' Union Held Monday.

At the annual meeting of the Plainfield Primary and Junior Sunday-school Teachers' Union held Monday afternoon, the following officers were elected: President, Miss Nettie J. Beeching; first vice-president, Mrs. J. A. Powlison; second vice-president, Mrs. F R. Baker; third vice-president, Mrs. J. P. Mosher; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. R. W. Barnes; librarian, Mrs. Morse.

It is quite likely that in the near future members from the Union will go to Rahway and organize a Union at that place A number of Sunday-school workers at the latter place are much interested in the formation of a Union and they have invited the Plainfield members to visit them.

On Day Duty.

Patrolman Herbert Overbaugh is now doing duty day time in the business part of the city, and Roundsman Mattox has also returned to day duty. Patrolmen Higgins and Totten are doing night duty in the business section.

A. D. Thompson's New Office.

A. D. Thompson has removed his real estate office from 211 North avenue to the rooms formerly occupied by LaRue & Cuming in the second floor of the building adjoining on the west of 209 North avenue.

Board of Trade Meeting.

There will be a meeting of the Board of Trade Monday evening, April 15.

—A. A. Stryker has removed from Grant avenue to 965 West Front street.

FINED FOR FIGHTING.

Three Plainfielders Arrested in Westfield Saturday Night Charged With Making Trouble on Trolley Cars.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Westfield, April 3 — Three young men who gave their names as James Shannon, George Wood and John McCoy, all of Plainfield, were arrested by Officer Knapp Saturday evening for causing a disturbance on Broad street near the fountain. They were with a company of eight men who, it is alleged, were fighting on a trolley car and when put off immediately renewed the wrangling. Officer Knapp dispersed the crowd and arrested three.

When brought before Justice Toucey the prisoners agreed to pay a fine in preference to going to jail. Shannon was fined $3 and cost, and Wood and McCoy $2 and costs. They communicated with friends in Plainfield and procured the money.

The police believe the name of Wood to be fictitious.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY'S TEA.

WAS HELD IN VINCENT CHAPEL LAST EVENING.

Musical Programme Given Up on Account of Death of P. M French—Supper Could Not Be Postponed.

The Woman's Home Misionary Society of the First M. E. church gave a tea in Vincent chapel last evening, from 6:30 to 7:30 o'clobk, for the benefit of the society's general objects.

The unexpected death of Phineas M. French, one of the church's most earnest workers, cast an unmistakable gloom on the affair, and were it possible the tea would have been postponed altogether, but as it was the musical programme, which had been arranged to add gaiety to the affair, was dispensed with.

A good representation of the members of the church attended and the menu for the tea was excellent. Mrs. J. W. Jackson had charge of the affair and assisting her in charge of the tables were: Mrs. O. L. Jenkins, Mrs. N. W. Pike, Miss Rachel Day, Mrs. D. E. Davis, Miss Edith Dyer, Mrs. Clifford A. McGee, Mrs. W. C Snodgrass, Mrs. J. N. Derby, Mrs. H. A. McGee, Mrs. J. M. McNaughton and Mrs. Percy S. Dyer.

These members of the society were aided by young women of the congregation, among them being the Misses Susie Davies, Eleanor Dyer, Alma Dyer, Mabel Vail, Mabel Jenkins, Edna Kennedy and E. T. Day.

When all the guests had partaken of the delightful repast and the members and their aids had been served, the mire boxes, in which the members had placed their contributions during the past year, were opened and the total sum accumulated from this source added much to the funds of the society.

MUSICAL PROGRAMME.

Epworth League of the Monroe Avenue Church Gave an Entertainment

A large and appreciative audience assembled in the Monroe Avenue church last evening and was entertained with a very pleasing programme of vocal and instrumental selections. The feature of the programme was the Dunellen Mandolin, Banjo and Guitar Club, composed of six members and assisted by W. C. Townsend, of this city, and E. A. Wilcox, of Westfield. Their playing was greatly enjoyed and called for long applause.

Miss Mary Griswold and Miss Cornélia Miller gave two well rendered vocal solos, to each of which they were obliged to respond with encores. They were accompanied by Miss Charlotte Aldrich. The entertainment was given under the auspices of the Epworth League.

Of Special Interest to Young Women.

The Young Women's Club is increasing in members and in interest. Among the many attractions offered to the young women of the city and borough are a free library, large classes in physical culture and singing. Thursday evening the first lesson in millinery will be given Bring a hat and learn how to trim it. The club is willing to form classes in any subject.

Will Try Case Again.

The case of the Central New Jersey Land Improvement Company against William Schimer, demand for premises, will be tried in Justice Nash's court, Tuesday, April 9. This case was tried at Westfield about a year ago, and the defendant won on a technicality of a clause in the lease. The second trial promises to be very interesting.

In The Wrong Place.

Through a misunderstanding the article regarding the annual church meeting in the Scotch Plains Baptist church got into the South Plainfield column yesterday.

HIGH BRIDGE BOYS WANDERED FROM HOME

Chief Kiely Found Them on The Street Last Night With Stranger Named Moore.

HELD FOR INVESTIGATION.

BOYS CLAIMS MOORE INDUCED THEM TO RUN AWAY.

Said He Met Them Coming From School Yesterday Noon And They Boarded a Jersey Central Freight Train—Parents Were Notified.

Chief Kiely last evening placed under arrest a wanderer named James S. Moore and two boys, John Mowatt and James Johnson, both of High Bridge, who were with him at the time on Front street. The general appearance of the two attracted the suspicion of the Chief and, on questioning the lads, he concluded that something was wrong. He promply escorted the gang to the headquarters in order to get a more satisfactory explanation from them and to await developments.

The story the boys tell is that Moore accosted them on their way from school yesterday noon and induced them to board a freight train with him. They landed in this city early last evening and shortly afterwards were met by Chief Kiely.

Moore had on his person various letters and papers which show that he is somewhat of a rolling stone and depended on others to advance his interests On him was found a letter directed by Rev. Dr. Ernest F. Smith, rector of St. Stephen's Episcopal church, Harrisburg, Pa., to the railroad ticket agent at that city requesting that a ticket be given the man and that he be put safely aboard a train to Reading, Pa., in which city he claimed to know Canon Orrick, the rector of Christ church, which was formerly the Cathedral church of the diocese of Central Pennsylvania.

From another paper he possessed it was evident that Moore had arrived at his destination but there was nothing to show that he had called on Dr. Orrick although he had paid a visit to a doctor of alcoholic spirits. From other papers it is apparent that he worked a short time for a man named D. Neff, of Bellwood, Pa. The visiting card of Rev. John T. Kerr, of Elizabeth, was also found on the man's person.

The boys' parents, James Mowatt and James Johnson, moulders, employed in the High Bridge Iron and Steel Works, have been notified by Chief Kiely of the detention of the lads at this point, and they, together with Moore, will be held until word is received from High Bridge.

This morning City Judge Runyon questioned the boys and obtained a full story of their doings. They are quite young, either not being over fourteen years of age, and have not the appearance of being unruly lads.

When examined, Moore claimed that he had met the boys on the freight cars and they had accompanied him to this city at their own volition.

NEW GLOVE FACTORY.

Perrin-Freres Glove Company Preparing to Build on Washington Avenue, Near the Brook.

The Perrin-Freres Glove Company, which now operates a glove factory at Watchung, proposes to erect a factory in Plainfield in the near future.

Plans have been drawn by Oakley & Son, of Elizabeth, and the blue prints show that the building is to be erected on a very modern scale, with all improvements. It is to be a three-story brick structure, with a frontage of forty feet and a depth of over eighty feet. One end of the first floor is to be used as a dwelling by the superintendent.

Washington avenue, between the brook and Front street, has been selected as the site for the factory, but some protest has been made by residents of the borough against locating the factory at the place decided upon.

Building Inspector Doane has received copies of the plans for his approval. James C. Manning has secured the contract for the carpentry work.

LOADED CAR HELD FOR TAXES

COLLECTOR SMITH HELD IT UP IN DUNELLEN FREIGHT YARD.

Claims It is Property of Chapot & Sons Against Whom There is a Claim for Delinquent Taxes.

The city is now engaged in a very interesting case with Chapot & Sons the chamois manufacturers. Recently Collector F. H. Smith issued a warrant on the firm for the payment of delinquent taxes. The goods owned by the firm and located in the West End were attached, and were to have been sold. Saturday twelve tons of scrap iron owned by the firm was loaded in a freight car and started for Buffalo, where it was to be delivered to a purchaser.

Chief Kiely and Collector Smith heard of this and they went to Dunellen and stopped the car. The railroad company agreed to hold the car until a settlement. Now the question arises as to whether the city has jurisdiction outside of the county. The firm paid one tax bill amounting to $159, but failed to pay the interest and cost. There is still another tax bill of $190 to be paid. For this last amount an attachment has been levied on boilers, etc., which, when sold, will no doubt satify the claim. It is understood that the firm is willing to settle for the amount asked. If this is done there will be no further trouble.

SUCCESS CONTINUES.

Excellent Performance Given by Little Irene Myers at Music Hall Last Night.

The very favorable impression made by the little Irene Myers Comedy Company Monday night at Music Hall, was further confirmed by the attendance and reception of the performance of the naval play entitled "The Ensign," last night. Although this drama has been seen before, it was never seen more advantageously, than was the case last night.

Additional interest was manifest in the impersonation of the character of "Dot" by little Irene, which was charminly rendered, affording ample opportunity for the little actress' talents. She is certainly a clever little artiste, whose performances grow on a person, and she has already made many warm friends among her audiences.

Tonight she will be seen in one of her best characterizations, "Little Lord Fauntleroy," in the play of that name and a fine performance may be anticipated. Tomorrow night "The Corner Grocery" will be the attraction with little Irene as "Jimmy Nolan," and a novelty is in store for Friday night when in addition to the play of "Under Two Flags" there will be a grand amateur contest for which several entries have already been made and money prizes is the reward.

Slight Improvement Noted.

There is still a slight improvement in the condition of William Buckley, of Scotch Plains. His temperature is almost normal, and while he is still in a critical condition, Dr. Westcott is more hopeful of recovery. A trained nurse is in constant attendance.

May Decide to Build.

The members of the Jewish Synagogue have not entirely given up the idea of erecting a building for their use at the corner of Craig place and Grove street. They still have the option on the property and may yet decide to build.

NEW CITY COMMITTEE MET.

LOCAL REPUBLICAN COMMITTEE ORGANIZED FOR THE COMING YEAR.

Mayor O. L. Jenkins Was Elected Chairman of City Committee—Will Appoint Committees Soon.

The Republican City Executive Committee met last evening at headquarters to organize for the year 1901 Every ward was represented except the Second. William Newcorn, as secretary of last year's committee, called the meeting to order. Roger F. Murray nominated Mayor O. L. Jenkins as chairman of the committee and he was unanimously elected. Assemblyman Charles S. Foote was elected vice chairman, William A. Westphal declining to hold the office another year. William Newcorn was re-elected secretary and treasurer.

The constitution and by-laws for 1900 were adopted for the present year. It was directed that Mayor Jenkins appoint a committee of three to formulate rules and regulations to govern primaries, and His Honor stated that he would announce this committee, as well as all standing committees, within a short time. Treasurer Newcorn submitted a report showing that all bills were paid and that there is a balance of 73 cents in the treasury.

Following the transaction of business, the rest of the evening was devoted to an informal discussion of matters in general pertaining to the welfare of the city and the party. The committee then adjourned.

RUNAWAY CAPTURED.

Wm. Brace Left Home in Scranton Because He Didn't Want to Work in Mines.

Wm. Brace, a runaway, who gives his address as Robert's Court, Scranton, Pa., was arrested by City Detective McCarthy at the North Avenue station yesterday. The boy's suspicious actions caused the detective to take him in custody.

At the police headquarters he confessed that he had run away from his parents in Scranton March 29, because, as he alleges, he did not desire to work in the mines. The lad says he is a native of South Wales.

His father, Benjamin Brace, an employe of the Scranton Colliery, has been notified by the Chief and the boy will be held until the father appears to claim him.

HIGH SCHOOL HONORS.

Commencement Honors at North Plainfield High School are Announced by Superintendent Wightman.

Superintendent Wightman and the High School teachers, of the North Plainfield schools, have selected the graduating class orators for Commencement day.

The valedictorian is Miss Mary E. Valiant, daughter of John Valiant, of Myrtle avenue, and the salutatorian is Miss Maud L. Honeyman, daughter of A. V. D. Honeyman, of Grove street.

Considering that the selections are based on the merit system alone, the awards come as a high honor to the young women, both of whom are pursuing the classical course.

Chicken Poisoner at Work.

Greatly to the annoyance of chicken fanciers and fowl owners in general, living on East Second street near Church street, a chicken poisoner has been at work among the roosts in that vicinity. None of the fowls have been stolen, and the owners are at a loss for an explanation to the mystery. The most recent losers are keeping a close watch on their yards, and an attempt to repeat the offense will be met with a warm reception.

Steady Progress Reported.

The monthly business meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society of Warren chapel was held last evening. All the reports showed steady progress. Five new members were elected. The treasurer reported a good balance in the treasury

ALMOST UNANIMOUS FOR CITY OWNERSHIP.

Daily Press Ballot on Municipal Ownership Question Ended at Noon Today.

MANY BALLOTS RECEIVED.

VOTE BY ELECTION DISTRICTS WILL BE ANNOUNCED TOMORROW.

Many Prominent and Influential Residents of City and Borough Have Cast Their Ballot—Vote Was Almost Unanimous.

The vote on the question of the municipal ownership of the water supply plant ended today and the taxpayers of the city and borough voted almost unanimously for city ownership. The balloting closed at noon today but any ballots mailed on or before that time, will be counted. At the time of going to press, 418 ballots have been received. These will be sorted by election districts and the full returns will be published in tomorrow's Daily Press.

The Daily Press has conducted this vote to discover, if possible, how the tax-payers of city and borough feel on the subject of municipal ownership of the water works. The response on the part of the tax-payers has been excellent. From all sides of the city and borough, ballots have been received. Those who own property and those who do not have taken an equal interest in the contest. A number of women, who pay taxes, have voted. They have been unanimously for municipal ownership.

The response from the borough has been particularly large, being larger in proportion to the population than Plainfield. Among those who have sent in ballots are nearly all of the city officials and many prominent and influential residents of both city and borough. According to agreement The Daily Press will not make the names public, although the list is an interesting one.

TO SELECT TEACHERS.

Important Meeting of Borough Board of Education Tonight.

The Borough Board of Education meets this evening at the Somerset school for the purpose of electing teachers for the coming school year. Several vacancies will probably occur and these will be properly filled at this evening's meeting.

Another matter which will likely come up for consideration is the text book question. Annually it is necessary to replace, add to and change the text books used in all the grades. Superintendent Wightman is now prepared to state just what the requirements in the line of books will be for the ensuing year and hence it is probable that the text book and supplies committee will make a report to the meeting.

Easter Display.

One of the most attractive Easter displays in the city is to be found at Randolph's West Front street pharmacy. The window decorations are unusually pretty One window is given up to a display of Lazelle's perfumery, and once more there is exhibited handsome cut glass bottles. The other window contains a choice display of Huyler's toothsome confections, varied colored Easter eggs and handsome lilies. The word Easter is attractively shown in flowers, with a flower border surrounding it.

Not Stolen But Saved.

The supposition of Albert Brinkley, of Berckman street, that his furniture, which had been rescued from the fire at his home Sunday evening, was stolen, proves to be unfounded. A kindly neighbor, Patrolman James A. Saunders, removed the furniture to a place of safety and later notified the owner.

Endeavor Business Meeting.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the Park Avenue Baptist church will hold a business meeting tomorrow evening at the home of Mrs. W. S. Lowry, Sherman avenue. A full attendance of the members is desired.

QUIET IN BUILDING CIRCLES.

FEW NEW BUILDINGS WERE COMMENCED IN MARCH.

Prospect of Much More During Month of April—About the Work Done in March.

The real estate circles in this city were not as busy during the month just closed, as they promise to be during the present month. Building operations have been few, and, with one exception, not especially important. During March Building Inspector Doane issued permits for less than a score of operations.

At the corner of Lee place and West Fifth street a frame dwelling is being erected by Robert Barnes. The estimated cost is $1,500. Wm. H. Brokaw is the carpenter and architect, and Wm. Thompson the mason.

Woodhull & Martin have erected a large barn and wagon shed on Washington avenue, from plans drawn by F. L. Lancaster. The masonry work was done by Townley Brothers and the carpentry work by McNally & Hoffman. Fred W. Happel built a frame dwelling on his property, 658 South Second street. W. D. Johnson had charge of the work.

E. V. French is the architect of a frame dwelling constructed on Mariners avenue, near Dunellen avenue, by Charles E. Drake. At 326 East Front street extensive repairs were made to the dwelling of E. Schloss. F. L. Lancaster was the architect, Wm. Smith the mason, and A. A. Stryker the carpenter.

A large dwelling was removed by Walter G. Clawson from Clinton avenue to West Third street. The work was done for James E. Dunn.

A frame dwelling is being erected by Philip F. Butscher on Spooner avenue, near Fourth street. Wm. H. Pangborn has the contract for the mason work and Charles M. Wilson for the carpentry. C. E. Drake has the contract for building a frame stable at 1140 West Front street for Wm. and Mason Tallamy.

Thomas Hughes is the owner of a frame dwelling now in course of erection on East Second street, near Richmond. The architect is F. L. Lancaster, the mason T. Hubbard, and the carpenters Titus & Pope. Two large frame dwellings have been removed from Carlton avenue to East Sixth street, near Berckman, by the owner, Charles H. Hand. Cormack Caufield has commenced to build a frame store and dwelling at the corner of Third street and Manson place. The plans were made by G. B. Naylor, the architect. McNally & Hoffman are the carpenters.

The most important building operation is the contract awarded for the construction of a handsome brick dwelling to be erected on West Eighth street, near Plainfield avenue, for Mrs. R. P. Lincoln, of New York. Tracy & Swarthwort are the architects. The masonry work has been awarded to Wm. H. Pangborn, and the carpentry work to John Abbott. The estimated cost is $45,000.

A Raging, Roaring Flood

Washed down a telegraph line which Chas. C. Ellis, of Lisbon Ia., had to repair. "Standing waist deep in icy water," he writes, "gave me a terrible cold and cough. It grew worse daily. Positively guaranteed for Coughs, Colds and all Throat and Lung troubles by L. W. Randolph. Price 50c and $1.00.

—Mrs. R. M. Stover has removed from East Ninth street to Carlton avenue.

—Alburtis Swalm, of 603 West Front street, has removed to 913 West Front street.

—Titus H. Laury, the mason and builder, has removed from 407 Park avenue, to 69 Manning avenue.

—Justice Nash has given judgment in the contract cases of Zeglio against Moore and the Plainfield Real Estate Company against Lewis.

—Skin troubles, cuts, burns, scalds and chafing quickly heals by the use of DeWitt's witch Hazel Salve. It is imitated. Be sure you get DeWitt's. L. W. Randolph.

—Crescent Division, No. 13, U. R. K. of P., will meet Tuesday evening, April 9.

—Miss Mary Dunham has removed from East Fifth street to 50 Watchung avenue.

—R. H. Mellefont, clerk for Smalley Brothers, has rented the premises 623 LaGrande avenue, and will reside there in the future.

—You will only waste time if you try to cure indigestion by starving yourself. That only makes it worse when you do eat heartily. You always need plenty of good food properly digested. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is the result of years of scientific research for something that would digest not only some elements of food but every kind. And it is the one remedy that will do it. L. W. Randolph.

AN ORDINANCE

to Regulate the Use of Automobiles and Similar Vehicles.

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, by their Common Council, do enact as follows:

Section 1. That all automobiles, locomobiles and similar vehicles when in use on the public highways, streets or places of the city, are hereby required to have a lamp of such illuminating power as to be plainly seen one hundred yards attached thereto, and kept lighted between one hour after sunset and the following sunrise.

Sec. 2. That all automobiles, locomobiles and similar vehicles shall carry an alarm bell, horn, gong or whistle securely attached thereto, which, when sounded, may be heard one hundred feet distant. That such bell, horn, gong or whistle shall be sounded as an alarm by the person in charge of such vehicle upon approaching another vehicle from the rear, or upon approaching pedestrians crossing the street, or upon the approach of another vehicle on the same street or on a street intersecting the street ridden upon.

Sec. 3. That no person in charge of any automobile, locomobile or similar vehicle shall cause or permit the same to be propelled through any of the streets, alleys, highways or public places of the city at a speed greater than the rate of ten miles per hour.

Sec. 4. That any person violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall, on conviction, be liable to a fine not exceeding Twenty Dollars for each offense.

Adopted by the Common Council March 18, 1901.

Approved by the Mayor March 19, 1901.

RICE WAS MURDERED.

Valet Jones Tells the Story of the Crime.

NEW YORK, April 3.—Charles F. Jones, the valet-secretary of William Marsh Rice, the old millionaire of whose murder Albert T. Patrick, the lawyer, is accused, told on the witness stand yesterday, in the examination before Magistrate Jerome, that at Patrick's instigation he had given the old man mercurial pills, oxalic acid and chloroform, from the effect of which he died. He said that when the mercurial pills did not have the desired effect Patrick gave him the acid, which he administered to the millionaire. Then, at Patrick's order, he held a sponge saturated with chloroform over the old man's face.

Jones gave a detailed account of the way in which Patrick, David L. Short, Morris Meyers and himself schemed to make out a will and other papers which they got Mr. Rice to sign. Short and Meyers are under arrest for forgery connected with the will dated June 30, 1900. The valet told in a deliberate, emotionless manner of the plot which reached over a year and involved a stake worth several millions of dollars.

ELECTION RIOTS.

Shots Fly Thick and Fast In St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, April 3.—United States District Attorney Rizier, while at precinct No. 4 of the Twenty-fifth ward yesterday afternoon, was wounded in the left arm by a stray shot fired by one of a gang of negroes. Mr. Rizier had challenged the vote of one of a crowd of 20 or more negroes. An officer started with the alleged repeater to a patrol box. The prisoner's friends closed around the officer, fired 40 or 50 shots for the purpose of intimidation and released the prisoner.

After the negroes had escaped it was found that Mr. Rizier had been wounded, not seriously, however.

At the Second precinct of the Fourth ward Fred W. Priesmeyer, a Republican candidate for the house of delegates, shot and seriously wounded William Dwyer, one of a crowd of men who, it is alleged, attempted to assault him because he challenged their votes. Priesmeyer was arrested.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

Prince Louis Napoleon has arrived in Paris on a visit.

J. Pierpont Morgan has sailed from New York for Europe.

A British officer was assaulted by Frenchmen at Tien-tsin.

The Russian minister of the interior was shot at, but the plot to assassinate him failed.

It is stated that the Turkish government is at last fast pledged to pay American missionary claims.

Gold has been discovered near Arendal, Norway, on the Skager-Rack, 36 miles northeast of Christiansand.

The strike of the painters and paper hangers in Oswego, N. Y., has ended, the master painters agreeing to the union schedule for 22½ cents an hour and nine hours to constitute a day's work.

Trying to Stop Shipment of Mules.

NEW ORLEANS, April 3.—Proceedings have been brought in the United States court here by representatives of the Boer government to prevent the sailing from here of the steamship Anglo-Australian, loaded with mules consigned to the British government in South Africa. Judge Parlange, after reading the petition, issued an order requiring the defendants to show cause on April 6 why a preliminary injunction should not be granted. The suit is brought by Samuel Pearson, a citizen of the South African Republic, residing at Barberton; Edward Van Ness, a citizen of New York, and Charles D. Pierce, consul general of the Orange Free State, and is against Captain Parson, who runs the steamer, and Elder, Dempster & Co., owners of the boat.

Quarantine Facilities Needed.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—The danger menacing travelers to Central and South American ports through the lack of quarantine facilities in those countries has been called to the attention of the marine hospital service by P. M. De Leon, United States consul general to Ecuador. A case is cited of passengers being confined in a fever ship for a month while the vessel was turned away from port after port and all assistance refused, the fever meanwhile continuing its ravages on board. There is no place where a steamer with an infectious disease aboard can land or discharge its passengers on the west coast of South America, nor is it possible to secure medicines, disinfectants or medical attention.

Bond Issue For New York.

NEW YORK, April 3.—The municipal assembly at the sessions has approved of the issue of bonds in the sum of $5,300,000 for public improvements. The sum of $3,500,000 was appropriated for school purposes. Two million dollars is to be spent in the borough of Manhattan and the Bronx, $1,200,000 in Brooklyn and $300,000 in the borough of Queens. The sum of $1,800,000 was appropriated for a reservoir at Massapequa, on Long Island. The board of aldermen passed a set of resolutions thanking Andrew Carnegie for his gift of cash for libraries in this city.

A London Swindle.

LONDON, April 3.—Two men were charged in a London police court yesterday with defrauding Barclay & Co., limited, of some £3,000 by means of forged documents purporting to represent large shipments of gold ore which never existed. According to The Daily Chronicle, seven bankers were similarly defrauded of large amounts, the total sum involved being nearly £250,000.

Weekes Breaks a Record.

NEW YORK, April 3.—Harold H. Weekes of Columbia broke the university strength competition by scoring 1,529 points, bettering the former tally by 122 points. Weekes "dipped" 41 times and "chinned" himself 19 times. The strength of his back amounted to 759 pounds and of his legs to 1,188 pounds.

Bitten by a Pet Dog.

NEWBURG, N. Y., April 3.—Dr. R. J. Kingston, a surgeon of the national guard, was attacked yesterday morning while in bed by his pet dog, a big St. Bernard, which had a fit. After a desperate struggle, in which Dr. Kingston was badly bitten, he choked the dog to death.

AGUINALDO SWEARS.

Filipino Chief Takes Oath of Allegiance to United States.

HE MAY YET ISSUE A MANIFESTO.

Having Been the Head of an Insurrection, the Captive Leader Can Be Held Until Further Investigation Has Been Made.

MANILA, April 3.—Aguinaldo made oath on Monday before the military authorities that he would accept the sovereignty of the United States and henceforward bear allegiance to the American government. He reached the decision to take this sensible course after serious consultation with many prominent natives, including General Trias, who recently surrendered, and Chief Justice Arellano, who reviewed carefully with him the details of the situation, including many important past events of which Aguinaldo was seemingly ignorant owing to his practical isolation from the sources of truthful news.

After weighing the questions involved in all their aspects Aguinaldo apparently became convinced that there was a strong popular sentiment against the further continuance of the war, and he therefore resolved to abandon his attitude of a rebel.

It is probable that he, as the revolutionary chief, will shortly issue a manifesto to the Filipinos calling upon them to lay down their arms and accept the sovereignty of the United States as he has done.

If this is done, it is believed that the remaining leaders in the field will surrender before May 1, after which peace will be proclaimed. The rebels who do not come in before May 1 will, it is thought, be declared to be outlaws and be treated accordingly.

Will Be Held For a Time.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—The war department has received information from General MacArthur that Aguinaldo has taken the oath of allegiance to the United States under the terms of amnesty offered by General MacArthur by direction of the president. The dispatch conveying this information contained much more than was given to the public. The portion withheld related to the future disposition of Aguinaldo and made suggestions as to what the late chief of the insurrection might accomplish. No official statement could be obtained as to what finally would be done with the prisoner, but it was emphatically stated that he would be held for the present, but would be granted all possible immunity consistent with existing conditions. General MacArthur has hopes that a great deal may be accomplished through Aguinaldo. During the time he has been prisoner he has made quite a favorable impression upon General MacArthur.

Aguinaldo, having been the head of the insurrection, undoubtedly can be held until further investigation is made or until the circumstances which surround the situation in the Philippines make it advisable to release him outright or otherwise dispose of him. These conditions and the general situation and Aguinaldo's relation to them were the subject of General MacArthur's dispatch and are being considered by the authorities here who will have the final disposition of the matter.

The news of Aguinaldo's action was received with evident satisfaction by the war department, and the opinion was expressed that good results would follow among those who have been still holding out against the United States.

Cornell Allowed the Lecture.

ITHACA, N. Y., April 3.—Carroll D. Norton of New York delivered a lecture in Barnes hall last night on Christian Science. His presence brought a petition from the physicians of Ithaca to the university authorities protesting against the lecture. Members of the University Christian association also opposed it as a university function. Dean T. F. Crane refused to listen to the complaints, and the lecture brought out a big attendance. Mr. Norton dealt largely with the development of Christian Science, its growth and application. Cornell is said to be the first of the larger universities at which a lecture has been given on this subject.

Couldn't Live Without a Stomach.

NEW YORK, April 3.—Jacob Wichman, the wealthy German cigar manufacturer who underwent an operation several days ago for the removal of his stomach on account of a cancerous growth, is dead, his death not being entirely unexpected by the doctors. It was thought that he would live for a time longer at least, but fever and weakness brought about the end. Mr. Wichman was 58 years of age.

Servian Cabinet Out.

BELGRADE, April 3.—The cabinet of M. Alexa Yovanovitch, which was reconstructed in February after the death of ex-King Milan, has resigned, and M. Wuios, who became minister of foreign affairs at the time of the reconstruction, has been intrusted by King Alexander with the formation of a new ministry.

Cyclone In Georgia.

BREWER, Ga., April 3.—A cyclone passed a half mile west of this place yesterday afternoon. Its path was a quarter of a mile wide. The force of the wind was terrific. Turpentine trees for miles along the track of the disturbance were twisted off. Heavy limbs fell a mile from the track of the disturbance.

More Collieries Closed.

SHAMOKIN, April 3.—The Reliance and Alaska collieries, operated by the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron company and employing 2,000 men, have been closed down. This move is the outcome of the men leaving their work on Monday and joining in a celebration at Mount Carmel.

Methodists Favor Old Constitution.

HAGERSTOWN, Md., April 3.—The Methodist Episcopal conference for the diocese of Baltimore, in session here, rejected the proposed new constitution for the Methodist Episcopal church by a vote of 100 to 67. The vote was taken without discussion.

British Capture a Laager.

BLOEMFONTEIN, April 3.—By a night surprise the British captured a laager of 60 Boers near Boschberg, between Brandfort and Saltpan, Orange River Colony.

HARRISON A WINNER

Chicago's Mayor Re-elected by Reduced Majority.

PARTY LINES WERE IGNORED.

Hanecy, the Republican Nominee, Carried Only Nine of the Thirty-five Wards—Municipal Council In Doubt—Results Elsewhere.

CHICAGO, April 3.—Carter H. Harrison has been re-elected mayor of Chicago for the second time and will next week commence his third term as the chief executive of the city. His total plurality over Judge Elbridge Hanecy, the Republican nominee, will be in the neighborhood of 28,300 votes. The total vote of the city, with eight precincts to hear from, is: Harrison, 155,275; Hanecy, 127,202; Harrison's plurality, 28,073.

In the last mayoralty election the vote was: Harrison (Dem.), 148,496; Carter (Rep.), 107,437; Harrison's plurality, 41,059. In the presidential campaign last fall the city vote for president was: McKinley, 184,786; Bryan, 177,165; McKinley's plurality, 7,621. Samuel Alschuler, the Democratic nominee for governor of the state, ran ahead of Bryan, however, his vote being 188,521 against 172,386 for Yates, a plurality of 16,135 for Alschuler.

Out of the 35 wards of the city Harrison yesterday carried 26 and Hanecy 9. The vote was badly split, some of the strongest Republican parts of the city giving only a small plurality for the party nominee and some of them going for Harrison, who, however, suffered in some of the Democratic strongholds. The city wards were redistricted after the presidential election, and the regular majorities in some other wards were turned squarely around from what they have always been.

The redistricting will make some difference in the complexion of the next municipal council, as several of the aldermen who in ordinary circumstances would have held over were redistricted out of their wards. For these reasons it is impossible at this time to predict the exact formation of the new council, but the indications are at present that the Republicans will have a working majority. The present body consists of 39 Republicans, 27 Democrats and 4 Independents. Of the holdovers 16 are Republicans, 15 Democrats and 3 independents.

Hanecy was the nominee of the Republican machine which is dominated by ex-Congressman William Lorimer, and this fact cost him many votes in his party, as there are many of the rank and file of the party who are stoutly opposed to their party machine and all of its works. The Democratic following of ex-Governor Altgeld was against Harrison.

One of the features of the campaign was the aldermanic contest in the Twenty-first ward, Mayor Harrison's home ward, where Honore Palmer, son of Mrs. Potter Palmer, was a candidate for election on the Democratic ticket, it being his first essay in politics. His opponent was S. H. Helm (Rep.), who has been alderman from the ward for two years. Palmer was elected by a majority of about 1,200.

Minnesota Elections.

ST. PAUL, April 3.—Municipal elections were held in the various cities of the third class throughout the state yesterday. Party lines were not drawn, and in many cases there was but one ticket in the field. Wherever the issue was "license" or "no license" the former has been successful. In several instances the question of issuing bonds for various improvements was voted upon. At New Ulm a proposition to issue $30,000 bonds for a municipal electric light plant carried, while at Le Suer a proposed tax levy for a public library was defeated overwhelmingly. At Mankato the Democrats were victorious, electing Nick Peterson mayor over his Republican and independent opponents. The Republicans, however, gained three aldermen.

Temperance Wave In Kansas.

TOPEKA, April 3.—A great temperance wave is sweeping over Kansas. In the municipal elections throughout the state the opponents of saloons and their attendant evils won a decided victory. The smashing of a Wichita saloon by Mrs. Nation and the crusade which followed in Topeka aroused the dormant temperance sentiment which has swept a score of men into the mayor's office in as many towns pledged to drive out the liquor traffic. Over 4,000 Topeka women braved a snowstorm and helped voters to the polls like men. Colonel J. W. F. Hughes, the Republican candidate for mayor, stood for law and order. He promised Mrs. Nation and her home defenders to enforce the law if elected.

Democrats Carry St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, April 3.—The indications are that Rolla Wells (Dem.) has been elected mayor of St. Louis by a plurality of about 10,000. The Post-Dispatch says George W. Parker, the Republican candidate, admits that he has been defeated. The result of the election, however, cannot be absolutely determined at this hour. The election of Wells is regarded as a triumph for the sound money Democrats. There were six tickets in the field, as follows: Democratic, Republican, Good Government, Public Ownership, Social Democratic and Socialist Labor. On account of the multiplicity of candidates and the immense amount of "scratching" done at the polls exact figures as to the result will not be known until very late.

Nebraska Towns Favor License.

OMAHA, April 3.—The issue in nearly every small town in the state was license or no license, and reports received from 50 villages indicate that the majority have gone for license. In a few of the larger towns politics entered into the campaign. The vote generally was light.

Denver Election Close.

DENVER, April 3.—With returns from only a few precincts of the city, the indications are that the result will be very close between Wells (Dem.) and Wright (Rep.) for mayor. Much scratching was indulged in, and only straight votes have been counted.

Engineer and Fireman Killed.

RICHMOND, April 3.—A double header freight on the Clinch Valley division of the Norfolk and Western railroad ran into a slide. Engineer Hetherington of the first locomotive and Fireman Singleton of the second were caught under the wreck and killed.

ALLEN'S HOMECOMING.

Rumored Resignation Not Credited In Porto Rico.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, April 3.—The suggestion cabled from New York that Mr. Charles H. Allen, governor of Porto Rico, now on his way to the United States on the Mayflower, intends during his forthcoming visit to Washington to tender his resignation to President McKinley was received here with surprise and incredulity.

Mr. William H. Hunt, secretary of Porto Rico, who in the absence of Mr. Allen is acting governor, said that the governor gave no intimation before leaving of any such intention, but left his household and personal belongings intact as if he expected to come back. Indeed, Mr. Hunt is planning a trip to Montana on the governor's return.

Mr. Jacob H. Hollander, treasurer of Porto Rico, said that he did not believe Mr. Allen would resign, although in February it was asserted that he would probably be appointed to a chair in Johns Hopkins university next October.

Allen Expected to Resign.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—It is the general expectation in administration circles that Charles H. Allen, governor of Porto Rico, will tender his resignation to the president on his return to the United States. He is now on his way to Hampton Roads on the United States station ship Mayflower. Governor Allen has not intimated to the president or any of the officers here that he will not return to Porto Rico, but when he went away from Washington on April 21, last year, it was with the understanding that he would not be expected to stay in Porto Rico for more than a year.

Naval Engagement Celebrated.

COPENHAGEN, April 3.—The one hundredth anniversary of the naval battle which was fought off Copenhagen in 1801 between the English and the Danes was celebrated here yesterday. The city was generally decorated with flags, and there was a naval and military parade. The graves of the Englishmen and Danes who fell in the engagement a century ago were decorated, and an impressive service was held in Holmenc church, at which the entire Danish royal family was present. Norway, which in 1801 was an ally of Denmark, sent an armored warship to participate in the celebration, and oddly enough this warship was built in England.

Mining Companies to Resume.

CAPE TOWN, April 3.—Lord Kitchener has granted permission to three Rand mining companies, which later will be increased to seven, to resume work with 50 stamps each provided the maximum wages paid to miners be rations and 5 shillings a day, equal to the wages of the irregular troopers, to prevent discontent among the latter. The remainder of the miners' ordinary pay will be devoted to a fund for the benefit of the families of residents of the Rand killed in the war. The Transvaal Chamber of Mines has issued a circular objecting to these wages and the conditions of work.

Preaches For Passes.

BUFFALO, April 3.—A Minnesota clergyman has secured free transportation to the Pan-American exposition by promising Secretary Fleming that he would lecture to his congregation on the beauties of the exposition. Yesterday the preacher wrote again asking for free hotel accommodations and passes to the grounds for two weeks in return for advertising the fair to his congregation. His letter was thrown in the waste-basket. No more efforts will be made by the exposition officers to assist clergymen.

The Passover Feast.

NEW YORK, April 3.—The Hebrew holiday of Passover, a very welcome and joyful holiday to the Hebrew race, will begin with the setting of the sun this evening, and it will continue for one week. The holiday is celebrated to commemorate the deliverance of the children of Israel from the tyranny of Pharaoh about 3,000 years ago and their departure from the land of Egypt after a bondage which lasted for more than four centuries.

Fatal Election Quarrel.

DENVER, April 3.—A quarrel over an election argument occurred among the horsemen at Overland Park last night. Pistols were drawn, and in the shooting that followed one man was killed and another fatally injured. The men killed were both horsemen who were employed in training for the summer races. The police have not learned the names of any of the men, and no arrests have yet been made.

American Beet Sugar Company.

NEW YORK, April 3.—At a meeting of the stockholders of the American Beet Sugar company held in Jersey City the old board of directors was re-elected. The annual report showed that the amount of sugar produced was 33,351,560 pounds and the net profits $55,634.47. The preferred stock drew dividends amounting to $240,000.

Withdraws His Charitable Project.

OSWEGO, N. Y., April 3.—C. Sidney Shepard, the millionaire who intended to build a public hospital and invest $500,000 here, has withdrawn the proposition because, it is said, of an adverse criticism of a street railway which he owns.

Ornithological Contest.

Something entirely new and interesting. Read what you are to do. You may get 1,000 dollars. Our contest is to see who can make the largest list of names (or kinds) of birds from the following list of letters:

W D O O O C C K Q U L I A P R T A R
I D G E S P N I E L V E B R D I M W
A D O H T L

We will recognize as a bird anything belonging to the feathered tribe, whether it be a Hen, Crow, Singer or any other kind. You can use any letter as many times to make a name as it appears in the list of letters above; for instance Woodcock, Plover, Snow Bird, etc. To any persons who can make a list of 25 or more different names of birds, we will give absolutely FREE a beautiful Prize value 1,000, dols. or less.

BIG PRIZES AWARDED DAILY.

When you have made out your list fill out the line on the bottom of this advt, and send to us with a Stamped Addressed envelope, stamp of your country will do, then if you are awarded a prize you can if you desire get the prize by becoming a subscriber to The Woman's World. We shall award a prize to every person who sends the name of 25 Birds, and our gifts will be as follows: For the best list, received each day, a Gold Watch; for the second best solution each ady a beautiful Imported Tea Set; for the seven next best solutions each day, a Konrah Sakih Diamond and Ruby Ring; for the next best solution, a Gold Piece; and for all other correct solutions, Prizes of Good Value. These Prizes will be forwarded daily, you will not have to wait a long time in uncertainty before you know the result. There is no element of lottery in our plan, it makes no difference whether we get your solution late or early in the day. All you need is to mail this advt. to us, and on the day it reaches us, if your list is the best, You shall have the Gold Watch, or if second best the beautiful Tea Set, and so on. We guarantee that we will award you a prize. There is absolutely no opportunity for deception on our part—we cannot afford it. We want to get 1,000,000 well-satisfied subscribers, and for that reason we don't want you to send any money until you know exactly what prize you have gained by answering the puzzles. As soon after 4 p. m. each day as possible, the examiners will judge the lists to the best of their ability, and will designate the prizes. We will write to you at once notifying you what prize has been awarded you, then if you are satisfied, you can send your subscription to The Woman's World and your prize will go by return of mail, carriage paid. To a person of narrow ideas it seems impossible that we should be able to make such a gigantic offer, but we have the money, brains and reputation, we know exactly what we are doing, and if we can legitimately gain a million subscribers by this grand idea we know that this million of well pleased subscribers can be induced to recommend The Woman's World to all friends, thereby building our circulation still further. We are willing to spend 25,000 dollars in this contest in building up a big subscription list, and when this money is spent we reserve the right to publish a notification that the contest has been discontinued. Don't delay until it is too late. The contest will continue until July 1, 1901.

We give a Bonus Prize of 250 dollars, independent of all others, to the person who sends in the list gotten up in the best and handsomest manner. Our committee will decide and award prizes daily, but the special 250 dols. prize will be awarded in September, 1901. Any birds name found in the dictionaries accepted.

LAXAKOLA THE GREAT TONIC LAXATIVE

At some time, if not habitually, you have sour stomach, indigestion, biliousness constipation, bad breath, dizziness, inactive liver, heartburn, kidney troubles, backache, loss of appetite, insomnia, lack of energy, bad blood, blotched or muddy skin, or some of the other symptoms and disorders which tell the story of bad bowels and an impaired digestive system. Laxakola will cure you. It will clean out the bowels, stimulate the liver and kidneys, strengthen the mucous membranes of the stomach, purify your blood and put you "on your feet" again. Your appetite will return, your bowels will move regularly, your liver and kidneys will cease to trouble you, your skin will clear and freshen and you will feel the old time energy and buoyancy.

Mothers who had been seeking the proper medicine to give their little ones for constipation, diarrhea, colic and similar troubles, find Laxakola an ideal medicine for children. Children like its taste and ask for it. It keeps their bowels regular without any pain or griping, and acts as a general tonic at the same time. It will assist nature, aid digestion, relieve restlessness, clear the coated tongue, reduce fever, cause refreshing, restful sleep and make them well, happy and hearty.

Laxakola, a laxative tonic, is not only most the efficient of family remedies, but the most economical, as it combines two medicines, viz: laxative and tonic, and at one price. No other medicine is worth the money. At druggists, 25c. and 50c., or send for free sample to THE LAXAKOLA CO., 10 Spruce Street, N. Y., or 356 Dearborn Street, Chicago.

LATEST CANAL PLAN.

New York Leaders Favor $26,000,000 Improvement.

ALBANY, April 3.—In round numbers $26,000,000 for the improvement of the canals, making a barge canal for 450 ton barges instead of a 300 ton barge canal, as recommended by the governor, is the plan that will be submitted to the people of New York state in November.

This is the plan decided upon in a conference between the governor, the state engineer, Speaker Nixon, Leader Allds, Senators Ellsworth and Davis, Assemblyman T. D. Lewis, superintendent of public works, the state comptroller and Attorney General Davies.

The bill was handed in today. It is for $6,000,000 more than Governor Odell first recommended and for $2,000,000 less than the canal men asked. The difference of $2,000,000 is made by the plan including the old route from the Hudson to the Mohawk instead of a new river route. The present capacity of the canal is 250 ton boats, and under the $9,000,000 improvement, the continuation of which was urged by the governor, the gain over the present capacity would be about 70 tons at a cost of $20,000,000. It was urged that as there could be gained a carrying capacity of from 140 to 200 tons or more by the expenditure of an additional sum of from $6,000,000 to $8,000,000 it would be the height of folly not to accept the opportunity in view of the gigantic strides and most sweeping changes which have been made in commercial and industrial conditions since the canal, if enlarged by the Seymour plan, was generally regarded as sufficient.

The $20,000,000 increases the capacity of the canal only 70 tons, while by expending about $6,000,000 more its capacity will be increased at least 140 tons more, or a total increase of 210 tons, which will reduce the carrying cost to about eight-tenth of a mill per ton for each mile.

Buffalo Bill In New York.

NEW YORK, April 3.—Buffalo Bill's Wild West show opened its season in New York last night at Madison Square Garden before an audience which filled that large place and manifested its pleasure at the various features of the show. In addition to the usual presentation of scenes in the far west and Indian and cowboy life there were a number of new features, including a representation of saving life from a stranded vessel by means of the breeches buoy and the appearance of detachments of the Canadian contingent that participated in the South African war and of their opponents, the Boers. The latter were warmly greeted by the audience. The show closed with a representation of the capture of Peking by the forces of the allied powers.

Boston's Milk War.

BOSTON, April 3.—Each side in the pending milk war between the contractors and producers claims that its status has been strengthened by yesterday's developments, and consequently both sides are confident of ultimate success. The producers affirmed that they had received important additions to their ranks during the day, while on the other hand the contractors contended that the claims of the union officials were extravagant and that no difficulty was experienced in getting a normal supply of milk into the city. While the suggestion that the differences be settled by arbitration was more or less discussed, nothing definite in that direction was done.

A Commission Probable.

HAVANA, April 3.—The Cuban constitutional convention met in public session yesterday, but went immediately into executive session. The advocates of sending a commission to Washington were strengthened by the presence of Senors Giberga and Quilez and General Sanguily, the last named resuming his seat in the convention, his resignation not having been accepted. The vote of Monday against sending a commission to Washington was reconsidered. Special sessions will be held today for a further discussion of this question. It is generally thought that a commission will be appointed.

A Riot In Switzerland.

LONDON, April 3.—The Daily Express has received the following from its correspondent at Geneva: "A terrible riot has occurred at Bienne, in the valley of Chamonix, owing to the municipal council selling land on which the people had enjoyed grazing rights. The inhabitants tried to set fire to the town hall, and fierce conflict ensued between the rioters and the gendarmes. Ten persons were killed and 15 injured."

Spanish Gold Found.

DAMARISCOTTA, Me., April 3.—A lot of Spanish gold, estimated to amount to nearly $12,000 in value, has been found in the wall of an old building here. The house, which was purchased recently by Robert Jones, was being torn down. The gold was inclosed in an iron pot, which had been placed in a canvas covered box. It is believed that the treasure had been hidden for more than 100 years.

Railway Hands Strike.

FREDERICK, Md., April 3.—Three hundred laborers employed on the work of improving the Baltimore and Ohio railway tracks at Mount Airy struck yesterday for higher wages, and work on the improvement has temporarily stopped. The men, most of whom are Italians and Hungarians, are in an ugly mood, and the people in the vicinity fear trouble.

Two Killed at a Crossing.

PAWTUCKET, R. I., April 3.—While driving across the Mendon avenue grade crossing of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad last evening Albert P. Webber and I. Willard, both of Wrentham, Mass., were struck by the train due here at 7:42 and instantly killed. The men had been in Pawtucket and were on their way home.

CLEMENCY FAVORED.

Ministers Reduce List of Chinese to Be Punished.

DECAPITATION DEMANDED FOR FOUR.

Death of Eleven Was at First Insisted Upon—Russia's Action Arouses Suspicion—Japan Watching Closely.

PEKING, April 3.—A majority of the ministers have mutually agreed to yield somewhat on the question of the punishment of provincial officials who were implicated in the Boxer troubles. This decision was reached before the Chinese plenipotentiaries requested the ministers to lessen their demands.

The list prepared by the ministers contained the names of 140 officials whose punishment was demanded. This has been reduced until now it contains less than a hundred, while the demand for the death of 11 officials has been reduced until now the beheading of only four is asked for, one of them being an official at Kueihuacheng who was responsible for the murder of Captain Watts-Jones and a Catholic abbot. This official has, however, already escaped.

This leniency is partly due to an explicit order from the American government which failed in this matter to support the wishes of the British and French governments. These three countries are especially concerned in securing redress, as the largest number of those massacred were Americans, British and French. Many of the Chinese wish to have the list increased rather than diminished, because they are anxious for the removal of the reactionary party, the members of which were directly implicated in the massacres. The ministers, however, make no distinction as to the party affiliations of the accused, but seek only punishment in the cases of the really guilty officials in proportion to the degree of their guilt.

The ministers have also decided to omit the names of certain Peking officials because the Peking list has already been presented and the ministers were at that time ignorant regarding the action of certain officials who, it has since been charged, aided the Boxers to massacre Christians and Chinese who were regarded as friends of the foreigners. The escape of these officials is due to the fact that the ministers failed to secure information against them at the proper time, though such information was in the possession of the foreign civilians.

Notwithstanding the fact that a large portion of the protocol has not yet been settled, the ministers are already planning to withdraw to temples in the western hills, where they will spend their summer vacations. The French minister will not leave Peking until May, when his successor will arrive there.

The Chinese plenipotentiaries will take no vacation, but will remain at their post of duty. Thus far the ministers appear more dilatory than the Chinese.

Japan is still closely watching Russia's movements, while the other powers merely regard Russia's action as one of impropriety and as unnecessary, as without a convention she still dominates Manchuria, Mongolia and Turkestan. Her attempts to secure the signing of the convention will merely arouse suspicion, criticism and resistance.

Russia's Reply to Japan.

YOKOHAMA, April 3.—Leading Japanese newspapers assert that the Russian government has replied to Japan's protest against the Manchurian convention to the effect that Russia does not wish to enter upon a discussion with a third power relative to her negotiations with China, that the proposed agreement is purely temporary and not intended to impair the sovereignty of China or to injure the interests of other powers, that the contents of the agreement immediately upon its conclusion will be communicated to the other powers, who will undoubtedly find them acceptable, and finally that if any of the provisions are not acceptable to Japan Russia is prepared to discuss the matter in a friendly spirit.

Prince Li Returning to Shanghai.

TIEN-TSIN, April 3.—Li Hung Chang, with his bodyguard, is returning to Shanghai. He is indisposed. Steamers are detained at his disposal, and he is expected to arrive here Thursday. A company of Germans defeated 1,000 Chinese robbers March 31 seven miles north of Tien-tsin, killing 11 and wounding 50. It is reported that a dozen foreigners were co-operating with the robbers. The Germans captured 30 carts and a gun.

Apple King Dead.

CHICAGO, April 3.—David Henning, the Chicago apple king, is dead at his former home in Battle Creek, Mich., from a rupture of a blood vessel. Mr. Henning was born in Ireland in 1821. Coming to America when 12 years of age, he learned the cooper trade in Detroit and started a shop in Ann Arbor. Being overstocked with unsalable barrels, he filled them with apples, and the sale started him on the road to wealth.

President Receives Schoolteachers.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—President McKinley received no callers of prominence before the cabinet meeting yesterday. He went out alone for a short walk before his office hours, strolling around the White House grounds. When he returned, he received about 250 schoolteachers from Massachusetts and other New England states. They are here on an excursion and were received by special appointment.

Johnson's Large Plurality.

CLEVELAND, April 3.—Tom L. Johnson's plurality for mayor is 5,946, which is the largest, with one exception, given for a mayoralty candidate in Cleveland during the last 20 years. When told of his election, Johnson made a statement in which he said, "I think the Republicans can hold their Cleveland leader partly responsible for the overwhelming defeat of the Republican candidate."

Convention Already Signed?

LONDON, April 3.—The Morning Post publishes the following dispatch from Pao-ting-fu, dated March 31: "Chinese officials here profess to have received information from Li Hung Chang that the Manchurian convention has been signed."

House of Commons Adjourns.

LONDON, April 3.—The house of commons adjourned yesterday to April 18.

The Water Supply Question.

The attempt of The Daily Press to secure the public verdict in both city and borough on the question of the municipal ownership of the water works ended at noon today. The figures of the vote by election districts will be published in tomorrow's Daily Press. Already it is known that the balloting was almost unanimous for municipal ownership.

The showing made in the balloting was good and proved an even greater success than have such affairs in the past. While there were a great many taxpayers who were deeply interested in the attempt to secure this expression of public opinion, there were many others who apparently do not care who owns the local water supply plant.

The Daily Press arranged for the vote on the subject in response to the request of many of our subscribers and friends that something should be done to reduce the cost of the water supply to the local consumers. Investigation proved that the Plainfield Water Supply Company had clearly kept within the terms of its contract with the city and was merely adjusting all the local accounts so as to conform with the original schedule of prices, approved by the Council in 1892. Under these circumstances, the only was to seek relief was through the municipal ownership of the present plant or the erection of a similar one by the city.

The Daily Press' ballot has demonstrated the fact that those citizens who care to express themselves on the subject, favor municipal ownership. Now the task of assuming the control of a plant large enough to supply this municipality, would be no easy thing, not to be undertaken without much careful investigation and due consideration. The present agreement between the city and the Plainfield Water Supply Company expires in May, 1902, the details of which will be found in another column. It would sem that, in view of this fact and that the general dissatisfaction caused among the householders by the changes in the water bills, that this is a proper time for the city authorities to begin a consideration of the question.

In any event, no immediate action can be expected from the Common Council. The subject has now been referred to the committee on streets and sewers. It is possible that the committee will confer with the officers of the water company and ascertain if the latter will place any price on the present plant. Then will come the consideration of the question as to whether it is better to buy that plant or build a new one. In either case, it is a subject for careful thought and one that cannot be rushed through.

The members of the Common Council are all careful business men. They are not, however, experts on the subject of water works any more than they were on sewage disposal beds. They will necessarily have to secure expert advice. All this will require time. But it will be well to take plenty of time. Because some of the citizens are compelled to pay more money for their water supply is no reason why the Common Council should rush madly into the scheme. Judging from its conduct in the past, there is very little likelihood of the Council doing so. It is, however, a matter for serious consideration and if it can be found, as many of the taxpayers of the city believe, that such a plant can be run on a paying basis for the city, then the members of the Council should prepare to act advisely and with such expedition as will be consistent with the welfare and best interests of the community which they represent.

There were many people in this city who thought that the present agreement between the city of Plainfield and the Plainfield Water Supply Company made some provision for the purchase of the water supply plant by the city. The agreement makes no mention of that fact. There is a law on the State statute books which provides a way whereby a city may secure possession of a water company's plant within its limits. It is a question, however, whether it would apply in this case as the Plainfield Water Supply Company is not exclusively a local company but furnishes water to other towns in the county.

One resident of New Brunswick was not pleased with the picture presented by the many factories which line the banks of the Raritan river in that city and wrote to one of the newspapers concerning it. He has aroused a storm of indignation from many who believe that the industries are of more real value to that city than would be beautiful scenery.

If the Plainfield Board of Health will not devote enough of its time to seeing that the banks of Green brook, as viewed from the new bridge which connects Madison avenue and Duer street, are put in proper condition, then let the Common Council act in the matter. It is a subject deserving of immediate attention.

As the weather grows milder, there are many who visit the business section of the city and the wise advertiser who continually keeps his name before the public is the one who is sure of a visit.

While the ordinance fixing the annual tax budget has not yet been finally adopted, there is no doubt but that it will be unless some error should be discovered in the wording of the ordinance.

The balloting on the question of municipal ownership of the water works is over. The full results of the vote will appear in tomorrow's Daily Press.

Short and Gossipy Sketches That Are Not Always News, But Just as Interesting.

The Fireman's Herald, in its last issue, notes the fact that Auguste Saltzman, ex-chief of the fire department of this city, has received from the French government a silver medal of honor of the first-class and a diploma for his participation in the Universal Congress of Fireman in Paris last August as the representative of the United States.

For some time past the fire boys have been drilling a bay horse, recently purchased by the city for the chemical engine and the first opportunity afforded of ascertaining how well the animal had been trained came Sunday evening, when the alarm was sounded from East Front and Richmond street. Fred Breem, the regular driver of the chemical engine, was away at the time and Frank Hart acted in his stead. The horse responded intelligently, and its conduct at the fire was pleasing to Chief Doane as well as to the men who have been laboring to make the animal a fire horse.

AT THE THEATRES.

Something About the Attractions Which Plainfield Theatre-Goers May Care to Witness.

The management of Music Hall announces as the attraction for Thursday night of next week David Higgins' beautiful southern play, "At Piney Ridge." Its action takes place in Chattanooga and the mountains of Eastern Tennessee about 1885. It deals with the passions of men and women of today, and tells a story of absorbing interest. The characters are strongly drawn and as strongly acted. The stage settings are fine specimens of scenic art, that of the first act showing the porch and garden of General Deering's plantation, and that of the third act representing a scene in the Tennessee mountains, being particularly beautiful. The producing company is a powerful one and the production will be given with every attention to detail.

The Water Supply Question.

The attempt of The Daily Press to secure the public verdict in both city and borough on the question of the municipal ownership of the water works ended at noon today. The figures of the vote by election districts will be published in tomorrow's Daily Press. Already it is known that the balloting was almost unanimous for municipal ownership.

The showing made in the balloting was good and proved an even greater success than have such affairs in the past. While there were a great many taxpayers who were deeply interested in the attempt to secure this expression of public opinion, there were many others who apparently do not care who owns the local water supply plant.

The Daily Press arranged for the vote on the subject in response to the request of many of our subscribers and friends that something should be done to reduce the cost of the water supply to the local consumers. Investigation proved that the Plainfield Water Supply Company had clearly kept within the terms of its contract with the city and was merely adjusting all the local accounts so as to conform with the original schedule of prices, approved by the Council in 1892. Under these circumstances, the only was to seek relief was through the municipal ownership of the present plant or the erection of a similar one by the city.

The Daily Press' ballot has demonstrated the fact that those citizens who care to express themselves on the subject, favor municipal ownership. Now the task of assuming the control of a plant large enough to supply this municipality, would be no easy thing, not to be undertaken without much careful investigation and due consideration. The present agreement between the city and the Plainfield Water Supply Company expires in May, 1902, the details of which will be found in another column. It would sem that, in view of this fact and that the general dissatisfaction caused among the householders by the changes in the water bills, that this is a proper time for the city authorities to begin a consideration of the question.

In any event, no immediate action can be expected from the Common Council. The subject has now been referred to the committee on streets and sewers. It is possible that the committee will confer with the officers of the water company and ascertain if the latter will place any price on the present plant. Then will come the consideration of the question as to whether it is better to buy that plant or build a new one. In either case, it is a subject for careful thought and one that cannot be rushed through.

The members of the Common Council are all careful business men. They are not, however, experts on the subject of water works any more than they were on sewage disposal beds. They will necessarily have to secure expert advice. All this will require time. But it will be well to take plenty of time. Because some of the citizens are compelled to pay more money for their water supply is no reason why the Common Council should rush madly into the scheme. Judging from its conduct in the past, there is very little likelihood of the Council doing so. It is, however, a matter for serious consideration and if it can be found, as many of the taxpayers of the city believe, that such a plant can be run on a paying basis for the city, then the members of the Council should prepare to act advisely and with such expedition as will be consistent with the welfare and best interests of the community which they represent.

There were many people in this city who thought that the present agreement between the city of Plainfield and the Plainfield Water Supply Company made some provision for the purchase of the water supply plant by the city. The agreement makes no mention of that fact. There is a law on the State statute books which provides a way whereby a city may secure possession of a water company's plant within its limits. It is a question, however, whether it would apply in this case as the Plainfield Water Supply Company is not exclusively a local company but furnishes water to other towns in the county.

One resident of New Brunswick was not pleased with the picture presented by the many factories which line the banks of the Raritan river in that city and wrote to one of the newspapers concerning it. He has aroused a storm of indignation from many who believe that the industries are of more real value to that city than would be beautiful scenery.

If the Plainfield Board of Health will not devote enough of its time to seeing that the banks of Green brook, as viewed from the new bridge which connects Madison avenue and Duer street, are put in proper condition, then let the Common Council act in the matter. It is a subject deserving of immediate attention.

As the weather grows milder, there are many who visit the business section of the city and the wise advertiser who continually keeps his name before the public is the one who is sure of a visit.

While the ordinance fixing the annual tax budget has not yet been finally adopted, there is no doubt but that it will be unless some error should be discovered in the wording of the ordinance.

The balloting on the question of municipal ownership of the water works is over. The full results of the vote will appear in tomorrow's Daily Press.

Short and Gossipy Sketches That Are Not Always News, But Just as Interesting.

The Fireman's Herald, in its last issue, notes the fact that Auguste Saltzman, ex-chief of the fire department of this city, has received from the French government a silver medal of honor of the first-class and a diploma for his participation in the Universal Congress of Firemen in Paris last August as the representative of the United States.

Rev. J. H. Morgan, of Bordentown, Grand Master of New Jersey colored Free Masons, has just received a letter from the Grand Secretary of the United Grand Lodge of England, in which King Edward VII announces his appreciation of the kind expression of sympathy extended to him by the colored Masons of New Jersey upon the death of his mother, the Queen.

For some time past the fire boys have been drilling a bay horse, recently purchased by the city for the chemical engine and the first opportunity afforded of ascertaining how well the animal had been trained came Sunday evening, when the alarm was sounded from East Front and Richmond street. Fred Breem, the regular driver of the chemical engine, was away at the time and Frank Hart acted in his stead. The horse responded intelligently, and its conduct at the fire was pleasing to Chief Doane as well as to the men who have been laboring to make the animal a fire horse.

AT THE THEATRES.

Something About the Attractions Which Plainfield Theatre-Goers May Care Ito Witness.

The management of Music Hall announces as the attraction for Thursday night of next week David Higgins' beautiful southern play, "At Piney Ridge." Its action takes place in Chattanooga and the mountains of Eastern Tennessee about 1885. It deals with the passions of men and women of today, and tells a story of absorbing interest. The characters are strongly drawn and as strongly acted. The stage settings are fine specimens of scenic art, that of the first act showing the porch and garden of General Deering's plantation, and that of the third act representing a scene in the Tennessee mountains, being particularly beautiful. The producing company is a powerful one and the production will be given with every attention to detail.

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence.)

Dunellen, April 3.—The regular monthly meeting of the Borough Council, which was held Monday evening, was of brief duration. The members assembled promptly at 8 o'clock and one of the resolutions made later was that this be the hour of commencement in the future. A resolution was passed to the effect that hereafter all bills against the borough not in the hands of the clerk by Monday morning be laid over until the next meeting. The request of the local Board of Trade for the use of the borough building for meetings, was granted. Mayor Swackhamer's appointment of H. Brewster Willis as borough counsel was confirmed, after which the Council adjourned.

A car load of scrap iron taken from the burned Chapot chamois factory was about to be shipped from the freight yard Monday when it was levied upon for alleged unpaid taxes, by Tax Collector Smith and Constable Rogers, of Plainfield. The Chapot's claim the iron is not their property but was bought from them by a Plainfield man who was about to ship it to Buffalo.

"PATRIARCH" TAKES A STAND.

WANTS CITY TO GO SLOWLY ON MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP.

Relates His Experiences With Water Furnished by City of Philadelphia.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—Crossing the Hudson recently I met a Club Car Commuter who espoused the losing side at the late mayoralty election in Plainfield. As he is one of the friends of my youth, some thirty years ago, I said pleasantly, "Good afternoon, Mr. C. C. C., it is a little raw today, but spring is coming." He fixed me with his glittering eye and snorted: "Yes! Spring' comin'; soze summer; soze fall. And then there'll be 'nother 'lection and give you fellers over the brook a chance to write letters about things you don't know nothing about!"

As I am a mild-mannered man, strictly a man of peace—when the other chap weighs more than I do—I simply smiled a gentle, all-around sort o' smile and let it go at that.

Mr. C. C. C. little thought that The Press would so soon give me another opportunity to not only write a letter but to vote on a subject concerning which I am densely ignorant. And, as you say very few opposition votes are coming in, I herewith enclose mine; partly to encourage the under dogs in the fight and partly because of the ignorance aforesaid.

I am open to conviction, however, and will reconsider my vote if it can be shown that municipal ownership will give us pure water, plenty of it, and low prices. Philadelphia has plenty of water—such as it is—and municipal ownership. The other day, at a friend's house there, I turned on the faucet with the intention of taking a bath. Jupiter! I thought I had struck a "gusher" of ink! Dear Mr. Editor, you have heard the old, old story of the beefsteak which was so tough that one could not push a fork into the gravy. That, of course, was a merry jest, an idle word; but it is a fact that, although that Philadelphia water grew less inky as it ran, it was still so solid that I could not press my feet to the bottom of the tub!

Is that what Plainfield is to have along with municipal ownership and the risk of the water works in the hands of some future P. H. politicians who may give more consideration to the purity of their whiskey than of their water? Of course, Plainfield has not yet reached this type of politician; but the way is open, the descent is easy, and two or three of our respected fellow-citizens are crying "Boo!"

Speaking of whiskey and water, I am reminded of a remark of Lamb, the gentle, the inimitable "Elia." He said: "To mix brandy and water is to spoil two good things." I don't know much about Plainfield (or other) brandy; and a bottle of then twelve-year-old Cascade whiskey which was given to me a long while ago, is still unopened, but I do know that it would take something quite bad to spoil Plainfield water when drawn "at some quarters of the moon."

Seriously: Let us go slow about municipal ownership. It is not a cure for all evils. "Be sure you are right; and then"—pause for reflection.

Licenses in Middlesex County.
(Special to The Daily Press.)

New Brunswick, April 3.—In the Middlesex county court yesterday morning Judge Strong disposed of the license applications for the term. Seventy-five renewals were granted, five applications were laid over and one was refused. One of those laid over was that of Paul Kratzel, of Piscataway township. Among the renewals granted were those of W. H. Taylor, of Dunellen; Mulford Casterline and Mrs. L. H. Danz, of New Market, and Eugene Laine, of South Plainfield.

Wilmington, Del.
Morristown, N. J.

Easter Display of Millinery, Suits, Waists and Gloves.

This store is at its best and the display of seasonable merchandise was never so comprehensive as at the present time.

The Millinery Department is all aglow with a delightful freshness of spring flowers, ribbons and light airy stuffs that are so much in demand this spring.

The artistic taste of our millinery experts has designed a very choice collection of hats now on display. Exclusiveness of style is a feature of our display worth taking into consideration in the choice of your Easter hat. We are making a special feature of a large assortment of trimmed hats at 3.98, that are easily worth 5.00.

Silk shirt waists, tailor-made with a fit, finish and exclusiveness of style unsurpassed, charming line of dainty spring colors and black; the materials are all silk flannel and taffeta silk, easily worth 6.50, special Easter price 5.00.

TAILOR-MADE SUITS.

A display of strikingly handsome tailor-made suits unmatched and unequalled is what we have on show at present for our Easter business. The prices range from 10.00 to 35.00.

Three prices that represent the very best values that money can buy, not alone in materials, but in style, workmanship, fit and finish. 10.00, 15.00, 17.50.

GLOVES.

The new gloves for spring are all ready in full assortment, and all are fresh and new and have a delightful elasticity that is so essential to a perfectly satisfactory glove. The colors are black, white, gray, oak, bisque and tan.

1.00 Our "Chaumont" is the very best glove at its price that can be bought.

1.25 The "Berthold" a very superior quality of real French Kid.

1.25 "Beatrice" a superior quality of Kid suede that we can thoroughly recommend for service and beauty.

I. H. BOEHM
109-111-113 WEST FRONT STREET.

Striking Attractions in Millinery.

We are showing the handsomest line of Trimmed Hats in the city. Our hats are all made in our own work room by a first-class designer; some of chiffons, others of straw braids and chiffons, and still of novelty nets, all are stylishly trimmed with flowers, buckles, etc. They are in short the latest and most correct hats that can be produced. Our assortment of untrimmed millinery is larger and prices lower than ever before. We trim hats purchased of us free of charge.

Ladies' Tailor-Made Suits.

Our Suit Department is always interesting because we always show the new and best goods and our prices are lower than elsewhere. Ladies' Suits made of a good quality of homespun and cut in the latest style, trimmed with satin, special at $7.50.

New suits, Eton effects, made of fine quality cloth, jackets lined with satine, new flaring skirt, special $8.49.

Handsome spring Eton Suits, made from good quality venetian cloth, in light tan and fawn color, handsomely made with full skirt, trimmed with four rows of stitching, $10.00.

Ladies' Black Suits, made of diagonal serge, with tight fitting jacket and entire suit lined with silk, $15.00.

PARK AVE. AND RAILROAD

A New Yorker, who lately went on an excursion to New Mexico with a lot of railroad men, in a special car, reflected that alkali dust and champagne always upset his digestion, and determined to buy a box of Ripans Tabules at a St. Louis drug store.
"How do these sell?" he asked of the druggist.
"We sell a lot of them," was the reply. "That gentleman who just went out bought a box. He is Commodore J. E. M. Maury of New York, who is on this New Mexican excursion."
As days went by our friend took a Tabule after each meal and one before going to bed and was as regular as a top. So too was the Commodore. In a few days however, most of the party suffered more or less from over-eating, over-smoking and all that, want of exercise and indigestion. Nearly every one complained of constipation and the Commodore, like a good angel produced his box from time to time and in every case relief followed his kindly ministrations.
"How does it happen," asked the Commodore of our friend, "that you alone escape the inconvenience all the others suffer from? Only you and I escape. But our friend was foxy and would not admit that he too was a slave to Ripans Tabules, but all that party carry them now when they go where meals are irregular and the water is bitter or poor.
WANTED—A case of bad health that R·I·P·A·N·S will not benefit. They banish pain and prolong life. One gives relief. Note the word R·I·P·A·N·S on the package and accept no substitute. R·I·P·A·N·S, 10 for 5 cents, may be had at any drug store. Ten samples and one thousand testimonials will be mailed to any address for 5 cents, forwarded to the Ripans Chemical Co., No. 10 Spruce St., New York.

THE MODE.

No New Variation In the Latest Skirt Models.

Tucks and plaits, run, stitched or corded, flat or in relief, have by no means been abandoned for skirts. They are used for thin, soft goods, for which circular ruffles are unsuitable, while, on the contrary, the circular ruffle or flounce affords the best possible means of giving a skirt of thick material the desired flare around the foot. A single flounce may be used, or a second may be mounted upon the edge of the first, thus increasing the flare.

Very thin goods are made up with a separate drop skirt, as carefully cut and fitted as is the outside and of the same length and style, except that it is plain instead of being tucked or plaited.

The cut shows a gown the skirt of which has a tunic composed of panels of black faille bordered with open jet galloon over ruby satin. These panels are connected by knots of ruby satin with gold tips. This tunic is over a skirt of black lace, beneath the foot of which is a narrow plaiting of red satin. The bolero of faille has sleeves of elbow length and is bordered with velvet and jet to match the tunic, having cuffs of velvet and jet. The full chemisette is of black lace, with a collar and cross band of ruby velvet and jet. The wide belt is of black velvet, and there are puffs of black lace from the elbow to the wrist, where they are gathered into ruby velvet and jet bands. JUDIC CHOLLET.

SKIRTS AND BOLEROS.

Diverse Arrangements of These Two For Spring Wear.

Perfectly plain tight skirts continue to be worn and are as important as plaited skirts, although many of the latter are seen, especially in thin, soft goods. For stout women any sort of skirt which tends to enlarge the outline is to be avoided, but for slender women, especially those too slender, who are benefited by a superfluity of stuff, plaits are desirable. Skirts are plaited throughout their length, with the plaits left free at the foot, or are plaited simply at the hips, or are plain at the hips and plaited lower down.

Many princess gowns are shown among the new models, although most often the princess effect is attained by making the skirt and corselet in one, the upper part of the bodice being separate. The short bolero is the usual complement of these skirts. It may be separate or not.

A picture is given of a house gown of iron gray cashmere. It is of the princess form and is entirely plaited, the plaits being stitched to within 15 inches of the hem of the skirt. The front is finished with three folds of satin and five lines of stitching. The short bolero is also bordered with folds of satin and lines of stitching and is trimmed with cut steel buttons. The bertha of printed panne is edged with satin folds, and there is a full guimpe of plaited silk with a satin collar. The sleeves are loose at the bottom and are finished with satin folds and lines of stitching and trimmed with steel buttons. There are puffs of printed panne gathered into satin bands at the wrists.

Proceedings of the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders.

[OFFICIAL.]

Adjourned meeting of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the county of Union, N. J., held on Thursday, March 21, 1901, at 2:30 p. m.

All members were present except Freeholders Bonnel and Miller—2

The minutes of the previous meeting (reading of bills being omitted) were on motion approved as read.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From the city clerk of Elizabeth, as follows:

Elizabeth, N. J., March 20 1901.

Mr. J. Bruchlacher, Dear Sir—I have the honor to inform you that the City Council of the city of Elizabeth, at its meeting of the 15th inst., adopted the following resolution:

Whereas, The county of Union having adopted Orchard street as a part of its system of county roads, put the said street into the hands of the Elizabeth Horse Car Railroad Company, giving them the right to lay their track and use the street. The said Railroad Company in getting its consent from property owners on line of said street, made promises to pave the street from curb to curb, and by implication, if not by direct contract, promised to expend some $10,000 00 on the street paving, up to this time, no move has been made to improve the condition of the street, which was left in disgraceful order, no attempt having been made to even replace the stone as a pavement therefore.

Resolved, That our representatives in the Board of Chosen Freeholders be, and are hereby requested to use every effort to have said Orchard street paved from Morris avenue to Westfield avenue, with such pavement as the property owners may select, such pavement to extend from curb to curb.

(Signed) Very respectfully yours,
J. J. Manning, City Clerk.

Before action was taken on the communication, the Board was addressed by Hon. P. J. Ryan, acting mayor of Elizabeth, who urged this Board to take such action soon as possible, as would grant to the residents on Orchard street the relief they asked for; the said street being under the control of the Board of Freeholders, made it impossible for the city authorities to act in the matter.

Mr. Ryan also urged the need of crosswalks on Westfield avenue, a county road in the city of Elizabeth.

Freeholder King moved that the communication be received and referred to the County Road Committee and County Attorney, which was carried

NEW BUSINESS.

By Freeholder Swain:

"Whereas, At a regular meeting of this Board held February 7, 1901, at 2:30 p. m., a resolution to the effect that the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union county declared the present court house and buildings in use for county offices inadequate, and that this Board proceed to take the necessary steps as would be proper for the erection of a court house and buildings suitable for the use of the courts and county offices, and furnish the same ready for occupancy, etc., and

"Whereas, Since the passing of said resolution, by virtue of an act of the Legislature of the State of New Jersey approved March 19, 1901, the procedure in the erection and construction of a court house and buildings suitable for the use of the courts and county offices, has been changed.

"Therefore, be it Resolved, That the resolutions above referred to and adopted at the regular meeting of the Board February 7, 1901, be and the same is hereby reconsidered and rescinded."

Freeholder King moved the adoption of the foregoing preambles and resolution, which was so ordered without dissent.

By Freeholder Swain:

"Whereas, The committee heretofore appointed by this Board for the purpose of investigating and considering the necessity and advisability of the building of a court house and buildings for use of county offices, and said committee having reported to this Board recommending the advisability of the building and erecting of such court house and public buildings.

"Therefore Be It Resolved, That we, the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union, do hereby declare the present court house and buildings in use for county offices, to be inadequate, and be it

"Resolved, That by virtue of the authority vested in this Board by an act entitled "An Act Facilitating the Acquirement of Lands and the Erection of Buildings for County Purposes," approved March 19 1901, that this Board proceed to the taking of such steps as may seem necessary and proper for the erection of a court house and buildings suitable for the use of the courts and the county offices and the transaction of the public business of the county, and to furnish the same ready for occupancy and use by the courts and public officers."

Freeholder Farrell moved the adoption of the foregoing preamble and resolutions, and on roll call they were unanimously adopted.

By Freeholder King:

Resolved, That the compensation of the committee designated, a county building committee, when constituted and appointed under and by virtue of the first section of an act entitled "An act to facilitate the acquirement of lands and the erection of buildings for county purposes," approved March 19, 1901, shall be as follows: to the director, five dollars per day, and to the other members of said committee, three dollars per day, for each day actually engaged in the work for which said committee was constituted and appointed

Freeholder Krouse moved the adoption of the resolution, which was duly seconded

County Attorney Codington read the provisions of the law providing for the appointment of "A County Building Committee, and compensation of such committee, after which the resolution, was on roll call adopted, receiving 15 ayes. Freeholders Bonnel and Miller, absent—2 Director Hubbard not voting—1

By Freeholder Cady:

"Resolved, That the committee to be known as the County Building Committee, when appointed, be authorized to advertise in such manner as to them may seem advisable for plans and specifications for a new court house building contemplated to be erected in this county, and that said committee be authorized to award to the party furnishing the best design, the sum of $500 00; to the party furnishing the second best design, the sum of $300 00; and to the party furnishing the third best design, the sum of $200 00; said committee or a majority thereof to be judges of said designs."

Freeholder Swain moved the adoption of the resolutions, and on roll call it was unanimously adopted.

The Director then stated that the provisions of the bill authorizing the erection of new county buildings, etc., and the appointment of a County Building Committee, provided that said committee should consist of three members of the Board, of which the Director should be one. He would therefore designate and appoint Freeholders Farrell and Brucklacher as the other two members of said committee

Freeholder King moved to adjourn, which was carried.

The Director declared the Board adjourned until Thursday, April 4, 1901, at 2:30 p. m.

St. Peter's Chair.

The actual material chair of St. Peter is now venerated in his basilica in Rome, and enshrined in the splendid bronze throne supported by colossal figures of four doctors of the church, SS. Ambrose, Augustine, Athanasius and Chrosostom, the whole weighing 219,000 Roman pounds. The actual seat is a simple oak chair, which only in the ninth century was adorned in front with ivory plates. Until the time of Alexander VIII. the position of the relic frequently changed. In the oldest church of St. Peter, built by Constantine between 320 and 350, the chair had a place of honor at one of the sides in the baptismal chapel erected by Pope Damascus. In those days the Roman pontiffs used to seat themselves upon this chair in order to administer confirmation to the neophytes just baptised. In the eighth century contemporary pictures represented the chair as kept in the oratory of St. Leo. Archaeologists like De Rossi and Marucchi have proved the existence of this venerable relic as far back as the second century. Even at that time it was looked upon with the highest veneration as a material proof of the apostolic succession. In the sixth century Abbot John is recorded as having carried some of the oil from the lamp ever burning before the apostolic throne to the Lombard Queen Theodolinda.—Tablet.

Signing of the Sulu Treaty.

The sultan of Sulu was persuaded to sign the treaty with this country by means of a phonograph. The sultan and his suite were assembled on the deck of the man of war Charleston, and preliminary negotiations were completed and terms agreed upon, but the sultan would not sign. Every effort to put him in good humor had failed when Gen. Bates had a phonograph set up on deck. When it began to pour forth the words of "There'll Be a Hot Time in the Old Town, To-Night," the members of the sultan's suite were variously stricken with fear and delight. The sultan was amazed, and on being permitted to speak into the machine and hear his own voice reproduced, his suspicions of the Americans vanished. He promptly and in great good humor signed the treaty.—Golden Days.

Cure of Distemper in Dogs.

A recent number of the Proceedings of the Royal Society of London describes a successful attempt to isolate the micro-organism responsible for distemper in dogs. Dr. Copeman has isolated a small cocco-bacillus that can be readily cultivated, and is derived from the secretions of distempered animals. An inspection of a broth culture of this bacillus produces the disease, and a vaccine has been prepared which is a protection against attacks. Tests of the vaccine are being carried out on a large scale, and there seems to be little doubt that dogs can now be made immune to this very common and often fatal disease.—Science.

Properties Missing.

The woman owed three months' rent. To her came the landlord's agent, a dark-visaged old villain.

"Pay me every penny, or out into the world you go!" he hissed.

"What nonsense!" she cried. "You can't make a heroine of me this sort of weather. There is a snowstorm raging without; neither have I a tattered shawl and diamonds to wear."

She chortled; the villain, with an oath, withdrew.—Catholic Standard and Times.

Men Who Are Now Prominent on the Stage of the World

A Cuban Patriot.

The prominent figure in the Cuban constitutional convention has been Salvador Cisneros, a white-haired patriarch of 76 years, who has fought for Cuban independence almost since his birth, and who had been prominent in every Cuban insurrection during the last half of the past century. It has fallen to his lot to stand as the most ardent champion of absolute independence, and he has threatened all sorts of trouble should the United States insist on any conditions before granting Cuban self-government.

Salvador Cisneros.

Twice he has served the cause of Cuba as provisional president during the revolutions against Spain. During the wars that raged over Cuba in the '60's he played a conspicuous part and was chosen provisional president of the island republic. He held the questionable office until Spanish arms had conquered all opposition to Spanish rule, and then went to New York. In that city he earned a somewhat precarious living as a retail cigar merchant, and attracted to his place of business many other Cuban agitators who had sought refuge in this country at the close of the war. Of this little coterie of friends he remained the leader.

When the last revolution, that resulted in the final overthrow of Spanish rule in Cuba, broke out he again took a prominent part, and was again chosen provisional president. His Cuban friends in New York either returned to the island to fight in the ranks of the Cuban army, or became associated with the Cuban junta in this country, and he directed much of their efforts.

Strange as it may seem, the old man is himself of noble Spanish birth, his title being marquis de Belancourt, but little more than this is known of his personal history aside from the part he has taken in Cuba's fight for freedom.

Senator Carter's New Job.

It is an interesting set of men who are to manage the St. Louis exposition. In this connection many prominent Missourians are coming into even greater prominence, but one man who will figure as prominently as any is not a Missourian at all. To say this is to say in other words that the fair is to be broadly national. Of course Missourians, more especially those living in and immediately about St. Louis, are most largely interested and are doing most to make the enterprise a conspicuous success. At the same time its national scope is emphasized by the appointment of United States Senator Carter, of Montana, as chairman of the board of commissioners.

Senator T. H. Carter.

By birth Senator Carter is an Ohioan, but he did not stay long in that state, but moved to Illinois, where he received his common school education. His early experiences were as varied as they have been in recent years, shifting from farm hand to railroading and then, for several years, school-teaching. In Illinois, too, is where he got his first legal learning and was admitted to the bar. Then he decided to see still more of his country, and, moving with the star of empire, took up a brief residence in Burlington, Ia. From there he went, in 1882, to Montana. He was successful in his profession and soon entered politics. In 1889 he was territorial delegate to congress, and upon the admission of Montana to statehood he became the state's first representative in congress. Upon the expiration of his term Mr. Carter was appointed commissioner of the United States land office, which position he held until July of 1892, when he was selected as chairman of the republican national committee. Three years later the Montana legislature elected him to represent the state in the upper house of congress. His term as senator expired March 4 last. Just before his retirement and during the closing hours of the last congress he achieved considerable notoriety by his ten-hour speech, which was the means of preventing legislative action being taken on the river and harbor bill.

New Superintendent at West Point.

West Point cadets have a new master to deal with in the person of Capt. Charles G. Treat, who was recently appointed superintendent of that institution of military learning to succeed Capt. Albert L. Mills, of the First cavalry, who has been on duty as superintendent and commandant at West Point since August 22, 1898.

Capt. Chas. G. Treat.

Capt. Treat, the new commandant, is not a stranger at West Point. He first saw the institution when he entered it as a plebe cadet from Wisconsin on the 1st of July, 1878. At that time he remained at the academy for four years, graduating with the class of '82. On the 21st of August, 1899, he was assigned back to West Point as senior instructor of artillery tactics, and has been at the academy since that time.

Since his graduation Capt. Treat has been continuously in the artillery service, with the exception of such time as he served in the volunteers during the war with Spain, when he was detailed to the adjutant general's department. His first service was as a junior second lieutenant in the Fifth artillery, where he found, as all junior officers do, that life in the regular army for a sub-lieutenant is not much better than life in West Point for a plebe cadet. But there is an end as a rule to all disagreeable things, and seven years after his graduation he became a first lieutenant in the same regiment. Eleven years later, or on March 2, 1899, he was promoted to the rank of captain and assigned to the Seventh artillery.

During the time that he will fill his new position Capt. Treat will have the rank and pay of a colonel, but he will again drop back to his regular place in the service after he has completed the three years' tour of duty which the customs of the service allow an officer at the Point. The new superintendent is a native of Maine, but was raised in Wisconsin.

Brilliant Boer Leader.

Louis Botha, the commander in chief of the Boer forces, took command at a time when the glory of the Boer campaign was fast fading. England's troops were fast gaining the ascendency, and about all that the Boer forces could do was to make the victory of England as costly as possible.

Gen. Louis Botha.

But throughout the war the record of Botha has been a brilliant one. With the breaking out of hostilities with England he was but a private soldier, less than 35 years of age, and with no previous military training. It speaks much for his ability as a soldier that he should have in the short space of time that elapsed between the breaking out of hostilities and the death of Gen. Joubert that his ability should have become so apparent that he would be chosen to succeed Gen. Joubert, even when it was but to lead a forlorn hope.

In the civil affairs of the Transvaal republic, however, Botha was a leader before the war. He had been a member of the Transvaal parliament, and a strong advocate of forcing the hand of England. When the war which he had advocated came he left the halls of parliament to take up arms in defense of the independence of his country as a private soldier in the ranks.

As a general officer, though the youngest of all the Boer generals, he has proven a brilliant leader. He has been the Gen. Lee of the Boer cause, while De Wet has been the "Stonewall" Jackson. Both men have made a brilliant fight against stupendous odds, and the wonder has been that they have been able to continue it so long.

Judge Taft.

The probabilities are that Judge William H. Taft, of Cincinnati, will be the first civil governor of the Philippine islands under the jurisdiction of the United States. At present he is president of the commission which has temporary charge of affairs in the islands.

Judge Wm. H. Taft.

He is a man who combines rare scholarly ability with equally rare executive talent. His work in the Philippines is said to have given great satisfaction to the department of state in Washington. Until his recent connection with the government of our far-off possessions the fame of Judge Taft was wholly that of a jurist and a scholar. His preeminent ability showed itself while he was yet at college. He graduated from Yale in 1878 second in rank in a class of 120, and was chosen as salutatorian and class orator for the graduating exercises of the class. Fifteen years later he received from his alma mater the degree of LL. D. Two years after his graduation young Taft was admitted to the bar in Cincinnati. For a year or so he did newspaper work, being law reporter for one of the city dailies.

SPORTING.

GOLF.

Despite the many discouragements which the East Jersey Golf League has maintained, it will continue with the championship. Several of the league's members have withdrawn, but the following members still remain in the league: Forest Hill Field Club, Glen Ridge Golf Club, Elizabeth Town and Country Club, Morristown Field Club and East Orange Golf Club. Team matches will also be maintained, though under the modified Nassau system of scoring by points, and trophies will be offered the winning team, as well as individual prizes for the members of the teams finishing in first and second places. At the annual meeting, held in Newark, the following officers were elected for the year: R. J. Jacobs, of Glen Ridge, president; R. B. Duyckinck, Morristown Field Club, vice president, and E. G. Kent, East Orange Golf Club, secretary and treasurer.

ON THE DIAMOND.

The North Plainfield High School Baseball team has prepared the following schedule for the season: Wednesday, April 10, Leal's School, at Plainfield; Saturday, April 13, Y. M. C. A., at Plainfield; Wednesday, April 24, Plainfield High School, at Plainfield; Saturday, April 27, Rutgers Preparatory School, at New Brunswick; Wednesday, May 1, Leal's School, at Plainfield; Saturday, May 4, Y. M. C. A. at Plainfield; Wednesday, May 8, Plainfield High School, at Plainfield; Saturday, May 11, Battin High School, at Elizabeth; Wednesday, May 15, Plainfield High School, at Plainfield.

VARIOUS SPORTS.

The last of the series of athletic events, which have been held during the winter at the Y. M. C. A., will take place tomorrow evening. The event will be the running high jump and, as there are a number of the association athletes proficient in this line, an exciting contest is looked for.

FOOTBALL.

The Plainfield Association Foot Ball Club has received an invitation from the Prudential Dykers, of Newark, to play a game at the latter place Saturday. They will in all probability accept and in consequence there will be no game in this city on that date.

LIBRARY DIRECTORS MET.

Routine Business Transacted at Meeting Held Last Evening.

The regular meeting of the Board of Directors of the Public Library was held last evening. There were present M. W. Tyler, E. O. Perkins, J. Evarts Tracy, William H. Larrabee and William M. Stillman.

The bills of the general and of the Babcock Library, respectively, were ordered paid. The librarian's report for March was read and ordered on file. This report shows a large increase in the home circulation of books. The librarian was directed to distinguish the number of books of fiction added monthly from books in other classes of literature.

PARKS DEFEATED.

Qualified For Semi-Finals For Metropolitan Trophy in State Whist Congress.

The annual congress of the New Jersey State Whist Association held in the rooms of the Jersey City Club Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week, was very successful.

In the first night's play the Park Club made top score, and they with the Knickerbocker Athletic Club, Brooklyn Whist Club and New Jersey Whist Club qualified for the semi-finals. The Parks were defeated by the Knickerbocker Club, and the Brooklyns were defeated by the New Jersey Whist Club.

In the final play Saturday evening the Knickerbocker team defeated the New Jersey team by eleven tricks to three. This gives the winners the team championship of New Jersey and possession of the Metropolitan whist trophy. The Park Club was represented by Messrs. Freeman, Drayton, Willis and Woltmann.

ON THE EXHIBITION.

Mrs. Mott Will Talk to Members of Women's Clubs at Elizabeth.

The Westminster Club, of Elizabeth, has been very fortunate in securing from Mrs. Henry Elliott Mott, one of the Women Commissioners from the State of New Jersey to the Pan-American Exhibition, an acceptance of its invitation to deliver a lecture, illustrated with stereopticon views, on the plan and scope of the exhibition. The club has invited as its guests at this lecture, which is to be held Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, all the members and their escorts of the Women's Clubs in Elizabeth, Newark, Orange, Plainfield, Cranford, Westfield, Rahway, Roselle and other surrounding towns.

The original intention was to hold the lecture in the chapel of the Westminster church, but so numerous and enthusiastic have been the responses and acceptances, that it is already evident that the chapel will not accommodate all who have expressed a desire to hear Mrs. Mott, and the club has therefore engaged the Lyceum Theatre for the evening, and will be glad to welcome their guests there, instead of at the Westminster chapel, as originally proposed.

The Westminster club is composed of women interested not only in Westminster Presbyterian church, Elizabeth, but in all matters helpful to their city, state and country. They have arranged a number of public meetings, the most recent of which was held last Thursday evening, when Mr. Booker T. Washington, the eloquent orator and leader of the colored race delivered an address describing his past work, and his ambitions and future plans.

Put to Good Use.

During the performance of an opera in Manchester the inferior singing was made more wretched by the effects of an augmented orchestra in which some violinists were playing decidedly out of tune. This made the disappointed audience so angry that, when a person in the gallery brought their displeasure to a climax by causing a lengthened interruption a number of them seized him amid cries of:

"Throw him over!"

"Throw him out!"

"Throw him into the pit!"

Then a rather gentle voice was heard exclaiming during a lull in the storm:

"Oh, please, if you throw him over don't waste him. Kill a fiddler with him!"—London Answers.

Contrast Between the Poles.

Mr. Arctowski, the geologist of the Antarctic expedition in the steamer Belgica, calls attention to the difference in the distribution of ice around the two poles of the earth. The floating ice of the north, he says, comes from true glaciers which are pushed down through valleys until they reach the water, but the glacial caps themselves do not meet the sea. At the south, on the contrary, perpetual snow is encountered at the sixty-fifth degree of latitude, and it is probable that the floating ice of the Antarctic originates from a layer covering the whole polar crown.—Science.

A Big Snapping Turtle.

What is said to be the largest turtle ever shipped to the Smithsonian institution is there now awaiting shipment to Buffalo, where it will crown the successful collection of tortoise and fish life now ready for the opening. This alligator snapper measures five feet from tip to tip, and is the largest ever caught, exceeding in size the well-known Florida gopher. The average length of the shell of this family of turtle is three feet.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Women's Names on Checks.

A cashier who has business dealings with many women says that it is interesting to read the history of the times in the checks which are presented to him. It does not require a knowledge of the people to pick out the checks of the older women from those of the younger. These older women, wives of millionaires and multi-millionaires, some of them, were all educated in the same school and in the times when plain, old-fashioned names were given to women. There is Mary Ann and Euphemia, Hannah Maria, Sarah Jane, Phoebe Ann, Rebecca, Martha Ann, and numerous others seldom to be found now outside old-fashioned books. And the checks of the Phoebe Anns and Euphemias it is possible to pick out at a glance from all the others without reading because of the writing. It is as old-fashioned as the names. The signatures are written with a fine pen, in a delicate, fine hand, small letters, each standing out distinctly and all perfectly legible. It is different with the checks of the daughters of the Mary Janes and Phoebe Anns. Their names cover most of the space on the lower edge of the checks—a big, bold, up-and-down hand, so sprawled that it is almost impossible to decipher slashed over the paper, though the names are short in themselves, Saras and Maries who represent another generation.—N. Y. Times.

Growth of Freight Cars in a Decade.

To-day the freight car that has not a capacity of at least 60,000 pounds is considered rather out of date, and cars for handling heavy freights, such as ore and coal, are constructed with a capacity of 100,000 pounds. The size of the locomotives and the weight of the rail in the track has been correspondingly increased. When the large capacity cars began to come into use, a switchman on the Union Pacific road chanced to see one of the old and small Union Pacific cars between two of the large and modern type, and he wrote on the side of the car with chalk: "Oh, little box car, don't you cry; you'll be a freighthouse by and by." Another employe, seeing one of the modern coal cars, with its unusually high sides, wrote on it: "Shop! No roof."—National Magazine.

Children of the Soil.

The Cape of Good Hope was discovered by Diaz, the Portuguese navigator, six years before Columbus saw San Salvador. In the middle of the seventeenth century the Dutch East India company formed a permanent settlement at the foot of Table mountain. The first settlers were French Huguenots, Dutch Protestants and German Lutherans. As immigration increased the hardy pioneers moved north from Table bay on the great prairies called veldts. Here as pastoral shepherds they began that lonely life which has developed in its followers courage, self-reliance, love of independence and of solitude, the leading traits of the Boer of to-day. They were called "boer," which is the Dutch word for farmer.—N. Y. Herald.

WOULD HAVE CITY OWN WATER WORKS.

Daily Press Ballot Shows How Public Opinion Stands on That Great Question.

SUMMARY OF THE VOTE.

FAVORED MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP BY VOTE OF 432 TO 4.

Greatest Interest Was Shown in the Borough—The Property Owners Were Largely Represented Among Those Casting Ballots.

For Municipal Ownership - 432
Against Municipal Ownership - 4

Such was the verdict of the people of Plainfield and North Plainfield on the question presented to them by The Daily Press. Taxpayers from every part of the city and borough expressed themselves on the question as to whether or not the local water works should be under municipal control. The great majority, nearly two-thirds of those who voted, were property owners, on whom the burden of an increased taxation would fall.

In an impartial effort to discover the trend of public opinion, The Daily Press began this plan of a public ballot. The first ballot was printed in The Daily Press of Wednesday of last week. The last one appeared in Tuesday's issue. From the day that the first ballot appeared up to noon yesterday, when the vote was ended, the ballots poured steadily into this office. The vote ended at noon yesterday and all ballots mailed before that time were included in the count. Twenty three were received too late to be counted. They were all in favor of municipal ownership.

The most interest in the subject was shown in the borough where the total vote was 139, as compared with 293 in the city. In the city the greatest interest was shown in the Second and Fourth wards. For some reason the vote from the Third ward was the lightest of any. In the city it is noticeable that the vote of the proprrty owners was more than twice as large as the vote of those who do not own property. An expression of opinion from the property owners was particularly desirable as they are the ones on whom the burden of any increase in taxation will fall most heavily.

In the borough the vote of the property owners and the non property owners was nearly even. This was particularly true in the second district. This brought up the average in the total vote to about two to one.

Only four votes were cast against municipal ownership Three came from the Fourth ward and one from the First district of the borough. The men who cast those ballots were well-known citizens who have spent considerable time in the consideration of municipal questions. Nearly all the officials of both city and borough sent in votes and a representative list of residents of both municipalties is to be found on the ballots. These will not, however, be made public.

Below will be found a summary of the vote by election districts, giving the number of ballots, for and against, cast by property owners and non-property owners in city and borough.

NEW MARKET RESIDENT DEAD.

SIMEON R. DAYTON DIED AT HIS HOME YESTERDAY.

Life Long Resident of Piscataway Township—Prominent in Politics—Veteran of Civil War.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

New Market, April 4—The death of Simeon R Dayton, a life-long resident of this place, occurred at his home yesterday morning after a brief illness. He was taken sick a few weeks ago but it was not until Sunday that his condition occasioned alarm. Since then he steadily grew worse and his relatives were prepared for the worse Death was caused by heart trouble.

Mr. Dayton was born near Stelton fifty-nine years ago, and resided in this vicinity up to the time of his death. In his early life he was a farmer by occupation. During the Civil War he served with one of the New Jersey regiments and received an honorable discharge at the close. He then retired from active business life, but has always taken an active interest in politics. He was a staunch Republican and was honored at various times with nearly all the township offices.

He is survived by a wife and three children, all of whom live in New Market. The latter are Mahlon and Charles Dayton and Miss Cora Dayton. Until recently Charles was a resident of Plainfield. He also leaves sisters, Mrs. Ephraim Boice, Mrs Samuel Dayton and Mrs. Peter Benward.

The funeral services will be held from his late residence Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock and from the First Baptist church at 3 o'clock Friendship Council, No. 81, Jr. O U. A. M., of which he was a member, will attend in a body. Interment will be made at Hillside cemetery, Samptown.

THIRTEEN BAPTIZED.

At Mid-Week Service at the First Baptist Church Last Evening.

The mid-week prayer service held last evening at the First Baptist church was of considerable interest and there was a large attendance of members. After the service those present adjourned to the main part of the church and witnessed the baptism of the following: The Misses Belle Lewis, Edna Lewis, Hattie Lewis, Mabel Cronce, Florence White, Emma Powers, Lucetta Clark, Daisy Adams and William Connett, David Weiss, George VanHorn, Robert Sherwin and Ernest Powlison, Those named, together with those who have recently been baptized, will be received into full membership Sunday at the communion service, when Pastor Yerkes will give the right-hand-of fellowship.

Sewer Ordinance To Be Considered.

There will be an important adjourned meeting of the Common Council this evening, at which time the sewer ordinance will be taken up and final action taken. The members are anxious that the work of improving the sewer bed shall be started as soon as possible so that it will not extend too far into the year. The successful bidders, the Kiely-Gleason Contracting Company, of Syracuse, N. Y., are ready to start the work wherever the Council says the word.

One Candidate at Unity.

The first rank was worked on one candidate at the meeting of Unity Lodge, No 102, K. of P., last evening, and at the next meeting the second and third rank will be worked on one candidate.

New Head Waiter at Imperial.

Arrangements have been made by the Warren Engine Company to attend the State Exempt Firemen's convention at Bayonne May 15. The Exempt Firemen's Association, of this city, will join the Warren Engine boys in their trip.

The Exempts intend to take their handsome silver carriage with them. The Warren Engine Company proposes to send its steamer over on a flat car.

The Warren Engine Company will send all the members and it has engaged the services of the Independent Fife and drum Corps for the occasion and a local band will be hired by the Exempt Association, which expects to have thirty-five men in line.

PARKS WIN AGAIN.

Victorious in Fourth Bowling Match With Team From The Casino.

The fourth bowling match between the Park Club and Casino teams was rolled last evening on the Casino alley and for the fourth time the Casino team was beaten. The Parks came nearer losing in last evening's contest than in the previous three games. During the fore part of the match the Casino bowlers led and their opponents began to think that they were doomed to defeat. Soon afterward they braced up and finished winners.

It may be said that the Parks bowled poorly, in fact their scores were about the lowest of any of the games, while their opponents put up their best game of the series. Reeve Stockton, with a score of 92, was low man for the home team. Allan Laing was low man for the Parks with a score of 96 The other scores were only fair.

Below are the scores:

BATTLED WITH THREE TO WIN HIS BRIDE.

Charles Myers Defeated All Comers and Won Prize—Miss Rosa Loach.

A THRILLING LOVE TALE.

HIS VALIANT WARFARE FAILED TO PLEASE BRIDE'S MOTHER.

And the Young Couple Were Turned Away After Being Married at Scotch Plains—Have Now Disappeared From Stirling.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Stirling, April 4—That "the course of true love never runs smooth" has been exemplified in the tribulations of Charles Myers, who until a few days ago was one of the inhabitants of the little hamlet of South Stirling, near here. The young man in question is now married to the girl of his choice, but, contrary to fiction, his troubles still continue. He has since left the village, but before going he neglected to inform his townsmen of his destination, greatly to their disgust.

Myers is a young man and was employed as a farmhand on one of the neighboring farms. But although his duties were as arduous as those of the ordinary tiller of the soil, he found time between chores to pay court to Rose Loach, the buxom daughter of a widow who resided near his abiding place. He was only one of many, however, as the fair Rose had no dearth of suitors, hardly an evening passed by but what three or more were gathered round the Loach hearthstone, vieing with each other in securing her attention while they related stories of their prowess or told glowing stories of their future prospects.

But it was easily perceived by the lovelorn swains that Myers was welcomed the heartiest and received the sweetest smiles, while his tales took precedent over all others. They realized this full well and while ostensibly submitting to it, they were in reality devising every manner of scheme to oust him from the Loach cottage and Rose's affections at the same time. But somehow their plans miscarried and his visits became more frequent and grew in length.

On meeting him at Linke's Hotel at Smalleytown, last Saturday, three of the disgruntled ones attempted to lead him into a quarrel, but although hot words passed between them, friends intervened and the dispute was ended for the time being. But it was renewed a short time later, when, to his surprise, he arrived at the Loach home and found the three suitors had preceded him and were ensconced in the parlor. Myers' entrance was the signal for open hostilities and compliments flew back and forth

Myers stood it as long as he could but finally patience ceased to be a virtue and after receiving an encouraging nod from Rose, who had been a silent beholder, he flew at his taunters with all the characteristics of a young Kansas cyclone.

In a few seconds, bedlam was rampant but it was of brief duration. When order was restored from chaos, the parlor looked like the traditional china shop after the bull had completed his frolic, and the three aggressors reposed on the ground outside, minus the cuticle from various parts of their anatomy. On regaining their scattered senses they made a hasty exit in the darkness leaving Myers in full possession.

The latter then returned to the cottage, and, believing in the old adage that the victor should have the spoils, he asked Miss Loach for her heart and hand, likewise claiming all future smiles as his own. Whether carried away by the excitement of the moment, or his arms, or whether filled with admiration for his pugilistic abilities, is not known, but at any rate he was accepted.

Sunday Myers procured a conveyance and drove to Scotch Plains with Miss Loach where they were married. But all this had been done without consulting Mrs. Loach Where they returned home to receive the parental blessing, it was not forthcoming. For some reason she did not fancy Myers for a son-in-law and she ordered both he and his bride to begone.

Nothing daunted, Myers hied himself and wife to the home of his employer. He also refused to admit them. They all silently turned away and since then all trace of them has been lost.

The episode has been a topic of conversation in the hamlet ever since and has proved to be a wonderful balm to the scattered hopes and lacerated skin of the three disfavored ones.

CRUSHED BY CAR WHEELS.

David Loudenberry Fatally Injured in Freight Yard at Somerville Yesterday.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, April 4—While a freight train was shifting at the Somerville station yesterday afternoon, David Loundenberry, aged twenty-five, a brakeman living at Phillipsburg, slipped and fell between two cars, and his right leg was crushed to the hip and his right arm nearly to the shoulder. He was placed on a stretcher and carried to the station where Dr. Swinton attended him.

Subsequently he was removed to Somerset Hospital where he died at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

His wife was telegraphed for right after the accident, and she arrived here soon after his death. She was prostrated with grief when she learned of her husband's death. County Physician Wagoner granted a burial permit.

DECLAMATION CONTEST.

Will Be One of the Features of North Plainfield High School Athletic Association Entertainment.

The entertainment to be given by the pupils of the North Plainfield High School, next Thursday evening, for the benefit of the athletic associotinn of the school, promises to be a successful affair. Already all the tickets have been disposed of and the committee is considering the advisability of issuing an additional lot.

A special feature on the programme will be a declamation contest, in which several pupils of the High school with forensic ability will take part. The judges of the contest are Miss Burns, of Brooklyn, a teacher of elocution: S. St. John McCutchen and A. V. D. Honeyman. The subject and the contestants have not yet been announced.

THOUGHT END WAS NIGH.

John Brennan Sure That Death Was Coming Soon and Wanted to Die at Home.

John Brennan, aged 35 years, of Arlington avenue, who has been at the hospital since March 4, under treatment for severe burns received at that time, was taken to his home last evening in the ambulance. Mr. Brennan got an idea that he was going to die and he wanted to be taken home.

His burns are not nearly well, in fact the healing process has just commenced. He lives with a sister. It has been arranged to have the city nurse call frequently and dress the wounds, and in this way a recovery is looked for.

DR. GRIGGS' LAST LECTURE.

Will Be a General Discussion of Dante and the Divine Comedy.

Dr. Edward H. Griggs, the literary scholar and lecturer, will give the final talk in his series of lectures on Dante, this evening at 8 o'clock in Vincent chapel.

Dr. Griggs will devote the lecture to a general discussion of Dante and his Divine Comedy. It will practically be a resume of the entire course and an opportunity is afforded those who have neglected to attend the entire course to hear an able summing up of the work of the Florentine poet delivered in a most pleasing manner. A small admission is charged those who are not subscribers to the course.

DOMESTIC TROUBLES.

John VanNest and Wife in Justice Nash's Court For a Hearing Last Night.

Justice Nash gave an examination last evening in the case of John VanNest against Mrs. VanNest, his wife. He complained that on March 30 his wife struck him with a stick and slapped his face. On the other hand Mrs. VanNest stated that on the above date she saw her husband in company with another woman and that they were too intimate.

The plaintiff stated in open court that he would not support his wife and child, that he would have nothing to do with her or the child, and that they could go where they pleased.

After listening to the case Justice Nash dismissed the woman and the case against her, and he gave the plaintiff a merciless reprimand. He advised the wife to make a complaint before the overseer of the poor if her husband refused to support her or her child Adjusted Fire Loss.

"GUINEE MAY" IN LOCKUP.

RELATIVES WILL TRY TO SEND HER TO INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL.

Fourteen Year Old Italian Girl Arrested For Disorderly Conduct—Has Been Under Police Surveilance.

May Dantz better known as "Guinee May," a young Italian girl of fourteen years, who has been under police surveilance for some time past, was sentenced to incarceration at Elizabeth by City Judge Runyon this morning. An effort will be made to reform her at the Industrial School for Girls at Trenton, to which institution she will be sent shortly.

Late last evening Patrolman Totten noticed her acting in a decidedly disorderly manner on West Front street. He promptly escorted her to police headquarters, which institution she has had occasion to visit under police compulsion before.

This morning she was given a hearing. She did not seem the least ashamed of the charges made against her. The girl coolly denied the gravest charge and throughout the hearing acted in a brazen manner She admitted frequenting Gee Wah's laundry on North avenue occasionally, but claimed she went there with some laundry.

The unfortunate girl's mother and uncle were present at the hearing and they informed the court of her waywardness. They claimed that the girl endeavored to lead her sister from the straight path.

The court put little faith in the defense made by May and sentenced her to ten days' imprisonment at Elizabeth. The relatives of the girl will take steps during the for part of next week to have her sent to the State Industrial School near Trenton.

JAMES R. CARTER WEDDED.

Quietly Married to Miss Norah Good at Her Home Last Evening.

The home of Mrs. Veranda Good, of Arlington avenue, was the scene of a quiet wedding last evening, when her daughter, Miss Norah Good, was united in marriage to James R. Carter, also of this city. The young people were unattended and the ceremony was witnessed only by a few intimate relatives and friends.

Rev. P. W. Ross, of Westfield, the groom's former pastor at Richmond, Va., was the officiating clergyman and pronounced the words which made them man and wife. Miss Good was very prettily attired in a gown of white organdie with appropriate trimmings.

At the conclusion of the ceremony the young couple were given a reception after which they left for a brief wedding trip. They will take up their residence for a short time with the bride's mother after which it is their intention to begin housekeeping.

Mr. Carter is very well-known in this city and is popular among a large circle of acquaintances, most of whom will be surprised to hear of his marriage. He is at present employed as elevatorman at the Babcock building.

GAVE PARTY TO FRIENDS.

Delightful Affair at Martinsville Attended by Several Plainfielders.

Christopher Koechlein gave a party to a large number of friends at his home in Martinsville, Tuesday evening. Dancing and games occupied the evening hours and towards midnight refreshments were served.

Among the guests from North Plainfield were Mr. and Mrs. Peter Bowers, of Somerset street, Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Mundy, of Stone street, and Frederick Dealman, of Somerset street.

Charged Foreman With Assault.

Jacob Sadoski appeared before Justice Nash last evening and made a complaint against John McKeon, a foreman at the Pond Tool Works, charging the latter with assault and battery. The assault is alleged to have taken place Monday. The case will be heard Saturday afternoon, April 6, at 2 o'clock.

Delegates to Classis.

The elders of Trinity Reformed church Consistory have elected two of their number, Robert Clark, Jr., and G. L. VanEmburgh, to attend the spring session of the Classis in the New York Avenue Reformed church, Newark, next Wednesday. The pastor, Dr. Schenck, will attend the meeting.

Will go to Brunswick Fair.

The boys of Warren Engine Company will go in a body to New Brunswick next Wednesday evening to attend a fair to be held by the Phoenix Engine Company of that city. The Phoenix firemen were the guests of the North Plainfield fire company at the fair they held recently.

RUNAWAYS TAKEN HOME; MOORE SENT TO JAIL.

Moore Was Given a Hearing Before City Judge W. N. Runyon This Morning.

TO JAIL FOR FIFTY DAYS.

CLAIMED THAT HE MET THE BOYS ON A FREIGHT TRAIN.

Mother of One of the Runaways Took Them Home to High Bridge This Morning—Court Didn't Take Much Stock in Moore's Story.

The two youthful runaways from High Bridge, John Mowatt and James Johnson have been reclaimed by their parents, and James S. Moore, the man whom it is alleged induced them to leave home has been sent to jail.

The mother of Johnson came to the police headquarters this morning and took charge of both lads. Moore was given a hearing by City Judge Runyon this morning. The story told by the boys, given in yesterday's Daily Press, was emphatically denied by the prisoner

He claimed that he had not persuaded the boys to board a freight train at High Bridge and said that he had not seen the lads until they came back to the last cars of the moving freight.

In trying to explain why he had told Chief Kiely that he was the father of the boys, he said that on arriving in Plainfield he wished to befriend the boys, and he saw they needed a wash. To get cleaned up he told the youngsters to represent that he was their father and by this means he believed that the trio could find a place to clean up.

He denied having tried to induce the boys to accompany him on his travels, but the court evidently did not believe his story and Moore was given the alternative of paying $50 fine or undergoing fifty days imprisonment. From appearances it is probable that Moore will be compelled to accept the hospitality of the county.

BOROUGH SCHOOL AFFAIRS.

List of Teachers Will Not Be Made Public Until Next Board Meeting.

The Borough Board of Education held a special meeting in the Somerset street school building last evening.

The teachers' committee presented a partial report on the matter concerning the election of teachers for the coming school year. The report was approved and notice of election will be sent to the teachers selected, but the list will not be made public until the next regular meeting of the board, at which time the responses from the teachers will be read.

Superintendent Wightman presented a statement as to the texts books required, and this was submitted to the text book and supplies committee, which will report later.

The next meeting of the board will be held Monday evening, April 29.

ELECTED PRESIDENT.

Geo F. Baer Placed at Head of the Reading System.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Philadelphia, April 4.—George F. Baer, of Reading, Pa., was elected to the presidency of the Reading Company, the Philadelphia and Reading Railway and the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company at meetings of the directors of each of those companies, held yesterday afternoon. He succeeds Joseph S. Harris, resigned, and entered upon his new duties at once.

In another month it is probable that he will be elected president of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, and it is also rumored that he will soon be at the head of the Lehigh Valley Railroad.

Illustrated Lecture.

Dr. B VanD. Hedges will give an illustrated lecture in the Plainfield Camera Club rooms, Thursday evening, April 11. The subject will be "California." As Dr. Hedges recently enjoyed a trip to California, he is well able to talk about the beauties of that part of the country.

Entertaining Speaker.

FOR ENDEAVORERS.

Interesting Side of the Work Being Carried on by Young Christians.

(Conducted by Press Department Union County C. E. Union.)

The county superintendent of junior work, Miss M.E. Baumgartner, is arranging a conference, to be held Tuesday evening, April 9, in the Third Presbyterian church, Elizabeth. The speaker will be Rev. George O Hoeter, state superintendent of junior work, whose subject will be "The Secret of Success in Junior Work." All Endeavorers in the county, especially those interested in work for children, are invited. A brief session of the executive committee of the county of Union will precede the conference.

At a recent sociable the Congregational Endeavorers of Plainfield used a part of the evening to good advantage in making and filling comfort bags. Thirty-six of these useful articles, each containing, besides the usual quota of thread, needles, soap, etc., a personal letter and a copy of the New Testament.

The Elizabeth union is considering the advisability of sending a delegate to Cincinnati.

Plainfield Christian Endeavorers are becoming more than ever interested in missions. Last week several of the societies were addressed by missionary workers.

A number of new Christian Endeavor societies have recently been organized in Brooklyn, N. Y., and some not hitherto identified with the city union have actively engaged in the work. The city is divided into six districts and public meetings are so arranged that each district entertains two of these mass meetings yearly. A number of societies are doing good home mission work and many contribute largely to the foreign work.

After working his passage to Europe on a cattle steamer, earning his living in London as a barber, seeing the Paris Exposition as an employe, and supporting himself in Egypt as a laborer, J. F. Anderson, a round the world bicycle tourist, who is a California Endeavorer, is now doing Palestine.

Field Secretary Kilbon, of the South African Christian Endeavor Union, writing on the bad effect of laxity in admitting Christian Endeavor members, suggests that this sign be nailed over the door of the society, "No admittance except on business."

Besides furnishing workers for two missions of their own church, the First Baptist Endeavorers, Minneapolis, give two nights a week to city missions, and an afternoon to jail work. They have a conquest missionary class and a personal workers' class, and conduct flourishing Intermediate and Junior societies.

Two thousand dollars has been given for missions this year through the efforts of the Oxford Presbyterian Endeavorers, Philadelphia, and $1,000 more pledged towards their church debt. None of this money is raised by entertainments.

A Sunday-school for Finnish children in the neighborhood, and meetings for their elders, are conducted by the Maynard, Mass., Congregational Endeavorers, Chances to do foreign missionary work on our own doorsteps might of ener be improved in this energetic way.

—Bonn, the milliner, will continue his millinery show this week. Commencing with next week he will display a handsome line of shirt waists for summer wear.

—You will only waste time if you try to cure indigestion by starving yourself. That only makes it worse when you do eat heartily. You always need plenty of good food properly digested. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is the result of years of scientific research for something that would digest not only some elements of food but every kind. And it is the one remedy that will do it. L. W. AT THE THEATRES.

Something About the Attractions Which Plainfield Theatre-Goers May Care Ito Witness.

J K Emmet and Lottie Gilson, two very prominent stars, will be seen at Music Hall next Tuesday night in "Fritz in a Mad House." There is no record of a more pronounced success in comedy drama than "Fritz in a Mad House," and no more popular comedians in all parts of the world than J. K. Emmet and Lottie Gilson, and they are sure of a crowded house on this engagement. Miss Gilson has some new popular songs which she will sing.

* * * * *

At Music Hall Thursday night of next week will be presented the powerful and romantic play of the south, "At Piney Ridge," with its beautiful scenery and effects The plot is strong and reasonable. A mountaineer, who is gentler and better than his environments seeks the station his merit and manhood would assign. Just as he is reaching the goal of his ambition he is charged with possessing negro blood. A chain of evidence is constructed that seems impossible of breaking. From this plot a strikingly powerful story is woven, which is sustained until the denouement is reached. All this is centered amid scenes of pastoral simplicity, the very air being laden with home like beauty. The characters are like the scenes, simple, honest, truth-loving and rugged. The producing company is strong and capable and the scenery and electrical effects novel and beautiful

The remarkable business that has caused the New York Theatre, New York city, to be the talk of the country still continues at that beautiful resort and "standing room" is at a premium. Not alone is the house crowded at nights, but at the Wednesday and Sunday matinees. The character of the show presented is of the same high standard and the price 50 cents for the best orchestra seat still has the call. The gay "After Office Hours," with Dan McAoy, who has a reputation for himself as a comedian and mimic, and its pretty music, songs and button bursting situations is alone worth the price of admission.

"The Devil's Dream," "The March of Old Glory," and the successful burlesque, "The Giddy Throng," with Louis Harrison, Dan McAvoy, Amelia Summerville, Adele Ritchie, Billy Gould, Billy Burress, Frank Doane and Mabel Fenton, has but a few weeks to run, when it will be succeeded by a new up-to-date burlesque by Sidney Rosenfeld and A. Baldwin Sloane, entitled "The King's Carnival," which will be beautifully staged and is said to be a fine production. The Messrs. Sire are getting ready for the summer season. The roof garden is being got into readiness and one of the greatest aggregations of talent ever witnessed will be seen there.

WHAT OTHERS SAY.

Clippings From Other Newspapers Which May Be Of Interest to Plainfield and Its Citizens.

Any man who has driven over the Warren county roads within the past month and who still stands opposed to macadamized highways ought to be chased out of the State. The so-called turnpikes, which some citizens have been so bold as to pronounce good enough for all purposes, are in a worse shape today than they were one hundred years ago. Mud, mud, nothing but mud. Sometimes it is three feet deep, sometimes only twelve inches but it is everywhere in such abundance that it is really cruelty to animals to expect a horse to pull any sort of a load through such a sea of "batter."

It is safe to say there are no worse roads in the whole United States than those which exist in Warren county this week. That is a pretty broad statement, but there is little doubt that it is true. And the worst of it is that in a few months the farmers will get out with plows and scrapers and pile all the mud into the middle of the road and next spring these lanes of slush, which pass for roads, will be a little worse than they are this year.

A bond issue of $100 000 would cost taxpayers of the county $4,000 per year. With what the State would contribute that amount would build between forty and fifty miles of fine turnpike in old Warrren and increase the value of her farming land half a million dollars. Until something of this kind is done we must put up with the heart breaking system of highways which now exists.—Washington Star.

City Clerk James T. MacMurray has been absent from Plainfield for several days on matters of business.

The marriage of Miss Gertrude Scarborough, of North Adams, Mass., who is now visiting her sister, Mrs George Wean, of West Fourth street, to a prominent lawyer of North Adams, will take place in the near future.

—The directors of the Children's Home will hold their regular meeting this afternoon at the Y. M. C. A.

A PEACE MANIFESTO

Aguinaldo Said to Be Preparing One.

CONVINCED OF AMERICAN JUSTICE

Chief Justice Arellano Wins Over the Insurgent Leader by Patient Effort—Captive Seems Sincere.

MANILA, April 4.—Aguinaldo is preparing a manifesto calling an end to the war. A proclamation of pence is expected now by June, but the matter is being kept quite secret by the authorities, who are awaiting further developments.

The oath of allegiance which Aguinaldo took Tuesday was administered by Chief Justice Arellano in the presence of General MacArthur and the latter's secretary, Lieutenant Colonel Crowder.

Aguinaldo's consent was won only after patient effort by Arellano, who pointed out and explained to the ex-insurgent chief the laws that have been enacted for the Filipinos by the Americans. When Arellano had convinced him of the justice of these measures, Aguinaldo said:

"Enough. I am satisfied with America."

Aguinaldo is ignorant of American institutions and American history, but he seems to be reasonably open to conviction. He is desirous that the insurgent funds in the possession of the United

AGUINALDO.

States be devoted to the education of the native youth, as has been suggested.

There is every indication that Aguinaldo is quite sincere in the course he has adopted, although hitherto he has shown himself to be misguided and unscrupulous. He may visit the United States to study American institutions.

MACARTHUR INSTRUCTED.

Secretary Root Sends Directions In Regard to Aguinaldo.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—After a consultation with the president Secretary Root last night sent a cable message to General MacArthur giving him instructions regarding Aguinaldo and the views of the administration on some recommendations as to Philippine affairs made by General MacArthur. The contents of the cablegram will not be made public for the present. It is stated at the war department that General MacArthur has made no new communication relative to Aguinaldo and that the attitude of the government toward the insurgent chief has not changed. He is yet held as a prisoner, and while he will be treated with kindness there is no disposition to allow him liberty until it is demonstrated that he intends to comply fully with the amnesty terms and his oath of allegiance.

Aguinaldo is more than an ordinary prisoner, and it has not yet been determined whether or not he is responsible for violations of the laws of war. His capture was made with a view of securing results, and while General MacArthur's dispatches indicate that these results will be very satisfactory they have not yet followed.

The cable message sent was of considerable length and was quite specific as to the policy of the government. It is understood that Aguinaldo would like certain assurances or promises from the government, and the message informed General MacArthur just what the government would do. While it is believed that the insurrection would end before long without the assistance of Aguinaldo, the government would be glad to make use of him to hasten the pacification of the islands if it can be done consistently with Aguinaldo's former attitude and consistently with what the best interests of the United States in the islands are believed to demand. Reports received show that small bands are constantly surrendering in the Philippines and that general conditions are most satisfactory to the military authorities.

Sick In the Philippines.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—General MacArthur cables that the number of sick in the Philippines are 2,833 in hospital and 908 in quarters, the percentage being 6.89.

Fierce Prairie Fire.

HURON, S. D., April 4.—A prairie fire yesterday swept over a stretch of country east of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway, starting a few miles southeast of Virgil and traveling north 10 or 12 miles. The burned district is two miles wide. Several farmers suffered heavy losses. Thousands of tons of hay were destroyed. The fire was driven by a 40 mile an hour gale.

Heavy Vote by Women.

KANSAS CITY, April 4.—W. H. Craddock, Democrat, was elected mayor by a plurality of 1,353 over B. L. Short, Republican. This is the first time the Democrats have elected the head of the ticket here since 1886. The Republicans elected the city clerk, treasurer and other minor officials. Women cast over 5,000 of the 13,400 votes.

Confederate Fighter Dying.

MACON, April 4.—Word is received from Anniston, Ala., that General G. T ("Tige") Anderson is at the point of death. Anderson was a brigade commander under Longstreet in the civil war and was one of the most famous of Confederate fighters.

Peace Treaty Approved.

MADRID, April 4.—The cabinet council has approved the basis of a treaty of peace and friendship between Spain and the United States.

APRIL SNOWSTORM.

Pittsburg the Center of the Precipitation.

THE ESTIMATED DAMAGE $250,000.

Telephone, Telegraph and Trolley Lines Put Out of Business For Many Hours—The Storm Elsewhere.

PITTSBURG, April 4.—Pittsburg was yesterday the center of a snowstorm that began early in the morning, continued with great force until afternoon and did thousands of dollars' worth of damage. It rendered practically useless for a time every electric wire in the city, suspended all street car travel and isolated the city from the outside world. Heavy rain fell before the storm came, and all reports from up river points tell of rising streams which may bring about a flood here and below. The losses cannot be fixed at present, but conservative estimates place the amount at between $250,000 and $300,000. Telegraph and telephone companies are the heaviest losers, because their lines reach every part of the storm district.

The trunk lines of the central district were the first to give way, and most of the other troubles that followed are attributed to the failure of this service. The poles were heavily laden, carrying 150 telephone wires and two cables. Wherever a pole gave way long stretches of poles went with it, falling over into the street, breaking trolley and electric line wires as though they were threads.

On Ellsworth avenue, from Amberson avenue to Craig street, the wreck is complete, every pole being down. Five Consolidated cars were caught in this district and were held there until after 9 o'clock last night. Center avenue from Pennsylvania avenue to Craig street is in almost as bad shape as Ellsworth. Forbes avenue from Craft avenue to Craig is also prostrate, and Frankstown avenue for a long distance was a mass of poles and wires.

All of these streets are traversed by the Consolidated Traction company, and where the fallen wires failed to break the trolleys they completely blocked travel and from 9 o'clock until 1:30 p. m. not a car moved east of Brady street.

The storm passed outward, and all the suburban towns in that direction suffered proportionately with this city. Wilkinsburg, Braddock, Homestead, Duquesne and McKeesport all report business at a standstill for a portion of the day, caused by the prostration of the wires. Allegheny escaped with comparatively little damage, a landslide at the head of Federal street, which brought tons of earth to the street, covering the car tracks to a depth of five feet, being the worst happening. Mount Washington and the other hilltops suffered severely.

All railroad trains from the east are hours late, having encountered in the mountains snow to the depth of 12 and 15 inches, which was so wet and clinging that snowplows could not clear the tracks. For a time it was feared there would be a blockade on both the Pennsylvania and Baltimore and Ohio roads, but all trains are getting through, but not on anything like schedule time. The Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies suffered heavily, the former not having a wire on its regular eastern routes up to a late hour last night.

A Foot and a Half of Snow.

CUMBERLAND, Md., April 4.—Six inches of snow fell at Rawlings, Md., yesterday, and 18 inches fell at Davis, W. Va.

Heavy Snow at Bath.

BATH, N. Y., April 4.—An incessant snowstorm prevailed here for 20 hours. Several inches fell.

The Folkething Elections.

COPENHAGEN, April 4.—The folkething elections have resulted in a sweeping victory for the opposition and an overwhelming defeat for the government. Of the 73 constituencies from which complete returns have been received the opposition has carried 70, the other three going to the Rightists. The defeated candidates include Dr. Krabbe, former president of the folkething; Dr. Scavenius, former minister of public worship; Minister of the Interior Bramsen and Knudsen, the Socialist leader. Of Copenhagen's 13 divisions only one returned a conservative.

Colombia Rebels Still Threaten.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, April 4.—According to advices received here from Colon, Colombia, the rebels continue to hold strong positions in the neighborhood of the city of Panama. The attempts of the government troops to drive them out have signally failed, and the government commanders are now content to guard the city against attack. The Liberals are confident of ultimate success. Business in important centers of Colombia is still paralyzed.

Burned to Death.

MONTICELLO, N. Y., April 4.—Israel Slater of Centerville Station, Sullivan county, was burned to death yesterday while trying to protect a tract of woodland from a forest fire near his home. He left home alone in the morning, and his body was found in the afternoon with clothing, shoes, hair and beard burned off. Slater was over 70 years old and one of the best known men in the county. He was a merchant in Centerville.

Two Heavy Cargoes of Seals.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., April 4.—The sailing steamers Neptune and Vanguard, with 30,000 and 25,000 seals respectively, have returned from the icefields. They report stormy weather and arduous work. Only four steamers now remain cruising along the Labrador coast. There are four others in the gulf of St. Lawrence.

Peace Envoy Executed.

LONDON, April 4.—The Bloemfontein correspondent of The Morning Post asserts that the Boers have tried for treason and executed Mr. De Kock, the peace envoy who took the message from General Smith-Dorrien to Commandant General Louis Botha Feb. 12.

To Be Named the Constitution.

NEW YORK, April 4.—Captain Duncan, manager of the syndicate's cup defender, announces that the name of the boat will be the Constitution.

War Governor's Widow Dead.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., April 4.—Mrs. Maria Todd, widow of Ohio's famous war governor, is dead, aged 88 years.

CHARTER RUSHED.

Senate Passes the Revision Bill In Short Order.

ALBANY, April 4.—The bill to revise the New York city charter was reported favorably in the senate yesterday and passed. It was received in the assembly five minutes after it passed the senate, advanced to third reading and referred to the cities committee. It was reported today with the amendments and passed.

The important changes made in the revision bill by the senate cities committee at its meeting before the session yesterday were as follows:

The three platoon police clause was stricken out.

The mayor is made eligible for re-election.

The term of borough presidents is fixed at two years, instead of four, to correspond with that of the mayor.

No member of the uniformed force of the street cleaning department or of the clerical force can be removed except on charges after a hearing.

The $26,000,000 canal improvement bill has been slightly changed by providing for a mean depth of nine feet instead of eight feet in the Oswego canal, a change that will give the entire canal system a uniform depth. The anticanal men, nothing daunted by the introduction of the bill, have prepared to fight it to the last ditch.

Assemblyman S. W. Smith of Columbia, one of the leaders of the canal forces, is quoted as saying that the governor may be able to force the passage of the bill, but that the people will never vote to expend $26,000,000 on useless works such as the bill contemplated.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

The Chicago city council is Republican by ten majority.

The French navy is to have 20 additional submarine boats.

Northwest Kansas was covered with snowdrifts 18 to 20 feet deep.

The Tennessee legislature killed a bill for a constitutional convention.

The Russian fleet was ordered to leave Toulon to avoid meeting an Italian squadron.

A mob prevented the city council of Kansas City from granting franchises to a street railway company.

Indians Make Complaint.

ST. PAUL, April 4.—Red Blanket of Leech lake, chief of the Bear island Chippeways and principal chief of the Chippeway tribe, accompanied by a substitute chief, Mah-Che-Gah-Bow (Man Who Moves Standing), and an interpreter, appeared before Governor Van Zant to protest against the manner in which, as Red Blanket asserted, the Chippeways are being defrauded by timber cutters on the reservation. Red Blanket declared that white and half-breed lumbermen are now destroying the reservation timber by assuming to act under the provisions of the law permitting certain persons to cut the "dead and down" timber. Red Blanket also said that, although the Indians have been allotted land in severalty, many of the men do not know where their allotments are situated and cannot find out.

Feast of the Passover.

NEW YORK, April 4.—The feast of Passover, which has been observed by Hebrews for 3,213 years, began last evening. From early morning until 5 p. m. there was a general housecleaning among Hebrews. In the place of bread for a week to come "motzoths" will be eaten. In east side homes housewives bought new plates, new knives and forks and new kitchen utensils. The markets around Division and Essex streets did a big business. Every synagogue was crowded. Even some of the sweatshops were used temporarily for synagogues. When the services were over, every family went silently home, and "seder" was given. The head of the family read prayers, and then the family had a banquet.

Yerkes Surprises the English.

LONDON, April 4.—Mr. Charles T. Yerkes has completed the preliminaries of his year's work in connection with the Charing Cross and Hampstead Underground railroad. He sails from Southampton for New York on the steamer Deutschland and will pick up his family at Cherbourg on the way to the United States. Mr. Yerkes is working from 8 o'clock in the morning until 9 o'clock at night daily. Mr. Yerkes has astounded his English conferees by his energy, as a result of which he has accomplished more in a few weeks' stay than they supposed was possible in as many months.

Indiana Miners Yield.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., April 4.—At the final meeting last night between the representatives of the 6,000 miners in the Indiana bituminous fields and the operators the miners surrendered to the operators on the claims for the purchase of powder, and the threatened strike is averted. By the agreement the miners for a year must buy their powder from the operators at $1.75 instead of in the open market. This rule prevails in Ohio and Illinois. There is much bitterness among the miners, who are divided into two factions on the proposition. The mines will resume at once.

A Temporary Settlement.

FREDERICK, Md., April 4.—The officials of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad company in charge of the Mount Airy improvements had a conference with the leaders of the Italians and Hungarians who struck Tuesday morning for higher wages, and a settlement was made which holds good until April 16. The men agreed to return to work today at the old scale of wages and remain until the 16th, when, if the increase of 10 cents a day is not made, the entire colony will stop work in a body.

Murderer Still at Large.

SUNBURY, Pa., April 4.—John Gulick, who made his escape after murdering his aged mother and younger brother at their home near this city Tuesday morning, is still at large. The searching parties have returned, failing to find any trace of him. The county commissioners have offered a reward of $100 for his capture. The aged father is in a condition of almost total collapse from the shock caused by the terrible crime. He thinks his son committed suicide by jumping in the river.

The Balkan Situation.

ODESSA, April 4.—It is asserted here that the Russian political agent in Bulgaria has sent to St. Petersburg a very pessimistic report regarding the situation in the Balkans, declaring that the Bulgarian government is quite incapable of coping effectively with the agitation of the Macedonian committee.

Relentless Rheumatism Conquered.

Up to recently it could have been said that science had advanced no positive cure for rheumatism, but a hospital specialist, delving after a cure for this tormenting disease, one day hit upon just the right formula, and in Dr. Holtin's Rheumatic Remedy to-day the medical world recognizes at last a cure.

No matter how bad your pains may have been or are; no matter of how long standing; no matter how many remedies you have tried, Dr. Holtin's Rheumatic Remedy will not only help you at once, but it will cure you for ever and ever. This magnificent remedy will cure all forms of rheumatism, muscular, acute, articular, gout, neuralgia, or sciatica, because it drives out of the system at once the uric acid that makes all the trouble and brings the muscle fibers back to their normal condition.

The back aches because the kidneys are blockaded.

Help the kidneys with their work.

The back will ache no more.

Lots of proof that Doan's Kidney Pills do this.

It's the best proof, for it comes from Plainfield.

Mr. Richard Day, of 134 East Front street, says: "I had a miserable pain across by back and a sort of lame feeling over my kidneys. Standing any length of time, or walking any distance aggravated it greatly. I was never sick much in my life and consequently never took much medicine, so when I first began having these attacks I paid but little attention to them. They, however, grew worse instead of better, so I had to look about for a remedy. I read quite frequently in our papers about cures brought about by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills, so I got a box at L. W. Randolph's drug store, and after taking them I felt greatly relieved. I have recommended them to my friends and those who have used them speak very highly in their praise."

THE TOULON FETES.

Franco-Italian Meeting to Mark a New Era.

PARIS, April 4.—The Franco-Italian fetes at Toulon next week are now the chief topic of interest in the French press, and the subject is much discussed in political and diplomatic circles. Spectacularly the festivities will be very brilliant, while it is generally conceded that the occasion will rank as one of the most important historic events since the Franco-Russian demonstration at the same port. Although there is no question of an alliance between the two countries, yet the meeting of President Loubet and the Duke of Genoa will be an incident of the first value.

The meeting will work a new era of good feeling between France and Italy.

The great significance of the coming event lies in the fact that it indicates that the irritation felt by Italy toward France, which was aroused by the French occupation of Tunis and which, rankling in the minds of Italian statesmen, has done so much to injure our mutual relations, is now entirely removed, giving place to a desire of a better understanding between France and Italy.

Wireless Telegraphy.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Professor Willis L. Moore, chief of the weather bureau, has returned from an inspection of the wireless telegraphy stations on the Virginia and North Carolina coasts and has reported to Secretary Wilson the results of his observations. He found that the experimental work is progressing satisfactorily between Hatteras and Cape Henry, where elaborate plans have been laid out for important experiments. At Cape Henry an excellent plant has been established for the physical and mechanical development and investigation of the fundamental principles of wireless telegraphy. Signals are exchanging daily between these two stations, and messages can be transmitted at any time, though there is no necessity for exchange of messages as yet. These two stations are 47 miles apart with no land between them, and the course is regarded as an ideal one for the experiments. It is intended to keep this section for experimental and research work, which will be prosecuted vigorously throughout next summer.

The Facts About Cuba.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Representative Dalzell of Pennsylvania, who has just returned from a two weeks' trip to Cuba, saw the president yesterday and talked with him about conditions there. Mr. Dalzell said he thought there was hardly a man in the island, except the politicians, who did not favor the acceptance of the conditions of independence imposed by the Platt amendment. "But the politicians are disposed to play a waiting game," he said. "I believe they will stand out until congress meets, and then, finding that we will not modify our terms, they will accept the conditions. The better element in Cuba favors ultimate annexation with the United States, but I believe a large proportion agree that it would better come after a trial of independence has been made."

Physician Stabbed to Death.

SUNBURY, Pa., April 4.—Dr. Johnson, a physician in the State Hospital For the Insane at Danville, Montour county, was stabbed to death last night by an insane Italian patient named Capello. Capello became unmanageable during the afternoon and threw the institution into confusion. The other patients became alarmed, and their cries could be heard some distance away. An attendant finally subdued the Italian, and as Dr. Johnson was stooping over him taking his temperature he plunged his knife into the doctor's breast three times. Thinking he was not seriously hurt, Dr. Johnson started toward his room, but before he had proceeded very far he fell to the floor a corpse. The affair has caused great excitement.

Tilley Ordered From Tutuila.

WASHINGTON, April 4. — Orders have been sent forward by the navy department for Commander Benjamin F. Tilley, the naval commandant of the naval station at Tutuila, Samoa, to come to Washington. Commander Tilley has been anxious for some time past to confer with the assistant secretary of the navy in regard to the needs of his station on the Samoan island, and this order will give him the opportunity as well as a chance to visit his family in the United States. He will leave Tutuila upon the first available steamer homeward bound and will return to his post after the completion of his business in Washington.

A New Match Company.

AKRON, O., April 4.—The Buckeye Match company, with a capital stock of $200,000, has been organized here and will erect a large plant for the manufacture of both matches and matchmaking machines. The company is independent of the Diamond Match company and will enter into competition with it. The incorporators of the new company are members of the Everett Railway syndicate of Cleveland.

Strike at Kingston.

KINGSTON, N. Y., April 4.—One hundred employees of the Peckham Manufacturing company, makers of car wheels and trucks, quit work yesterday. The company prepared contracts by which the employees should agree to obey new regulations. The majority refused to sign. They have organized.

IMPORTANT POSTAL CHANGE.

Reduction of Rates For Moneys Sent Between This Country and Canada.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—An arrangement has just been concluded between the United States and Canada under which all postal moneys sent between this country and Canada will go at the domestic rate of three-tenths of 1 per cent instead of the international rate of 1 per cent as at present. This concession is regarded as more important to the money order business than any action taken since the inception of the system. Negotiations had been in progress for some time between the respective postal administrations looking to the further unification of the postal systems of the United States and Canada with respect to the money order business.

The money orders annually sent to Canada now aggregate about $2,000,000 and in the other direction a little less than that amount. The exchange of these orders is now restricted to 4,000 offices in this country, but under the new arrangement will be extended to 30,000 offices in this country, any money order office in either country being thus authorized to issue or pay them.

It is expected that the radical reduction in the rate will treble the business. The reduction is especially important to business interests along the border. It is probable that similar arrangements will be made with the Philippines, Cuba and elsewhere.

Famous Japanese Temples Burned.

VANCOUVER, B. C., April 4.—Latest oriental advices recount the burning of the celebrated Temple Hommongi at Ikegami on the night of March 9. The fire started in the students' dormitory, where 70 students were reading late at night for a pending examination. No supply of water was available, the building being located on a hill, and although 100 firemen from Hinagawa and the neighboring districts hastened to the scene their exertions were of little efficacy. Few of the renowned places of Japan are more familiar to foreigners than this fine and beautifully situated temple, standing in a grove of trees and commanding a fine view. It stood on the spot where the Buddhist saint Nichiren died in 1282. Originally erected in the year 275, it was re-erected after a fire in the days of the third Tokufawa Shogun. Sparks from the burning building were carried to the Temple Myokyo, which stands at a distance of about 120 yards to the southeast, and this, too, was destroyed. A few days later the famous Temple Ziken-Ji was destroyed by fire at Okitsu.

Receipts at New York Postoffice.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Postmaster Van Cott of New York city has reported to the postoffice department that the gross receipts of his office for the quarter ended March 31 were $2,746,700 against $2,503,367 for the corresponding quarter a year ago. This makes an increase of 9.72 per cent in New York's postal business. Third Assistant Postmaster General Madden has gone to New York in connection with the plans for relieving the congestion of postal business there and other matters. He will look into the operation of the new scheme of handling the registry business direct from the stations without going through the main office.

Boston's Milk War.

BOSTON, April 4.—Representatives of the contractors and the New England Milk Producers' union were in conference for nearly six hours yesterday in the hope that the differences at present existing might be satisfactorily adjusted and the milk war brought to an end. This result was not accomplished, and the meeting adjourned until today. The third day of the milk war has brought no discomforts to the consumer so far as is visible to the general public. President Ward states that 18,000 cans were withheld yesterday from the city's usual supply and that an increased amount will be held today.

Control of the Delaware and Hudson.

NEW YORK, April 4.—The World says this morning that the Vanderbilts have secured control of the Delaware and Hudson railroad by the purchase of a majority of the capital stock in the open market, and terms are being discussed on which the New York Central will take control. It is understood that the New York Central is to guarantee 7 per cent to the stockholders, and it is not improbable that the Lake Shore deal will be exactly duplicated—that is, the New York Central will issue 3½ per cent 100 year collateral trust gold bonds at the rate of $200 in bonds for each share in stock.

A Paving Stone Trust.

ROCHESTER, April 4.—Plans have been perfected by which before business opens up this spring all the stone quarries in western New York producing the famous Medina block paving stones are to be formed into a trust with a capital of $1,500,000. John J. Ryan, an attorney of Medina, and Michael Slack, owner of one of the largest quarries in the state, are the prime movers in the new concern. There are 15 quarries in the western part of Monroe county, about 40 in Orleans and several in other counties, making a total of about 75.

Cubans Make No Progress.

HAVANA, April 4.—The Cuban constitutional convention yesterday took up the propositions of Senor de Quesada and Senor Tamayo regarding the relations with the United States which were Tuesday laid upon the table, but only three members voted for the proposal of Senor de Quesada and only six for that of Senor Tamayo. The other propositions will be considered at the next meeting of the convention, which will be held Saturday. The question of sending a commission to Washington was not discussed.

General Young Coming East.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 4.—General S. H. M. Young, who is to succeed General Shafter as commandant of the military department of California, has left for Washington, accompanied by Lieutenant Smedburg.

Public Building Contract.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—The secretary of the treasury has awarded to M. Yeager & Son of Danville, Ills., the contract for the construction of the public building at Clinton, Ills., on their bid of $63,264.

IS NOT ABLE TO SIGN.

China Formally Notifies Russia to That Effect.

DESIRES FRIENDSHIP WITH ALL.

Li Hung Chang Says This Settles the Matter Definitely—Negotiations Practically Concluded Except Question of Indemnities.

PEKING, April 4.—The Chinese government has formally notified Russia that China, owing to the attitude of the powers, is not able to sign the Manchurian convention.

"It is China's desire," says the formal notification, "to keep on friendly terms with all nations. At present she is going through a period which is the most perilous in the empire's history, and it is necessary that she should have the friendship of all.

"However much she might be willing to grant any special privilege to one power, when others object it is impossible that for the sake of making one nation friendly she should alienate the sympathies of all others."

Li Hung Chang says this letter settles the matter definitely and that Russia was informally notified to the same effect March 29.

Prince Ching asserts that every Chinaman except Li Hung Chang was against signing the convention.

So soon as the generals of the powers notify the ministers as to what disposition is desired of articles 8 and 9 of the protocol everything will be practically concluded except the indemnities, the only claims not ready being the British, German and Japanese. The Germans say they can be ready in two days, and the Japanese assert that they can be ready at a moment's warning. Private claims, however, can be filed until May 14, and this may delay the presentation to the Chinese plenipotentiaries.

A majority of the ministers are in favor of making a general claim so soon as the government claims are in, making allowances for a few thousands for possible future claims, although it is believed that all private claims are now filed.

Li Hung Chang and Prince Ching have sent to the court for approval a list of names presented by the ministers of the powers for punishment. The death list has been reduced to four names for degradation and to 91 for loss of office. No objection is anticipated, as the men are only prominent in local communities.

Chinese Robbers Defeated.

BERLIN, April 4.—The war office has received a dispatch from Count von Waldersee formally reporting the defeat on March 31 of 1,000 Chinese robbers by a company of Germans seven miles north of Tien-tsin. He adds that the robbers are being pursued and also that a detachment of infantry, at the request of the Chinese local authorities, has been sent from Tien-tsin to Hwang-sun and Liu-ting-kan to protect the inhabitants from robbers.

Peaceful Settlement Impossible.

CANTON, April 4.—It is reported that the viceroy has received a telegram from the court to the effect that a peaceable settlement of affairs is impossible. The viceroy is described as much disturbed by this communication.

Arkwright Collection For America.

LONDON, April 4.—One of the most renowned collections of oriental china in England, begun by Arkwright, the inventor of cotton spinning, has been sold for a large sum to Duveen Bros. to be sent to New York. The collection includes specimens of the rarest Chinese porcelain, including the largest peach blow vase in the world. This vase is 18 inches high and nearly twice the size of the famous vase from the Stephens collection, now in the Walters collection in Baltimore.

Tried to Crowd Phillips.

CHICAGO, April 4.—A strong effort was made on the board of trade yesterday to crowd George M. Phillips, the "corn king," to the wall. He was driven clear out of the wheat market, but gave up none of his holdings in corn or oats. The day was the biggest of its kind the board has witnessed in many years, the governing conditions unusual, and the jam of struggling, howling brokers and traders cutting antics filled the public galleries to the limit.

Chicago to Hamburg.

CHICAGO, April 4.—The new Chicago transatlantic steamship Northwestern will sail on its first trip from Chicago to Hamburg on April 24. A cargo of agricultural implements and miscellaneous freight will be carried on the first trip. It is expected that the entire voyage down the lakes, the St. Lawrence and across the Atlantic will take only 22 days. The boat and its sister ship will make regular trips to Hamburg after April 24.

Dead Dog Lay In State.

MOUNT VERNON, N. Y., April 4.—Resting in a bed of rare flowers which had been arranged around a tiny white satin coffin, lay the dead body of Baby, the pet black and tan dog of Mrs. George H. Primrose, wife of the minstrel, yesterday. The coffin lay in the front hall bedroom, and neighbors called to pay their last respects to Baby. Today Baby was buried in the pet dogs' cemetery in Hartsdale.

More Horses Wanted.

BOSTON, April 4.—Dr. Frazer, a special commissioner of the British government, was in this city yesterday making inquiries as to the facilities for shipping from this port a consignment of 900 Canadian horses for the British army in South Africa.

An Official Indicted.

KINGSTON, N. Y., April 4.—Highway Commissioner Henry Hasa of Gardiner has been indicted for grand larceny. It is charged that he appropriated $500 of the town funds upon the refusal of the town board to audit his bill for extra services.

Brakeman Blown From Train.

NEW YORK, April 4.—David Lounsbery, a Jersey Central railroad brakeman, was blown from the top of a freight train during the gale which passed over Somerville, N. J., and died shortly after. He lived in Phillipsburg, N. J.

Famine and Typhus In Russia.

ODESSA, April 4.—Famine and typhus are raging throughout the governments of Kherson and Bessarabia and portions of the governments of Kiev and Taurida. The mortality is 30 per cent of the entire population.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., APRIL 4, 1901.

COMING EVENTS

April 5—Meeting of Borough Council.

April 5—Good Friday service at Crescent Avenue church.

April 7—Hugh R. Monro, vice-president of the Niagara Lithograph Company, of Buffalo will address the Y. M. C. A. rally. Miss Grace D. Hildebrand, "the Gospel Nightingale," will sing. She was soloist for four years in Dr Cadman's Metropolitan Temple, New York city.

Public Opinion.

A detailed summary of the vote on municipal ownership will be found in another column. It shows that out of 436 taxpayers who filled out ballots and sent them to The Daily Press office, 432 were in favor of the municipal ownership of the water supply plant and four were against it. The rest of the taxpayers of the city and borough did not feel enough interest in the ballot to send in their votes.

There can be no doubt but that the general sentiment in both city and borough is in favor of municipal ownership. It may be, and undoubtedly is, that many of the tax payers have given the subject little or no consideration. They argue that there is money in the business and that if a private corporation can conduct such an enterprise with profit, a municipality can do the same. There is a great deal of truth in that argument but the subject is a broad one and must be looked at carefully and the result of the various influences which might be brought to bear considered.

The Common Council has referred the subject to the committee on streets and sewers for investigation. It is not likely that the committee will attempt any exhaustive investigation without further instructions from the Council. It will probably report back to the Council what preliminary steps should be taken. It will then rest with the Council as to whether or not the subject shall be looked into more deeply.

This ballot of The Daily Press has accomplished its object in that it has shown fairly how public opinion is on the subject. The inferences may be summed up briefly. The people of Plainfield and North Plainfield who take much in the subject are in favor of the municipal ownership of the water works, but there is a vast number who have given the subject no thought and do not care who owns the water works as long as they are not compelled to pay any more.

A meeting of the Common Council will be held this evening when final action is expected to be taken on the ordinance which provides for the improvement of the sewage disposal beds and the awarding of the contract for doing the same. It is a question which has been before the people of Plainfield for many months. The Council has considered the matter long and carefully. The present action is taken at the recommendation of J. O. Osgood, who was secured by the Council as the most valuable expert on that subject who could be obtained. If there is any citizen or citizens who have anything to say before the final decision is made, it behooves them to appear before the Council this evening or else forever after hold their peace.

A change has been made in the head of the local governing body of the Republican party. Mayor O. L Jenkins has been elected to the chairmanship of the Republican city executive committee. Last year, Councilman J. B. Dumont was chairman and served his party very efficiently. While Mayor Jenkins has been a member of the committee for several years, this will be his first experience in command. There is an important election coming in the fall and he will have an excellent opportunity to show his ability in marshalling the forces of the G. O. P. at that time.

The Newark, (N. J.) manager of the Bankers' Life, (an insurance company) had a profound faith in the benefits of newspaper advertising, says the Philadelphia Record. To convince the company officers he bore the expense of a month's display advertising in the leading newspapers. As to the result he said: "We increased our business in this state from about $25,000 to over $300,000 in a single month through newspaper publicity." It is his opinion that in the near future the insurance companies will be large newspaper advertisers.

A strong appeal is made by the Washington (N. J.) Star to the people of Warren county for good roads. The present "turnpikes" are characterized as a disgrace to the county. It is a worthy effort and The Star should have the support of every good citizen of Warren, regardless of politics. There are many counties in New Jersey which can trace their prosperity directly to the systems of macadam roads which have been built witt in their borders.

As strangers and townsfolk cross the bridge that spans Green brook and joins Madison avenue and Duer street, they still find the view from the point anything but beautiful. Somebody in the city ought to wake up. People are beginning to wonder who is responsible for the neglect.

Final action will be taken tonight on the proposed improvements at the city sewage disposal beds. If there is any better plan or any reason why the work should not be done now, the Common Council should be informed tonight before it is too late.

The Young Women's Club is an excellent institution and is deserving of good support. A great deal can be accomplished for the young women of the city and borough who can be reached in no other way.

It is probable that the Republicans will have some more amendments to make to their primary laws. The enrollment plan which was in vogue last year, did not find overwhelming favor in the eyes of many.

City Collector Frank H Smith is showing continued activity in his campaign against those taxpayers who forgot or didn't want to pay their taxes.

There are many Plainfielders who do not appreciate what an excellent institution the city possesses in the Public Library.

The ballots showed very plainly how the public opinion stands on the question of municipal ownership.

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence.)

Dunellen, April 4—Beginning with this spring and continuing thereafter, thereafter, the pupils of the borough schools will have no Easter vacation as has been granted them in years past. The Board of Education reached this decision at the regular monthly meeting, held Tuesday evening. The summer vacation, however, will begin one week earlier than usual. The only other matter of importance transacted was the appointment of the various committees for the ensuing year which were as follows: Teachers, Gaskill, chairman, Todd and Hamilton; text books and supplies, Dickerson, chairman, Fredericks and Herlick; repairs, Stites, chairman, Schneider and Titsworth; truant committee, Schneider, chairman, Stites and Gaskill. A committee was also appointed to arrange for the annual commencement which takes place in June.

Wishing to have a few moment's conversation with Michael McLaughlin at the Washington avenue crossing, Henry Stevens, of the borough, went into the flag house yesterday and left outside a bag which he was carrying. When he returned a short time later the bag had disappeared and the contents also which Henry claims were three of his choicest fowls. He has since been on a still hunt for the chickens or the person who took them but his search has so far proved futile.

The car load of scrap iron which was attached by Tax Collector Smith, of Plainfield, Monday, still remains in the local freight yard. So far as can be learned no settlement has been made by the Chapot firm who are said to be the owners.

The annual meeting of the Middlesex County Board of Education will be held at the Mansion House, New Brunswick, April 26. The local board will be represented by six members and ex members.

The Card Club was pleasantly entertained Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wynkoop. The prizes were taken by Miss Dunham and Robert Giddes.

The regular meeting of the Board of Trade will be held this evening in the borough building.

Mrs. Josephine Dunham has returned from a week's visit with relatives.

Mrs. W. E. Terry was the guest of New York friends Tuesday.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence.)

New Market, April 4—The petition for a trolley connection with Plainfield is still being circulated and new names are being added daily. There is still room for more, however, before it is presented.

Garretson & Gray, of Dunellen, have made a contract for half the crushed stone to be used in Piscataway township during the ensuing year. J. Y. Wilson has contracted to furnish the other half.

John Ryno, of New Brunswick, was the guest of his son, Ambrose Ryno, yesterday.

Miss Maud Ruppell is confined to her home with a severe attack of the grip.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence.)

Scotch Plains, April 4—Miss Emma Clark and Miss Tina Klemser, graduates of the Ruth Business College at Plainfield, went to New York today to show their proficiency in typewriting.

Special Easter music will be rendered in all the local churches next Sunday, and preparations have been making for sometime past.

The Township Committee is having North avenue, near Hoppel's farm, macadamized. The improvement will be greatly appreciated.

The Epworth League Literary Society of the M. E. church held a very interesting meeting in the church last evening.

Charles Slint, of Mountain avenue, has purchased a team of horses for use on his farm.

Miss Frenrz, who has been visiting her sister at Plainfield, has returned home.

Edward Miller, of Mountain avenue, has purchased a new Orient wheel.

Herbert Mooney has resigned his position in Jersey City.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD

(Special Correspondence.)

South Plainfield, April 4—Manager Weaver, of the Middlesex Athletic Baseball Club, will have the club's ball diamond scraped and rolled as soon as it is sufficiently dry.

John Dorgan has resigned the agency for the New York papers. Adam Deiter now has the contract for their delivery. Walter Conners will act as carrier.

The ball team of the Middlesex Athletic Club is arranging its schedule. There are as yet four of five open dates.

David Hand and family will move this week to Westfield, where they will reside in the future.

Cornelius Teeple who broke his leg two weeks ago is improving under the doctor's care.

The annual business meeting of the Baptist church will be held Saturday afternoon.

The Ladies Aid Society meet this afternoon at the Home of Mrs. William Manning.

An important meeting of the P. O. S. of A. will be held tonight at 8 o'clock.

Bert Randolph has secured a position with the Lehigh Valley Railroad.

John Geary is improving from his recent illness.

LENTEN CANTATA.

Will be Given at the Plainfield High School Tomorrow Morning.

Good Friday will be observed in the Plainfield schools. In the High school a special programme has been arranged which is peculiarly appropriate to the day. The main part of the exercises will be of a musical nature.

Charles L. Lewis, the instructor in music, who has taken much pains to make the affair a success, will direct the rendition of an inspiring Lenten cantata, entitled "The Story of Calvary." The work, which is by Rhodes, is set to music by Schnecker, and is much on the order of the "Story of the Cross." It contains a number of baritone solos, mixed trios and choruses. The solo parts will be sung by Mr. Lewis himself and the choruses by the High school pupils.

HIGH PRAISE.

What The Christian Herald Says About Miss Hildebrand.

The Christian Herald of August 8, in writing of Grace D. Hildebrand, who will sing at the big meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Hall Sunday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock, says: "Miss Hildebrand has a voice of remarkable power and sweetness which has earned for her the title of 'The Gospel Nightingale.' Her thorough musical education might have fitted her for a stage career had not her religious convictions been early and deeply awakened. Two years Ira D. Sankey heard this delightful singer at the head of a chorus of sixty voices and at the close of the exercise talked with her and obtained her promise to devote her voice and talent to the Lord."

Watched Battalion Drill.

A number of the members of Company K. went to Newark last evening for the purpose of witnessing a drill of the battalions attached to the Second regiment. They were cordially received by the officers in charge and were greatly pleased with the maneuvres. Among the party were Lieutenants W. K. Browning and John Lewis. First Sergeant J. P. Mosher, Second Sergeant Charles Peterson, Corporal J. Stanley Mosher and Private James Niles.

Cashin's New Store

M. J. Cashin, the fashionable tailor, has opened a store at 125 Park avenue, where he is prepared to do the finest work in men's tailoring. He has a complete stock of up-to-date cloths for suitings or separate garments. He guarantees his work to give satisfaction.

Wm. Tobin's Condition Serious.

The condition of Wm. Tobin, of West Fourth street, who is at the hospital with a crushed foot, has become very serious. The injured member shows no signs of improvement and the patient is too weak to allow amputation. He is irrational a great deal of the time.

—Campbell's put up their candy in Easter boxes at usual prices and give Easter cards Saturday.

IS VERY POPULAR.

Great Success Has Met Little Irene Myers in Her Performance at Music Hall.

Little Irene Myers is a very interesting little body and is endowed with versatility scarcely to be expected in one of her tender age. In the several roles already presented, her natural talent has had good opportunity for display, but by far the best of her impersonations thus far, is that of "Little Lord Fauntleroy," in the play of that name which was the bill at Music Hall last night. It was capitally performed, and all concerned are deserving of praise.

Not only are the plays of the Myers Company pleasing and entertaining, but the introduced specialties, notably the vocal quartette, are worthy of commendation. Tonight "The Corner Grocery" with little Irene in the character of "Jimmy Dolan" will be presented.

Tomorrow night will be a gala event, "Under Two Flags" with little Irene as "Cigarette, the Vivandiere," and the amateur contest, should crowd the house to repletion. Money prizes will be the reward of successful competitors and some good things are promised.

Will Give Concert.

Arrangements are being made to give a concert in the German Reformed church Thursday, May 9.

A former trolley car conductor, a young married man with two children, living in Camden, N. J., recounts a fairly alarming experience. "I have suffered," he declares, "what would have sent some young men to an asylum. For the past two years I have suffered from indigestion and nervous dyspepsia. I was employed as a conductor on the trolley cars by the Camden Suburban R. R., but was forced to give up that position on account of my ailment. My nerves were all unstrung. I had palpitation of the heart and would jump up in the night with a horrible nightmare and would sob like a child and could not control myself. I became very thin, weighing only one hundred and eight pounds. I employed several physicians and was treated by hypodermic injections of morphine, which only relieved me for a little while, and afterward I would soon suffer worse than ever. I have come home after a hard day's work on the cars and would walk the floor, believing every minute would be my last, my heart would palpitate so. One morning, when I was feeling worse than ever, I saw the ad. of Ripans Tabules in the Philadelphia Record. I had seen it often before, but it had never struck me so forcibly before. I decided to try them, although my last physician had warned me not to take any stock in patent medicines. The first box relieved me and I decided to try another, and after using the second box the nervous spells were less frequent and my heart began to get more normal. I have used altogether eight boxes of the 5 cent kind. I have gained in weight from one hundred and eight to one hundred and eighteen pounds, and am feeling like myself again. My family all use them, and I would not be without them in the house. I feel that I owe my present health to their beneficial results."
WANTED:—A case of bad health that R·I·P·A·N·S will not benefit. They banish pain and prolong life. One gives relief. Note the word R·I·P·A·N·S on the package and accept no substitute. R·I·P·A·N·S, 10 for 5 cents, may be had at any drug store. Ten samples and one thousand testimonials will be mailed to any address for 5 cents, for sending to the Ripans Chemical Co., No. 10 Spruce St., New York.

Some Pretty Fashions to Be Worn on Easter Sunday

New York Boulevards Will Present a Brilliant Spectacle If the Weather Permits

Some Hats and Gowns for Wear on Easter Sunday

NEW YORK boulevards will be brilliant with an array of fashionably dressed men and women on Easter Sunday should the weather prove propitious. The Easter display promises to this year be even more gorgeous than is usual, though there will be a considerable sprinkling of somber tones in the fashionable toilettes, worn, no doubt, as a mark of respect to England's late queen, for whom New York mourns out of sympathy for London quite as much as for the queen herself.

With the men's clothing we have nothing to do, it is prosaic and uninteresting as men's clothing always is, but the gowns and hats and wraps of the women are not so easily disposed of, nor do we wish to dispose of them in so easy a manner.

Some of the hats that will be seen are of what the everyday woman would call the plain and sensible styles, and others will be of the immense Gainsborough order, trimmed with flowers, or with cut or applique garlands, and the colors of the brightest hues.

One conspicuous and yet pretty hat that will be worn is a large one of black and white braid, tilted up high directly in front, and wound with blue ribbon. Huge bunches of blue roses, and a large black velvet bow with buckle of gems directly in front. The crown is veiled with fine black net over blue taffeta.

Another hat of the large variety is a broad white affair of white French straw. The brim is edged with a silk lace, and the crown is covered with garlands of pink roses and veiled with white silk net at one side, and a mass of green leaves, with a cascade of the lace brought in and out.

A third hat on the novelty order is of black mousseline de soie in wee tucks, with rows of black velvet between. At the left side, where the hat is tilted, there is a huge bunch of white rosebuds, and another bunch at the right side of the low crown.

Of the charming novelty gowns one that is most attractive is of pearl gray cloth, trimmed with stitched bands of turquoise blue taffeta, edged with a narrow gold braid. The skirt has a plain panel front, with wide strapping of the turquoise blue taffeta just below the hips, extending down the front on each side of a panel, and around the bottom of the skirt, with another similar strapping about three inches above this, and also extending all around the skirt. It has a slightly full blouse of ecru guipure over the blue taffeta, with a short bolero of gray cloth, trimmed with sailor collar effect, and deep pointed ends of the stitched taffeta down the front. A short sleeve, with deep cuff of the cloth, revealing an under sleeve of the guipure lace.

THREE STYLES OF THE EASTER HAT.

A NOVELTY GOWN FOR EASTER.

Possibilities of a Change in Men's Attire in England

SOME months will yet elapse before the official coronation of King Edward VII. as king of Great Britain and Ireland and emperor of India, but it is not yet too early for New York to begin to take an interest in the affair.

Many New York society people are planning to be in London at that time, and among them many who were friends of King Edward when he was prince of Wales. These are trusting that the former friendship of the English sovereign will obtain for them invitations to the society events that will be a feature of the coronation. These same friends (?) are watching eagerly for hints as to the costumes that will be worn at this time, and the suggestion comes to them from London with something of a shock that the men will for the occasion return to the brilliant colorings of the Carolean period. Not only is there a prediction as to these colorings, but with it comes a suggestion of silks and satins, laces and velvets as materials for masculine clothing.

One English journal in commenting on this probable revival of a style that has long since been buried with the effeminate array of those days, says:

"Certainly modern masculine attire cannot be described as beautiful, and it is quite possible to imagine garb more pleasing to the eye than that to which man has been doomed by conventionality and latter-day fashions. At the same time one cannot but think that as the hour brings the man, so the garb is fitted in this case to the wearer. Nothing is more desirable than the revival of the picturesque and the restoration of pageantry which the new reign is evidently to bring about, and we pleasurably look forward to scenes of great splendor whenever occasion presents itself for the display of beautiful costumes. At the same time it is scarcely to be believed that the Englishman will readily adopt for himself a garb which can be described as picturesque. The gorgeous clothing of the Carolean period would not attune with the character of the men of to-day; and however pleasing to the eye it might be to see our "lords and masters" in silks and satins, velvets and laces, our sense of the fitness of things would rebel against blunt, manly John Bull in such effeminate array. That he may display an occasional fancy for bright waistcoats, and give way a little in the matter of ties is as well; but it would not be to the advantage of the nation that its men should revert to fashions which suggest effeminacy and affectation, and, moreover, to be eminently practical, which are thoroughly unsuited to our climate and pursuits."

SARAH DAVIDSON.

Has an Enviable Record.

Charles Bellamy has been a fireman for 16 years on the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad, and has never missed a trip. During that time he has traveled 606,840 miles, and burned 32,501 tons of coal.

Very Small Indeed.

BELLE OF THE UTES.

How a Denver Man Became Engaged to Her Unconsciously.

A Little Comedy of Errors Which Is Giving Considerable Trouble to Its Hero—All Came Out of an Exchange of Gifts.

John P. Altberger, Denver manager of the Western Union Telegraph company, has often sighed for a lodge in the wilderness, and, to gratify his longing, has cultivated a friendly relation with the Ute Indians around Ignacio, Col. He now wishes that he had never seen an Indian, and will try to protect his eyes from the sight of one for years to come, for he has come under a ban so severe that his blood may some day pay for an insult to the greatest remnant of a once powerful tribe.

It was not intentional, says the Chicago Tribune, but the fact remains that the fancied offense was committed, and no authority that the redskin recognizes can alter the impression that a white man has been making sport of their finer feelings.

Buckskin Charley contends that Altberger is legally betrothed to his pretty young daughter, Pa-Ba-a-Gat, known in the fluent queen's language as Fannie Buck, and he will not allow any attempt to controvert that assertion.

Altberger was an unwilling and innocent victim, for he knew nothing of the ways of the wily Indian when he ventured down to the agency three months ago to recreate and, incidentally, get a few days of the finest trout fishing known in the west. To gain the good graces of the Indians he had provided himself with several cheap trinkets, which he employed to the best advantage. He fell in with Buckskin Charley at the first outset, and forthwith gave him one of those tin watches that sell for a dollar in the city and have their insides keyed up to a pitch that makes a noise resembling the grinding of a capstan on an ocean liner. The old man was won, and took the telegraph man to his home, promising him the best of lodgings during his stay on the agency, and wound up with an introduction to his loveliest of daughters, the 16-year-old Pa-Ba-a-Gat, queen of the tribe.

As Altberger patted the swarthy hand of the daughter of the house he hastily thought of his store of trinkets. He had reserved a stock of beads which he intended using to trade for blankets. Quick as thought the Western Union man dove down into his grip and dragged forth the finest necklace of cheap glass beads that had ever been seen on the reservation.

His vacation over, Mr. Altberger returned to Denver and was soon buried in the noise of his office. The incident of his vacation had even passed beyond memory, when the express brought a magnificent buckskin vest trimmed in the most barbaric gorgeousness with porcupine quills, elks' teeth and rattlesnake tails. This made Altberger proud, and he hung the garment in his private office for the delectation of his city friends. One day Charles Christy, the famous scout, who has been in Colorado long enough to see Pike's Peak come out of the ground, dropped in on his friend John to discuss the next summer vacation and smoke a pipe. As his eyes lighted on the buckskin vest he grew curious and demanded the story. Altberger told of his acquisition with all the pride of a father over his first born. As he warmed up Christy was thrown into a violent fit of laughter. When he recovered he informed his host that the present of a gift to the father, followed by a necklace to the daughter, constituted a betrothal that only lacked the reciprocity of the charmer to make a wedding obligatory.

Now, Altberger has a wife of his own, and he didn't propose to establish a Colorado branch of the Mormon Zion. He was solemnly informed by his friend that there was no severance of the tie after the girl sent her present, and every warrior of the tribe would shed his last drop of blood to enforce the aboriginal contract.

The father kindly notified the telegraph man later that he would be up in the fall to attend the regular Denver festival and would have the pretty Fannie in his train with the most complete trousseau that was ever designed from the pelts of bucks and does.

Altberger in the meantime is studying hard and keeping the wires sizzling between Denver and Ignacio to call off the whole affair, but no one seems to understand and give him credit for extreme diffidence.

TEUTONIC RAT STORY.

Chicago Daily News Tells How a German Baker Cleared His Premises of Rodents.

"The baker was telling me that you have cleared your premises of rats,' said the young policeman. "Is it true?"

"Yah! Yah!" responded Herr Hopf "und der frau asks for a sbecial thanksgiving day to observe der fact. Ven I dink uf der rads ve had I shiffer. It vas like der memory uf a bickel team Mr. Boliceman, ve had rads vid Boer viskers der size uf a kitten. Dey vud drill dunnels under der bricks und den roll bumbernickel under vidout breakin' der loaf. All night I vud lay in bed und hear der male rad duing gymnastics on der rafders und der female rads holding society meedins in der valls. Ve set traps, but der rads gnawed off der doors und played hide-und-zeek inside. Boison made der dribe stoud. But von day der frau und myself found salvation und der rads found death. Der frau forgod to cover der yeast bod und afther ve had gone to bed ve heard der rads eadin' der yeast Soon afder der vas a sharp rebord und I grabbed mient bistol und vent down I vas sure it vas burglars. Presently der vas two more repords right by me und I vas frightened. After vile I saw a big rad in der lighd from der range Der vas a repord und I didn't see nuddin' but his dail on der floor. Und den it vas all exblained. Der yeast vas rising until it exploded der rads. Mr Boliceman, der rads exploded all night und der next day der vas not a whole rad on my side uf der fence."

"Another case of extermination by expansion," remarked the young policeman.

"Yah," said Herr Hopf, "der government might try it on der Filipinos."

MANIAC'S ODD NOTION.

He Thinks He Is a Full-Fledged Battleship and Imitates Actions of the Oregon.

One of the queerest cases of hallucination the experts on insanity at Bellevue hospital, New York, have had is that of Jacob Marks, a waiter of 441 Third avenue, who was taken to them in a straitjacket the other night. He imagines himself to be the battleship Oregon, and he whistles, backs, and fights with imaginary Spanish war vessels and sinks them.

Policeman Pierce say Marks making his way down Third avenue. At one Hundred and Twenty-fifth street he backed against the elevated railroad pillars and made a noise with his mouth, as a child imitates the whistle of a steam engine.

"Let go the port gun," the man yelled. "Now the top turret gun and smash them. Back!"

Pierce seized the man and held him while Marks puffed, whistled and gave orders. Dr. Levy, of the Harlem hospital, arrived in an ambulance and the man then became violent. He fought hard, but the doctor and the ambulance driver and the policeman put him in a straitjacket. The man imagined Dr. Levy to be a lighthouse, and he said he was drifting on the rocks. He gave orders to "back her," and "not to let her on the rocks," and then he gave a howl in a deep bass tone, which he said was a fog horn. When they put him in the insane pavilion he was engaged in another conflict with Spanish ships.

Man with a Musical Heart.

A man with a musical heart was lately an inmate of a hospital in Springfield, Mass. Owing to the peculiar valvular action of his heart, at every beat it made a sound like the twangling of a violin string. Some years ago this man, whose name is Jacob Millkovowski, received a dagger thrust from a Russian Cossack, and the point of the weapon slightly pierced his heart. The twanging noise, it is thought, was thus caused.

Gold in a Wild Goose.

A mild sensation has been caused in New Westminster, B. C., by the discovery of $12.50 in gold as big as flaxseed in the crop of a wild goose which was killed at Pitt lake, 28 miles from Westminster. Many prospectors have started for the scene of the supposed gold placers.

Henrietta Crossman a Bright Star of the Season

She Has Scored a Brilliant Success in the Charming Play, "Mistress Nell."

A NEW star has appeared in the theatrical firmament, or perhaps it is better said a wandering star has reappeared—a star so brilliant, so dominant, that for the moment we can see no other. The scintillations of wit, the vividness of portrayal of character and time, the flashes of feeling, all have contributed to the ascendancy of Miss Henrietta Crossman. And such a voice as she is gifted with, such grace and beauty.

It is in "Mistress Nell" Miss Crossman has suddenly leaped into fame this season, a play written by a young westerner, a Wisconsin man. No mention of the queen is made in "Mistress Nell" and we are saved from the observation of Nell as king's light-o'-love, we are given a pretty love story with no dark suggestiveness. The play gives absolutely no offense, and when we remember Nell was deemed of sufficient respectability—or was it of sufficient notability—to have her funeral sermon preached by Dr. Tenison, afterward archbishop of Canterbury, we do not feel ashamed of acquaintance with Eleanor Gwyn.

If the real Nell Gwyn were half as irresistible as Miss Crossman's, no wonder Charles forgot state and crown, no wonder Mr. Pepys "admired her" and he and his wife kissed her after the play; no wonder she became England's most idolized actress. And it was not Nell's physical charms alone, nor her fearless, piquant wit, and her merry heart and face, that won and held admiration in those days—that to-day, 250 years later, win and hold our admiration. It was the virtues of loyalty and charity that contributed so large a part of her character which constituted so large a part of the claim she has for remembrance by the present generation. It was not simply because she was loved by the king—there were others, whose names and deeds are long buried in oblivion—but that her powerful influence over Charles was usually exercised on the side of right. To-day, a worthy monument of her tender-heartedness and warmheartedness, stands the Royal hospital at Chelsea, through her influence founded by the king for the benefit of crippled soldiers. And when she died—as she wished, before age had laid its blighting hand—she directed in her will "His grace of St. Albans lay out £20 every Christmas for the releasing of poor debtors from prison."

And Miss Crossman gives us in Nell Gwyn not merely a court favorite, a moment's caprice, but a womanly, loving woman; mischievous, a madcap, but generous and clever.

Poverty in the days of King Charles was poverty indeed, and that was the environment of Nell's early life. She started her career as orange girl in the pit of the King's theater, and won notice for the gay answers she tossed the beaux along with the oranges. One Duncan, marking her beauty, ease, grace and wit, transferred her to the stage. Prior to her time female characters had been portrayed by men, and it was a marked innovation when a real woman made her appearance with the actors. The actress proper thus comes into being in Charles the Second's reign.

Nell took the town by storm. The king showed an active interest in the drama, and of course the nobility followed suit. Nell rose from the position of poor orange girl to that of queen of the stage; and rose, or fell, to that of queen of the king's heart.

In the play "Mistress Nell," the curtain rises on the greenroom of the King's theater in London. The duke of Buckingham comes in and confides to the audience the state of his feelings for Nell. The tragic actor-manager comes in and gives the audience interesting confidences of the same nature. A dissipated old rag-bags appears and proffers lachrymose disclosures of his feelings towards Nell. A little orange girl, in the intervals between carrying on her trade, tells of Nell's beneficence to her. And when we are all worked up to the proper pitch of curiosity, and the orange girl has been cruelly repulsed, and all are grouped so as to leave room in the center, in bounds Nell, radiant, beautiful, a fit object for universal worship. She soon sets everybody right — the orange girl is kissed and soothed, the duke saucily answered, the tragic actor-manager likewise, the lachrymose one comforted and enriched. Nell takes the orange basket and, crying her wares in musical tones, disposes of the fruit at the highest price. She proves herself able to take care of herself, able to take care of those not so fortunate.

Her gowns are beautiful, but she is so much more so they fall into the background, though always a becoming background. In some filmy white stuff, glittering here and there, her arms filled with the flowers sent by the king, she is a picture long to be remembered. And when from the top of the wall on the terrace she talks to the king, who walks below on the green walk that moonlight night, she is very lovely indeed; rich satin gleaming, soft lace rising and falling as she laughingly tosses back sallies to that monarch, "who never said a foolish thing, or never did a wise one."

Aubrey Boucicault most admirably portrays the character of Charles, and divides with Miss Crossman the honors. We see Charles as gallant, as good fellow with his nobles, as defender of Nell's honor; the brave, witty, cynical king is well suggested, but in "Mistress Nell" of course he is particularly prominent as Nell's lover.

Historically, and in the play, the duchess of Portsmouth is Nell's rival. The duchess gives a masked ball, from which the player girl is excluded. But Nell has sworn to go, and what Nell swore to do she usually accomplished. Made up as an Irish gentleman, one Beau Adair, she gains entrance, and at once becomes the darling of the ladies. How admirably she plays her part — what a delicious brogue she has. She swaggers, she pays compliments with Irish exaggeration and charm; she makes love with Irish ardor and wins a kiss and a packet of secret documents from the duchess herself; in Irish fashion, she goes about looking for a fight, and gets it; with Irish "To hell wid yez, gintlemen!" she flourishes her sword and makes good her escape. And then, a bit frightened but still game, she safely reaches the shelter of her bower and the company of her little orange girl protege. The poor thing, worn out with the wild escapade, stretches out on a couch in the boy's garments and is about to indulge in needed rest when a great knocking is heard at her gates. Quickly throwing a feminine garment over her masculine attire, she awaits with trepidation her intruders. In walk the king and a chosen few close companions. They wish to search the house, heard a man was harbored there. Nell uses her wiles and wits, and Charles is almost convinced, when Portsmouth appears and announces her servants saw a man lately enter through Nell's window. The king storms, Nell implores, Portsmouth is triumphant. At last poor Nell throws off her feminine trappings and stands revealed—Beau Adair, charming, saucy, a little appealing. Portsmouth, remembering the documents, quails and retires while the king and courtiers applaud Nell's last daring trick. And the curtain goes down on Mistress Nell, the idol of England and of England's king.

FOR EARLY CLOSING HOURS.

LOCAL CLERKS PREPARING TO FORM AN ORGANIZATION.

Want to Influence Public Opinion in Favor of Early Closing Hours for Local Stores.

There is a movement on foot among the clerks in the various stores about the city to form an association for the purpose of early closing of the stores. they feel that they already put in a sufficient number of hours during the day without being compelled to work evenings. They also believe that the sympathy of the people is with them and will go a good ways in influencing the employers to close their stores at an early hour.

The clerks expect to meet very soon for organization and then a plan of action will be discussed. An outline of the plan thus far proposed is to secure the support of all the ministers in the city and borough and have them preach upon the subject from their pulpits. They also propose to circulate petitions among the women of the city and in various shops and factories. All the lodges, societies and organizations of every kind will be asked to lend their support to the movement, and dodgers will be circulated all over the city.

In addition to this it is proposed to have a wagon, appropriately decorated, make frequent trips about the city, advertising the affair. Every legitimate effort will be made to bring about the early closing, if such a thing is possible.

MADE DOLLAR ON DEAL.

Geo. Richter and John Adelmann Figured in An Amusing Transaction.

George Richter, the Somerset street tonsorial artist, and John Adelmann, formerly superintendent of the Plainfield Street Railway, were the principals in an amusing business transaction which took place Tuesday evening.

Mr. Richter wanted to sell his business and John Adelmann wanted to buy. It was finally agreed that Mr. Adelmann should pay $300 for the business, and that as an extra consideration, he was to pay Mr. Richter $10 a week for four weeks, while the new proprietor was learning the business. Lawyer Francis J. Blatz, of the firm of Murphy & Blatz, looked after the legal side of the deal and drew the papers.

A half hour after the deal was made Mr. Richter changed his mind and wanted to take his business back. He chased around and found the new proprietor and pleaded with him to sell back the business. At first Mr. Adelmann was not disposed to sell, but finally agreed when Mr. Richter offered him $301. As Mr. Adelmann had originally given Mr. Richter a check, the latter simply handed the check back with a $1 bill. Mr. Richter is now satisfied and is running his shop as of yore.

Watches Baked and Frozen.

If you contemplate buying an expensive watch you can have it sent to the observatory at Kew, where for 45 days it will undergo an ordeal that will test its capabilities to the utmost, says a London newspaper. An ambitious watch in pursuit of a first-class certificate commences its career at Kew by standing upright for five days in an ordinary safe. It spends a similar period in three other positions, and is then placed on its back in a refrigerator. After five days of that icy abode it is removed to an oven kept at a temperature of 90 degrees Fahrenheit, and is at last restored to a normal temperature. All this time the watchful eye of the observer has been upon it, and the watch's behavior duly noted in books. The highest marks awarded to a watch are 100, and if it gains over 80 the words "especially good" are written on its certificate when the watch leaves the observatory. Last year the lowest marks received by a watch were 44 and the highest 90.1.—Detroit Free Press.

The Sultan Stopped Drinking Milk.

In the opinion of the sultan of Turkey fresh milk is a most beneficial aid to good health, and up to a short time ago he was in the habit of drinking large quantities of it every day. Each morning the cows were brought in front of his windows to be milked in order that there would be no mistake about the milk being fresh and pure. Some evil-minded official, however, quietly hinted to his majesty one day that his method of obtaining fresh milk gave anyone wishing to poison him an opportunity of feeding the cows on some noxious food. After that warm, fresh milk was tabooed by Turkey's monarch.—Chicago Times-Herald.

A Royal Ichthyologist.

The king of Portugal lately paid a lengthened visit to the Natural History museum, South Kensington, in order to inspect the unrivaled collection of fishes preserved there. It is not generally known that his majesty is an expert in ichthyology, and has written several scientific memoirs on the subject. He is very fond of fishing in the sea off the coast of Portugal, and owing to the extraordinarily great depth of the water off that shore the forms discovered are of great variety and scientific interest.—Birmingham Post.

An Ugly Dueling Tragedy.

The dueling practice has just led to an ugly tragedy in a German garrison in Lorraine. A duel was arranged between two officers, but never took place because a brother of one went and murdered the other officer in cold blood. The murderer gave himself up and explained that as his brother, a man with a family, would have been killed in the duel, he, a single man, had elected to die in his place, even as a murderer.—N. Y. MANY HONORED MEMORY OF PHINEAS M. FRENCH Impressive Funeral Services Held From French Homestead Yesterday Afternoon.

PRETTY FLORAL TRIBUTES.

REV. DRS. HURLBUT AND SNODGRASS SPOKE OF HIS LIFE.

Told of His Christian Character and of Their Intimacy With Him in Church Work—Solo by C. L. Lewis —Brief Service at the Grave.

A large concourse of sorrowing relatives and friends gathered yesterday afternoon at the French homestead on Somerset street to attend the funeral services of the late Phineas M. French.

People from every walk in life, rich and poor, high and low, assembled to pay their last respects to the venerable man, who during a long and busy life had been loved by all for his integrity, honesty and nobility. Mem prominent in the business world, religious circles and in society, vied with each other to do homage to his memory. In the large parlor, in which the body lay, beautiful floral tributes completely surrounded the bier.

The obsequies were conducted by ministers with whom Mr. French had been in close touch in religious work. Assisting his pastor, Rev. Dr. W. C. Snodgrass, of the First M. E church, were Rev. Dr. Geo. W. Smith, presiding elder of the Elizabeth district, and two former pastors of the First M. E. church, Rev. J. R Bryan, of Somerville, and Rev. Dr. Jesse L. Hurlbut, of New York.

The services commenced with that comforting selection, "There is a Green Hill Far Away," sung very sympathetically, as a baritone solo, by Charles L. Lewis. Standing in the hallway from whence the sound of his voice was carried to the inmost recesses of the dwelling, Rev. Mr. Smith recited as the first lesson Psalm xc, the prayer of Moses, the man of God and, as the second lesson, the victory over death, I Corinthians xv, beginning at the forty-first verse.

With bowed heads all reverently joined in the prayer offered by Rev. Mr. Bryan, and then Rev. Drs. Hurlbut and Snodgrass, each in turn, spoke some kindly words of their recollections of the dead man.

Dr. Hurlbut dwelt upon the many endearing qualities which he had observed in Mr. French during an intimate acquaintance extending over twenty-seven years, and Dr. Snodgrass confined himself more particularly to the loving character of Mr. French as seen in the church work in more recent years.

After the obsequies at the house a short interment service was held at the side of the grave at the Methodist cemetery on Plainfield avenue. The pall bearers were John Cory, C H Rugg, George M. Rittenhouse, Henry A. McGee, James W. Jackson, James R. Joy and George H. Burgess.

As a mark of respect handsome floral emblems were sent by the trustees of the First M. E. church and by the directors of the First National Bank.

Death of Miss Adelia Fritz.

Miss Adelia Fritz, who formerly resided with her parents on Watchung avenue, died yesterday at her home in High Bridge. She was twenty two years old and was very well known by the young people of this city. The funeral services will be held from the residence of her parents, Sunday afternoon at 2:30.

Laymen's Association to Meet.

The Laymen's Association of the Newark Conference will meet in annual session in Hoboken, Friday, April 12, afternoon and evening. A very interesting programme has been prepared. J. W. Jackson, of the First M. E church, is first vice-president of the association.

Searching Titles of Property.

It now looks as though the proposed new cemetery talked of for Oak Tree will be a sure thing. The projectors are now busily engaged in searching the titles of the property involved and people who ought to know say that the cemetery will no doubt be established.

Dinner in Honor of Young Couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rushmore, of West Eighth street, will give a dinner Monday evening, April 8, in honor of Miss Lydia P. Ackerman and Arthur Murphy, who will be married the following Wednesday at Grace P. E church. Those who have been invited include the bridal party.

VETERAN'S REUNION.

Second New Jersey Brigade Will Hold Its Annual Reunion at Philadelphia Tuesday.

The Second New Jersey Brigade Society will hold its annual reunion in Philadelphia Tuesday, and a number of the members residing in this city will undoubtedly attend the meetings.

General Sickles, the corps commander, and General Sewell and General Dickinson, the brigade commanders, have been invited to make addresses. The occasion promises to be a memorable one in the history of the organization.

Among those living in this city who are members of the society, are: Wm. W. Coriell, Wm. Hand, Thaddeus O. Doane, Henry Hand, Wm. Paine, Henry L Mollison, Isaac Randolph, Thomas Titsworth and Charles Westphal.

THE NEW GLOVE FACTORY.

CLAIMED THAT IT WILL BE AN ORNAMENT TO NEIGHBORHOOD.

Member of Company Says That There Will Be Nothing Offensive to the Factory—Work Started Yesterday.

Despite the opposition of the residents of Washington Park and those in that immediate vicinity, work has begun on the factory of the Perrin-Freres Glove Company, which is to be located on Washington avenue, on the city side of the brook. The company was induced to locate here by the Board of Trade but the members of that organization had no idea that the company intended to build its factory in that particular spot.

The residents of Washington Park and the members of the Park Club, the clubhouse of which is almost directly opposite the site for the factory, have stoutly opposed its location there and many of the people on West Front street have also objected, but in vain.

To a Daily Press reporter, yesterday afternoon, a member of the company made the statement that the factory would not be of an objectionable nature at all but that, instead, the company planned to erect a building which would really be a credit to the neighborhood and vastly improve its appearance. The building will be of brick, three stories high and forty feet wide and eighty feet deep. The plans call for a structure that will not only be modern in every particular but will be of artistic design. The grounds, it is said, will be graded and fine lawns will be maintained.

The factory, the member of the company explained, will be for the finishing of gloves and the raw material will not be brought there. There will be no large stack to disfigure the building and no smoke or odor. The company expects to invest considerable money to make the factory as perfect as possible. The mason work contract is held by Seaman Williams, while James Manning will do the carpenter work.

PASSOVER HERE.

Hebrews Are Celebrating The Feast in This And Other Cities of The World.

Wednesday at sundown the Jewish Feast of the Passover was ushered in and it extends for a period of eight days, closing at sundown Thursday.

It commemorates the deliverance of the Hebrews from captivity. While the Feast lasts, the faithful will abstain from eating substantial food after 10 o'clock in the morning.

The first and last two days are celebrated with appropriate services in the synagogues. In the first two evenings the members of the Jewish household gather around the dining table and partake of herbs, symbolical of the food upon which the Hebrews subsisted during the bondage. While the family is at the table, the head of the household reads the story of the captivity.

During this period of fasting the Jews eat unleavened bread. This was what the Hebrews were compelled to eat in their flight from captivity.

Annual Church Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Seventh-Day Baptist church and the various departments connected with it, will be held Sunday afternoon and evening in the church. Supper will be served during the social hour between the sessions.

New Art Store Opened

Maurice A. Audsley has opened his art store, 135 East Front street, and is now prepared to receive orders for picture framing. A large and choice collection of pictures and mouldings to select from. Visitors always welcome.

Addition to His House.

Fred R. Haberle has received the necessary permit from Building Inspector T. O. Doane to erect a frame addition to his dwelling house at 675 West Front street. Wm. Pangborn will construct the masonry.

MUSIC HALL'S CAREER MAY SOON BE ENDED.

A Store Will Probably be Built in the Entrance and the Hall Locked Up.

THE SEASON ENDS MAY 1.

MANAGER MAZE EDWARDS' LEASE WILL EXPIRE JULY 1.

Lease Will Not be Renewed—The Hall Has Never Made Money for Its Owners—Will be Closed Unless a Purchaser Can be Found.

The chances are that with the close of the present season at Music Hall that well-known house of amusement will be closed forever by the owner, Mrs. Mary S. Stillman. It is a well-known fact that for a long this theatre has not paid and it has been run at a loss to all parties concerned. It is mainly for this reason that the hall is to be closed at the end of the season.

Arrangements are now being made to build a store where the main entrance to the hall now is, and it is said that out of town parties will conduct a five and ten cent business there. These parties were in the city yesterday negotiating with the owner of the hall, and the probabilities are this plan will be followed out. Manager Maze Edwards has a lease on the hall till July 1, but will close the theatrical season May 1. The lease will not be renewed.

The plan to close the hall will not interfere with the school commencements, as nothing will be done toward closing the entrance until July 1. Mr. Stillman, when seen by a reporter for The Daily Press, yesterday afternoon, said that he would be willing to sell the hall as it is and he believed that parties, having a knowledge of the theatrical business with capital behind them, could make a success of it. If the place is not sold, it is the intention to close the hall and not use it at all.

With the close of Music Hall, Plainfield will be without a theatre for the first time in a great many years, and those who enjoy theatricals will have to go elsewhere to witness plays. For some time past it has been impossible to get the best shows to Plainfield. The small patronage and general lack of interest is accountable for this condition. There was a time when all the best plays came to Music Hall, such as Joe Jefferson, Robert Mantell, Modeska, Lily Langtry, and a host of other leading actors and actresses.

Manager Maze Edwards has been in charge for several years, and he has done all in his power to make a success of it. He has tried to cater to the people and do all that was possible to bring them to the hall. Failure has met his efforts and he has become discouraged time and again. It has been suggested that the absence of a theatre in Plainfield will be a good thing for the city, and may eventually bring about a better condition of affairs in this matter.

WILL SUE COMPANY.

Women Injured at Somerville May Lose a Foot.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, April 5, — Mrs. Norah O'Brien, who was knocked down by an engine at the Somerville station about a month ago, while crossing the tracks to board a train, has been taken to Somerset Hospital. Her foot was smashed and a toe was amputated at the time of the accident. Mortification has now set in, and it is feared that it will be necessary to amputate her foot. Dungan & Beger, her counsel, have brought suit against the Jersey Central Railroad Company for damages.

To Argue Question of Armory.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, April 5.—A committee of the Board of Freeholders, of which Aug. Mofus, of North Plainfield, is chairman, will meet the citizens of Somerset county, Saturday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock, at the Court House, to hear arguments pro and con on the question of building an armory for Company M, which will cost about $10,000. There appears to be considerable opposition to the project.

Could Not Reach Here in Time.

Wm. A. French, of St. Paul, Minn., attended the funeral of his father, Phineas M. French, yesterday afternoon. David H. French, of Texas, another son, was unable to attend the funeral, because it was impossible for him to arrive in time.

—Mrs. John Runyon, of Madison avenue, has removed to 138 Chilton street, Elizabeth.

YEAR'S WORK AT HOPE CHAPEL

REPORTS PRESENTED AT ANNUAL MEETING LAST NIGHT.

Its Membership is Now 326, While There Are 592 in the Sunday-school—Other Interesting Facts.

The annual meeting of the officers and trustees of Hope chapel was held last evening, at which time a number of interesting reports were read. All of those given showed rapid strides in the way of membership and much good work accomplished during the past year, while the chapel as a whole is in a most flourishing condition.

According to the secretary's report the chapel Sunday school now has a total membership of 592 officers and pupils with an average attendance of 350. The bigest attendance for the year was 462, while the lowest was 250. The church rolls numbers 326, thirty-nine persons were admitted during the past twelve months, while two were lost by death and ten were dismissed to other churches.

Church collections amounting to $839.66 have been taken during the year while the following amounts were contributed by the various societies connected with the institution: Ladies' Aid Society, $250; Y. P. S. C. E., $45; Jr. C. E., $15, Sunday-school collections, $300; Young Men's Association, $22; Ladies' Missionary Society, $77.

One of the societies connected with the chapel, the Young Men's Association, has outstripped all others during the year in regard to gain in membership. The association started last year with seventeen members while it now has a total of seventy. The other organizations have also increased considerably and have taken an active part in all church affairs.

TROLLEY CHARTER.

Johnson Syndicate Secured One Yesterday For Company to Build Through Trolley Line.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, April 5. — The Johnson syndicate yesterday secured a charter to build and operate a trolley in this State and it now possesses all the legal rights necessary to contruct its road from New York to Philadelphia. The rights and powers conferred through the New Jersey and Pennsylvania charters are the same as those granted to steam railroads.

The directors of the New Jersey Company are Frank S. Drake and T. B. Lynch, of Philadelphia; Charles M. Bates, of New York; Charles B. Case, G. H. Cain, L. C. Case and Wm. C. Callaghan, of this city.

The syndicate will file shortly with the secretary of State of New Jersey the necessary papers to merge the three charters which they now control.

The right of way from this city to New Brunswick has been secured and the construction work will be commenced during the present month. The Princeton steam railroad will be purchased and equipped with electric devices.

ENDEAVOR BUSINESS.

Committee Appointed to Confer Over Westfield Fresh Air Camp.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the East Third Street chapel held a business meeting last evening. All the reports were encouraging and four new members were elected. It was decided that the president, Miss Florence Dodge, should appoint a committee of three to meet at a conference to be held April 29, when matters pertaining to the Westfield Fresh Air Camp will be discussed. It was proposed to institute a Bible class and meet once a week for the study of the Bible. Miss Winn will have charge of the details.

The president made the following appointments which are additions to the regular committees: Prayer-meeting, Fred Wrage; lookout, George Haynes; cottage prayer-meeting, Miss Mary Terry; temperance and good citizenship, Christian Utzinger.

Easter Dance at Park Club.

The usual Easter dance will be given Friday evening, April 12, at the Park Club under the auspices of the entertainment committee.

POURED OIL ON FIRE; BLAZE BURNED MANY.

Disastrous Result of Teacher Crosby's Attempt to Warm District School.

WILL LOSE HIS POSITION.

CROSBY LOST HIS HAIR, EYEBROWS, AND BEARD AS WELL.

Poured Kerosene on Embers in Stove—Several Children Were Badly Burned. Antone Ammons May Lose An Eye.

It is probable that Howard Crosby will teach at the Dead River district school in Warren township but little longer. The truth of it is that Crosby is not in good condition to teach school anywhere at present while a number of his pupils are temporarily disabled. The cause of all this trouble was a disastrous attempt on the part of Crosby to build a fire in the school house Monday morning. Crosby hasn't any hair, eye brows or beard while several of his pupils are badly burned.

It was chilly in the school house when Crosby arrived there Monday morning. There was a little fire left in the stove and around it had gathered a dozen of the children who had arrived before their teacher. Crosby desired to warm things up and he did. First he threw in some kindling wood on top of the embers and then picked up a can of kerosene and emptied a generous portion on the wood. The kerosene was used to fill the school house lamps with, the building being used as a meeting house as well as a school.

Without warning, there came a great scattering of fire and children. The explosion blew the stove door from its hinges and a sheet of flame swept out into the room enveloping the teacher and pupils. Crosby caught the full force of the explosion directly in the face and his hair, eye-brows and beard were singed off.

Antone Ammons who lives at Warrenville, was terribly burned about the head. It is feared that he will lose one eye. All his hair was singed off. His brother, Edward, another small lad, met with injuries almost equally as serious. One lad had his coat burned off his back. All the rest in the group, which numbered twelve, were more or less burned, and few escaped with any vestige of hair.

There was no school that day, but the children were taken to their homes as soon as possible and medical aid hurriedly summoned. Crosby was on hand next day, but he was a strange looking sight and the studies were somewhat inclined to lag.

The young teacher has not been very popular with the School Board and three weeks ago he was notified that his services would not be required after a month from that date. Crosby is a young man who, it is said, is very studious, but has not made a remarkable success at controlling the children. A meeting of the School Board will be held tomorrow evening, when it is expected that Crosby will be summarily dismissed as a result of his experiment in fire building.

Big Building Boom at the Shore.

Long Branch, West End, Elberon, Asbury Park, in fact all the coast cities from Sandy Hook down, are now experiencing one of the greatest building booms ever known in this section. There are now being erections at Long Branch, Elberon, West End and other cities near by of over sixty buildings, and it is very difficult to get masons and carpenters, who are making excellent wages. The demand for the mechanics is far in excess of the supply and there seems to be every indication that it will continue all summer.

Finger Amputated.

John Strandell, an employe at the Potter Press Works, had one of the fingers on his right hand cleanly amputated while at work yesterday morning. In some manner his hand became caught in the wheels of a machine and before he could withdraw it, the dismembered finger fell at his feet. He hurried to the hospital where the injury was properly dressed.

Interesting Meeting.

The Easter Monday meeting of the Primary and Junior Sunday-school Teachers' Union will be of much interest. The topic will be taught by Miss Beeching, the president.

Officers for Medical Society.

The following officers have been elected by the Plainfield Medical Society: President, Dr. VanHorn; vice-president, Dr. Currie; secretary and treasurer, Dr. Lufburrow.

Y. M. C. A. OFFICERS.

Elected at Meeting of the Board of Directors of the Association Held Last Night.

At the meeting of the Board of Directors of the Young Men's Christian Association held last evening the following officers were re-elected: President, Stephen Cahoone; vice-president, E. L. Bonny; recording secretary, A. B. Beers; treasurer, Curtis M. Thorpe.

The officers and directors present were Stephen Cahoone, A. B. Beers, Curtis M. Thorpe, J. H. Case, Henry A. Gee, A. C. LaBoyteaux, H J Martin, H M. Maxson, W. D. Murray, H. O. Newman, G M. Rittenhouse, Nelson Runyon and John Valiant. Reports were received and other routine business was transacted.

FINAL LECTURE ON DANTE.

DR. EDWARD H. GRIGGS CONCLUDED SERIES LAST EVENING.

His Subject Was "The Beautiful Vision," the Climax of the "Paradise"—Final Picture of Paradise.

Dr. Edward H. Griggs delivered last evening the final lecture in the course on Dante, given in Vincent chapel, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the First M. E. church.

"The Beautiful Vision," the climax of the "Paradiso", was the fitting subject which served as the concluding topic of Griggs' discussions. It is in this vision, said he, that the poetry of the sublime culminates.

In the "Paradiso," Dante attempts to give expression to the divine, the transcendental or in other words the supernatural. He fails to do this, but in the failure lays the Supreme achievement of the Divine Comedy. The transcendental can be conceived but not expressed for there is no way of representing the infinite in the finite. The "Paradiso" is Dante's answer to the momentous question as to what will satisfy man, that is, give him rest and peace.

Dante used one form and then another to adequately represent the "Paradiso," but he only uses these symbols to demonstrate that there is no way of expressing the transcendental. The highest appeal to the emotion he believes to be music and hence Dante uses poetry as music.

He originates a symbol and then tells you to forget it and imagine what lies beyond. The mysticism of Dante is thinking as hard as one can and then realize, if possible, how much there is behind that thought. After a person does all the thinking he can the realization comes upon him of how little he really knows. Socrates was the wisest Greek because he convinced himself that he knew nothing. The highest mysticism is that which takes one as far as his thoughts will go. All great thoughts come suddenly after great thinking and so it was with Dante, when a divine flash illuminated his vision and he saw the beautitude.

Dante believed that love is the absolute answer to human craving and that all this universe is bound up in one thought in the clear light of the divine love. Paradise he imagines as that in which reigns perfect rest and peace that passeth human understanding. Dante lives because he studied art not for art's sake but art for life's sake.

SEWERS FOR BOROUGH.

Resolution Providing For Investigation of Subject Will be Introduced at Borough Council This Evening.

For a long time past the need has been felt for a system of sewage in the borough. It is understood that a resolution will be introduced at the Borough Council meeting this evening which will mark the first step towards the introduction of a sewage system.

In all likelihood the Mayor will be called upon to appoint a committee to ascertain, for the Council, the most improved system now used for this purpose.

A Flourishing Society.

The regular monthly business meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society of the Park Avenue Baptist church was held last evening at the residence of Mrs. Wheaton Lowry, of Sherman avenue. The members made the trip by trolley. After the transaction of routine business, the reading of reports was taken up, all of which showed the society to be in a flourishing condition.

No Cause for Action.

Justice Mattison held a hearing yesterday afternoon in the case against David Dunn, who was charged by Frank S. New with having stolen his dog. The court decided that no case had been made out against Dunn and the proceedings were summarily dismissed.

WANT MORE MONEY TO HAUL CLUB CARS

Jersey Central Railroad Announces Two Plans Which Commuters do Not Like.

WILL INCREASE CHARGES.

MEETING OF COMMUTERS CLUB WILL BE HELD MONDAY NIGHT.

Then The Patrons of "Evona" And "Netherwood" Will Consider Advisibility of Continuing—The "Plainfield" Will Continue Anyhow.

The Jersey Central Railroad wants more money for hauling the so-called "club-cars" from Plainfield and Jersey City and return every day. The commuters, who ride in these cars, are now considering the demand. A meeting of the regular patrons of the cars, "Netherwood" and "Evona," who have a regular organization known as the Commuters' Club will hold a meeting at the Casino Monday evening to consider the subject. The club car "Plainfield," is hired by three men, Former Mayor Charles J. Fisk, H. G Runkle and T. J. Mumford, who simply collect the year's expenses from their friends pro rata.

Under the old arrangement the company was paid $1,500 a year for each car, there being a supposed membership of fifty for each. The company complained that at times they were compelled to carry the cars to Jersey City with very few people in them and that it did not pay them to do so. The company then announced that a charge of $1,750 a year would be made hereafter. The Commuters' Club objected and the railroad company made another proposition.

The second proposition, which is now under consideration, is that the regular patrons of each car shall guarantee an average daily patronage for the car by members and guests of seventy per cent. of its membership, which is supposed to be fifty. If the average daily patronage falls below that figure, which would be thirty-five, the company is to receive fourteen cents a trip for every passenger less than thirty five.

Some of the members of the Commuters' Club are very indignant over the proposed increase, and declare that they will give up the cars before they will pay the extra charge demanded. As the membership of the cars is not full, and the average patronage is below thirty-five, it may be that the Commuters Club will decide to give up either one or both of its cars.

While the "Plainfield" has received the same notice, the members are paying little attention to it, and will probably pay the extra charge if necessary. This car will surely be continued, however, as there are enough regular patrons who are willing to bear the expenses.

EASTER IN SCHOOLS.

Special Services Held in the Plainfield Public Schools—Easter Vacation Began Today.

The Plainfield public schools have celebrated Easter by appropriate exercises at the several school buildings. The Easter vacation began today. The school sessions will not be resumed until Monday, April 15.

At the High School the exercises were held at 11 o'clock this morning, and consisted principally of musical selections. "The Story of Calvary," a cantata, was sung by members of the school, and the solo parts were rendered by Charles S. Lewis, the musical instructor. After the programme was finished, Principal Traveli dismissed the pupils for the Easter vacation.

The pupils of the Bryant School held an Easter meeting at 9 o'clock yesterday morning. "The Holy City" was sung by the entire school, and the other features of the programme were a soprano solo, "I Know that My Redeemer Liveth," by Hubert Grant, and a soprano solo in "Ye Bells of Easter," by Arthur Lewis.

In the Washington and Lincoln Schools carols were sung at the regular morning exercises this morning, and the meaning of the Easter festival was impressed upon the pupils.

The North Plainfield schools also held appropriate exercises this morning. At the Somerset street school "The Holy City" was rendered, and pupils sang selections from "Songs of the Nation."

In the lower grades, particularly at the Watchung school, the children sang Easter carols at the opening of the morning session.

WHAT SENATOR REED HAS TO SAY NOW.

Interview on The Work Done During Last Term of The New Jersey Legislature.

PRAISES IT VERY HIGHLY.

STATEMENT MADE TO EDITOR OF MORRIS COUNTY CHRONICLE.

Republican Leader in The Senate Summed Up Accomplishments of Legislators During The Session Held This Winter.

As the Republican leader in the New Jersey Senate, Senator Charles A. Reed has been an important figure at the State House this winter. A statement from him concerning the work of the Legislature during its last session, may be locked upon as representing the Republican view of the Legislature's achievements

In its last issue, the Morris County Chronicle published an interview which Senator Reed had with the editor of that newspaper and which gave the Senator's views of the Legislature and its work. It is particularly interesting as coming from the Republican leader in the Senate and from the principal Republican in Somerset county.

It is as follows:

"The session just ended has done a great deal of good work both in the enactment of beneficial legislation, and in the turning down of bills intended to benefit the few at the expense of the public. Among the former class may be cited the appropriation of over $800 000 toward the reduction of the State School Tax, which benefits every taxpayer; the pure food bill, which guards the health of every citizen; the judiciary and biennial sessions amendments, which are of great public interest; the school census law, which is in the interest of honesty and fairness of apportionment in every school district.

"The act for the preservation of the Palisades, which was so amended as to save the school funds from any appreciable loss, and at the same time to accomplish an end desired by every patriotic citizen. The abolition of spring elections in cities, which saves the tax on upwards of five millions of ratables, guarantees that the officers elected shall be the choice of the majority of the voters instead of minority as at present, and which in my judgment will commend itself to all as soon as its full effects are seen and understood. Also the Congressional redistricting bill, which is as fair and equitable as was possible under existing conditions.

"Among the bills which were killed were many which had behind them powerful influences which it required great powers of resistance and constant vigilance in the protection of the people's rights to defeat. Some of this class were given publicity through public hearings, but most of them were advocated quietly and attracted little attention except from those who realized their true meaning. I think I may say without fear of contradiction that not one such bill became a law. Some attempt has been made to give the impression that the amendment to the corporation act relative to majority rule of stockholders was injurious to the minority interests, but the contrary is true as will be discovered in time.

"The fact that out of nearly seven hundred bills introduced, only about two hundred laws were enacted, proves to anyone conversant with legislative work that great care was exercised, and that the committees were capable and had the confidence of the Legislature.

"In my experience no more conscientious, capable or trustworthy set of men ever composed the New Jersey Senate than those of the last session, and the House also was of a high character.

"When dust raised by the criticism of those whose pet schemes were aborted shall have subsided, and the general public comes to consider the record in its entirety, I feel confident the verdict will be one of approval."

LITERARY.

It is some years since Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett has published a story serially. Special interests attaches, therefore, to the announcement that the June, July and August numbers of The Century will contain a romance from her pen. Its title is "The Making of a Marchioness;" its scene is laid in an English country house; and is described as "a sort of society fairy-story without fairies." c to provide for the improvement of Sewage Disposal Works, Beds and Appurtenances of the City of Plainfield.

WHEREAS, Pursuant to the provisions of an Act of the Legislature, entitled, "An Act to Provide for Drainage and Sewerage in Cities of this State," approved April 7, 1890, and act amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto, a system of sewerage has been constructed and operated in said city, and the Common Council of said city hath deemed it expedient and doth hereby ascertain, adjudge and determine that it is expedient to collect the sewage of said city from sewers constructed under said acts of the Legislature and to deodorize and dispose of the same in the manner hereinafter specified, and to construct a sewage receptacle and other structures and works for treating and disposing of said sewage in the manner hereinafter specified, and to erect all necessary buildings, works and machinery therein, and

WHEREAS, The Common Council having duly investigated the premises and considered the same, is of the opinion that the public good requires the adoption of the plan of sewage disposal and the construction of improvement of sewage disposal works, beds and appurtenances hereinafter specified, and the Common Council hath so determined and doth hereby so determine.

The inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, by their Common Council, do enact as follows:

Section 1. That the Common Council doth hereby determine, direct and order that the plan of improvement of sewage disposal works, beds and appurtenances above referred to, and particularly set forth in the plans and specifications filed in the office of the City Clerk and adopted by the Common Council by resolution on the twenty-first day of January, 1901, providing for the construction of two septic tanks under one roof and eight bacterial contact beds, all to be placed in the present filter beds on lands heretofore purchased and acquired by the city under and by virtue of the acts of the Legislature above referred to, which filter beds are numbered 6, 10 and 14, as particularly described and set forth in said plans and specifications, to which reference is hereby made for greater certainty and the same hereby made a part of this ordinance, be and the same are hereby adopted, and that the improvement therein specified be and hereby is ordered to be made pursuant to the said acts of the Legislature and in accordance with said plans and specifications.

Sec. 2. That whereas the Common Council has duly solicited bids for doing the work and furnishing the materials for the making of said improvement, and caused due advertisement to be made calling for such bids as in said acts of the Legislature directed, and at the time and place specified in said advertisement, received numerous sealed proposals, and thereupon the Common Council proceeded to unseal the same and publicly announce the contents in the presence of the parties bidding, or their agents, and also to make proper record of the prices and terms upon the minutes of the Council, and the bid deemed most advantageous for the city was also the lowest bid of any person offering satisfactory security, namely, the bid or proposal of Gleason-Kiely Contracting Company of Syracuse, N. Y., the aggregate of which bid was the sum of Thirty-Seven Thousand One Hundred and Eighty-Seven Dollars and Fifty-Seven Cents, and the surety proposed being United States Fidelity & Guarantee Company of Baltimore, Maryland; that said bid be and the same is hereby accepted and the contract awarded to said Gleason-Kiely Contracting Company, and that the Mayor and City Clerk be and are hereby authorized to execute the contract on behalf of this city in the form annexed to the above mentioned plans and specifications.

Adopted by the Common Council April 4, 1901; approved by the Mayor April 4, 1901.

BUYING IRON MINES.

Steel Trust After Lake Superior Properties.

OPTIONS VALUED AT EIGHT MILLIONS

Outside Mine Owners Becoming Alarmed at the Movement Which Will Control Two-thirds of the Output.

DULUTH, April 5.—The United States Steel corporation is gathering in all the better iron ore mines of the Lake Superior region. If the movement continues a short time longer, the combine will have a far tighter grip on ore mines and by them on the iron trade of the country than it has or could possibly get on the manufacturing plants. By getting the mines it will be able to control the outside manufacturers of steel far more absolutely than in any other way. There are a number of these outsiders who rely upon Lake Superior ores, and they are quite rapidly getting into a position that is serious, to say the least.

By taking in the mines of the Rockefeller company the steel combination got hold of a very valuable asset and one that was absolutely necessary to its success. Since then it has bought the Spruce mine on the Mesaba range for $1,000,000 and the Aragon of the Menominee range for $2,000,000. It has within ten days taken options on other ore properties that will call for the expenditure of at least as much as these two mines cost, and it is negotiating for an option on the Cleveland Cliffs Iron company, that will cost not far from $8,000,000.

The Cleveland Cliffs is about the last large independent interest in the Lake Superior region except that of Corrigan, McKinney & Co. of Cleveland, and this latter firm is to be the basis of an ore pool for the new combination of Mahoning and Shenango valley furnace interests. The Cleveland Cliffs company is able to mine for a great many years more than 1,000,000 tons annually, and Corrigan, McKinney & Co. can soon bring their mines to as high a point of production.

The production of the mines now included in the properties of the United States Steel corporation was last year 11,730,000 gross tons, while the entire Lake Superior output was 19,000,000 tons. Of the outside interests, the Cleveland Cliffs company mined about 1,000,000 tons, Corrigan, McKinney & Co. 750,000 tons, Pickands, Mather & Co. 400,000 tons and the rest small amounts. Several of these latter are now under option to the corporation.

The Kaiser to the Sultan.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 5.—The Constantinople papers publish the text of a telegram sent by Emperor William to the sultan immediately after the recent earthquake in this city. "It is with deep emotion," said the emperor, "that I have just learned what danger your majesty was in at the time of the feast of Bairan and how manifestly God has protected your majesty's precious life. In offering my sincerest congratulations on your majesty's escape from danger I cannot conceal my admiration for the attitude your majesty observed and the example of bravery given by your majesty to your subjects and to the foreigners present. I pray to the Lord to continue to hold your majesty in his gracious and holy keeping."

The French Premier's Illness.

PARIS, April 5.—There is no doubt that the affection from which the premier is suffering is more serious than is shown by the medical bulletins and that the trouble is only temporarily held in check by the operations. Last evening's bulletin says: "The state of the patient is not alarming, and there is every reason to believe that he is bearing without too much suffering the effects of today's painful and delicate operation. There is no change in his condition, and his strength is well maintained."

New Methods Save Money.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—As indicating that the recent changes made in the methods of examining baggage of passengers arriving at the port of New York from Europe have resulted in a considerable saving to the government, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Spaulding gave out a statement showing that from passengers who arrived on six of the popular steamers from March 21 to April 4 of this year there was collected in duties $13,826. Last year for the same time there was collected $2,629.

Governor Allen's Resignation.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, April 5.—Persistent rumors of the impending resignation of Governor Allen, now on his way to the United States, are in circulation in San Juan. Mr. William Hunt, secretary of Porto Rico and acting governor, reiterates his denial of any intimation from Mr. Allen of such an intention, but it is regarded as significant that Mr. Hunt has moved his family and effects into the executive mansion.

Not Killed After All.

BUFFALO, April 5.—Paul Huber of Corning, N. Y., who was supposed to have been killed by a train in Wayne, Mich., has arrived here from the west. The man killed had a card bearing Huber's name. His body was sent to Corning. Huber believes the body is that of a man he met in Cincinnati and to whom he gave his card. He does not recall his name.

Shot Wife and Self.

ADRIAN, Mich., April 5.—Darius C. Bachelder, a horse breaker, shot his wife through the throat in their home and then, retiring to an up stairs room, shot himself through the temple, dying instantly. Mrs. Bachelder lived but a few minutes. The couple had quarreled a great deal the past few days.

General Anderson Dead.

ANNISTON, Ala., April 5.—General George T. ("Tige") Anderson, the famous Confederate brigade commander and a veteran of the Mexican war, is dead, aged 77. He served under Longstreet in the Virginia campaign.

A Mine on Fire.

BESSEMER, Mich., April 5.—Fire has been discovered in shaft No. 7 of the Tilden mine. One hundred and fifty men are underground, but as the shaft is connected with No. 6 there is no danger of loss of life.

Weather Probabilities.

Warmer and partly cloudy.

CHICAGO DISCOVERY.

Bonds For One Million Found In a Vault.

ISSUED FOR RAILROAD NEVER BUILT

Bore Seven Per Cent Interest and Matured In 1902, but Are Worthless—How They Came to Be In City Comptroller's Office.

CHICAGO, April 5.—Bonds having a paper value in excess of $1,000,000 have just been found in the vault of the office of the city comptroller by members of the accounting firm of Haskins & Sells, which is engaged in some expert work on the books of the city of Chicago. The bonds were issued in 1873 by the Chicago and Great Western Railroad company, a corporation which never had any connection whatever with the present Chicago Great Western Railroad company. They bear 7 per cent interest and will mature in 1902. They were found on the top shelf of the vault in a tin box which was covered with a heavy layer of dust. They had undoubtedly remained in the vault ever since the present city hall was first used.

There were 349 of the bonds, each being of the denomination of $1,000 and payable at the office of the Farmers' Loan and Trust company in the city of New York. The first two interest coupons on each of the bonds had been cut off. The first coupon on the bonds called for the payment of $35 interest on Sept. 1, 1874.

It is thought by many of the men in the office of the comptroller that the bonds were collateral security deposited with the city in the effort to make good the shortage of City Treasurer Gage, who defaulted early in the seventies, leaving a shortage of something like $500,000.

The Chicago and Great Western road was a project which never materialized. It was to run from the city of Chicago to the suburb of Riverside, 12 miles west, but it never ran anywhere. City Treasurer Gage was a resident of Riverside and was connected with the railway.

President John R. Walsh of the Chicago National bank said last night that the bonds were worthless. "The road never amounted to anything," he said. "It never was anything but a balloon scheme, and the securities were in all probability turned over to the city to make good the shortage of Mr. Gage."

A Submerged Vessel.

PHILADELPHIA, April 5.—A mysterious obstruction off Cape Thoms, Brazil, in 35 fathoms of water, which is placed on the British and American admiralty charts and charted as a rock, turns out to be a large vessel, bottom up, held in position by her anchors and at times submerged. This important discovery was made by Captain Yule of the British steamship Myrtledene, which arrived here yesterday from Carrizal laden with 1,249 tons of silver ore in sacks and 2,400 tons of manganese ore. Captain Yule stated that the discovery of the obstruction was first made about two years ago by a sailing ship, and both the governments of Great Britain and the United States charted it as a partially submerged rock.

Prominent Kentucklans Fight.

LOUISVILLE, April 5. — General John B. Castleman, who was colonel of the First Kentucky regiment and was later appointed by President McKinley to be a brigadier of volunteers, and Walter B. Forester, managing editor of the Louisville Commercial, fought on the street yesterday. No blood was shed, and the affair was quickly over. There had been bad feeling between them since the Spanish-American war, when Forester was assistant adjutant general of Kentucky. They met face to face on Fourth avenue yesterday, when General Castleman struck Forester in the face. Forester returned the blow, and General Castleman fell to a half recumbent position. Friends interfered and separated the men.

Foreign Troops Quarrelsome.

LONDON, April 5.—The Daily Chronicle publishes the following dispatch from Berlin: "Count von Waldersee has sent an urgent telegram to Emperor William imploring him to endeavor to hasten the negotiations for the withdrawal of the allied troops on the ground that it is impossible to prevent quarrels between the soldiers of the different nationalities, which might at any moment lead to serious trouble."

A New Jersey Strike.

NEW YORK, April 5.—Three hundred men employed in the construction of a new brewery for the Hudson County Consumers' company at West Hoboken, N. J., struck at noon yesterday because, they allege, nonunion labor was engaged to build the refrigerating plant. The trades which went out are the carpenters, plasterers, plumbers, plumbers' helpers, steamfitters and laborers.

New Steel Works.

NEWARK, N. J., April 5.—It is announced here that John Illingworth is to re-enter the steel business and that the Carpenter Steel works at Reading, Pa., has been acquired by the John Illingworth Steel company, which was recently organized in Newark. Clarence Illingworth will be superintendent of the Reading works and Mr. Doden secretary of the company.

Snow In South Dakota.

ABERDEEN, S. D., April 5.—A driving northeast snowstorm began at noon yesterday. Several inches of snow has fallen. The storm still prevails. Stock will suffer to some extent. The storm is general in the northern part of the state.

A Dam Gave Way.

LOCKPORT, N. Y., April 5.—The temporary dam in the lower canal level gave way during the night, and the lower as well as the upper level is empty. Factories along Eighteen Mile creek in the city are without water for power.

Anti-Austrian Demonstrations.

LONDON, April 5.—The Trieste correspondent of The Daily Express reports anti-Austrian risings near Trieste and the burning by incendiaries of the residence of the governor of Trieste, Count Goess, at Levico, in the Austrian Tyrol.

Dr. Thunder Dead.

BLACK RIVER FALLS, Wis., April 5.—Dr. John Thunder, head medicine man of the Winnebago tribe, is dead from pneumonia, aged 60 years. He was the father of Tom Thunder, pretender to the chieftainship of the tribe.

JOHNSON'S TROLLEY.

Company Incorporated For the New York-Philadelphia Road.

TRENTON, April 5.—Articles were filed with the secretary of state yesterday afternoon incorporating the Philadelphia, Trenton and New York Railroad company. This company is capitalized at $500,000 and is formed for the purpose of building a trolley line through the city of Trenton as part of the proposed Johnson road from New York to Philadelphia.

The road through Trenton is to begin at the New Jersey side of the bridge across the Delaware river at Calhoun street, this city, and extend through the city to a point where connection will be made at Ingham avenue with the Trenton terminal of the Trenton, Lawrenceville and Princeton railroad. This latter road, which was built as a steam railroad, is practically completed to Princeton, and an option on it has been secured by the Johnson people. It is proposed to convert it into a trolley road. The Johnson people have also acquired by purchase the Delaware river bridge at Calhoun street, which will be used as a means of crossing between the two states.

The Johnson people have here a large consignment of wire to be used in equipping their road.

The efforts of the new company to construct a road through the city of Trenton will be vigorously fought by the local trolley company. The latter company has already filed a map with the secretary of state pre-empting as a route for themselves the approach to the bridge. Their purpose is to shut out the Johnson people from crossing the river unless arrangements can be made whereby they will have no opposition for the local traffic. The local company also has a trolley line to Princeton which has been in operation for nearly a year.

Killed In a Railroad Wreck.

NEW YORK, April 5.—John Cronin was killed, Frank Mahoney severely injured and a score of passengers bruised and shaken in a wreck on the Central Railroad of New Jersey near Elizabeth, N. J., last night. Cronin was fireman and Mahoney engineer of the passenger train. Both lived in Jersey City. The trains in collision were a passenger from Newark to Perth Amboy and a coal train. The coaler was on a siding, and as the passenger approached on the main track the former train moved out on to the same track. Mahoney tried to stop the passenger, but was unable to do so, and both reached the frogs at the same moment. Mahoney and Cronin stuck to their posts, and both engines went over. All the passenger coaches left the rails, and every passenger in them was more or less bruised.

A New Salt Company.

ROCHESTER, April 5.—A new salt company to be known as the Western New York Salt company, with a capital stock of $100,000, was formed this week in Buffalo and has for its officers: President, Christian Klinck; vice president, Jacob Dold; directors, members of the Dold Packing company, Nathan Wolf of the Wolf Hide company and other gentlemen of Buffalo. The salt plant will be of 1,000 barrel capacity and situated on 212 acres of land just west of the village of Leroy. The plant will be operated independent of trusts and syndicates, and the promoters say that not a dollar's worth of the stock will be sold to the National Salt company.

Illinois Mines Closed.

SPRINGFIELD, Ills., April 5.—Only two mines in the Springfield subdistrict were in operation yesterday, and these are not likely to run after today. On Wednesday evening the scale committees adjourned without agreeing on the demands made by the miners, and the operators made certain allowances until a settlement of the existing differences should be reached, and for the present peace promised to prevail. However, things took a turn, and the miners did not return to work and state positively that they will not until a permanent agreement for the coming year shall be reached.

A Corner In Peanuts.

NEW YORK, April 5.—It is announced that a firm in Hoboken, N. J., has cornered the peanut market, having purchased all the nuts in the Chicago, Boston and New York markets, as well as having secured this week 125 carloads from Norfolk. There has been an advance in price from 70 to 90 cents a bushel lately, and a member of the firm says this has been due to the corner and expresses his opinion that they will go still higher.

Measles and a Crank on Board.

HALIFAX, April 5.—The mail steamer Lake Ontario, which has just arrived from England, had 21 cases of measles among her 600 immigrant passengers. The steamer also brought a man named Emery from New South Wales who claims to be traveling around the world on a wager and says part of his undertaking is to spend 12 months in America. He left without a shilling and must return with £2,000.

Secretary Hackett Will Remain.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—No change will be made in the office of assistant secretary of the navy before next autumn. Mr. Hackett, although entering the office with the stipulation that he should remain only until March 4 last, has consented to remain as acting secretary until November next.

SNOW IN MARYLAND.

Freezing Weather Injures the Peach Buds.

HAGERSTOWN, Md., April 5.—This section of the Cumberland valley is walled in with snow which covers mountain ranges north and south to a depth of from three to five inches as a result of Wednesday's storm. The rainfall was heavy, causing a sudden rise in the Potomac river and Antietam and Conococheague creeks. The Potomac is swollen about six feet and is still rising, with every indication of the stream getting wild and doing damage. The banks of the Chesapeake and Ohio canal are being watched at points where the river bounds the towpath. Other streams are nearly out of their banks, but no damage is reported.

Reports from the famous South mountain peach belt indicate that injury has been done to the early fruit by the freezing weather of Wednesday. The early buds had been forced almost open by the recent warm weather, and the sudden change was ruinous.

Snow Does Much Damage.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., April 5.—Reports from Fayette county indicate that the snowstorm which has been raging for 48 hours and is still falling has done great damage. The telephone and telegraph wires, electric light wires and poles suffered everywhere, and communication with most points in this section has been lost. No communication for two days, either by telephone or telegraph, has been had with Pittsburg. In the mountains east of here snow has been falling since Wednesday and is still falling. The snow has melted considerably and yet lies three feet deep. Trees are covered with the wet snow which froze as it fell, and the limbs of trees touch the ground all around from the mass of snow piled on them. The streams are all high, and when the mass of snow lying in the mountains melts they will be swollen beyond their banks.

IGNORANT OF HIS MARRIAGE.

A French Count Placed In a Queer Position.

PARIS, April 5.—Count Robert de Pomereu, a deputy for Seine-Inferieure, has just discovered, although he is a bachelor, that he possesses an American wife.

He received a letter the other day from the United States written by a woman who signed herself as Lizzie de Pomereu asking what he meant by deserting her and whether he intended to support their infant child.

Count de Pomereu was mystified. He at first treated the matter as a hoax, but eventually he instituted inquiries, with the result that he learned that on April 19, 1892, a man using his name and living in Fifth avenue, New York, had married in that city a woman named Lizzie Barier, 31 years old, of British origin. The marriage certificate, which was entirely correct, was registered at the French consulate in New York.

It is a coincidence that Count de Pomereu as mayor of Heron, Normandy, presided on April 19, 1892, at two civil marriages.

He has taken legal opinion of the matter and has been informed that he must regard himself as legally married. He is therefore suing in a civil court for the annulment of the marriage.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

The new British civil list has been put at £470,000.

Floods are threatened in West Virginia from heavy snow and rain.

The sound steamer Chester W. Chapin is still aground near Providence.

The president has signed the new commissions of Generals Funston, Wheaton and Smith.

The largest cargo of tobacco ever shipped from Havana arrived in New York from that port.

Bids for the construction of the protected cruiser Milwaukee were opened at the navy department.

Robbers bound two men and blew open the safe in a bank in Chardon, O. Two of them were arrested.

Extensive Postal Changes.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—In addition to the arrangement already effected with Canada it is expected that a reduction of the postal money order rate between the United States and both the Philippines and Cuba will be put into operation on July 1 next. The arrangement just signed between the postal administrations of the United States and Canada will take effect on that day, and negotiations are now in progress with the islands mentioned which are expected to be consummated in time for all three arrangements to be effective simultaneously. This means a reduction on all money order business between the United States, Canada and the Philippines of from 1 per cent, the international rate which now applies, to three-fourths of 1 per cent, which is the domestic rate.

To Distribute Trees as Well as Seeds.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—A new plan, having for its object the distribution of young trees throughout the country, will be put into practical operation by Secretary Wilson of the agricultural department next year. Preparations for this work are now in progress by the department, and many of the seedlings will be propagated in the grounds of the office here. An investigation has been made to discover the varieties which will thrive best in the various localities, and the distribution will be made in a manner somewhat similar to that employed in the seed distribution authorized by congress.

To Start Steel Works Here.

LONDON, April 5.—The Daily Chronicle publishes an interview with Mr. Burdekin, secretary of the concern of William Jessop & Sons of Sheffield, two of whose directors are now in the United States choosing a site for the establishment of crucible steel works to meet American competition. Mr. Burdekin says the intention is to lay down only a small plant at first and then to wait until the prospects of business are secure.

Egyptian Discoveries.

BERKELEY, Cal., April 5.—Dr. George A. Reisner, who is in charge of Mrs. Hearst's excavations in Egypt for the archæological museum of the University of California, has cabled from Cairo that he has discovered a rich collection of gold jewelry.

British Casualties.

LONDON, April 5.—The British casualties in South Africa continue high. The totals for the month of March are: Killed, 9 officers and 103 men; wounded, 26 officers and 270 men.

RADICALS SEE WOOD.

Governor General Assures Cubans of Justice.

HAVANA, April 5.—The so called radical element in the Cuban constitutional convention, including Senors Juan Gomez, Portuondo, Aleman and Manduley, held a conference yesterday with Governor General Wood regarding the Platt amendment.

General Wood said that the United States government intended to deal justly and honestly by the Cubans and had no desire to retain possession of the island. He pointed out that the Platt amendment was drawn up primarily with the view to protecting a weak nation against outsiders as well as against internal strife and would not interfere with Cuban independence. He explained that the Washington interpretation of clause 3 of the scheme of relations was that the United States claimed the right to intervene solely for the purpose of preserving the independence of the island, maintaining an adequate force to protect life, property and individual liberty and completing the obligations imposed by the treaty of Paris upon the United States. He expressed the opinion that in drawing up a treaty many points in the future relations of Cuba with the United States might be more clearly explained to meet present objections.

The delegates retired apparently pleased with the interview. Senor Portuondo said he thought everything would be settled satisfactorily. He is in favor of the appointment of a commission to go to Washington and expects favorable results from such a step.

Orders have been received directing the holding of municipal elections throughout Cuba June 1. There will be 15 days for registration, beginning April 9.

THE PRESIDENTIAL TRAIN.

Cars For the Trip Across the Continent Are Marvels.

CHICAGO, April 5.—The train in which President McKinley and his cabinet will cross the continent on their trip is a marvel of luxury. It will consist of two sleeping, a dining and a composite car, consisting of smoking room and baggage compartment. The president will sleep in the magnificent Pullman, the Olympia. A description of this car would fill an oriental prince with wonder. It contains five private rooms, finished in Mexican mahogany, maple and koko. The private dining room at one end is furnished in vermilion. Apartments fit for monarchs are provided for the servants.

Silk, satin, plush and velvet are lavishly used in furniture decoration. Onyx and marble fittings are in evidence. Large mirrors and wardrobes are provided. Each private room contains three complete fittings of a bedroom. All have separate toilet rooms. The car is 70 feet long and is used only for the accommodation of nine persons.

The drawing room car is finished in vermilion, elaborately carved, and the rooms are decorated in ivory and gold. The ceilings are beautifully tinted, and the upholstery and draperies are of the finest. Two staterooms connect with the salon by folding doors. Wide vestibules line the smoking car. There is a fine barber's shop in it, and a bathroom, with tiled flooring and wainscoting.

The smoking room is 21 feet in length, fitted with upholstered chairs, lounges, secretary, cabinets and library. A buffet is also provided. The exterior of the train is in keeping with its interior splendor.

Milk Producers Win a Point.

BOSTON, April 5.—A material advance toward the amicable settlement of the milk war was made at yesterday's conference between the representatives of the New England Milk Producers' union and the contractors, and the net result may be set down as a victory for the producers, inasmuch as the contractors agreed to take from the card the present clause reserving to the contractors the right to change the price of milk at any time and to insert the clause which the producers favor, providing that the price shall be changed only by agreement of the two parties. This removes one of the chief objections to the present agreement.

Thieves Caught Just In Time.

NEW YORK, April 5.—One of the most daring and desperate burglaries ever attempted in this city was frustrated by the police yesterday. Two thieves who had bored through 30 inches of brick wall and picked up between $4,000 and $5,000 worth of laces, silks and other valuable textiles were arrested just as they were about to take the plunder away in an express wagon that was standing at the door. The scene of the robbery was the importing house of Joseph Rothschilds at 327 Church street.

To Garrison Forts For Practice.

NEW YORK, April 5.—Colonel Austen, commander of the Thirteenth regiment, has been notified by General Roe that orders had been received from Washington for the regiment to garrison the defenses of Fishers and Plum islands, at the entrance to Long Island sound, during their camp from July 5 to July 13. At least 800 men will go into camp. They will take with them their own camp equipage and commissary plant and provide themselves in the same manner as if going on active service.

Spitters In Court.

NEW YORK, April 5.—Five trolley car passengers arrested for spitting on the floors of the various conveyances carrying them were arraigned in the Brooklyn police courts on charges made by members of the sanitary squad, and all five were held for the action of special sessions under bonds of $100 each. Four men were held in Manhattan.

Russian Army In Manchuria.

LONDON, April 5.—"By the end of May," says the Moscow correspondent of The Daily Graphic, "the Russian army in Manchuria will number 300,000 men. It is understood that the Russian minister of war, General Kouropatkine, reckons upon the possibility of having to dispatch an army corps southward into Korea."

Pope to Denounce French Law.

PARIS, April 5.—The Matin publishes a dispatch from Rome asserting that the pope is preparing a declaration on the law of associations in which he intends to condemn the measure more strongly even than in his letter to the archbishop of Paris.

Boston's Former Postmaster Dead.

BOSTON, April 5.—Colonel Henry A Thomas, a former postmaster of Boston, died at McLean hospital, Waverley last night.

NEW INSULAR LAWS.

Rules Providing Stable Government In the Philippines.

CITIES DIVIDED INTO FOUR CLASSES.

Electors Must Be 23 Years of Age and Not Subjects of Any Foreign Power—Ecclesiastics and Soldiers Barred From Office.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Copies of two important acts of the Philippine commission providing for the organization of the municipal and provincial governments in the archipelago have been received at the war department. The act for the organization of municipal governments does not apply to the city of Manila nor to the settlements of non-Christian tribes, for which special legislation is to be enacted. But all pueblas shall be recognized as municipal corporations, adhere to their former names and continue to hold all property rights vested under their former organization. The government proper of each puebla is vested in a president, vice president and a municipal council, to be chosen at large by qualified electors for a term of two years from and after the first Monday in January next, after their election. Councilors elected in 1901 will divide themselves into two classes, the first set vacating their seats on the first Monday in January, 1902, and those of the second set one year after their successors have been chosen and qualified.

Municipalities will be divided into four classes, those containing not less than 25,000 inhabitants to have 18 councilors, those containing 18,000 and less than 25,000 inhabitants to have 14 councilors, those containing 10,000 and less than 18,000 inhabitants to have 10 councilors and those containing less than 10,000 inhabitants to have 8 councilors.

The qualifications of electors authorized to choose the officers of the municipal government are that they shall be male persons over 23 years of age and must have a legal residence in the municipality in which they exercise the right of suffrage for a period of six months preceding the election and must not be citizens or subjects of any foreign power. They, too, must be a member of one of the following three classes:

Those who prior to the 13th of August, 1898, held the office of municipal captain, gobernadorcillo, alcade, lieutenant, cabeza de barangay or member of any ayuntamiento, those who own real property to the value of 500 pesos or who pay annually 30 pesos or more of the established taxes and those who speak, read and write English or Spanish.

Those disqualified from voting include delinquent taxpayers of taxes levied since Aug. 13, 1898, insane or feebleminded persons, those who violated the oath of allegiance to the United States, those who on or after the 1st of April were in arms against the sovereignty of the United States and those who in any way aid or promote the insurrection.

The municipal officers in no case shall be ecclesiastics or soldiers in active service.

The officers of each provincial government are to be a provincial governor, secretary, treasurer, supervisor and fiscal.

Commissary Alone Wrong.

MANILA, April 5.—Lieutenant Frederick Boyer of the Thirty-ninth volunteer infantry, chief commissary for the Second district of the department of southern Luzon, has arrived at Calamba, province of Laguna, where he has been charged with misappropriating 50 cases of bacon and with other irregularities. It is alleged that the shortage in the commissary depot in Manila aggregates $185,000. In contrast with the scandals in the commissary department the collection and administration of the insular funds are matters for congratulation. The accounts of the custom house, internal revenue department and license office have been inspected and are reported perfectly straight.

Charter Revision Bill Passed.

ALBANY, April 5.—The Greater New York charter bill was passed by the assembly yesterday with the amendments to the senate bill suggested by the assembly committee on cities. The bill then went back to the senate, where the assembly amendments were accepted by the senate without debate. When the bill was brought into the assembly, amendments by the score were offered by individual members, but all were voted down. The final vote on the bill in the assembly was 89 yeas to 44 nays. Five Republican members were recorded against the bill.

A Mail Robbery.

NEW YORK, April 5.—A package of more than 200 letters from Chicago and other western points, addressed exclusively to persons or firms in this city, was found on Ocean Grove beach, N. J., and sent to the postoffice in this city yesterday. Checks and drafts to the amount of $200 were found in the letters. The finders, not realizing the value of these, mutilated them, but not hopelessly, as they tore only the stamps and monograms.

General Lee Ill.

DENVER, April 5.—General Fitz-Hugh Lee is ill at the home of H. C. Merriam in this city, having contracted cold while on a trip around the Georgetown loop in the mountains. He had planned to go to Colorado Springs on his way to California, but was suffering from a severe sore throat and symptoms of the grip. On the advice of his physicians his journey was postponed.

France Menaces British Interests.

LONDON, April 5.—The Times has received the following from its correspondent in Wellington, New Zealand: "France, after establishing a naval station in the Pacific and increasing her warships to five within a few weeks, is now engaged in strengthening her land defenses. This action is regarded as menacing British interests in the south Pacific."

Boers Use English Cartridges.

BERLIN, April 5.—H. von Schierstaedt, a former combatant on the Boer side, has sent to the Lokal Anzeiger the wrapper of a package of cartridges such as the Boers have used in thousands, the imprint of which shows that the package came from the Kynoch company of Birmingham, England, for German Mausers.

Physicians on a Strike.

BERLIN, April 5.—At Leipsic 155 municipal physicians have gone on strike for higher pay and more considerate treatment.

April 5—Good Friday service at Crescent Avenue church.
April 7—Hugh R. Monro, vice-president of the Niagara Lithograph Company, of Buffalo will address the Y. M. C. A. rally. Miss Grace D. Hildebrand, "the Gospel Nightingale," will sing. She was soloist for four years in Dr. Cadman's Metropolitan Temple, New York city.

CORRECTNESS OF COUNT.

This is to certify that we, the undersigned, have carefully examined and counted the Municipal Ownership ballots which have been sent to the office of The Daily Press; that we are satisfied that each and every such ballot has been sent by the person whose name is subscribed thereto, and furthermore, that the figures already published in The Press announcing the result of such balloting, are correct both as to the number of ballots cast and as to the preferences expressed thereby.

In Witness Whereof we have hereunto set our hands this fifth day of April, 1901

WM. N. RUNYON,
FRANK H. SMITH.

Immediate Relief.

By all means let the good work in behalf of municipal ownership go on. The Common Council has placed the subject in the hands of a committee and a report may be expected in the near future. It will take time, however, before anything definite can be accomplished. In the meanwhile what the people want is an immediate reduction in the cost of the water supply.

There is one way in which immediate relief can be secured and that is by the general adoption of the meter system. If the Plainfield Water Supply Company can be induced to make that system general, a far more reasonable and equitable state of affairs will result. Householders will be compelled to pay only for the amount of water they use and the number of taps, on which the charges are now based, will be an affair of no moment.

This cannot be brought about by action of the Common Council. It will require a united demand on the part of the patrons of the water company. If that demand is imperative enough, there is little doubt but that the company will listen to it. It should be brought to the attention of the officers of the water company without delay, and they should be made to understand that the feeling on the subject is unanimous.

There is no doubt but that the meter system is fairer to both the consumers and the company which furnishes the water supply. The consumers would have to pay for just exactly what they used. The family of three would not be charged the same price as a family of ten because the number of taps in the house happened to be the same. It would also tend to a more careful and economical use of water, and the present waste, of which the company complains, would be considerably reduced.

This introduction of meters will not affect the progress of the municipal ownership movement which must necessarily be slow but it will tend to relieve many householders who are now compelled to pay for taps which they rarely ever use. If the demand is strong enough, action from the company may be expected. It costs considerable to put in meters that will properly register the flow of water but the company may be willing to go to considerable lengths to see its customers in a good humor once more.

The University of Pennsylvania has taken a step in the right direction in forbidding its football coaches to write for newspapers and in restricting compensation allowed them to actual expenses incurred. As these rules will undoubtedly have the effect of depriving that university of much of the aid it has heretofore been able to rely on, all the more honor is due its authorities for the commendable action taken. Others of the "Big Four" can advance the interests of the game by following the Quakers in this respect.

As Republican leader in the State Senate, Senator Charles A. Reed, of North Plainfield, can be looked upon as an authority on the Republican view of the legislative achievements of the last session. In another column will be found a statement on this subject made by Senator Reed to the editor of the Morris County Chronicle which will be of much interest to those who have followed the work of the New Jersey Legislature during its last session.

So that there cannot be the slightest question as to the correctness of the count of the ballots on the Municipal Ownership, City Judge William N. Runyon and City Collector Frank H. Smith consented to examine them In another column will be found a certificate signed by those two well-known city officials certifying as to the correctness of the tabulated statement published in yesterday's Daily Press.

It might be well if Mayor Jenkins should take a look at the banks of Green brook from the new bridge which connects Madison avenue and Duer street and instruct the proper city officials to improve the present unsightly appearance thereof.

The election of a new president for the Reading system and the announcement that the same man will fill the presidency of the Jersey Central shows the steady merging of the railroad and coal interests.

A meeting of the Borough Council will be held this evening at which it is likely that something will be heard on the subject of municipal ownership.

The new borough of Roselle Park is preparing to select its officers now that it has been separated from the government of the rest of Roselle.

WHAT OTHERS SAY.

Clippings From Other Newspapers Which May Be Of Interest to Plainfield and Its Citizens.

Tom Johnson has been elected Mayor of Cleveland on a 3 cent car fare platform. His brother Al., proposes to carry passengers to and fro between New York and Philadelphia for five cents. More power to the Johnsons.—Trenton Times.

* * * * *

The engineers laying out the Johnson trolley road between Philadelphia and Trenton, have about completed their work and have the road on paper, and it is now in order to get the road built and in working condition. It won't take long to learn whether the road is for business or for speculative purposes.—Trenton Times.

* * * * * *

The Perth Amboy bridge project is being pushed steadily along by the Freeholders from that section of the county. While it may be a fact that the improvement would be a desirable one, the Board of Freeholders should realize that even desirable improvements should wait until the county is a little better able to make them. We have spent hundreds of thousands of dollars for roads during the past few years, and this, together with other items of expense, has made the county tax one of the most oppressive of the burdens which the taxpayer is called upon to bear. Now that there is a prospect of relief from the necessity of building roads, the taxpayers of the county will not relish the prospect of having an era of bridge building inaugurated What the people of the county want is an economical administration that will bring the financial affairs of the county down to the same basis as that which has worked so satisfactorily in New Brunswick for the past seventeen years.—New Brunswick Times

Resolutions of Condolence.

WHEREAS, It has pleased Almighty God in the exercise of His will to remove from this world and the busy cares of this life, Brother William T. Newman. He has taken from us a loyal companion and an ever kind and loving friend.

Resolved, That in the death of Brother William T. Newman this company laments the loss of a brother who was ever ready to offer the hand of aid and the voice of sympathy to the needy and distressed of the department, and an active member of this company, whose utmost endeavers were extended for its welfare and prosperity. A friend and companion who was dear to us all; a citizen whose upright and noble life was a standard of emulation to his fellow men. Be it therefore

Resolved, That the heartfelt sympathy of this company be extended to the family in their hour of grief and sorrow.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread on the minutes of this company, a copy be published in each of the daily papers, and a copy be engrossed and transmitted to the family of the deceased brother.

Daily Budget Of News Gathered By The Daily Press' Corps of Special Correspondents.

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence.)

Dunellen, April 5—A horse belonging to Mr. Maltby, of West Dunellen, was standing near the old Naylor paint factory on Rock avenue yesterday morning, when it became frightened at a passing locomotive. The animal dashed into Front street and thence to North avenue, in the borough, despite all attempts to stop it. Several teamsters barely escaped colliding with the runaway and a trolley car escaped being struck by a narrow margin. Opposite W. G. Runyon's office the horse slackened speed and making a quick turn ran in under the sheds almost as neatly as if a driver had been in the wagon. Beyond a few breaks in the harness there was no damage.

The car load of scrap iron, which was levied upon a few days ago, has been released by the Plainfield authorities, their claim having been settled. The car has since been shipped to Buffalo.

W. B. Salmon and family, of Flemington, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Dickerson, have gone to Dover for a brief stay before returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Brokaw have returned home from Somerville where they have been spending the past week with relatives.

Mrs. Catherine Maier returned home yesterday after a pleasant visit with her daughter, Mrs. William Conly, of Beaville.

Mrs. W. R. Gulick is seriously ill at her home. Her condition is such that two physicians are in constant attendance.

Miss Janet Lake returned home today after a two weeks' visit with relatives at Nutley.

Miss Sallie Lake, of Somerville, was the guest of Mrs. A. N. Randolph, Wednesday.

Miss Mattie Rolf, of Newark, is visiting her sister, Mrs. L. B. Nelson.

Mrs. Annie Abbott visited relatives at Westfield yesterday.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence.)

New Market April 5.—There are letters remaining uncalled for at the postoffice addressed to the following: Mrs. W. C. Apgar, Mrs. Mary Brown, D. Young Cary, Mr. James Farrel, E. Hill, Joseph Miller, Esq., Mrs. Irene Priest and S. A. Schonbrum & Co.

Miss Adelia Fritz, who died at her home in High Bridge, yesteday, was a former resident of Dunellen and was a member of Lakeside Council, D. of L., of this place.

Frank Noll and family, of New York, have taken possession of his house on New Market Heights.

Miss Frances Davis, of the Trenton Normal School, is spending her Easter vacation at home.

Nelson Dunn, of Newark, is spending a few days in town

PLAINFIELD AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence.)

Scotch Plains, April 5.—Miss Helen Bruchmann, of the People's Home Mission, East 11th street, New York city, will spend Easter Sunday with her parents on Mountain avenue.

The weekly prayer meeting service of the Baptist church will be held this evening The pastor, Rev G. M. Shott, will be in charge, and will teach the Sunday school lesson

The choir of the Methodist church will meet in the church this evening to rehearse the Easter music A full attendance is desired.

William Buckley now seems to be improving every day. His temperature and the condition of his lungs are much better.

Dr. Westcott, who, of late, has been very busy, has been slightly ill. He was obliged a few days ago to take a short rest.

Fred Rose will receive the ordinance of baptism at the Park Avenue Baptist church, Plainfield, Sunday evening.

Mrs. Lyon, of Park avenue, will move shortly to her new home on Westfield avenue.

Prof. J. E. Ruth, who has been detained at home by illness, has recovered.

Miss Pauline Buckley, of Plainfield, is visiting friends in town for a time.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD

(Special Correspondence.)

South Plainfield, April 5—A euchre party will be given in Washington Hall this evening. Invitations have been issued and a slight charge will be made upon all present. The prize for the winner is to be a large and handsome cake. The other prize will be a box of marbles. The committee in charge is Miss Laura Manning and Thomas Linaberry.

At the annual meeting to be held in the Baptist church tomorrow afternoon, reports will be received from all the officers and auxiliary societies connected with the church, also a trustee will be elected for the term of six years.

The contract for furnishing and hauling crushed stone for the roads in Piscataway township has been awarded to Garretson and to Gray, to be divided between them.

The P. O. of A. dance held Wednesday evening was a success financially and socially. Good music was in attendance and about sixty guests were present.

Mr. Pleny is moving to Plainfield, where he has secured a position as driver of a city sprinkling wagon.

Eugene Laine has been granted by the New Brunswick court a renewal of his hotel license.

AT THE THEATRES.

Something About the Attractions Which Plainfield Theatre-Goers May Care to Witness.

The annual spring tour of those celebrated artists, J K. Emmet and Lottie Gilson, in that ever popular play, "Fritz in a Madhouse," has commenced, and they will appear at Music Hall, Tuesday night, supported by their own company. New music and songs will be introduced by Mr. Emmet and Miss Gilson. They both have a new repertoire of songs, at the same time holding one or two of their old favorites. The new ones are fresh and up to date, and they will not only hold the interest of every patron, but will make each hungry for more. Miss Gilson captivates her audiences in a genuinely artistic way. way. Both as a singer and an actress, she stands pre-eminent, and places herself at once among the leading favorites of the public.

David Higgins great southern play, "At Piney Ridge," will be presented at Music Hall next Thursday night. The atmosphere of the play is aromatic of that ideal southern life which to the northerner is flavored by a touch of romance. Its story is one of genuine interest from beginning to end, and the various climaxes and dramatic scenes follow one another in quick succession, added to which is the fine presentation given by a more than usually capable company.

* * * * *

The programme of continuous entertainment at Proctor's Twenty third Street Theatre for Easter week, Monday, April 8, contains numerous holiday features. Digby Bell, the famous comic opera star, will head the programme in his laughable monologue. J K. Murray and Clara Lane, the operatic stars, will present a new and novel skit of grand opera. W. H. Clemart, the English ventriloquist, makes his reappearance in America, and Pauline Moran and her cute pickaninnies should cause much laughter. Other are: Mr. and Mrs. Tony Farrell in the satire, "An American Duke;" Hale and Frances, unique hoop rollers and club jugglers; Ben Harney Trio, ragtime entertainers; Newell, Chiquilla and Dunufrio, musical trio; Little and Pritzkow, character singing sketch, and others. Popular prices, 15c, 25c and 50c.

CITY JOTTINGS.

—Hepner & Co., the druggist, will dispense ice cream soda, tomorrow.

—Thomas Callahan & Son are quoting special Easter prices in their ad in this issue.

—Mr. and Mrs Samuel Richardson, of Dunellen, have leased the house, 32 Linden avenue, and took possession Tuesday.

—The druggists of Union county are in session at Elizabeth this afternoon, with a view of favoring a county association for mutual protection.

PERSONAL JOTTINGS COLLECTED IN CITY AND BOROUGH.

Daily Doings of Plainfielders and Their Guests Carefully Collected and Tersely Told.

Mrs. E. W. Mills, of East Fifth street, is visiting relatives in New York for a time.

Charles H. Herring, of New York, is visiting his son, Rev C E. Herring, of Watchung avenue.

Rev. E E Jackson, of Liberty street, will return tomorrow from an out-of town visit with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Bowman, of Hillside avenue, have returned from Europe, where they have been a short trip.

William Richards, of Church street, has resigned his position as a salesman for Harry Werner, the clothier.

Mrs. Alfred B. Dunavan, of East Second street, has recovered from a recent illness that detained her at home.

Mrs. Edward M. VanBuren, of Central avenue, who was recently operated upon for appendicitis, is improving steadily.

Frank McDavitt, of Liberty street, will sail tomorrow for his old home in Ireland, where he will make an extended visit.

Mrs. Catherine E. Benedict, of 141 East Fifth street, had another hemorrhage of the nose yesterday, and her family were for a time alarmed at her condition. Her physician, however, was able to control the attack and today she is feeling but a slight effect of the trouble.

SUCCESSFUL PERFORMANCE.

Little Irene Myers Appears in "Under Two Flags" at Music Hall Tonight.

The Irene Myers Comedy Company gave a very spirited performance of "The Corner Grocery," at Music Hall, last night, before a good-sized audience, and little Irene made another pronounced success in the character of "Jimmy Nolan," a lad seemingly ordained to promote fun and mischief. The little actress displayed great versatility. She was the character to the life, and her earnestness infused vigor and vim to the other well-sustained representations of the other characters.

Tonight, "Under Two Flags," the same play that is now meeting with such great success at the Garden Theatre, New York, will be seen for the first time in this city, with little Irene in the role of "Cigarette, the Vivandiere.'" It is not to be expected that any attempt will be made to rival or even approach the great scenic production to be seen in New York, but Manager Myers promises a good acting version of story made famous by the great novelist, Ouida, and it is certain that little Irene will be in her element in the portrayal of the character of the daring Vivandiere, and a good performance is assured.

In addition to the play, the grand amateur contest will take place tonight, and this no doubt will prove interesting to many. "The Maid of the Mill," a very pretty comedy of love and adventure, will be the attraction at the matinee tomorrow and "The White Rat" will be the bill for tomorrow night.

Oesterreich.

Wien. Der prominente Bankier Albert Vogl wurde in dem Bureau der „Gale Manufacturing Co.," Fabrikanten von amerikanischen Maschinen, deren Vertreter er war, unter der Anklage verhaftet, einen seiner Kunden Namens Taubin vergiftet zu haben, nachdem er denselben veranlaßt hatte, ihm in einem Testament mehrere Tausend Gulden zu hinterlassen. Die Leiche Taubins soll Vogl verbrannt haben.—Im Wiener Vorort Nußdorf verkrachte die christlichsoziale Sparkasse mit einem Fehlbetrag von 1,000,000 Kronen.

Baden. Die verstorbene Hausbesitzerin Frau Wedl hatte testamentarisch die Verbrennung ihrer Leiche in Gotha angeordnet. Ihre Schwestern ließen sie trotzdem auf dem Badener Friedhof beerdigen. Ihr Sohn, in Verbindung mit dem Verein „Flamme," erhob Beschwerde und setzte ein gerichtliches Urtheil auf Testamentserfüllung durch, dessen Ausführung aber von den unteren Verwaltungsbehörden aus gesundheitlichen Gründen verweigert wurde. Nach mehr als einem Jahre hat endlich das Ministerium im Sinne des Gerichts entschieden, und die Leiche ist nunmehr wieder ausgegraben und nach Gotha gebracht worden.

Brünn. In Sokolnitz hat sich ein Komite zur Errichtung eines Denkmals auf dem Schlachtfelde von Austerlitz gebildet. In der Schlacht bei Austerlitz 1805 schlug Napoleon der Erste das vereinigte österreichisch-russische Heer, bei dem sich die Kaiser Alexander der Erste von Rußland und Franz der Erste von Oesterreich befanden.

Budapest. Im nordöstlichen Theile von Ungarn sind mehrere Personen dem Hunger erlegen. Ein großer Theil der dortigen Bevölkerung lebt von Hunde- und Rattenfleisch und anderen eklen Dingen. Die Regierung beschloß, den bedrohten Gegenden Hilfe zu bringen. — Der unlängst zum Selbstmörder gewordene 81jährige, seit Jahren wegen Wuchers strafweise suspendirte Advokat Franz v. Gyurikovics, der hier seit Jahren vom Bettel lebte, hat sein Vermögen von 700,000 Kronen wohlthätigen Zwecken testirt, davon 400,000 Kronen für eine in Preßburg zu errichtende Universität.

Innsbruck. In dem Sommerfrischorte Sistrans im reizenden Innsbrucker Mittelgebirge, wird seitwärts vom Dorfe, auf einem der schönsten Punkte, ein Aussichtsthurm errichtet, wozu der Innsbrucker und Aldranser Verschönerungsverein namhafte Beiträge zur Verfügung stellten.

Kufstein. Der bekannte Gasthof- und Brauereibesitzer Michael Egger ist im 69. Lebensjahre gestorben.

Teplitz-Schönau. Der Postmeister Krützner in Niklasberg stürzte bei einem Spaziergang durch den Wald ab und fand den Tod durch Erfrieren.

Wischau. Bei der Bezirkshauptmannschaft Wischau zeigten 150 Einwohner der hiesigen deutschen Sprachinsel ihren Austritt aus der katholischen Kirche an, weil der beliebte Kutscherauer Oberlehrer Wolf in Folge Einwirkung des czechischen Pfarrers Hlavinka versetzt wurde.

Schweiz.

Bern. Nach dem letzthin bekannt gegebenen Resultate der eidgenössischen Volkszählung vom 1. Dezember 1900 belief sich die Gesammtzahl der in der Schweiz lebenden Ausländer auf 392,896. Im Jahre 1888 zählte man 229,650 Ausländer.—Der Gemeinderath von Bern gestattete, in Erweiterung eines im Jahre 1895 gefaßten Beschlusses, die Aufnahme von Mädchen für alle Klassen des städtischen Gymnasiums. Er genehmigte ferner die Errichtung einer dritten Klasse an der Handelsabtheilung der städtischen Töchterschule. Für die von der Gemeinde beschlossene Errichtung einer Wassergasanlage ward vom Gemeinderath das System Dellwik gewählt.

Zürich. Die Niagara Falls Company in Amerika, welche das Haus Escher, Wyß & Co. in Zürich im letzten Sommer beauftragt hatte, zur Erweiterung ihrer Kraftanlage neue Turbinen zu entwerfen, hat das Projekt von Escher, Wyß & Co. angenommen und beschlossen, nach demselben sechs Turbinen von je 5500 Pferdestärken auszuführen. Von besonderem Interesse ist, daß Turbinen von dieser Größe bis jetzt noch nicht ausgeführt worden sind. Die größten bestehenden Turbinen entwickeln eine Kraft von 5000 Pferdestärken.

Freiburg. Eine Viehstatistik im Kanton Freiburg ergab einen Rückgang der bekannten und geschätzten Greyerzer-Ziege von 6283 auf 3978 Stück im Zeitraume von drei Jahren.

Graubünden. In Chur will man das durch einen schönen Neubau am Bahnhof überflüssig gewordene alte „Hotel Steinbock" in ein Volkshaus für allerlei musikalische und theatralische Darbietungen „mit möglichst alkoholfreiem Wirthschafts-Betrieb" umwandeln. Ein Gemeinnütziger großen Stiles, v. Planta-Villa, hat zu diesem Zwecke runde 100,000 Francs zur Verfügung gestellt. Dazu kommt eine weitere Schenkung von 5000 Francs.

COLLIER.....
EYE SPECIALIST.
108 Park Ave.....
Established 1869. Eyes Exam ned Free.

Our family have lately removed their residence. The new home is in one of the better class flats of New York city. There is a hallboy to admit visitors at the street door and to keep out beggars and photograph fakirs. A hallboy is a badge of gentility. The ceilings of our parlor and dining room are decorated to the queen's taste. We have a tiled bathroom, with hot and cold water, and there are electric light fixtures. These are also a badge of gentility. There are eight rooms in the apartment. The floors and finishings are of handsome hard wood. Here is the rest of it: There is not in that whole high class flat one solitary place in which a woman can hang up a dress skirt, though there are large so called closets in the bedrooms. The manner of them is this: They are some eight feet high. A short woman cannot reach the top drawers with her finger tips unless she brings a stepladder. They are of no particular use even to a tall woman. A third of the closet is taken up by this pile of lumber at the top. The next compartment below is supposed to be the place where you hang your gowns. It is not, however, spacious enough the up and down way to hold without wrinkling the skirt of a woman five feet high. It is the most exasperating thing when you try to suspend in it your best silk gown. Below this caricature of a place to hang dresses in are some puckered up little drawers of no use to man or beast. Would to heaven the man who planned the contrivance had had less mosaic and tiling on the brain and instead a little more common sense! Now, then, why do not women study architecture and plan flats and homes the country over? There is a loud and harrowing cry for them. No woman in her right mind would be such a fool as to build closets after the manner as above.

For women who live in suburban villages or in the country near a good market there are health, pleasure and profit in poultry. The American people now eat so many eggs for breakfast that the wonder is they do not crow even more and louder than they do already. The improved modern breeds of ducks, geese, turkeys and chickens put money in the pocket of those who know how to rear them and who stick to business. A certain duck farm I know of nets thousands of dollars a year to its owners.

The clubwomen of New York have been working vigorously at Albany for a bill to establish a state industrial school for girls where those who are homeless and destitute may find shelter and at the same time learn trades, such as cooking, laundry work, dressmaking and millinery. The school would be in no sense a reformatory, but a place where poor girls who need no reforming can learn to earn an honorable living. The object of the undertaking is a noble one. Such a school ought to be in every state in the Union. This is the way to reform women and men—catch them and make them useful members of society before they need reforming.

What is the matter with the men? The other morning I looked out of a window and watched the people going past to business. The women even in their swaddling clothes frequently walked more briskly than the men. A man somehow seems often to grow heavy at 40, old at 50 and sometimes decrepit at 60.

A certain ferryboat plies like a shuttle back and forth between two cities. They are large cities, no matter where. They are in the United States, that is sufficient. The ferryboat ran into a schooner or the schooner ran into the ferryboat, it is not clear which. The men's cabin, on the side where the schooner did not strike, was crowded with passengers. They screamed and ran wildly hither and thither in a panic, trying with trembling fingers to buckle on life preservers. In the opposite cabin, the one which the schooner did strike, there was one solitary woman passenger. She sat quietly in her seat, without fear or loss of coolness, till the crash came. Then, still without the slightest disturbance of her nervous system, she walked out of that cabin as calmly as if she had been going on shore.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning April 7—Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

TOPIC.—Dead to sin, alive to Christ.—Eph. ii, 1-10.

In this passage we have what has been called "the spiritual history of the Ephesians." Its correspondence to the first chapter of Genesis has also been noted. "It is a spiritual creation and resembles in its stages the creation of the physical world. There are (1) chaos (verses 1-3), (2) the dawn (verses 4) and (3) the work of creation in successive stages (verses 4-10)."

One who is spiritually created is dead to sin. Before he is born again he is dead in sin. But after he is born again he is dead to sin. Sin no longer has a charm for him, and its power over him is gone. Then he is alive in Christ. Then he has spiritual life, because he is in Christ and Christ is in him. The man who is dead in sin is dead to Christ; but the one who is dead to sin is alive to Christ.

The change that takes place in the sinner's heart and life when he becomes dead to sin and alive to Christ is entirely the work of God. No man can raise the physical dead. No man can raise the spiritual dead. God only can raise the dead, either physical or spiritual. All through this passage Paul attributes to God only the power to change from spiritual death to spiritual life. "God," he says, * * * "hath quickened us together * * * and raised us up together and made us sit together in heavenly places in Christ Jesus." "By grace are ye saved through faith, and that not of yourselves; it is the gift of God. Not of works, lest any man should boast. For we are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus unto good works, which God before ordained that we should walk in them."

The whole plan of eternal salvation through Jesus Christ, in its conception and in its execution, is the work of God and of God only. The sinner is dead spiritually—not weak or simply sick, but "dead in trespasses and sins." A dead man cannot raise himself. God only can do it. Salvation on God's part is of grace and on man's part of faith. There is no place for human boasting in this plan, but only place for unmeasured gratitude and thanksgiving unto God for His grace and goodness.

Paul also calls to our attention in this passage the attributes of God that led him to raise men from death in sin to life in Jesus Christ. (1) It was God's mercy. "But God, who is rich in mercy." Mercy is undeserved favor. (2) It was God's love. "For His great love wherewith He loved us." "God is love," and He "so loved the world" that He was willing that Christ should die to raise men from death to life. (3) It was God's grace. "By grace are ye saved." (4) It was God's kindness. "In His kindness toward us through Jesus Christ."

The important question that comes to us as individuals in the consideration of this topic is, Am I dead to sin and alive in Christ? Have I passed from death to life? And, if I have, am I showing it in my life? Am I living a new life in Christ Jesus, or do the graveclothes of sin still cling to me? If dead to sin, let us not live in sin; if alive in Christ, let us live a Christ life that will show that we have been born again and are living together with Christ Jesus in heavenly places.

THE PRAYER MEETING.

Have a voluntary service in which each one takes part as led by the Spirit.

BIBLE READINGS.

Isa. i, 16-20; Ps. li, 1-13; John v, 24; Rom. vi, 1-14; Gal. ii, 20; Eph. v, 17-25; Col. ii, 8-15; iii, 16; I Pet. ii, 21-25; I John i, 8, 9; ii, 1, 2.

Knowledge.

"If any man willeth to do His will, he shall know of the teaching." Understanding shall grow with growing earnestness of purpose. And he that tries heartily to do Christ's will shall know of the doctrine; know it more and more, know it deeper and deeper, know all that he needs. To selfish, earth bound hearts no secrets are revealed. No token of personal remembrance, no signs of secret favor, come from the master. True redemption is our deliverance from that restless selfishness and our return to union with God. No mastery among men, no conquests of self promotion, no prosperous economy, no career of politic success, contains a joy so exquisite and so full as that pledge of friendship from the love and power and wisdom that fill the throne of eternity.—Bishop Huntington.

A Robust Religion.

We keep our religion too much indoors. It ought to be climbing rocks or hewing forests—a stalwart religion, a robust religion, a religion able to digest the strong meat of the word, instead of being kept on the pap and gruel of spiritual invalidism. It is high time that we threw off the Sunday clothes of sickly sentimentality and put on the workday dress of an active, earnest Christianity.—Christian Herald.

Self Respect.

When a Christian is heard asserting that his self respect will not allow him to do this or submit to that it is reasonably safe to conclude he is deceiving himself. Nine times out of ten, if not ninety-nine times out of a hundred, he is merely indulging his personal pride. * * * So long as we do nothing unworthy ourselves we need not fear the loss of self respect.—Episcopal Recorder.

Make the Best of Home.

If we must measure our habitation by a few feet and our vision be narrowed by the width of a small street, let us make for ourselves a world within which is suggestive of all that ennobles and enriches life in freer spaces and where man has united his achievement to God's glory.—New York Evening Post.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Topic For the Week Beginning April 7, "Dead to Sin, Alive to Christ"—Text, Eph. xi, 1-10.

"Hath quickened us together with Christ and hath raised us up together."

Easter Sunday! Highest festival of earth! When the old century passed and the new one came, men welcomed the advent with pealing of bells and booming of cannon. Music, speech and festivity expressed the joyousness felt at the auspicious omens of the times. But the beginning of all these recent centuries, the center of all time, the key of all earthly good and pledge of eternal benefits lies in the resurrection morn.

Christmas gives us angel songs of peace and good will. We hail it with carols and rejoice over the manger cradle of the Bethlehem babe.

But Easter comes after holy week, after all the ministry of Galilee and miracles of healing, after all the speaking as never man spake, after Gethsemane and Calvary. After gloom and darkness, after the death of all life and eclipse of faith when only love held firm, then comes the burst of Easter joy. Never rose the sun of man's destiny so bright over all doubt and disaster. Angels sang before. Men now shout in triumph in an ecstasy angels can never comprehend, "Now is Christ risen from the dead and become the first fruits of them that slept."

Men had through all past ages since Abel looked in the face of death and gone into the grave's silence. A few had, like Lazarus, returned to the old life, but with the same mortality upon them and doomed to yield again to the power of death. Their experience had given them no knowledge of the world beyond the grave.

But this Christ hath conquered and abolished death. He has not returned through the same gate He entered. He passed through and rises in the power of an endless life. He is no longer a living soul merely. He is the life giving spirit.

His new life is the fitting goal of all His earth life and death. He has been made man and passed through all the life of man, and He can become Saviour only by tasting death to the full and then by the eternal spirit being raised in power.

So He becomes author of eternal salvation to all who trust in Him. The spirit which raised Him quickens us now and raises us from the death in sin to the new life of love in Christ and shall not only transform us and renew our minds, but raise and change these mortal bodies into the likeness of the body of Christ, risen and glorified.

Let the Easter anthem rise strong and clear. He hath begotten us again unto a living hope.

"We shall be like Him, for we shall see Him as He is."

Bishop William L. Harris.

There are many men whom it is a misfortune not to have known personally. To remedy this as far as possible it is wise to preserve just impressions and estimates of their character and work. To have the benefit of such knowledge of those gone before as can be derived from biographies and study of their writings is of no small value. We Methodists should ever keep in mind the great leaders of our hosts, both in the earliest days and in later years. Of those who were influential in shaping events in our church during the middle of the century past few are more deserving of remembrance than Bishop Harris. In the pastorate and professor's chair he acquitted himself with ability, but his best work was done elsewhere.

He was assistant missionary secretary during the years when Dr. John P. Durbin was failing in health and could not perform his accustomed work as the corresponding secretary. In this office he exerted an influence such as has been given to but few to exercise. He was five times secretary of the general conference and has never been equaled in that position. Many matters of form in the journals were improved by him and fixed as they now remain.

He was elected bishop in 1872 and as secretary of the board of bishops filled an indispensable place. "He was manly, frank, dominating and whole souled." Not so great an orator as some have been, not so great as an author, not so gifted as an organizer, but good in all and able in each.

Don't shirk. It never pays. It leaves work undone and makes you feel mean. It is harder to shirk than to do the work. The prayer and class meeting should be sustained. Have you done your part? If not, why not? You need the experience gained in speaking and praying more than the others need to hear you. You alone are responsible for silence and absence.

Unique Concert—Old Violins.

According to a German correspondent, a concert was lately given in Berlin which has a unique interest on account of the instruments used for the occasion. The first item on the programme was played on violins formerly possessed by his royal highness, the late duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha. They were a Stradivarius of 1723, a Rueggeri of 1667, an Amati viola of 1680, and a Techler violoncello of 1703. Other violins were: One formerly belonging to the earl of Falmouth, a Carlo Bergonzi of 1733; a 1723 Stradivarius, made for and owned by the king of Spain; Lord Nelson's Amati of 1648 and his Sanctus Serafin of 1712. Voilin bows used were made by Tourte, and formerly owned by Vieuxtemps, Leonard and Paganini, and the Vuillaume bow, formerly owned by De Beriot and Prince de Chimay.—N. Y. Sun.

Heavy Rainfalls.

Exceptionally heavy rainfalls often occur, sometimes with disastrous effects. For periods of five minutes rainfalls have occurred at Bismarck, N. D., at the rate of nine inches per hour, at Jacksonville, Fla., at the rate of seven inches, and at Galveston, Tex., at the rate of 6½ inches. In periods of 60 minutes rain has fallen at these three stations at the rate of over two inches per hour; at Galveston at the rate of 2½ inches. One inch of rainfall is equivalent to 27,154 gallons of 226,000 pounds on each and every acre of the wetted area. Rainfall at the rate of nine inches per hour represents a fall of 33,906 pounds, or 4,073 gallons, per minute per acre. In five minutes, such a rainfall would cover each area of four square miles with 51,000,000 gallons—a quantity much in excess of the daily consumption of the city of Washington.—Washington Star.

A CONFIDENCE GAME.

Played by Two Sharpers on a Memphis Bunco Man.

Rube Made a Bet That Bill Smith Would Come to Time, and Bill Did — Smoothest Crooked Work Deal on Record.

The slickest confidence man that ever perambulated down the pike was in Memphis last week and did some smooth business of the bunco variety, according to Patrolman Pat Horan's story in the Commercial-Appeal. Officer Horan refuses to give names, but he says that the victim in the case was a king-bee Memphis con. man who thinks he is more than "two or three," and who happened to be out looking for hayseeds.

The con. man dropped into a certain hotel in Memphis to lay for a "fish," and had gotten himself up to pass for a commercial traveler. He was soon spotted by the "slick one," who seemed to have a lofty scorn for the innocent "Rubes" and loved to make monkeys out of the swelhead frauds who think they know it all. Not long after the slick "one" spotted the Memphis shark, a hayseed Rube of the most harmless-looking type came into the hotel lobby and glared through his spectacles at the men sitting around. Failing to see the face he was looking for, the old Rube stood a moment in the center of the floor and then walked over to the clerk's desk. He took a long-range chance at the cuspidor and missed, and then, addressing the clerk, asked: "Has Bill Smith been here looking for me?"

The clerk looked up, and, seeing a chance for some fun, began to humor the old man.

The Memphis shark grew interested and drew near. Soon the whole hotel knew the old man's story. Bill Smith was a stranger he had met in the morning who had borrowed $50 from him to pay a freight bill, promising to meet Rube at the hotel and pay it back. Rube was certain he would be in soon, because it was now past the appointed time.

The old man's apparent innocence amused the crowd, and he was advised to go on and forget Bill Smith, as he would never see Bill any more. The old man replied good humoredly that he guessed he would wait awhile for Bill, and, winking at the crowd, he pulled out a well-filled wallet, with the remark that he had plenty left if Bill should go back on his word.

REUBEN PULLED OUT THE FIFTY.

The eyes of the Memphis shark glistened at sight of the wallet, and, approaching Rube, he began to manifest the tenderest sympathy in his case and assured him that Bill Smith was a rascally thief and that the town was full of such sharks.

Rube grew nervous under the repeated flings at his friend Bill Smith, and in his excitement pulled his money and swore he would bet every dollar of it on Smith's honesty.

"Well," said the Memphis shark, "I'll just bet you $50 that Smith don't show up with your money."

Reuben took the bet, and, with trembling fingers, pulled out the fifty, and the stakes were put in the hands of the clerk.

After this Rube grew silent and nervously paced up and down the lobby. Presently, as Rube was standing some distance from the desk, pensively rolling his quid and gazing through the skylight, a smartly-dressed man walked briskly through the door and up to the clerk's desk, eying the bystanders critically as he passed. Seizing a pen, he rapidly wrote on the register: "William J. Smith, Hushpuckana, Miss."

As he was writing Rube had once more advanced toward the desk, and, seeing the form at the counter, he strode eagerly forward, peered into the face of the newcomer, and, slapping him on the back, exclaimed: "By gosh, if it ain't Bill Smith at last!"

The rest of the story was simple. Smith recognized Rube, thanked him for the loan and immediately pulled out his purse and paid over the promised fifty he had borrowed.

The Memphis shark turned pale as Rube claimed the wager, but it had to go. Later the Memphis shark got a little note advising him that Rube thanked him for the little donation, and advised him to try the trick on some of his fellow sharks and play for even.

USED A BROOMSTICK.

Ended Maggie Benford's Participation in a Fracas on Paradise Alley This Noon.

Mrs. Maggie Benford, of Paradise alley, who needs no introduction to the people of this city, has figured in another episode which came near being a serious affair.

Just before noon today Mrs. Benford observed her little daughter, Maggie, in a fierce combat with a colored youngster in the neighborhood and she rushed into the melee. To make matters more interesting, Mrs. Louise Miller, the mother of Maggie's antagonist, attempted to get in the scrap and Mrs Benford tried to put her out of the game with a broom stick.

The Miller woman was too much for her, it is said, and, wresting the stick from Mrs. Benford's grasp, quickly dealt her a severe blow over the head.

Time was called with the Benford woman lying prone on her back in an unconscious condition. City Detective McCarthy appeared at this juncture and summoned the ambulance.

The woman was examined by Drs. Browning and Rolland Tomlinson. It was found that she was more frightened than injured. She was removed to her home

Patrolman Overbaugh placed the Miller woman under arrest and she is now in the lockup. Peace reigns in Paradise alley.

MEDITATIONS ON WORDS UTTERED AT CALVARY

Local Pastors Spoke Last Evening on Christ's Utterances From The Cross.

GOOD FRIDAY UNION SERVICS

HELD AT CRESCENT AVENUE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

Different Clergymen Made Short Addresses on The Seven Utterances of Christ While on The Cross —Service Largely Attended.

The union Good Friday service held in the Crescent Avenue church last evening was very largely attended by the members from all the evangelical churches in the city and borough. The service was deeply impressive and in complete harmony with the occasion. Rev. Dr. W. R Richards, pastor of the church, was in charge.

After the congregation sang "Sweet the Moments," prayer was offered by Rev. E. M. Rodman, rector of Grace P. E church. Dr. Richards then announced that, Rev. Cornelius Schenck, pastor of Trinity Reformed church, would not be able to speak.

Dr. Richards conducted the Scripture reading, and Rev. John McMurray, pastor of Monroe Avenue church, read the Scripture lesson: Luke xxiii, 27 46. After the singing of "Art Thou Weary," meditations on words from the Cross were then presented by the several pastors.

The first speaker was Rev. Charles L. Goodrich, who was assigned to the first utterance: "Father, forgive them; for they not what they do." The speaker pictured the entry of Christ into Jerusalem, with waving branches of palms, when He was hailed as the King. Now the scene has changed. There are no waving of branches of palms, no cries of joy, no glad looks, but instead there are jibes, cruel shouts, and in the centre of the throng is the sad face of One, who, wearing a crown of thorns and bowed down with the weight of the cross, is the centre of attraction. He is not hailed as King, and the crowd hustles Him along to the place of crucifixion, a place for criminals. The criminals are easily forgotten, but this event has set men to thinking tenderly and devoutly about Calvary.

Mr. Goodrich contrasted this event with the one previous when Christ entered Jerusalem triumphantly. He said that the first words are significant ones. Men knew little of a God who forgives and the forgiving love of Christ is paramount, showing the true revelation of the Divine character.

Rev. Charles E. Herring spoke on the second word: "Verily, I say unto thee. Today shalt thou be with me in paradise." Mr. Herring said that these were words of a King, an answer to a request for mercy from one of the greatest criminals of the time. In his opinion when heredity and environment are against a person, everything is discouraging and a person is never able to rise above these conditions. He thought pity should be expressed for the criminal. Yet with everything against him, he had a keen sense of sin and of Christ's power to save. He was repentant and showed himself to be a hero, for he championed the cause of Christ and sought His mercy. Mr. Herring believed the response of Christ to the thief is applicable to the people of the present day and that out of death there shall come the joy of the Lord.

Rev. G. Kennedy Newell was assigned to the third word: "Behold thy son; behold thy mother." In part he said: "It seems as though Christ might almost have been spared this pain. He speaks loving words to His disciples, and then utters the words of the text. The words "Weep not for me" were recalled. There were other things to be thought of, the poor, needy, destitute and unfortunate, and all these needed care and help Those who have the spirit of Christ are those who believe that He has bequeathed them some thing. Is not Jesus speaking to us in our day; is He not asking us to see the men whom He loves and for whom He died, and with all His compassion He asks us to give ourselves to Him"

Rev E. M. Rodman spoke effectively on the fourth utterance: "My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me." The speaker said that it seemed as though Christ could not bear His suffering any longer. There was darkness in the land and it was as though everything was shut out from Him entirely. The crowd was casting lots for His coat. The words uttered by Christ, the speaker said, were deeply instructive in the original "Why hast thou left me in the hands of my enemies." Continuing, Mr. Rodman said, "The people had for a long time been planning and plotting to do away with Christ and any way was welcome so long as the purpose was accomplished. Our Blessed Lord suffered far greater than any human being; it was past comprehension. Yet the physical suffering was only a small part of His intense suffering. Christ had the burden of the world's sins and it was for this that He suffered most."

Rev. Dr. W. C. Snodgrass spoke on the fifth word: "I thirst." He said that the cry on the battlefield for water, that intense thirst, was not less so in the case of Christ. The dust of the highway, the intense heat of an Assyrian afternoon was a physical torture. Christ's words indicated that He was conscious and in His right mind. He refused to drink the stupefying draught. Christ's utterances were so sublime, the speaker said, that one fails to comprehend them, yet not all His words were so great as to mystify, showing that He was tempted in all points like ourselves. His words that "He who gives a cup of cold water in My name shall not lose his reward," have a special significance when His condition on the cross is considered.

In conclusion, Dr. Snodgrass said that to serve is the privilege of every soul that loves Christ and the little things are not lost sight of by Christ.

The sixth utterance: "It is finished," was dwelt upon by Rev. J. W. Richardson, and he spoke impressively of this memorable utterance. He pictured the crowd standing by waiting for a chance to defeat the purpose of the blessed Lord and of the inexpressible agony of Christ, yet in that dark hour there was a rent in the dark cloud and a flash of glory appeared as Christ said "It is finished." Mr. Richardson said that it was the cry of a victor. It was the end of prophecy The Master had successfully completed the whole without leaving out a single part. Christ had tasted death for every man and by doing so He kept His grip on the human race. In closing Mr. Richardson said he believed the time would come when sin would be eliminated entirely from this world and not the slightest taint would be found.

The last word: "Father, into my hands I commend my spirit," was assigned to Rev. Cornelius Schenck, but in his absence, Dr. Richards took his place. His words were strongly impressive coming at the close of the grand utterances of the preceding speakers. He portrayed a picture of a time for rest, after trying times. He spoke of the sufferings of Christ as being mysterious and how He had prayed that the cup might pass from Him.

Mr. Richards said that during the past weeks much sorrow had come into many homes, and the only comfort and consolation was to be found in a risen Christ. He hoped that all might be in perfect harmony with Christ and in His hands commend their spirit.

Silent prayer then followed, after which Rev. G. W. Gardner offered prayer. While the collection was being received for the Children's Home, a beautiful solo was sung by Miss Pierrepont, of New York city. After the singing of "Just as I Am," the benediction was pronounced by Rev. G. W. Gardner.

AMATEUR CONTEST.

Did Various Turns at Music Hall at Conclusion of Regular Performance Last Night.

After the regular performance at Music Hall last evening the patrons were treated to a subsequent entertainment in the way of an amateur contest for a prize between local artists with theatrical aspirations.

The selection of the winner was left to twelve disinterested persons in the audience. Their choice fell upon Taylor and Wilson, who were ludicrously attired, and gave a brief song and dance sketch, which occasioned much laughter. Closely following them in point of favor was Eddie McKinley, who was announced as the youngest buck dancer in the world. Although but three years old the little fellow executed a number of difficult steps to perfect time.

LEASED HOTEL NELSON.

John Adelmann Has Become Proprietor of Hotel at New Market.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

New Market, April 6—M. W. Casterline, who for several years past has been the proprietor of the Hotel Nelson at this place, has disposed of the business to John H. Adelmann, former superintendent of the Plainfield Street Railway. The new proprietor has taken a three-year lease on the building and will assume possession in a short time. The Nelson is one of the oldest established hostelries between Plainfield and New Brunswick.

BOROUGH WANTS WATER WORKS AND SEWERS

Borough Council Appoints Committees to Investigate Both Of Those Subjects.

MUCH IMPORTANT BUSINESS

MAYOR SMALLEY IS IN FAVOR OF MUNICIPAL WATER PLANT.

The Widening of Somerset Street Will Begin At Once—Dog Tax Was Increased—Contracts Awarded For Stone Supply.

The first regular monthly meeting of the newly organized Borough Council was held in the councilmanic chamber on Somerset street last evening. Speeches were made in advocacy of the absorbing topic of municipal ownership of water and electric light plants and a committee of three was appointed, in pursuance of a resolution adopted, to investigate the subject and report the findings.

Instructing the street committee to commence the widening of Somerset street; authorizing the collector of taxes to sell land incumbered by delinquent taxes; increasing the dog tax, and letting the contracts for supplies of flagstone and crushed stone, were other important measures passed at the meeting.

With the exception of S. S. Swackhamer all the members answered the roll call and the minutes of the previous meeting were read and adopted.

Petitions were read requesting that the sidewalk be repaired on the north side of Willow avenue and commencing at house No. 72 and extending as far as Magnolia avenue, and that action be taken regarding the destruction of property by dogs. In the latter case the petitioner was Mrs. Jane Boe, who stated that twenty-one of her chickens had been killed by a dog recently. A motion was made and carried that all claims be referred to the auditing committee, and paid on approval.

The Mayor nominated Wm. B. Emmons for the street commissionership and John Schenck as special marshal. Both of these nominations were subsequently adopted.

The treasurer's report for the past month showed the following itemized receipts: Taxes, interest and sidewalks, $914 52; Board of Health, $10 04; special school, $316 51; bills payable, note, $2,500; balance on hand March 1, $1 198 95, making the total receipts $4,940 02. The disbursements were $3,154 07, and the total cash on hand April 1 is, $1,785 95 The borough clerk had received $8 in fines during the month. The street committee's report showed that the total expenses for the month were $214 35.

Councilman Lee, chairman of the license and marshal committee, reported that fifteen arrests had been made during the month, classified as follows: Drunks and disorderly, 4; disorderly, 6; begging, 3; burglars, 2.

Resolutions were passed awarding the contract to supply for the year flagging for sidewalks and crosswalk and curbing to the lowest bidder, J. G. Manhattan, of Plainfield, and the contract for crushed stone to the lowest bidder, J. W. Wilson & Company, of Dunellen.

Another resolution was passed, increasing the dog tax from $2 to $3, but not without objection from Councilman Northrop, who argued that this method of raising the tax, to meet the damage done by stray dogs, savored too much of the collection agency business and also made the owner of a good dog suffer for damage done by a bad one. Attention was drawn to the fact that an ordinance exists which makes mandatory the registration of all dogs, and warrants the killing of stray ones

The borough clerk was authorized to notify the residents on Willow avenue, commencing at the point where the macadam road ends to the intersection of Magnolia avenue, that that portion of the road will be macadamized as soon as the subscriptions made, are paid in by the residents. The subscriptions amount to $105.

The Plainfield Water Supply Company will furnish the water to be used in sprinkling the streets this summer, a resolution to that effect having been adopted.

The improvement of Somerset street as planned was ordered to be commenced immediately.

The Mayor was authorized, by resolution adopted, to appoint a committee of five persons, residing in the borough, to ascertain and report what they deem to be the best system of sewage, with the idea of introducing a

EFFORTS IN MISSION FIELD.

SISTERS TOLD OF MISSIONARY WORK AT HOME AND ABROAD.

Interesting Meeting Held by Young Woman's Mission Band of Trinity Reformed Church.

The Young Woman's Mission Band of Trinity Reformed church held an exceeding interesting meeting yesterday afternoon in the parlors of the church. There was a large attendance of members and friends who thoroughly enjoyed the addresses of the afternoon. Miss Force, president of the band, was in charge of the meeting.

Miss Ada Duryea, a member of the Executive Committee of the Board of Home Missions, of the Reformed church, was the first speaker and she talked concerning the Kentucky whites, among which people she has been working for some time. She spoke of the general work, then the student missionary work and then of various phases of the work. She remarked that these people do not like to be called "poor whites" or "mountain whites," but someone has quite properly styled them "Southern Highlanders."

Miss Duryea said that these people are deeply in earnest about learning of Christ and the Bible, and it is wonderful what an interest has been stimulated among them by missionaries. She told of the good work a Christian Endeavor society is doing among these people by forming schools for the study of the Bible, also for the purpose of teaching the people how to cook and sew.

The speaker urged all present to continue their interest in the grand work and to do all that they can to help this uncivilized race. At the close of Miss Duryea's talk she read a very interesting letter written by a southern boy to a mission band.

At the conclusion of the talk another short address was given by Miss Duryea, a sister of the first speaker, who was at one time secretary to China for the Board of Foreign Missions of the Reformed church. She is now vice-president and secretary of that Board. She is deeply interested in mission work, especially in the foreign field. She related many helpful incidents in connection with the work of missionaries abroad and told how quick and anxious the heathen are to learn about Christ. She impressed upon all the importance of making the Bible a part of their very lives and to follow its precepts.

At the close of the meeting the speakers received the hearty thanks of all and after the singing of a hymn the meeting adjourned.

PUTTING UP SIGNS.

Work of Placing Street Signs in Position Began on West Front Street Yesterday.

W. H. Brokaw, who has the contract for putting up the new street signs ordered by the Council, began the work yesterday. The first ones were placed on West Front street and the thoroughfares leading from it. They are very conspicuous, having been placed high up on convenient poles, while the large white letters on the blue back ground, can be easily read.

Absent For Many Years.

Walter Vail, of Los Angeles, Cal., and his brother, Edward Vail, of Arizona, are in Plainfield for the first time in a great many years. Their father, Mahlon C. Vail, of Park avenue, is seriously ill at his home, and they will remain in the city for a time. The brothers were born in Plainfield, and since they have been home they have met many friends who were glad to see them.

Wm. Phillips Hall Was There.

Grace D. Hildebrand, who will sing at the big meeting at Y. M. C. A. Hall tomorrow afternoon at 4:15 o'clock, sang last summer to great audiences at services conducted in the Gospel tent, "Glad Tidings," in New York city. William Phillips Hall, who conducted meetings in this city was at the head of the movement.

At The Men's Meeting.

Hugh R. Mason will speak and Miss Grace D. Hilderbrand, "the gospel nightingale" will sing at the big meeting for men at the Y. M. C. A. Hall Sunday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock.

Wholesale License for Mrs. Hoester.

The Somerset County Court has granted Mrs. Lena M. Hoester, of Somerset street, a wholesale liquor license.

EASTER SERVICES IN THE LOCAL CHURCHES.

Special Music Will be a Feature of Most of the Easter Celebrations.

BEAUTIFUL DECORATIONS.

SERVICES IN EPISCOPAL AND R. C. CHURCHES VERY ELABORATE.

Musical Programme Which Will be Given in Some of the Churches of City and Borough at Services Morning and Evening

Easter will be celebrated in all the local churches by the usual elaborate services in which music will play a prominent part. Much preparation is being made in most of the churches for the Easter services, and the churches are beautifully decorated with Easter lilies and other flowers. The music is given special attention.

A St. Mary's R. C. church the choir of twenty voices will be augmented by an orchestra of six pices, and the musical programme, under the direction of Miss Mary Smith, the organist, promises to be very fine

The main celebration of the day will be high mass at 10:30 o'clock and the service will be: Vidi Acquam; Kyrie Elleson, Hayden; Gloria in Excelsis, Hayden; Credo, Hayden; Offertory, Regina Coeli; Sanctus, Hayden; Agnus Dei, Weber; Dona Novis, Weber. The soloists at the mass are: Soprano, Mrs. V Brady; alto, Mrs. M. Owens; tenor, F. McDonald; baritone, E. J. Harding, and basso, M. J Cashin.

The Easter services at St. Joseph's R. C. church will be as inspiring as any ever held in the history of the parish. Father Miller will say the mass at 8:30, and again at 10:30 o'clock, which will be the high celebration. The organist will be aided by the large choir and a orchestra of twelve pieces especially engaged for the high mass. Gans' Mass in D., composed by a priest of the church, is to be used, and the offertory will be Giorza's Regina Coeli. The altar will be banked with Easter lilies and beautiful cut flowers mostly in white.

The services at Grace P. E church will undoubtedly attract many worshippers. Under the skillful instruction of Mrs. Wm. A Freeman, the choir has gained a reputation of being one of unusual merit, and a special musical programme will be rendered. The services during the day will be: early celebration, 7 o'clock; second celebration, 8 o'clock; third celebration, after morning prayer and sermon, 10:30 o'clock; children's Easter festival, 7:30 o'clock in the evening.

The music for the 10:30 o'clock service is: processional, "Angels Roll the Rock Away," Roper; anthem, "Christ Our Passover," Chappel; Te Deum, Hodge; Jubilate Deo, in B, Field; Introit Anthem, "As it Began to Dawn," Vincent; Kyrie Eleison, in B flat, Cruickshank; Gloria Tibi, in B flat, Cruickshank; hymn, "Jesus Christ is Risen Today," from Lyria Davidica; offertory, "Why Seek Ye the Living Among the Dead," Brown; Sursum Corda, in B flat, Cruickshank; Sanctus, Gounod, and the Benedictus, in B flat, by Cruickshank.

At the children's festival in the evening, the choir will march around the church led by the cross-bearer and acoloyte. The banner will be carried on this occasion and the choir will sing an appropriate carol. The children will sing Easter carols at their festival and will be addressed on the meaning of the day.

A special musical programme has been arranged for both morning and evening services at the Trinity Reformed church by A. L. Titsworth, organist and director. The choir will be composed of Miss Glen and Miss Derby, soprano; Miss Williams and Mrs. Bird, alto; Mr. Clark and Mr. Van Zandt, tenor; Jos. C. Martin and E. C. Martin, bass. The music will be as follows:

MORNING SERVICE.

Organ Prelude—Allegro Pomposo.....Harriss
Old Hundred.....Guillaume Franc
TeDeum in F.....Danks
Response.....Gounod
Gloria, 12th Mass.....Mozart
Lord's Prayer.....Hoyt
Offertory—Christ Our Passover.....Lloyd
Anthem—Why Seek Ye the Living.....Brown
Postlude—Vivace.....Pattison

EVENING SERVICE.

Organ Prelude—Offertoire in E flat....Driffield
Anthem—Why Seeke Ye.....Simper
Duet—Come Unto Me.....Campana
Postlude—March Militaire.....Phillips

The musical part of the Easter service at the Congregational church tomorrow morning will consist of instrumental trios, organ, piano and violin by Mrs. B T. Barnes, Miss Saidee Mae Howell and P. Ludwig Conde; a baritone solo, Kandigger's "Save Me, O Lord," by Alfred E. Holmes; a duet, Faure's "The Crucifix," by Miss Bertha Van N. Willis and Mr. Holmes, and a solo by Miss Willis with violin obligato, "Easter Dawn."

The services at the Church of the Holy Cross, Episcopal, will be conducted by the rector, Rev. William M. Downey, and the choir will render a splendid programme of Easter music. Holy Communion is set for 7:30 o'clock. Morning prayer and sermon will precede the Communion service at 11 o'clock. The children's Easter festival will be be held in the church in the afternoon at 4:30 o'clock.

At St. Stephen's, P. E. church, Netherwood, the services, which are always very impressive, will be held at 7:30, Holy Communion; 10:30, morning prayer; 11, Holy Communion and sermon; 4:30, children's festival.

In Wilson Memorial chapel, Watchung, the Sunday-school service will be held in the afternoon at 3 o'clock and the children will be addressed by Rev. L. E. Livermore. The evening service of song will commence at 6:45 o'clock and a special Easter service will follow at 8 o'clock. The sermon will be preached by Rev. W. L. Jones and solos rendered by Miss Grace D Hildebrand. Miss Mary A. Luckey will recite at the service.

There will be special Easter music at the First Presbyterian church tomorrow evening. A male quartette will sing and there will be instrumental music.

Special Easter services under the auspices of the Sunday-school will be held in the First M. E church tomorrow morning. There will also be a special musical programme in the evening.

At the First Baptist church there will be special music morning and afternoon. In the morning the choir will give a special progrmme, and forty-two persons will receive the right-hand-of-fellowship. The afternoon exercises will be under the auspices of the Sunday-school.

MEMORIALS PRESENTED.

Will be Used at St. Joseph's Church Tomorrow for the First.

The magnificent sanctuary lamp presented to St. Joseph's R. C. church by Mrs. David T. Kenney as a memorial to her mother, was placed in position yesterday in the sanctuary. The lamp can not be seen in all its brilliancy until tomorrow when it will be lighted for the first time.

Another memorial which will be used tomorrow is a fine sanctuary bench of elaborate workmanship. It is given by Mrs. Annie M. Gross in memory of her husband, Eugene A. Gross. Richard H. McCullough made the bench of quartered oak and it reflects great credit upon him.

Old Officers Resigned.

Miantonomo Tribe, No. 118, I. O. R. M., met last evening and received three propositions. Charles Holstein, who had been chief of records for the past five years, resigned and his place was filled by the election of John Green. Mr. Holstein resigned owing to a pressure of business. It was announced that at the next meeting an award of one quarter's dues to the member lucky enough to draw a certain number. A full attendance of members is desired.

Was Not Wanted Behind Scenes.

Manager Maze Edwards of Music Hall appeared at the City Court hearings this morning, to testify against James Gray, who was arrested last night for disorderly conduct at the performance. The complaint was that Gray persisted in going behind the scenes, when he was warned not to do so. City Judge Runyon suspended a sentence of $5 or twenty days' imprisonment while Gray keeps away from the hall.

Funeral of Mrs. Anderson.

The funeral services of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Y. Anderson, mother of Mrs. A. J. Gavett, of West Fifth street, will be held from her late residence, Valentine avenue and Garfield street, Bedford Park, New York city, tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Carriages will be at Bronx Park Station, Harlem Railroad, on arrival 2:50 o'clock train from Grand Central station.

Broke Her Leg in a Fall.

Mrs. Hannah Horner, employed as a cook at the home of Jacob Kirkner, West Eighth street, fractured her leg yesterday while on her way to church. She slipped on a board walk and her foot turned. The break was near the ankle-bone. She was taken to the hospital, where proper treatment was given. The woman will not lose her foot.

Fined Three Dollars.

Norman Lindbarger was fined $3 in city court this morning for being drunk and disorderly. He was arrested yesterday afternoon by Patrolman Overbaugh.

RECEIVED BOOKS THAT THEY NEVER ORDERED.

Claimed That Agent Signed Names and Made First Payment to Get Commission.

VICTIMS NEVER SAW HIM.

FIRST THEY KNEW WAS WHEN THE BOOKS ARRIVED.

It Is Said That Contracts Were Forgeries —Most of Those Receiving Books Were Employed in Local Shops —Agent Has Left Town.

A large number of persons in various parts of the city have been completely mystified during the past two weeks by the delivery at their homes of a complete history of the United States in six volumes As far as could be learned no one on the premises had ordered the books and the recipients were at a loss as to who could have sent them. They were delivered by a suave appearing young man who vouchsafed no information beyond the fact that they were sent by the publishers by whom he was employed.

Communication with the latter revealed the fact that the books were supposed to have been purchased by those receiving them at a cost of $16 to be paid in installments The publishers furthermore claimed to have the signatures of the purchasers to a contract turned in by their agent with the first payment of one dollar on the receipt of which the books were sent out. The signatures, it is claimed, have since been found to be forgeries.

The whole matter was a scheme, it is said, on the part of the agent to secure the commission on the sales, paying the dollar out of his own pocket as a guarantee to the agreement and receiving several in return. Those whose names were used easily proved the forgeries and returned the books. The publishers, it is estimated, will lose over $100. The agent has left town.

Most of those receiving books were employes of the local factories, the agent procuring their names at the offices.

MRS. BENFORD WASN'T THERE.

So the Hearing of Mrs. Louisa Miller Was Postponed.

The hearing in the case against Mrs. Louise Miller, who is charged with having assaulted Mrs. Maggie Benford, of Paradise Alley, was postponed until Monday by Judge Runyon at the police court this morning owing to the absence of the Benford woman.

Mrs. Benford's little daughter, Maggie, told the court that her mother was in a bad condition, and as this was contradicted by a by-stander the court ordered an investigation to be made.

Huckster's Horse Ran Away.

The usually sedate horse attached to the wagon belonging to George Pizie, the New Market huckster, became frightened on East Second street, near Richmond yesterday afternoon and ran away. The result was a rather disastrous one for Pizie's stock of vegetables, as the wagon was overturned and they were strewn along the street for a block. A collision between the runaway and Woolston & Buckle's delivery wagon, driven by Omer Moore, was barely averted by the latter, the two wheels just grazing. The frightened horse was caught near Washington street after the wagon had been almost completely wrecked.

To Be in Charge of Exhibit.

William B. Connolly and Elmer Walker, two skilled mechanics in the employ of the Pond Tool Works, will be in attendance at the exhibit of the Niles Bement- Pond Company, at the Pan-American Exposition, at Buffalo. They are both young men and their appointment to this very desirable position is an evidence of the high esteem entertained for them by their employers.

COMING TO MUSIC HALL.

TWO STRONG SHOWS BILLED FOR THE COMING WEEK.

Nothing New Regarding the Future of Music Hall After July 1—Other Plays This Spring.

At present writing there is nothing definite or positive known as to the future of Music Hall. Negotiations have not culminated, but the probabilities are that the house will be closed for dramatic purposes at the end of the present season at the expiration of Manager Maze Edwards' present lease, July 1. Particulars will be given as events transpire. The Lenten season and very unpropitious weather of the past week has not been conducive to overflowing business with the little Irene Myers Comedy Company at Music Hall. As an organization it is as good as any that has ever apperred here, while the star of the company, little Irene, is a revelation and perfect wonder in the way of juvenile performers. She is versatile beyond her years and bids fair to become a very popular actress.

The concluding performance of the company will be given tonight, when "The White Rat," a startling comedy drama, replete with many novelties and surprises will be presented, with little Irene in the character of "The Kid."

Tuesday night, J. K. Emmet and Lottie Gilson appear in the musical comedy, "Fritz in a Mad-house."

J. K. Emmet, Jr., is a "chip from the old block." He is following closely in the footsteps of his father, that veteran actor, who became so popular with theatregoers some years ago. Young Emmet is one of the few sons who have stepped, so to speak, into the father's shoes and worn them without much apparent discomfort. From his father he has learned how to be graceful, playing his part with ease, and to the entire satisfaction of his audience, which even now does not forget how the part was played by his father.

Patrons of the theatre are delighted with his production of "Fritz in a Madhouse," and they have good reason to be, for no actor other than his father could have done so well. His portrayal of the role of Fritz leaves nothing to be desired. His every move is a picture most pleasant to look upon.

A great deal of credit for the success of the production is due Lottie Gilson, that popular actress, who for so long has delighted American audiences. She is very clever and in the part of Collie Parker she has to use an old expression, struck her "gait."

The offering for Thursday night will be David Higgins' great southern play, "At Piney Ridge." The plot of the drama hinges on the charge brought against Jack Rose, a young mountaineer, that he has negro blood in his veins, made at a time when he is about to become engaged to the daughter of a Tennessee banker, for the purpose of breaking the engagement. The side plot, involving the betrayal of Cindy Lane, a mountain girl, of which offence Jack Rose is also suspected, because of circumstances arising from the other accusation, involves the plot additionally, and from the complications arising a strong and well sustained story is told, which holds the attention of the auditor for the full four acts without a moment's flagging in interest or intensity. A carefully selected company will interpret the drama, and the scenery and effects are novel and beautiful.

Monday April 15, "Down on the Farm," a new rural drama, will be seen and "The Denver Express," a scenic melodrama is booked for Wednesday, April 17, followed by "Nip and Tuck" Saturday, April 20 After that will come Vogel and Demings Minstrels, Thomas Jefferson in his father's play of "Rip VanWinkle" and "Quo Vadis."

George Dupee, of Rockview avenue, is home from Yale University.

J. Vincent Rittenhouse, of Cornell University, is spending his spring vacation at his home on Sandford avenue.

—You will only waste time if you try to cure indigestion by starving yourself That only makes it worse when you do eat heartily. You always need plenty of good food properly digested. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is the result of years of scientific research for something that would digest not only some elements of food but every kind. And it is the one remedy that will do it. L. W. Randolph.

Daniel Runkle, of West Eighth street, is spending the Easter holiday season at Atlantic City.

Fred Overton, of Cornell University, is spending his vacation at his home on Rockview avenue.

Miss Grace VanSickel, of Madison avenue, is home from boarding school at Morristown for the Easter holidays.

—Skin troubles, cuts, burns, scalds and chafing quickly heals by the use of DeWitt's witch Hazel Salve. It is imitated. Be sure you get DeWitt's. L. W. Randolph.

A BOGUS NOBLE.

Several Men In the Edison Works Neatly Swindled.

ORANGE, N. J., April 6.—Several of the bright young men to whom Mr. Thomas A. Edison intrusts the management of his factories in Orange are hot on the trail of another young man who is just as bright in his way, though his knowledge does not run to ohms and amperes. This youth successfully invaded the wizard's den on Thursday and took much spoil. One of his victims told the story.

The young man arrived at the factories Thursday afternoon and, with an ingenuous smile which revealed the loss of all but two of his upper front teeth, announced that he was son and heir of the Earl of Cavan. He wanted Mr. Edison. Mr. Edison was away.

The young man displayed a profound knowledge of the foreign contracts of the Edison firm. He thus won the confidence of the men in charge and was most hospitably treated, being shown through the plant with all courtesy.

The heads of departments who entertained him learned on comparing notes that the visitor had effected a number of loans, several for considerable amounts. He had explained in each case that his remittances were delayed.

On consulting Burke's Peerage and ascertaining that the Earl of Cavan, tenth of his title, is a man of 35 and without a son the managers decided they had been swindled. They have not informed the police, but are keeping a sharp lookout for a small man with reddish hair, thin on the temples, and lacking his full complement of teeth.

Clay Defeats Sheriff's Posse.

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 6.—With the cry, "The vendetta! The vendetta!" General Cassius Marcellus Clay, the famous abolitionist and duelist and former United States minister to Russia, yesterday morning led his little bodyguard to battle against a sheriff's posse which had gone to White Hall, his palatial mansion in Madison county, to serve papers upon the general in a civil case instituted against him by his daughter, Mrs. Mary B. Clay. Many shots were fired on each side, and the posse finally departed without accomplishing the purpose of its visit. It is reported that General Clay was wounded in the affray. Fleeing from his supposed enemies, he barricaded himself in his "den" in the mansion, and there he remains, guarded by his faithful servants. Whether or not he is wounded is known only to himself and to his little bodyguard. No physician has been summoned to the house, and none dares approach except on invitation.

Lee Threatened With Pneumonia.

DENVER, April 6.—General Fitz-Hugh Lee lies ill of grip at the home of General H. C. Merriam in this city. He was attacked while in Omaha last week, but recovered sufficiently to start on his proposed trip to California and arrived in Denver on Monday afternoon. In company with General Merriam and officers of his staff General Lee made a trip around the Georgetown loop on Wednesday. The weather was cold at the top of the divide, and on the homeward run General Lee began to feel symptoms of a return of his illness. A physician who was called in ordered him to remain in bed. His start for the west has been postponed indefinitely. Pneumonia is now threatened.

Must Learn Bible and Hymn Verses.

BERLIN, April 6.—The public schools of the province of Saxony, Prussia, have been acquainted by the authorities of Magdeburg, capital of the province, with a new code of regulations under which hereafter a pupil must learn by heart 291 Biblical verses and 193 verses of hymns in addition to the catechism. The Vossische Zeitung, commenting upon the order, says, "This is the first important step presumably in carrying out the emperor's recent warning regarding the demoralization of the youth of the country and the lack of religious training."

English to Study Our Methods.

LONDON, April 6.—The managers of a number of iron manufactories of the Manchester district have decided to send out a picked party of British workmen to the United States for the purpose of studying American methods of workmanship in the automatic tool trade. The districts of New England, Philadelphia, Cleveland, Cincinnati and Chicago and other steel centers will be visited in the hope of convincing the British workmen of the necessity of improved methods if they desire to retain their share of the world's trade.

Too Much For the British.

LONDON, April 6. The Field, commenting upon the forthcoming races for the America's cup, says: "The average British sportsman long ago arrived at the conclusion that our American cousins are one too many for us at the yacht game, and most yachtsmen refuse to accept the hardy annuals offered as apologies for successive defeats. These excuses fail to account for the fact that, although since 1851 some 25 races have been sailed, only twice has a British yacht come in first."

Another Drop In Crude Oil.

LIMA, O., April 6.—Another reduction in the price of crude oil, both in Lima and eastern fields, has been made. Operations are being cut down, and there will be no new wells started except where it is necessary to hold leases until the price shall advance. Many deals for the transfer of production have been declared off. The reduction yesterday make the quotations: North Lima, 90 cents; South Lima and Indiana, 85 cents.

A Religious Maniac.

CAMDEN, N. J., April 6.—August Foreman, 38 years old, insane through religious excitement, tried to murder his wife and other members of the family, set fire to his house and tried to brain a policeman who had come to the rescue of the family. Foreman is now in the county jail in a straitjacket. He has always borne an excellent reputation and was well liked and respected.

Bank Tax Bills Doomed.

ALBANY, April 6.—It is learned on reliable authority that the bill taxing private bankers 1 per cent upon their capital and surplus, the bill taxing state and national banks 1 per cent on their capital and surplus and the two bills increasing the scope of savings banks' investments are all to be allowed to die and will not become laws.

Noted Preacher Dead.

ATLANTA, April 6.—Rev. F. M. Haygood, a widely known Baptist minister, is dead, aged 84. Dr. Haygood had occupied the pulpit in nearly every southern state.

STRIKE THREATENED

New Jersey Central Men Have Grievances.

COMMITTEE REFUSED AN AUDIENCE.

Vice President Warner Declined to Be Interviewed—A Statement Issued Giving the Railway's Side of the Case.

NEW YORK, April 6.—A strike is threatened on the New Jersey Central railroad. Some 2,500 men are agitating a consideration of grievances, and the national organizations have been called in.

The committee selected by the national board of railroad men's organizations to represent the New Jersey Central railroad employees and to negotiate with the company to avert a strike called to see Vice President C. H. Warren yesterday afternoon at the company's offices in Liberty street.

Mr. Warren was in the building, but word was conveyed to the committee that he was not in.

Vice President Warren, when seen later, declined to be interviewed or to say whether he would consent to see the committee or not.

After the delegates went away Mr. Warren gave out the following statement, which is practically the same as one issued in March when the demands of the men were laid before the company:

"The officers of the company having advised the men on several occasions that it was desired to arrange to increase the rates of pay on a new type of engine, they were finally requested by the committee of engineers and firemen to present a new schedule for consideration. This was done. Several meetings were held during November and December, and in deference to the wishes of the engine men various modifications were made as far as the officials felt they could reasonably and honorably comply. This schedule was not accepted.

"The company's officials then offered to give the men the benefit of the revised schedule proposed by them for the new type of engines and for engine men in passenger service, allowing all other engine men to work under the schedule previously in force. This proposition was declined.

"The New Jersey Central has met its employees more than half way and therefore anticipate no break in the very friendly relations which have so long existed between the campany and its employees. On Jan. 1 there went into effect a new schedule under which the conductors' pay was increased, and the rates of the engineers of the big engines were increased from 3½ to 4 cents a mile."

Petroleum Facts.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The census office has issued a bulletin on the industry of petroleum refining prepared by E. W. Parker of the geological survey as an expert special agent of the census. It covers the calendar year 1899. It shows that to produce refined petroleum to the value of $123,929,384 materials to the value of $102,859,341 were consumed, showing a difference in value between the raw material and the finished product much smaller than is common in industries of a more complicated character. The value of the products of the establishments engaged in the industry has increased 45.8 per cent during the decade.

Van Wyck Gets Charter.

NEW YORK, April 6.—State Senate Clerk Lincoln Decant, by special arrangement, handed Mayor Van Wyck the New York charter bill last night. The presentation was made at the Democratic club before a number of the mayor's political friends and minor city officials. The charter bill is the most bulky legislative document ever passed by a legislature affecting New York city. It contains 1,165 pages, an increase over the original bill of 29 pages. This increase represents the text of the amendments offered in both houses. J. B. Lyon, the state printer, had a force of 90 men at work from midnight until morning.

Famous Portrait Regained.

CHICAGO, April 6.—The famous $75,000 Gainsborough portrait of the Duchess of Devonshire has been recovered. This famous portrait, which was stolen on the night of May 16, 1876, and for which the police of both hemispheres have vainly searched, was discovered by the Pinkerton detective agency a week ago and delivered to its owner, C. Norland Agnew, who at once left for England. For the last 15 years the picture has been in America and has been stored in various warehouses in New York, Philadelphia, Boston and Chicago.

Danish Island Sale Rumors.

LONDON, April 6.—"It seems that the question of the sale of the Danish West Indies has reached a serious point," says the Copenhagen correspondent of The Daily Mail. "Washington is understood to be inclined to take umbrage at Denmark's hesitation to accept the American offer. The attitude of the United States has become almost menacing, but Denmark has the moral support of the European powers."

Torpedo Boat Trials.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Commander Hemphill telegraphed the navy department that the torpedo boat Shubrick's trials have been completed satisfactorily. She was required by contract to make 26 knots for two hours. Commander Hemphill says the Thornton will be given her trial today.

Bavarian Railway Explains.

BERLIN, April 6.—The Royal Bavarian railway administration has issued an explanation regarding the recent order of four locomotives from the United States, asserting that the order was not given because of the low price, but merely to enable an examination into American methods of construction.

A Daylight Robbery.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., April 6.—A bold daylight robbery occurred in a State street store. Three young men engaged the attention of the manager of the place while a fourth robbed the till. A number of bills of a large denomination were passed by in his haste, the thief taking only about $20.

American Radiator Works Burned.

DETROIT, April 6.—The works of the American Radiator company, located outside of the city on the northeast boundary, caught fire late last night, and the entire plant was destroyed.

CASTRO A DICTATOR.

Venezuelan Government Is an Absolute Monarchy.

PRESIDENT IGNORES THE PEOPLE.

Andrade, the Real President, In Banishment, While His Usurper Despoils Citizens and Foreigners at His Pleasure.

NEW YORK, April 6.—The Tribune this morning says:

"The fact that Frank L. Loomis, United States minister to Venezuela, has been called to Washington has released an avalanche of information concerning the methods of the Venezuelan government headed by Castro, the dictator. New York business men who own large commercial interests in Venezuela and who are kept informed by their representatives in Caracas of the state of affairs in our ever turbulent sister republic have within the last few days given to the writer facts long withheld.

"From these merchants it is learned that the dictator, Cipriano Castro, is revising the constitution to suit his revolutionary policy. He called his congress together Feb. 20, a congress whose members are all of Castro's choosing. The first act of his minions thus assembled was to pass, according to his orders, an amendment to the constitution extending the term of office of the president from four years to six. This was done without any pretension of consulting the choice of the people. During the first week in March he appointed as members of his cabinet seven men who have learned that it is best to subjugate their will to that of the dictator.

"Castro has been dictator ever since he drove President Andrade by force of arms from the Yellow House, Venezuela's executive mansion, 18 months ago. As the self appointed constitutional president he has yet to serve the remaining year of Andrade's term, which does not expire till Feb. 20, 1902. Then, according to his revision of the constitution, he will enjoy six years more in office, making 8½ years altogether. The reason for his desire to remain chief executive as long as possible will appear later.

"Meanwhile the real president of Venezuela is Andrade. The day the revolutionary forces under General Castro fought their way into Caracas at one end Andrade left the city at the other end and boarded a gunboat which carried him to Barbados. With a degree of finesse possessed only by politicians of South American republics he sent the gunboat back to Castro with his compliments and with a note saying that his "distinguished successor" in office might need it. Andrade is today in the island of Curacao, which he has chosen as the starting point of the proposed expedition and where he is now preparing in a practical, material way for action. If he succeeds in landing in Venezuela, interesting developments in the situation there may be expected, for it is stated that the soldiers of the Venezuelan army to a man love Andrade, as they fear and hate Castro. It will be a case parallel, though on a smaller scale, with Napoleon's return from Elba.

"In the interim Castro reigns, and Venezuela, as the knowing ones say, is in every practical sense an absolute monarchy. It is a republic only in name. A movement of Castro's little finger, the lifting of his eyelid, his word—this is the law in Venezuela."

Manila Harbor Improvements.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The division of insular affairs, war department, has received copies of the specifications and blue prints showing the proposed improvement of the port of Manila authorized by the Philippine commission. The work includes about 150,000 cubic yards of riprap, 21,000 cubic yards of concrete and rubble masonry in breakwaters, about 5,000,000 cubic yards of dredging and a pile of bulkhead 4,700 feet long. The dredging will be in mud, sand and shells to a depth of 30 feet, the dredged material to be used for reclaiming land.

A Mirage In Chicago.

CHICAGO, April 6.—Michigan City, Ind., with its buildings and churches, surrounded with high sand hills, more than 40 miles southeast across Lake Michigan, was seen in mirage by Chicago residents Thursday afternoon. The mirage was visible from 2 to 5 o'clock. At first the strange sight was dim, but as clouds passed away it became clearer and clearer, until finally the details of the distant city's outlines were clearly set against the sky.

Plenty of Glass.

PITTSBURG, April 6.—Judging from reports now being given out by window glass manufacturers and jobbers there will not be a shortage of glass during the summer months. It is announced that when the factories close there will be in stock in the hands of the two combinations and the jobbers' organization about 3,250,000 boxes of glass, or enough to supply the requirements of the country for six months.

Great Round World Purchased.

NEW YORK, April 6.—The Great Round World, a weekly publication, giving in narrative form the pith of important events and thoughts, has been purchased by Mr. William C. Gates, who was formerly publisher of the Milwaukee Sentinel and later business manager of The Review of Reviews.

FOUR STORIES UNDERGROUND

Mutual Life's New Building Extends 100 Feet Below the Surface.

NEW YORK, April 6.—The cornerstone of the Mutual Life Insurance company's new building in Cedar street was laid yesterday afternoon by President Richard A. McCurdy in the presence of officers of the company and a large number of business men. The copper box deposited in this cornerstone contained records of the company, copies of New York papers and statistics of the city, state and nation.

This building solves one of the most difficult problems that has confronted architects. Its foundations were only laid after excavating to bedrock, to a depth of 100 feet below the curb. It is the pioneer in a style of construction which is likely to revolutionize building operations in lower New York and has reached 40 feet farther into the earth than any such foundation ever before went. It is the only down town building in this city which rests on bedrock.

This building will be 15 stories above ground, and there will be as much more of room below ground as an ordinary structure 100 feet high would afford. The four stories below ground will afford 55,000 square feet of unusual floor space.

SOUTH AFRICAN WAR.

General French Continues to Press the Boers.

LONDON, April 6.—Lord Kitchener, reporting to the war office the finding of an abandoned and destroyed pompom near Vryheid, says, "This accounts for all the enemy's guns known to be in the southeastern district." A Cape Town dispatch says: "General French continues to press the Boers at Vryheid, Transvaal Colony. The Boers abandoned a pompom, which the British found smashed at the bottom of a precipice."

Lord Kitchener reports as follows to the war office:

"Colonel Plumer had advanced 20 miles beyond Nylstroom unopposed on the way toward Pietersburg."

According to the Pretoria correspondent of The Daily Telegraph, the Boers have shifted their seat of government from Pietersburg to a point 35 miles northeast.

The Kroonstadt correspondent of The Times, wiring Thursday, says that preparations are being generally made by the British forces for winter operations.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

The steamer Ophir, with the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York, reached Aden.

The Boers' attempt to recross into the Orange River Colony west of Bethulie failed.

Oscar Deignan, who accompanied Hobson into Santiago bay, was appointed a boatswain in the navy.

Albert Priestman, a wealthy Philadelphian, is detained at Ellis Island because he has a false arm and is not a citizen.

Another Morgan Combine.

COLUMBUS, O., April 6.—A special to The Dispatch from Cincinnati says that a gigantic amalgamation of four railroads has just been effected. The roads are the Southern railway, the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton, the Chicago, Indianapolis and Louisville and the Cincinnati Southern. J. Pierpont Morgan is reputed to have formed the combine.

De Reszke's Health Improving.

BOSTON, April 6.—In view of the conflicting reports which have been circulated concerning the health of the famous singer, Jean de Reszke, the great tenor has issued a statement saying that he was convalescing from a slight attack of bronchitis and that unless some unforeseen complications ensue his complete recovery is only a question of a few days. He expresses confidence of ability to sing on Wednesday afternoon in "Faust" and again on Friday in "Tristan and Isolde."

Griffith Won the Handicap.

INTERSTATE PARK, N. Y., April 6.—E. C. Griffith of Pascoag, R. I., won the Grand American Handicap by killing 18 straight in the shoot off, miss and out, and got $600 in cash and the silver cup. The second man was J. L. D. Morrison of St. Paul, who killed 17, and he received $500, and R. Rahm of Pittsburg was third, with 14 kills, and got $400 in cash.

One Dead and One Dying.

NEWARK, N. J., April 6.—Tommy Chadwick, 5 years of age, and his sister Ella, 8 years old, were struck by a trolley car in front of their home on Sumner avenue last night. The boy was killed and the girl so severely injured that she may die. The girl might have escaped injury had she not turned back to try and save her little brother.

Strike Threatened.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., April 6.—All public work is at a standstill here owing to a strike of the members of the Laborers' union, who demand a nine hour day. Italian padrones in New York, however, are offering to supply laborers for ten hours at less than current wages. The strikers are confident of securing all they demand.

Knox For Attorney General.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—When the cabinet assembled at 11 o'clock yesterday morning, the president announced to the members that Mr. P. C. Knox of Pittsburg had accepted his invitation to become attorney general and added that he had just made the appointment. Mr. Knox is expected in Washington early next week.

Will Not Contest Harrison Will.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 6.—It was reported from New York yesterday that Russell B. Harrison intended to contest the will of his father, with the view of obtaining his portion of the estate direct. Howard Cale, Mr. Harrison's attorney, says that the report is unfounded. Mr. Harrison, he says, is entirely satisfied.

Miles at Wild West Show.

NEW YORK, April 6.—Lieutenant General Miles and a party of friends occupied a box at the Wild West show at Madison Square Garden last night. The cavalry detachments connected with the Wild West show saluted General Miles, who returned the salute.

Insane Patients Transferred.

UTICA, N. Y., April 6.—Twenty-five patients at the Utica State hospital have been transferred to the Ogdensburg State hospital because of the crowded condition of the Utica institution. A number from the Binghamton hospital were transferred at the same time.

All diseases are more or less comprised in the above four statements, all of which have their origin in the Stomach. To cure each, any or all of them, begin right. Begin with the Stomach. Begin with Laxakola, the great tonic laxative. It speedily and painlessly acts on the bowels, cleanses the stomach, stimulates the liver, corrects the kidneys, allays nervousness, assists digestion, while its marvellous tonic properties tones up the system while curing it, and speedily causes a natural and permanent condition of health.

Laxakola is the best Children's remedy in the world, and the only one that builds up the children's systems while acting as an all-around blood purifier and tonic. It speedily clears the coated tongue, checks colds and simple fevers, and promotes sleep. Children like it and ask for it. Mothers are its greatest friends; they use it and recommend it. TRADE CONDITIONS.

A General Gain Shown—Textile Market Steadier.

NEW YORK, April 6.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says:

While the general business world has looked with amazement at the performance of the stock market, trade has maintained its even course, and there are many more points of gain than of loss, with even a slightly steadier tone in the dry goods market. There some sellers have withdrawn offers at recent low prices, though buying is small as yet. Collections in all lines are unusually prompt, and in the building trades contracts have been entered into sufficient to furnish a decided impetus in allied lines during the spring season.

No sign of lessening demand is perceptible in any branch of the iron and steel industry. Mills are accepting contracts for the closing months of the year, and there is every indication that 1901 will surpass all records in the quantity of pig iron consumed by manufacturers.

Permanence of prosperity in this industry is becoming more certain, as there is less evidence of inflated prices. Regular quotations have not altered except for bars and foundry pig iron, although all sorts of premiums are paid where prompt shipment is required.

After declining within a sixteenth of 4 cents it was not surprising to see cotton recover half a cent. The oversold condition of the speculative market was chiefly responsible, and southern dispatches gave support by statements of unfavorable planting conditions.

Aggressive manipulation of corn forced prices to an unreasonable point, from which the fall was severe, and wheat also weakened, although exports from the Atlantic coast continued liberal. Pork products did not show the usual sympathy with corn when it reacted, for Chicago operators absorbed offerings readily.

Commercial failures in the first quarter of 1901 were 3,335 in number and $31,703,486 in amount of defaulted liabilities, of which 710 were in manufacturing for $12,504,222 and 2,486 in trading for $14,552,906, with 157 others, not properly included in either class, that owed $4,646,358. Banking defaults numbered 21, with liabilities of $3,441,389. While exceeding the same three months of last year in number, failures were much smaller in amount, commercial and financial insolvencies together showing a decrease of $21,532,180.

Railway Tax Injunction Removed.

BUFFALO, April 6.—Justice Childs in the special term of the supreme court yesterday handed down his decision denying the motion to continue the injunction secured by the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railway company and the New York, Lackawanna and Western restraining the assessors from placing on the tax rolls franchise valuations for $158,000 against the Lackawanna. The restraining order prevented the assessors from placing the assessment as fixed by the state board of tax commissioners upon the rolls. This assessment will take the course of others now, and a tax will be levied against the company.

Men May Kiss Other Men's Wives.

NEW YORK, April 6.—Men who kiss other men's wives and married women who accept the kisses of men other than their husbands will undoubtedly rejoice at a ruling in regard to kissing just made by Justice MacLean in special term, part 3, of the supreme court. In a decision Justice MacLean said that the fact that a man had kissed another man's wife might occasion the husband of the woman who had been kissed to make an inquiry and entitle him to an explanation, but did not warrant the court in granting to the husband a decree of divorce from the woman who had received the kisses.

Comfort For Letter Carriers.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—An innovation looking to the comfort of letter carriers throughout the country during the heat of summer probably will be introduced this year by official permission to them to divest their coats on their rounds when felt to be necessary. It is expected that the postmaster general in the near future will issue an order formally granting authority to postmasters for this purpose and modifying the requirements so as to allow the carriers to wear a suitable gray blouse with turn down collar and a black tie.

Large Inheritance Tax Check.

NEW YORK, April 6.—Comptroller Coler yesterday sent to State Treasurer John P. Jaeckel a check on the City Trust company for $1,055,290, the amount of collateral inheritance tax collected in this city from Jan. 1 to March 31, less the comptroller's fees. This is the largest amount of collateral inheritance tax collected in any one quarter in recent years. The fees of the comptroller on these collections exceeded $10,000.

Library For Watertown, N. Y.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., April 6.—Mrs Emma Flower Taylor of this city, daughter of the late Governor Roswell P. Flower, has offered to give the city of Watertown $60,000 for a public library providing the city will contribute $5,000 per annum to maintain the same. The city recently made an application to Andrew Carnegie for a library. Mrs. Taylor desires that the library be named the Roswell P. Flower Memorial library.

Polish Hymn Book Condemned.

BERLIN, April 6.—A Polish hymn book, in which the re-establishment of Poland and a call to arms for that purpose are openly advocated, has just been condemned to confiscation by the district court at Dortmund. Thousands of copies have been found among the Poles in the industrial districts of West Prussia.

Boralma and The Abbot to Race.

BOSTON, April 6.—Thomas W. Lawson has accepted an offer of the Kentucky Trotting Horse Breeders' association for a match race at Lexington, Ky., in October between Boralma and The Abbot for $10,000 a side, the association to add one half the gate receipts for that day, winner to take all.

Oppose Canal Improvements.

ALBANY, April 6.—E. B. Norris and Henry S. Ambler of the legislative committee of the state grange have made a report to the members of the subordinate granges of the state urging them to do all in their power to defeat the proposed canal improvement legislation.

Cruiser Contract Awarded.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The navy department has decided to award the contract for the construction of the protected cruiser Milwaukee to the Union Iron works at San Francisco.

RUSSIA'S INTENTIONS

Our Government Assured of Disinterestedness.

SHE WILL NOT SEVER MANCHURIA.

A Communication Just Received at Washington Serves to Allay Fears That the Czar Had Designs Against China.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The United States government has received a communication from the government of Russia of unusual importance bearing on conditions in China and particularly those relating to Manchuria. The document is of such a character as to have produced a profoundly favorable impression, and at the state department it is looked upon as the most salutary development that has occurred for many months in the problems of the east. As to the exact terms of the communication there is no official statement thus far, although later it doubtless will be communicated to the public. Secretary Hay received it from the Russian embassador, Count Cassini, and took speedy steps to lay it before the president. The latter shared the secretary of state's gratification that a way has been found to dispose of the complications over the Manchurian question and to bring Russia into strong accord with the other powers. At the Russian embassy no information was obtainable as to the communication, Count Cassini asking to be excused from all inquiries.

While there is an entire absence of authoritative information, yet it is understood that Russia now takes occasion to give positive assurance of the disinterested sentiments which have animated her throughout the consideration of Chinese questons.

As to Manchuria, it is made clear that Russia's course never has varied in the purpose to leave that province an integral part of China and to retire the Russian troops as rapidly as safety would permit. This, however, it is made plain in the communication, has been Russia's course throughout, notwithstanding assertions to the contrary. But as a more signal evidence of Russia's purpose and in harmony with the czar's aspirations for peace and harmony between the nations the Russian government now gives assurances of the most definite and satisfactory character as to the execution of this purpose. The extent of the assurances can be best judged by the impression made in the highest official quarters here that the threatened crisis over Manchuria has been completely averted.

To the officials in Washington one of the most gratifying features of Russia's action is that it is responsive to Secretary Hay's note of March 1 last. This note had been previously communicated to the Chinese minister at Washington and advised him that the United States viewed as inexpedient and dangerous to the interests of China the conclusion of any private territorial or financial agreement. A copy of this communication was sent to the United States embassador at St. Petersburg, Mr. Charlemagne Tower, and the Russian embassador at Washington also was made aware of its contents. While the note never was addressed directly to Russia, yet by the foregoing means it came fully to the attention of the Russian authorities.

JAPAN WARLIKE.

Is Preparing For Hostilities With Russia—A Second Remonstrance.

LONDON, April 6.—"Japan is taking measures with a view to hostilities with Russia," says the Peking correspondent of The Daily Express. "She has entered into an arrangement with Liu Kun Yi, viceroy of Nankin, who is acting on behalf of the other friendly viceroys and governors, regarding the course they will pursue in the way of aiding Japan against Russia. It is understood that they have promised to place the telegraphic communications and transport facilities at the service of Japan."

"Russia's reply concerning Manchuria being unsatisfactory, the Japanese government has decided," says the Yokohama correspondent of The Daily Mail, wiring Thursday, "after a conference with the heads of the army and navy and of the departments of finance and foreign affairs, to address a second and more peremptory remonstrance, demanding a reply within a stated period. This remonstrance, communicated through the Japanese minister in St. Petersburg, almost amounts to an ultimatum."

China's Treaties Lost.

PEKING, April 6.—Li Hung Chang and Prince Ching have received a telegram from the court requesting that copies of previous treaties between Russia and China and the report of the peace conference at The Hague be sent to Singan-fu at once. These documents were formerly deposited in the tsung-li-yamen, but the archives have been either destroyed or removed by the different legations, and China must now apply to Russia to secure copies of these documents.

Dr. Reid Undecided.

UTICA, N. Y., April 6.—Dr. Gilbert Reid, the well known missionary, according to a letter received from him here, is still acting as correspondent for the London Morning Post and as interpreter to the British forces in Peking. Dr. Reid says his future is uncertain. Some of his friends are urging him to locate in Shanghai, but he prefers to wait to get definite information as to what will be the status of affairs in Peking.

A Great Increase In Price.

TOLEDO, April 6.—The Bee publishes a story to the effect that Dr. Ash, a former resident of this city, has just sold to John D. Rockefeller for $1,000,000 160 acres in northern Wisconsin which Dr. Ash purchased in 1884 for $1,000 on speculation. The tract is said to include the only natural harbor in northern Wisconsin.

Admiral Farquhar's Squadron.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, April 6.—The squadron of United States warships under the command of Rear Admiral Norman H. Farquhar is at Culebra island, about 20 miles south of this island, and apparently prepared to stay there for some time. The admiral recently received cable dispatches, the contents of which are not known.

Against Sunday Golf.

BOSTON, April 6.—The bill to permit golf playing and certain other sports on Sunday was defeated in the house by a vote of 90 to 55.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., APRIL 6, 1901.

COMING EVENTS

April 7—Hugh R. Monro, vice-president of the Niagara Lithograph Company, of Buffalo, will address the Y. M. C. A. rally. Miss Grace D. Hildebrand, "the Gospel Nightingale," will sing. She was soloist for four years in Dr. Cadman's Metropolitan Temple, New York city.

An Elaborate Report.

The Daily Press has received a cloth-bound copy of the annual report of the commissioner of public roads of New Jersey, through the courtesy of Robert A. Meeker, state supervisor of roads. The report is probably more elaborate than any of its kind published before. It is also of more general interest to the public in that the contents is largely of interest to all. It is profusely illustrated with pictures of roads through the State, before and after improvement. The difference in some cases is very striking.

The report includes a comprehensive occount of all the road improvement done throughout the State during the past year. Road building after the most improved ideas is explained. There are many other interesting facts.

A feature of special interest to everyone is the large map in the rear which shows all the improved roads of the State. It is the first time, a map of that nature has been generally circulated through the State and it is of great value to horsemen, wheelmen and automobilists.

There is a chance for the householders, who are not satisfied with the size of their present water bill, to secure relief. If water meters were put into general use by the Plainfield Water Supply Company, the water consumers will be compelled to pay only in proportion to the amount of water they actually use. The company will certainly not put in the meters unless there is a general demand for them. If you don't like the present system and prefer a meter, don't fail to let the company know it.

There is no doubt but that a bridge should be built over the Raritan river to connect the two Amboys. At present it is necessary to go over a long and roundabout road or else ferry across the river. When it comes to the conveyance of freight, the situation is not exactly convenient. A bridge would certainly be a great advantage. The chief argument against it is that the county has spent so much money already that the additional expense would be a burden to the taxpayers.

The club cars have been among the many advantages which Plainfielders have held out to New York business men who have proposed taking up their residence in this city. It will be too bad if they should be given up. While they may not be a paying investment directly to the railroad company, there is no doubt but that they are an attraction which will influence some New Yorkers to locate here when they might otherwise go elsewhere.

Probably there is no merchant or other business man who cannot find reasons why the people should patronize his establishment, remarks the Philadelphia Record. The chief purpose of advertising is to present these reasons to the public in the simplest and most convincing manner. The business man who will do this through a newspaper which has a large circulation will enjoy a great increase in his trade.

Tomorrow will be Easter Sunday. The day will be observed by appropriate services in all the local churches. Special music and a profusion of floral decorations will be the two important features of most of the services. With the day the quietness of the Lenten season ends, and social activity will be resumed once more.

The showing made by Hope chapel must have been very pleasing to those who have worked hard and long for its advancement. Since that chapel was established by some of the workers of the Crescent Avenue church, it has grown steadily until now it is a flourishing institution.

Despite the activity that always accompanies the spring season, it will be well if the city authorities do not forget that the present condition of the bed and banks of Green brook is a disgrace to the city. The subject should receive immediate attention.

That great concourse of people which gathered in the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church last evening was only another evidence of the remarkable Christian unity which prevails among all the evangelical churches of the city and borough.

All of the local merchants find that trade is picking up after the usual period of dullness which ends the winter season. Those merchants who have kept their names prominently before the public are now the ones that are reaping the harvest.

The progress of the attempt of the Johnson syndicate to build a trolley line connecting New York and Philadelphia will be watched with great interest by the people of this part of New Jersey through which the proposed line will have to go.

Plainfield has long taunted New Brunswick for being slow, but it looks as if New Brunswick's theatre was receiving better treatment at the hands of its people than does Plainfield's.

Nearly all of the colleges and universities are closed for the spring vacation and a swarm of young people are in town in consequence.

It is getting time for the trolley company to put its street sprinkler into active service.

WHAT OTHERS SAY.

Clippings From Other Newspapers Which May Be Of Interest to Plainfield and Its Citizens.

The appointment of William H. Cawley, of Somerville, as a member of the State Board of Arbitration by Governor Voorhees, seems to give entire satisfaction. It is highly complimentary to Mr. Cawley that not one word has been said against his appointment—even the Democratic press speaking in the highest terms of his high personal character. The position has a salary of $1,200 attached to it.—Hunterdon Gazette.

Resolutions of Condolence.

At a regular meeting of the Board of Directors of the First National Bank of Plainfield, New Jersey, held on the morning of April 2, 1901, the following resolutions were unanimously passed:

Whereas, It has pleased an All Wise Providence to remove from our midst our highly esteemed friend and co-worker, Phineas M. French, who by his many years of faithful service as a director of the First National Bank, had by his integrity, uprightness and careful business methods made himself a most beneficial, trusted and useful member of this board. Therefore be it

Resolved, That we do hereby express our deep regret at our loss, realizing that our loss will be felt not alone by us but by the community at large, but meekly bowing in submission to the will of our Maker, and as a slight tribute of our appreciation, we feel that we can earnestly and sincerely say "Well done, good and faithful servant." And be it

Resolved, That these resolutions be engrossed on the minutes and a copy forwarded to the bereaved family.

Bed Bugs and Cock Roaches.

For destruction and complete riddance of Cock Roaches, Beetles, Wood and Water Bugs, Bed Bugs, Ants, Rats, Mice, etc., "Rough on Rats," though poisonous, if used with care is most effective. In fact it is the only thing that will permanently annihilate Bed Bugs and Cock Roaches. As an exterminator of Rats and Mice, "Rough on Rats" is the old reliable that never fails nor disappoints. They "don't die in the house." Is sold all around the world. Is used by all civilized nations of the earth. Is the most extensively advertised, the best know and has the largest sale of any article of its kind on the face of the globe. It gives satisfaction every time. Beware of imitations. I employ no peddlers. Have a suspicion of any dealer offering substitutes said to be as good. 15c. and 25c.

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence.)

Dunellen, April 6—With only a few intimate friends and relatives present, Eugene Runyon, the local real estate dealer, and Mrs. Mollie Giles, of Newton, Piscataway township, were married at the home of the bride Thursday evening. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Frank Fletcher, pastor of the First Baptist church. At the conclusion of the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Runyon were tendered a reception. They will take up their residence in the borough.

At the meeting of the Board of Trade held Thursday evening the members discussed the project of having Washington avenue made a county road in order to have it placed in a better condition and kept so. The matter will probably be broached to the Board of Freeholders at a future meeting. In its present condition the avenue is a credit to no one and almost any improvement at all would be welcomed gladly by those using it.

The funeral services of Miss Adelia Fritz, who died at High Bridge, will be held from the residence of George Struble, of that place, tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. A number of the borough people will attend. Mrs. Fritz has been taken ill since her daughter's death and is now in a critical condition.

The church service at Holy Innocents tomorrow will commence at 3:30 and a programme of appropriate music will be rendered by an increased choir. Among those who will assist are J. E. Low, tenor; Miss Nellie Tabb, contralto; Fred Dayton and Ralph Titsworth, baritones.

Miss Esther Townley, of Elizabeth, was the guest of Mrs. William H. Terry yesterday.

Joseph Sirisky, of Raritan, has returned home after a visit with borough relatives.

Mrs. Fleming has returned home after a week's visit with New York relatives.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence.)

New Market, April 6—At the First Baptist church tomorrow, the service in the morning will be appropriate to the day. The choir in addition to the usual hymns will render the athem "I Am the Resurrection," by Fearis. The bass soloist will be Fred Dayton and the tenor, J E Low.

David S Lord and family have removed to Westfied in order to be nearer Mr. Lord's work as he is now employed in one of the Garwood factories.

Miss Mary Griscomb is spending her Easter vacation with relatives at Woodbury, N. J.

Mrs. LeRoy Casterline and family, of Newark, are visiting at the Hotel Nelson.

Miss Alice Pierce has taken a position with Mrs. Cottrelly, the Plainfield milliner.

The Maxson Dunham farm has been sold to Mr. Summers, of Plainfield.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence.)

Scotch Plains, April 6—There is a steady improvement in the condition of William Buckley and Dr. Westcott believes that unless there is a relapse the patient will recover. A trained nurse is still in attendance. Yesterday for the first time since his illness Mr. Buckley was perfectly rational.

Rev. P. A. Bright will lead the prayer meeting in the Methodist church this evening. A song service will precede the meeting.

John Marsh, the town butcher, is having his place painted and otherwise improved. H. Kuelin is doing the painting.

Miss Emma Clark has recovered from a slight indisposition which has detained her at home for a short time.

Miss Flora Monte, of Brooklyn, a former resident of this place, is visiting friends in town for a time.

Frank Allen, of New York, is visiting his mother, Mrs. D. Allen, of Westfield avenue.

Miss Nancy Wade, of Mahwah, N. J, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Wade.

Charles Wade, the grocer will move sometime this month into the Marsh building.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD

(Special Correspondence.)

South Plainfield, April 6—The sermon topics at the Baptist church, tomorrow, will be in the morning, "How the Resurrection Affected the Early Disciples;" in the evening, "How to Seek the Risen Savior." Special music will be a feature of both services. There will be speaking at the evening service by children of the Sunday school.

There will be no Easter vacation in the public school here. School will close one week sooner in June than usual.

Rev S A. Cubberly is ill with symptons of bronchitis. He expects, however, to attend to usual duties tomorrow.

The Junior Christion Endeavor society is making plans to hold a social sometime in the near future.

Miss Nellie Manning, after an illness of several days, will return to her usual duties Monday.

The Middlesex Athletic Club, of South Plainfield, will give a dance April 23.

The church choir will practice Easter music this evening at 8 o'clock.

William Smith is entertaining friends from Brooklyn.

Frank Soper has secured a position in Newark.

Auction Sale of Valuable Property.

There will be an auction sale of valuable property on Thursday. April 11, when J. E VanWinkle, auctioneer, will sell under the direction of the owner, Mrs Emma Jones, twenty one choice residential building plots on LaGrande avenue, Putnam avenue and Richmond street. This property is located in a most desirable part of the city and has the advantage of shade trees and trolley cars are near by. Further particulars can be obtained of John M. Jones, 352 Washington street, New York, or of the auctioneer, J E. VanWinkle, 21 Montgomery street, Jersey City.

Plainfielder Among Creditors.

CONTINENTAL CONGRESS.

Will Be Given By Boys Of North Plainfield High School Thursday Evening.

An interesting and unique entertainment will be given by the pupils of the North Plainfield High School at the Somerset street school building Thursday evening. The receipts of the affair will be used to defray the expenses of the athletic association of the institution.

The chief feature on the programme will be "The Continental Congress." This is a representation of a session of Congress during the debate preceding the adoption of the Declaration of Independence. All those taking part will be costumed in Colonial garb.

The cast selected includes: "President Hancock," G C. M. Smith; "John Adams," Edward Overton; "Wythe, of Virginia," Leslie Hallock; "Stockton, of New Jersey," Fred Armstrong; "Dickinson, of Pennsylvania," Howard George; "Whipple, of New Hampshire," Edgar George; "Penn, of North Carolina," W. Messersmith; "Packer, of Maryland," Walter Hamilton; "Lewis, of New York," Ray Stevens, and "Samuel Adams," Fred Emmel.

Oscar Crite will deliver the "Speech of Regulus to the Romans," and tableaux, drills and vocal music will complete the programme.

A prize of $5 will be given by Miss Glass, the principal, to the pupil exhibiting the best forensic ability during the entertainment.

Funeral of S. R. Dayton.
(Special to The Daily Press.)

New Market April 6—Funeral services over the remains of S. R Dayton were held from the First Baptist church this afternoon, Rev. Frank Fletcher officiating. Many relatives and friends and the members of Friendship Council, Jr., O. U. A. M., were in attendance. There were numerous handsome floral tributes. The pall bearers were Z P. Osmun, J. E. Meeker, John Dayton, H. C. Gaskill, DeWitt Giles and Wm. Fitz Randolph. Interment was made at Middlesex Hillside cemetery.

Accepted a Call.

Rev. W. L. Jones, of Orange street, has accepted a call to the First Baptist church of Ebensburg, Cambria county, Pa., and will leave Plainfield Wednesday. His family will not accompany him for the present.

Preußen.

Provinz Brandenburg.

Berlin. Die Verkehrsdeputation des Magistrats beschloß, daß die Stadt nach ihren eigenen Plänen den Bau einer Untergrundbahn in Angriff nimmt, und bewilligte zunächst 20,000 Mark für Spezialpläne der zunächst auszuführenden Nord-Südlinie.—Der Kaiser steuerte zum Berliner Mäßigkeits-Verein 1000 Mark bei.—Der im Garde-Pionier-Bataillon dienende, als Offiziersbursche zu dem Leutnant Hennig abkommandirte Pionier Judi beging Selbstmord, indem er sein Dienstgewehr mit Wasser lud und sich in den Mund schoß. Die Gründe für die That sind unbekannt.—Gestorben sind hierorts der Herausgeber der „Gegenwart," Schriftsteller Theophil Zolling, sowie der Rechtsanwalt und Notar Justizrath Dr. Julian Goldschmidt, Vorsitzender des Berliner Anwaltvereins.

Charlottenburg. Aus Charlottenburg ist Hauptmann a. D. Kemper nach Veruntreuung ihm anvertrauter Fonds verschwunden.

Frankfurt. Für die Errichtung eines Denkmals des in 1786 verstorbenen Königs Friedrichs des Großen inmitten des Oderbruches hat sich ein aus Bewohnern dieser Gegend bestehendes Komite gebildet. Es wird geplant, das Denkmal in Letschin, dem Mittelpunkt und der größten Landgemeinde des Oderbruches, zu errichten. Die Kosten sollen durch freiwillige Spenden aller Gemeinden und Einwohner des Oderbruches gedeckt werden.

Provinz Hannover.

Göttingen. Der Leutnant Krebs vom hiesigen Infanterie-Regiment Nr. 82 hat sich erschossen. Die Motive der That sind unbekannt.

Geestemünde. Auf der Schiffswerft von Johann C. Tecklenborg lief das erste Schulschiff des Deutschen Schulschiff-Vereins vom Stapel. Herzog Adolf Friedrich von Mecklenburg-Schwerin taufte das Schiff auf den Namen „Großherzogin Elisabeth." Das schmucke Fahrzeug ist 77 Meter lang und 12 Meter breit und nach der höchsten Klasse des Germanischen Lloyd aus deutschem Stahl erbaut.

Provinz Hessen-Nassau.

Frankfurt. Der seit Kurzem verheirathete Kaufmann Pfahls erschoß wegen Familienzwistigkeiten seine Frau und dann sich selbst.

Fulda. Die Strafkammer verurtheilte den ehemaligen Inhaber der Fuldaer Acetylengas-Apparatefabrik, Ingenieur Jakob Merkel, wegen Betrugs und schwerer Urkundenfälschung in 13 Fällen zu 5½ Jahren Zuchthaus und 5 Jahren Ehrverlust.

Wiesbaden. Die Modistin Johanne Maria Lübke wurde von der Strafkammer wegen acht verschiedener, in Wiesbaden, Köln, Hannover und Hamburg in Seidengeschäften verübter Diebstähle zu vier Jahren Zuchthaus, zehn Jahren Ehrverlust und Stellung unter Polizeiaufsicht verurtheilt.

Provinz Pommern.

Bergen. Der Gutsbesitzer v. Platen-Parchow, der in die Schulstube seines Dorfes eingedrungen war und den Lehrer verhaftet hatte, ist neulich in eine Irrenanstalt eingeliefert worden.

Stargard. Der frühere Bureaugehilfe August Wegner, der wegen mehrfachen Betruges von der Staatsanwaltschaft steckbrieflich verfolgt ward, wurde kürzlich in Mecklenburg in der Uniform eines Kleinbahn-Beamten ergriffen und in das hiesige Gerichtsgefängniß eingeliefert.

Provinz Posen.

Posen. Der städtische Etat für das Jahr 1901 weist in Einnahme und Ausgabe 10,135,281 Mark nach. An direkten Gemeindesteuern sind 2,316,711 Mark, an indirekten Steuern (Schlachtsteuer, Wildpret-, Geflügel-, Bier-, Hunde- und Lustbarkeits- sowie Immobilienumsatz-Steuer) 811,150 Mark aufzubringen. Der bisherige Steuerzuschlag von 132 Prozent wird auf 140 Prozent erhöht. Dadurch, daß die Verhältnisse der eingemeindeten Vororte geregelt werden müssen, erwächst der Stadtgemeinde die Aufgabe, in den nächsten Jahren sehr sparsam zu wirthschaften.

Schneidemühl. Als Platz für die Errichtung des Kaiser Wilhelm-Denkmals ist nunmehr die Südseite des Neuen Marktes bestimmt worden. Für das Denkmal, das 20,000 Mark kosten soll, sind 5000 Mark bereits durch Sammlungen aufgebracht; außerdem hat der Ausschuß des Schneidemühler Luxuspferdemarktes 1000 Mark bewilligt.

Provinz Ostpreußen.

Bartenstein. Der Verein zur Fürsorge für entlassene Strafgefangene des Landgerichts Bartenstein hielt hier seine diesjährige Generalversammlung ab. Der Verein zählt augenblicklich 266 Mitglieder, der gesammte Kassenbestand beträgt rund 8000 Mark.

Heiligenbeil. Die Errichtung einer städtischen Gasanstalt und eines Wasserwerkes wurde zum Beschluß erhoben. Als Herstellungskosten für das Gaswerk sind 104,571 Mark, für das Wasserwerk 98,000 Mark angenom-

A young man whose home is in East 76th street, New York City, has a considerable acquaintance among medical students and hospital doctors. Almost every morning, when riding down town to business on the Third Avenue Cable Road, he meets one or more of his professional friends, and this has happened so often that the conductors, knowing him and his associates by sight, have come to address him as Doctor. One morning not long ago the conductor approached our friend and said: "Doctor, I have been troubled so much with dyspepsia that I haven't been able to eat a square meal for two days and am nearly dead. What shall I take?" The man addressed put his hand in his pocket and, taking out a carton of Ripans Tabules, replied: "Here, take these, and when you use them buy some more at the druggist's." A week later the conductor, while collecting his fare, said: "I used those Tabules you gave me and then bought some more at the druggist's. They fixed me up all right. I have no more dyspepsia, and I can eat without getting sick."

WANTED—A case of bad health that RIPANS will not benefit. They banish pain and prolong life. One gives relief. Note the word RIPANS on the package and accept no substitute. RIPANS, five cents, may be had at any drug store. Ten samples and one thousand testimonials will be mailed to any address for 5 cents, forwarded to the Ripans Chemical Co., No. 10 Spruce St., New York.

AN ORIGINAL SMOKING DEN.

Showing a Style of Furniture Which Is Both Novel and Artistic.

Here is a departure from the commonplace Turkish den which ought to be welcomed by every woman who prides herself on the original decoration of her home. Wire grass furniture is a comparatively recent discovery, but it is already much used by the best decorators. Its qualities are many. First, it is cheap; second, durable, and, third, artistic. The color is a soft dull green, the natural color of the prairie grass, and it blends with almost every tint.

A pretty way to furnish the smoking den is to have the walls covered with wire grass matting, which comes in a paneled design. If one wishes a very handsome room, narrow panels representing hunting scenes can be set in at irregular distances. These scenes come printed on many ribbed linen, and they are very good imitations of the expensive tapestry. The gay coats of the huntsmen make warm dashes of color, which add greatly to the effect of the room. A Turkish rug in deep reds and blues should cover the floor. The furniture should consist of a divan and half a dozen deep easy chairs of the grass furniture. These should have red or Persian cushions, the odder the designs the better, except that the tones should be kept blue, red and pale yellow. A wire grass table should hold the smoking materials, and a grass stand for magazines and engravings will add greatly to the comfort of the room. Footstools, wastebaskets and even jardinieres and picture frames come in this artistic material, and they can all be used with good effect. The ecru net curtains should be supplemented by hangings of figured red and green silk. The lights in the room should have ruby globes.

TO MAKE AT HOME.

A Boa Which Will Be a Welcome Addition to the Spring Wardrobe.

Although this boa can be made up in any color, it is most practical and effective in pale gray. Alternate ruffles of taffeta and mousseline de soie are shirred on a tape foundation and allowed to fall carelessly. The taffeta ruffles should be edged with the narrowest black velvet ribbon and the mousseline de soie with narrow silver or gold ribbon, or, if preferred, both ruffles can be finished alike with a narrow ribbon of black and silver. If the latter mode of decoration is adopted, the broad velvet bows should be black; if not, one loop and end should be of gray velvet and the other of black. The pointed aiguillettes should be either silver or gilt, according to the trimming. To wear evenings or with summer dresses this boa would be pretty made in two pale shades of tulle. A pompadour combination of pale pink and pale blue is very charming for a young girl. A cream boa of point d'esprit edged with narrow black satin ribbon is also effective.

Women miners are the rule in Colombia. No self respecting man can be induced to engage in mining, because in the time of the Spanish rule it was the work of slaves.

Easter Sentiments by Some Leading Ministers of Chicago

The resurrection is the foundation of the Christian faith. It calls forth the best there is in the life of man; it has been the inspirtaion of the most beautiful thoughts expressed in the art and literature of all Christian nations. To the ministers of the Gospel of Christ we look for the sublimest thoughts expressive of Easter sentiment, and below we give a few of these sentiments contributed by the leading ministers of Chicago.

Rev. Hiram W. Thomas.

The first of these is contributed by Rev. Hiram W. Thomas, pastor of the People's church, and a leader among the undenominational ministers of the city:

Life is a continuous rising from lower to higher. What we call death is only change; an incident in the elevation of life. Life, as such, does not die; God is life, the God of the living. The essential thing in the resurrection of the Christ is not that the physical body is raised, but that the Christ lived after the body died; that He was seen by those who knew Him; and that He lives now. Death is resurrection; we are souls, spirits, living in bodies; these rise when our bodies die.

H. W. Thomas

Rev. Clinton Locke, D. D.

[Dean of the Chicago deanery, Episcopal diocese of Chicago, and formerly for many years rector of Grace Episcopal church of Chicago.]

Rev. Clinton Locke.

Our Lord once said: "Except a corn of wheat fall into the ground and die it abideth alone, but if it die it bringeth forth much fruit." All sacred and profane literature does not furnish a more splendid illustration of the great Easter doctrine of the resurrection than these words. You plant the tiny wheat grains, and from their decay spring up the nodding wheat stalks, as unlike as could be imagined, a thousandfold more useful. It all depends upon the transformation of the "corn of wheat." So with this individuality of mine. It is inclosed in and identified with a body which can do so much for it and no more. At last that body dissolves like the buried wheat grain, and the identity within it expands and amplifies in a new air and under other environments. Only the flesh and blood perish. I live on in another and a grander world. No man can tell how the transformation will be effected, any more than he can tell how the corn of wheat becomes the fruitful stalk. "It is sown in weakness; it is raised in power," says St. Paul.

Clinton Locke

Rev. Robert McIntyre, D. D.

[Pastor of St. James' Methodist Episcopal church of Chicago, and a leader in the Methodist denomination.]

Rev. Robert McIntyre.

Easter is the anniversary of the universal Emancipation day—the morn when Christ left His tomb empty, sweetened with dawn, and came forth bearing in one hand the proclamation of freedom, in the other the broken shackles of a race. As the negro slaves shouted when they saw the flag of the union, saying: "We are free! We are free!" so mortals cry when they mark the banner of the King of Kings set on Death's broken citadel: "We are free! We are free! Christ is risen! He is risen indeed!" When some of the prisoners in Libby escaped home-bound through the tunnel those who remained were refreshed. So even the unbelievers at Easter are uplifted to see the Christians pass through the crypt to the amaranth fields beyond, exultantly singing as they go: "O grave where is thy victory! O death where is thy sting!"

Robert McIntyre

Rev. Gilbert Frederick, D. D.

[Pastor of the Covenant Baptist church of Chicago, and a leader in the Baptist denomination.]

Rev. Gilbert Frederick.

The real significance of Easter is found in the word life. Life is being. To be or not to be is to live or not to live. Without life man is nothing, hence knows nothing and owns nothing. The first thing that comes to man is life, and by this only can anything else come to him. For this reason "all that a man hath will he give for his life."

"No life that breathes with human breath has ever truly longed for death." Life loves to live. People who say they prefer death deceive themselves, or are afflicted beyond endurance, or are hybrids. A normal nature wants life, wants more of it, and wants a better quality of it.

Easter is a promise that, when the human body has finished its work under the sky and has been laid to rest under the sod, its career will not end thus. It shall be like seed planted in the soil. Out of its decay shall come another body into which shall enter the same spirit, and these old friends shall live together again. As this new body shall not be subject to decay, there shall be no more death or separation. This Easter promise is an answer to the question that has been asked by every generation since Adam: "If a man die shall he live again?" In the Scriptures it is called "the redemption of the body;" in Egyptian lore it is represented in beautiful oriental imagery by the fabled Phoenix, who, when the infirmities of years crept on, would come to Heliopolis, nestle down on the altar fire of the temple and be consumed; then from its ashes rise, spread its wings and fly away to another millennium of life.

The heart of man in the twentieth century before the first Easter, as in this twentieth century after, worshiped the thought of a new and an eternal life for the reunited body and spirit. Let him also diligently seek to know the sure way to make that union one of unmingled blessedness.

Gilbert Frederick.

Rev. Thomas E. Sherman.

[Of the Holy Family church (Roman Catholic) of Chicago, member of the Society of Jesus, and eldest son of Gen. W. T. Sherman.]

Rev. Thos. F. Sherman

The Passion of Christ is a breakdown of nature, a break-down as visible as the cyclone in its effects, as the fire in its raging, as the battle in its main features of booming cannon and rattling volleys, as the storm at sea, or as any other phenomenon of nature.

The resurrection is the uplifting of nature. It is invisible as the development of the grain in the ear, as the flowing of the sap in the stem, as the circulation of the blood in our body, as the air in our lungs or any other physical process. Nay, it is more secret still. The effects of grace are always light, subtle, delicate, apparently evanescent, even when grace is as strong as adamant. Its methods and its processes follow the analogy of nature, being quite unseen, profound, universal and vastly effective. Nature and grace have the same God. Now God's ways are so beautiful, so unlike our own, that we must ponder deeply or we will quickly lose their fine fragrance; their delicate harmony will escape us.

Thomas Ewing Sherman S.J.

Rev. R. A. Noble, D. D.

[Pastor of Union Park Congregational church of Chicago, and author of "The Divine Life in Man," "Discourses on Philippians" and "Our Redemption."]

Rev. F. A. Noble.

The resurrection of Jesus is an established fact of history. There is no other rational way of accounting for the restored confidence of the disciples, for the day of Pentecost and the founding of the Christian church, for the aggressive energy of the apostles, for the conversion, so soon after the crucifixion, of a man like Saul, of Tarsus, and for the fidelity unto death which was shown by so many of the followers of the Son of God.

The resurrection of Jesus has set the seal to the belief—cherished by so many in all ages—of the immortality of the soul. There is a life independent of the body and superior to the body. The grave does not mark the end of our being. If a man die, he shall live again. By walking in the path opened to us by Him who was delivered up for our trespasses and was raised for our justification, we become secure in an endless blessedness.

R. A. Noble.

Rev. C. A. Lippincott.

[Pastor of the Second Presbyterian church of Chicago, and a leader in the Presbyterian denomination.]

Rev. C. A. Lippincott.

It is impossible to prove beyond question that man is immortal. But the belief in immortality is one of the most ancient and abiding convictions of the human race. Man is ever trying to demonstrate his immortality because he cannot help but believe in it. It well may be as one of our wise men has said, that "When the Maker of the universe has points to carry in His government He impresses His will in the structure of minds," and, we may add, upon the fabric of hearts also. The imperishability of love is the most cherished belief of the heart. In the family circle love commonly finds its purest expression and most loving activity. Here this tender plant is in the most congenial soil, and grows up to sturdy strength, being nourished by what it feeds upon, and feeding that which nourishes it. But how few families there are whose love circle is not untimely broken. Scarcely have the links of the golden chain been forged when death parts them.

"There is no flock, however watched and tended
But one dead lamb is there;
There is no fireside, howso'er depended,
But has one vacant chair."

But when the dear form is borne to its long home do we cease to love? Many years may weave their varied threads into the warp and woof of life, but when the mind is rich in memories the heart overflows with tears. Why are we forced still to love, if love shall never meet with love again? Tennyson, musing upon this question, which grew out of his deep grief for the loss of Arthur Hallam, voices the universal conviction that loving souls are immortal. And he rose from his human love through doubt and sorrow to sublime faith in the "Strong Son of God, Immortal Love."

Love is indeed man's most sacred possession, the deepest passion of his soul, the most excellent quality of his heart.

Made Her Beautiful

Every Lady in the Land Can Now Have a Beautiful Skin.

A TRIAL BOX FREE.

Every lady who sends her name and address will receive by mail free a trial package of a celebrated beauty's remedies for beautifying the complexion. It is not a face powder, cream, cosmetic or bleach, contains no oil, grease, paste, chemicals and is absolutely the only successful beauty maker known.

Fannie B. Ralston, 628 Lexington Ave., Newport, Ky., sister of the famous Kentucky Beauty Helen Ralston, who also used these beautifiers, says:—"When I began using Mme. Ribault's complexion beautifiers I did not think it possible."

FANNIE B. RALSTON,
(Showing her wonderful improvement.)

"For my skin, my face was in a horrible condition, totally covered with red spots, pimples, blackheads, moth patches and freckles. And when the weather changed eczema, chap and salt rheum added to my misery. I suffered a thousand deaths, and when I sent for a trial of Mme. Ribault's beautifiers just as I had done before time and again with other advertised remedies I did not expect any results to justify my surprise. But to my delight the next day all redness and soreness went away. At the end of a week my skin began to clear up, the blackheads and moth patches disappeared, the eczema and salt rheum were completely cured. I improved so wonderfully that my friends did not recognize me, so quickly had the change taken place. My skin is now perfectly clear and there is not a blemish or wrinkle anywhere.

I hope all ladies will at least try these marvelous beautifiers."

Do not delay but write immediately. The treatment is harmless, a natural beauty maker and will permanently remove all tan, freckles, moth patches, pimples, blackheads, flesh worms, sunburn, chaps, roughness and any and all skin imperfections no matter what they may be.

Write to-day without fail and the free treatment will be mailed prepaid with full directions and all particulars absolutely free. Address, MME. M. RIBAULT, 2299 Elsa Building, Cincinnati, Ohio.

LOVES WILD BEASTS.

Philadelphian Who Is Fond of Bearding the Lion in His Den.

Some Day His Peculiar Hobby May Cost Him His Life—An Encounter with Wolves That Almost Ended in a Tragedy.

There is something in the angry glint of a wild animal's eye that fascinates John Lover, one of the keepers at the zoological garden, and his fondness for literally "bearding the lion in his den" some day may cost him his life. No one knows this better than Lover himself, and yet he feels that his "lines are cast in pleasant places" and would be envious of any man foolhardy enough to apply for his position.

At least half of the time this man with the daredevil recklessness of spirit goes about with bandaged limbs, the results of encounters with his "friends," the animals. When his hands, arms or legs are torn by the claws of the maddened beasts he makes a dash for a bottle of cauterizing fluid, pours it over the ragged wound, and then goes back to subdue by kindness or punishment, as the case may require, the animal that attacked him.

"I wouldn't leave my position for any other one that could be offered to me," he said to a Philadelphia Bulletin Reporter. "I love wild animals and know it is their nature to attack men. No; I don't care much for tame animals. The fierceness and splendid courage is beaten out of them, and I regard them as I would a cowardly man."

The other day, however, he met with his most thrilling trial, and his own words best tell the tale of the encounter with the wolves.

"About 11 o'clock in the morning," he said, "I went into the cage where the gray wolves were fighting. I thought I could separate them without force, but as a precaution I armed myself with a club and broom. Nellie, the female wolf, was more troublesome than her mate, Dan, and I attempted to pacify her first. My presence seemed to quiet her, and I thought while I was in the cage I would clean it. When I had finished I started to leave by way of a rear door, but had no sooner turned my back when Nellie sprang upon me.

"She weighs about 150 pounds, and when she struck me I fell to the floor with a thud. Dan, her mate, howled furiously, but did not make an attempt to attack me until Nellie had my left army tightly clenched between her sharp teeth. The pain from the bite was fearful, and to protect myself I struck her with my club, which seemed at first to enrage her.

"She sprang at me again, seizing my injured arm between her jaws, and the pain increased so intensely that I was almost bewildered for the time. Then she fell on the floor unconscious. I thought I was through with the struggle, and started again to leave the cage.

"Dan, the male wolf, in a spirit of revenge, then attacked me, and strange as it may seem, after biting me on the thumb of the right hand, made a frightful growling noise, and to my amazement seized my already badly lacerated arm, and crunched down upon it.

"I yelled for help, and with a thin broomstick was compelled to fight my way to liberty. I worked my way to the door of the cage, leading to a small inclosure in the rear, and thought I was safely out, but I was disappointed again, as the female who is a cute, cunning beast, beat me to the door, and slipped out just ahead of me.

"I was now without club, broom or anything to defend myself, except my right hand. My left hand and arm were useless. I was covered with blood and seemed to infuriate the beasts, who were growling and prancing about, both with their glaring eyes upon me. Fate seemed to be against me for the time, and a thousand thoughts ran through my head in an instant.

"But no time was to be lost. Nellie again started for me. I checked her leap with my foot, and quickly seized her by the throat. She struggled to get away, and bit me, but fortunately Headkeeper Manley, with six men, arrived just in time to prevent the animals from tearing me to bits. After some difficulty the wolf was forced into her cage, when she and her mate walked to and f

SPORTING.

ON THE DIAMOND.

The North Plainfield High School nine will play its first game Wednesday afternoon with the Leal School on the Washington avenue grounds.

The baseball nine to represent the North Plainfield High School has been announced by the manager of the team. The lucky men who secured places are: P., Oscar Crite; c., Howard George; 1b., John Jacot; 2b., Morgan Townsend, 3b., Fred Armstrong; ss., Walter Hamilton; cf., Earl Lewis; lf., Edward Overton; rf., Peter Emmons. Fred Armstrong is substitute pitcher, and the other substitutes are George Conover, infield, and Harry Woodland, outfield.

GOLF.

Unless present plans fail through, New Jersey is shortly to have the longest nine-hole golf course to be found anywhere in the United States. Occasionally one hears of some club which has been extending its playing distance so as to make the eighteen-hole circuit approach 6,000 yards, but who ever heard of a man having to play 6,600 yards? This is what has been mapped out by the greens committee of the Cranford Golf Club. Joe I'Anson, the professional who has just been re-engaged, said Thursday, that the nine holes would measure 3,300 yards, and that one hole would reach 560 yards.

All this means no end of play with the wooden clubs through the green, and unless a person is on his long game, a round of the Cranford course will be attended with difficulties.

Borough Counsel Chas. A. Reed was thanked for his services in having a law passed at the last Legislature preventing any reduction from assessment on real estate on account of notes in bank.

At the conclusion of the routine business President Lee assumed the chair, while Mayor Smalley addressed the session on the question of public ownership. The Mayor declared that the Councilmen should be outspoken on the question, which, he said, is being generally agitated. He announced himself as an advocate of municipal ownership of the water works.

"I believe," said he, "that the present rates charged by the Plainfield Water Supply Company are excessive," and declared that in his opinion the borough could supply a similar quality of water at a reduction of fifty per cent.

Continuing he said that it was time to be free from any corporation which says what one can do and must do. In conclusion he offered to donate to the borough a tract of land upon which to erect a stand-pipe, reservoir or other receptacle for water, provided favorable action was taken by Council within a year.

Councilman Clark introduced a resolution calling for the appointment of a committee of three to consider the feasibility of the borough ownership of water and electric light plants. In discussing the resolution the Councilman suggested that the committee make a personal canvass to ascertain the popular feeling. The resolution was passed unanimously and Mayor Smalley named as the committee, Messrs. Lee, Clark and Northrop.

The Council then adjourned to meet on the evening of April 19.

DEATH OF MRS. ALEXANDER.

Passed Away at Her Home on Mercer Avenue Early This Morning.

Mrs. Catharine M. Alexander, of 88 Mercer avenue, died at her home early this morning. Mrs. Alexander was the daughter of the late John M. Cornelison, of Jersey City. She is survived by her husband, James A. Alexander. The arrangements for the funeral have not yet been made.

The shock of the news of Mrs. Alexander's death was intensified because of its suddenness. Yesterday she was apparently in good health and was about the city shopping. This morning at 5 o'clock, she passed away after only a few hour's sickness. Death was caused by a stroke of apoplexy.

At a meeting of the Warren chapel session held last evening, thirty five young people were admitted to church membership. They will make their confession of faith at the morning service tomorrow.

DRUGGISTS ORGANIZE.

Plainfield Represented Among Officers of Union County Association.

The first meeting of the Union County Retail Druggists' Association, a branch of the National Association, was held at Elizabeth yesterday with druggists from all parts of the county attending.

In the election of officers which took place, the Plainfield representatives were noticeably honored. T. S. Armstrong was made vice-president; R. J. Shaw, treasurer; C. E. Hepburn, a member of the executive committee, and J. H. Leggett, on the auditing committee.

The principal object of the association is to prevent the wholesale cutting of prices of patent medicines, all dealers holding to a uniform rate. Nearly every druggist in this city has agreed to become a member.

S. CLINTON CRANE WEDDED.

Marriage Took Place Sometime Ago But Has Only Just Been Announced.

Announcement is made of the marriage of S. Clinton Crane, son of Mr and Mrs. U. B. Crane, of East Second street, and Miss May McClaren, of Newburg, N. Y. The marriage took place three months ago in New York. The event was kept very quiet, the parents of the contracting parties not knowing of it until two months ago.

Mr. Crane is an attorney-at-law, and practices in New York. He was graduated from the Plainfield High School in the class of '93, and is a very popular young man. His wife is a member of a very well known family at Newburg, and is also popular. At present the bride and groom are stopping with the groom's parents. They will soon take up their residence in Brooklyn.

The Terrible Infant.

"I suppose," said the visitor, "it's like pulling teeth to get any money out of your husband these days."

"Oh!" chipped in little Tommy before his mother could speak, "ma don't have any trouble pullin' teeth. She just takes 'em out and puts 'em in a glass."—Philadelphia Record.

Loss of Royal Purchases.

Many of the purchases made by the shah of Persia last summer in Europe, as well as some of the presents made to him, went to the bottom of the Caspian sea by the sinking of the steamship Vera in a storm. Among them were 18 carriages bought in Paris.—N. Y. Sun.

Defiance.

"Upon my soul!—?"

The protest died upon his lips as he beheld the fierce aspect of the woman his wife.

"How dare you call your soul your own?" she shrieked, frenziedly.—Puck.

AN ORDINANCE

to provide for the improvement of Sewage Disposal Works, Beds and Appurtenances of the City of Plainfield.

WHEREAS, Pursuant to the provisions of an Act of the Legislature, entitled, "An Act to Provide for Drainage and Sewerage in Cities of this State," approved April 7, 1890, and act amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto, a system of sewerage has been constructed and operated in said city, and the Common Council of said city hath deemed it expedient and doth hereby ascertain, adjudge and determine that it is expedient to collect the sewage of said city from sewers constructed under said acts of the Legislature and to deodorize and dispose of the same in the manner hereinafter specified, and to construct a sewage receptacle and other structures and works for treating and disposing of said sewage in the manner hereinafter specified, and to erect all necessary buildings, works and machinery thereon, and

WHEREAS, The Common Council having duly investigated the premises and considered the same, is of the opinion that the public good requires the adoption of the plan of sewage disposal and the construction of improvement of sewage disposal works, beds and appurtenances hereinafter specified, and the Common Council hath so determined and doth hereby so determine.

The inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, by their Common Council, do enact as follows:

Section 1. That the Common Council doth hereby determine, direct and order that the plan of improvement of sewage disposal works, beds and appurtenances above referred to, and particularly set forth in the plans and specifications filed in the office of the City Clerk and adopted by the Common Council by resolution on the twenty-first day of January, 1901, providing for the construction of two septic tanks under one roof and eight bacterial contact beds, all to be placed in the present filter beds on lands heretofore purchased and acquired by the city under and by virtue of the acts of the Legislature above referred to, which filter beds are numbered 6, 10 and 14, as particularly described and set forth in said plans and specifications, to which reference is hereby made for greater certainty and the same hereby made a part of this ordinance, be and the same are hereby adopted, and that the improvement therein specified be and hereby is ordered to be made pursuant to the said acts of the Legislature and in accordance with said plans and specifications.

Sec. 2. That whereas the Common Council has duly solicited bids for doing the work and furnishing the materials for the making of said improvement, and caused due advertisement to be made calling for such bids as in said acts of the Legislature directed, and at the time and place specified in said advertisement, received numerous sealed proposals, and thereupon the Common Council proceeded to unseal the same and publicly announce the contents in the presence of the parties bidding, or their agents, and also to make proper record of the prices and terms upon the minutes of the Council, and the bid deemed most advantageous for the city was also the lowest bid of any person offering satisfactory security, namely, the bid or proposal of Gleason-Kiely Contracting Company of Syracuse, N. Y., the aggregate of which bid was the sum of Thirty-Seven Thousand One Hundred and Eighty-Seven Dollars and Fifty-Seven Cents, and the surety proposed being United States Fidelity & Guarantee Company of Baltimore, Maryland; that said bid be and the same is hereby accepted and the contract awarded to said Gleason-Kiely Contracting Company, and that the Mayor and City Clerk be and are hereby authorized to execute the contract on behalf of this city in the form annexed to the above mentioned plans and specifications.

Adopted by the Common Council April 4, 1901; approved by the Mayor April 4, 1901.

OLIN L. JENKINS, Mayor.

HOW THE EASTERTIDE WAS OBSERVED AMONG THE PLAINFIELD CHURCHES.

Elaborate Musical Services Were Rendered on the Anniversary of the Resurrection of Christ.

BEAUTIFUL FLOWERS WERE IN PROFUSE DISPLAY.

PROGRAMMES OF SOME OF THE SPECIAL EASTER SERVICES.

How the Various Churches Celebrated the Day—Special Music by Augmented Choirs and Appropriate Sermons by the Various Local Pastors.

Nearly every church of the city and borough had some special features to mark the Easter Day services, yesterday. Despite the occasional raindrops that fell, the services were thronged and appreciative and reverent congregations listened to elaborate music services and viewed the beautiful floral display which was to be seen in nearly every sanctuary. Below are given the services in the various churches in detail.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH.

The elaborate Easter services at First Baptist church were largely attended. The decorations consisted of lilies, palms, daisies, azaleas and choice roses, all banked around the platform. The musical part of the morning service consisted of several anthems by the choir, with solo parts by Miss Louella Harris, soprano; Mrs. F. M. Ward, contralto; Geo. Smith, tenor and William Holmes, basso. Mr. Holmes sang "Hosanna," by Granier.

After the regular service, Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes, pastor, gave the right hand of fellowship to fifty new members. The communion service concluded the morning service.

In the afternoon at 3 o'clock, the service was held under the auspices of the Sunday-school, when a special programme entitled "The Rended Tomb," was given, with the assistance of the choir. Howard Case presided at the organ; Miss Utter at the piano, and W. Paulding DeNike assisted with the 'cello, also playing a solo during the offertory.

In the programme there were solo parts by the members of the choir and the Sunday-school of the home church, the East Third Street chapel and Mt Olive Baptist church, joined in singing Easter carols. The superintendents of the schools, Dr. Yerkes and Rev. E. E. Jackson also assisted. There was singing by the infant class and recitations by Jedediah Smalley, Violet Cronce, Ouida Hetfield and Elizabeth Winn. There was no evening service at this church.

EAST THIRD STREET CHAPEL.

The Easter service at the East Third Street chapel was held last evening, when Rev. George Bowers conducted the meeting and special music was rendered by a choir of six voices from Bethel chapel. The chapel was prettily decorated.

WARREN CHAPEL.

Warren chapel shared with its sister churches a joyful Easter. Special music marked the principal part of the services. The decorations though unostentatious were really pretty. The soloists at the morning service were: Charles D. Wheeler, tenor and musical director; Charles Bryan, tenor; Mrs. J. O. McKelvey and Miss Margaret Shepherd, altos; Mrs. E. R. Taylor, Mrs. A. J. Stiglitz and Mrs. John Kline, sopranos. They rendered several anthems. It was communion Sunday and forty-one new members received communion for the first time.

At the children's festival in the afternoon, Miss Perry and Mrs. Dilton, of the Crescent Avenue church, sang a duet 'Saved by Grace" and Miss Perry also sang "Jesus Thou Art Standing." Addresses were made by Rev. Dr. W R Richards, Rev. J. O. McKelvey and L. N Lovell.

A special song service was held in the evening City Judge Wm. N. Runyon spoke. In the offertory Mrs. A. J. Stiglitz and Miss Margaret Shepherd sang a pleasing duet.

GRACE M. E. CHURCH.

The Easter service at Grace M. E. church was held in the morning. Rev. G. M Gardner, the pastor, officiated and was assisted by Rev. Dr G. W. Smith, presiding elder of the Elizabeth district.

The platform was covered with potted plants and cut flowers. Miss Alice Carroll, the organist, sang a soprano solo. The pastor preached on "The Power of the Resurrection."

The School Easter service was held in the afternoon and the main part of the programme was rendered by pupils in the primary department. The exercises consisted principally of recitations and sacred songs. Little Margaret Darby sang a solo, and an older pupil in the Sunday-school, Miss Agnes Kingley, rendered a contralto solo. No services were held in the evening.

CHURCH OF THE HOLY CROSS.

At the Church of the Holy Cross, Episcopal, two impressive services marked the Easter day. The decorations were principally of Easter lilies. Under the direction of the choirmaster and organist, A. D. R. Brown, the choir rendered special Easter music at the morning service. A tenor solo in the introit was sung by E. J. Smalley.

Claire's evening service was used at the children's festival in the afternoon. Easter carols were sung at these exercises and an address was made by Rev. Wm. Montgomery Downey.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH.

At the Calvary Baptist church, the floral decorations were a feature. Along the entire front of the platform were flowers and plants. In the morning, Rev. Scott Wallace, the pastor, preached an excellent Easter sermon on "He is Not Here." Special anthems were sung at the afternoon session. In the evening seven persons were baptized.

ST. JOSEPH'S R. C. CHURCH.

The chief Easter celebration at St Joseph's R. C. church was high mass at 10:30 o'clock. The altars, brilliantly lighted and decorated, shone in all their splendor.

The organ and choir were augemented by Martin Korff's orchestra of nine pieces, and the mass used was Gaus. The solo parts in the mass were sung by Miss Christiana Smith, soprano; A. E. LaPorte, tenor; Mrs. John Reilly, contralto; and Musical Director J. E. Bailey, bass. The organist was Mrs. A. E LaPorte.

Father Miller officiated at the mass. The altar boys' new gowns, presented by the women of the congregation, were worn for the first time, and the two new memorials, a sanctuary lamp, given by Mrs. D. T. Kenney, and a sanctuary bench, given by Mrs. Annie M. Gross, were also used.

ST. MARY'S CHURCH.

The resurrection of Christ was commemorated in St. Mary's church with impressive services. Beginning with low mass at 7:30, services were held every hour thereafter until 10:30, when a solemn high mass was celebrated. Father McGeary was the celebrant; Father O'Connor, of Jersey City, deacon; M. Glennon, sub-deacon, and J. Butscher, master of ceremonies. The procession to the main altar of the many acolytes, who carried lighted candles, followed by the officiating clergymen, and led by the cross-bearer, was a beautiful sight. The altars were tastefully decorated with flowers, those on the main altar being Easter lilies principally; palms and potted plants also added to the beauty of the scene. Above the high altar in illuminated letters were the words: "He is Risen; Alleluia." A sermon sutable to the day was preached by Father O'Connor. As is customary on occasions of this kind, many Protestants were present.

The musical portion of the services was very elaborate, and the choir of twenty voices was augmented by an orchestra of six pieces, under the leadership of Joseph Sattels. The programme was under the direction of Miss Mary Smith, the organist of the church, and was as follows: Vidi Aquam, Pecher; Processional, Gounod; Kyrie, Gloria in Excelsis, Credo, from Haydn's Imperial Mass; Offertory; Regina Coeli, Gloria; Sanctus, from Haydn's Imperial Mass; Agnus Dei, Weber; Dona Nobis, Weber; Recessional, March Folkunger, Kritschmer.

These were the soloists: Soprano, Mrs. V Brady; alto, Mrs. M. Owens; tenor, F. McDonald; baritone, E. J. Harding, and basso M. J. Cashin.

FIRST M. E. CHURCH.

The services at the First M. E church, both morning and evening, were of a special character. The decorations consisted chiefly of palms, lilies and roses. At the morning service the Sunday-school took part, assisted by the choir, under the direction of Charles L. Lewis.

The programme consisted of Easter carols and anthems by the school and choir, a solo by Charles L. Lewis, and recitations by the following: Kathryn Sminck, Arne Christianson, Frances Bittenhouse, Eldon Miller, Louella Derby, Dorothy Lynn, Margaret Hope, Ruth Lister, Helen Carson and Marion Lynn. There was a song by the primary and intermediate departments and a selection by a quartette consisting of Charles L. Lewis, Dr. C. B. Lufburrow, Miss Mabel Templin and Mrs. Stephen Tugwell.

During the service eleven persons were admitted to membership, eight on probation and three by letter. Easter cards were distributed among the children by the teachers. Miss Jessie Utter presided at the organ. In the evening there was a programme of special music by the choir and Rev. Dr. W. C. Snodgrass, the pastor, preached an Easter sermon.

TRINITY REFORMED CHURCH.

Special Easter services at Trinity Reformed church attracted large congregations both morning and evening. The music was by the double quartette choir under the direction of A. L Titsworth, organist. The decorations, consisting of palms, lilies, roses and potted plants, were arranged by committees from the Ladies' Christian Work Society and the Christian Endeavor Society, under the able direction of Mrs. William A. Woodruff.

At the morning service the musical programme as published was rendered by the choir composed of Miss Glen and Miss Derby, soprano; Miss Williams and Mrs. Bird, alto; Robert M. Clark and T. R. VanZandt, tenor; Joseph C. Martin and E. C. Martin, bass.

The pastor, Rev. Cornelius Schenck, Ph.D., preached the first of a series of sermons on "Our Lord's Seven Questions After Easter," taking for his subject, "Mary Weeping at the Tomb."

The evening service was in charge of Superintendent E. E Anthony, of the Sunday-school, assisted by F. E. Smith. The pastor was unexpectedly absent owing to the illness of a member of his family. The choir rendered special music according to the programme. As an offertory, Mrs. E. H. Bird and Robert M. Clark sang a duet, "Come Unto Me." W. D. Murray, of the Crescent Avenue church Sunday-school, was then introduced and gave an interesting talk on the significance of Easter. The service closed with the benediction by Rev. Mr. Todd.

GRACE P. E. CHURCH.

The Grace Episcopal church services were well attended. The altar was strewn with Easter lilies and the reredos and the walls of the chancel covered with southern smilax.

At the morning prayer and communion service at 10:30 o'clock, the soloists were Miss Cornelia Miller, soprano; Miss Beatrice Miner, contralto; William Tallamy, tenor and Arthur F. Freeman and Fred J. Pope, bass.

The Sunday-school children's festival was held in the evening, and the pupils sang Easter carols. The services began with the choir marching around the church carrying the cross and banner.

Medals were awarded for merit and deportment in the choir to Edmund Sheller and Fred Canen and a prayer book to Miss Margaret Yeager.

In the chancel was an unique representation of the empty sepulchre, the interior of which was lighted. The floor of the sepulchre was covered with potted plants and these were given to the children after the service.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST.

Appropriate carols by the Sunday-school pupils formed the main part of the exercises at the First Church of Christ. They were held in the evening. In the morning an impressive address was given by W. H. Morse, of Westfield.

CRESCENT AVENUE CHURCH.

The platform of the Crescent Avenue church was superbly decorated. Calla and Easter lilies, hydrangeas, daisies and beautiful white roses together with a huge cross of lilies and roses as a centre piece, produced an exceedingly pretty effect.

A fine musical programme was rendered, both morning and evening, under the direction of Ward Stephens, the organist and choirmaster. The special features of the morning service were an anthem rendered by the choir quartette and two grand solos. H. Clifford Lott sang a bass solo

EFFORTS TO RAISE MORTGAGE ON CHAPEL.

There Was $750 Collected at Yesterday's Services and More Was Pledged.

AT HOPE MEMORIAL CHAPEL.

ATTEMPT TO CLEAR OFF MORTGAGE OF $2,000 ON THE CHAPEL.

Building Fund Started With the Tiny Donation of Lillie Cowling—Bequest Made Building Possible—Expect to Raise $1,000 This Week.

Easter tide was a time of special significance for the members of Hope chapel. It marked their attempt to free their beautiful place of worship from its overhanging debt. For many months it has been their endeavor to eliminate the mortgage of $2 000, and since the first of the new year their energies have been redoubled, culminating in a supreme effort yesterday. An offering, representing long weeks of saving and personal sacrifice, was taken at each of the three services. The combined amount received was $750 which more than exceeded the expectations of the officers.

But in order to give an added impetus to the effort, $1,000 was made the objective point, and in all probability this amount will have been contributed before the end of the week. At the close of the evening service Rev. G K Newell announced that a well-wisher of the chapel had offered to donate the last $100 on condition that the remainder be raised before Sunday evening. An attempt was then made to procure half the needed sum, resulting in $67 45 being pledged, bringing the total offering for the day up to $817 45 There were many friends of the chapel who were absent during this service and in the course of the week they will be given an opportunity to contribute toward the required $900.

At the afternoon session of the chapel the main exercises of the day were held, when the largest contribution was made. After the singing of a few appropriate carols the pupils were addressed by Superintendent H. C. Squires, who, in a brief way, related the manner in which the building of the Memorial chapel had been made possible by a bequest of $5,000 from the late Mrs. Vandeventer. This was not enough, however, to complete the building and it was encumbered with a mortgage.

He was followed by Rev. Mr. Newell who told of the first legacy left to Hope chapel by Lillie Cowling, a little girl who attended the school. At the time of her death she bequeathed to the chapel the contents of her bank, amounting to $1 15, and this was made the foundation of the fund to liquidate the debt. Mr. Newell then deposited the sum on the offering plate, but subsequently remarked that a teacher in the school would contribute its equivalent, and that the original coins, four quarters, a ten cent piece, a three cent piece and two pennies, would be placed in a frame and kept as a remembrance of the donor.

At the close of Mr Newell's remarks the following amounts were brought forward as offerings from the various organizations connected with the chapel: Ladies' Aid Society, $250; Young Men's Association, $25; Junior Society, $6; Christian Endeavor Society, $5. The infant class also made a special offering of $5. The exercises terminated with the singing of carols.

Quiet Wedding.

A quiet wedding took place Saturday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Rev. Dr. W. S. Hubbell, on Central avenue, when Miss Ella Victoria Anderson and Alexander Victor Jacobson were united by him in marriage in the presence of a few friends. Mr. and Mrs. Jacobson left later in the evening for a short wedding journey, and upon their return will live in Plainfield.

Conferred Order of the Temple.

Eminent Sir Jacob Kirkner and fourteen Sir Knights of Trinity Commandery, No. 17, K. T., went to East Orange Saturdry afternoon and in the evening conferred the Order of the Temple on ten companions of Jersey Commandery, No. 19, K. T. This is a new Commandery, but promises to be one of the best in the State.

Colored Woman Arrested.

Marshal Emmons placed in the borough lockup last evening a colored woman who was acting disorderly and the woman will be given a hearing this evening.

Forty-One New Members.

Forty-one new members received communion for the first time at Warren chapel yesterday morning.

SUMMARY OF YEAR'S WORK.

ANNUAL REPORTS OF OFFICERS OF FIRST BAPTIST SUNDAY-SCHOOL.

Presented at Service Yesterday Afternoon—The Chapel Were Heard From Sunday-Schools.

The annual reports presented at the service held in the First Baptist church yesterday afternoon were very interestering, showing the condition of the Sunday-schools to be excellent. John G. MacLoughlin, secretary of the home school gave his report. There have been fifty six converts during the year. The cradle roll numbers thirty-four, and a baby class for children under five years of age numbers nineteen. There has been a net increase in the membership of fifteen. There are 225 members of the main school, eighty-six in the intermediate and sixty-six in the primary departments, with an average attendance of 253. The home department numbers ninety-five, an increase of fourteen. There are 626 books in the library, used by 126 scholars. The largest attendance, 305 was on March 3, 1901, and the smallest, 122, on September 30, 1900

Superintendent M. C Dobbins, of the Mt. Olive Baptist church Sunday-school, reported a membership of 140 scholars and eleven teachers, with an average attendance of seventy-five scholars and nine teachers. The collections for the year amounted to $64 31, and there is a balance in the treasury of $17 37. There have been thirty-four conversions in the church and five in the school, and there are twenty-two persons to be baptized.

Superintendent L W. Randolph, of the East Third street chapel, reported that the Sunday school is self supporting. There is a membership of seventy-nine. The collections have been good. There have been six conversions during the year.

Superintendent G H Batchelor, of the home school, then made his appointments for the year as follows: First assistant superintendent, G F. Brown; second assistant, L. H. Biglow, Jr.; superintendent of intermediate department, Miss Edith Cairns; of primary department, Mrs. J. A. Powlison; of home department, Miss Laura J. Runyon; chairman of the excursion committee, John G. MacLoughlin.

EFFORTS AT MARCONNIER.

Reports of The Year's Work at The Marconnier Chapel Were Presented Yesterday.

At the afternoon service at Marconnier chapel yesterday, several interesting reports of the year's work in the chapel were presented.

Miss Lottie Campbell, treasurer of the Junior Endeavor Society, reported that $38 74 had been raised during the year, and $3 each given to the foreign and home missions. The sum of $3 30 was given to the building fund and $28 to the Sunday-school, leaving a balance of $2 44. Treasurer Wm. E. VanCourt, of the chapel, reported a balance of $62.74 May 1, 1900. All receipts were $469 15 and disbursements, $455.57, leaving a balance of $75 32. The sum of $30 was given to missions, $20 of which went to educate a child in Miss Ida Scudder's school in India, and the balance for Miss Winn's school in Japan. The latter is supported almost entirely by Junior Endeavorers.

DETAILS OF ANNUAL STATEMENT AT TRINITY REFORMED CHURCH.

Was Presented at Yesterday's Morning's Service—A Small Balance on Hand.—Next Year's Work.

An interesting part of the morning service yesterday at Trinity Reformed church was the annual financial statement, in detail, presented by Robert Clark, Jr., a member of the finance committee. This showed an excellent work accomplished during the past year in keeping the church finances up to so high a standard.

The entire receipts for church purposes were $5 258 09 and the entire disbursements were $5,102 47, leaving a balance on hand of $155 62, and all bills paid. For benevolent purposes, missions, etc., the church has also raised $941 98, making a grand total of $6 180.07 raised for all purposes during the past year.

In conclusion Mr. Clark stated that it would require about $400 to paint the church, make some needed repairs, etc. The Ladies' Christian Work Society has contributed $100 toward those objects. He hoped that the required amount would soon be forthcoming as the work is necessary. A special Easter offering was taken. Mr. Clark commended the members for the excellent showing made and urged them to continue to contribute liberally to the various departments in order that no deficiency would exist at the end of the next fiscal year.

FAVORED BUILDING ARMORY.

HEARING ON PROPOSITION OF NEW BUILDING FOR SOMERVILLE.

Sentiment Seemed to be Almost Unanimous for Company M's Headquarters.
(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, April 8—A committee of the Board of Freeholders met the citizens of the county Saturday afternoon at the Court House, to hear arguments pro and con on the question of building an armory for Company M. Freeholder Andrew Lutkins called the meeting to order. Clerk Sutphen read the petitions that had been presented.

Captain N. Y. Dungan spoke in favor of the proposition. He said that Company M had been in existence for thirteen years and when the government called for volunteers during the Spanish-American war, the company nearly to a man responded. He thought they were entitled to some consideration.

The county, he explained, was now obliged to pay out $320 a year for rent of present armory, which was a barn-like structure and inconvenient and uncomfortable. If they put up an armory costing not more than $10,000, they could rent it out to advantage and derive enough to pay the interest, then they could apply the amount now paid out for rent on the principal. The increase in the tax rate would be small if the building was paid for at once. A man now paying tax on $10,000 would have to pay 50 cents more, and a man paying tax on $100 would only have to pay half a cent more.

James Brown, Jr., County Clerk Somers, Surrogate Spencer and Sheriff Schoonmaker all talked in favor of it. The Sheriff said that seventeen stoves were now required to heat the county buildings, and if the Board would build an armory and put in a steam heating plant to heat all the county buildings, they would save $250 a year on that item alone.

Director Logan stated that they could hold elections in the armory and thus save $50 a year on that to the county and $25 to the township.

All those in favor of building a new armory were then asked to stand up, when all but two or three arose. Those opposed were asked to do the same, but no one arose. The meeting then adjourned.

Taken to Hospital for Treatmant.

Cornelius, eldest son of Rev. and Mrs. Cornelius Schenck, of West Front street, has been ill for about two weeks. Saturday the family physician, Dr. Probasco, decided that appendicitis had suddenly developed. A consultation with Dr. Hedges brought no relief to the loving parents, and today the lad was taken to Muhlenberg Hospital for treatment, in the hope that an operation might be averted. Dr. McCosh, of New York, was summoned, and if an operation is deemed necessary that eminent surgeon, who has had many years of experience with appendicitis, will perform it. Mr. and Mrs. Schenck have the sympathy of the whole city of Plainfield in their trial, and many prayers are hourly offered that their loving boy may be spared them.

WHAT CHURCH HAD DONE DURING YEAR.

Great Interest Shown in Annual Meeting of Seventh-Day Baptist Church.

DEBTS ALL PROVIDED FOR.

NOVEL PLAN TO INCREASE INTEREST WAS A SUCCESS.

Two Business Sessions Were Separated By a Supper in Church Parlors—Officers Elected—Excellent Reports Received.

The annual meeting of the Seventh-Day Baptist church, which was held Sunday, was on a somewhat novel plan.

At a meeting held in April, 1900, a committee was appointed to present a plan for increasing the interest in and attendance at the annual church meetings. This committee, composed of the pastor, Rev. Arthur E Main, Mrs. A. T. Maxson, from the Woman's Society of Christian Work, David E. Titsworth, superintendent of the Sabbath-school, Miss Bessie Fitz Randolph, of the Endeavor Society, and George B. Titsworth, presented a programme for this year's meeting.

This programme was printed on one side of a return postal card and sent to every family connected with church asking them to be present or send some word.

Following out the programme, the members of the congregation assembled at 3 o'clock for an informa social reception. After a brief devotional service conducted by the pastor, the business meeting convened with Superintendent Henry M. Maxson presiding.

Reports were presented from the board of trustees and from J. Frank Hubbard, the treasurer. This report was most gratifying, showing that the debts of the church were all provided for and with a cash balance in the treasury. Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis, the former pastor, spoke feelingly of his connection with the church for twenty-one years, during all of which time the church finances had always been in splendid condition.

The following officers were then elected: Trustee for five years, Joseph A Hubbard, who succeeded himself in this position for the seventh term; clerk, J. Denison Spicer; chorister, David E. Titsworth; organist, Miss Jessie M. Utter; auditors, Arthur L. Titsworth and Charles H. Dunham; subscription committee, Frank J. Hubbard and Lewis S. Rogers; ushers, Asa F. Randolph, Stanley M. Mosher, George L. Babcock, Harry Rogers, Clarence M. Rogers, Nathan E. Lewis and Orra S. Rogers. Routine business and discussion of the matters relating to the missionary interests filled the hour devoted to this section of the meeting.

The social and fellowship hour which followed was like a large family home gathering and the interest was deepened by the reading of communications from absent members of the church and by an expression of affectionate remembrance for the far away ones and for those who were unavoidably detained from the meeting.

A supper was then served under the direction of the entertainment committee of the Woman's Society of the church, consisting of Mrs. William C. Hubbard, Mrs. Charles H. Dunham, Mrs. Joseph G. Miller, Mrs. Frank H. Smith and Miss Ida Randolph, and the social committee of the Endeavor Society, composed of Miss Bessie Fitz Randolph, Miss Ernestine Smith, Mrs. F. J. Hubbard, Orra S. Rogers and Asa F. Raddolph.

After a song service reports were read from the pastor, J. D. Spicer, the church clerk, D. E. Titsworth, superintendent of the Sabbath-school, Mrs. A F. Maxson, secretary of the Woman's Society of Christian Work, Miss H. Elizabeth Allis, from the Senior, Mrs. Ira J. West, of the Junior, and Mrs. Frank J. Hubbard, of the Intermediate Christian Endeavor Societies, giving a brief resume of their different phases of church work. George B. Titsworth presented a report showing the relation of the members of the church to various denominational and other religious and benevolent enterprises by which it was seen that the Plainfield church is not only prominently represented on its own denominational work, but that it reaches out into local, State and National relations in various phases of religious and philanthropic effort.

The general feeling was expressed that the new departure in the form of holding the annual meeting was a most successful one, tending to promote a wider knowledge of and a deeper interest in the church's activities.

I have taken two bottles and gotten more relief from them than all other medicines taken. I feel more like a boy than I have felt in twenty years." Anderson Riggs, of Sunny Lane, Tex. Thousands have testified as did Mr. Riggs. L. W. Randolph.

AMENDMENTS TO GAME LAWS.

CHANGES MADE TO THEM IN THE LAST LEGISLATIVE SESSION.

Old Laws Have Been Codified and Result is Practically a New Law in Many Respects.

A number of important changes in the fish and game laws, of the State that will be of interest to the hunters and anglers were made by the recent legislative session. The new game law is a codification of the old laws, and the various changes proposed by various interests, and the result is practically a new law in many respects.

Under the revised law it is made unlawful to kill or injure or attempt to trap or otherwise kill, except by hunting with a gun, any rabbit, quail, partridge, ruffed grouse, prairie chicken, pheasant, snipe, duck, brant, goose, dove, swan, squirrel, woodcock reed bird, marsh hen, plover or other game bird or animal, under a penalty of $20. Farmers, however, are to be allowed to catch rabbits on their own property in box traps during November, December, January, February and March, after notifying the nearest fish and game warden of their intention and making affidavit before a Justice of the Peace that rabbits have injured their fruit trees. No rabbits so caught are to be sold or offered for sale

The open seasons for hunting and fishing in New Jersey are now as follows:

Ruffed grouse, quail, hare, rabbit, squirrels and pheasants, November and December.

Woodcock, July, October, November and December.

Gray snipe, March and April, and from August 25 to December 31.

Rail bird, reed bird and marsh hen, August 25 to December 31.

Dove and upland plover, August and September.

Flicker and highholder, September and October.

Geese, duck and brant, September 1 to April 30.

Taking eels in weirs, September 15 to October 31.

Black bass, pike-perch and white bass, June 15 to November 31.

Pike and pickerel, May 1 to November 31.

Brook trout, April 1 to July 15.

The extermination of the last wild deer in the state is officially announced in the repeal of the law for their preservation and the failure of the Legislature to repeal the law repealed with any other provision forbidding or regulating the hunting of the fleet footed animals.

—You will only waste time if you try to cure indigestion by starving yourself. That only makes it worse when you do eat heartily. You always need plenty of good food properly digested. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is the result of years of scientific research for something that would digest not only some elements of food but every kind. And it is the one remedy that will do it. L. W. Randolph.

FOR ENDEAVORERS.

Interesting Side of the Work Being Carried on by Young Christians.

(Conducted by Press Department Union County C. E. Union.)

W. A. Dempsey, county superintendent of the Bible study department, has sent to each society in the county a letter containing the reports and suggestions given at the recent helpful conference in Westfield. As a result, one society has decided to inaugurate a five-minute Bible study in connection with its regular Sunday evening prayer meeting, and a number of others will doubtless do like wise.

The conference on Junior work takes place next Tuesday evening, in the Third Presbyterian church, Elizabeth, and will include an address by Rev. George C. Horter, State superintendent of Junior work. All Endeavorers are invited.

Archdeacon Govett, of the Gibraltar cathedral, announces that the Christian Endeavor Society there is in excellent working condition and that the membership is 54.

Interest in Christian Endeavor is on the increase in Hungary. A society has just been organized at Budapest.

Secretary Kibon, of the South Africa C. E. Union, in speaking of the laxity in the manner of receiving members into the society, says that over the door should be written, "No admittance except on business."

Dr Clark, founder of the Endeavor movement, is lecturing before a number of the leading colleges of the country, his subject being "Christian Nature." He recently addressed the students of Oberlin.

—Skin troubles, cuts, burns, scalds and chafing quickly heals by the use of DeWitt's witch Hazel Salve. It is imitated. Be sure you get DeWitt's. L. W. Randolph.

Charles Duvier, of West Fifth street, who for the past twenty years has been an employe at the Potter Press Works, has resigned his position with that firm in order to accept a more lucrative one in New York.

Commissioner Rockhill Has an Important Interview.

QUESTION OF PUNISHMENT DECIDED.

China Asks but One Concession, to Which Ministers Have Agreed. Court Anxious to Return to Peking.

PEKING, April 8.—Mr. Rockhill, United States special commissioner in Peking, had a long interview with Li Hung Chang, who satisfied him that there is not likely to be any further important hitch in the negotiations for a settlement between China and the powers. China has agreed to the list of punishments submitted by the ministers of the powers, asking only one concession—namely, deprivation of office instead of banishment in the case of a man who is 70 years of age. To this the ministers have agreed.

Li Hung Chang says the court is extremely anxious to return to Peking as soon as the foreign troops evacuate the capital.

Some of the ministers of the powers begin to think that so large a force as 2,000 troops acting as legation guards in the city proper would be a great mistake. Such a body would have to remain in a space of one square mile. The troops could not be allowed outside the legation quarter armed, and it would probably not be safe for them to go unarmed.

It is thought by some of the ministers that if the encampment were made from 12 to 15 miles away, with the necessary stores, this arrangement would be much preferable, as a telegram could bring the troops into the city immediately.

Moreover several ministers have been insulted by troops of other nationalities. Mr. Rockhill and Sir Ernest Mason Satow, the British minister, were returning from dinner in sedan chairs when the chairs were stopped by German soldiers, who proceeded to beat the bearers. The ladies of the party were greatly frightened.

The ministers generally fear that the presence in Peking of a considerable force of various nationalities might be a source of international friction.

They are not entirely pleased with the military proposals of the generals, as they fail to see the necessity for the demolition of all the forts.

Rumors From China.

LONDON, April 8.—The Peking correspondent of The Morning Post, wiring Saturday, says: "The French are still opposed by the Chinese near Hai-lu, but are careful to avoid a conflict, because any advance would be anticipated by the Germans, whose patrols are 30 miles within the province of Shansi, and can reach Tai-yuen-fu at any moment. At Ching-ting-fu the French intercepted a letter from Li Hung Chang to the governor of Shansi, complaining that the Manchurian convention must be signed, because the European powers 'were willing to sit down as usual to watch Russia devour China.' It is asserted on good authority that Russia is willing to give Japan a free hand in Korea, with a view to preventing her assuming a hostile attitude."

A Perplexing Telegram.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The administration is perplexed over a cable dispatch received from Mr. Squiers, now in charge of the American legation in Peking. This dispatch, according to a publication, said that the "Russian minister refuses to receive official communications from Chinese commissioners," which carried the inference that diplomatic relations between the two countries interested would be broken off. The officials are very reticent about the matter and decline to affirm or deny whether it is correctly stated. They will go only so far as to admit the receipt of a dispatch whose purport was not clearly understood, for which reason it was not given to the press for publication.

Japan Preparing For War.

LONDON, April 8.—The Yokohama correspondent of The Daily Mail, wiring yesterday and dealing with the attitude of Japan toward Russia's Chinese policy, says: "Shipping companies have been ordered to hold their vessels in readiness for transport service. Cruisers on the reserve list have been commissioned for active service. All leave has been recalled, and officers of the first reserve have been warned for service. There is much popular excitement."

Large Cut of Adirondack Timber.

UTICA, N. Y., April 8. About 16,000,000 feet of logs and between 5,000,000 and 6,000,000 cords of pulp wood have been cut in the Adirondacks for the different mills in Forestport this year. It is expected this will be a very busy season here, for so much timber has never been cut in any one year before. As soon as the weather gets warm enough to melt the ice in the streams driving or floating the logs down will commence. One hundred and fifty men will be employed on the drive three or four weeks. They are paid from $2.50 to $3.50 per day.

The Ann Arbor Case.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Nothing has been received by the officials of the marine hospital service here regarding the case of sickness believed to be bubonic plague of a student in the Ann Arbor (Mich.) university. The appearance of the plague in the interior would be a matter of some surprise to the officials of the service, as that sickness is more apt to manifest itself at the seaport cities.

Last Veteran of 1812.

UTICA, N. Y., April 8.—Hiram Cronk, the last survivor of the war of 1812, who will be 101 years old on the 29th day of this month, is as well as usual. He has a habit of sleeping all day and lying awake all night. It is intended to celebrate his birthday by holding a reception at his home.

Fire In Salem, Mass.

SALEM, Mass., April 8.—A fire destroyed the Gifford mill and W. A. Irving's box factory and damaged two dwelling houses here, entailing a loss of about $50,000, partly covered by insurance. The fire started in the Gifford mill, occupied by several manufacturers.

A Double Funeral.

UTICA, N. Y., April 8.—The double funeral of Peter Zimmer, aged 78, and his wife, aged 73, who died within 40 hours of each other, was held from their late home in Fish Creek.

SOUTH AFRICAN WAR

Eighteen British Volunteer Regiments Coming Home.

BOERS WILL FIGHT TO A FINISH.

It Is Now Evident That Their Forces Must Be Utterly Crushed Before They Will Yield—De Wet and Botha Have Met.

LONDON, April 8.—Lord Kitchener has informed the war office that 18 volunteer companies freed from reliefs are coming home and that arrangements are in progress for the speedy relief of further companies. He thus appears to be endeavoring to meet the demand that fresh troops be sent to the front to replace the stale men.

The Pretoria correspondent of The Morning Post, who warns his countrymen against hoping for an early termination of hostilities or believing the stories that the Boers are tired of war, says:

"It becomes daily more evident that the Boers intend to fight to a finish. Many are surrendering, but they are men of no standing. The real fighting men are still on commando, and, although the recent successful British operations tend to bring the end nearer, it is evident that the Boers must be completely crushed before a general surrender is probable."

It is reported from Brussels that Acting President Schalk-Burger has removed the seat of government to Leydesdorp.

According to a dispatch to The Daily Mail from Hilversum, Mr. Kruger, who has just arrived there, has expressed an intention to go to the United States in June and to visit Washington, Boston and Chicago.

"It is definitely ascertained," says a dispatch to The Times from Kroonstadt, dated Saturday, "that General De Wet and General Botha met at Vrede."

The Cape Town correspondent of The Daily Express reports wholesale arrests for treason in Graaf-Reinet and Aberdeen.

There is no other news from South Africa this morning except that a small party of Boers has reoccupied Philipstown, in Cape Colony.

A Sword For French.

CAPE TOWN, April 8.—The sum of £361 has been subscribed in Kimberley for the purchase of a sword of honor and a silver casket for General French. The De Beers Mining company has given 20 diamonds which will be set in the cross bar of the sword. Mr. Cecil Rhodes is pushing forward the arrangements for the erection of a mausoleum in memory of the members of the Kimberley garrison who were killed during the siege of that town.

Left to New York Central Men.

NEW YORK, April 8.—The chiefs of the five railroad organizations who have been in this city for nearly a week decided at a meeting late on Saturday night to abandon attempts at negotiation with the Central Railroad of New Jersey. They had decided to wait until today to hear a reply from General Manager Warren to their third request for a conference with a view to settling the differences between the employees and the company, but at the Saturday night meeting came to the conclusion that it was useless. They then decided to wash their hands of all further responsibility in the matter as far as negotiations with the company are concerned and let the men decide for themselves what they will do.

Fatal Railway Accident.

KANSAS CITY, April 8.—By the derailing of the engine and a number of empty freight cars on the Kansas City Suburban Belt Line railroad four members of the crew were injured, one fatally. William Prime, brakeman, broken skull and eyes scalded, will die; Harley S. Levitt, engineer, severely cut about head and body; E. P. De Fevre, brakeman, badly burned about head and body and shoulder broken; Michael Powers, fireman, head laid open and terribly scalded. The train was derailed a mile from the center of the city while running at the rate of 25 miles an hour.

He Has Married Three Thousand.

NEW YORK, April 8.—The Rev. Jacob Schlagel, pastor of the German Evangelical Reformed church at Fifth street and Avenue B, performed his three thousandth marriage ceremony yesterday. The couple who had this honor were Peter Schindler and Ida Braderwitz. They requested that their marriage take place in the pastor's house, but when he told them that they would be the three thousandth couple he had joined together they agreed to have it take place in the church before the evening services.

Merrimac Blown Up.

SANTIAGO, Cuba, April 8.—The collier Merrimac, which was blown up and sunk in the harbor by Lieutenant Hobson while Admiral Cervera's fleet was inside in 1898, was successfully destroyed by a ton of dynamite. Hitherto it has been extremely dangerous for vessels to attempt the narrow entrance to the harbor, but now that this wreck has been destroyed it is perfectly safe. A great crowd on shore witnessed the blowing up of the old hulk.

Italian Squadron Sails.

LA SPEZIA, Italy, April 8.—The Italian squadron sailed for Toulon yesterday in two divisions, the first, commanded by the Duke of Genoa, consisting of six ironclads and two torpedo boats, and the second, under Rear Admiral Coltelletti, consisting of seven ironclads and one torpedo boat. The Duke of Genoa bears an autograph letter from King Victor Emmanuel to President Loubet.

Mexican Commissioners En Route.

SAN ANTONIO, April 8.—The Mexican commissioners to the Pan-American exposition left this city for Buffalo last night and will arrive at the latter city tomorrow. The commission is headed by Senor Albano R. Nuncio.

Raises Duty on American Goods.

LONDON, April 8.—According to the St. Petersburg correspondent of The Daily Mail, import duties for Vladivostok have been raised on all American iron, steel and machinery.

Died In His Pulpit.

BERLIN, April 8.—At St. Paul's church, Augsburg, Bavaria, yesterday the Rev. Simon Mueller fell dead at the altar while pronouncing the words, "Christ is risen."

ADRIFT FORTY DAYS.

A Ghastly Story of Cannibalism at Sea.

TWO OUT OF SEVENTEEN SURVIVE.

Sailors Afloat on a Raft, Crazed by Starvation, Kill and Eat Their Fellows—Saved at Last by Friendly Malays.

LONDON, April 8.—The Singapore correspondent of The Daily Express wires a ghastly story of cannibalism at sea brought to Singapore by two survivors of the Nova Scotian bark Angola, wrecked six days' sail from Manila on Oct. 23 last. The correspondent says:

"The survivors, Johnnsen, a Swede, and Marticornu, a Spaniard, assert that the Angola struck a reef. Two rafts were built. The smaller, bearing five men, disappeared. The latter, with 12, drifted for 40 days. The sailors ate barnacles, seaweed and finally their boots.

"On the twenty-fifth day two became insane and killed themselves. On the twenty-sixth a Frenchman killed the mate with an ax, drank his blood and tried to eat his brains, but was prevented by the others. Next day the Frenchman was killed while attempting to murder the captain. The survivors, all of whom were now insane, ate the Frenchman's body.

"Cannibalism continued until only Johnnsen and Marticornu remained. On the forty-second day the raft stranded on Subi, or Flat, island, in the Natuna group, northwest of Borneo. Johnnsen and Marticornu were awfully emaciated. Friendly Malays sent them by junk to Singapore."

THIRTY-SEVEN INJURED.

Officials Investigating Bridge Collapse at Syracuse.

SYRACUSE, April 8.—The question of responsibility for Saturday's bridge disaster, in which 37 persons were injured, has yet to be decided. C. R. Johnson, the electrical expert of the state railroad commission, arrived and made an investigation, but refused to talk for publication.

E. R. Hooker, deputy superintendent of public works, has also arrived here from Albany and is making an investigation.

The city authorities declare that they are not to blame for the condition of the bridge and say the state is responsible. Minor canal officials declare that the state is also blameless.

All of the injured are reported to be doing well, and there will probably be no deaths.

The accident occurred while the Easter shopping crowd of men, women and children was hurrying home through James street, the fashionable thoroughfare, at 5:50 Saturday afternoon the big bridge over the Oswego canal, in the heart of the city, collapsed, carrying with it to the bottom of the canal, 30 feet below, a trolley car loaded with passengers, many pedestrians and a horse and lumber wagon. No one was killed, but 37 were seriously injured. The bridge was unusually large, being wide enough to accommodate two driveways, street car tracks, two sidewalks and a towpath. It was recently inspected by state officials and declared safe, but local authorities had for some time been fearful of an accident. The structure was built in 1857.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

The Scientific alliance of New York city is to erect a temple at a cost of $500,000.

The national executive committee of the United Mine Workers of America met in Indianapolis.

Twenty-eight business buildings and many residences have been destroyed by fire in Lisbon Falls, Me.

Postmaster Fennell of Morristown, N. J., was suspended from office owing to a shortage of $3,000 in his accounts.

A Somber Easter.

NEW YORK, April 8.—It was a somber Easter, rain coated and much umbrellaed. It didn't rain enough to drive the people straight from church to their homes nor did it shine enough to draw the old time throngs to Fifth avenue. Every time the rain stopped sprinkling the dust blew in clouds, and the wind blew all the time. Altogether it was the dreariest, least interesting Easter in 20 years in New York city. In Fifth avenue between 12:30 and 2 p. m. the crowd wasn't great. Many a winter Sunday sees more people abroad there. At no time during the day was progress difficult. Society was absent. It had gone out of town or had decided to wait for a more propitious day.

Hogg Buys Oil Lands.

AUSTIN, April 8.—Former Governor J. S. Hogg has become extensively interested in the new Beaumont oilfield. He has been at Beaumont several days, and it is said that he went there as the legal representative of the Standard Oil company to examine and approve contracts entered into between agents of that corporation and the owners of oil lands. Mr. Hogg has purchased a tract of oil land for himself, paying $75,000 for the property. The ink was hardly dry on the purchase check when he had an offer of $100,000 for the land. He declined the offer.

French Premier's Condition.

PARIS, April 8.—There is no important change in the condition of M. Waldeck-Rousseau, and President Loubet, whose movements have been materially affected recently by the illness of the premier, started for Nice on his way to Toulon to greet the visiting Italian squadron under the Duke of Genoa. M. Loubet was accompanied by M. Delcasse, minister of foreign affairs, and General Andre, minister of war.

First "Jointist" Trial.

SALINA, Kan., April 8.—The first trial of a "jointist" under the new Hurrell law passed by the last legislature, which makes it a misdemeanor to be found in possession of spirituous liquors, resulted in no verdict here, and the jury was discharged. The passage of the law was a result of the temperance crusade started by Mrs. Nation.

Iron Ore Train Wrecked.

KNOXVILLE, April 8.—A double header freight train loaded with iron ore was derailed at Spring City on the Queen and Crescent railroad, injuring four men, one fatally. The boilers of both locomotives exploded, the concussion and scalding water doing the injury to the crews that manned them.

NEW ENGLAND FLOODS.

Heavy Rains Have Raised Rivers Above the Danger Line.

MANCHESTER, N. H., April 8.—As a result of the heavy rains all the small streams in this vicinity are out of their bounds, and the Merrimac river is rising fast.

The Piscataquog river had reached the record made in 1896 yesterday afternoon and was rising fast. At 11 o'clock yesterday morning the inhabitants of Grouxs island were taken to the mainland in boats, and in the afternoon the whole island was under water, only the houses and trees being visible. At 5 o'clock the water was up to the first story windows of some of the houses, and if it rises much more they will be carried away, as the current is strong.

During the afternoon the bolts were cut at the electric power station at Kelleys Falls, the water having risen so as to threaten their destruction. Steam power is being used.

Perry H. Dow, power superintendent of the Amoskeag mines, telephoned to points up the river as far as Franklin and learned that in the northern part of the state the storm has been such that there is every likelihood that by tonight or tomorrow morning the Merrimac will have attained the height reached in the spring of 1896, when several bridges were carried away.

Report comes from New Boston that several bridges in that town have been carried away and other damage done.

Washout Causes a Wreck.

HUDSON, Mass., April 8.—A serious freight wreck occurred on the Central Massachusetts railroad eight miles west of here early yesterday morning, when six freight cars and their contents were destroyed, causing a loss of several thousand dollars. The accident was the result of a washout in the metropolitan water basin district, caused by the recent heavy rains. The engine of freight train No. 698 had just crossed a culvert when the roadbed gave way, leaving a gap ten feet long and ten feet deep, into which was precipitated six freight cars loaded with flour, oats and cement.

The Saco River Rising.

BAR MILLS, Me., April 8.—The Saco river was rising three inches an hour at 7 o'clock last night. No damage has been done, but extensive precautions are being taken. The dynamos are being moved out of the Centrifugal Leather company's plant. At West Buxton Frank Hargraves has been obliged to vacate the lower room of his woolen mill.

Bridge Carried Away.

WESTBROOK, Me., April 8.—The bridge of the Westbrook, Windham and Naples Electric road, about three miles above this city, was carried away by the high water. The Presumpscott river is badly swollen, but no damage is likely, as the new canal at the paper mills carries away the surplus water.

AGUINALDO A PEACEMAKER.

Prisoner to Send General Trias to Bring in Other Leaders.

MANILA, April 8.—Trias, the Filipino general who recently surrendered, will soon leave here for Lipa and Batangas, bearing credentials from Aguinaldo with which to treat for the surrender of the insurgent generals Malvar, Tinio and Lucban.

Generals Alejandrino, Cailles and Lacuna have been outlawed for violating the rules of war, and the remaining recalcitrant rebel chiefs are of no importance.

General Trias will also go to the southern islands on a similar errand.

A Changeable Man.

BALTIMORE, April 8.—A special to The American from Williamsport, Md., says: "Jonathan Bowser, the veteran invalid of this place, who has experienced more remarkable physical changes in his life than any man in this section, is the proud possessor of a luxuriant beard which reaches below his chest. It is fine and silky and formerly was a reddish color, but age had tinged it with gray. Recently he discovered slight streaks of black in it and since the change has been gradually going on until about half of his beard is black. This occurrence is only a part of the remarkable career of the aged man who has been housed for half his life with a peculiar affliction which rendered him helpless for many years. During his confinement his voice failed, and for eight years he was unable to utter a sound. About a year ago his speech was suddenly restored, and an almost coincident return of strength enabled him to leave his bed and walk about. His case has puzzled physicians and specialists from the large cities who have come here to examine him. There has been no change in the color of the hair of his head, which is thin and gray."

Scientist Church Dedicated.

CHICAGO, April 8.—Probably 10,000 persons participated yesterday in the dedication of the Second Church of Christ, Scientist, at Wrightwood and Pine Grove avenue. So great was the assemblage that a quadruple service was held. After the first service the side doors were opened and the audience passed out, while another group of worshipers entered through the front doors and participated in a repetition of the service. Twice more the ceremonial was repeated to audiences similarly admitted, and still crowds lingered about the church, eager to get in. The church, including the ground upon which it stands, cost the society about $120,000.

Safe Breaker Escapes.

FRANKFORT, Ind., April 8.—Burglars at Michigantown, east of this city, early yesterday morning wrecked the safe in a brick building occupied by C. A. Marshall, a merchant, and after a desperate running battle with citizens, in which Marshall was slightly wounded and one of the robbers probably fatally shot, escaped with a small amount of booty. The property damage to the safe, building and goods will probably reach $3,000.

Smallpox In Missouri.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., April 8.—City Physician Charles Tygart last night made the statement that there are 30 cases of smallpox in South Park which have never been reported to the health department and that the disease is rapidly spreading. He placed the whole section of the city under quarantine. Through out the northern part of the state, he says, the disease is spreading.

CIVIL INSULAR RULE.

Temporary Government For the Philippines July 1.

CAGAYAN, Philippine Islands, April 8.—In response to interrogatories from Mr. Elihu Root, United States secretary of war, the Philippine commission has prepared recommendations as to the form of general civil government to be established for the Philippines July 1 and to continue until congress shall have organized a permanent government for the archipelago.

This temporary civil government is expected to consist of a governor, a cabinet and a legislative council, and it is believed that the members of the present commission will act as the principal advisers of Governor General Taft, although there will probably be a few Filipinos in the council. The members of the provisional legislature will be appointed.

The commission will reach Manila May 1, after establishing provisional governments in all the large central islands, excepting Samar and Mindoro. As soon as routine business has been disposed of the commission will proceed to the organization of every remaining province in the island of Luzon and will also deal with the matter of city government for Manila.

Conferences last week with many Moros, Mindanao tribesmen and others confirmed the members of the commission in their intention not to substitute provincial for departmental government in Mindanao and the Sulu group except by the organization of the province of Northern Mindanao. Judge Taft says the matter of abolishing slavery can and will be handled deliberately and tactfully, but that no legislation affecting polygamy among the savages is probable.

Capistrano, in a speech of welcome to the commissioners, participated in yesterday's discussion at Misamis. After completing the work of organization there the commission visited Dapitan.

NEW YORK LEGISLATURE.

Waiting For Mayor Van Wyck—Adjournment Probable on April 19.

ALBANY, April 8.—Adjournment having narrowed down to a question of ten legislative days, the leaders in both houses are trying to figure to a nicety just how many more bills will be "let through." The Greater New York charter bill removed the stumbling block in the way of a definite adjournment date. While the mayor of New York is considering when this shall be returned with his veto, the senate and assembly leaders will figure on the remaining bills on the calendars of both houses.

The $26,000,000 canal appropriation proposition is the most important matter left undecided. Judged by the preliminary skirmish in the senate on Thursday there is every indication that this bill will pass the senate this week and probably the assembly before Wednesday of next week. Every conceivable effort will be made by the anticanal men to block the passage of the measure which proposes to submit to the people the question of expending this large amount of money for the improvement of the state waterways.

Senator Stranahan still expects that his mortgage tax bill will be placed on the statute books. Assemblyman Weekes has not altogether abandoned the idea that his bill appointing a commission to investigate the municipal salary list may also become a law. The appropriation and supply bills have also to be passed.

NEW ROUTE TO THE POLE.

Herr Kampe Proposes to Go by Submarine Boat.

LONDON, April 8.—At a recent meeting of the Vienna Geographical Society Herr Kampe outlined his plan to reach the north pole in a submarine boat now being built at Wilhelmshaven.

In the 15 hours during which the boat will be able to stay under water it can cover 50 miles. It will be submerged at the edge of the land of ice surrounding Spitzbergen and will be steered toward the nearest open water to the north.

Murderer In Jail.

SUNBURY, Pa., April 8.—Remorseful, haggard and worn, John Gulick, who last Tuesday murdered his mother and brother at their home near this city, was lodged in jail here yesterday. He was discovered in the springhouse on the Gulick farm. In this place he secured his first shelter since committing the crime. He said he was tired and had come back home, intending to give himself up today. Since the day of the crime he had roamed through the mountains during the day and at night went to nearby towns and begged for food from back doors. He positively refused to speak about the crime, merely saying he was very sorry. To Chief of Police Metler he stated that he witnessed the funeral of his victims from a nearby hill. When searched, the revolver with which he had committed the crime was found in his coat pocket.

Russia's New Minister.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 8.—Adjutant General P. S. Vannowsky, member of the council of the empire, has been appointed minister of public instruction in succession to M. Bogollepoff, who was assassinated by Peter Karpovich. Emperor Nicholas, in an imperial rescript addressed to the new minister on his appointment, said: "Experience in recent years has shown the existence of defects that are material in our scholastic system. I think the time has arrived to undertake an immediate change."

St. Louis Elevator Burned.

ST. LOUIS, April 8.—Sparks from a switch engine set fire to the big elevator owned by the St. Louis Elevator and Storage company, and within less than two hours the building was reduced to ashes, entailing a loss of $650,000. The building and contents, which consisted of about 800,000 bushels of wheat and corn, were fully insured.

Cayuga Lake Overflowing.

SYRACUSE, April 8.—The water in Cayuga lake has reached a mark which has not been equaled in years. In many cases it has entered the small boathouses near Bridgeport, and the owners have placed their property above the reach of the water.

Electricity In St. Peter's.

CRUSHED ON ROCKS.

Schooners Wrecked on the Maine Coast.

CAPTAINS AND CREWS PERISHED.

Terrible Experience of Survivors, Who Reached Gloucester and Portland In an Exhausted Condition.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., April 8.—The southeast storm just before the Easter dawn threw up on the jagged rocks of Eastern point the old Calais two masted schooner Hyena, and within an hour the waves had torn her to pieces and swept off her entire crew of four men. Two of them, Elmer and Bennett Stanley, managed to reach shore and dragged their bruised bodies up the rocks, but her skipper, Captain R. B. Dix of West Tremont, Me., and Steward Fuller failed to gain the shore and were probably drowned or killed by being dashed on the rocks. The two battered sailors reached this city yesterday morning.

The Hyena, with 206 tons of coal from Perth Amboy for Calais, sailed out of Vineyard Haven Saturday morning and had good weather until off Highland light, when the wind freshened from the southeast, and it commenced to rain. Captain Dix decided to steer for Salem.

Elmer Stanley thinks it was about 3 a. m. when he sighted surf off the starboard bow, but Captain Dix, believing that there was sufficient water, kept right on until suddenly the waves were sighted breaking right ahead, and almost immediately a great wave threw the vessel on to the rocks just off High Popples at East Gloucester.

The schooner began to pound and strain, and the crew cleared away the only boat in the hope of reaching shore. Bennett Stanley jumped into the boat. The next wave swept the boat far out of reach of the other men. He was not in the boat scarcely a minute when it capsized, leaving him to battle with the waves among the rocks.

The half drowned man was alternately thrown up on the beach and dragged back into the seething breakers. Finally he managed to gain a foothold and pulled himself up beyond the sea.

After the vessel went to pieces Elmer Stanley's struggle was as terrible as that of his brother, but in the end he had just strength left to make one last stand and conquered the elements. Bennett soon joined him, and in the dim morning light they appeared at East Gloucester, where they were cared for.

THE WENDAL BURPEE LOST.

Captain, Cook and One Sailor Are Drowned.

PORTLAND, Me., April 8.—The two masted schooner Wendal Burpee of St. John, N. B., went ashore off Cape Elizabeth shortly before 12 o'clock yesterday noon, the captain, cook and one sailor being drowned, while the mate only was saved. The lost were Captain Louis Mersebury, George Foster, the cook, both of St. John, and a sailor known as "English Charley." The mate, John Swensen of St. John, managed to reach the shore more dead than alive.

The schooner Wendal Burpee, which was coal laden from New York to St. John, is owned by N. C. Scott of the latter city and was valued at about $4,000. The vessel will undoubtedly be a total loss, as it is expected she will have her bottom pounded out before tonight. The sea is running heavy, breaking high above the schooner.

A furious gale swept along the coast during the day, and, according to the story of John Swensen, the mate, the captain thought he was off Matinicus, Me., when the fog suddenly lifted, and he found that he was near the rocks of Cape Elizabeth. It was then too late to change the course, and the schooner was carried high up in Board cove, about a mile from the Cape Elizabeth life saving station. Seeing that a wreck was unavoidable, the men decided to take the yawl and had proceeded but a short distance when the craft was swamped by a heavy sea. As they were heavily dressed the men, excepting the mate, went to their doom. The mate, after an awful struggle in the raging surf, managed to nearly reach the shore, but sank back exhausted and unconscious a short distance away. He was rescued by two fishermen who, at the risk of their lives, seized the mate before he could be washed back into deep water.

New Anthracite Scale.

PHILADELPHIA, April 8.—The anthracite coal trade has entered upon its spring business with a fixed scale of prices, so far as the circular is concerned, for the next six months. April for the domestic sizes has 50 cents per ton reduction compared with the previous circular, and then the prices are to be advanced 10 cents per ton monthly until the March figures are again reached in September next. This is a somewhat new method adopted by the coal companies for securing what they have always been striving for, prompt purchase by consumers of coal during the spring and summer instead of delaying until cold weather sounds a note of warning in the autumn.

Cyclists Attack London.

LONDON, April 8.—In the volunteer cyclists' maneuvers, ordered by the British war office, the attack on London this morning proved that the military value of wheelmen is largely dependent on the weather. The attacking force outgeneraled the defenders, but lost so many men in the raid and owing to the bad roads that it was unable to attack in force at the proper time.

Big Copper Plant For Newark.

NEWARK, N. J., April 8.—Announcement is made here that a large plant for the manufacture of insulated copper wire is soon to be built in this city. It is said the plant will cost $1,000,000 and that the scheme is backed by New York capitalists, some of whom are connected with the steel combination. It is expected that work will be given to several thousand hands.

The New York Leaves Algiers.

ALGIERS, April 8.—The United States armored cruiser New York, flagship of Rear Admiral Rodgers, senior squadron commander of the Asiatic station, sailed from Algiers last evening on her way to Manila.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., APRIL 8, 1901.

Two Important Questions.

Two questions came up before the Borough Council at its meeting Friday evening which are of the greatest importance to that municipality. They were the questions of the municipal ownership of the water and electric light plants and the introduction of sewers. Municipal ownership is still a debatable question but a system of sewers the borough must have and it is only a question of time before such a system is put in operation.

There was a speech from Mayor N. B. Smalley in which he declared his advocacy of the borough control of a water supply plant. In order to aid the project as much as possible, he offered to give the borough the land for a site on which to erect a stand-pipe or reservoir. This subject and the Mayor's offer was referred to a committee from the Borough Council which will report on it at some future meeting.

There seems to exist a feeling among the members of the Borough Council in favor of municipal ownership of the water works. While it has not been openly expressed, there has been a tendency to give the subject careful and earnest consideration. That is as it should be. If the borough can run its own water works economically and let the profits flow into the borough treasury instead of into the pockets of the stockholders of some corporation, such a state of affairs is very desirable. There are good men in the Council and they can be trusted to look into the subject fairly and honestly.

As for the question of a system of sewers for the borough, it is one which must be answered and at no distant day. Plainfield has had an experience from which North Plainfield may profit with advantage. There is no doubt but that North Plainfield will go very carefully before selecting a means of sewage disposal. A system of sewers is not so difficult as is the disposal of the sewage afterwards. There will be the same choice which faced Plainfield, a sewer to tide water or a disposal plant of some nature. The same obstacles, which confronted this city, will be in the path of the borough. How they will be overcome will be a matter of interest to residents of city and borough alike.

An Infamous Communication.

Among all the various kinds of people who go to make up the population of this land, there are few so supremely selfish that they are incapable of any thought which does not bear directly on themselves and their own interests. As far as the welfare and interests of their county and the community in which they live, they have not the slightest concern.

A man of that stamp wrote a communication to the New York Herald and it was published yesterday. In that communication, he deliberately attempts to injure the fair name and reputation of this city. It is particularly in reference to the water rates about which he makes several misstatements. He gives the impression that Plainfield is fast in the grip of a few corporations and declares that "Plainfield is a dead city with no influx of population to speak of." There are some nice things about the town, he admits, but, in closing, he gives the following advice, "People will think twice before making up their minds to go to the expense of moving to this Jersey town."

If the writer of that communication, who hides his identity under the initials "M. K.," does not like Plainfield, then let him depart. But to slander the fair name and reputation of a city like Plainfield is an act which no man, who possessed the slightest spark of interest in the welfare of his home city would stoop to. Nothing too strong can be said in condemnation of the writer of that anonymous communication to The Herald.

Plainfield possesses a Common Council, the members of which can be trusted to do their duty, and the body can be counted on to see that the interests of the citizens are fully protected either by securing new concessions from the water company when the new contract is made next year or in establishing a city water supply plant.

Now that the frost is fully out of the ground the work of widening Somerset street is to begin at once. So the Borough Council decided at its meeting of Friday evening. That public improvement will be advanced as soon as possible and Mayor Smalley may be looked upon as certain not to let the progress of the work lag. When the street has been widened according to the present plans, it will be a wonderful improvement to the principal thoroughfare of the borough and the change will surely be felt by the merchants on that street in the increased business.

The work of putting up the street signs has begun. Within a few weeks, it is expected that they will be in position. There is no doubt but that they will be a decided improvement. For several years, Plainfield has been entirely without them and strangers have had a hard time of it in trying to find various streets. The Daily Press advocated them and the Board of Trade seconded the effort. Finally the Common Council provided the necessary appropriation and now the street signs are a realty.

It is going to take time to bring about municipal control of the water works. There is one way whereby the water consumers of the city and borough may secure lower rates without delay and that is by persuading the Plainfield Water Supply Company to make the use of water meters general. If the company finds out that its patrons demand them, it is quite possible that meters may be put in. Therefore let the company know by letter or verbally regarding your desire.

The editorial in Saturday's Daily Press concerning the need of the trolley street sprinkler was not exactly appropriate to the situation that day. There has been, however, plenty of dust during the past two weeks and the passing of the trolley cars has greatly emphasized that fact.

It would cost the city but a trifle and the result would be a decided improvement if one or two men should be employed to clean up the banks of Green brook in the section which is exposed to public view from the new bridge joining Madison avenue and Duer street.

Plainfield theatre-loving people are hoping that the present owners of Stillman Music Hall will find a purchaser who is willing to rebuild the hall and plan it according to the most modern lines of theatrical construction.

Easter Sunday in Plainfield was marked by many elaborate and beautiful services at the local churches.

The heavy rain of Saturday effectually prevented the opening of the local baseball season.

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence.)

Dunellen, April 8—At the Presbyterian church, yesterday morning, there was a very good attendance. A beautiful and impressive Easter sermon was delivered by the pastor while the choir rendered a special programme of music. In the evening the pupils of the Sunday school held their Easter exercises, which consisted for the most part of appropriate carols and recitations. Pastor Doolittle, of the Methodist church, gave an Easter sermon in the morning and in the evening a service appropriate to the day was given by the Sunday school pupils.

The Dunellen Building and Loan Association will hold its annual meeting next Thursday evening at which time the work of the past year will be reviewed and the reports of the officers will be read.

Among those from the borough who attended the funeral services of Miss Adelia Fritz at High Bridge yesterday were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wyhusky, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Lewis and Ernest Peters.

Mrs. R. J. Swackhamer has returned from a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Clarence Oakley, of New Brunswick.

Morton Cooley, of Flemington, has returned home after a visit with his grandmother, Mrs. Emily Apgar.

Mrs. Fidelie Piquette and family have taken up their residence on West Second street, Plainfield.

The regular monthly meeting of Court Dunellen, I. O. O. F., will be held this evening.

Miss Imogene Smith was the guest of Mrs. A. L. Egbert, of Plainfield, yesterday.

Mrs. Everitt Gordon has been visiting relatives at Elizabeth.

Maxwell Brakeley has been visiting relatives at Jersey City.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence.)

New Market, April 8—The Seventh-Day Baptist church and society met last night and elected G. R. Crandall as trustee for one year to fill the position made vacant by the death of W. B. Larkin; W. G. Dunn for five years to succeed C. E. Rogers, whose term of office expires this spring.

Mrs. C. T. Rogers, Mrs. J. C. Meeker and T. O. Nelson, members of Lakeside Council, D. of L., attended the funeral of Miss Addelia Fritz which took place at High Bridge yesterday.

The Episcopal church was handsomely decorated for the Easter services which were held yesterday.

A number of New Market's young people attended church at Bound Brook last night.

William Gant has accepted a position with the Jersey Central Railroad at Elizabethport.

Alexander Herlich, of Warrenville, is visiting friends in town.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence.)

Scotch Plains, April 8—The special Easter service at the Methodist church last evening was largely attended and the best held in years. The church was decorated with a profusion of palms, lillies and potted plants. The service was devoted to music. The Sunday school sang several anthems, there was a duet by Miss Mooney and Mrs. Walker, a solo by Mrs. McGuire, a solo and chorus by Herbert Mooney and school, and a solo by Miss N. E. Hollingsworth. The missionary report for the year was given by the secretary, showing that $40 30 had been collected. Rev. Charles Davison, of Madison, assisted with the singing, and much credit is due Miss Hollingsworth for her efforts.

Special Easter exercises were held at the Baptist church yesterday morning at 9:30 o'clock, under the direction of the pastor, Rev. G. M. Shott. There was a large attendance and the Sunday-school room was prettily decorated for the occasion. A work entitled "The Angel at the Tomb," was given. This was composed of anthems, solos and chorus. There were also recitations by Hazel Marsh, Mary Jahn and Anna Bruchman. An interesting part was the address by Pastor Shott. The regular church service followed the above and Mr. Shott preached an Easter sermon. There was no service in the evening.

There was a special Easter service at All Saints, Episcopal church, yesterday morning, when the rector preached an appropriate sermon. A special Sunday-school service was held in the afternoon at 3 o'clock, when a programme of carols was rendered. The missionary boxes were brought in by the children and opened. The sum of $30 was realized. These boxes were out during Lent.

Mr. Loomis will give an entertainment for the benefit of the public library the last of this month. This entertainment was given in Fanwood some time ago, and everyone was well pleased with his recitations, etc.

Wm. Buckley still continues to improve every day and unless complications should arise Dr. Westcott feels assured of his recovery. He is now rational and grows stronger steadily.

Mrs. Wm. Bacon and Mrs. G. Demarest, of Craig place, Plainfield, spent Sunday with their father, Robert Walpole, of Westfield avenue.

Rev. Charles Davison, of Drew Theological Seminary, Madison, has returned home after a visit with friends in town.

Mrs. Ben Carpenter, of Graceland, has returned home after a visit with her mother, Mrs. Rohl, of Park avenue.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD

(Special Correspondence.)

South Plainfield, April 8—Special music was a feature of the Easter services, yesterday, at the Baptist church. The morning programme included a piece intitled "Welcome Springtime," by Mabelle Cubberley; "Easter Lillies," by Edna Eckert and Florence Johnson, and "Spring Flowers and Risen Bodies," spoken by four girls, Mildred Johnson, Florence Johnson, Edna Eckert and Mabelle Cubberly.

Miss Nellie Manning was the leader of the Christian Endeavor meeting last evening. The service was of an Easter nature.

The annual church business meeting of the Baptist church was postponed until next Saturday.

Washington Camp, No. 1, P. O. S. of A., will meet tonight in Washington Hall.

Hollis B. Cubberley is confined to the house with bronchial trouble.

Something About the Attractions Which Plainfield Theatre-Goers May Care to Witness.

The popular young actor, J. K. Emmett, will present "Fritz in a Madhouse," at Music Hall tomorrow night with Miss Lottie Gilson and a strong supporting company. Mr. Emmett is undoubtedly the best singing comedian on the stage today. His wonderfully sweet voice, charming personality, as well as his love for the little ones, has won the hearts of all his audiences. Every season Mr. Emmett presents something new to his patrons in the way of song and music—all of the latest and best are to be found in his repertoire. "He who has no music in his soul is not to be trusted" so says the immortal Bard of Avon. This is an incontrovertible fact as exemplified in the experience of every day life. Mr. Emmett will be heard in several new songs.

The plot of "At Piney Ridge" which is to be at Music Hall, Thursday night, is not at all intricate. It involves the charge of negro blood in the veins of a man supposedly white, the breaking of his social relations and the refusal of his betrothed's father to permit his marriage, and the struggles and final triumph of the young man in clearing himself of the accusation. The play is rich in new and powerful incident, and the producing company on of decided merit. The scenery and electrical effects are novel and beautiful.

For years American theatre-goers have associated "Rip VanWinkle" with Joseph Jefferson, until one thinks and speaks of the man and the character as one and the same. Now the public has an opportunity of seeing and listening to this old and thoroughly American stage production in an entirely new light. The presentation by Thomas Jefferson and his company is of special interest on account of the exceptional cast. Thomas Jefferson, who takes the part of "Rip," is certainly most successful. He has evidently taken his father for his model, but where could he find another so perfect? When he comes on the stage it seems as if the elder Jefferson himself was there. His voice is that of his father, and his laugh recalls old associations with dear old "Rip." His characterization leaves nothing to be desired, and if he is not his father he is as good as it is possible for any one else to be. This clever company will present "Rip VanWinkle" in Plainfield, April 25.

The big Drury Lane melodrama "The Price of Peace," which was presented for the first time in America, Thursday evening, March 21, at the Broadway Theatre, New York, has scored the greatest success of the new century in the theatrical world. In immensity, in beauty of scenic effects, in thrilling situations, in dignity of theme and in strength of cast it goes a step beyond any London production that has ever been transferred to the American stage. Jacob Litt, the proprietor of the Broadway Theatre, has not only given the play-going public the greatest production and the most expensive cast of players of the new year, but realizing the tendency of the times toward a lessening of prices demanded for first-class places of amusement, has made the scale of prices for this gigantic production at the Broadway Theatre 50c, 75c, and $1, with choice front orchestra chairs $1.50 only, (instead of $2 as heretofore). For the Wednesday matinees prices will range from 25 to 75 cents, according to location—nothing higher. For the Saturday matinee evening prices will prevail

MR. QUAY'S SUCCESS.

Largely Due to His Scrupulous Attention to Details.

Telegraph Operator with a Delicate Ear—A Serio-Comic Rotunda Incident—Other Bright Bits of Capitol Gossip.

[Special Washington Letter.]

THE ways of statesmen and capitol employes are very interesting to observers, and particularly to veteran newspaper men. One of the messengers who has been on duty for many years in the senate wing of the great marble building today said:

"The way in which Senator Quay does the little—in fact, almost trivial—things, indicates the shrewdness and uniqueness of his personality.

"For instance, any man that comes to Washington to see Mr. Quay, and whom Mr. Quay wants to see—and there are hundreds of them—will go directly to his room, that of the committee on public buildings and grounds, and never ask a question of any kind. Not so with the friends of other senators, for while they may have been told how to reach their different rooms, they have, as a rule, to make inquiry for their location. I was amused the other day, when the callers on Mr. Quay were unusually numerous, to see how they went directly to his room, notwithstanding the circuitous route necessary to get to it. When I asked one of them how he knew where to find the room he showed me a card. It told the story. It contained very minute directions as to how to reach the senator and just what to do."

When Senator Quay was last elected to the senate, in January of this year, after a bitter political struggle, the senate galleries were crowded with Pennsylvanians who intended to give him an enthusiastic reception upon his return to that body. One of the older senators, who is friendly to Quay, said to the writer: "This is going to be a bad day for Quay. When he enters the senate chamber his friends will break loose and disturb the decorum of the senate; and that will anger many senators."

Just as he concluded that sentence, Senator Quay appeared upon the floor of the senate, and the people in the galleries broke forth into oft-repeated storms of applause. It lacked seven minutes of 12 o'clock. The applause continued until noon, when the presiding officer took the gavel, struck the desk, and said: "The senate will be in order." Mr. Quay raised his hands and motioned the galleries for silence. Instantly the senate chamber was as still as a church.

The older senator turned to the narrator and said: "It is no wonder that Quay is a successful politician. He never overlooks little details. He knew beforehand that applause during the session of the senate would be unpopular with his colleagues on the floor, and hence he came in time to have it all over with before the senate came to order. That shows the masterful mind of the politician who knows how to succeed.

For almost 50 years "Ham" Young has been a conspicuous figure in this city. For fully 30 years he has been night manager of one of the great telegraph companies. His fine physique and splendid bearing have made him notable in the capitol. Although he is hairless, barring his snow-white mustache, he is still a handsome man. During the afternoons he has charge of the press gallery telegraph work in the house of representatives. Although he is conceded to be an able business man, no one would suppose that he could distinguish a man on a telegraph wire by a mere touch—so to speak—and that, too, when less than half a dozen words were sent. Mr. Young has charge of a large force of men, and when they desire to get off they send him a message to the capitol, or call him up on a wire and talk to him personally and make their desire known.

QUAY APPEALS FOR ORDER.

One of his men called for him on the wire the other day from up town and asked: "Can I get off tonight?'

"Yes, you're excused," responded Mr. Young.

The man walked down the avenue as far as Fourteenth street, when suddenly the fact dawned on him that he had neglected to state who he was, and he went back to set the matter straight.

Again calling up the capitol, he asked Mr. Young: "Say, how did you know who asked to get off?"

"Oh," came the response, "it's B——, isn't it?"

"Yes."

"I said you were excused."

"Well," said the man, as he left the office, "that beats all I ever heard of. I gave no name and clicked but five words and here is a man who tells me who I am."

Old-time operators considered this remarkable, in view of the fact that only five words were sent. Things of this sort have been done when a longer conversation ensued, or the character of the man's sending was better gauged by a long talk.

The doorkeepers at the house say that Amos Cummings, of New York, is the most popular man in that body and that statesman Sulzer, of the same state, is the next man on the list.

When one of them was asked how he came to this conclusion he said: "Because so many people call for them every day. Their callers, as a rule, are people who are in distress and who want assistance. They know that Cummings and Sulzer have big hearts, and are always ready to aid those in need. Cummings and Sulzer invariably respond to cards sent in to them, and I have seen them go down in their pockets many a time and bring out money for fellows who were hard up."

IN STATUARY HALL.

"Who is called for the most often?" was asked.

"Rixey, of the Eighth Virginia district, which is so close to Washington, is called for more than any other man. He gets little time for any other business than answering the cards sent in to him. Congressman Cannon is another man who receives numerous visitors, and Bingham, of Philadelphia, is still another."

In the parlor in statuary hall the other day sat a man and a maid. The maid was of uncertain summers, but there was nothing uncertain in the art or artfulness she displayed in her get up and manners. They were sitting on the sofa next to the statue of Ethan Allen, and seemed to be alone, but the writer was leaning up against a column next to them and screened by its width.

"Now, general, you will be sure to come?" she queried, "and you will be sure to bring me some carnations, 'just the color of my cheeks,' you know, and a box of nice candy? Remember, Tuesday evening."

"Really, I'm afraid he can't, you know," said a cool, society voice behind them, where a handsomely gowned lady had just paused. "Tuesday is my day, and we will have some friends to dinner, so I think my husband will have to defer his engagement with you. If you insist upon carnations, I might send you some after dinner if you will give me your address. I usually bestow my flowers on some charitable institution." But the address was not given, and the maid walked away under the fire of a pair of dark eyes gleaming through a gold-encased lorgnette, while the "general" walked stiffly back to his committee-room. It seemed as though Jack roses would have come nearer matching the color in three pairs of cheeks than carnations.

It seems to be a pity that kodaks are not allowed in the capitol building, because real life in Washington could be daily so well illustrated by their use. But whenever a visitor is seen with one of those harmless little instruments a capitol policeman appears and takes temporary possession of the kodak, saying that it is against the established rule to permit anyone to carry them about the building. The same rule obtains in all of the executive departments, but it is only enforced rigidly on Capitol hill and in the congressional library. If the kodak could be used and the owner have the faculty of writing descriptions of the scenes which the kodaks might catch, the people would have opportunity to read some facts which might not otherwise be written nor illustrated concerning happenings in this singular city.

There are five detectives on duty in the capitol during the sessions of congress, and the stories they tell are interesting, illustrating every phase of character. For example, a venerable and handsome ex-congressman from the Pacific slope, who had admission to the floor of the house of representatives at all times, forged the names of active members to checks on the sergeant-at-arms. He is poor, needy and old. The congressmen did not prosecute him, nor require him to make restitution. The detectives, however, do not permit him to enter the building any more.

SMITH D. FRY.

Dressed as Man Forty Years.

A remarkable story of male impersonation was revealed in a police court in London in connection with an arrest for alleged money frauds. The prisoner, named Catherine Coombe, aged 66, described as a house decorator, appeared in the dock in male attire. For 40 years Catherine impersonated a man and worked on board P. & O. steamers in various capacities, and also for London firms. She says she was married at 15, taught school, and then thought there were better chances of advancement as a man.

VIOLET CULTURE.

What the Most Successful Grower Says About the Industry.

Just about this time of the year the papers are full of articles on violet growing. It is represented as a particularly easy, not to say artistic, occupation and for this reason one especially adapted to women. According to most writers, it hardly involves more labor than the mere planting and gathering of the buds, and the profits are depicted as enormous. The articles, as a rule, wind up with a few glittering generalities about hundreds of women who live in New Jersey and who not only support themselves by this means, but even manage to clothe themselves in silks and satins. Actual research among the wholesale florists reveals an interesting fact. "Women violet growers?" laughed one of the biggest violet dealers in town. "Yes, I have heard that fairy tale. The truth is there's just one woman who is a success at it. Oh, yes, any number read articles on the subject and start out for themselves, but at the end of a year they are glad to give it up. Fact is it's one of the hardest branches of flower culture, and women simply haven't the patience necessary."

MRS. M. J. MOORE.

The successful woman violet grower is Mrs. M. J. Moore, and, as it happens, she does not live in New Jersey at all, but in Highland, N. Y. Her specialty is the Marie Louise violet, and last Easter she supplied the New York market with no fewer than 96,000 of these flowers. In addition, she broke the record for large and perfect blossoms.

The secret of the little woman's success is sheer grit and perseverance. Her husband was just beginning to make violet raising a success when he died, leaving her with two children. Any one less plucky might have given up in despair, for she had powerful male competitors in the market. Not so Mrs. Moore. Finding the rent of her husband's greenhouses too heavy, she took her savings and erected a small building on her own land. Then she applied herself to learn thoroughly every possible thing about violets. She worked with her own hands early and late. As the result she was soon in a position to build additions to her first house and to hire assistants. But the secret of her success lies in the fact that even at present she personally superintends every bit of the labor, from the planting to the counting and tying up of the flowers in attractive bunches. "And that is where so many women make mistakes," she said. "They do not take especial care to have each flower in the bunch perfect, and they do not exercise the proper caution in tying and packing them. The result is that the blossoms reach the town in a half withered or shriveled condition, and the best wholesale dealers will have none of them."

For the benefit of beginners Mrs. Moore consented to give a few valuable hints, the results of her experience in violet growing.

"In the first place," she remarked, "great care should be taken in the selection of the soil. Violets require loamy soil. I have seen clay soil used when loamy soil could not be obtained, but the blossoms are not so large, as the clay has a tendency to contract and become hardened around the roots. Although some prepare the soil in the fall, I prefer to plow in the spring, as you then receive the good of the fiber, which gives life to the young roots.

IN THE CONSERVATORY.

For fertilizing use one-third of well developed cow manure and one-ninth of phosphate mixed thoroughly together. The violets should be all planted by July 1. It must not be forgotten that there are dangers and risks in growing violets such as disease, fly and other pests. These are part of the business, and they must be carefully guarded against.

"In preparing for market great care must be taken in bunching so that every bloom is brought evenly together. The bunches must be tied as near to the lower parts of the stems as possible so that each bloom will spread.

"One of the most important factors is the temperature. It must not exceed 44 degrees by night and 54 by day. But the most necessary things of all are patience and a determination to supply the market with only your very best and most perfect blossoms. If you stick to this resolution, success is bound to come ultimately."

Women With Men's Names.

Men's names are borne by women very frequently in the island of Samoa. The reason for this is that when a baby girl is born directly after the death of a brother it is supposed that the spirit has simply been transferred from one child to the other. Accordingly the newcomer receives the name of the dead boy.

TALK ABOUT COFFEE.

The World's First Supply Came from Araby the Blest.

Nowadays Brazil, Central America and Java Control the World's Markets—Immense Plantations in Mexico.

[Special Mexican Letter.]

THERE has been probably no greater factor in our civilization than the development of railways in the different parts of the world. To them we are indebted for the cheapness of many articles regarded by us as common necessities, by our forefathers as luxuries, while 200 years ago they were almost unknown to Europeans. Among them is the coffee found upon nearly every breakfast table. During Cromwell's time the first coffee house was established in London by a man who had brought some of the berries from Arabia, to the delight of his friends and patrons. Arabia may be said to be divided into three parts, one of stones, another of sands and deserts, while the third, Happy Arabia, "Araby the Blest," is a land of gardens, olive trees and vineyards. Here is Yemen, from which all the civilized world at first obtained its coffee supply. Mocha, the chief town, stands on a sandy seashore, at the entrance to the Red sea, by the treacherous strait of Babel Mandeb. Prices for the berry were so very high that the different nations turned their attention to coffee raising in their various colonies. France first sent plants to the West Indies. Brazil now exports nearly a sufficient amount to supply the world. It is said that in that country from five to ten times as many pounds of corn or wheat might be raised to the acre as of coffee, if the laborers were adapted to cultivating those crops.

Coffee has grown wild in Ceylon from the earliest times. Natives mixed the leaves with their food and decorated their temples with the flowers hundreds of years before they found any use for the berries. In a natural state the plant grows tall, but when cultivated its top is cut back. The white flowers resemble those of the jessamine. The ripe berry is red, like a great cherry. Squirrels, rats and monkeys are dreaded enemies of the coffee planter. The berries are transported by rail from the interior to the seaports of the countries mentioned, thence shipped to the United States, while the product reaches us by the railroad direct from many parts of Mexico. That wonderland, lying so near us, which holds the relics of an advanced civilization, old when the nations of Europe were just emerging from barbarism, has proved very alluring to coffee planters. To visit this most grand and beautiful, rich and fertile land one should not confine himself to the railways or most frequently traveled routes. To fully appreciate Mexico one must journey, as the natives do, to those interior districts which constitute an earthly paradise. Here one may understand the dolce far niente of the population, and it requires a supreme effort of the will to tear oneself away. When a resident in this land, one readily comprehends those strange marriages with native beauties which can never be understood in the outside world. This is the genuine land of "manana," a to-morrow which never arrives.

LABORER'S HUT ON A MEXICAN COFFEE PLANTATION.

COFFEE TWIG AND BERRIES.

Although the cultivation of coffee was introduced among these people over a hundred years ago it has never been in high favor with them as a beverage, the Mexicans, as a rule, preferring chocolate, which is indigenous to the soil. A native, more than anything else, enjoys his chocolate, unless he desires something which will inebriate as well as cheer, when he is most apt to indulge in pulque, a liquor made from the cactus, which if imbibed to any great extent brutalizes the faculties. To its use is attributed the degraded condition of the peons of the country. From these people of mixed blood, more Indian than anything else, most of the laborers are drawn. Among them, while it is hard to procure a cup of the coffee which they are cultivating, one may easily obtain atole (an Aztec drink), chocolate, or te de ojas (hot water poured on orange leaves).

Coffee growing was first introduced into Mexico from the West Indies by a Spaniard. His successful experiment induced other haciendados to follow his example, and now the industry is one of the most successful and profitable in the republic. In the extreme northern states of Chihuahua, Coahuila and Nuevo Leon, it does not do well because of the occasional frosts, but further south, whether in different altitudes, varying climates, temperate, hot and dry, low and damp, at Vera Cruz, Oaxaca and even to the isthmus, it thrives. In the temperate table land, the "caffea arabica," resembling mocha, grows. It is an evergreen, shrubby and hardy, in height varying from five to seven feet. The hot, moist, country variety resembles Java coffee. The trees are higher.

In order to go into the business of coffee raising a man must have a stock of patience and one of money sufficient to last him for five years at least, for that length of time must elapse before he receives any appreciable returns from his investment. Seeds are put in and the plants raised in small beds, often in the shade of trees. The seedlings may be transplanted when about eight months old, at regular distances (about six to ten feet apart) from each other, so that the full-grown trees will not interfere. They must then be kept free from weeds, shaded when they require it, from the too great heat of the sun, and topped, if necessary (many growers do not believe in the pruning processes). When about three or four years old the first blossoms appear among the vivid, shining leaves. These and the subsequent berries grow along the stem in clusters, sometimes singly. The fragrant blossoms first appear in the winter months, the green berries about July, and in October and November they are matured for picking. They must be taken from the tree, one at a time, by hand, and placed in a basket suspended around the neck of a peon woman or child. These baskets contain about ten or fifteen pounds, and the filling of one is worth about 12 cents in our money. The first year the tree yields from two to four ounces, twice that amount the second year and at the third is in full bearing, producing about one and a half pounds. A pound per tree is considered an average crop. In tropical states the yield often runs to five pounds per tree. After the picking the coffee is dried and hulled. Where shipping facilities are good many foreign-owned plantations are supplied with machinery for cleansing and hulling. But in regions remote from railroads and steamboat lines the freight by burros and pack-mules is so high that old-fashioned processes only are employed.

Petates, or straw mats, receive each day's gathering of berries, which are spread out in thin layers. Next day, in the full sunshine, they are removed to the patio, or drying ground, where they are again spread out, being constantly stirred and turned over until perfectly dry, after which peons thresh them out by treading on them with bare feet, separating the husks. The berries are then pounded in a stone mortar. Of course, this process bruises them somewhat and they are less regular in appearance than those prepared on the plantations where machinery is used. After being pounded they are raised above the head of the cleaner and allowed to drop on a mat, the chaff being fanned away. The coffee is now put up in sacks containing from 150 to 200 pounds. Large amounts are shipped all over the world from Vera Cruz. While waiting for their coffee crop, many planters cultivate tropical fruits, sugar cane and tobacco, for which there is an increasingly good market. Many of these products may be raised along with the coffee.

Except China, Mexico probably has the cheapest labor in the world, but the peons are lazy, with exaggerated ideas of their own importance, and the importation of Chinese labor bids fair to crowd them into the background, for although the peons compare favorably enough with the blacks of our southern states and the West Indies, their work marks a poor showing beside that of the industrious Chinaman, who never asks for a day off and works for small remuneration. A Mexican peon would rather half starve in the warm sunshine on a feast day than work. Our coffee imports from Mexico are increasing largely each year, with prices firm.

Flags Under Which the Commerce of the Seas Is Carried—America's Place

REDUCED transportation rates has of recent years given an impetus to trade that was never before known. International competition in ocean shipping has gradually lowered freight rates until today they are lower than our grandfathers would have deemed possible.

The growth of production has been going on rapidly, and if nations were to remain prosperous an outlet for these productions had to be found. Means of transportation had to keep pace with increased production, and it has done so, and has at the same time been growing constantly cheaper because of improved methods.

To the United States this lowering of freight rates has come as a blessing, as it enables us to sell our surplus products abroad. Without railroads and steamships the production of cereals in North America and Australia would not have been so widely developed, as the products could not have been utilized, except by immigration from overpopulated countries; nor would the gigantic metal, textile and other industries of Germany have attained their present growth.

But some of the classes of Europe, who view with alarm the growing competition of new world countries, regret the growth. This is true of the agrarians of Germany, as it has cost them the loss of monopoly in the production of articles of food which they formerly enjoyed; at the same time it is the cause of the marvelous growth of German industries, not only for export, but also for home consumption, because the development and improvement of ocean navigation supplied the demand for raw materials at reduced cost.

In less than three decades ocean freight rates have been reduced from 50 to 75 per cent., as is shown by the following table:

From and to England.	1874.	End of 1900.
From England to—
Buenos Ayres (for coal)	$9 73	$2 43
Rio de Janeiro	6 30	3 41
Alexandria	4 38	1 70
Odessa	4 26	1 58
To England from—Quebec:
Lumber	21 42	4 62
Boards	25 55	9 73
Valparaiso (saltpeter)	13 38	5 84
San Francisco (wheat)	13 99	5 41
Rangoon (rice)	13 38	5 48

At present rates are somewhat higher than at the close of 1900, but, nevertheless, much lower than between 1870 and 1880.

These lower rates are mainly due to improvements in shipbuilding. The tonnage is now considerably greater without a proportionate increase in the cost of running. Up to 20 years ago, the men on sailing vessels had to go up the masts to set the sails or to reef; on new ships this is done automatically, which, while being safer, requires less labor.

The steamers now use triple and quadruple expansion engines, thereby greatly lessening the duration of the voyage; these and improved furnaces save much fuel for the trips, while the less amount of coal required gives more storage for freight. The freight capacity of modern steamers has increased fully one-third, while the expense has been reduced.

DIAGRAM SHOWING THE STEAM TONNAGE OF THE LEADING MARITIME NATIONS OF THE WORLD.

The merchant steam marine of the world has grown immensely, as the following figures illustrate:

Year.	Number of vessels.	Registered tons. Gross.	Registered tons. Net.
1874	5,865	5,226,000	3,471,000
1884	8,433	10,309,000	6,675,000
1894	10,744	15,657,000	9,994,000
1896	11,155	17,085,000	10,781,000
1898	11,576	18,387,000	11,667,000
1899	11,756	19,711,000	12,185,000
1900	12,289	21,797,000	13,465,000

The steam fleet, in numbers, has a little more than doubled in 26 years; in tonnage it has quadrupled.

The reverse has been true of sailing vessels. In this case there is hardly any difference between the gross and net tonnage.

Year.	Number of vessels.	Registered tons.
1874	56,293	14,523,000
1884	44,734	12,000,000
1894	29,333	9,547,000
1896	29,248	9,136,000
1898	28,886	8,698,000
1899	27,867	8,247,000
1900	27,982	8,205,000

In the short space of 26 years the transportation capacity of the world's merchant marine has increased 250 per cent.

The Frankfurter Zeitung in a recent issue points out the importance of the part Germany has taken in the increase in the world's merchant marine. Germany to-day, not only with reference to merchant steamers, but also to the world's merchant fleet, occupies the place next to Great Britain, which is all the more notable as the United States includes in its tonnage the vessels on the great lakes.

The relative position of the principal flags in the fall of 1900 was:

Country.	Steamers. Tons.	Sailing vessels. Tons.	Total. Tons.
England	11,859,000	2,643,000	14,502,000
Germany	2,169,000	551,000	2,720,000
United States	1,182,000	1,360,000	2,542,000
Norway	769,000	338,000	1,607,000
France	1,060,000	341,000	1,401,000

England owns considerably more than half of all the steamers in the world. In the building of ships that country makes a still better showing. British shipyards work in a very large measure for foreign countries.

At the end of the third quarter of 1900 there were being constructed:

Country.	Steamers. Tons.	Sailing vessels. Tons.	Total. Tons.
Great Britain	1,192,000	12,000	1,204,000
United States	142,000	13,000	155,000
Germany	147,000	5,000	152,000
Italy	103,000	1,000	104,000
France	63,000	55,000	118,000
Holland	26,000	8,000	34,000

In the years 1898 and 1899 Germany held second place in shipbuilding, but, for various reasons, the shipbuilding in 1900 has received such an impetus in the United States that it has placed Germany third.

Curious Advertisements.

"A country clergyman would feel most thankful to any benevolent lady who would kindly take into her service a strong, motherless girl of 16, whom he is anxious to get from home, but whom he cannot recommend for honesty and truthfulness."

And still more robust in its candor is the following irresistible appeal:

"Required a kind master for an excellent black retriever dog. Owner parts with him on no other account than his savage tendencies."

Who got that dog, one wonders vainly, and who secured the services of the strong young thief?—New Lippincott.

HOW THE EASTERTIDE WAS OBSERVED.

"Easter Eve" and Mrs. E. W. Dutton, soprano solo, sang "Easter Dawn." Rev. Dr. W. R. Richards preached on the text, "They Have Taken Away My Lord."

The evening music rendered was a tenor solo by Royal Fish and an alto solo, by Miss Magdallen.

MONROE AVENUE M. E CHURCH.

The Easter exercises at the Monroe Avenue church were held during the afternoon session, the Sunday school taking part. They were in charge of Superintendent Walter M. McGee. The platform was profusely decorated.

Those who took part in the exercises were Violet Jones, Gertrude Gray, Camilla Schuckmann, Frank Moore, Flossy Gilbert, Jessie Jones, Louie Praed, Clara Brown, Jennie Gray, and Otto Moore; Sadie Brower; Daisy Gilbert, Mabel Gilbert, Florence Brown, Agnes Hendry, Agnes Brown and Bella Larmour. There was a brief address by the pastor, Rev. John McMurray. Miss Charlotte Aldrich presided at the piano while the pupils were in charge of Miss Emeline Huff.

MARCONNIER CHAPEL.

The Easter service at Marconnier chapel was held yesterday afternoon under the auspices of the Sunday-school. There was a musical programme by the school, and a vocal solo by Mrs. A. J. Stiglitz, accompanied by Mrs. George Saums; a violin solo by Mrs. George Saums and Miss Stryker; and a solo, "The Holy City," by Mrs. Stiglitz and Mrs. Saums.

In the absence of Rev. Cornelius Schenck, pastor of Trinity Reformed church, Superintendent H. W. Marshall, assisted by Elder F. E. Smith, was in charge, and each made a short address.

Mrs. Schwenk, the founder and former superintendent of the chapel, was presented with a package containing a large Easter egg, filled with gold, amounting to about $20. The children greatly enjoyed the egg hunt after the exercises and they were very successful in finding the beautiful colored eggs which were hidden about the adjoining field.

CHURCH OF THE HEAVENLY REST.

The Church of the Heavenly Rest (Episcopal) held two impressive services yesterday. The chancel was decorated prettily with lilies and potted plants, given as memorials, and in the body of the edifice were hung the Sunday-school class banners.

The music at the morning service was rendered effectively by a choir composed of E. E. Brown, tenor; Messrs. Derby and Hughes, basses; Mrs. E. E. Brown and Miss Jennie Wentzel, sopranos, and the Misses Houston and Pound, contraltos. The organist was Garrett T. Dunham.

Some elaborate church music was rendered at the evening service, in the afternoon, under the direction of Fred J. Pope, the choirmaster. D. Stuart Pope presided at the organ and the full choir of sixteen voices took part in the service. The special features were a tenor solo by Wm. Tallamy; a soprano solo by Miss Ida Tallamy; a baritone solo by Fred J. Pope, and a quartette by Wm. Tallamy and F. J. Pope and the Misses Grace Phillips and Elizabeth Forster.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

At the First Presbyterian church there was a short special programme in the afternoon for the Sunday-school, and the regular Easter service was held in the evening. The church was beautifully decorated with lilies, palms, smilax, etc. The service was chiefly of a musical character. A male quartette composed of E. Maxwell Honeyman, Bradley Hall, William H. Holmes and Henry B. Drake sang an anthem. There was also a vocal duet by Miss Grace Teller and Miss Mabelle Smith, a vocal solo by Wm. Holmes and a violin solo by Martin Korf, in addition to several anthems by the augmented choir.

SEVENTH-DAY BAPTIST CHURCH.

The Easter service at this church was held Saturday morning, when the choir rendered several anthems and the pastor, Rev. A. E. Main, preached an appropriate sermon. The church was prettily decorated with palms, roses and lilies.

GERMAN REFORMED CHURCH.

The services at the German Reformed church were marked by the celebration of the Lord's Supper and the rendition of Easter music. The regular ritual was carried out by the pastor.

In the morning the pastor, Rev. G. Hauser, preached in German, taking as his subject "The Lord is Risen." Miss Louisa Brandt, of Scotch Plains, was confirmed. In the evening the sermon as the music was in English.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.

The floral decorations at the Congregational church were thoroughly appropriate to the Eastertide. A fine musical programme was presented, including two instrumental trios by Mrs. B. T. Barnes, organist, Miss Saidee Mae Howell, pianist, and P. Ludwig Conde, violinist; a soprano solo by Miss Bertha VanN. Willis, with violin obligato; a baritone solo by Alfred E. Holmes, of New York, and a duet by Miss Willis and Mr. Holmes. An Easter sermon was preached by the pastor, Rev. Charles Lyman Goodrich.

In the afternoon, an Easter lesson was studied by the Sunday-school. Two musical numbers, a quartette and a trio for soprano, contralto and tenor, were given by the choir, Miss M. G. Morse, soprano, Miss Julia M. Belknap, contralto, Morris C. VanAredale, tenor, and Stacy Raynolds, bass, with piano accompaniment by Walter Rayolds, musical director of the school. Bright carols were sung by the school, and a children's song, "Follow Me," was given by two little girls from the primary department, Aimee Winant and Netta Steiner. An offering was received for the church building fund.

AT MT. ZION A. M. E. CHURCH.

Special anthems at all the services were the features at the Mt. Zion A. M. E church. The attendances were very good and much interest was maifested.

WILSON MEMORIAL CHAPEL.

The Easter services at Wilson Memorial chapel, Watchung, in the evening, were preceded by a children's festival in the afternoon, which was addressed by Rev. L E Livermore.

A service of Easter songs was held in the evening and at the latter hour a regular Easter programme was rendered. Miss Grace D. Hildebrand, the nightingale of sacred song, rendered some pleasing solos, and Miss Mary A. Luckey gave a recitation. The sermon was preached by Rev. W. L. Jones.

ST. STEPHEN'S P. E. CHURCH.

Despite the inclement weather, the Easter services in St. Stephen's church were well attended. A goodly number assembled at 7:30 for the early celebration of Holy Communion, and at the 11 o'clock office a very satisfactory congregation was present. The rector, Rev. S. P. Simpson, preached on the power of the Lord in connection with the resurrection from the text, "Who will roll us away the stone from the door of the sepulchre?" The altar was beautifully and tastefully decorated with callas, annunciation lilies, tulips, hyacinths, etc., and with the altar lights ablaze, made a brilliant spectacle. The vested choir rendered the musical part of the service effectively.

For this rendition, much credit is due to the organist, Mrs. J. H. Buckley.

In the afternoon, the festival of the Sunday-school was held. The church was filled to its utmost capacity by the children and their teachers. Four Easter carols were sung and prizes given for the year. At the close of the service, each scholar received a sugar egg and an Easter card. The superintendent, S. S. Guion, had charge of the festival and proved himself most efficient.

PARK AVENUE BAPTIST CHURCH.

Three special Easter services were held at the Park Avenue Baptist church. An Easter sermon was preached in the morning, by Rev. John Wilbur Richardson, pastor of the church, and two anthems were rendered by the chorus choir.

Elaborate exercises were held by the Sunday-school in the afternoon. An address of welcome was delivered by Miss Lilliam Cuming, the primary department gave a number of pleasing exercises, under the direction of their superintendents, Miss Elmira C. Runyon and Miss Adelaide Runyon, and a quartette for women's voices was sung by Miss Ada M. Runyon, Miss Elsie R. Giles, Miss Adelia Runyon and Miss Florence G. Hawkins. A recitation was given by Miss Arline Brown, and a elaborate Easter exercise by David Smalley, Walter Van Winkle, Irving Van Winkle, Autumn De Laney, Arline Brown, Grace Weeks, Bernice Spentzel, Lillian Cuming, Susie Whitney, Mildred Odam, Mary Leveridge, Amy Conant, Annie Clark, Martin Stutzman, John Swentzel, Arthur Whitney, Alice Brown, and Alice Stutzman.

A recitation and song, was given by Miss Cora Brokaw and a chorus of fifteen voices, the singers being behind the scenes. A descriptive exercise for five young women, Miss Emily Runyon, Miss Lillian Richardson, Miss Elsie Giles, Miss Elizabeth VanWinkle and Miss Bessie Giles, followed; and the closing number of the afternoon was another exercise, including recitations and songs, which was given by Miss Ethel Marsh, Miss Florence Cuming, Miss Nellie Giles, Miss Marion Hall, Miss Lillian Frey, Miss Violet VanWinkle, Miss Edna Randolph, Miss May Kelley and Miss Violet Hillyer.

At the evening service the subject of the sermon was "Girded and Ready." Two Easter anthems were sung by the choir. At the conclusion of the sermon, two candidates were immersed.

The floral decorations of the church consisted of palms, Easter lilies, marguerites, hyacinths and other potted plants.

ST. PETER'S E. L. CHURCH.

St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran congregation gave recognition to the day by appropriate services.

In the morning Easter carols were sung by the members in their mother tongue and an able sermon was preached in the same language by the the pastor, Rev. William Trebert.

Easter carols were sung by the Sunday-school pupils at special exercises of the school held at 9:30 o'clock in the morning.

The regular church services, in the English language, were held in the evening.

BETHEL CHAPEL.

The pupils of the Sunday school took an active part in the service at Bethel chapel last evening. They sang a number of special anthems while several recitations were given. At the other services there was no eepecial celebration.

RULES THE NURSERY

Prince Edward, Heir Presumptive to Britain's Throne.

The Lusty Little Boy Who Stands a Very Good Chance of Being King of England Before He Is an Old Man.

Although he is in complete ignorance of the fact, little Prince Edward of York is the most important juvenile in Europe. On the death of Queen Victoria he succeeded to his father's title of heir presumptive to the throne of Great Britain and Ireland. As soon as the title of prince of Wales is bestowed on the duke of Cornwall and York, young Edward will become duke of York, earl of Inverness and Baron Killarney, and parliament will be asked to provide him with an income sufficiently large to keep up the dignity of his position. It is not likely that he will soon be informed of his new rank, nor will his allowance of pocket money be increased. He will have to be addressed as "royal highness" and will be shown to the people on certain public occasions, but the significance of this will hardly be impressed on his mind for some time to come.

When the new king and queen made their first appearance in London Edward rode in the carriage with them and was enthusiastically greeted by the crowds. He smilingly saluted from side to side and enjoyed himself hugely, but he did not dream that he was being hailed as a future king. Neither did he understand why he was so conspicuously placed at the funeral services at St. George's chapel. He stood next to the queen and held tightly to her hand during the solemn ceremonies. When it was over he remarked fervently: "Wasn't it lovely, granny, dear! Poor daddy! What a pity he was ill and couldn't come!"

The real importance of the little prince's position lies in the probability of his succession to the throne before he reaches his majority. King Edward is 60 years old and his habits are not such as to assure him a very long life. No one imagines that he will last beyond 70. The duke of Cornwall and York has never been robust, and of late his delicate health has caused considerable anxiety. He was not able to attend the late queen's funeral, nor was he present at the opening of parliament. He lives very quietly and has never been strong enough to take much interest in racing or outdoor sports, his father's favorite diversions. It would surprise no one in the kingdom if he died before Edward VII. So England may yet see another youthful monarch on the throne.

PRINCE EDWARD OF YORK.
(Boy Who Stands a Good Chance of Being King of England.)

Fortunately, Prince Edward is an unusually bright and attractive child, very healthy, and large for his age. He is a born leader, and dominates the York nursery just as far as he is permitted. There are four children in the family, only one of whom is a girl. They are all pretty lively youngsters, having inherited the ruddy health of their mother, "Princess May," as she is still affectionately called. She is a most devoted mother, and deplores the necessity of leaving her children at home while she and her husband are making their state visit to the colonies. They have been left in charge of Mme. Bricka, an old and very intimate friend of the duchess and her family, the Tecks. In addition, they will have the grandmotherly care of Queen Alexandra, who is devoted to them all, especially Prince Edward.

Unique Cure for Toothache.

A novel cure for the toothache was inadvertently applied by Dr. Parmertier, at Tremont, N. Y. A man, suffering from a raging tooth, called at the dentist's house at night, forgot to ring the bell, found the outer door open, entered the hall, unintentionally stepped on a burglar alarm, and thus brought the dentist to the dark hall with a pistol in his hand. The dentist threatened to shoot, and the visitor was so terrified that the ache departed from his chattering teeth.

Texas' Big State House.

The Texas capitol is the largest state building in the United States, and the seventh in size among the buildings of the world. It is a vast Greek cross of red Texas granite, with a central rotunda covered by a dome 311 feet high. It was begun in 1881 and finished in 1888, having cost about $3,500,000. It was paid for with 3,000,000 acres of public land, deeded to the capitalists who executed the work.

Change in British Coins.

Among the odd changes brought about by the succession of King Edward VII. is that while Victoria's face on British gold coins looked to the left King Edward's looks to the right. This is in accordance with a long-established custom that makes each successive sovereign face the opposite way on the coins from his or her predecessor.

Where Was the Swindle?

"Ethel," said Lionel Bertram Jones, as he dropped his slice of bread in the plate with a noise that set the canary in the gilt cage overhead chirping merrily. "Ethel, I have something to say to you."

They had been married only four weeks, and the time had not arrived when she did all the saying. "Do you remember the day on which I proposed to you?"

"Yes," she replied, "I will never forget it."

"Do you remember," he went on, as he abstractedly drilled a hole in the loaf with the point of a carving-knife, "how, when I rang the bell, you came to the door with your fingers sticky with dough, and said you thought it was your little brother who wanted to get in?"

"Yes."

"Oh, Ethel! How could yo? How could you?"

"How could I what?" she responded, as a guilty look crept into her face.

"How could you make me the victim of such a swindle?"—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Raising Violets.

Many worn-out farms in Virginia have of late been utilized for the growing of violets. The industry is spreading rapidly, and some of the most successful growers are women. They employ small negro boys to carry on the work, which is not laborious. The greater part of the yield is taken by Philadelphia dealers. The great violet-growing center, however, according to Dr. B. T. Galloway, of the department of agriculture, is Poughkeepsie, N. Y. All violets from this district find a ready market in New York city, the flowers generally bringing the raisers not less than a cent each. The average yield of a single plant is 50 flowers a year, and with good care a hundred may be obtained. In the Virginia violet farms, after the young offshoots have been transplanted into open frames, rolling wooden screens are used on the top of the frames to regulate the amount of sunshine which shall be admitted to the plants.—Youth's Companion.

Peculiar Presents.

Two elephants were once offered to King Edward, and not long ago two fine Bengal tigers arrived at Sandringham. "I have accommodations at Sandringham," he said, "for horses, cows, dogs, cats, mice and even rats, but I must draw the line at tigers." The German crown prince received a fine steak from a society of butchers on his eighteenth birthday recently, which reminds us that Bismarck once received a lump of coal from some miners. But the record in gifts belongs to a speaker of the house of commons (Mr. Brand), who received an old pair of trousers, carriage paid.—St. James Gazette.

Did Better Than They.

In Brooklyn there is a certain clergyman of Irish birth, but who has lived so long in this country as to be to all intents and purposes an American. His own view of the matter he expressed at a church dinner the other night when he responded to the toast of good fellowship.

"I'm a good American," he declared, gravely. "I'm even a better one than any of you native-born. I had a suit of clothes when I came into this country, and you didn't even bring that much."—N. Y. Telegram.

FINAL FORMAL DANCE OF THE SOCIETY SET.

Last Assembly Marked Resumption of Social Activity After the Lenten Season.

THE CASINO WAS THRONGED.

IN ADDITION TO SUBSCRIBERS MANY WERE OUT-OF-TOWN GUESTS.

Closing Dance of the Series Was a Great Success—Decorations Were Red and Green—The Guests and the Subscribers.

Plainfield society emerged from its Lenten seclusion last evening and joined in the Assembly at the Casino. It was the third and final dance of the series to which the smart set has lent its approval by an unanimity of presence, and the affair was a marked achievement in the story of the vast category of Plainfield's brilliant social functions.

The ranks of this city's society folk were augmented by the attendance of a considerable number of whose holding a commanding position on the ladder of social life in other centres. Fully one hundred and sixty of those having entree to exclusive circles were present and the magnificence of the affair equalled, if not surpassed, the grandeur of the two previous formal dances.

The decorations in green and red were exceedingly tasteful. The electric lights as well as the candelbra supporting them were veiled in red and the light shone with a pretty effect on the handsome gowns of the young women. The rhythm of the dances was remarkably aided by the well rendered music of Thomas Austin's celebrated Brooklyn orchestra, which consisted of four stringed and three bass instruments together with a piano.

Much of the credit for the undoubted success of the affair is due to Lewis E Waring, who, as treasurer of the Assemblies, has been in practical charge of these dances this season and has met with remarkable success in his efforts.

Owing to death in the family some of those conspicuous in local society necessarily absented themselves from the dance, but the presence of a few additional guests to the culminating dance prevented any show of decreased numbers.

At 11:30 o'clock an intermission was had for supper which was served under the supervision of Steward Ivany, of the Casino.

Those receiving were: Mrs. Charles J. Fisk, Mrs. Frederick G. Mead, Mrs. Charles E Brooks and Mrs. O T. Waring.

Among the out of-town guests were the Misses Broadhead, Lacey and Anna Biker, of New York; Bishop, of Bridgeport; Keyes and Kellogg, of Elizabeth; Mary S. Denniston, of State College, Pa, and Katherine DePaw, of New Albany, Indiana. Mrs. Ryman, of New York and Mrs. Henry Keyes, of Elizabeth. Hastings Arnold, Walter Underhill, Sidney L. Smith, John Nix, Edward Morris, Mason Townsend and Mr. Black, all of New York and A. H. Ahrens, Baltimore, Ralph Bloomer, Cincinnati, and Charles Baldwin, of Hawaii

The guests from this city were the Misses Saidee Mae Howell, Pearson, Haddock, Dorothea Wells, and Rosabel Schroeder W. Kirby Dwight, Charles Turrill, Walter L Glenney, Harry Munger, Everitt J Peck, C. Westley Abbott and Irving Clark.

The patronesses of the Assemblies are Mrs Charles A. Brooks, Mrs. M. E Edgerton, Mrs. Charles J. Fisk, Mrs. Frederick G Mead, Mrs. J Kirtland Myers, Mrs Charles W. McCutchen, Mrs. Harry G. Runkle, Mrs. S L Schoonmaker and Mrs. Henry P. Talmage.

COMMUTERS' CLUB WILL NOT GIVE UP CARS.

MEETING HELD LAST NIGHT.

OFFICERS OF THE CLUB ELECTED AT THE MEETING.

Most of the Members Were in Favor of Continuing the Cars Under the Best Terms Possible—No Talk of Giving Up the Cars.

The members of the Commuters' Club, who ride between Plainfield and Jersey City in the club cars Evona and Netherwood, met last evening at the Casino to discuss and consider the recent proposition made by the Jersey Central Railroad Company to the club, wherein the company demanded that a certain number of passengers ride in the club cars or else pay an increased amount of money.

There were about forty members of the club present and a lively time was expected. President B. O. Bowers occupied the chair and secretary, Lewis G. Timpson, officiated in his capacity. There were only a very few members who expressed any opinion regarding the matter, and they favored any plan whereby the trouble might easily be settled to the best interests of all concerned. The majority were in favor of meeting the company half way and paying difference demanded to retain the use of the cars. They all thought the club cars a good thing and inasmuch as they are a luxury not out of their means, they favored to a large degree their maintenance.

It was finally agreed that the trouble should be referred to the Board of Governors of the club, who will meet the officials of the company with a view to coming to terms that can be agreed to by both sides.

The following officers were elected: President, B O. Bowers; vice president, Townsend Rushmore; treasurer, Joseph B. Yerkes; secretary, Lewis G. Timpson; complaint committee, J. P. Northrop, Alfred H. F. Streuli and W. L. Saunders. These officers will compose the Board of Governors to whom the matter was referred.

ENTERTAINED AT DINNER.

Party of Young People Were Then Chaperoned by Mrs. S. St. J McCutchen.

Mrs. Charles W. McCutchen and Mrs. S.St. John McCutchen, of Washington Park, entertained a few friends at dinner last evening, after which Mrs. S. St. John McCutchen chaperoned the party at the Assembly given in the Casino. The guests included Miss Marion Keyes and Herbert Keyes, of Elizabeth; Miss Helen Broadhead, of Smith College; Miss Margaret McCutchen, Miss Dorothea Wells, of Washington Park; J. Hervey Simpson and Hervey Studdiford, of New York; Henry Wells, of Washington Park.

Annual Parish Meeting.

The annual parish meeting will be held at the First Baptist church this evening, when there will be a report of the financial standing of the church.

FARM HAND WANTED FOR FORGING CHECKS

Eugene Hebert, a Highly Educated Farm Hand, Has Disappeared From Bound Brook.

POLICE WANT HIM NOW.

NUMBER OF CHECKS MADE PAYABLE TO HEBERT DECLARED FORGERIES.

Were Signed With Name of L V. D Shepherd, Hebert's Employer—Clothing Is Missing From The House—Checks Pronounced Forgeries.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Bound Brook, April 9—A number of the business men of this town have within the last few days been victimized by cashing forged checks for a farm hand named Eugene Hebert.

Until last Wednesday Hebert was employed by L V. D Shepherd, whose farm lies about a mile north of Bound Brook. On that day he told Mr. Shepherd that he intended making a visit for a couple of days, and asked for the wages due him, which amounted to about $6. Upon receiving this sum, he left the place.

When he did not return either Friday or Saturday, a search of his room was made and it was found that he had removed all of his clothing and other belongings. Further search revealed, it is said, the fact that he had also taken with him a quantity of fine clothing belonging to the male members of the household which had been laid away during the winter.

This was thought to have been the extent of the depredations until this morning, when within a half hour three checks were presented at the First National Bank, of this place, for amounts varying from $9 to $15, and which were purported to have been signed by Mr. Shepherd. They were all returned to the holders as forgeries by the bank people. All were made payable to Hebert, and by him endorsed over to the merchants victimized. The forgeries were good imitations, and appear to have been negotiated in a way that would indicate that this was not the work of a novice.

It is now thought by the Bound Brook authorities that he is a professional crook, and that his working as a farmhand was a means he used to avoid arrest for some previous crime. He was well educated, and very handy about any work he was given to do. He only received $8 a month, and when his employer suggested that he might desire to go elsewhere, he replied that he was well satisfied. More of the forgeries are thought to be out, as there is some disparity between the numbers on the checks presented. A warrant will be issued for Hebert's arrest.

WEDDING ANNCUNCED.

Miss Mary M. Williams and Thomas Toney Quietly Married in New York.

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Mary Magdalene Williams and Thomas Toney, both of this city, which took place a short time ago at the home of Rev. J. M. Henderson, of Vanderbilt avenue, Brooklyn. The latter is pastor of Bethel church on West Twenty fifth street, New York. In addition to the contracting parties, the only witness to the ceremony was Miss Henderson, of Brooklyn, who acted as bridemaid. The young couple have since returned to this city where they have taken up their residence. Both are well known and popular among a large circle of acquaintances.

Dinner Party by Miss Howell.

Miss Saidee Mae Howell, of Myrtle avenue, gave a small dinner party last evening in honor of Miss Conklin, of Brooklyn; John Nix and W. Kirby Dwight, of New York, after which they attended the Assembly at the Casino.

SOMERVILLE MADE NEW CONTRACT FOR WATER

Accepted Reduced Rates of Somerset Water Company by Vote of Four to Two.

TURNED DOWN NEW CO.

REFUSED TO ALLOW H. J. SUBERS TO LAY WATER PIPES IN STREETS.

Commissioner Houston Fought The Granting of The Contract on Ground That It Was Such Action—Will Compell Trolley Co. to Obey Ordinance.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, April 9—At a meeting of the Board of Commissioners held last night the application of Horace J. Subers to lay water pipes through the town and furnish water, was refused.

A communication was read from the Somerville Water Company, offering to furnish water for fifty fire hydrants at $15 a year each. The Board now pays $25 a year for fifteen hydrants, so that the saving to the town will be $375 a year and they get five more hydrants. A motion was passed, four to two, that a contract be entered into with the Water Company for five years at these terms. This was vigorously opposed by Commissioner Houston, who said that he did not believe in taking snap action, or in binding future Boards. He desired the matter be laid over until the new Board was elected next month.

Permission was granted the Somerset Hospital to use the public sewer free of charge.

A committee from Central Hook and Ladder Company stated that the company intended purchasing a lot on Division street, adjoining the Schwed building, and erecting a building costing in the neighborhood of $6,000, which they proposed to erect and maintain themselves. They asked the Board for an appropriation of $300 a year, which was granted.

The trolley committee reported that the Traction Company was not living up to its franchise, requiring the company to run cars half-hourly to midnight and to use the latest approved guard wires. The cars only run hourly after 9 o'clock and no guard wires are used whatever.

The counsel of the board was instructed to take the proper legal steps to enforce the trolley ordinance and to report at next meeting.

The election for commissioners takes place on May 6. President Bergen, who has served a good many years, does not desire a re-election. It is said that the trolley company will make an effort to elect a Board favorable to their interests; but they will not do it if the people find out who are being pushed by the trolley company.

INFORMAL DINNER.

Given Prior to the Assembly by Mr. and Mrs. H. A. McGee, of Orchard Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. McGee, of Orchard avenue, gave an informal dinner party last evening to a few friends prior to the Assembly. The table decorations were pink. The affair was a delightful one and those present were Miss Helen Bishop and Stiles Goodsell, of Bridgeport, Conn.; Miss Bertha Kellogg, of Elizabeth; Mr. and Mrs. Clifford McGee, Fred W. Goddard and Harry L McGee, of this city. After the dinner the guests attended the Assembly at the Casino.

Former Plainfielder Said to Have Eloped.

According to a story in the New Brunswick Home News, Mrs. Mary Sofield, wife of Edgar Sofield, formerly of this city, but now of Perth Amboy, has eloped with Nelse Johnson, of Perth Amboy. It is said that they have gone to Colorado. Mrs. Sofield was formerly Miss Stites, of the borough, and her husband lived in this city for many years She leaves behind a four-year-old son, her only child.

Maggie Benford Too Ill to Appear.

The hearing set for yesterday in the City Court in the matter of the assault charge preferred against Mrs. Louise Miller by Mrs. Maggie Benford has been postponed for a week. The physicians attending Mrs. Benford have advised the police department that the Benford woman is in too serious a condition to attend a hearing at present.

Will Begin Widening at Once.

Work on the widening of Somerset street will be commenced immediately as ordered by the meeting of the Borough Council Friday evening. The borough surveyors are expected to begin placing the necessary stakes to mark the lines of the improvement tomorrow.

PRIZE WALTZ.

Chief Feature of Successful Ball Given by First Ward Social Club Last Evening.

The First Ward Social Club held a dance in Saengerbund Hall on Somerset street, last night.

Over one hundred couples joined in the opening grand march early in the evening. A prize of a $5 gold piece for the best waltzers was won by Thomas McInerney and Miss Mercier. Supper was served during the evening.

The principal feature of the affair was the music furnished by Professor Heinemeyer's orchestra of Elizabeth. The committee on arrangements consisted of C. J. Newman, Wm. G. Feaster, J. J. Corey and T. J. Muldowney.

PLANS OF PARK GOLF CLUB.

WILL OPEN FOR THE SEASON SATURDAY, APRIL 20.

Professional Glover is Putting the Course in Fine Condition—Committees Are Appointed.

Very bright are the prospects for the coming season at the Park Golf Club. The course will be opened for play Saturday, April 20. It is already in good condition and will be in fine shape by the time it is ready to open. Glover, the new professional, is on hand and has begun the superintending of the work of putting the course in order.

President Charles W. McCutchen has announced the committees as follows: Green committee, George T. Rogers, chairman, S. St. John McCutchen and William J. Buttfield; golf committee, Charles A Reed, chairman, Samuel Townsend, S. St. John McCutchen and Fred Taylor; house committee, Augustus VanDeventer, chairman, Henry A. McGee, Mrs Charles A. Reed and Charles L Nichols.

No plans have yet been made as to the various competitions for the summer. The golf committee will hold a meeting in a few days when plans for the season will be made. A ball sweepstakes will probably be the event on the afternoon of the opening day.

WARREN CHAPEL'S ADDITIONS.

Eleven Members Received by Letter and Thirty by Confession of Faith.

The Warren chapel fold was increased by the addition of forty-one new members admitted at the Easter morning service Sunday.

MAHLON VAIL HAS ENDED HIS CAREER.

Old Resident Passed Away at His Home on Park Avenue Yesterday Afternoon.

EIGHTY-SEVEN YEARS OLD.

INTERESTING CAREER OF ONE OF PLAINFIELD'S OLDEST CITIZENS.

Was Born on Cedar Brook Farm—A Republican But Ardent Tariff Reformer—Active Worker in Grace P. E. Church—Three Children.

Mahlon Vail, one of Plainfield's oldest citizens, passed away at his home on Park avenue, near Avon Park, yesterday afternoon. A slight cold contracted three weeks ago rapidly developed pneumonia and it was this that caused his death. Although to all outward appearances vigorous and gifted with a strong physique, his advanced age was in a measure responsible for the fatal termination of the illness. His family of two sons and one daughter were present at the end.

Mahlon Vail was a life-long resident of Plainfield, having been born Cedar Brook farm, the present residence of James E. Martine, in 1813. He lived for many years in what was then the Vail homestead on East Front street, but which is now occupied by Mrs. Lawrence Myers. He afterwards owned and lived on the plot where J. T. Closson's beautiful residence now stands.

When still but a young man he engaged in the bakery business on a large scale in Nova Scotia, making a specialty of supplying sea faring men with ship biscuits. He was also largely interested in the development of the Nova Scotia coal fields but this proved an unprofitable investment. Although these enterprises occupied the greater part of his time, he devoted considerable attention to the development of real estate in this city and New Market. At the latter place much of the property which he improved was afterward bought up by the Lehigh Valley Railroad, netting him a handsome profit.

In personality, Mr. Vail was a man of determined character and wide information, gained by his taste for reading. He sanctioned the Republican party in politics but was a most radical tariff reformer and a great believer in Grover Cleveland's principles. He was the author of many tariff articles which appeared not only in the local press but also in the columns of the New York Post. In the formation of the Grace P. E. church, he was one of the prime movers and was always one of its staunchest supporters. The first building was erected on a lot donated jointly by him and his brother, Hugh Vail, who died a few years ago. It is now standing on East Fifth street where it was afterward removed.

During his entire lifetime he enjoyed the best of health and was universally noted for his exceptional vigor. Up to the time his illness began he could clamber in or out of a wagon with the agility of a schoolboy.

Mr. Vail is survived by one daughter, Miss Agnes Vail, who lived with him, and two sons, Walter and Ned. Both of the latter are engaged in the cattle business in the west, but Walter resides in Los Angeles, Cal., and Ned in Arizona. Both of them arrived in Plainfield last week for the purpose of making a visit and it was only then that they learned of their father's illness and were enabled to be at his bedside when the end came. Mr. Vail's wife died a few years ago.

The funeral services will be held from Grace P. E. church Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Change in Choirmaster.

A. D. R. Brown, who has been choirmaster at the Church of the Holy Cross since October has resigned to accept a similar position at Grace church, Whitestone, Long Island. Mr. Neidlinger, formerly assistant choirmaster at St. Michael's church, New York, will temporarily be in charge of the Holy Cross choir.

Arrested for Drunkenness.

William Larson and Patrick Meehan were arrested for drunkenness and disorderly conduct at Third street and Madison avenue by Patrolmen Overbaugh and Saffron this morning and lodged in the police headquarters.

BEYOND DOUBT.

These Facts Must Convince Every Plainfield Reader.

That which follows is the experience of a resident of Plainfield. Incredulity cannot exist about the statement because it can easily be investigated.

Mrs. I. L. Holmes, of 442 West Second street, says: "I used several boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills for backache and derived more benefit from them than from anything else. Before I tried this remedy I was bothered almost constantly with a severe pain across the small of my back, so bad at times that I thought I must give up. If I sat down and got up or was lying down and attempted to rise quickly or retained one position for any length of time, sharp, acute pain always followed. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised for such troubles and went to L. W. Randolph's drug store and got a box. They helped me from the first and I improved right along under the treatment."

THEATER AND HOTEL BURNED.

The Russell Block In Ottawa Destroyed—Loss $100,000.

OTTAWA, April 9.—The Russell theater, one of the finest playhouses in Canada, was destroyed, and the Russell House, one of the principal hotels in this city, badly damaged by fire at an early hour this morning before the firemen succeeded in gaining control over the flames. These buildings, with two others, occupied the block bounded by Queen, Elgin, Canal and Sparks streets. The total loss is estimated at $100,000.

The fire spread from the theater to the hotel with great rapidity and forced some of the 200 guests to make their escape in their night clothing. To add to the confusion the electric light wires were cut, leaving the hotel in total darkness. All the guests escaped, however, without injury.

"The Belle of New York" opera company played in the theater last night, and what scenery and costumes had been left in the building were lost. The company leaves the city this morning, and some of their effects had been removed to the depot.

Besides the hotel and the theater, the block contained the office of The Free Press, and another portion of it was occupied with offices. The loss on these is small.

Milk War Still On.

BOSTON, April 9.—The contest over the price of milk which began between the farmers or producers and the Boston wholesalers or contractors last Monday entered upon its second week, with the farmers actively engaged in fortifying themselves and rallying to their support every person who has milk to be disposed of. The contractors, having secured a supply of milk from New York to make up the shortage created by New England producers, were confident of their ability to continue the fight. The main efforts of the producers now seem to be directed to gaining the support of all members of the national grange. National Lecturer N. J. Batchelder of Concord, N. H., yesterday issued a second proclamation urging grange members to support the farmers, and Grand Master Jewett of the Massachusetts grange will issue a call in this state. The masters of the granges in Maine and New York next will be called into line, and it is thought the supply of milk now coming from New York will be shut off.

King Christian's Birthday.

COPENHAGEN, April 9.—The eighty-third birthday of King Christian was celebrated yesterday everywhere in Denmark. The king is in quite good health and received the congratulations of officials, diplomats and other dignitaries. The streets of the city were crowded, and in the square fronting the Amalienborg palace several thousand people constantly cheered the king, who in response appeared upon the balcony with his daughters. At the banquet given last night at the crown prince's palace the crown prince, Prince Frederick, toasted the king, his father. Queen Alexandra and Dowager Empress Marie of Russia, who have been attending the celebration, leave here today. Queen Alexandra will go to Cronberg for a few days and will thence return home.

Stretching Wires For New Bridge.

NEW YORK, April 9.—The first move to stretch the wires on the new East river bridge connecting New York and Brooklyn was made today at noon when the lighter aboard which were three reels of wire rope was towed from its anchorage at the New York tower to the Brooklyn side of the bridge. The rope thus played out will lie at the bottom of the river. Traffic was stopped for a little more than 15 minutes. Thursday between 1:30 and 2:30 p. m. one of the three ropes on the float will be pulled up to the top of the tower. From there it is to be pulled taut, and the first wire for the new bridge will hang between the two towers. If this operation is successful, it will be repeated Friday for the second rope and Saturday for the third.

The Syracuse Accident.

SYRACUSE, April 9.—The state engineers who have been investigating the James street canal bridge disaster in this city Saturday evening have about come to the conclusion that the accident was caused by blow holes in the iron of the center truss. Some further investigation will be made before a formal report is rendered. Work on a temporary structure for the traffic of the street was commenced this morning. Of the 40 victims of the accident all but three are out of danger.

TAFT FOR GOVERNOR

Head of Philippine Commission First Island Ruler.

CHANGE TO TAKE EFFECT JULY 1.

Some Speculation as to the General Supervision of Insular Affairs at Washington Under the New Regime.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The news from Manila regarding the establishment of civil government is in accord with information already made public here that the new Philippine government will be established about July 1. Immediately upon the passage of the army appropriation bill the entire Spooner amendment was cabled to the Taft comission, and the commission was directed to prepare a plan for the government of the islands in accordance with the law. This plan has not yet been completed, but it is expected to be about the time of the return of the commission to Manila, and it will be cabled here for approval or amendment. The civil government proposed will not be very elaborate, but sufficient to meet the present requirements.

One of the most interesting features is the question as to who will be in supreme authority under the president. The law says that "all military, civil and judicial powers necessary to govern the Philippine Islands shall be vested in such person and persons as the president shall direct." The language has been weighed very carefully, and the designation "person" followed by "persons" is taken to mean that the president shall name some one to have supreme command under his own direction and that the persons shall be those acting under that command. Judge Taft, it is understood, is to be the governor of the islands, but it will be necessary to have some one in Washington to act as the medium of communication between the president and the governor. There will be a great deal of business with which the president cannot burden himself, and some cabinet officers will be selected to have charge of the Philippines as well as other insular affairs.

Authority of the islands probably will be exercised by the president through Secretary Root, as the secretary already is familiar with the government of the islands. More than this, the law specifically asserts that the military as well as civil and judicial powers shall be exercised in the islands, and it is not believed feasible to divide the responsibility, as for many years to come there must be joint and harmonious action by the civil and military authorities.

The fact that the actual control of the islands will remain in the war department does not mean that Governor Taft will have his power curtailed. Necessarily the president will remain the court of last resort for everything relating to the islands, but the governor and his council will exercise the broadest authority and much that heretofore has been submitted to Washington for determination by the military governor general and the Taft commission is expected to be settled by the governor, council and the legislative assembly, should one be thought necessary. The general belief expressed here is that the governor and council will be about all the government necessary.

Baltimore Drug House Burned.

BALTIMORE, April 9.—The wholesale drug house of Gilpin, Langdon & Co., on the corner of Light and Lombard streets, was totally destroyed by fire, together with its contents, yesterday afternoon. The roof of the machinery establishment of Thomas Bashor & Co. was also burned and the contents of the latter building badly damaged by water. Several women employed in the top floors of the drug house were taken out on fire escapes, and there were several severe explosions of drugs, but no casualties have been reported. The losses probably will reach $200,000.

Sunk in the Hudson.

KINGSTON, N. Y., April 9.—The little passenger steamer Glen Erie while on its way from Rondout to East Kingston yesterday was sunk in collision with the steamer John McCausland. Twelve of the Glen Erie's passengers and three of her crew had a narrow escape from drowning. At the mouth of Rondout creek the McCausland tried to cross the bows of the Glen Erie, and the collision ensued. The Glen Erie had an immense hole torn in her forward port side, opening up her hold and permitting the water to flood the entire boat.

A Pan-American Holiday.

BUFFALO, April 9.—Mayor Diehl has sent a communication to the common council recommending that the first day of May, the date upon which the Pan-American exposition will be opened, be declared a civic holiday and that all schools and public buildings be closed. The mayor also recommends that all employers of labor be requested to suspend business for the day in order that they and their employees may be able to participate in the opening of the exposition.

Killed on a Railway Bridge.

COATESVILLE, Pa., April 9.—Two young men were struck and killed by the main line express on the Pennsylvania railroad as they were crossing over the high bridge which spans Brandywine creek. They were thrown a distance of 90 feet to the ground below. They are supposed to have been Hebrew peddlers, as Russian passports made out in the name of Sussman were found on their persons.

Last Rivets in the Constitution.

BRISTOL, R. I., April 9.—The last of the rivets on the top side plates of the cup defender Constitution were headed up yesterday in the Hereshoff shops. This practically concludes the work of riveting on the new racer. A large force of workmen are now engaged all over the hull in smoothing up the rivet heads with files and other implements, making fair progress.

Wife's Death Followed Husband's.

GENEVA, N. Y., April 9.—Mrs. Marcus Ansley died at Castleton Saturday, aged 43 years. Thirty-five hours afterward her husband died here at the age of 50, without knowing of his wife's death. A double funeral will be held Friday.

Cecil Rhodes Well.

LONDON, April 9.—The Cape Town correspondent of The Daily Mail wires that Mr. Cecil Rhodes, who is at Kimberley, is now in good health, having recovered from a recent slight indisposition.

TAXPAYERS PROTEST

Proposed $26,000,000 Canal Expenditure Opposed.

ADVOCATES OF THE BILL ARRAIGNED

Measure Brought Before the Legislature by Illegal and Unjust Means—Opponents Desire to Be Heard.

ALBANY, April 9.—A protest against the proposed expenditure of $26,000,000 for canal improvement work was submitted last night to the senate and assembly. It was signed by Elliot B. Morris, master of the New York state grange, Patrons of Husbandry; James Ward, president of the New York state farmers' congress, and John I. Platt, secretary of the New York State Tax and Transportation Reform association. The protest is as follows:

"The undersigned, representing important organizations of the farmers and taxpayers of the state, respectfully remonstrate against the proposed bill for the expenditure of $26,000,000 in the enlargement of the canals without first affording an adequate and proper hearing to those who believe that such action will be unwise and detrimental to the interests of the state and especially to its agricultural interests.

"We respectfully represent that during the last three years the advocates of canal enlargement have practically used the official power of the state to create public sentiment in favor of the expenditure. The commission appointed by Governor Roosevelt, after expending several thousand dollars, taken from the treasury, brought in a report consisting exclusively of arguments upon that side which, we regret to be compelled to say, were based upon statements and figures which after consideration were shown to be absolutely false. The tables contained in that report are so erroneous that they are entirely unreliable, and the conclusion based upon them is misleading and untrue. The last legislature appropriated $200,000 for a continuance of the same process. The advocates of canal enlargement have had the ear of the state government, and the representatives have been paid out of the state treasury. On the other hand, there is a very large and respectable body of citizens who believe that further money spent upon the canals will be utterly wasted and who have had no hearing at all. We claim that these parties which we in part represent are entitled to be heard.

"We further call your attention to the unjust and, as we believe, illegal manner in which this bill has been brought before your honorable body. The act of last year authorizing further surveys directed the state engineer to report the result of his action to the governor before Jan. 1. The governor was directed to transmit the same to the legislature on or before Jan. 15. The purpose of these conditions was evidently to afford all parties full knowledge of the conclusions reached and an opportunity for full and fair discussion of the propositions based upon them. Instead of obeying this mandate the final report of the state engineer was not made until Feb. 20 and was not transmitted until March 15. The bill itself was introduced on Thursday last. It is printed and on your file for the first time today.

"We therefore respectfully ask the honorable senate to make such order as shall refer this bill to a committee with directions to grant a sufficient hearing to all parties interested in and affected by it. And we respectfully ask the honorable assembly to take such notice of the conditions hereinbefore named as will assure us an ample and unrestricted hearing before the committee to which it has already been referred."

Floods Subsiding.

BOSTON, April 9.—The flood scare all over New England, due to rising waters under the influence of nearly five days of rain, has flattened out, for late reports indicate that a change for the better has come. The losses will be heavy no doubt, but nothing to be compared with some of the freshets of recent springs. The reason is obvious to people in southern New England, for the early spring left the ground open for a good soaking, and this natural absorption of the rain is taking care of much of the water, while the great surplus of the overflow, being unimpeded by ice, is rushing seaward.

Canadian Floods.

MONTREAL, April 9.—The breaking up of the ice in the different rivers and streams in the province of Quebec is causing considerable trouble. The water in the St. Lawrence near here is rising rapidly and would surprise no one if a flood was caused. News from Richmond, Que., states that people have been called to go to upper stories of their houses. There was five feet of water in the streets there yesterday afternoon, and it is still rising. The water is about 30 feet above Sulmer level.

Morgan After Zinc Too.

ST. LOUIS, April 9.—The Post-Dispatch says John Arthur Rice, said to be a representative of J. P. Morgan, has left for the east, after a visit here, for the purpose, it is said, of furthering a deal involving the purchase by a syndicate said to be headed by Mr. Morgan of the entire output of spelter or pig zinc of the Missouri-Kansas district, which produces seven-eighths of the zinc in the entire country.

Congressmen Going to Manila.

WAPAKONETA, O., April 9.—Congressman R. B. Gordon of the Fourth Ohio district and other members of congress will visit Manila and the Philippines this summer. They will leave the first part of next month. Congressman Gordon says they desire to make a study of the actual conditions and thus be better able to handle Philippine matters in the next congress.

High Water at Ithaca.

ITHACA, N. Y., April 9.—Several of the cottages built near the water's edge on Cayuga lake have been carried off by the water, which has now reached a higher level than has been known in many years. Much other property is in danger, and the flats about Ithaca have been completely submerged by the water which has backed up from the lake.

Emperor Nicholas May Abdicate.

LONDON, April 9.—"The health of Emperor Nicholas has been shaken by the recent commotions," says the St. Petersburg correspondent of The Daily Express, "and he will probably abdicate if the next child of the empress should be a daughter."

SPANISH WAR CLAIMS.

Commission Meets In Washington to Hear Grievances.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The commisson appointed by the president under the act of congress approved March 2, 1901, to carry into effect the stipulations of article 7 of the treaty between the United States and Spain at the conclusion of the late war, met at the department of justice building. All of the members of the commission were present as follows:

William E. Chandler, president; Garrit J. Dickema, James Perry Wood, William A. Maury, William L. Chambers; also William E. Fuller, assistant attorney general; William E. Spear, clerk, and several attorneys who represent claims which they will present as soon as the commission announces its readiness to hear them.

President Chandler announced that the commission would be glad to hear anything the attorneys present might have to suggest as to matters pertaining to the work in hand.

The members of the commission, headed by Senator Chandler, later called upon the president in a body to pay their respects.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

Congressman Hull of Iowa started for the Philippines.

Fully 5,000 people witnessed the annual egg rolling on the White House grounds.

French detectives reported the discovery of a plot to assassinate President Loubet.

Students at Kharkov, Russia, engaged in riotous demonstrations. Many were arrested.

The condition of Rev. Frederick Farrar, dean of Canterbury, showed no improvement.

The Italian squadron arrived at Toulon. The Duke of Genoa visited the French vice admiral.

A Deathbed Marriage.

CINCINNATI, April 9.—Detective Fred Hayes of Chicago and Miss Jeanette Evans of Chicago were married here yesterday under peculiar circumstances. Miss Evans came here a week ago to prepare for the wedding at the residence of her sister in this city. She was taken suddenly ill with the grip, and it was thought she would die on Saturday. Hayes was notified and arrived Sunday. A marriage license was secured and the ceremony performed while Miss Evans was on her deathbed. The scene with the weeping family about the bed was very pathetic. Soon after the ceremony Miss Evans began sinking. The bride died at 1:30 p. m. The ceremony was performed at 6 a. m.

The North African Entente.

LONDON, April 9.—The Daily Chronicle publishes a dispatch from Tangier regarding a new Franco-Italian entente in north Africa. "This is likely to have great consequences," says the correspondent, "Italy ceasing her opposition to French designs in Morocco in return for permission to occupy Tripoli. It is suggested that Great Britain would welcome the creation of a friendly state between Tunis and Egypt. A big move is expected after M. Delcasse's interview with Count Lamsdorff in St. Petersburg."

Mrs. Taylor's Gift Accepted.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., April 9.—At a monster mass meeting held in the city opera house last night the citizens of Watertown enthusiastically accepted the offer of Mrs. Emma Flower-Taylor, daughter of former Governor Roswell P. Flower, to donate $50,000 for the erection of a public library to be known as the Roswell P. Flower Memorial library. The meeting was addressed by representative citizens whose eloquence knew no bounds in the words of praise for the donor.

General Young In Washington.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—General P. M. B. Young, who has just returned from the Philippines and who is to command the department of California, paid President McKinley a brief official visit yesterday. He also called at the war department. General Young did not discuss conditions in the Philippines with the president, but hastened to the bedside of his son-in-law, Major John T. Knight, who is seriously ill here.

Mrs. Nation to Sue For Hatchets.

TOPEKA, April 9.—Mrs. Carrie Nation says she will sue the city for some of her hatchets which are now in the possession of the police department. The hatchets were taken from her on the occasions of her several arrests during saloon smashing days. She made a demand on the chief of police for the hatchets, but was refused.

A Mexican Case Settled.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The Mexican embassador has received from the secretary of state a draft for $2,000 paid out of humane consideration and without reference to the question of liability as full indemnity to the heirs of Florentino Suaste, a Mexican citizen who was lynched in Lasalle county, Tex., in 1895.

Early Mackerel.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., April 9.—The fishermen in port yesterday threw up their hats on reading the posted telegram from Captain Jacobs of the schooner Helen Miller Gould that he had landed the first fresh mackerel of the season at Fort Monroe. The season is ten days earlier than last year.

Ohio Miners Strike.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., April 9.—The miners employed in the Salem Coal company's mines near here have struck because of a refusal of an advance of 5 per cent per ton. The miners at Cherry Valley, Grafton and Leetonia are also out. Five hundred men are affected.

Ticket Brokers Close Up.

PITTSBURG, April 9.—The ticket brokers of this city are all closed as a result of a decision of the supreme court declaring constitutional the law prohibiting the sale of tickets by any one not authorized agents of railroad companies.

Flour Mill Burned.

OGDENSBURG, N. Y., April 9.—The Proctor flouring mill at Waddington, operated by Michael O'Brien, has been burned; mill loss, $10,000; operator's loss, $3,000; both partially insured. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Smallpox In Kansas City.

KANSAS CITY, April 9.—Ten new cases of smallpox were reported yesterday. There are now nearly 100 patients in the pesthouse. Of the 915 cases since the outbreak of the epidemic only four have died.

PORTO RICAN AFFAIRS.

Governor Allen at the War Office—He Will Return.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Governor Allen of Porto Rico yesterday had a long conference with Secretary Root. The secretary was greatly interested in the details of the organization of the new Porto Rican regiment which will be recruited from natives of the island. The governor made arrangements for exchanging the arms of the insular police of Porto Rico. This numbers 600 men and proved very serviceable in ridding the outlying districts of bandits. They have been given jurisdiction recently over towns having less than 6,000 inhabitants. They are armed with old fashioned Springfields, but by the arrangement made yesterday these will be exchanged for the latest pattern of breechloading carbines.

It is probable that Governor Allen will go back to Porto Rico aboard the Mayflower. It was the intention of the navy department to put this vessel out of commission for a thorough overhauling, but it is realized that the governor must have a suitable ship at San Juan, and the Mayflower is best suited for the service desired.

THE MANIFESTO LINGERS.

Aguinaldo Busy Buying Jewelry. Filipinos Jealous.

MANILA, April 9.—General MacArthur says it is impossible to make a statement concerning Aguinaldo now.

Aguinaldo is purchasing diamonds and other jewelry. He continues to receive certain visitors, but newspaper correspondents are excluded.

It is said that the manifesto which Aguinaldo has been preparing has not yet been signed. The majority of the Filipinos in Manila distrust Aguinaldo and do not like to see him accorded special favors. They say he ought to be severely punished.

The Ann Arbor Scare.

DETROIT, April 9.—A special to The Tribune from Ann Arbor, Mich., says that the university authorities refuse to make known the name of the student in the university hospital with the mysterious disease supposed to be bubonic plague, but it is learned from a medical student that the young man's name is Charles B. Hare of Pawnee City, Neb. He is a sophomore medic and has been taking special work in bacteriology and has been handling culture tubes. It is supposed that in performing this work that he became inoculated. Dr. Novy said last night that the young man was coming out of the disease all right, but again refused to make a definite statement as to its nature. "It will take several days for the experiments which we are making to be in shape so I can state the name of the young man's complaint," said he.

Miller Finally Wins Suit.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., April 9.—After seven years of litigation in the trial courts of Orange county and the appellate courts of the state the case of George Miller of this city against the Erie railroad has been finally decided in the court of appeals in favor of Miller. The plaintiff, who was sold a ticket to a point on the road where his train did not stop, was finally compelled to alight at another station and brought suit for breach of contract. Judgment for $50 was granted on trial, but the final costs and disbursements now aggregate about $1,500.

Boutelle's Successor Elected.

BANGOR, Me., April 9.—The special election in the Fourth Maine congressional district yesterday to choose a successor to Hon. Charles A. Boutelle, resigned, resulted in a victory for ex-Governor Llewellyn Powers of Houlton, the Republican candidate, by a majority estimated at slightly more than 2,000 over Thomas White, Democrat. In September Mr. Boutelle's majority in the district was more than 10,000. The weather conditions were about as unfavorable as could be imagined.

A Statue to General Slocum.

GETTYSBURG, Pa., April 9.—This summer an equestrian statue in honor of General Slocum will be erected on the Gettysburg battlefield by the state of New York. The Women's Relief corps of Ohio will erect a monument in memory of Jennie Wade, the only woman killed during the battle. A monument will also be erected in honor of "Old John Burns." A bill appropriating $100,000 for the erection of a monument on the center square of Gettysburg has been presented to the state legislature.

Hunting Vice In Binghamton.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., April 9.—The police of this city think they have located an organized gang of criminals who make a specialty of robbing strangers. Their plan is to administer knockout drops to their victim and after going through his pockets turn him into the street. The gang's operations have been extensive. The latest victim is George Van Alstyne, who lives near Addison, Steuben county. Van Alstyne lost a large sum of money and other valuables.

Independent Furnace Men Meet.

PITTSBURG, April 9.—A conference was held here by the independent furnace operators for the purpose of forming a combine of all these plants with a capitalization of $12,000,000. While no definite information could be obtained in regard to action taken, it is said the combine will undoubtedly go through in a short time. Satisfactory progress has been made in the venture, and nearly all the plants wanted for the new company have been optioned by the promoters.

Knox Starts For Washington.

PITTSBURG, April 9.—P. C. Knox, the new attorney general, left at 8:30 o'clock last night over the Pennsylvania railroad for Washington and will assume the duties of his new position at once, attending the cabinet meeting today. He will reside temporarily at the Shoreham, as his family is spending the winter months in California.

The Machias Ordered In Commission.

BOSTON, April 9.—Orders have been received at the navy yard instructing the commander to have the gunboat Machias ready for sea as soon as possible. She was put out of commission here last summer.

Printing Press Maker Dead.

WESTERLY, R. I., April 9.—Calvert Byron Cottrell, secretary of the C. B. Cottrell & Sons company, printing press manufacturers, died here yesterday.

Fire Sweeps an English Town.

LONDON, April 9.—Fire destroyed 25 houses in Andover, Hampshire, this morning, rendering 150 persons homeless.

CHINESE REBELLION.

General Tung Fu Siang at the Head of Large Force.

THE CHINESE COURT IS ALARMED.

Revolt Affects the Provinces of Mongolia and Shensi—Russians Seem Inclined to Stay in Manchuria.

PEKING, April 9.—According to expert opinion China would be able to pay from £20,000,000 to £30,000,000 without crippling her financial resources, while the amounts which the powers at present demand aggregate from £80,000,000 to £100,000,000.

Rumors which have been current during the past few days of the outbreak of a rebellion headed by General Tung Fu Siang, the former commander of the northern army in the provinces of Mongolia and Shensi, have been absolutely authenticated. Li Hung Chang and Prince Ching have received information on the subject which proves that the court is serious alarmed.

Tung Fu Siang was, according to last accounts, about 150 miles from the court with 11,000 regular troops, all supposed to be devoted to himself. The court has about the same number of soldiers at Sian-fu, but it is probable that the troops of Tung Fu Siang are better drilled and better armed.

It is believed that the Mongolian rebellion was brought about through agents of Prince Tuan and Tung Fu Siang. Li Hung Chang thinks there are about 5,000 regular troops in Mongolia and inclines to the belief that they have not joined in the rebellion. He does not think the court is in any danger and believes the object of Prince Tuan, who was last reported at Ning-hsu with 10,000 men, prepared to resist arrest, he having been disgraced and exiled by imperial edict, and Tung Fu Siang is to create a diversion of interest in order to force unconditional protection of themselves.

Unofficial Chinamen of intelligence regard the rising as most unfortunate at the present time to the interests of China and as possibly meaning that it will be necessary to use foreign troops to protect even the court itself.

The ministers of the powers do not think that, provided foreign interests do not suffer, any present interference is likely. If the dynasty should be overthrown, it would to a certain extent delay the peace negotiations, but they consider that a regime not bound by traditions like those of the present court would probably be much easier to deal with eventually.

Prince Ching, who as a relative may be considered to take the court view of the situation, thinks the rebellion is a storm in a teacup. He says the present court is loved and esteemed by nine-tenths of the population of China and that the same proportion of ablebodied men in China would rise to protect the existing dynasty. The empress dowager, as the adviser of the emperor, holds a place in the affections of the people not dreamed of and not understood by foreigners. Her slightest wish is the emperor's law, though he is by no means the figurehead the foreign powers frequently suppose. The emperor recognizes the ability of the empress dowager as well as the value of her aid and advice.

It is reported that the Russians in Manchuria are making preparations to remain there permanently. The Chinese in the sections beyond the defended line of railway have organized as bandits and are overriding the officials, persecuting Christians and creating chaos everywhere.

Russia's Ambition Checked.

LONDON, April 9.—In a dispatch to The Times from Peking Dr. Morrison comments upon the blow to Russian prestige in China resulting from the check to Russia's ambitions regarding Manchuria. "This blow is all the more severe," he says, "because Japan, whom the Russians have affected to treat with the utmost contempt, has had the largest share in dealing it. There is little doubt that Russia will renew the struggle in some shape. It is a remarkable outburst of popular feeling which has thus enabled China to withstand Russia. All the appeals against the convention concerning Manchuria were addressed to the emperor. It is therefore difficult to believe that the empress dowager has not been affected by the defeat of the policy of which her henchman, Li Hung Chang, is the sturdiest exponent. The emperor has summoned the president of the board of revenue from Peking to prepare for the removal of the court. Probably this only means a removal to Kai-fong-fu, in the province of Honan, which would bring the court into closer contact with the Yang-tse viceroys."

Convention Did Not Meet.

HAVANA, April 9.—The Cuban constitutional convention did not meet yesterday owing to the absence of Senor Capote, its president. La Lucha, referring to the delay, says: "The convention is unwilling to accept or reject the Platt amendment. Three propositions on lines practically the same as the amendment have been rejected, but the convention refuses to discuss the majority report of the committee on relations, which is diametrically opposed." It is intimated by La Lucha that the delegates are afraid of public opinion such as would be likely to result from decisive action on the amendment.

McCormick Boy Still Missing.

NEW YORK, April 9.—The whereabouts of the missing Willie McCormick are still unknown. The police of Red Bank, N. J., thought they had discovered the lad in the person of a boy seen with a man who was begging in that town. It turned out, however, that the Red Bank strangers were William Healy and his son of Trenton, who were on their way to Long Branch. A New York city detective and a playmate of the McCormick boy visited Red Bank yesterday afternoon, and the playmate at once said that the stranger was not the missing McCormick lad.

Strikers Win Their Case.

SHARON, Pa., April 9.—The strike of union painters and carpenters which was precipitated last Monday has been satisfactorily settled, and the men all returned to work today. The contracting firms have granted the demands of the strikers for an eight hour workday on Saturdays in addition to an increase in wages of 25 cents. About 500 men were involved in the strike, and work in the building line was completely tied up.

The State Chairman.

Politicians all over the State are wondering who is to direct the next campaign in New Jersey for the G. O. P. It was with the greatest kind of reluctance that Franklin Murphy allowed his friends to persuade him to remain at the head of the Republican State committee last year, and this year he has emphatically stated that he will not accept the chairmanship of the committee under any circumstances.

There can be no doubt but that Mr. Murphy made an effective chairman of the Republican State committee. Even the Democrats admit that owing to the fact that last year there was a presidential campaign to engineer, the Republican leaders in New Jersey were particularly anxious that Mr. Murphy should remain in office and he finally consented. Those who were present at the Republican State convention last year will remember a speech that Mr. Murphy made on that occasion in which he declared positively that it was his last year at the head of the State committee.

The question of Mr. Murphy's successor is somewhat of a puzzle and a number of names have been suggested. The name of Senator Edward C. Stokes, who has just been appointed clerk of the Court of Chancery, has found the most favor with the press of the State. There is no doubt but that Mr. Stokes is a very able man, and if he will consent to stand at the head of the Republican party and direct its campaign, that party will be unusually fortunate.

Plainfield's share in the twentieth century gospel campaign cost $737 64. When one comes to realize how long the meetings continued and the remarkable stir they made in this city, it can be truly said that the price paid was remarkably cheap. There are a great many people who have an idea that anything which has to do with the spiritual welfare of the community is without any expense. It costs money to conduct a series of meetings be they of a religious or secular character. The detailed report of the finance committee, which was published yesterday, tells just how the money was spent

Little or no objection has developed in Somerset county against the proposition to build an armory for Company M, of Somerville. The County Board of Freeholders gave a hearing at the courthouse at Somerville Saturday and found that the feeling on the part of county officials and citizens was almost unanimous on the subject. Somerville has had a militia company for thirteen years and no permanent headquarters has yet been built. If Plainfield's company had to wait an equal length of time to secure an armory, the members of Company K are likely to get discouraged.

The success of the plan inaugurated at the annual meeting of the Seventh Day Baptist church Sunday, in order to increase the interest in the meeting, is likely to lead to its adoption by other of the churches. Return postal cards were sent to the members of the church, giving the programme of the meeting. They were requested to signify whether or not they would be present, and if not, to send some word.

The Daily Press is in favor of the principle of municipal ownership. The subject, with reference to water works for Plainfield, is one that should be given careful and searching investigation. In the meantime the Plainfield Water Supply Company should place water meters in general use so that the consumers can pay only according to the proportion of water they use.

While the recent high water in Green brook removed part of the rubbish further down stream, there is still a choice collection to be seen from the new bridge which connects Duer street and Madison avenue. The banks of the brook are also in need of considerable attention. Why doesn't the city act ?

As Easter Sunday was not particularly conducive to automobiling, the members of the New Jersey Automobile Club did not have their proposed run to this city. There were many who watched for the arrival of the club with considerable interest.

Plainfield's sewage disposal plant will have to change its name. It will no longer be the "sewer beds." It may be called the "sewer works" after the new improvements are made.

There is little or no likelihood that the borough of North Plainfield will decide to unite with Plainfield and have a joint sewage disposal works.

Society resumed its activity last evening after the quietness of the Lenten season.

TEA TABLE TALK.

Short and Gossipy Sketches That Are Not Always News, But Just as Interesting.

Occasionally one runs across an individual who has some protest or complaint to make against Plainfield and its institutions. Consequently when others can afford to imitate Plainfield, in some respect or other, it brings a feeling of pride to those who are happy to claim this city as their residence. Time and again municipal authorities in different parts of the county have taken occasion to copy the Plainfield fire department in some way. Not only have they confined their imitations to this well regulated institution, but the building ordinance has also received recognition. Building Inspector Doane received word from the city authorities of Jamestown, N. Y., that their municipality has adopted the phraseology of the Plainfield ordinance verbatim. Jamestown is the seventh city to pay this compliment to this city.

TO WASHINGTON.

Valuable Property at Auction.

J. E. VanWinkle, Auctioneer, will sell at Public Auction by direction of the owner, Mrs. Emma Jones,

THURSDAY, APRIL 11, 1901.

21 Choice residential building plots on LaGrande Ave., Putnam Ave. and Richmond St, Plainfield, N. J., as shown on the map. We call attention of persons seeking a home in the most select and convenient part of the city of Plainfield.

Builders and speculators will find in this property a location where sales are readily made and where all modern houses are rented as soon as finished.

This property will be conveyed by warrantee deeds free and clear of all incumbrances by a perfect title.

Terms ten per cent on day of sale, forty per cent on the delivery of the deed, on or before May 1st, the balance of 50 per cent may remain on bond and mortgage if desired.

Homes built on these plots will have the advantage of the grand old shade trees, all of 25 or 35 years growth, covering the tract, which add comfort and the appearance of a long settled neighborhood, always considered desirable by persons with taste, discrimination and refinement.

Netherwood cars from depot in Plainfield pass the premises.

For further particulars and maps apply to John M. Jones, 352 Washington St., N Y; or of the auctioneer, J. E. VanWinkle, 21 Montgomery St, Jersey City.

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence.)

Dunellen, April 9 — Garretson & Gray have commenced the delivery of the 3,000 tons of crushed stone to be used in the alterations at the Plainfield disposal beds, the work being started yesterday. In addition to the amount contracted for with the local firm, several thousand additional tons will be brought from Slade's quarry at Bound Brook. It will presumably be brought to the borough by rail, thence carted to the beds. It was at first intended to use a great deal of Pennsylvania slag in the alterations, but this has since been decided against and crushed stone will constitute the only material used.

Among those who took part in the Easter exercises at the Presbyterian church Sunday evening were the following pupils from the Sunday school who gave recitations: Hattie Giles, Violetta Staples, Florence Jennings, Edith Hamilton, May Day, Mamie Snyder, Geraldine Dunham, Sadie Stelle, Lottie Ginder, Florence Dickerson and Ray Voorhees.

Rev. S. K. Doolittle, pastor of the Methodist church, will attend the conference of the Newark district which is to be held at Hoboken for one week beginning tomorrow. His place will be taken Sunday by Rev. A. F. Todd.

Mrs. A. F. Sampson and Mrs. R. F. Bogardus attended service at the Bloomingdale Reformed church, New York, of which Rev W. C. Stinson, a former borough paster, is in charge.

George Huff has purchased a handsome appearing team of bay horses from a dealer at High Bridge, to be used in his trucking business.

Rev. John Bergen Lane, a former resident of the borough but more recently of Bound Brook, has taken up his residence at Westfield.

The Misses Mamie and Margaret Dineen, of Brooklyn, were the guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dineen, Sunday.

Mrs. L S. Palmer and family have returned from Newark, where they have been spending the winter.

H. L Terry and daughter Helen, of Westfield, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Terry.

AT THE THEATRES.

Something About the Attractions Which Plainfield Theatre-Goers May Care to Witness.

Lottie Gilson, known throughout the length and breadth of the land as "The Little Magnet," joint star with J. K. Emmet in "Fritz in a Mad house," will appear at Music Hall tonight for the first time in this city. Miss Gilson has only recently returned from a triumphant tour through England and Continental Europe, and some of the best notices she has ever received are from the papers over there. She is the only artist who has ever succeeded in rousing her audiences to that pitch of enthusiasm when they rose from their seats and joined with their voices in the chorus of her ballads. Besides being one of the cleverest in her line, she is an exceedingly talented actress. She will introduce several of her latest songs during the performance. Of Mr. Emmet's superb performance of the "Fritz" characters made famous by his late lamented father, the general amusement seeker is well posted. He is said, however, to have greatly improved the past three years, and a fine performance may be anticipated

The management of Music Hall announces as an important attraction, David Higgins' great southern play, "At Piney Ridge," which will be seen on Thursday night. The scenes of the play are laid in that picturesque section of south-eastern Tennessee where the Blue Ridge Mountains terminate in broken, yet picturesque peaks and ridges. The setting permits of a strong drawing of character, and the various roles are handled with a great deal of fidelity to the true nature of the people of this out of the way section. The producing company is a powerful one and the scenery and effects are elaborate.

"Down on the Farm," a new rural drama of the "Old Homestead" type, will be the attraction at Music Hall, Monday of next week.

F. F. Proctor, the continuous entertainment magnate, has about completed arrangements to add still another theatre to his circuit of theatres. Last week the announcement was made that he had secured a site in Troy, N. Y., upon which local capitalists will soon begin the erection of a modern theatre, the building to be exclusively devoted to Mr. Proctor's uses. Work upon his Newark theatre will begin May 1 and the house will be ready for occupancy by October 1. When the new Troy and Newark theatres are added to his chain Mr. Proctor will control eight continuous entertainment resorts.

Dresden. Die große deutsche Gartenbauausstellung im Frühjahr 1900 zu Dresden hatte mit einem Fehlbetrag von ungefähr 33,000 Mark abgeschlossen. Die Ausstellungsleitung hatte darauf an den Rath das Gesuch gerichtet, einerseits den für die Ausstellungshalle zu entrichtenden Miethszins an 15,000 Mark zu erlassen, andererseits einen städtischen Betrag in Höhe des alsdann noch verbleibenden Fehlbetrages zu gewähren. Mit Rücksicht darauf, daß eine völlige Entlastung der Garantiezeichner auf Kosten der Stadtgemeinde nicht gerechtfertigt erscheine, beschloß der Rath, unter Aufrechterhaltung der Miethzinsforderung nur einen städtischen Betrag von 10,000 Mark zu gewähren.—Zum ehrenden Gedächtniß soll dem verstorbenen Oberbürgermeister Dr. Stübel am Eingange der seinen Namen tragenden Allee ein Brunnendenkmal errichtet werden. Die Mittel hierzu werden dem Verschönerungsfonds der Dr. Güntzstiftung entnommen.

FANCIES OF FASHION.

Some of the New Styles Are Charming, Others Bizarre.

Variety of Dress Fabrics Is Without Limit, But Crepe de Chine and Foulards Lead in Popular Favor.

[Special Chicago Letter.]

FASHION is ever charming, but never was it more so than at this particular season of the year. With the first breath of sweet springtime in the air how lamentably shabby and dull-looking our winter garments appear to be, and we hail with unwonted enthusiasm the first hint of a change in the styles. With each succeeding day and hour of the past week fashion makers have been unfolding to our rapturous gaze such bewitching novelties as were never dreamed of, and one may well pause to ask what and where will be the end. Some of these new fashions are so bizarre in appearance that their requiem is sung after the first glance, while others again are so delightfully charming and fascinating that the unfortunate woman who likes to be well-dressed and strictly up to date in all things, and yet must do it on a small income, will have trials of her own; for all these pretty new things cost a whole lot of money, and the prettier they are the more money they cost.

In the interesting matter of dress materials I may simply say the variety is utterly without limit, and the same may be written of the price. All kinds of soft sheer fabrics are in general demand, while the furore for the pretty old-fashioned nun's veiling is unprecedented. Albatross cloth is also to be reckoned among the most popular fabrics and is seen to particular advantage in the new plaited skirts which have put in an appearance within the week. An exquisite veiling showing a mixture of silk and wool is among the most pleasing novelties seen thus far. It comes in all the new delicate colorings known to the dyer's art and is particularly charming in pastel pink and pale green. A silken lining is an absolute necessity with this material, and the fancy of the moment is to have the silk the same color as the veiling, but of a much darker tone.

The popularity of crepe de chine seems rather to wax than wane. One cannot wonder at this most delightful state of affairs, for certainly no more beautiful fabric was ever manufactured, nor one more susceptible of attractive development. Either tucked and trimmed simply with ribbon velvet, or else associated with rich lace, with perhaps a Frenchy touch of black and gold showing in its ornamentation, it makes an ideal gowning for both young and old; if old there be in this day and generation, which I sometimes doubt.

THE LATEST TAILOR-MADE.

Soft silks of the foulard and dainty India variety grow more and more in popular favor as the season advances. They are shown in the most profuse variety of patterns and are extremely stylish for dressy gowns, as well as for those intended for more actual service. Satin-faced foulards are the fancy of the moment, but in order to be considered swell in the extreme they must have a little touch of black woven in the pattern.

In all-wool materials cashmere is the reigning favorite, but it must not be confounded with the cashmere of other days. These new ones are delightfully soft to the touch, and being exceedingly pliable lend themselves with perfection to the clinging effects, now the mode most approved. They can be procured in all the pretty new spring colorings, as well as in somber black and the ever popular black and white combination. I think the most sought after colors at the present moment are blue in both medium and light tones, old rose and reseda green, in the order in which I have named them.

A gown I saw but yesterday—which will first see the light of day on Easter morning, if the weather be propitious—was fashioned of cashmere in a delightful shade of old rose. The skirt was laid in small plaits at either side and in the back, while a panel of handsome lace ornamented the entire front width. Over the tucked, slightly pouched bodice was a jaunty little lace bolero, caught down in the back by a folded girdle of black panne velvet. The sleeves were fancifully trimmed in lace insertion, and were cut so very long as to fall quite over the hand, similar in effect to the styles which prevailed some two or three seasons ago.

For cashmere tailor gowns, as well as those fashioned of somewhat heavier material, tailors still remain faithful to the short Eton and bolero styles, although the little cloth coatee strapped and treated in a practical manner still remains one of the smart features of the tailoring world. There is no doubt that fashion makers still cling to the tight effect of the skirt from the hip to the knee, while the amount of fullness required to keep the skirt out from the feet below the knee is simply stupendous.

The corselet skirt is the newest thing out, and, while too much cannot be said in its praise, only the clever modiste should attempt its construction; for unless absolutely perfect in fit and finish its air of smartness is entirely lost. Tucked skirts are by no means omitted from fashion's list, only the tucks are much larger than those we have been accustomed to lately.

Flounces, too, of every known size and shape, will be worn later on, and sometimes, to give them a greater degree of fullness, any number of tiny kiltings of soft ribbon are added.

Many of the handsomest skirts are being made with inserted panels, either consisting of small kilts of cloth or pieces of embroidery—merely a revival, by the way, of an old and very popular fashion. But then modes in dress, like the wheel of fortune, revolve with the cycle of time. For instance, stripes are strictly "in it," while checks are distinctly at a discount—just the reverse of last year's fashions. Only a short time ago the sailor collar was the idol of the hour; to-day it is seen only to be despised, and so I might run the entire gamut had I the time.

There are interesting things galore to say concerning the new blouse. The prettiest are still being made of crepe de chine, and while not a few fashionable dressmakers are trying to introduce, or rather revive, heavy satin for this purpose, it seems safe to predict that as long as tucks retain their popularity crepe de chine will be the material par excellence for the blouse beautiful. Swell-looking theater blouses are fashioned of the new crepe de Paris, and it is certainly an ideal fabric for the purpose, as it shows to the most excellent advantage under artificial light.

The millinery of the moment is indeed charming. Crinoline is much used, and the rage for the all-tulle toque is by no means abated. On all the French hats there is a decided tendency toward floral decoration, while the New York models, with the exception of huge black panne roses, show no indication of the flower garden variety. Time alone will settle this important matter. Some of the new shapes are rather eccentric, and, I fear, will not prove generally becoming. The toque shape, tried and true, still reigns supreme for semi-dress wear. A beautiful toque with square crown and rolled brim shows an artistic blending of coral pink, black and reseda green. Another Frenchy-looking model had its entire crown composed of violets, shading from the palest down to the richest purple tints. The softly rolled brim was decorated with black panne velvet ivy leaves and the violet foliage in soft shades of silver gray.

Bringing with them wonderful visions of rare days in June are the all white hats made of tulle, mounted over white lace. They are dainty and sweet to a degree, and are the thing to buy if one can afford the luxury of all-white headgear. KATE GARDNER.

The Fears Of Children

The nurse, not conscience, makes cowards of us all.—Adapted Proverb.

It is the fashion nowadays for a girl to be brave; it always was for a boy to be fearless. Therefore what I have to say applies equally well to both children, but a great deal more to the mother or nurse who has the care of their training. We place a higher value on bravery perhaps than on any other virtue. Seeing this is so, it is rather peculiar that from the very first we try our best to make cowards of our children. "If yez don't mind, the p'liceman'll get yez," says the nurse. The mother shrieks loudly at a spider or some other harmless creature and frequently cannot conceal her timidity during thunderstorms. Finally the other members of the family put the finishing touches to the child's education by telling him weird stories of ghosts and elves.

I wonder if mothers realize that the natural tendency of the child is not to be timid. I am speaking now, of course, of the healthy child. It is only knowledge which brings fear, not healthy knowledge, but the sort of lore imparted by the ignorant nurse and the foolish mother. A friend of mine tried the experiment of bringing up her child "without fear," as she put it. In the first place, she showed no terror or nervousness when in the presence of the child, next she explained to him in a sensible manner the phenomena of nature which usually terrify children, and she made him see the beautiful side of them. She told him how the lightning was sent by God to purify the air and how the thunder was only sound and could not hurt him. She showed him the grandeur and the beauty of the storm rather than its terror. It was the same with darkness. She did not fear it. To her it seemed a mark of God's goodness, beautiful and soothing, and the child saw it in the same way. The result of this training was that he grew up as brave as a little lion. And, indeed, the reason was simple—he had never learned how to fear.

As for the silly practice of filling the child's brain with tales of the supernatural, there is nothing too severe that I can say against it. Myths are bad enough, for, if we lie to our children, can we expect them to tell us the truth? There are plenty enough horrible things in real life without drawing upon one's imagination, and the child will come only too soon to the realization of these. Then, too, apart from the effect on the child's mind, the physical effect cannot be ignored. I shall never forget the story a friend of mine told me.

"We are both of us small children, my little brother and I," she said, "when one night after supper nurse told us ghost stories as we sat in the dying firelight. Although we were ashamed to show it, we were frightened nearly to death. About an hour afterward, when we had been tucked in our cots and were supposed to be sound asleep, my little brother jumped from his bed with such a scream of fear that I shall never forget it. Grandmamma rushed up stairs and found him writhing in a fit. For weeks his life was despaired of. The cause of his terror was the family cat, who had strayed up stairs, attracted by the warmth. Her greenish eyes shining out of the darkness had completed the effect of the ghost stories on the frightened boy's mind."

If volumes of heroic deeds took the place of the nurse's repertory of ogre tales, this world would be a stronger and better one. Timidity and weakness would in great part disappear, and brave deeds would be the rule instead of the exception.

Women Sign Painters.

In Berlin sign painting is added to the list of trades practiced by women. Women sign painters undergo a regular apprenticeship, which includes gymnastic training, so that they may not lose their nerve when standing on ladders or scaffolding. They wear the gray linen frock and cap which are the house painter's badge as well as his defense against paint.

The French "La Savate" as a Successor to Prize Fighting

SO RESTRICTED has become the field for the pugilist that the knight of the padded glove is actually face to face with that dread alternative—work or starve. Hundreds of young men who either do not see that they are getting old or will not believe that they have to look out for the future are practically dependent upon the charity of sporting friends because of the decline of the game of boxing. Had these men taken care of the money they made when prize fighting was run on a sort of a continuous vaudeville plan, they would not now be looking for almost any sort of employment. Reform waves seem to sweep the various communities that have had pugilistic entertainments at intervals of a few years. The recent shutting down on boxing in New York, followed by the determined stand of Ohio, Illinois, Kentucky and other states has made many critics ask why "savate" is not taken up by the pugilists as a form of prize fighting and a certain and novel money-maker.

"Savate," or boxing with the feet and hands, has been brought to a high state of perfection in France. Followers of ring sports will recall what astonishment was caused by the report from France that Charlemont, the French champion at "la savate," had won a fight from Jerry Driscoll, the pugilist, by a well-directed kick. Charlemont was a novice in the use of the five-ounce glove, but he had all the tricks of "la savate," and they conquered over the arm strategy of the Irish pugilist. American pugilists will go out cutting marble, driving nails or molding iron before they will attempt to master "la savate."

There are many American students of the distinctly French form of pugilism, but none will ever attain proficiency. Furthermore it is doubtful whether the public has been educated to bite on the palpable hook—the glossing over of a cheap pugilist with the polish of a "savate" artist. Not enough money would be taken in at the door were Jeffries and Ruhlin to resume their former belligerent attitude and appear in a 24-foot ring prepared to show Charlemont's own game of savate to pay for a beefsteak supper for the two principals.

More than this, it is doubtful whether a community that would strain at a five or six-round boxing exhibition between pugilists who had secretly agreed not to hurt one another, would tolerate a display of savate. The latter could be made fully as brutal as a bullfight. Once when there were many pugilists congregated I took the opportunity to ask several of the fighters what they thought of the prospects for savate in this country. "Kid" McCoy was the only one who had a knowledge of the French game and he expressed a willingness to meet any foreigner in the old world at the game. It has been suggested that the advertising that McCoy got out of his "defi" to the Champion Charlemont was what he was after, not a match.

Corbett was willing to learn the game, but Fitzsimmons declared that only unfair fighters would think of that style of a contest. Jimmy Barry, Tommy Ryan, Jack Root, Terry McGovern—in fact a whole galaxy of lesser stars expressed themselves as unqualifiedly against savate, and more than one said that Americans might study the mode of defense and attack in gymnasiums but would never permit it as an exhibition.

Those who think that savate is but a mild form of calistnenics would do well to bear in mind that many a big brawny sailorman has met his match in a small, wiry Frenchman in seaboard town melees. Great strength and endurance is necessary to be a good savate artist. Boxing, fencing and the hardest kind of athletic work are combined in this method of defense and offense. There are rules which govern the contestants in the ring, much the same as the famous marquis of Queensberry rules. It is ludicrous to an American to see the preliminaries the Frenchmen go through before beginning an "affair." First they bow profoundly, then placing their right hands on their heads they shake with the left hands and retire to get within proper kicking distance.

Although savate means "an old shoe," the exponent of the game wears a chausson, or light leather buskin, instead of a shoe on his feet. The gloves are made something like those used by American pugilists, but they are provided with gauntlets. The contestants generally wear trousers of fine duck and the men, consequently, do not look so much like "human brutes" as the American pugilists do who appear in the ring with little or nothing on except trunks.

There are so many combinations of bewildering blows, passes, uppercuts and contortions that to the novice it would seem that a French master of savate was much quicker than a fast bantam-weight champion. Every form of kick, be it high, low, heel kick or toe kick, has its particular use, but each is to be foiled by a parry suitable to the case. The fundamental law of the savate is to learn to keep the weight of the body on the leg which is the further back. Serious trouble will follow putting this weight on the wrong leg. The center of gravity will be lost much quicker than in ordinary boxing where the "sidestep" and shifty footwork plays such an important part. An expert will have no trouble in throwing over his opponent if the latter stands squarely on both feet. It is quite possible for the man who forgets and places the weight on the forward foot, to get a quick kick on the shin which will break a bone.

The learners begin with the "coup de savate," an ordinary kick with the toe. If this blow is aimed at the shin it is easily parried by springing forward and striking the opponent on the side of the head. Or if you are expert, throw up your foot and you will fling him back. The coup de fianc is one that is always delivered with the heel. It may be high or low and aimed at any part of the adversary's body. If the blow is toward the chest, both arms brought down on the extended foot will stop the blow. If the blow strikes for the face, both arms thrown up will parry the blow and throw the antagonist sprawling back on the carpet. Should the attack be made for the sides, a sweep of either the right or left arm will checkmate the blow.

However, even in parrying these various blows the fighter has to beware of the most formidable quick return blow of the game. It is called the coup de tournant. I would say that it comes nearer the jaw jolt or the uppercut than any other blow in savate for effectiveness. The wise old savate fighter will work every ruse to get you where he can deliver the knockout blow in the face. If after parrying a side kick you are not quick as a flash with your guard your opponent turns on his foot and kicks backward for your face. It is a blow that has terrific force behind it.

The cross kick—chasse croise—is a fierce heel kick that experts work to advantage on novices. When the expert takes a sort of a hop and delivers a kick, it is called coup devache. Those who have tried the hitch kick will appreciate the speed with which the shifting of the feet must be accomplished to do this.

If an expert agrees to handle you easily he may seem to be in the act of delivering a terrific kick and you will find the toe of his buskin simply grazing your cheek. That is one of the fancy moves, the artist's leg being so completely under control that the blows are like those of a big steam triphammer. Imagine a professor who will first flick the ashes from a cigarette held in the mouth of an opponent, then kick away the cigarette, and finally knock out of his mouth the holder. That is what you may see any night at a savate school in Paris.

Rubber Growing as an Industry in Guatemala

How the Trees Are Cultivated and the Manner of Treating the Product

GUATEMALA is attracting from this country quite a number of immigrants with small capital because of the growth of the rubber-growing industry in that Central American republic. There is seemingly a fascination that attracts some people to tropical countries to engage in a business of which they know but little, but which on paper promises much. So it is with rubber in Guatemala. That the rubber tree may be successfully cultivated there is beyond dispute. In fact, the tree grows wild in the Guatemalan forests. But, while of the few who have succeeded we hear much, of those who have failed—and they outnumber those who have succeeded—we hear but little or nothing.

The cultivation of the rubber tree to a financial success is an industry that requires training just as much as the successful cultivation of wheat or corn requires training. Every city tradesman cannot be a successful farmer, nor can every farmer cultivate rubber successfully in Guatemala, though it must be said that few American farmers attempt it, the majority of the American immigrants to Guatemala being people from the cities and towns.

To one contemplating the cultivation of rubber the primary consideration is to locate suitable land. Some lands in Guatemala, while having all the elements required for fruitful production, lack the fertility necessary for quick growth. The time required for development depends entirely upon the soil and the advantages of location. Some lands will develop the growth of the tree so rapidly that in seven years it will produce milk, while others need from nine to ten years. Land located near the sea and at its level, having the full benefit of the sea breezes, will produce in much shorter time than land of a higher elevation and farther inland. In the cultivation of rubber one must also cultivate patience, for at least seven years are required before any return is made on the investment; however, cocoa, sugar cane, tobacco and other marketable products can be raised at the same time, which will pay expenses for rubber cultivation.

The rubber tree is what is commonly called croton germ, and when any part of it is planted in soil favorable to rubber it grows more rapidly than when seed is planted. In this case it must be transplanted to the place set apart for its final development.

In Guatemala and all Central America the Castilloa elastica is cultivated, and its product is of fine quality. The Castilloa elastica is a tall and well-shaped tree, having a smooth bark of whitish green color; it attains a height of 45 to 60 feet. The branches—few in number—grow very long and almost horizontal, and out of them spring two rows of long oval leaves.

The product or milk of this tree exists in the fibers located between the bark and the tree. These fibers are the vital part of the tree, which fact necessitates the greatest care in making incisions to extract the milk. Should one accidentally cut into these fibers the life of the tree would be endangered. It is estimated by good authority that the milk of the rubber tree contains about 60 per cent. of water and other substances and about 40 per cent. of rubber; and, allowing for further losses in its treatment, one can count on 33 1-3 per cent. of the whole being rubber of good quality.

Only of recent years has rubber cultivation been seriously thought of. Before this time milk was taken from trees growing wild, and one spoke of "hunting" rubber.

The rubber tree must not be exposed to the extreme rays of the sun, and should therefore be shaded by other trees; but not so much as to prevent the free passage of air, for ventilation is essential to the growing plant.

Some planters insist that rubber and coffee will grow on the same land, and therefore plant the rubber tree to serve as a shade for coffee and cocoa. While the coffee and cocoa would undoubtedly be benefited by the shade of the rubber tree, the product of the latter would be of little value, as the sun would sap the vitality of the tree. Rubber trees at high elevations, though beautiful in growth, give but little milk. Not all trees produce milk even at a favorable altitude. The tree called the female yields the product; the male tree gives nothing. It is necessary, however, to plant the male species, for experience has demonstrated that a plantation of female trees alone would be fruitless and unproductive. Successful rubber planters say that among every 35 female trees there should be one or two male trees. The male tree, when the incision is made, gives out a puff of wind, but produces no liquid.

The soil where the rubber is planted should be loose and deep, with no clay or stones. The land should be clean for at least three feet around the tree. The ground must be well worked before the rubber seed is planted; the soil must be damp, and the seed must be placed about two feet apart. The seed should be picked in March, as it falls from the tree with the gum on it. If washed, it may destroy the seed. In about a year the little plants will be 1½ feet high. It must be stripped with the greatest care and the roots covered with dirt; it should then be transplanted. For the first year the plant should be kept free from weeds or it will become choked. The transplanting method has always proven more efficacious than planting the seed; this also enables one to select the healthier plants and guarantee production. The rubber trees should be about six yards apart, and if the shade trees will permit should be placed in rows. Weeding about the tree must be done at least four times a year during its early growth; this care lessens as the tree matures. Weeding is done with a machete. The weeds and some branches of neighboring trees are cut into small particles and strewn around the tree to act as a fertilizer.

It is estimated that 100,000 trees can be planted in one caballeria (about 115 acres), which land can be purchased for about $100 an acre. The labor is cheap, the native workman getting about six reales, or 12 cents in United States currency, a day. Small, inexpensive huts must be erected on the plantation for the workmen. Plantains are the food used, and these can be grown in sufficient quantities without any expense whatever. After the trees are planted very little cost is incurred, unless the planter is raising other marketable products.

The rubber lands in Guatemala are equal to any in the world, and with proper care and intelligent cultivation the product will command a price equal to any.

SPORTING.

ON THE DIAMOND.

George Somers, the manager of the St. Mary's Cadets' nine, would like to arrange games with suitable teams. Communications should be addressed to Mr. Somers, Third and Liberty streets.

The St. Mary's Cadets and the Netherwood A. C. met on the Plainfield avenue diamond yesterday afternoon. The St. Mary's nine had every thing their own way and won out in a canter. The score was 37 to 5. Cashin and Bach were the Netherwood battery, and O'Keefe and Cotter acted in a similar position for St. Mary's.

DINNER TO BRIDAL PARTY.

Mrs. Robert Rushmore Entertained Party Previous to Assembly Last Evening.

Mrs. Robert Rushmore, of West Eighth street, entertained the Ackerman-Murphy bridal party, at a dinner given prior to the assembly last evening. The decorations were very pretty.

The guests of honor were Miss Lydia P. Ackerman, the bride-elect, and the prospective groom, Arthur Murphy. The bridemaids present were: Miss Katherine F. DePaw, of New Albany, Ind.; Miss Anna Riker, of New York; Miss Mary Scott Denniston, of State College, Pa.; Miss Lacy, of New York; Miss Annie Murphy, of Paris, and Miss Mary Wadsworth, of this city. The other guests were Townsend Morgan, of New York; Rufus Finch, James Middledith, Laurens VanBuren and Edward T. Wilson, of Plainfield, the ushers, and Clarence Murphy, of this city, the best man.

Entertainment by Wrens.

The entertainment given at the Y. M. C. A. Hall last evening by the Wrens under the auspices of Wetumpkah Tribe, No. 229, I. O. R. M., was pleasing and a good-sized audience was present to enjoy it. The specialties given by various members of the company were clever and mirth-provoking. The affair from a financial standpoint was quite satisfactory.

Successful Operation.

Cornelius Schenck, Jr., the young son of Rev. and Mrs. Cornelius Schenck, of West Front street, who was taken to Muhlenberg Hospital yesterday to be treated for appendicitis, underwent an operation late in the afternoon. Dr. McCosh, a New York specialist, performed the operation, assisted by Dr. Probasco. The little fellow passed through the operation successfully and the symptoms are all favorable for an early recovery. Today the boy is resting well and the physicians feel assured that he will soon be well.

Imprisoned in Factory.

Frank Haffner, of Somerset street, ascended one flight of stairs in the Bolles' factory on East Fourth street, yesterday, just as the last man out descended another flight and locked the doors for the night. Haffner was an unwilling visitor for an hour's duration. He finally effected his escape by descending a ladder placed to a window of the factory, by an employe of Hedden's stable, who heard his cries.

Strike at Sewer Beds.

A disagreement between the Italians and Slavs employed on the disposal bed alterations, occurred this morning. The latter claimed the Italians were given favored conditions and easier work while their employment was far from desirable. Nearly all of the Slavs quit work. It is expected that the trouble will be settled amicably today.

Wilhelmina's Present from Her People

The Dutch national present to Queen Wilhelmina on her wedding was the picturesque forest of the Orangewoud, in Friesland, near Heerenveen. There is a chateau in the center of the forest, surrounded by pretty gardens, which was built during the seventeenth century by Princess William of Nassau Dertz, and the domain remained in the possession of the Orange family until 1795, when it became the property of the country.—Chicago Chronicle.

A Bad One.

Manager (to the new actor)—Your performance of "Hamlet" is the very worst I've ever seen. If there had been any money in the house I should have been bound in honor to return it at the doors. HAS LOST HIS SIGHT.

Sir Edwin Arnold, Famous Poet, Now Is Totally Blind.

Author of "The Light of Asia," Although in a Sad Condition, Is Patient and Resigned and Goes Bravely on with His Work.

Troubles in a battalion have befallen the author of "The Light of Asia." Buddha's interpreter to the English speaking race, like that greater epic poet before him, is stricken with blindness. Deprived of the brightness of the visual ray, Sir Edwin Arnold has been compelled to relinquish much of the active literary work on which he has mainly spent the last 40 years on the editorial staff of the London Daily Telegraph.

Domestic clouds have added to the burden of years and waning physical powers, as only recently a son, who was a solicitor, was arrested in the United States and found guilty on trial in London on a charge of embezzlement.

A letter just received in New York from the veteran author and journalist suggests with what courage he is facing these severe afflictions. To use his own words: "My condition would be a sad one without patience and resignation. I never despair, and go on with my work, thanking Heaven for my unimpaired mental powers."

Relieved from the exacting pressure of Fleet street, Sir Edwin Arnold, it may be hoped, may be able to give to the world some fresh picture of the glowing east like those on which already rest securely his fame and reputation.

How many editions his "Light of Asia" has passed through it would now be hard to tell. The book was published in 1879, and at once attained such popularity that ten years ago there had been published more than 40 editions in England and some 80 acknowledged editions in America. It was the outcome of his early life in India, where he passed several years in the stirring times of the mutiny. His career at Oxford had been a brilliant one. Like Tennyson at Cambridge, he carried off at the sister university the blue ribbon for poetry,

SIR EDWIN ARNOLD.
(Famous English Poet Who Is Now Totally Blind.)

winning the Newdigate, with a prize poem on the "Feast of Belshazzar." There have been but few instances where the early promise was so well fulfilled in after life. After a brief spell as a schoolmaster in England he received an appointment as principal of the government Sanscrit college, at Poona, in the Bombay presidency.

On his return to England after services which twice received the thanks of the governor in council, he became attached to the editorial staff of the Daily Telegraph. It was on behalf of the proprietor of that journal that he arranged the first expedition of Mr. George Smith to Assyria, as well as that of Sir Henry Stanley, in the joint expedition of the New York Herald, in search of Livingstone and the completion of his discoveries.

Though Sir Edwin Arnold's later volumes of verse have not been so popular as his story of Buddha, his poetical translations from the Sanscrit epics and of the Persian poet Saldi brought him various distinctions from eastern rulers. He is a knight commander of the Indian empire. A younger brother, Sir Arthur Arnold, whose labors as a commissioner in the Lancashire cotton famine brought him into notice, has since been prominent in London municipal government, and gained another knighthood for this Kentish family.

Romance has followed Sir Edwin Arnold more or less throughout his career. A long stay in Japan some years ago led to his marriage with a Japanese lady, as his third wife. She is a typical Japanese beauty, her name signifying "Jewel of the Dark River." To Sir Edwin Arnold's enthusiasm for the Land of the Chrysanthemum is due much of the cult of things Japanese which of late years have manifested themselves in an English house interior.

Queen Victoria's Pet Cats.

The disposal of Queen Victoria's numerous pets is a matter of no small concern to the persons who are closing up her affairs. The late queen was a great lover of cats. When the court moved it was accompanied by a feline caravan. There were Persian cats, Manx cats, Angora cats, Maltese cats, tabby cats and nondescripts, and they all traveled in state. They were placed in wooden boxes with an open wire front and had plenty of clean straw to lie on. One Persian cat, of which the queen was especially fond, wears round his neck an elaborate collar, on which appears in silver letters: "I belong to the queen."

TROUBLE OVER WAGES.

Coachman Caused Trouble And Was Arrested And Subsequently Convicted And Fined.

Edom Tuiskey, a coachman, employed by David N. Groendyke, of Mercer avenue, was arrested, tried and convicted of disorderly conduct yesterday.

He had been discharged by his employer and grasped the opportunity of raising a scene over the amount of wages due him. Tuiskey's temper, it is claimed, was spending its force to such an extent that Mrs. Groendyke 'phoned to the police of both the city and borough for relief.

Chief Marshal Campbell placed the man under arrest and he was given a hearing last night by Recorder Doud who gave him a sentence of $3 fine or five days incarceration.

Tuiskey paid his fine this morning and was released.

Expensive Game o. Craps.

George Taylor, of West Second street, who was arrested Sunday by Chief Marshal Campbell for "shooting craps" along the brook, was given a hearing last evening. He pleaded guilty and Recorder Doud imposed a sentence of $3 fine or ten days imprisonment. Taylor paid the fine and was released.

Captured in the Brook.

Recorder Doud gave Irene Smith, colored, the choice of paying a fine of $5 or spending five days in jail for disorderly conduct Saturday evening. The woman was captured in the middle of the brook by Marshal Emmons after a long chase. The fine was paid and Irene is pursuing the even tenor of her way.

Taken to Jail in a Hose Wagon.

Patrolman Overbaugh found a man in a drunken stupor at the corner of Front an Richmond streets this morning. He was conveyed to the police headquarters in a hose wagon which did service as a patrol.

Engagement Announced.

The engagement of Lawyer George Bird and Miss Addie Lewis, both of the borough, is announced. The wedding will take place late this spring.

Accepted Position at Sea Bright.

Leo W. Craveling, formerly a clerk with E. S. Randolph, the druggist, has accepted a similar position with Dr. Reed, a pharmacist, at Sea Bright.

Work Mapped Out For Annual Session at Hoboken Which Lasts a Week.

LOCAL PASTORS TAKE PART.

BRIEF SUMMARY OF PROGRAMME FOR THE WEEK'S SESSION.

Plainfielder's Appointed on Several Important Committees—Many Important Speakers Will be at The Meetings of The Conference.

The Newark Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church commenced its annual session today at Hoboken. The programme mapped out covers one week.

The local pastors of this denomination take an active part usually in these conferences and are generally put on more or less important committees. The standing committees for the ensuing year have already been announced. Rev. G. W. Gardner, pastor of Grace M. E. church, has been appointed a member of the Sunday-schools committee.

At the anniversary exercises of the Missionary Society, held Friday evening, an address will be made by Rev. Dr. H. K. Carroll, of this city, who formerly acted for a short period as pastor of the Grace M. E. church.

A concise summary of the chief events of the week are: Wednesday—Morning, communion service and organization of conference; afternoon: Foreign Missionary Society meeting, speaker, Mrs. F. D. Gamewell, wife of the hero of the Pekin siege; evening: Centenary Fund and Preachers' Aid Society, speaker, Dr. S. P. Cadman; anniversary of Sunday-school Union and Tract Society, speaker T. B. Neely, D D., L L.D; anniversary church Extension Society, speaker, Rev. Dr. J. M. King, of Jersey City.

Thursday—Morning, business session; afternoon, anniversary Woman's Home Missionary Society; evening, anniversary Epworth League, speaker, Rev. Dr. Burrell, of Hoboken; anniversary Freedman's Aid and Southern Education Society.

Friday—Morning, business session; afternoon, missionary sermon by Dr. G. C. Mousdale; evening, laymen's mass meeting, anniversary Missionary Society, speaker H. K. Carroll, LL D.

Saturday—Morning, business session; evening, anniversary Total Abstinence and Prohibition Society.

Sunday—Morning, conference love feast led by J. H. Robertson; sermon by Bishop Foss; afternoon, ordination and memorial service; evening, sermon and evangelistic service.

Monday — Morning, business session; afternoon, business session and anniversary twentieth century forward movement, speaker, Rev. Dr. E. M. Mills.

Tuesday — Morning, business session; appointments.

ABOUT MR. WHITE.

Speaker Who Will Address Young Men's Meeting Sunday.

John R Mott, in writing of J. Campbell White, who will address the big meeting at Y. M. C. A. Hall Sunday afternoon, says: "In my judgment Campbell White is one of the most interesting, and inspiring speakers on themes pertaining to the evangelization of the world among the young men of our generation. He has mightily moved vast audiences of young men, not only in different parts of this country and Canada, but also in Great Britain, on the continent and in India." Mrs F. M. Ward, contralto soloist of the First Baptist choir, and W. Paulding DeNike 'cellist will render solos.

Preparing Map of Improvements.

Borough Surveyor VanEmburgh is engaged in surveying Somerset street, below Jackson avenue, for the purposes of mapping out the lines of improvement contemplated on that thoroughfare. As soon as his work is completed Street Commissioner Emmons will place men at work tearing up the roadbed.

Largest Van in City.

Wm. Hand & Son have the largest van in this city. It is fifteen feet long, seven feet high and nearly six feet wide and was constructed in the firm's second street headquarters by F. W. Hand. The van was put in service today.

Officiated in Newark.

Rev. T. Logan Murphy officiated at the Easter services of St. Paul's church, Newark. Mr. Murphy is making preparations for his trip to Paris, where he goes to assume charge of an important American church.

WILL BOARD TRAMPS.

Somerset County Freeholders Defeated Proposition to End Commitment of Tramps.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, N. J., April 10—The Somerset County Board of Freeholders met at the Court House yesterday, all the members being present. Beyond the passing of bills there was little business.

It was moved and seconded that no tramps be committed to the county jail after yesterday. The vote was a tie and the motion declared lost.

James Brown, Jr, president of the Somerset Hospital, presented a petition asking for an annual appropriation to that institution of $1 000, which was received and placed on file. The finance committee reported the expenditures to date to be $119,044 83. The board adjourned to meet Tuesday, May 7.

TESTIMONIAL BENEFIT.

Will be Given "Mique" Muldowney at Music Hall, Tuesday Night, April 30.

A testimonial benefit has been tendered by Manager Maze Edwards, of Music Hall, to his youthful assistant, "Mique" Muldowney, which will take place Tuesday night, April 30, on which occasion an attraction of unusual merit will be offered. The popularity of "Mique" is universal. He is known to everybody and Mr. Edwards, in view of his faithful services, desires to reward him for his faithful services. The sale of reserved seat tickets for the occasion will begin at the box office Monday, and at that time the name of the attraction will be announced.

WOODLAND SOCIAL.

Pleasing Entertainment Arranged by Endeavorers of Trinity Reformed Church Last Evening.

A social, which afforded much pleasure to the members and their friends, was held by the Christian Endeavor Society of Trinity Reformed church in the Sunday-school room of the church last evening. Vocal and instrumental music together with a missing word contest formed the pleasant features of the entertainment provided.

A solo by Oscar Moore, who was accompanied by Miss Jennie Smith, and several others by Horace J. Martin, whose daughter, Miss Hazel Martin, acted as his accompanist, evoked much applause.

The subject of the missing word contest was entitled "The Woodland Lovers" and the words omitted answered euphonically to the names of plants and trees. This feature of the programme caused much good natured rivalry in an endeavor to solve the contest. At the conclusion of the entertainment, Harry Crawford read the story in full and it was found that few had been successful in the contest. Before adjournment delicious cake and cocoa was served.

The committee in charge of the entertainment was composed of the members of the society's social committee, who are: The Misses Sadie Searing, Mabel Wilson, Viola Huff, May Sheppard, Minnie Wyman and Carrie Mehl, and Mrs. William Kirch.

EASTER EXERCISES.

How The Salvation Army Celebrated Easter Sunday.

The local corps of the Salvation Army held interesting Easter services Sunday, all of which were very well attended, especially those in the evening. At that time an interesting programme of appropriate carols and recitations was given by the pupils of the Army Sunday-school which is rapidly gaining in numbers.

Those who took part were Florence Coon, May Steen, Freddie O'Neill, Carrie Coon, Rhoda Steen, Emily Walsh, Murilla Steen, Bessie Brunn, Eva O'Neill, Annie James, Emma Roantree and Bessie VanNess. The exercises were in charge of Capt. O'Neill who made a few remarks at the close.

Signal Towers at Station.

The Jersey Central Railroad Company is having two signal towers erected near the North Avenue station. There will be one at each end of the station and they will be worked by electricity. The purpose for which they are erected is to enable Chas. H Schermerhorn, the telegraph operator, to signal trains to stop without being obliged to go out on the tracks with a flag.

Prize Choristers.

The prize choristers of Grace P. E church for March were Edwin Schiller, Albert Yaeger, and the Misses J. Little, B Miner, C. Miller, S. Brown, M. Yaeger and A. Clark. Miss Margaret Yaeger received the prayer book and hymnal.

Masquerade Ball.

The W. S. S. will hold a masquerade ball in Central Hall Friday, April 19.

BALANCE IN THE TREASURY.

FINANCIAL REPORT MADE AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH.

Annual Parish Meeting Was Held in the Sunday-School Room Last Night.

The annual parish meeting of the First Baptist church was held last evening in the Sunday-school room of the church. E L Bonny was selected as chairman and O B. Leonard, parish clerk, officiated in his capacity.

After the reading of the minutes, Clerk Leonard presented the report of the church treasurer, Alex. Gilbert. This showed the receipts to be $6 248. 87 and the disbursement $6,131 45, leaving a balance of $117.42. There are still a few thousand dollars in notes outstanding which are to be met

Included in the receipts there was reported $972 95 received as offerings, and $529 64 from basket collections. The sum of $90 was received from cemetery interments and $124 12 was received from the committee on evangelistic services.

The election of three trustees in place of J. Herbert Case, S. St. John McCutchen and T. S. Armstrong, whose terms expired, resulted in the re-election of these trustees for the full term of three years.

Clerk Leonard stated that through an arrangement made by the Board of Trustees with the attendant at the Methodist Cemetery, this attendant had been engaged to care for Evergreen Cemetery, which belongs to the church, and it is now kept in an improved condition at a slight expense to those holding lots there. There being no further business the meeting adjourned.

CROSBY'S SIDE.

Declared That Young School Teacher at Warrenville is Victim of Enemies Who are Spreading False Reports.

Mrs. Crosby, of Bound Brook, the mother of the young man, Howard Crosby, who has been teaching in the Dead River district school, near Warrenville, called at the Daily Press office this morning to say that the story concerning her son's accident was greatly exaggerated. There was no carelessness on the part of her son who had merely poured a little oil on some wood and thrown it in the fire and the blaze had blown out into his face. His injuries were very slight, she said.

She believed that false stories concerning her son were being circulated by certain people with an intent to injure him. He is a young man of good repute, she says, who has always borne an excellent reputation at his home in Bound Brook. He leaves his present position, she declared, to accept a better one elsewhere.

CLASS SOCIAL.

Two Classes of the Park Avenue Baptist Sunday-school Entertained.

The members of the Sunday-school classes of the Park Avenue Baptist church, taught by Miss Adelia Runyon and Miss Florence Hawkins, enjoyed a class social last evening at the home of Miss Hawkins, LaGrande avenue. There were twenty persons present and a very delightful evening was passed by all. There were games, instrumental and vocal music, and at a late hour refreshments were served The affair was held to promote sociability and good fellowship, and in the near future it is likely that other classes will follow the same example.

PREPARING EXHIBIT.

Work of Middlesex Schools Ready for Pan-American Exposition.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

New Brunswick, April 10—County Superintendent H. B. Willis has been busy for the past few days getting the exhibit of work in the various township schools ready for shipment to the Pan-American Exposition. He has a large number of exhibits, consisting of the work done in the various departments of the several schools, many of which were displayed at the recent sessions of the Teachers' Institute. Among the schools which will contribute work are those of Dunellen and New Market.

Will Start Suit Soon.

Wm. DeMeza will cause to be issued in a few days the writ against the Westfield and Elizabeth Street Trolley Company, in a suit for damages claimed by his client, Ira VanBuskirk, for injuries alleged to have been sustained in the Westfield trolley accident a few weeks ago.

After Story for Evening Telegram.

C. H. Judson, a reporter for The Evening Telegram, was in Plainfield Monday afternoon and evening collecting material for the column story which appeared in yesterday's issue concerning the troubles of the Commuter's Club and the Jersey Central Railroad Company.

SOCIETY AWAITS WEDDING.

MARRIAGE OF MISS ACKERMAN AND ARTHUR MURPHY THIS AFTERNOON.

One of the Chief Fashionable Events of the Local Social Season—Takes Place in Grace Church

The attention of Plainfield society folk is centred on the nuptial ceremonies of Miss Lydia P. Ackerman, daughter of Mrs. J. Hervey Ackerman, of West Seventh street, to Arthur Murphy.

The couple occupy a prominent position in society's doings and the wedding will be one of the chief fashionable events of the season. Over one thousand of the close friends of the bride-elect and the prospective groom have received invitations to the wedding service at Grace church and to the reception, which follows at the home of Miss Ackerman's sister, Mrs. Robert Rushmore, of West Eighth street.

The church service which is set for 5 o'clock this afternoon will be performed by Rev. T. Logan Murphy, the father of the groom, and the rector of Grace church, Rev. Erskine M. Rodman, will assist.

The sanctuary and chancel of the church edifice have been elaborately decorated by Stanley, the florist, and the floral work is exceedingly beautiful.

A special detail of police will attend the church ceremony to keep back the large crowd which will naturally be eager to gain admittance.

Many of the out-of-town guests for the wedding were present at the Assembly Monday evening and since then numerous luncheons and other social functions have served to entertain them until this afternoon. Countless presents have been received by the bride and many are magnificient.

Clarence Eck, of Elizabeth, formerly organist at the First Presbyterian church, of this city, will play the wedding march at the church service.

MANY NEW MEMBERS.

Much Interest Shown in the Different Lines of Work in Young Men's Association of Hope Chapel.

Much interest was shown at last evening's meeting of the Young Men's Association of Hope chapel. Twelve applications for membership were acted upon and all were voted into the association. It was decided to form a second baseball team to give the first team practice. The candidates for the second team were instructed to report at the field on Grant avenue Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock. The second team will also arrange several games with other teams.

Part of the evening was spent in singing popular songs and it was discovered that there was considerable musical talent among the members. Some of the more enthusiastic are now talking about forming a glee club in connection with the association.

ACTIVE KNIGHTS.

Initiated Eighteen New Members and Then Gave Members and the Guests a Smoker.

The Plainfield lodge of the Knights of Columbus initiated eighteen men to the mysteries of its first degree at the regular monthly meeting last night in the Camera Club rooms in the Babcock building.

Visiting delegates to the number of forty from New Brunswick, Elizabeth and Jersey City took part in the ritual work of the organization.

At the conclusion of the regular ceremonies a smoker was given by the Plainfield Knights.

IN HONOR OF BRIDE.

Luncheon Given By Miss Munger For Miss Lydia P. Ackerman.

A very delightful social function of yesterday was the luncheon given by Miss Jessie Munger in honor of Miss Lydia Platt Ackerman and her bridemaids. The decorations were quite elaborate and the whole affair was one of much pleasure to all.

The menu cards were very unique, being made almost entirely of roses. The guests included the following: Miss Lydia Platt Ackerman, Mrs. Robert Rushmore, of this city; Miss Margaret McCutchen and Miss Dorothea Wells, of Washington Park; Miss Broadhead, of New York; Miss Lacy, of Baltimore; Miss Biker, of New York; Miss DePaw, of New Albany, Ind.; Miss Denniston, of State College, Pa.

Engagement Announced.

Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Emma Wikoff, of Richmond street, and George B. Lindabery, of 505 Watchung avenue. Miss Wikoff is one of the efficient saleswomen at Woodhull & Martin's store, and Mr. Lindabery is connected with the clerical department at the Pond Tool and Machine Works.

CLEANING OUT GREEN BROOK.

BOROUGH HEALTH BOARD MADE ANOTHER INSPECTION YESTERDAY.

A few Boroughites Were Found Dumping Rubbish in the Brook and Were Again Notified to Cease.

Another inspection of the borough side of Green brook was made yesterday afternoon by President Andrew Love, Secretary W. E. Honeyman and Inspector Pangborn, of the North Plainfield Board of Health. They found that in a few cases, rubbish was still being dumped into the brook by people living on the borough side and they promptly gave notice that it must be stopped.

An investigation of the condition of an Italian lodging house, located along the brook, just west of Watchung avenue, resulted in a notification being sent to the owner of the property, who lives in New York, that the house would be condemned by the board if the establishment was not cleaned at once. The members of the board say that it is in a filthy condition. While there were no direct signs of pollution of the brook from the house, it was in such close proximity that the members feared that such would be the case. Complaint was made against the same establishment last year and the owner of the property had it thoroughly cleaned up.

Several people who were notified on a previous tour of inspection to cease from dumping rubbish into the brook, were found to be still offending. They were immediately notified by the inspector and action will be taken against them if they persist.

COURT CRIER.

Number of Candidates, Including E. D. Moffett, Are in Line for Place in Union County Court.

Since the death of Court Crier Marsh, at Elizabeth, there have been an overwhelming number of applicants for the position, which pays $1,200 a year. Among the applicants are J. Williams Crane, of Elizabeth, and Justice Elmore D. Moffett, of this city. The office is an appointive one and great influence is being brought to bear to land certain ones. Judge VanSyckel makes the appointment, and it is believed that an Elizabeth man will get the plum.

WOODMEN MEET TONIGHT.

Will Form Local Organization in This This Evening.

The organization of the Plainfield camp of the Woodmen of the World will take place this evening in Odd Fellows Hall.

Fifty-four men will be admitted at the institutional meeting and those having the preliminary matters in charge claim that this number will be rapidly increased. General Deputies J. B Barnes, of Paterson, and J. W. Browning, of New York will institute the camp.

After Impure Milk.

The North Plainfield Board of Health is determined that the milk supply for the borough shall be maintained in a proper condition. It is quite probable that action will soon be started against one of the borough milk dealers on the ground that he is furnishing impure milk. State Dairy Inspector Vandruff was in the borough yesterday. He secured some additional samples of milk and looked into the condition of several of the dairymen.

Open Cars Put in Order.

All of the open cars of the Elizabeth, Plainfield and Central Jersey Railway Co. which have been stored at Westfield during the winter have been placed in condition for service as soon as the weather will permit. The new open double truckers which have been ordered will be delivered about the first of June.

To Visit Brunswick Fire Laddies.

Warren Engine Company boys will go to New Brunswick this evening to visit the Phoenix Engine Company laddies, who are holding a fair for the purpose of raising funds to purchase horses for their engine and hose carriage. The borough firemen will leave on the 7 o'clock trolley.

Big Democratic Banquet.

The Democratic banquet, to be held at Newark on the evening of April 12, promises to be a grand affair. Hon. W. Burke Cochran, of New Jersey and Col. Gulick, former governor of Arizona, will speak. James E. Martine will represent Plainfield at the banquet.

Crocuses Ready to Bloom.

A rare and beautiful sight will soon be witnessed at the west corner of Grove street and Mercer avenue. Hundreds of crocuses on the lawn at that place, are nearly ready to bloom.

In Justice Mattison's Court.

Justice Mattison yesterday gave judgment to Eugene F. Dorman in his suit on contract against Lyman.

TRIO IN COURT.

Three Men Charged With Drunkenness Brought Before City Judge Runyon This Morning.

City Judge Runyon disposed of three drunk cases this morning at the City Court hearings.

Sentence was suspended in the charge of drunkenness preferred against Peter Peterson who was found in a state of intoxication yesterday morning at Front and Richmond streets by Patrolman Overbaugh. The court was inclined to be mertiful to those who are dependent on Peterson for support.

Patrick Meehan and William Lawrenson for alleged extreme drunkenness and gross profanity were each given the alternative of paying a fine of $5 or submitting to twenty days' imprisonment. The men were arrested yesterday by Patrolmen Overbaugh and Saffron.

EUCHRE PARTY.

Given by Miss Helen Richards Clark at Her Home on Crescent Avenue.

One of the delightful festivities of Easter week was a card party given last night by Miss Helen Richards Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Clark, of Crescent avenue. Fifty young society people enjoyed the charming event. The rooms were artistically decorated with flowers. Supper was served by Davis, of Newark.

The winners of the progressive euchre prizes were Miss Batts, of Bay Ridge, first prize, Mrs. Evarts Tracy, second and Mrs Masters, third Among the men, James Blake won first prize, Mr. Lee, of East Orange, the second and Evarts Tracy the third.

OVERLAND ROUTE.

Railroad Company Will Not Ship Steamer Free of Charge So It Is To Be Hauled By Team.

The Warren Engine Company has made arrangements to transport its engine to Bayonne, in time for the firemen's convention parade May 15, by an overland route instead of by the railroad as was contemplated. A team of horses will haul the engine to Elizabethport from whence it will be ferried to Point Richmond and from there it will be hauled along Staten Island and ferried back to Bayonne.

The Warren Company boys say that the Central has always carried their engine free of charge but that in this case it is necessary for them to contract with the Reading's authorities, who will shortly assume control of the road and that the latter ask a price which they feel they cannot pay.

It is understood that the Exempt Association will ship its handsome hose carriage in the same manner as the Warren Company has adopted.

CASE WILL GO HIGHER.

Trial in Justice Nash's Court Was Won By John Shimer.

The dispossess proceedings instituted by the Central New Jersey Land Improvement Company against John Shimer, were continued yesterday afternoon before Justice Nash and a jury of twelve men. The company was represented by Lawyer W. S. Angleman, while Codington & Swackhamer, with Lawyer William Newcorn, as associated counsel, represented the defendant. The jury was composed of Elston Eddy, G. R. Rockafellow, Andrew Mattis, Garrett Mattis, John Trilby, A. E Hoagland, D. Fitzpatrick, William Whitely, William Godown, John Goodman, Michael Coyne and William G. Morse. The jury brought in a verdict of no case for action.

The defence claimed that Mr. Shimer leased his present residence thirteen years ago and since then has been leasing the house month to month. A year ago the company attempted to get the family out of the house, but the defendant won on a technical point in the lease The house is located at 953 South Second street.

Lawyer Angleman will undoubtedly take the case up on a writ of certorari to the Supreme Court.

Took Possession of Postoffice.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, April 10.—George W. Hope took possession of the Raritan postoffice Monday. He has retained Miss Sadie Galine, who is very popular with the patrons of the office. Miss Burns, another clerk, has been replaced by Mr. Hope's daughter, Miss Bessie.

CITY SCHOOL WORK FOR PAN-AMERICAN.

Exhibit of Local Schools For Big Exposition at Buffalo is Being Prepared.

GREAT VARIETY SHOWN.

SUPERINTENDENT H. M. MAXSON WILL MAKE THE SELECTIONS.

Nearly a Thousand Samples of Work Sent From Different Schools From Which Two Hundred Must be Chosen to be Sent to Buffalo.

The selection of an exhibit of the work of Plainfield's public school pupils to be placed in the New Jersey section of the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo is occupying the careful attention of Superintendent Maxson this week.

In all nearly one thousand specimens of the pupils' work in the various grades have been furnished by the teachers, and it remains for Mr. Maxson to decide just which of these will be selected. As the space alloted to this State is limited, the contribution of this city's school work must necessarily be restricted as far as numbers are concerned. Judging from the merit of the specimens collected it will be a difficult task, indeed, to decide just which of the lot exhibit the most talent.

In all probability not over two hundred of the samples in the several departments of scholastic work will form Plainfield's share of the New Jersey exhibit. As soon as the assortment, as chosen by Mr. Maxson, is ready it will be transmitted to the State Board of Education at Trenton.

The exhibits must be sent Friday and consequently an arduous task is devolved upon Superintendent Maxson to prepare the desired assortment within this limited period.

The samples shown cover the various branches in the regular routine work of this city's schools. Beginning with the kindergarten and ending with the senior class of the High School, the specimens give to one a practical demonstration of just what is being accomplished in the schools.

There are samples of work in paper cutting, outlining brush and ink and pen and ink drawing, pencil and charcoal sketching as well as water color painting, all properly classified according to the respective grades in which the work was done

The drawing and painting is both from still and real life and show much diversification in the selection of subjects. Fruits, flowers, animals and scenery, go to make up the large assortment, but character studies are not missed.

Designing, as well as mechanical and architectual drawing done by the more advanced pupils lend an attraction to the general series. The drawing is all freehand work.

Specimens in abundance in illustrated work in science, geography, physiology, language, geometry, literature and composition and arithmetic are included in the general exhibition, which as an entity reflects great credit on Plainfield's public schools.

SECRET LEAKED OUT.

New Congratulations are in Order for the Young Couple.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Sophie Johnson, formerly of Newark, and Gustav Hoffman, an employe at the sea food market of D. W. Rogers. The event took place Sunday, March 10, and Rev. E. M. Rodman, rector of Grace P. E. church, officiated at his home on East Seventh street. The marriage was kept quiet until a few days ago, when the bride went to Newark to visit her relatives and friends. In some manner the secret became known and the bride received many congratulations. Before she returned home her friends presented her with a handsome hand-painted toilet set as a token of esteem. Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman are now residing on East Second street.

Cake and Candy Sale.

The Young Ladies' Mission Circle of the First M. E. church will hold a cake and candy sale at the home of Mrs. Harry Gee, 816 Third place, Friday evening, April 12, at 8 o'clock. A special musicale and literary programme will be given. A silver offering will be taken

In Regular Service Again.

Several of the extra long trolley cars running between this city and Elizabeth that have been under repairs, have again been put into regular service.

GOLD BARS STOLEN.

Mysterious Robbery on Ocean Liner. No Clew to Thieves.

PARIS, April 10.—A report is received from Cherbourg that three bars of gold were stolen from the strongroom of the steamer Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse on the passage from New York for Bremen.

The value of the gold is variously stated. A story printed here ascribes to the agent of the North German Lloyd Steamship company a statement that it was worth $20,000, while the police are credited with valuing each bar at $20,000.

The theft was discovered when the steamer was about 24 hours distant from the French coast. A safe in the strongroom had been forced open, and the bars were gone. A smaller safe alongside th rifled one containing jewelry and other valuables was not touched.

The story adds that the officers kept the affair a secret and did not interfere with the passengers landing at Cherbourg beyond acquainting the customs officials of the theft and requesting them to search for the gold.

Altogether 159 passengers, all of whom traveled in the saloon, landed, and there was much indignation because of the rigorous scrutiny to which every one of their packages was subjected. The ladies were particularly angry, declaring that they could not be exposed to worse treatment even at New York, but the protests were of no avail. The officials were suave as usual, but they nevertheless persisted in their examinations.

Upon the arrival of the Cherbourg train here the baggage was subjected to a similar search, while the passengers themselves were closely scrutinized by detectives, who obtained no clew to the thieves.

Naval Observatory Inspected.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—The board of visitors to the Naval observatory assembled in this city yesterday. They reported their arrival to Secretary Long at the navy department and were escorted by him to the White House and formally presented to the president, after which they inspected the apparatus at the observatory, about a mile north of Georgetown. The board is composed of Professor Ormond Stone of the University of Virginia, Professor E. C. Pickering of Harvard university, Professor Charles A. Young of Princeton, Dr. William R. Harper, president of the University of Chicago; Dr. Charles F. Chandler, dean of the School of Applied Science, Columbia university, and Professor Asaph Hall, Jr., of the University of Michigan.

Appomattox Day In Chicago.

CHICAGO, April 10.—The anniversary of the surrender of General Lee at Appomattox was celebrated by the Hamilton club last evening with an elaborate banquet, to which 3,500 invitations were issued and of which two-thirds were accepted. The dinner, which was held at the Auditorium hotel, was one of the most pretentious affairs ever given by the Hamilton club. It was attended by many of the alumni of Michigan university and of the University of Chicago as well as the members of the club and invited guests. The chief speakers of the evening were Bishop Dudley of Kentucky and President Angell of the University of Michigan.

Death Caused by Injuries.

MOUNT HOLLY, N. J., April 10.—Dr. Alexander H. Small, who made the autopsy on the body of Gwendolin Haines of Delanco, N. J., who is said to have died as a result of ill treatment at the hands of Mrs. Howard Haines, her stepmother, said the child's death was due to inflammation of the brain, the result of injuries received. Mrs. Haines is in jail here, and today she will have a hearing before Justice Garrison, when it will be determined whether there is sufficient evidence to warrant sending the case to the grand jury.

College Reunion.

NEW YORK, April 10.—The annual reunion of the Eastern Association of Wells College was held at Sherry's yesterday. Miss Helena Zaches, the president of the association, occupied the chair, and at her table were Professor William M. Sloane of Columbia university, Mrs. Grover Cleveland, Miss Helen M. Gould, Mrs. S. A. Swenson, Miss Orton, Mrs. Emmons Bryant and Mr. Morgan and Mr. Griffin of the Wells college faculty.

Indiana Mines Closed.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 10.—The national executive committee of the Mine Workers' association continues work. According to a statement given out at headquarters the condition of affairs in the block coalfields of Indiana is extremely critical, and all mines are closed. The powder question is still the cause of all the trouble, and, it is said, the miners are unanimous in their attitude.

Shot Sweetheart and Self.

CHATTANOOGA, April 10.—T. L. Arrington, a well known young man of Summerville, Ga., shot and killed Miss Mamie Cleghorn and then killed himself. Arrington had been engaged to the young woman, but because of parental objections the engagement had been broken.

Good Price For an Almanac.

BOSTON, April 10.—At the auction sale of the library of the late George Olcott of Charlestown, N. H., an almanac for the year 1667 was eagerly sought by collectors and was finally struck off to one in this city for $155.

German Iron Works Destroyed.

BERLIN, April 10.—The big iron works at Ooynhausen were destroyed by fire yesterday, the damage reaching 500,000 marks. The fire is believed to have been of incendiary origin.

New Jersey Central Employees Taking Secret Ballot.

COMPANY BLAMES LABOR AGITATORS

Brotherhood In Wilkesbarre Said to Have Cast a Unanimous Vote For a Strike—No Official Announcement Has as Yet Been Made.

NEW YORK, April 10.—Negotiations between the employees and officers of the Central Railroad of New Jersey are still going on, but as far as can be learned at the offices of the company it was not known whether there will be a strike or not. It is evident that sentiment among the employees is divided. Some of the men, particularly those on the New Jersey division of the road, are bent on a strike, and are doing their utmost to force one. On other divisions, however, the men are not so determined. A dispatch from Wilkesbarre said that there would probably be no strike. A later dispatch from them says that the men on that division have voted unanimously for a strike, but that it is believed that Vice President Warren will do his utmost to avoid trouble by granting a conference with the co-operative committees of the employees and in that way effecting a compromise.

One of the officers of the New Jersey Central in speaking of the trouble said:

"The root of it all is that in the last few years the affairs of the employees of the road have fallen into the hands of professional labor agitators, and this road will not deal with them. The officers of the road have never refused to meet the men."

Brotherhood Favors Strike.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., April 10.—The brotherhood employees of the Central Railroad of New Jersey held a meeting at Ashley last night. The gathering was for the purpose of learning some news from New York, but none came, and the meeting adjourned shortly after 10 o'clock. Another report is that the result of the voting on the strike question was made known at the meeting. No information was given out beyond the fact that the brotherhoods were almost unanimous for a strike.

Married After Forty Years.

NEW YORK, April 10.—Joseph Keeley of Cleveland and Mary Ann Cole of this city, who said goodby to each other in Ireland on Easter Monday 40 years ago, were married last night by the Rev. Father Flynn in St. Joseph's church in Washington place, and after the services they had a celebration worthy of winding up 40 years of courtship at the bride's home, 57 West Eighth street. The bride was a spinster who had waited since 1861 for the man she had promised to marry when she was 13 years old. The bridegroom was a widower with nine grown up children. He didn't wait the 40 years to make Miss Cole his first wife, because he heard 39 years ago that she was dead.

Nebraska Supreme Court.

LINCOLN, Neb., April 10.—The supreme court commission of nine members created by act of the legislature was made effective yesterday when the three justices of the court announced the selection of three Republicans, three Democrats, two Populists and one Gold Democrat. The commission has a life of two years and will pass on cases the same as the justices. The court at present is seven years behind in its work.

Wise Viceroys These.

SHANGHAI, April 10.—The Yang-tse viceroys and governors have forwarded a memorial to the throne suggesting certain reforms. These reforms suggest among other things that the royal princes and students of good family should travel and study in foreign countries, that the entire army be drilled by western methods, that colleges and schools be extended and that a standard dollar currency be adopted.

Knox Sworn In.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—P. C. Knox, the new attorney general, attended a meeting of the cabinet yesterday for the first time. He took the oath of office in the cabinet room shortly before the hour for the members to assemble. The oath was administered by Associate Justice Shiras of the supreme court, the only other person present beside the president being the young son of Mr. Knox.

Fire at Richmond Docks.

RICHMOND, April 10.—Fire on the upper dock destroyed the ice plant of Mrs. Jane King and the tobacco factory of Hagan, Dart & Co. The loss is estimated at about $50,000. Truckman Horace Clark was caught beneath falling bricks, and one arm and one leg were broken. The fire is supposed to have originated from a spark from a stationary engine in a woodyard.

Big Transfer of Oil Property.

BEAUMONT, Tex., April 10.—One million two hundred and fifty thousand dollars has been paid for the property of the Texas Western Oil company, formerly the Southwestern Oil company of Corsicana. This sale includes the Beatty gusher, which has a producing capacity of 7,000 barrels per day. The sale was consummated for a syndicate of eastern capitalists.

The King to Live at Frogmore.

LONDON, April 10.—The World says King Edward will make Frogmore his week end residence during May, June and July. This place is an ideal residence during the hot weather. The grounds are heavily wooded, and an aviary built by the prince consort adjoins a large, pleasant room with an immense bay window looking out on the terrace.

Famous Swamp Sold.

ATLANTA, April 10.—The famous Okefenokee swamp in south Georgia has been sold to Charles Hubbard & Sons of Michigan. The consideration, it is understood, is $175,000. The swamp contains 354,000 acres, and its circumference is 137 miles. The sale carries with it the land, timber, water courses and game with which the swamp abounds.

Molineux Appeal in June.

NEW YORK, April 10.—David B. Hill came from Albany to have another consultation with District Attorney Philbin concerning the Molineux case on appeal. Ex-Senator Hill said that in his opinion the case would be argued before the court of appeals during the June term.

CANAL BILL OPPOSED

The Antis Appear Before Committee at Albany.

STRONG ARGUMENTS PRESENTED.

Lewis of Monroe Offers as a Substitute His Good Roads Measure to Bond State For $5,000,000.

ALBANY, April 10.—By a vote of 7 to 5 the assembly canal committee last night decided to report to the house today for reprinting as amended the $26,000,000 canal improvement referendum bill. The amendments made to the bill are the same as adopted by the senate when the bill was ordered to a third reading. They provide that the Oneida feeder shall be included in the improvement and that an annual tax shall be imposed for 17 years to pay for the work to be done under the provisions of the act.

The anticanal advocates had their second encounter with the friends of the canals yesterday afternoon at the hearing given by the assembly canal committee on the $26,000,000 referendum canal improvement bill introduced by the canal committee in both houses.

Assemblyman M. E. Lewis of Monroe was the first speaker. He offered as a substitute bill for the measure his good roads bill bonding the state in $5,000,000 for improvements to good roads.

He believed that the canal improvement question should be dropped and the good roads improvement taken up.

N. G. Spaulding, representing the New York State Tax and Transportation Reform association, opposed the bill. The vital difficulty, he maintained, in the way of adopting the canal enlargement plan under discussion was the reshipping at Buffalo.

Assemblyman Burnett of Ontario, on behalf of his constituents, registered his protest against the bill. He said he had watched with interest and admiration the untiring efforts of the coterie of gentlemen from Buffalo in pushing the bill. There was a time, he said, when the city of New York held the palm in the lobby, but lately it had taken a back seat in favor of Buffalo.

E. B. Norris, master of the state grange, speaking against the bill, said:

"This $26,000,000 will follow the $9,000,000, and we know where that went."

"We don't know that yet," said Assemblyman Swift, sotto voce.

John I. Platt of Poughkeepsie next opposed the bill. If this bill was passed, he contended, the state would be bunkoed, as the canals since the abolishment of tolls had been a hindrance to commercial supremacy of the state and should be abandoned.

Former Senator John Laughlin of Buffalo was the principal speaker in advocacy of the bill.

Others who spoke for the bill included George Clinton of Buffalo, Verplanck Colvin of Albany and William E. Cleary of New York city.

Adjournment Date April 23.

ALBANY, April 10.—The legislature will adjourn on April 23. This has been settled, although Senator Ellsworth still believes the date should be the 26th, as the senate needs that time to finish its business.

Katz Confesses to Plot.

NEW YORK, April 10.—Confessing that it was he who wrote the letter to George H. Penniman threatening to blow up the latter's house on Fifth avenue unless $500 were placed in a hiding place where he could find it, Elias C. Katz, 18 years old, is a prisoner at police headquarters, having been arrested by detectives who shadowed him for more than 24 hours. In his confession the boy said he wrote the threateneing letters because he wanted to raise money enough to go on the stage. Two letters were written to Mr. Penniman, the first demanding $500 and the second $700.

Mammoth Steamers Building.

NEW LONDON, Conn., April 10.—The Eastern Shipbuilding company of this city is now constructing in its new yard on the east bank of the Thames river two vessels which will have a greater tonnage and displacement than the mammoth Celtic recently launched at Belfast. These large vessels are being built for the Great Northern Steamship company, of which James J. Hill is president, and will ply between Seattle and the orient, their route being probably by the way of Yokohama and Hongkong to Manila, a journey of about 6,500 miles.

Methodist Conference Opens.

SPENCER, Mass., April 10.—The New England conference of the Methodist Episcopal church commenced its one hundred and fifth annual session in the Methodist Episcopal church in this town at 9:30 o'clock this morning. Bishop Earl Cranston, D. D., presided. The conference, which will continue throughout the week and Monday of next week, will hold evening sessions in the Congregational church. The programme as arranged contains many addresses by members of the conference and others.

Coal and Clay Beds to Be Worked.

DUBOIS, Pa., April 10.—The immense coal and fire clay beds owned by the Clinton Coal company along the east branch of the Susquehanna river are likely soon to be developed. The company is composed of eastern capitalists, who, it is stated, will commence operations within the next 60 days. The towns of West Port, Lock Haven, Renovo and Shintown will be greatly benefited if the operations are started.

New City's First Election.

ONEIDA, N. Y., April 10.—At the special city election yesterday, the first under the new city charter, a large vote was polled., Julius M. Goldstein (Rep.) was elected mayor by 225 majority. Four Democratic and two Republican aldermen were elected. Jerry T. Durham (Rep.) was elected city judge and R. A. Hill (Dem.) chamberlain.

Bounty Money For Sampson.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—The United States court of claims has rendered a decision in favor of Admiral Sampson for $3,330 as a bounty growing out of the engagements at Manzanillo and Nipa bay in Cuba during the Spanish war. The court also rendered a decision in favor of Fleet Captain Chadwick, who participated in these engagements.

Apostle Cannon Sinking Rapidly.

MONTEREY, Cal., April 10.—Apostle Cannon of the Mormon church is rapidly sinking, and death is hourly expected.

AGUINALDO SIGNS.

The Peace Manifesto Ready—Insurgent Leaders Surrender.

MANILA, April 10.—Although the officials are uncommunicative, it is nevertheless said that Aguinaldo has signed the peace manifesto.

Chief Justice Arellano drafted the document. Aguinaldo strongly objected to two clauses therein, and considerable argument was required to overcome his objections.

Colonel Aba, the insurgent leader of Zambales province, with 13 officers, 83 men and rifles, surrendered to Lieutenant Colonel Mancil C. Goodrell, commanding the marines stationed at Olongapo, on Subig bay. General Malvar, with about 300 men and as many rifles, is expected to surrender shortly at Silang, in Cavite province.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

Persia has raised the duty on imports from Russia.

Passengers from Dawson report that pneumonia is prevalent in the Klondike.

Grace church, New York city, raised $100,000 in one collection Easter morning.

The New York senate passed a bill compelling butcher shops to close on Sunday.

Queen Alexandra left Copenhagen to visit the Empress Frederick at Cronberg.

The war department denied the story that troops were to be withdrawn from Cuba.

Emperor William has ordered that the English language shall take the place of French in Germany's high schools.

Cincinnati's Silver Service Found.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—The handsome silver service belonging to the cruiser Cincinnati, which has been lost for the last two years and which the navy department used every effort to get trace of, has been found. It was entirely lost sight of for many months, and only recently was the first trace of it secured through an officer who had been on the Cincinnati when the Spanish-American war broke out. In the rush of getting ready for the war the Cincinnati made a hurried stop at the Norfolk navy yard, where she stripped herself of all superfluous belongings. Among the articles unloaded was the souvenir silver service. In the hurry of departure no receipt was taken for it. It was stored away without knowledge of its value, as the officers of the ship were expected to look after such a possession. It has been found intact, and steps are taking to restore it to the Cincinnati.

Planning For Big Wheat Harvest.

WICHITA, Kan., April 10.—D. W. Blaine, a director of the Southwestern Kansas and Oklahoma Improvement Dealers' association, is planning to go before the Western Passenger association to ask for a special rate for at least 10,000 harvest hands to take care of the small grains in the wheat belt in June. He will ask a rate of 1 cent per mile from the Mississippi river. The estimate of 10,000 hands is made from a canvass of farmers by school districts. The crop in the wheat belt will be 25 per cent heavier than that of last year.

Crushed to Death In Their Home.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., April 10.—The family of James Smith, including the father, mother and four children, were instantly killed in their home last night by the sliding of the huge dump of the Granite mine. The Smith residence was located just below the base of the dump. The recent snows had softened the dump so that the top suddenly slid down, crushing the house and burying its inmates. Hundreds of men are now digging away the dirt and rock, but it is not thought possible that any of the victims will be found alive.

First Coaling Station Completed.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—The first United States coaling station to be located on foreign soil has just been completed at Pichalinqui, on the west coast of Mexico, and the collier Alexander is now taking on 5,000 tons of coal at Baltimore to stock this latest acquisition of the navy. The station is on California bay, at the extreme end of the long peninsular which juts down from California and is known as Lower California, although it is an integral part of Mexico.

Cuba Will Send Commission.

HAVANA, April 10.—The Cuban constitutional convention has formally reconsidered the vote against sending a commission to Washington, the final vote standing 20 in favor of reconsideration to 8 opposed. The programme now is to appoint a commission of five who shall in the first instance wait upon Governor General Wood, discuss the situation with him and ask his advice regarding the procedure necessary in the present case at Washington.

Shipwrecked Crew Rescued.

BALTIMORE, April 10.—The steamship State of Texas, which arrived here yesterday, had on board Captain Berry and the crew of six men of the wrecked schooner Erie, picked up at sea last Sunday. The Erie was wrecked the day before on Frying Pan shoals, and her master and crew were drifting almost exhausted on a raft when rescued by Captain N. S. Eldridge of the State of Texas.

King Edward's Racing Plans.

LONDON, April 10.—Great changes are contemplated at Ascot Heath. The royal inclosure will be abolished, and two race meetings will be held annually instead of one. King Edward will transfer his breeding stud to Ascot. His majesty intends to increase his racing stud largely and to maintain the tradition that racing is the "sport of kings."

Organized at Oswego.

OSWEGO, N. Y., April 10.—The Oswego Knitting company has been organized here to manufacture knit goods and to make a specialty of sweaters. O. S. Osterhout, Thomas Moore and others are interested.

Something entirely new and interesting. Read what you are to do. You may get 1,000 dollars. Our contest is to see who can make the largest list of names (or kinds) of birds from the following list of letters:

W D O O O C C K Q U L I A P R T A R
I D G E S P N I E L V E B R D I M W
A D O H T L

We will recognize as a bird anything belonging to the feathered tribe, whether it be a Hen, Crow, Singer or any other kind. You can use any letter as many times to make a name as it appears in the list of letters above; for instance Woodcock, Plover, Snow Bird, etc. To any persons who can make a list of 25 or more different names of birds, we will give absolutely FREE a beautiful Prize value 1,000, dols. or less.

BIG PRIZES AWARDED DAILY.

When you have made out your list fill out the line on the bottom of this advt, and send to us with a stamped Addressed envelope, stamp of your country will do, then if you are awarded a prize you can if you desire get the prize by becoming a subscriber to The Woman's World. We shall award a prize to every person who sends the name of 25 Birds, and our gifts will be as follows: For the best list, received each day, a Gold Watch; for the second best solution each day a beautiful Imported Tea Set; for the seven next best solutions each day, a Konrah Spain Diamond and Ruby Ring; for the next best solution, a Gold Piece; and for all other correct solutions, Prizes of Good Value. These Prizes will be forwarded daily, you will not have to wait a long time in uncertainty before you know the result. There is no element of lottery in our plan, it makes no difference whether we get your solution late or early in the day. All you need is to mail this advt. to us, and on the day it reaches us, if your list is the best, You shall have the Gold Watch, or if second best the beautiful Tea Set, and so on. We guarantee that we will award you a prize. There is absolutely no opportunity for deception on our part—we cannot afford it. We want to get 1,000 000 well-satisfied subscribers, and for that reason we don't want you to send any money until you know exactly what prize you have gained by answering the puzzles. As soon after 4 p. m. each day as possible, the examiners will judge the lists to the best of their ability, and will designate the prizes. We will write to you at once notifying you what prize has been awarded you, then if you are satisfied, you can send your subscription to The Woman's World and your prize will go by return of mail, carriage paid. To a person of narrow ideas it seems impossible that we should be able to make such a gigantic offer, but we have the money, brains and reputation, we know exactly what we are doing, and if we can legitimately gain a million subscribers by this grand idea we know that this million of well pleased subscribers can be induced to recommend The Woman's World to all friends, thereby building up our circulation still further. We are willing to spend 25,000 dollars in this contest in building up a big subscription list, and when this money is spent we reserve the right to publish a notification that the contest has been discontinued. Don't delay until it is too late. The contest will continue until July 1, 1901.

We give a Bonus Prize of 250 dollars, independent of all others, to the person who sends in the list gotten up in the best and handsomest manner. Our committee will decide and award prizes daily, but the special 250 dols. prize will be awarded in September, 1901. Any birds name found in the dictionaries accepted.

MOST LITTLE BABIES DIE, either from bowel troubles or from diseases which they contract because they are in a weak and feeble condition from bowel troubles.

Mothers who are seeking the ideal and proper medicine to give their little ones for constipation diarrhœa, colic and simple fevers will find LAXAKOLA the great family remedy.

It is the best and most effective laxative for children. BEST because it is safe and made entirely of harmless ingredients. BEST because it is non-irritating and never gripes or causes pain or irritation. BEST because it is sure and never fails. BEST because "Children like it and ask for it."

It is a dangerous thing to give little babies violent remedies that rack and rend their little bodies. DON'T DO IT—give them LAXAKOLA.

A few drops can be given with safety to very young babies, and will often relieve colic by expelling the wind and gas that cause it, and it also will check simple fevers, break up colds and clear the coated tongue.

Great relief is experienced when administered to young children suffering from diarrhœa, accompanied with white or green evacuations, from the fact that LAXAKOLA neutralizes the acidity of the bowels and carries out the cause of fermentation, aids digestion, relieves restlessness, assists nature and induces sleep.

LAXAKOLA FOR WOMEN. It is a gentle and safe remedy to use during all conditions of health of the gentler sex whenever their peculiar and delicate constitutions require a mild and efficient laxative and tonic, and is invaluable in assisting to relieve obstructions which otherwise would lead to more or less severe pain or illness. It improves the complexion, brightens the eyes, sharpens the appetite, quickens the circulation, removes muddy and blotched condition of the skin and cures sick headache to a certainty by removing the cause. To women suffering from chronic constipation, headaches, biliousness, dizziness, sallowness of the skin and dyspepsia, Laxakola will invariably bring relief and a speedy cure.

At druggists, 25c and 50c., or send for free sample to THE LAXAKOLA CO., 132 Nassau Street, N. Y., or 156 Dearborn Street, Chicago.

PLUMER TAKES PIETERSBURG.

Seventy-five British Captured by the Boers Near Aberdeen.

LONDON, April 10.—The war office has received the following dispatch from General Kitchener, dated Pretoria, April 8:

"Plumer has occupied Pietersburg, Transvaal, after slight opposition. We had one officer and one man killed. The Boers evacuated the place the night before after blowing up two truckloads of ammunition.

"We took 60 prisoners, capturing a 7 pounder and destroying 210,000 cartridges, 1,000 rounds of 7 pounder ammunition and a considerable amount of powder and dynamite.

"Byng captured 16 prisoners and 50 horses and a depot of stores at Bosman's Kop.

"A detachment of about 100 men of the Fifth lancers and the Thirty-second yeomanry under Captain Bretherton was attacked about ten miles north of Aberdeen by 400 Boers. After resisting from daybreak until 11 o'clock our force was surrounded and captured. Twenty-five of our men escaped."

Kruger Names the Date.

PARIS, April 10.—Le Rappel, which has already published several remarkable statements as to the plans of Mr. Kruger, displays the following dispatch from The Hague this morning: "Mr. Kruger's departure for the United States has been fixed for May 31. He will lecture in Tammany hall about June 8 as the guest of the Democratic party."

A New Southwestern Railway.

KANSAS CITY, April 10.—President A. E. Stillwell of the projected Kansas City, Mexico and Orient railroad confirmed a dispatch from Chihuahua, Mexico, stating that a contract had been let for the construction of the road between that city and San Angelo, Tex., a distance of about 500 miles. The road will cross the Rio Grande at Presidio del Norte, where a bridge connecting the two countries will have to be built. Mr. Stillwell added: "The railway will be finished and in operation between Kansas City and its terminus on the Pacific ocean a year from next June." The distance of 200 miles between Kansas City and Wichita will be built this summer.

Dry Goods Combine.

NEW YORK, April 10.—Official notice of the rumored combination of department stores was given yesterday by J. Pierpont Morgan & Co., who solicited subscriptions to the stock of the Associated Merchants' company. The company is capitalized at $20,000,000 and proposes to acquire dry goods businesses or interests in this and other cities. The prospectus states that a one-half interest has been secured in both the H. B. Claflin company and the Adams Dry Goods company and that the James McCreery & Co. Twenty-third street store has been bought outright.

Alice Neilsen Captures London.

LONDON, April 10.—London gave an enthusiastic welcome to "The Fortune Teller," which was produced last evening at the Shaftesbury theater under the direction of Mr. Frank L. Perley by the Alice Neilsen opera company. Unless all signs fail the piece is in for a run at least as long as "The Belle of New York." Every detail of the production—principals, chorus, costumes, staging, music and book—received cordial approval from an overflowing audience. Miss Neilsen, whose first appearance in England it was, won an instantaneous triumph.

Mayor Johnson After Corporations.

CLEVELAND, April 10.—Mayor Johnson has decided that the corporations doing business in this city do not pay their just proportion of taxes and has taken steps to have their assessments increased. A force of clerks has been put to work preparing a list of all the big concerns, together with blue prints of their establishments and the taxes they pay. When full information has been obtained, the mayor proposes to go before the city board of equalization and demand that the corporations be compeled to pay what he terms equitable taxes.

To Investigate Laborers' Complaints.

COLON, Colombia, April 10.—Mr. James P. McDonald, the New York railroad contractor, who, on behalf of a Scotch syndicate, is constructing the railroad from Guayaquil to Quito, in Ecuador, arrived here yesterday on his way to Guayaquil, where he will personally investigate the complaints of ill treatment made by the Jamaican laborers and will redress their grievances. Three hundred Porto Ricans who have been engaged to work on the Guayaquil-Quito line are expected to arrive here soon.

New England Southern Conference.

TAUNTON, Mass., April 10.—The opening service of the sixty-first session of the New England southern conference was held this morning at 9 o'clock in the First Methodist Episcopal church, Bishop J. W. Joyce of Minneapolis presiding. The morning sessions throughout the week will be devoted to business and the afternoon and evening sessions to addresses and anniversary exercises.

Governor Shaw In Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, April 10.—The twenty-first annual banquet of the Young Republican club was held here last night. Among the speakers were men of international importance. They included Governor Shaw of Iowa, Governor Stone of Pennsylvania, United States Senator Penrose and others. Governor Shaw was the orator of the occasion.

Russian Students Liberated.

LONDON, April 10.—Referring to the policy of the new Russian minister of public instruction, General Vannovsky, the St. Petersburg correspondent of The Daily Mail says: "General Vannovsky has lost no time in exercising clemency, but has already liberated 383 students. It is expected that he will introduce drastic reforms."

Hobson to Return to Duty.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—Naval Constructor Richmond P. Hobson has been assigned to special duty in the bureau of construction and repair, navy department. He will assume his new duties next Tuesday.

Wisconsin Women Cannot Vote.

MADISON, Wis., April 10.—In the assembly a joint resolution for a constitutional amendment to enable women to vote was killed by a vote of two to one after having been advanced to third reading.

LOGAN REMEMBERED

Bronze Statue of Famous General Unveiled.

ADDRESSES BY M'KINLEY AND DEPEW

Interesting Ceremonies at the National Capital Attended by Mrs. Logan and Relatives and Many Notables.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—The heroic bronze equestrian statue of Major General John A. Logan, which rests on an imposing bronze pedestal in Iowa circle, was unveiled yesterday in the presence of the president, the cabinet, the widow and relatives of the gallant soldier, many of his comrades in arms and a vast multitude of people. The sculptor, Franklin Simmons, who was knighted by King Humbert of Italy as a tribute to the artistic character of the work, also was present. Master George Tucker, a grandson of the honored warrior, pulled the unveiling cord at 2:45 o'clock. The folds of the large American flag fell away, and the dashing figure of "Black Jack" Logan seated on his charger stood revealed amid a roar of cheering that echoed down the intersecting streets and avenues.

The president and members of the cabinet had been escorted to the statue by a military parade under command of Colonel Francis L. Guenther of the Fourth United States artillery. The procession included detachments from the artillery and infantry arms of the regular army, a battalion of marines and a company of seamen from the navy yard, a provisional regiment of the District of Columbia militia, members of the Societies of the Army of the Tennessee and Army of the Cumberland and members of the local veteran associations. Mrs. John A. Logan and the other relatives sat upon a platform at the base of the monument.

The president and his cabinet and other distinguished guests occupied a flag draped stand opposite this platform, while in another stand extending around the monument were other guests, including many of General Logan's old comrades, representatives of John A. Logan post, G. A. R., of St. Louis, the Logan Republican club of Brooklyn and the Logan club of Philadelphia.

General Grenville M. Dodge, president of the Army of the Tennessee, who is the only living general represented in the group on the bronze pedestal showing General Logan in council of war with his commanding officers, presided over the ceremonies.

At the moment of the unveiling a section of the Fourth artillery fired a national salute on the White lot, south of the executive mansion.

President McKinley received an ovation as he was introduced, and it was some time before he could begin his remarks. He spoke in part as follows:

"My fellow citizens, it is a good token when patriots are honored and patriotism exalted. Monuments which express the nation's gratitude for great deeds inspire great deeds. The statue unveiled today proclaims our country's appreciation of one of her heroic sons whose name is dear to the American people, the ideal volunteer soldier of two wars, the eminent senator and commoner, General John A. Logan.

"Logan's career was unique. His distinction does not rest upon his military achievements alone. His services in the legislature of his own state, in the national house of representatives and in the senate of the United States would have given him an equally conspicuous place in the annals of the country. He was great in the forum and in the field.

"Some names instantly suggest a sentiment. That of Logan stands for exalted patriotism. This was the key of his success. Party politics to him was nothing when the Union was in danger. When the alternative came, he was swift to dedicate his life and fortune to the party of Lincoln because it stood for the indivisibility of the Union.

"Logan was never half hearted. An intense patriot, he was also an intense partisan. He was forceful in the senate, as he was undaunted in battle. He had convictions and followed them to their conclusions at any cost. He was never a trimmer nor a laggard. He despised duplicity, was the soul of frankness and always at the front in every struggle, civil or military, during the years of his eventful life. He was a leader from boyhood, the recognized captain among his youthful associates. His integrity was pronounced and served him well, as integrity will serve every man who has and keeps it. His success was founded on good character, unfailing sincerity, high courage and unremitting industry. He came out of the war with the highest military honors of the volunteer soldier. Brilliant in battle and strong in military council, his was also the true American spirit, for when the war was ended he was quick and eager to return to the peaceful pursuits of civil life.

"In Washington, with most onerous and exacting senatorial duties resting upon him, he was devoted to the wants and necessities of his old comrades.

"As a popular orator his voice has been heard in every state and territory of the Union, always for his country and for the flag he so much loved. He was among the first commanders of the Grand Army of the Republic, and to him we are indebted for that beautiful service which on the 30th of May each year brings to the graves of the soldier dead, among whom he now rests in everlasting comradeship, the offerings of an affectionate people and the undying gratitude of a nation.

"The highest eulogy ever paid him was by his father. The latter in his will divided his property between his widow and children equally, except—and I quote from the will—'John Alexander, whose marked abilities are such that he can provide for himself and aid his mother, it necessary. This provision is not made from want of affection, but because of unbounded confidence in his future success.' What a remarkable tribute from father to son! That expression of faith was enough to quicken the young man's noblest aspirations and call out the best that was in him. Beloved of father, wife and children, beloved of his comrades in war and in peace and beloved of his country, his whole life realized his father's prophecy and its words would adorn any monument to his fame."

The president several times was interrupted by applause, and there was a great outburst of cheering when he concluded.

The oration was delivered by Senator Depew of New York.

Golf in Plainfield.

The golf season in Plainfield is to open Saturday, April 20, when play will begin on both of the local courses. Both courses are reported to be in fine condition and improvements to be made give promise of ever better condition in the near future. During the last year, the two local clubs were run in a successful manner financially and both are now on a firm foundation.

Since golf was first introduced in this city, it has grown steadily in general popularity until today there are two flourishing clubs located here. The field seems plenty large enough to support the two clubs and both are growing in membership.

It has often been said that golf was simply a fad which would soon decline in popularity. There is no sign of such a decline at present and from every appearance the game will remain here many years as it seems to have taken a firm hold on those who, for various reasons, do not care to participate in the more active outdoor sports.

Neither club has yet announced its programme for the coming year but there will doubtless be enough events to keep the interest of the most ardent golfer. There are a number of cups and trophies which are still to be contested for and others will undoubtedly be offered before the schedules at the clubs are announced.

The Daily Press is advocating the general use of water meters in Plainfield because we believe that it would afford immediate relief from the charges of the Plainfield Water Supply Company, to which so many householders are objecting. By no means let it interfere with the promotion of the municipal ownership of the water supply plant. But it will take time to bring about the change in the water works system. In the meantime it is to the advantage of every consumer of water to pay for his supply of water according to the amount he uses rather than by the number of taps. It can only be brought about, however, by a general demand for meters. Let that general demand be made.

An experienced New England merchant, remarks the Philadelphia Record, recently gave expression to his views on effective advertising, and as he virtually repeated what so many others have said his opinions may be regarded as established principles He declared that "it is the constant, steady pull that wins customers." He named "dozens of concerns that have grown rich from the liberal use of newspaper space," while he knew of "no successful merchant who did not advertise." Finally, "newspaper advertising is the best and in the long run the cheapest."

Somerville has just been considering the subject of a water supply. One company had its pipes laid in that town and was furnishing the town with water at the rate of $25 a year per hydrant. Plainfield is now paying $15 a year per hydrant. A new company wanted to enter Somerville and lay its pipes there. Then the old company offered to renew the contract with the town charging $15 a year for each hydrant. The offer was accepted and the new company was refused the permission to lay its pipes in the Somerville streets.

The month of April has already seen two of the oldest and best-known citizens of the community pass away. There was only a year's difference between Phineas M. French and Mahlon Vail, both of whom were well known by sight to nearly all of the residents of city and borough, while each had a large circle of friends in the place.

The recent letter in the New York Herald, signed "M. K.," more than anything else demonstrates the wisdom of systematicly advertising Plainfield and the necessity of putting our claims and advantages plainly and honestly before the public. There is no city in New Jersey or out of it that can compare with Plainfield as a home. We know it and the rest of public should be made aware of the fact.

Why is the situation any different in Plainfield than it was in North Plainfield? The Borough Board of Health acted at once and took measures to see that Green brook and its banks were kept clean of rubbish. Why cannot the city Board of Health take similar action?

No delay is being shown in the work of widening Somerset street. The borough officials desire to have the improvement made as soon as possible so that the borough will be in condition for the throng of summer visitors who annually visit this community.

Plainfield has many fraternal organizations, but there always seems to be room for one more. Now the Woodmen of the World are preparing to locate a branch here and it was not so long ago that the Knights of the Golden Eagle established a lodge in this city.

Through a misunderstanding, the notices were sent out calling the public meeting of the Board of Trade for last Monday evening. The meeting will be held next Monday.

These are busy days for the local society folk. An unusual number of attractions have been planned for the week.

Valuable Property at Auction.

J. E. VanWinkle, Auctioneer, will sell at Public Auction by direction of the owner, Mrs. Emma Jones,

THURSDAY, APRIL 11, 1901.

21 Choice residential building plots on LaGrande Ave., Putnam Ave. and Richmond St, Plainfield, N. J., as shown on the map. We call attention of persons seeking a home in the most select and convenient part of the city of Plainfield.

Builders and speculators will find in this property a location where sales are readily made and where all modern houses are rented as soon as finished.

This property will be conveyed by warrantee deeds free and clear of all incumbrances by a perfect title.

Terms ten per cent on day of sale, forty per cent on the delivery of the deed, on or before May 1st, the balance of 50 per cent may remain on bond and mortgage if desired.

Homes built on these plots will have the advantage of the grand old shade trees, all of 25 or 35 years growth, covering the tract, which add comfort and the appearance of a long settled neighborhood, always considered desirable by persons with taste, discrimination and refinement.

Netherwood cars from depot in Plainfield pass the premises.

For further particulars and maps apply to John M. Jones, 352 Washington St., N Y; or of the auctioneer, J. E. VanWinkle, 21 Montgomery St, Jersey City.

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence.)

Dunellen, April 10.—William Liable is confined to his home on North avenue with two of his ribs fractured as the result of an accident which befell him at Somerville Saturday. He was crossing a street at that place when a careless driver ran him down. The wagon passed over him and in addition to the injuries named he was badly bruised. Medical attention was given him at once and he was afterward taken home.

A two seated surrey, belonging to W. G. Runyon, and driven by John Runyon, was badly wrecked in a collision on New Market road near Center street early Monday evening. The owner and driver of the second rig was J. Trusty Holden, of New Market. Runyon's surrey was turned over and fell against a tree. The top was almost completely torn off. It is alleged Holden was responsible for the accident.

During his attendance at the Newark conference now in session at Hoboken, Rev. S. K. Doolittle will be entertained by Rev. Joshua Mead, a former pastor of the local Methodist church. The latter is the father of Rev. Mr. Mead, pastor of the Hoboken church in which the conference meetings are held.

Another meeting of the local Board of Trade will be held tomorrow evening at which time several matters of importance will be brought up for consideration.

Mrs. Ann Dunham and daughters, Miss Lizzie and Miss Ella Dunham, have returned home after a month's visit with George Dunham, of New York.

In the Middlesex County Court yesterday, Judge Strong refused to grant the application of Paul Krätzel to sell malt liquors in Piscataway township.

Mr. and Mrs John Leonard are receiving congratulations over the arrival of a baby daughter at their home.

Miss Margaret VanArsdale, who is a pupil at the Trenton Normal School, is spending her Easter vacation at home.

The Mandolin, Banjo and Guitar Club will be entertained this evening by Miss Loretta Clawson.

William H. Terry spent yesterday with his sister, Mrs. William Dove, of Metuchen.

Miss Woodland has gone to Elizabeth for a few days' visit with relatives.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence.)

New Market, April 10—The Township Committee has begun to repair the bad spot in the road near the Newtown schoolhouse which has earned the sobriquet of the "Underground Railway." During the spring it is impossible to pass the spot with an ordinary heavy load.

The breaking of a breeching strap was the cause of Z P Osmun's horse running away last evening as he was returning from Dunellen. Mr. Osmun succeeded in stoping the horse before any serious damage was done.

Mr. Bradner, a former employe of the West Shore Railroad, has taken a position with the Lehigh Valley, and is stationed at bridge 28.

The G. E. Club was entertained last evening by Miss Alice Pierce. The next meeting will be held at the home of W. J. Davis April 16.

The citizens of New Market have made application for the use of the New Jersey Free Library.

The Eclipse ball team expects to meet the nine from South Plainfield Saturday.

George Pizie & Co. have purchased a new wagon for use in their huckster business.

Harry Dunham, of Cuba, N. Y, is visiting his grandfather. H. V. Dunham.

Miss Mae Brower has returned from a brief visit with Brooklyn relatives.

P. C. Clawson, of Potters Crossing, visited friends in town yesterday.

PLAINFIELD AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence.)

Scotch Plains, April 10—A kind friend in Brooklyn who desires to have his name unknown, has presented the Methodist church with two dozen chairs for use in the class rooms. The gift is a very acceptable one and much appreciated.

Miss Rachel G. Mair, of Plainfield, will speak in the Baptist church Sunday evening next on her work as a missionary to Africa. Miss Mair spent three years in Africa and is well informed concerning the work there.

Dr. Parks is having his property improved. His house is being painted an attractive color by Henry Kuehn.

Mrs. Westcott, who has been visiting out of-town friends for a few days, returned home last evening.

Mrs. Derby, of Park avenue, is seriously ill, and her friends are quite anxious concerning her.

Miss Nancy Wade, of Mahwah, this state, has returned home after a visit with her parents.

Miss Nettie Reick, who has been visiting Plainfield friends, has returned home.

Mrs. Josephine Hollingsworth, of Brooklyn, is a guest of Loftus Hollingsworth.

Miss Ada Miller, of Fanwood, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Youndt, of Dunellen.

William Buckley is improving every day, and his ultimate recovery is now assured.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD

(Special Correspondence.)

South Plainfield, April 10.—Surveyors are working upon the Field property on Plainfield avenue. The place is to be divided into lots for selling purposes.

The Christian Endeavor business meeting was held last night, in the lecture room after the regular meeting of the church.

The prayer-meeting, last night, in the absence of the pastor and deacons, was lead by Bethume Dunham.

George Reed, of Trenton, is making a visit with his uncle, Rev. J. A. Cubberley.

The Middlesex Athletic Club will meet this evening in Higgins' Hall.

Evening of Euchre.

Miss Evelyn Simonson, of Duer street, entertained a few friends at her home last evening. The evening was spent in playing euchre and various games and in dancing. Before the guests left for their homes refreshments were served by the hostess.

AT THE THEATRES.

Something About the Attractions Which Plainfield Theatre-Goers May Care to Witness.

David Higgins' beautiful southern play, "At Piney Ridge," is the attraction at Music Hall tomorrow night. Its action takes place in Chattanooga and the mountains of Eastern Tennessee about 1885. It deals with the passions of men and women today, and tells a story of absorbing interest The characters are strongly drawn and as strongly acted. The stage settings are fine specimens of scenic art, that of the first act showing the porch and garden of General Deering's plantation, and that of the third act representing a scene in the Tennessee mountains, being particularly beautiful. The producing company is a powerful one and the production will be given with every attention to detail.

. . . . . .

The great musical rural drama, entitled "Down on the Farm" with the celebrated "Hayseed Quartette" and "The Squashtown Band and Pumpkin Orchestra" will be the attraction at Music Hall next Monday night, and from all accounts, it is a very entertaining play, worthy of consideration and patronage. Mr. Chas Manley, a thorough good artist of many years experience appears as Seth Huckins, an honest old farmer, and will be supported by a company of artists of reputation. There will be a grand street parade of all the characters with the band and orchestra, Monday noon.

. . . . . .

This is the third successful season for John W. Vogel and Arthur Demings Big Minstrels, which will be at Music Hall, Tuesday, April 23. The large crowds which everywhere greets this mastodonic organization evidence that a paying public still finds keen enjoyment in a well presented minstrel programme, which by the way, has been completely changed since the companys last appearance here.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. K. Rottberg, of West Third street, has recovered from a serious illness.

Miss Grace Rowland, of East Second street, is visiting at the home of W. C. Rowlan, of Easton, Pa.

Twin girls were born yesterday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gavin, of Mountain avenue.

Miss Edna VanCleef, of East Millstone, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Walter C Dobbins, of Elmwood place.

Miss Gertrude Hamilton, of LaGrande avenue, has gone to Baltimore, where she will visit for a time.

James DeCamp, of Kenville, N. J, is spending the Easter holidays with his father, Franklin DeCamp, of Linden avenue.

B. A. Brown, of Bristol, Conn., has returned home after a visit with his mother, Mrs. Moses D. Brown, of Watchung avenue.

The condition of Randolph Dunham, of Madison avenue, is much worse and the family are alarmed concerning his recovery.

B. A. Hegeman, Jr., returned last evening from a business trip to Detroit, and this morning he went to Philadelphia on business.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Herbert Case, of 83 Duer street, are receiving congratulations over the arrival of a fine little boy. The young man arrived last evening at 9 o'clock.

Bei der Eröffnung, die in Gegenwart des Graf-Regenten geschah, fehlten die sozialdemokratischen Abgeordneten Obier, Becker 1, Becker 2, Schmuck. Die meisten Wahlen wurden für giltig erklärt. Beanstandet wurden die Wahlen der Sozialdemokraten Schmuck-Lemgo, Becker-Oerlinghausen und Obier-Detmold. Es sollen verschiedene Unregelmäßigkeiten bei diesen Wahlen vorgekommen sein, außerdem sollen Nichtstimmberechtigte gewählt haben.

Korbach. In Eppe wurde der Zigeuner August Reinhard verhaftet, der vor einem Jahre den Zigeuner Emil Weiß im Streit erschossen hatte und seitdem unter falschem Namen im Lande umhergezogen war.

Großherzogthum Hessen.

Darmstadt. Die Zweite Kammer genehmigte einen Antrag Schmidts, der die Regierung ersucht, darüber Erwägungen anzustellen, welche Einnahmeausfälle der Staatskasse erwachsen würden, wenn die Bewohner von Kastel und Kostheim bei Mainz vom Brückengeld befreit werden.

Bad Nauheim. A. Seethaler, früher langjähriger Direktor des Hotels „Rheinischer Hof" in München, zuletzt Inhaber des „Kafe Luitpold" in München, erwarb durch Kauf das „Hotel Kaiserhof" hier um die Summe von 1,250,000 Mark.

Bingen. Ende November v. J. wurde der Kutscher Kutz im Stalle von dem Fuhrknecht Grieser mit einer Mistgabel erschlagen. Ein Grund zu der That lag durchaus nicht vor, Kutz hatte sich aber den Haß des in demselben Hause bediensteten Gärtners Schröder zugezogen. Dieser hetzte Grieser so lange gegen Kutz auf, bis Grieser, von einer Kirmeß kommend, die That vollbrachte. Grieser erhielt von der Strafkammer die Strafe von fünf Jahren Gefängniß, der Anstifter dagegen 5½ Jahre Zuchthaus.

Gießen. Die Strafkammer verurtheilte den Tapezirer Friedrich Pittroff wegen Majestätsbeleidigung zu sechs Monaten Gefängniß.

Offenbach. Unentgeltliche Geburtshilfe und Beerdigung ist hier eingeführt worden. Für beide Posten wurden in den städtischen Etat vorläufig 10,000 Mark eingestellt.

Bayern.

München. Die vom Staatsministerium auf die Ergreifung des Räubers Kneißl ausgesetzte Prämie von 1000 Mark ist an Frau Lorenz und ihren Ehemann ausgezahlt worden. Frau Lorenz ist eine Verwandte Kneißls, die diesen und seinen ihn mit Proviant versorgenden Freund Wöst, einen in München beschäftigten Arbeiter, mit Hilfe eines jungen Mädchens, ebenfalls einer Verwandten, überlistete, so daß Kneißls Gefangennehmung erfolgen konnte. Der Ehemann der Lorenz war aus München ausgewiesen und darf jetzt wieder nach „Isarathen" zurückkehren. — Die Münzgesellschaft erwarb den farblosen „Münchner Boten" und verschmolz ihn mit ihrem klerikalen „Bayerischen Kurier."

Bayreuth. Der frühere langjährige Bahnhofs-Restaurateur Flintsch, in dessen Schlafzimmer Nachts Balken glimmend geworden waren, wurde Morgens erstickt im Bett aufgefunden.

Dachau. Vor Kurzem starb im Markte Indersdorf der 73 Jahre alte Schneidermeister Schlagenhauser, der als fleißiger Arbeiter und guter Gesellschafter in der ganzen Gegend bekannt war.

Kitzingen. In einer Nacht brach im Ehemannsbräu auf der Malzdarre ein Brand aus, der sich dem Thurm der katholischen Pfarrkirche mittheilte und diesen bis auf die Mauern einäscherte. Auf der Brauerei blieb nur das Wohnhaus von dem Feuer verschont.

Königshofen. Ein Militärballon, der mit Leutnant Welter aus Köln als Ballonführer und Leutnant Strümpel eine Freifahrt von Berlin aus unternahm, landete nach 12½stündiger Fahrt im benachbarten Großeibstadt.

"Do you sell many of these?" asked the student of human nature as the village druggist handed him a 5-cent packet of Ripans Tabules.

"Sell many?" answered the druggist. "I hardly sell anything else. Those people have only taken an old prescription and put a name to it. I wish I could hit on a snap like that."

"They don't claim anything more, do they?"

"Why, no! and that's the funny part of it. Even the name is made of the initials of the drugs of which the stuff is compounded, and I have been making about the same mixture for all the doctors about here ever since I was a boy."

"Yes, but you used to sell it as a powder or a liquid. This tablet form is more convenient and better, isn't it?"

"Doubtless, and it's the people who buy it now instead of the doctors, though the doctors buy the R.I.P.A.N.S too."

"And everybody else?"

"Yes, I think half the business men in town carry one of these 5-cent cartons in their vest pockets, and the women use them as much as the men do. I guess about everybody uses them now—more or less."

WANTED—A case of bad health that R·I·P·A·N·S will not benefit. They banish pain and prolong life. One gives relief. Note the word R·I·P·A·N·S on the package and accept no substitute. R·I·P·A·N·S, five cents, may be had at any drug store. Ten samples and one thousand testimonials will be mailed to any address for five cents, for a dozen to the Ripans Chemical Co., No. 10 Spruce St., New York.

MILK BATHS.

The Evils of Grandmother's Remedy For the Complexion.

Theoretically, on account of its cream and albumen, milk is valuable, but the advantages are more than counterbalanced by the very irritating character of the salts and sugar contained in the milk. As a rule, milk renders the skin red in a patchy way. Skins differ very greatly in their sensitiveness to the action of milk. When it can be used without subsequent irritation, it should always be warmed, not boiled.

It must be borne in mind that milk quickly undergoes septic change. If used as a lotion and the skin is not cleansed daily with hot water, soap and rinsing, pimples may be expected.

The milk bath of the experts, about which such wild statements have been made, is never adopted as a routine agent for treating exposed parts of the skin. It is always followed by careful cleansing and at the first sign of irritation, papular or otherwise, by proper remedies.

SPRING AND SUMMER WAISTS

The Latest Things In Silk and Wash Materials.

Yesterday I was wandering in and out of the fashionable stores trying to find something new to talk about. The newest things were the dainty silks for summer wear. One of the real novelties in this line is a white surah with black polka dots. These are large or small as the taste of the buyer shall decide. Black and white is a combination often seen in so many things that one forgets nearly all of them. In one place were some very dainty shirt waists made with the material draped across the bust surplice style, and the V shaped space is filled in with white batiste, finely tucked and ornamented with lace. The shape of all the waists is closer and more trim and less baggy than any others have been. Pretty silk ones are made of the corded silk and in any color or tint best liked, and many are hand embroidered. Wide or narrow belts are worn, the wide shirred black velvet girdle being quite a favorite, and deservedly so, as they can be worn with anything. Some have sailor or rolling collars or revers of black velvet. Others again are richly ornamented with rows of the Persian castle braid. Indeed the liking for this is almost a fad.

As to the cotton waists, it is manifestly impossible to do them justice, but they are of everything, from lawn to the most delicate of batiste, and many are embroidered by hand—madras, oxfords, cheviots, hand embroidered linens, piques, dimities, dotted and embroidered swisses and no end to the Persian designs in soft mercerized cottons. The white flannels and the dainty and pretty cashmeres all are among them and many more. The silks prepared expressly for the purpose are legion. Cords and openwork effects are among the favorites, and I notice a quantity of rumchundas. Real Chinese pongee silk is one of the dearest and the coolest and nicest of all the materials unless you except the embroidered linen lawn. Shirt waists no longer have yokes.

Among the things for summer wear are white flannel suits and also pique and brilliantine, all white, but in some instances trimmed with metal braid. In trimming many things we see heavy black silk guipure insertion instead of the chantilly, so long the first choice. This is often set in between the cloth and is exceptionally rich. I saw so many dress patterns done in lace applique in white and other light tinted crepe de chine that I can remember but a few. One has all the cut out spaces outlined with silver thread, and once in awhile there would be a dot of some choice color, like turquoise blue or pink. Some of them had Persian colorings in with the metal.

I must not forget one of the very daintiest things I ever saw, and that was long scarfs of chiffon, and these were edged with a fringe made of white chicken feathers. Some of the feathers were downy, like marabou, and the others were such as grow upon the neck of the fowl. They are to tie around the head and neck after the opera or some other function where there is no bonnet worn.

Among the colors now appearing to be the best liked one sees much decided color instead of the light pastel shades; still some of these will be worn, particularly tans and biscuits; also gray and modes. HENRIETTE ROUSSEAU.

There will always remain something to be said of women as long as there is one on the earth.—De Boufflers.

SPANKED HIS WIFE.

Did It in the Old-Fashioned Way and Then Forced the Police to Arrest Him.

"A police cell is preferable to a home with a mother-in-law," was the assertion of Arthur J. Murray, of No. 1907 Second avenue, to a New York Press reporter.

"I'll keep the husband who spanks me locked up, if he wishes it," was the retort of his wife, Mrs. Lucille Murray.

At seven o'clock the other evening Murray rushed into the East One

OLD-FASHIONED DISCIPLINE.

Hundred and Fourth Street police station.

"Will you please lock me up?" he asked, meekly.

When Sergt. Fitzgerald refused and ordered him out, Murray's meekness vanished.

"I'll make you, then. I won't go!" he shouted.

Policeman Joyce attempted to drag him out. The little man fought.

"Lock him up on a charge of disorderly conduct," was the sergeant's order. When Policeman Joyce was sent to Murray's home, he found Policeman Van Twister and an angry wife.

"He spanked me when he came home to-night," said Mrs. Murray. "He took me across his knee and used a strap. He whipped me for no reason."

Murray admitted that his wife's story was true.

"But there was a reason for whipping her," he explained. "There is a father-in-law, an uncle-in-law, a mother-in-law—no end of laws camped in my house. I couldn't get rid of them; she wouldn't. I spanked her as a last resort."

NEWSBOYS MUST GO.

Railroads Are Issuing Edicts Which Are Decidedly Hard on Enterprising Youths.

"I see," said the more or less prominent citizen to a Chicago Tribune reporter, "that the railroads are beginning to forbid news agents to run on their trains. That will be hard on young men who start in life as I did. When I was 14 I was acting as a 'peanuts' on a train which ran through a section of the west where good drinking water was hard to get. In each coach was a big tin water cooler, into which I was accustomed to spill a pound of salt before the train started on its journey. When the passengers went to the coolers to get a drink they usually took no more than a sip and appealed to me.

"'Can't you get me a drink of decent water?' they would say.

"'The water is alkali in this country, you know,' I would answer. 'I may be able to get you a drink at some station ahead, but I'm afraid I'll have to pay for it.'

"'Well, get us some water anyway that we can drink.'

"In the baggage car at the front end of the train I usually had a cooler full of fresh and cold water, and I made several dollars each trip selling it at five cents a glass."

Mouse Broke Up a Concert.

An uninvited guest was present at a state concert in the Vienna palace. The emperor of Austria and several titled dignitaries were present. Mme. Saville was warbling an affecting solo, when she caught sight of a mouse timidly creeping across the carpet. She stopped singing and began shrieking and so terrified the mouse that it ran toward a group of ladies. They clutched their skirts and fled, and the concert came to an inglorious end.

Woman the Weaker Vessel.

Four years ago David S. Sage and his wife, of Lebanon, Ill., were killed in a storm. In a suit for the settlement of the estate, which is worth $10,000, it became necessary to decide which died first. If the husband, the wife's heirs would be entitled to her share of the estate; if the wife, then his heirs would get all the property. The court decided that as the woman was presumably the weaker person, Mrs. Sage must have died first.

AN ORDINANCE

to Regulate the Use of Automobiles and Similar Vehicles.

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, by their Common Council, do enact as follows:

Section 1. That all automobiles, locomobiles and similar vehicles when in use on the public highways, streets or places of the city, are hereby required to have a lamp of such illuminating power as to be plainly seen one hundred yards attached thereto, and kept lighted between one hour after sunset and the following sunrise.

Sec 2. That all automobiles, locomobiles and similar vehicles shall carry an alarm bell, horn, gong or whistle securely attached thereto, which, when sounded, may be heard one hundred feet distant. That such bell, horn, gong or whistle shall be sounded as an alarm by the person in charge of such vehicle upon approaching another vehicle from the rear, or upon approaching pedestrians crossing the street, or upon the approach of another vehicle on the same street or on a street intersecting the street ridden upon.

Sec. 3. That no person in charge of any automobile, locomobile or similar vehicle shall cause or permit the same to be propelled through any of the streets, alleys, highways or public places of the city at a speed greater than the rate of ten miles per hour.

Sec. 4. That any person violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall, on conviction, be liable to a fine not exceeding Twenty Dollars for each offense.

Adopted by the Common Council March 18, 1901.

Approved by the Mayor March 19, 1901.

OLIN L. JENKINS, Mayor.

Attest: JAMES T. MACMURRAY, City Clerk.

Corporation Notice.

Notice is hereby given that the following Ordinance has been introduced before the Common Council, read the second time and ordered engrossed preparatory to its third reading, and that it is the intention of the Council to adopt the same.

GEO. B. WEAN, City Clerk pro tem.

Plainfield, N. J., April 1, 1901.

AN ORDINANCE

to amend an ordinance entitled "An Ordinance concerning the assessment, collection and enforcement of taxes in the City of Plainfield, pursuant to an act of the Legislature of the State of New Jersey, entitled 'A further Act concerning Cities,' approved March 17, 1882," which ordinance was approved May 2, 1882, and amended April 2, 1889, and March 6, 1899.

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, by their Common Council, do enact as follows:

Section 1. That Sec. 3 of the ordinance referred to in the title of this ordinance be and the same is hereby amended by striking out the word "December" where it occurs in said section, and substituting in its place the word "November."

Battleship "Illinois" a New Gem for the Navy

The Magnificent Ship Is Also the Pride of the State for Which It Is Named

WHEN the new battleship Illinois is officially added to the naval register there will be a new gem in the list of the fighting machines of this country, of which there are but few equals. During the trial tests of the new ship she has made a record of which every citizen of the state for which she is named is proud, and they feel that the fair name of Illinois is safe upon her prow.

The launching of this ship at Newport News October 4, 1898, was an occasion of great public interest, particularly among people of the inland states whose attention to naval matters had not been aroused by navy department notice since the Iowa was water born, and the ceremony was attended by many prominent in social, civic and national affairs. The opportunity was seized by western railroads to get business, and many excursion trains were dispatched coastwise to enable westerners to witness the interesting event.

As the great ship plunged into the water, carrying 500 people and a band of music, she presented a splendid spectacle, which stirred the onlookers into a burst of cheers, above which rose a shrill chorus of whistles from all the steam craft that were near.

Miss Nannie Leiter, of Chicago, christened the vessel with champagne. She started to throw the gold-netted bottle just as the ship slid down the ways, but through nervousness she hesitated and only succeeded in casting it at the last moment, the glass breaking only a foot from the edge of the prow. Had she hesitated another second the christening would have been a failure.

THE UNITED STATES BATTLESHIP "ILLINOIS."

The Illinois is 368 feet long, with an extreme width of 72 feet 2½ inches. The maximum displacement, with all ammunition and stores aboard, is 12,325 tons. The full coal bunker capacity is from 1,400 to 1,500 tons. It will have 40 officers and 499 seamen, marines, etc. The main battery of this monster vessel consists of four 13-inch breechloading rifles and 14 six-inch rapid-fire guns. In the secondary battery are 16 six-pounder rapid-fire guns, four one-pounder rapid-fire guns, two Colt and two field guns. The vessel has four torpedo tubes. Each of the six-inch guns are in a separate compartment, which is provided with a splinter bulkhead of steel, and any injury to or near one of these guns will be confined to its own compartment. From the stern to abaft the after turret the armor belt is 16½ inches thick at the top and 9½ inches thick at the bottom, except at the stem, where it is tapered to four inches. Protection from a raking fire is afforded by diagonal armor 12 inches thick, extending from the slopes of the protective deck to the top of the side belt on each side. The armor on the 13-inch gun turrets is 17 inches thick on the front and 15 inches on the rear and sides, and on the barbettes of these turrets it is 15 inches on the rear and sides. The inner bottom and hold, splinter and berth decks and the platforms are divided into 200 and 300 water-tight compartments, which, accommodating motive power and stores, will tend to preserve the ship in the event of injury to its outer skin. Coffer dams extending on each side the length of the ship increase the protection in this respect. There are forward and after conning towers. The "Hichborn" turrets, the ammunition hoists and the ventilating blowers are operated by electricity, and the cranes, deck winches, pumps and stearing gear by the auxiliary engines. Manual labor is therefore reduced to a minimum.

One striking difference between the Illinois and the Oregon class in the navy is the high freeboard of the former, which will enable her guns to be fought in seas so heavy that the batteries of the lower vessel would be submerged. The floor of the pilot house is 44 feet above the water, and the sight holes in the conning towers are 34½ feet above the sea. Increased sea-going power is also expected from this higher freeboard. The Illinois has bilge keels, which are placed before and abaft the midship body only, so as to offer no obstacle to docking the vessel.

The launching of the ship was a very pretty spectacle. As is invariably the case, it descended into the waters stern first. Along the side of its bow, on the surface, the launching platform had been erected, on which the distinguished guests, besides Miss Leiter, stood. From the opening for the anchor chains in the bow a rope descended to the platform, and attached to it was the bottle of champagne to be used in the christening. Miss Leiter held the bottle in her hand, and was expected to throw it with a gentle propulsion toward the side of the hull as soon as the ship started to move. When the bottle burst the sparkling contents, like an exquisite shower of refreshing Pommery, fell in a spray upon the occupants of the platform. The contractors had provided a bottle of wine incased in silk netting, but the Illinois visitors brought along another, covered with gold netting, and this was used by Miss Leiter.

It is a matter of state pride that the bronze bell which announced the marine time on board the brick battleship at the world's fair in '93 has been accepted by the department and now hangs under the bridge to resume its duties in actual naval service. Cast on its outside surface is the following inscription:

"Presented to the United States battleship Illinois by Julia Arthur Cheney and Benjamin P. Cheney.
"To thine own self be true, and it must follow, as the night the day, thou canst not then be false to any man."

Another and perhaps more interesting trophy will be the beautiful silver service for use of the wardroom officers which will be presented the last of April or early in May, when it is proposed to make a gala day for the subscribers to the fund for its purchase. The ceremony will take place at Old Point Comfort and as many as possible of those interested will meet the president at a banquet in honor of the occasion.

A year or more ago, when it was expected that the battleship would be much sooner completed, a citizens' committee was formed for raising a fund to present the battleship with a set of silver. On this committee are a number of leading citizens of this city and state. The delay in the completion of the battleship rendered the committee inactive until within the last six months, when the committee for award asked for proposals, and after a long consideration made the award.

The committee is still short of funds to the amount of $1,200 to $1,500, and is appealing to the public-spirited citizens of Chicago and the state to send in their donations. In all cases they have declined to receive any subscriptions from any one person of more than $25. This is done for the purpose of giving everyone who desires an opportunity to join in paying a compliment to the battleship that has taken the name "Illinois." John R. Walsh, Chicago national bank, is the treasurer of the fund.

SPORTING.

ON THE DIAMOND.

An exciting game of baseball was played on thh old golf grounds Monday afternoon between the Watchung team and the team from the Underwood Athletic Association. The latter team won by a score of 18 to 17. The battery for the winning team comprised Jack Douglass, pitcher; James Scott, Jr., and McKee Duncan, catchers. For the opposing team Minford pitched and Lark and Willis were the catchers. Another game will be played by these teams Thursday morning at 9:45 o'clock.

VARIOUS SPORTS.

The Y. M. C. A. junior gymnastic contest was held in the gymnasium yesterday afternoon. Nine boys took part. Moves were made on the horse, parallel, low parallel and low horizontal bars. The winner was Everitt Sherwin, with Luther Shepperd, second and Percy Phillips, third. They secured 144, 139 and 121 points respectively. A silver medal will be presented to each of the winners.

The series of athletic events which have been held at the Y. M. C. A. during the winter were concluded with a running high jump Saturday. Three men entered, all of whom cleared four feet, four inches. The record for the past three years has been held by Ray Carroll, who cleared five feet, three inches. The winners of the series and their respective points were as follows: Wm. Heinecke, 225; W. E. Neal, 209; Ray Smith, 208. The first man will receive a silver medal.

FUNERAL OF MRS. ALEXANDER.

Held From the Church of the Holy Cross Yesterday Morning.

The funeral services of Mrs. Elizabeth Alexander, the wife of James A. Alexander, of Mercer avenue, were held yesterday morning at 11:30 in the Church of the Holy Cross.

Rev. Wm. M. Downey read the funeral service and the vested choir of the church sang very feelingly. The floral tributes placed on the coffin were very beautiful and many of them were sent from a distance by sorrowing friends. The pall bearers were: Samuel Townsend, David N. Groendyke, Edward Faber and George P. Dupee.

The body was taken to Philadelphia in an afternoon train and will be placed in the family vault in a cemetery at that place.

Books Presented to Library.

Mrs. William Graydon, of West Eighth street, has recently presented to the Public Library a very valuable collection of books, thirty-five volumes. Of these many are finely bound and illustrated with old steel and copper engravings, among them are Bennett's New South Wales, Schroeder's Life of Washington, Palmer's Stratford gallery, etc.

Master Mechanics Meet.

The Master Mechanics' Association met last evening and adopted a constitution and by-laws, according to which every member is pledged to secrecy. When the officers of the association were asked this morning concerning the meeting, they announced that all business was secret.

Valuable Gift to Library.

The Public Library has received as the gift of Mrs. W. L. Patton 150 volumes. Many of these are children's books, with colored illustrations, which are already finding appreciative readers, and many comprise books of permanent value, which the Library is very glad to own.

Resting Easily.

EMMET WAS GOOD.

Worthy Successor of the Original "Fritz" and Was Well Supported by a Capable Company.

Those who heard the elder J. K Emmet during his lifetime found his son, who appeared with Miss Lottie Gilson, in "Fritz in a Mad House" last evening, a worthy successor. The play was an excellent one of the kind which should attract a large audience but there was by no means a full house to receive it at Music Hall last evening.

Mr. Emmet is one of the best German comedians on the American stage and his performance last evening was fully up to the usual standard. In Miss Gilson he had an able seconder of his efforts. Her singing was good and she played the part of the young Irish girl in delightful fashion. A strong company of capable artists assisted in making the performance one of the best of the local theatrical season.

SHOT IN FACE.

Blank Cartridge Damaged Thomas Murphy's Face—Young Companion Fired It.

The contents of a blank catridge discharged full in the face of Thomas Murphy, a young lad living on West Fourth street, yesterday afternoon, from a pistol in the hands of a playmate, Willie Doyle.

The two boys were playing at the former's home when they found the weapon, the toy affair with one chamber. A cartridge was procured in some manner and in the excitement of firing it off, Murphy put his face directly in front of the barrel. One of his front teeth were knocked out, a slight wound was made in the cheek and he was burned somewhat. He went to the hospital where the injuries were dressed.

OLD NAVIGATOR DEAD.

Had Known Commodore Vanderbilt and His Compeers Well.

Capt. Veder Fox, said to be the oldest navigator of New York waters, is dead at the residence of his eldest daughter, Mrs. Peter Colon, of Elizabethport. He was in his ninetieth year. He commanded the first vessel in a line of boats that in 1835 plied between Newark and New York. He for many years was engaged in the coasting trade between New York and points on the New England and southern coasts.

During the civil war Capt. Fox carried freight for the United States Government, and after the strife was over he engaged in the business of recovering the contents of sunken vessels by means of a diving bell. Capt. Fox was well acquainted with Commodore Vanderbilt and other prominent water men of that generation.

Die Sinker Narrowly Escapes Horrible Death at Elizabeth

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, April 10 — Vincent D. Meyer, a die sinker in the employ of W. O. Finck & Co., manufacturing jewellers in this city, narrowly escaped a horrible death yesterday in the company's works. He was standing on a stepladder oiling machinery, when the ladder slipped and he was thrown against a revolving shaft. His clothing caught on the shaft, and he was whirled twice around by it before the machinery could be stopped. His clothing was nearly stripped from his body, his arm was badly lacerated and broken in two places, and his body was bruised. He was taken to the Alexian Hospital. Meyer is thirty-three years old and married.

Arranging for Decoration Day.

The Memorial Day committees of Winfield Scott Post met last evening for the purpose of arranging the preliminaries of the Decoration Day celebration. All the committees reported progress. A second meeting will be held Tuesday evening in Comrade Moffett's office at which time committees from the S. of V. and the Woman's Relief Corps will confer with the G. A. R. members.

Suffering From Severe Sprain

Miss Catherine Webster, of East Second street, tripped while walking down North avenue, early this morning, and fell. Persons nearby ran to assist her and she was taken to her home. Dr. Probasco was called immediately, and after a thorough examination the physician decided that there were no bones broken, although Miss Webster is suffering from a severe sprain.

FREDDIE'S MARTYRDOM.

While the Other Little Boys Sang Songs He Filled Himself with Christmas Candy.

Freddie's mother was much displeased with little Freddie. All the little boys and girls were going to be in the beautiful cantata, "A Visit from Santa Claus," at the church on Christmas eve. All but little Freddie. Little Freddie had actually stated his preference for pumping the organ upon that joyous occasion. Think of it! Actually back in that greasy box of a place pumping the organ! Freddie's mother was almost in tears.

"Why, Freddie," she said, "Tommy Allen is going to be Jack Frost and be all dressed up in furs, and Sammy Green is going to be the Ice Sprite and his mother has made him an awfully cute suit, and Joey Brown is going to be all covered with spangles and be an attendant on Santa Claus, and all the little girls are going to be dressed so pretty and sweet, and here you are going to go back and pump that horrid organ. Why, you could have been the Ice Sprite, or Jack Frost, or anything you wanted; and instead of that you went and asked Mr. James if you could pump the organ as your part in the performance. Why, Freddie, I am ashamed of you."

Freddie wriggled and looked uncomfortable, but finally said that somebody had to pump the organ, and as none of the other boys would do it he felt called upon to give up being Jack Frost or the Ice Sprite, much as he wanted to be, and go back and pump the organ instead.

"Why, they can hire some one," said Freddie's mother, indignantly. "It's a shame to make the Sunday school boys pump that organ. I'll hire some one myself for that night."

Freddie said that he guessed now he had promised he'd better keep his word, and his father said: "Let the boy alone. He is self-sacrificing and is quite a hero. I'm proud of him."

So on Christmas night, says the Chicago Tribune, the other little boys arose and shone, and sang songs and made speeches, and strutted like peacocks, while little Freddie sat back in the room behind the organ where all the candy that was to be distributed to the audience was stored. And while the cantata proceeded little Freddie ate and ate and ate, and planted away a half bushel of candy for future use.

THE THREE GRACES.

Apt Turning of a Scriptural Text Upon a Pompous Prelate by One of His Suffragans.

A London newspaper tells a good story about the bishop at London and his suffragans. At a public dinner the three leaders of the church in the diocese happened to be guests. The bishop of London arrived first and the suffragans followed on. As soon as the latter were announced the bishop stepped forward and warmly greeted them, adding:

"So we are all three here, eh? Faith, hope and charity!"

"Yes, we are all here," was the answer, "and I suppose we may designate your lordship, faith?"

"Of course," replied the bishop, "I am faith, Earle is hope, and we shall call you charity, Stepney, because you are always begging."

"Well," was the witty reply of Dr. Browne, "it is not for me to object, for the greatest of the three is charity."

Winter Navigation.

A writer on lake navigation says it is useless to talk of keeping a winter channel open with strongly built ice-crushing boats because the gales are too severe, and the cost of maintaining the boats in motion would be too great. The lake car ferries that make short trips are often delayed for days in reaching port in winter. Three-fourths of the serious losses on the lakes occur in November.—Detroit Free Press.

HAS UNIQUE CAREER.

Story of Benjamin Scoville's Life Reads Like Fiction.

Has Been a Street Gamin, Ship's Cook, Tramp, Actor and Teacher, and Now Will Engage in Missionary Work.

Among the men who do missionary work in the large cities of the world there are many who have had strange histories, but in all the list hardly one is to be found whose life story is more wonderful than that of Benjamin J. Scoville, who is now preparing at the Christian Alliance school in Nyack, N. Y., for special missionary work among the stage folk. In the 30 years of his life this young man has had varied experiences. He has been a street gamin, cabin boy, ship's cook, tramp, choir boy, actor, teacher of elocution and was at one time assistant stage manager for Sir Henry Irving.

Scoville was born in London and his father, a British officer, was killed during the Zulu war, leaving a widow and two children, Ben and a baby sister. Shortly afterward the mother also died, and the two little ones were left to struggle for themselves. By working as a newsboy, street-sweeper and bootblack, the boy managed to obtain food for his sister and himself, but as there was no way to pay for lodging the children were exposed to the cold at night, sleeping in hogsheads or any place they could find. This kind of life proved too severe for the little girl, and she soon died, leaving the boy alone in the world.

The sea had an attraction for him and he secured a place as cabin boy on the ship Vanguard, remaining on the vessel for several years until he was promoted to be the cook's assistant. While he was serving in this capacity he saved the captain's daughter, who had been washed overboard, and for this act of bravery was presented with five pounds by the Royal Humane society.

Later on, while employed as steward's assistant on the steamer Priscilla, he saw Capt. William Hughes, commander of the vessel, throw a weak-minded boy overboard and appeared as chief witness against the brutal seaman who, after being convicted of murder, confessed that he had killed more than 30 boys in the same way, being paid for the acts by their guardians. At the end of the trial Scoville once more returned to sea, but was shipwrecked and drifted ten days in an open boat with little to eat or drink. He was rescued, however, and taken to London, where he was sick for a long time at the Marine hospital.

As soon as he was discharged from that institution he worked his way back to this country and obtained a place as chore boy for a Cleveland (O.) doctor, at the same time attending school until he graduated. Then he went south and worked his way through Howard college in Alabama. Later on he managed to obtain enough work to pay his tuition at the New England conservatory, where he studied elocution and oratory. After finishing his course he took a position with Wilson Barrett's "Sign of the Cross" company, going with that troop to England. While in London he obtained the position of assistant stage manager, and a short time later, during an engagement at Manchester, he fell in love with a young lady, whom he married.

The couple soon returned to this country, and Scoville was appointed professor of elocution at the Galveston (Tex.) high school. On the eve of the great flood his wife was killed and the husband, stunned by grief and without ambition, went to New York, where, by chance, he heard a former opera singer, who was holding a special missionary service, preach. After listening to several of her sermons he decided to take up missionary work himself, and accordingly he is now studying with that object in view.

His principal efforts will be directed toward stage folk or those who have failed to establish themselves on the stage and are drifting into dissolute ways of life.

Electric Roads in Canada.

The statistician of the dominion of Canada represents that there were 54 electric railways in the confederated provinces at the close of last year, aggregating 630 miles of track. Capital amounting to $21,700,000 has been actually invested in these lines. During the year they carried 104,033,639 passengers.

TELEPHONE WAR STILL ON IN BOUND BROOK.

But it Looks as if the End of it Was Now In Sight.

'PHONE COMPANY AHEAD.

ATTORNEY CODDINGTON SECURED ORDER FROM SUPREME COURT.

It Compells Bound Brook Council to Grant N. Y. and N. J. Telephone Company a Right of Way Through Borough Streets.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Bound Brook, April 11—That the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company wires will be strung along the streets of Bound Brook, despite the opposition of the Borough Council, seems to be an assured fact. Former Judge W. A Coddington, of Plainfield, tiring of the stand taken by the Mayor and Council of Bound Brook, served a writ of mandamus last week at a meeting of that body, which compels it to grant the company a right of way through the streets of the borough.

For four years the New York and New Jersey Company has made futile attempts to gain a legal foothold in Bound Brook. Two years ago Former Judge Coddington applied to the Councilmanic body for permission to erect poles along some highways without success and he repeated the request last spring, with the same result. On the last occasion, the Plainfield counsellor informed the Council as to what he considered the legal rights of the company and served notice that he would demand the benefit of the law.

The borough authorities paid no heed to the warning, and Former Judge Coddington applied to the Supreme Court, at Trenton, for a mandamus on the Councilmanic body. This was granted one day last month. Armed with the writ, the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company's attorney attended the Council meeting last week.

He made a few remarks in serving the writ and among other things charged that, on his former appearances, the councilmen had treated his petition as a joke and he now proposed to use rigid methods. In replying to this statement, Mayor Brokaw claimed that the petitions presented were treated seriously and finally rejected.

It is generally understood that the position heretofore taken, by the local authorities, has been prompted by a desire to prevent competition with the Somerset Telephone Company, a local concern.

Now that the Supreme Court has sustained Mr. Coddington, he proposes to see justice done his client, and, in the event of the Councilmanic body refusing to comply with the writ, he will apply to the court for the appointment of commissioners to condemn and assess the valuation of the ground used by the company in erecting the poles through the borough. As the authorities would also be guilty of contempt for not obeying the writ it is likely that no more difficulty will be met with by the telephone people. Although the telephone company has had no legal standing in Bound Brook it has established an exchange there and received more than a score of subscribers. This was accomplished by placing the poles on private property and stringing the wires across the intervening streets.

ENTERTAINED CLUB.

Members of Twentieth Century Euchre Club Were Guests of Miss Bigman.

Miss Carrie Bigman, of Clinton avenue, entertained the members of the Twentieth Century Euchre Club at her home Tuesday evening. The first prizes were won by Miss Lou Young and L. D Townley, while the second were captured by Miss Cora Young and Mr. Derby.

At the conclusion of the games refreshments were served and a dance was held until the early hours of Wednesday morning. The next meeting of the club will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Huff, of Coddington avenue.

HILLSIDE CLUB PLANS FOR COMING SEASON.

Course Will Open April 20—Season's Schedule Has Just Been Announced.

SEVERAL NEW COMPETITIONS

OTHER EVENTS WILL BE ANNOUNCED AT A LATER DATE.

Club is Not in Any League But Will Have a Team, One of the Strongest in the State—Dr. B. VanD. Hedges Will be Captain.

Everything points toward a very successful season at the course of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club this year. The course will be opened Saturday, April 20, and the improvements to it, now under way, will be completed so that the new course may be played over before June ends.

A change has been inaugurated this year in the control of the club. The work has been divided between two committees, one of which will have complete charge of the course and grounds and the other will supervise the tournaments and other events on the links. Elliott T. Barrows is chairman of the green committee and has already begun his work in looking after the grounds of the club.

The golf committee consists of Dr. F C Ard, chairman, Dr. B. Van D. Hedges, Howard Huntington, Morris J. Dumont and Roger F. Murray.

It has been arranged to open the course Saturday, April 20, with play for the Golf Committee cup and prizes for the best gross score. There will be play every Saturday for this cup by active members. It will be handicap play. The following schedule has been fixed upon:

May 18—10 a m, Fisk handicap cup.
May 25—2 p m, preliminary round Chapman cup.
Decoration Day—10 a m, first round match play Chapman cup; 2 p m, semi-finals and Holiday cup.
June 1—2 p m, finals Chapman cup.
June 15—10 a m, Fisk handicap cup; Reinhart cup.
June 22—2 p m, Gilbert cup.
July 4—10 a m, Bogey handicap, Holiday cup.
July 13—10 a m, Fisk handicap cup.
September 2—Labor Day, Holiday cup.
September 14—10 a m, Fisk handicap.
September 28—2 p m, Reinhart cup.
October 19—10 a m, semi finals Fisk handicap cup.
October 26—10 a m, finals Fisk handicap cup.
November 2—2 p m, preliminary round Chapman cup.
November 5—Election, 10 a m, first round match play Chapman cup; 2 p m, semi finals Chapman cup and Holiday cup.
November 9—2 p m, finals Chapman cup.
November 23—2 p m, finals Holiday cup.
November 28—Thanksgiving, 10 a m, Gilbert cup.

Other competitions may be arranged for later by the golf committee.

The Chapman cup given by George A. Chapman, is open for men, active members only, the eight players qualifying at medal play to compete at match play.

The Reinhart cup, given by J. W. Reinhart, is for men's handicap for active members only; eighteen holes medal play.

The Gilbert cup, given by Alexander Gilbert, is for mixed foursomes, handicap for active, associate and junior associate members, eighteen holes, medal play.

The Golf Committee cup is open to active members only, handicap play; each Saturday of the season; the three lowest net scores to receive points and the player scoring the greatest number of points in the season to receive the cup.

The Fisk handicap cup given by Mrs. Charles J. Fisk is for women, competition for active, associate and junior associate members to be played for each month except August, until October, the four winners to play off at (handicap) match play, no one being allowed to score more than one preliminary win for the cup.

The Holiday cup given by Ernest R Ackerman is for handicap play for active members only to be played for every holiday up to Election day; the four winners playing off at handicap match play and no one being allowed to score more than one preliminary win.

Entries must be made before beginning play and handicaps may be re-

CHURCH WAS THRONGED.

MARRIAGE OF MISS LYDIA P. ACKERMAN AND ARTHUR MURPHY.

Grand Church Service Was Followed By Large Reception at Home of Mrs. Robert Rushmore, Sister of the Bride.

With all the splendor of the Episcopal church service, Miss Lydia Pratt Ackerman and Arthur Murphy were married at Grace church yesterday afternoon. The event was one of the most brilliant in the annals of fashionable weddings in Plainfield, both the bride and groom being popular young society people of this city.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs Ellen R. Ackerman and the late J. Hervey Ackerman. She is a grand daughter of the late Rev. Dr. Morgan, of New Rochelle, N. Y. Arthur Murphy, the groom, is the younger son of Rev. Timothy Logan Murphy, formerly rector of the Church of the Holy Cross in North Plainfield. Mr. Murphy, himself, is connected with the Leather Manufacturers' National Bank, of 29 Wall street, New York, and he is a brother of Clarence L. Murphy, the lawyer, of this city.

For weeks past, the smart set eagerly awaited the coming nuptial ceremonies and during the fore part of the week dinners and dances were given in honor of the young couple.

Every detail connected with the nuptials was worked out on a most sumptuous scale. Local society turned out en masse to join in the wedding festivities. Scores of out-of-town friends, many from points far distant, reinforced the host of Plainfielders, who witnessed the consummation of the happy event.

Grace church, as spacious as it is, was hardly large enough to hold the attending throng. The church edifice had been lavishly decorated for the occasion. The stately sanctuary and chancel, filled as they were with rare and beautiful flowers and palms, presented an appearance truly pleasing to the eye. In front and above the reredos and altar were clustered tender sprays of southern smilax and these were interspersed with Easter lilies. The walls were literally covered with smilax. About the chancel steps and in front of the choir stalls were placed potted palms and ferns and these decorations extended to the pulpit.

The tiny lights on the reredos shed a glow on the surroundings that was beautiful to behold. The body of the church had not been neglected in these decorations. Fastened to the side of each pew was a large bunch of fresh lilies.

Long before the time set for the wedding ceremony the edifice was crowded and the major part of the vast assemblage was young women, whose richly colored gowns produced a magnificent sight.

Until the commencement of the service, Clarence Eick, of Elizabeth, formerly organist of the First Presbyterian church in this city, gave a recital on the organ, the selections being principally classical music.

Precisely at 5 o'clock the bridal party entered the church and as the organist played the Swedish Wedding March they moved joyously up the aisle to the foot of the chancel. First came two pages, Masters Marion and Warren Ackerman, nephews of the bride, who were dressed in natty sailor suits of white, Following them were the ushers, Marion S Ackerman, James F. Middledith and Rufus F. Finch, of this city, and Townsend Morgan, of New York. They were dressed in black frock coats with vests of the same material, suede gloves and four-in-hand ties of white material fastened with small gold pins, the favor of the groom. Their boutonnieres were pretty bunches of gardenias.

Preceding the cushion bearer, J. Hervey Ackerman, Jr., who was dressed similarly to the other pages, were the four bridemaids: Miss Anna Riker, of New York City, Miss Mary Wadsworth, of Plainfield, Miss Mary Scott Denniston, of State College, Pa., and Miss Katherine F. DePauw, of New Albany, Ind. They were exquisitely gowned in light blue chiffon trimmed with cluny lace and wore black tulle picture hats. Each of the bridemaids carried a large bouquet of DROWNED HER SORROWS.

Westfield Woman Before City Judge Runyon On Charge of Drunkenness This Morning.

Mrs. Annie Lorton, of Westfield, drowned her sorrows last evening, in mourning over the departure of her husband for California, by imbibing freely from the flowing bowl.

Patrolman Gamo came across her on Richmond street and decided that she was a fit subject for a police case.

This morning City Judge Runyon, who has had to deal with the woman several times lately imposed a sentence of $5 fine or twenty days' imprisonment Judging from her condition it is probable that she will accept free board and lodging at Elizabeth in preference to paying the fine.

ANOTHER OLD RESIDENT DEAD.

RANDOLPH DUNHAM, THE VETERAN TAILOR, PASSED AWAY.

Was Seventy-five Years Old—Spent Most Of His Life in Plainfield—Leaves Three Children.

The death of Randolph Dunham, Plainfield's veteran tailor, occurred at his home on Madison avenue last evening. He had been ill for some time with stomach trouble, but it was only during the past four weeks that his condition was at all alarming. Sunday he became decidedly worse and continued to sink rapidly until the end.

Randolph Dunham was born in Dunellen seventy five years ago. When a young lad he came to Plainfield and was apprenticed to John Titsworth, father of former City Treasurer Alex Titsworth, to learn the tailoring trade. On the completion of his service he opened a shop of his own and for many years was located on West Front street in the building now occupied by Isaac Lederer. With but a few short periods of absence he continued business in various parts of the city until his last illness began.

He was a member and regular attendant for many years of the Seventh-Day Baptist church.

The deceased leaves a wife and three children. The latter are F. A. Dunham, the well-known civil engineer, O. M. Dunham, the West Front street haberdasher and Mrs. T. A. Leber, of Cartaret.

The funeral services will be held from his late residence Saturday afternoon at 3:45 o'clock.

MASQUE BALL.

Members and Friends of Iona Council Cave a Successful One in Red Men's Hall Last Evening.

Iona Council, No. 14, D. of P., and over one hundred of their friends enjoyed themselves last evening at a masquerade ball in Red Men's hall. Dancing was the feature, but there was plenty of merriment occasioned by the grotesque costumes of some of the masquers whose identity was hidden. The women's costumes were very pretty.

The grand march, which took place at 10 o'clock, was led by the committee of arrangements consisting of Mrs. Edward Bowman, Mrs. J. T. Hibbard, Miss Ella Sebring, Mrs. Frederick Westphal and Mrs. Anna Weigmann. All were attired in similar fancy costumes making a very pretty appearance. William A. Westphal, assisted by J. T. Hibbard, C. L. Holstein and William Newcorn were the efficient floor managers. Music for the occasion was furnished by Prof. O'Reilly's orchestra.

OFFENDERS SENTENCED.

Edward Jones Given Thirty Days For Stealing a Wheel in Plainfield.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, April 11.—At Court of Special Sessions and Orphans' Court this morning several persons were arraigned and sentenced.

John Campbell, colored, who on Wednesday last pleaded guilty to stealing several hams from a smokehouse in Scotch Plains, was sentenced to 30 days in jail.

Walter Jones, colored, of Plainfield, for stealing a bicycle valued at $3, was sentenced to 30 days in jail.

The only other person arraigned was Edward Stevenson, who stood charged with the larceny of matting and other household articles. He pleaded not guilty.

Now Out of Business.

G. L. VanEmburgh yesterday accepted an offer for the remainder of his stock of notions, etc., and every thing was removed by the purchaser, and the auction sales discontinued.

Dr. Lewis in Trinity Church.

Rev. Dr. Lewis will occupy the pulpit of Trinity Reformed church next Sunday, both morning and evening.

WHAT'S BEEN DONE AT CHURCH AND CHAPELS

Annual Meeting of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian Church Was Held Last Night.

REPORTS WERE RECEIVED.

FINANCES OF THE CHURCH ARE IN GOOD CONDITION.

Growth of Church and Sunday-school, While Favorable Reports Received From Chapels — $34,287 95 Given For Benevolences.

At the annual meeting of the Crescent Avenue church, which was held last evening, a most satisfactory condition of affairs was found to exist. Not only has the parent church increased and developed more strongly every branch of the work it sanctions, but the three chapels founded and maintained by it, were shown to be flourishing and with one exception increasing in membership. The branch institutions are Hope, Warren and Bethel chapels, all of which are actively engaged in promoting the spiritual welfare of hundreds of persons in their own particular locality.

Not only does the church assist local organizations, but missions and worthy institutions in distant states and far off lands feel the influence of its far reaching aid and generous support. Some idea of the work in this direction may be gained from the report of Secretary B. VanD. Hedges which was by far the most interesting of the many given. By this it was shown that during the past year a total of $34 287 95 had been contributed for congregational and benevolent purposes, an increase over the previous year of $3,291.83. Of this a balance of $199 30 yet remains. This amount includes $10 602 73 raised for chapel support and other home missions. This report also showed the church to have a membership of 942, an increase of eighteen. Thirteen members have been lost by death during the past twelve months. The combined membership of the church and chapels is 1 489. Treasurer William F. Arnold's report was as follows:

Superintendent George A. Strong read the report for the Sunday-school in which he gave the number of pupils as 302, with 34 teachers and 14 officers. This includes the primary and main departments. There has been an average attendance of 192, the largest being 313 and the smallest 48. The receipts have been $632 90 and the expenses $503 64 The pupils have also contributed $606 99 for missionary purposes in addition to sending Christmas boxes and books to other schools. The primary department was spoken of in particular as having shown a very encouraging increase and W. D. Murray, who is in charge, was highly complimented for his work.

Brief reports were also read from the Woman's Home Missionary Society, the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, the Senior and Junior Endeavor Societies, the Boy's Mission Band, and the Sunshine Mission Band, all of which are connected with the church. Rev. G. K Newell and Sup-

BEGINS FISCAL YEAR WITHOUT ANY DEBT.

Satisfactory Financial Showing Made at Annual Meeting of First Presbyterian Church.

MEETING HELD LAST NIGHT.

REPORTS OF PAST YEAR'S WORK AT FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

Church and Parish Meetings Held and Old Officers Re-elected—Pastor's Salary Fixed at $2,500—What Needs To Be Done.

The annual church meeting of the First Presbyterian church was held last evening with a goodly number of members present. Rev. Charles E. Herring, pastor, presided, and H. A. Pope served in his capacity as church clerk. The various reports presented showed that the following amounts have been raised for the maintenance of the church: Church support, $5 000; Home Missionary Society, $513 21; Christian Endeavor Society, $68.34; King's Messengers, $8 78; Advance Circle, King's Daughters, $117 23; missionary fund of Sunday school, $336 84; deacon's fund, $254 57; Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, $121.31; total, $6,420 28.

After the reading of the reports the election of elders took place. The terms of J. M. Bettman and E M. Cave expired, and, on account of ill health, both expressed the desire that they should not be re-elected. Mr. Cave expressed his wishes by word of mouth to some of the officers of the church, while a letter was received from J. M. Bettman. The members decided, however, that it would not be wise to allow these elders to retire and they were re-elected with the understanding that their work should be made as easy as possible. After the election of A. V. Searing and H. E Remsen as deacons, this meeting adjourned.

Immediately after the adjournment of the first meeting, Pastor Herring retired, and the annual parish meeting was held J. A. Haynes was elected chairman, and Mr. Pope continued as clerk. The first business was the presentation of the report of the treasurer, William H. Shotwell. This was a most excellent report and there was much cause for rejoicing when Mr. Shotwell announced that the church was entirely free from debt with a balance of nearly $100 in the treasury. Among some of the important things noted in the report are the following: There were received from envelope collections, $2 084 62; pew collections, $1,091 55; and plate collections, $963 04; paid as salary of pastor, $2 738 50; music, $540.61; sexton, $300

Mr Shotwell then announced that the Easter Sunday collection amounted to $700, and it was this sum that made it possible for the church to pay all indebtedness and have a balance. In a few words he heartily thanked the members for their generosity. He stated that the pastor gave one-tenth of his salary to the church, and in addition he gave $100 toward the indebtedness. In conclusion, he stated that the church organ needed repairing badly and should be attended to soon.

At this time took place the election of trustees. The terms of J. A Haynes, Theodore Pruden and C. E. Bond expired. They were all re elected and in addition Isaac B. Hill was elected a trustee for a term of two years. Those re-elected were for the full term, three years.

It was decided unanimously to make the pastor's salary $2 500, the same as last year. The sum of $600 was appropriated for music. A vote of thanks was extended to Miss Remsen for her faithful services as pianist in the Sunday-school and prayer-meeting; also to the volunteer choir for the faithful services rendered by the members. This concluded all business and the meeting adjourned.

STEALING COAL.

Sergeant Frederickson Claimed He Caught Dennis Outlaw in The Very Act.

Dennis Outlaw was detected by Sergeant Frederickson at 3 o'clock this morning, it is alleged, in the act of stealing coal from the cellar of Stephen Cahoone's residence on Watchung avenue He was promptly placed under arrest.

Outlaw was brought before City Judge Runyon this morning for a hearing. Mr. Cahoone declined to appear against him and hence the man was necessarily discharged by the court.

LEAL'S SCHOOL TEAM DEFEATS BOROUGH HIGH

Opening Game in Local Scholastic Baseball Season Played Yesterday Afternoon.

PLAYED ON PITTIS FIELD

LEAL'S SCHOOL TEAM WON BY SCORE OF 15 TO 12.

Poor Judgment and Costly Errors Nearly Cost Them the Game—Ragged Playing by Both Teams—Showed Need of Practice.

Rather ragged playing on the part of both teams marked the opening game of the local scholastic baseball season yesterday afternoon on Pittis Field, when the Leal's School nine defeated the boys of the North Plainfield High School by a score of 15 to 12. While the Leal's School boys had the stronger team, poor judgment and plenty of errors came very near costing them the game. It was the first game of the year for both teams and they showed the need of practice. A few weeks ought to round both teams into good form, however.

There was practically the same team to represent Leal's School as played for that school last season. The North Plainfield school had considerable new material to try although the battery was the same as last year. It was the opening game on the new diamond at Pittis Field and the ground was rather rough.

After the Leal's School boys scored once in the first inning, the boroughites started in to play ball. They managed to hit Dupee's delivery with some freeness. Some costly errors and very poor judgment in the infield allowed the North Plainfielders to bring in runs which should never have been scored. The climax of it all was in the fifth inning when Dupee fielded a grounder to first with two men on bases and both men scored on a subsequent wild throw. North Plainfield netted five runs in that inning and things began to look dark for Leal's.

With two men on bases, Tilney made a hit out on Stelle avenue which was good for three bases. Five runs for Leal's in their half of the fifth brought the score up to 13 to 12, in favor of Leal's.

In the next four innings, the borough High School boys were shut out entirely while the Leal's School nine scored two runs. The last half of the ninth inning was not played. The Leal's team braced up wonderfully and played the last four innings in their old time form. Griggs won much applause by a great one handed catch.

The boroughites could not hold the pace toward the last of the game and errors were more frequent. Crite pitched a good game but his delivery was so slow that the base runners had no trouble in stealing second and third at will. Dupee was wild during the first part of the game but settled down to business as the game progressed. Fifteen errors were scored against Leal's and only seven against their opponents.

The teams were as follows:

AT THE THEATRES.

Something About the Attractions Which Plainfield Theatre-Goers May Care to Witness.

The offering at Music Hall tonight will be David Higgins' beautiful southern play, "At Piney Ridge." The locale of the play is amid the rugged mountains of Tennessee, and the atmospheric possibilities of this out-of-the way section are taken full advantage of by Mr. Higgins in the action of his drama. The roughness of the mountain life with all its undersweep of deep humanity in its simplest, yet truest moods, are depicted with a great deal of fidelity and keen insight into the true nature of the people of this out-of the way section. The plot is strong and reasonable. A mountaineer, who is gentler and better than his environments, seeks the station his merit and manhood would assign him. Just as he is reaching the goal of his ambition he is charged with possessing negro blood. A chain of evidence is constructed that seems impossible of breaking. From this plot a strikingly powerful story is woven which is sustained until the denouement is reached. All this is centered amid scenes of pastoral simplicity, the very air being ladened with home like beauty. The characters are like the scenes, simple, honest, truth-loving and rugged. The producing company is strong and capable and the scenery and electrical effects novel and beautiful.

* * * * *

The press and public everywhere the play has been seen, heartily endorse the musical rural comedy drama, "Down on the Farm," which is to be seen at Music Hall Monday night. The New York Herald said of it: "'Down on the Farm' blends the pathos of true American farm life with its most uproarious humor. It carries one back to the scenes of his childhood." Other leading papers accord the same praise. The play is said to abound in startling situations and strong climaxes, which are made most of by a competent cast of good acting people headed by Charles Manley, an artist of much experience and ability, who will be seen as Seth Huckins, an old farmer. There will be a grand street parade and concert by the superb band of the company on the day of performance.

INVITED TO RETURN.

Important Chinese Edict Received by Former Missionary.

PITTSBURG, April 11.—The Rev. Dr. George W. Chalfant of this city has received a full copy of what he regards as the most important Chinese edict of this century, the proclamation of Yuan Shih Kai, governor of the province of Shangtung, in China. The following is the translation:

"With reference to the cause of the recanting of the Christians in the sixth moon (July, 1900) all Chen and Hsien officials on their own authority determined and arranged the matter in the hope of protecting the Christians. Their action was not on my instructions. On numerous occasions I ordered by subordinate to protect Christian interests, as you, reverend sirs, well know.

"As there is now no disorder from international friction it is the more important that former treaty engagements be looked up and carefully observed.

"All pledges of Christians to recant, whether given to officials or to persons acting as security therefor, all voluntary pledges or promises of whatever kind to the same effect, are null and void, and no further account is to be taken of them. I have, moreover, instructed my subordinates to put out proclamations for the public information lest Christians be subjected to hindrances or annoyances in the matter.

"You, reverend sirs, have been preaching in China many years and without exception exhort men concerning everything righteous. Your church customs are strict and correct, and all your converts may well observe them. In establishing your custom you have been careful to see that Chinese law was observed. How, then, can it be said that there was disloyalty?

"To meet this sort of calumny I have instructed that proclamations be put out. I propose to hereafter have lasting peace. Church interests will then prosper, and your idea of preaching righteousness I can promote.

"The present overturning is of a most extraordinary character. It forced you, reverend sirs, by land and water to go long journeys and subjected you to alarm and danger, causing me many qualms of conscience.

"Everywhere (in Shangtung) it is now quiet, and the missionaries of Germany and France and other nations have returned to the interior to preach as formerly. If you, reverend sirs, wish to return to the interior, I would beg of you to first give me word that I may most certainly order the military to carefully protect and escort you."

AMENDMENT DISCUSSED.

Cuban Leaders Take No Action In Regard to a Commission.

HAVANA, April 11.—The Cuban constitutional convention at yesterday's session took no action regarding the proposal to appoint a commission to go to Washington in reference to the future relations between Cuba and the United States. The whole time was taken up by Senor Juan Gualberto Gomez and General Sanguily, who made long and impassioned speeches, the former against the Platt amendment and the latter in its favor.

Senor Gomez said in substance that the black blood in his veins made him opposed to the Americans, intimating that their treatment of his race stamped them as unfriendly to the negro. "I would rather be under the sovereignty of Spain," he exclaimed, "than under that of the United States. The Platt amendment endangers the independence of Cuba. It means the predominance of American influence. I would either die of grief or leave the country should it be accepted." He admitted that he was not particularly opposed to sending a commission to Washington; but, he said, he believed the Platt amendment should be rejected first.

General Sanguily made a strong appeal to the delegates to accept the amendment. He cited the reasons he had already given in a public letter in favor of such a course and emphasized the fact that the amendment in no way endangered the independence of Cuba, but really provided guarantees that it would be maintained.

Erie Railroad Buys Land.

NEW YORK, April 11.—The World says this morning: "The Erie railroad has practically concluded the purchase of the entire block bounded by Eleventh and Thirteenth avenues and Twenty-eighth and Twenty-ninth streets. It is the intention to build there an immense freight depot that will take a prominent position in the railroad consolidation plans by which J. J. Hill and J. P. Morgan have made the Erie a part of their transcontinental system with the Great Northern, Northern Pacific and Burlington and Quincy railroads. Most of the block is now occupied by old buildings. It comprises 61 city lots."

Heavy Damages Demanded.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., April 11.—Joseph Foster of Mountaindale, Sullivan county, has secured a verdict for $11,000 in the supreme court of this county against the International Paper company of Niagara Falls for injuries received. It was alleged that while attempting to adjust a belt Foster was caught by the revolving shaft and his foot torn off, and he was otherwise injured. He brought suit for $40,000.

Train Wreck In California.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 11.—The north bound passenger train running over the New Coast division and known as the New Orleans express was wrecked near Bradley. No one was injured. Seven cars were burned, including the mail car, two baggage cars, two standard sleepers and three tourist coaches.

BOTHA WANTS PEACE

Negotiations Reopened With the British.

DE WET'S MIND SAID TO BE IMPAIRED

In View of This Fact a Continuance of the War Rests With General Botha, Who Seeks an End.

CAPE TOWN, April 11.—General Botha has reopened negotiations with the British for peace.

As explained here, this action was determined in part by General Botha's discovery at a recent meeting that General De Wet's intellect had weakened and that his influence with his followers was diminishing and that a continuance of the campaign in view of General De Wet's irresponsibility rested with General Botha alone.

It is understood here that, although General De Wet at his recent interview with General Botha refused to surrender, General Botha, regarding him as irresponsible, undertakes to negotiate in behalf of the entire Boer forces. The British authorities here consider that if General Botha surrenders De Wet's following can be easily taken.

Report Believed In England.

LONDON, April 11.—The report that General Botha has renewed the negotiations with Lord Kitchener is not yet officially confirmed, but it is generally credited and received with satisfaction, except by the ultra jingoes, who fear that the government will renew the terms recently rejected.

Regarding General De Wet's mental condition reports have been very conflicting for some time. His recent inactivity points to there being some truth in the rumors which allege that long continued hardships under the harassing British pursuit have unhinged his mind.

On the other hand, a correspondent of The Times acknowledged the "wonderful foresight and fertility of resource" which characterized General De Wet's retreat from Cape Colony.

As during the previous abortive negotiations, the British press again loudly insists on "unconditional surrender," but with the budgetary necessities staring the country in the face, if negotiations are reopened, the Boers, as The Daily Chronicle remarks editorially, "may reckon on fair treatment" at the hands of the British.

New Bridge Cable Raised.

NEW YORK, April 11.—Contrary to expectation the raising from the river's bed today of the first cable that is to connect the towers of the second pathway across the East river was a formal matter. Invitations to participate in the ceremonies were extended by the bridge commission to Mayor Van Wyck and many of the city officials and former officials in both boroughs. The steamer George Starr, with the guests, members of the new East river bridge commission and Colonel W. H. Roebling, left Pier No. 1, North river, at 11 o'clock this morning, and those on board watched the raising of the cable from a point near the bridge line. At a signal whistle from the steamboat Superintendent Porter, from a position on top of the Williamsburg tower, directed the starting of the engine at the Kent avenue anchorage, which raised the wire to a height of 168 feet above water at the tower tops and 164 feet in the center.

Marconi Sees Secretary Long.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Secretary Long received a call yesterday from Signor Marconi, the Italian inventor whose name is identified with wireless telegraphy. The call was of a social character and not with any purpose of presenting a business proposition in connection with the system. Secretary Long inquired of Signor Marconi how during times of war an enemy could be prevented from intercepting messages while in course of transmission by stationing an apparatus at some intermediate point. Signor Marconi explained that this would be impossible, as the transmission is accomplished by sound waves, and it is only by an understanding between the sender and receiver of a message as to what the sound waves shall represent that communication can be carried on. Although the inventor talked in an interesting manner on the system, no intimation was made that he desired to enlist the navy in its use.

A Million For Armour Institute.

CHICAGO, April 11.—Armour institute in this city, which owes its existence to the late Philip D. Armour, today received an addition of $1,000,000 to its endowment, the money coming from Mrs. P. D. Armour and J. Ogden Armour, the widow and son of the founder. The announcement of the gift was a surprise even to the officials of the institution. It is expected that the money will be used to extend the scope of the institution in electrical and chemical engineering. The institute is now in a very prosperous condition, having an endowment of $2,500,000, all of which was given by the late Mr. Armour.

Another Richmond Blaze.

RICHMOND, April 11.—Richmond had yesterday another fire which produced excitement and consternation throughout the city. The big dry goods and department store of Julius Meyer's Sons, which occupied almost a quarter of a block on Broad street, together with the stock and fixtures, was destroyed completely. The fire originated on the third floor among some mattresses, but from what cause is a matter of doubt. A charred body was discovered in the ruins, which proved to be the remains of Mr. R. Emmet Slaughter, manager of the carpet department. How he became entrapped in the building is a mystery.

Brooks' Boxing Bill Reported.

ALBANY, April 11.—The Brooks bill to permit amateur boxing exhibitions throughout the state was reported favorably today by the assembly codes committee. Mr. Brooks went before the committee and urged it to make a favorable report. The bill as amended last week provides for four round contests between amateur boxers in good standing in the Amateur Athletic union. Assemblyman Dooling from New York city, a former president of the Xavier Athletic association, said that the bill is so framed as to prevent any professional pugilist from taking advantage of it.

Apostle Cannon Rallies.

MONTEREY, Cal., April 11.—Apostle George Q. Cannon of the Mormon church, who is seriously ill here, has rallied slightly.

MINISTERS' MEETING.

Destruction of Forts and Military Occupation In Hand.

CHINESE THIEVES MUST DIE.

British Decide to Behead Captured Robbers—American General Will Turn Prisoners Over to Chinese—Trade Conditions Bad.

PEKING, April 11.—A meeting of the ministers of the powers will be held today to consider the report of the generals upon articles 8 and 9 of the joint note, referring respectively to the destruction of the forts which might obstruct free communication between Peking and the sea and the military occupation of certain points in order to maintain communication between Peking and the sea. The Belgians, who have missions in the disturbed district of Mongolia, say they do not believe the rebellion will make much headway.

Four days' sports, under the direction of the British, opened yesterday on the grounds of the Temple of Heaven with horse races. This is regarded as no more improper than a baseball match on a campus adjoining any American college chapel. The participants in the races were mostly British, but there were a few Germans. General Richardson acted as judge of the sports. There were a large number of spectators, including British, Germans, Americans, Frenchmen, Italians and Japanese. The foreign ministers were unable to attend. The British army have a happy faculty of mingling these sports with their fighting work.

Six armed robbers who were caught in the British section have been sentenced to decapitation. The best Chinese approve the sentence, as they believe that the only way to enforce the law and prevent a repetition of such acts is to execute these brigands. The robbers arrested in the American section will be transferred under General Chaffee's orders to the board of punishments for the Chinese officials to inflict penalties as they see fit. The board cannot execute them under the law without first memorializing the emperor. This the board cannot do until the emperor returns to Peking, and the length of the stay of the court at Singan-fu appears just now to be indefinite.

Li Hung Chang has already posted in important places in Peking the imperial edicts called for by article 10 of the protocol. The international administration commission has written to Earl Li expressing approval of his action, but warning him against issuing proclamations without first advising with them. This has impressed Earl Li with a sense of the limitations of his powers, although he is a viceroy and peace envoy.

The condition regarding administrative affairs is little short of chaos. What with flying columns, Chinese marauders and extortioners and blackmailers the utmost distress prevails, and this is generating a spirit of hopelessness and recklessness. It is reported that Boxerism is still lurking beneath the surface. The antiforeign feeling, according to many competent judges, is more widespread and more genuine in the province of Chi-li than at any time since the Boxer triumphs.

Manchuria Crisis Ended.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Minister Takapira of Japan has informed the state department that the imperial government at Tokyo accepted as in good faith Russia's latest declaration regarding Manchuria and that Japan's position is exactly similar to that of the United States. This removes the last possibility of division among the powers as to the present status of Manchuria, the other powers concerned having previously given their assent.

French Embassador's Ball.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—The ball given last night by the French embassador in honor of the French naval officers and cadets of the training ship Duguay Trouin, now lying at Baltimore, was one of the most brilliant social events Washington has seen in a long time. Something of an international significance was given to the affair by the entwining of the French tricolor and the American stars and stripes, the presence of nearly the entire membership of the president's cabinet and their wives and the fraternizing of officers of all branches of the United States military and naval service, with their companions in arms from the sister republic of France.

Miss Foraker Not Engaged.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Senator Foraker of Ohio authorizes the following statement: "There is no truth in the story published to the effect that my daughter Louise is engaged to Mr. Wilcox. This is the fourth announcement of the kind that has been made, except that a different gentleman has been named each time. All these stories have been wantonly false, if not malicious. She is not engaged to any one and never has been."

A McKinley Hotel For Canton.

CANTON, O., April 11.—President McKinley has donated $5,000 toward a fund of $30,000 necessary to secure the erection of a new and modern hotel in this city. The hotel will be built on the site of the recently burned Saxton block. M. C. Barber has written the president on behalf of Canton people asking that he allow the hotel to be called the McKinley. The new building will cost $100,000.

No More Spring Elections.

NEW YORK, April 11.—The board of supervisors of Nassau county have adopted an act providing for the abolition of the elections of town officers in the spring. They will be held in the future at the same time as the general elections in November. The county expects to save $8,000 a year by the change.

Newark M. E. Conference.

HOBOKEN, N. J., April 11.—The forty-fourth session of the Newark conference of the Methodist Episcopal church opened yesterday in the First Methodist church, this city. About 300 ministers and laymen were in attendance. The Rev. Bishop Cyrus D. Foss presided.

Typhus In Mexico.

CITY OF MEXICO, April 11.—The prevalence of typhus fever has elicited a statement from the board of health to the effect that 945 people died from the disease during the first three months of the current year.

Weather Probabilities.

Fair; fresh northerly winds.

MILK WAR OVER.

New England Producers and Contractors Finally Agree.

BOSTON, April 11.—At a conference yesterday afternoon the contractors and the directors of the New England Milk Producers' union agreed to a settlement of the existing milk war on the basis of 31 cents a can, straight price, the contractors taking the risk of surplus on a basis of 2 cents per can.

This settles the fight which has been carried on during the past ten days. The settlement was reached by mutual concessions. The contractors conceded that the stipulation on their contract cards under which they claimed the right to change prices at any time during the season was not equitable and agreed that no such change should be made without an approving vote of the contractors and union directors.

The contractors also conceded the demand for a straight price in preference to a higher price with a surplus charge back.

The price agreed upon is a little lower than the net prices, based on last year's figures—about one-tenth of a cent per can—but the desire of the producers was so strong for a straight price for milk that they agreed to this proposition. A better figure seemed to be out of the question, and any insistence in that direction would have caused a breaking off of the negotiations.

MRS. HALL CLAIMS ALL.

Declares She Was Adopted by Millionaire Gilman.

HARTFORD, April 11.—Action has been begun in the United States circuit court here by Mrs. Helen Potts Hall of New York for the recovery of her alleged share in the millions of the late George F. Gilman of Bridgeport. Mrs. Hall declares that she is the adopted daughter of Mr. Gilman and brings her action through her next friend, her brother, Frank G. Potts, against the Bridgeport Trust company, as administrator of the Gilman estate, and against George W. Smith of Bridgeport, as receiver.

The bill of complaint, which consists of 21 typewritten pages and contains 17 counts, declares that Mr. Gilman was engaged in the tea business in co-partnership with George H. Hartford and that they had about 200 stores in the United States. This part of the complaint is interesting, because it has been understood that the Bridgeport Trust company as administrator takes the position that Mr. Hartford was manager only and not a part owner in the tea business.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

Le Siecle, the Paris Dreyfusite paper, failed.

A mob attacked the monastery of Paramos, near Oporto, Portugal.

Insurgent funds to the amount of $40,000 were captured near Manila.

Nearly all the children in Lathrop Memorial home, Albany, are ill with the smallpox.

General William Booth, head of the Salvation Army, celebrated his seventy-second birthday.

The Chinese minister at St. Petersburg was reported fatally injured by being thrown down stairs after insulting the Russian foreign minister.

Wall Street Man a Suicide.

NEW YORK, April 11.—Benjamin Forst, a broker and member of the Consolidated Exchange, committed suicide yesterday in the Hoffman House. After a night of meditation, spent no one seems to know where, he went to the hotel at 5 o'clock in the morning and was found dying three hours later. Before medical aid arrived he expired. A bell boy discovered the body. A letter addressed to Mrs. B. Forst, a number of shares of stock, some promissory notes, $67 in cash and a bottle which had contained carbolic acid were found in the room. I. Sonnenberg, with whom Mr. Forst had deskroom, said that Forst had lost more than $320,000 in his stock dealings, but that his credit was high on the exchange.

Long Journey For Children.

BOSTON, April 11.—Among the passengers who sailed on the steamship Commonwealth from this city were two who attracted great attention. Shortly before the ship sailed the agent of the company placed in charge of the stewardess Earl and Clarisse Cook, aged 5 and 9 years respectively, bound from the Sandwich Islands for England. Their mother having died, the father desired that the children should receive a European education, and he made arrangements with his sister in Liverpool to care for the little ones. The children left Honolulu for San Francisco early in March in charge of the stewardess of a Pacific liner. From the Golden Gate they were brought overland by railroad. When they have completed their journey, they will have traveled 9,185 miles.

No Trace of Stolen Gold.

BREMEN, April 11.—The directors of the North German Lloyd Steamship company have apparently learned nothing definite as to when or where the theft of the gold bars took place. Captain Engelbart of the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse is of the opinion that the gold was stolen at either New York or Southampton. The police here as a result of their inquiries think the robbery was probably committed in New York.

Bridges Washed Away.

PLATTSBURG, N. Y., April 11.—The wooden bridges on the Moffatt road in this town have been washed away by the spring freshets, and the bridge over Dead creek, about a mile north of this village, has been condemned as unsafe on account of high water. The long fill at the ravine near the Catholic summer school grounds on the lake shore drive to the Hotel Champlain was partially carried away.

Fatal Boiler Explosion.

NORFOLK, April 11.—The boiler at the plant of the Builders' Manufacturing company blew up and wrecked the building yesterday. Two men were killed and several injured. The cause of the explosion is unknown. Fortunately the day force of 35 men had not gone to work. The plant is located in Huntersville, a suburb of the city, and manufactures builders' finishing work and store furniture.

Winter Wheat Promises Well.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—The April report of the statistician of the department of agriculture shows the average condition of winter wheat on April 1 to have been 91.7 against 82.1 on April 1, 1900, 77.9 at the corresponding date in 1899 and 82.9 the mean of the April averages of the last ten years.

BEYOND DOUBT.

These Facts Must Convince Every Plainfield Reader.

That which follows is the experience of a resident of Plainfield. Incredulity cannot exist about the statement because it can easily be investigated.

Mrs. I. L. Holmes, of 442 West Second street, says: "I used several boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills for backache and derived more benefit from them than from anything else. Before I tried this remedy I was bothered almost constantly with a severe pain across the small of my back, so bad at times that I thought I must give up. If I sat down and got up or was lying down and attempted to rise quickly or retained one position for any length of time, sharp, acute pain always followed. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised for such troubles and went to L W Randolph's drug store and got a box. They helped me from the first and I improved right along under the treatment."

BIG NAVAL DEMONSTRATION.

French President Witnesses Double Spectacle.

PARIS, April 11.—The important festivities attending President Loubet's visit to the Riviera were brought to a climax in the double naval demonstration at Villefranche and Toulon. Both proved splendid spectacles. The profuse decoration at Toulon, the flotillas of pleasure boats flitting about the harbor, the gayly dressed warships lying in the roadstead and the animation of the immense crowds of strangers jostling one another in the streets and along the wharfs imparted a color and picturesqueness to the scene which outvied the situation at Villefranche.

The French people, however, derived as much pleasure from the incidents at Villefranche as from the meeting of M. Loubet and the Duke of Genoa at Toulon. "The Russian squadron," says Le Journal Debats, "saluted the president on his departure for Toulon, so that Russia will be associated as completely as could be desired with the fetes on the Riviera. Those who have spoken about the coolness of two friendly and allied countries are now compelled to admit that they took the desire for the reality. Those who contended that Russia wished to manifest hostility toward the Franco-Italian rapprochement now have proof to the contrary in the fact that the Russians came to salute the president at the very moment when the fetes at Toulon sealing this rapprochement were about to take place."

The ceremony of decorating Admiral Birileff with the cross of the Legion of Honor was performed in the presence of the whole crew. M. Loubet then embraced the admiral and expressed regret that the previously fixed hour for his arrival at Toulon prevented him making a detailed inspection of the Russian flagship.

A STRIKE UNLIKELY.

Conservative Employees of Jersey Central Refuse to Vote.

NEW YORK, April 11.—There is a strong probability that the conference between the employees and officials of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, abandoned at the time of the fruitless intervention of the railway brotherhood chieftains, may be resumed, and it is believed that if the disputants get together in friendly spirit that the possibility of a strike on the line will become very remote.

Some of the more conservative element among the employees have declared openly that they will not vote on the strike proposition until there has been a conference with the officials, and those who agree with them are moving for the appointment of a joint conference committee that will work with the grievance committee.

Speaking for the company, Vice President Warren said: "Yes, we are most certainly prepared to meet our men if they care to confer with us. I have been informed that the men will name a conference committee. They will find us ready to treat fairly and openly with them."

SAMOANS UNDER OUR RULE.

Their General Condition Has Improved Since Our Occupation.

PAGO-PAGO, Samoa, via San Francisco, April 11.—The natives under the United States government number 5,800, according to a census just taken, while the natives in the other islands under German rule number 32,000. The population has increased very slightly in the last 30 years, and the main cause of this failure to increase is the infant mortality, due to the violation of the simplest health principles in the care and diet of children.

Governor Tilley returned from a trip to New Zealand on March 14. His health was greatly improved by the change.

Reports from the six islands under United States control show that the natives are improving in general conditions and that they show a desire to keep their houses neat and to educate their children. Not a single native has been arrested for drunkenness since the Americans assumed control of Tutuila island.

March Postal Receipts.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—The gross postal receipts for last month for the 50 largest postoffices in the country show an increase of 11.4 per cent over the corresponding month of last year. The most remarkable increases are 60.5 per cent at Indianapolis and 41.5 per cent at Louisville. There are seven offices whose receipts decreased, the most notable being Lowell, Mass., with 8 per cent. Baltimore decreased almost 1½ per cent. New York showed an increase of 6.3 and Chicago an increase of 29.6, the latter being one of the largest of the increases.

Mysterious Disappearance.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., April 11.—Harvey B. Fitch of the town of Maine formerly of this city, has mysteriously disappeared, and there are suspicions that he has met with foul play. When he disappeared, he had with him a check for some $1,300 with which he was to have drawn money in this city to pay for a farm near Maine. Fitch was last seen here Sunday.

Train Plunged Into the Sea.

LONDON, April 11.—While a freight train was descending the branch line to Kirkcaldy harbor, Scotland, leading to the main line of the North British railway, the brakes failed to work, and the engine and three cars laden with paper and grain dashed over the east pier and plunged into the sea. The engineer leaped from his engine and escaped.

Pennsylvania Steel.

PHILADELPHIA, April 11.—At a special meeting of the stockholders of the Pennsylvania Steel company a resolution was adopted authorizing the sale of all of that company's real and personal property. This is a step preliminary to the reorganization of the company, which has been favorably voted upon by about 90 per cent of the capital.

Yellow Fever at Kingston.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, April 11.—Yellow fever has made its appearance at Port Royal, the entrance to this harbor. Two cases have been officially reported and one death has resulted. The health authorities are taking prompt measures and with every prospect of success, to prevent the spread of the disease.

State Treasurer of Arkansas Dead.

LITTLE ROCK, April 11.—State Treasurer Thomas E. Little is dead from heart disease. He was a brother of Congressman Little of the Second Arkansas district.

OTHER SIDE STATED.

Porto Rican Commissioner Takes Allen to Task.

A DARK PICTURE PRESENTED.

American Rule Wiping Out Every Industry—Noted Labor Leader Declares That Situation Could Not Well Be Worse.

NEW YORK, April 11.—Replying to the public utterances of Governor Allen of Porto Rico since his arrival in Washington, Wenceslao Borda, Porto Rican commissioner, makes the following statement:

"The questions at issue between Governor Allen and the commissioners are merely two—first, whether his administration of Porto Rico has been conducive to the prosperity and welfare of the island, and, second, whether the Hollander revenue law was such a measure as should have been hastily and without a hearing approved by the chief executive of Porto Rico. Governor Allen has gone out of his way to attack personally the commissioners when he says that the members of the so called commission are foreigners—one a Spaniard, one a South American and one an Englishman. We fail completely to see how this assertion, even were it true, could affect the merits of our case, but we do think that it shows that his arguments must be poor when he has to avail himself of one of this nature.

"Commissioner Balbas is a native Porto Rican. Although born in London, I have been for the last 14 years a member of the New York bar and ever since my majority a citizen of the United States. The charge or objection, therefore, that the commissioners are foreigners is unsustainable, unless it be true that those only are Americans in Porto Rico who are public officials.

"Governor Allen states that Porto Rico has never before in its history been so prosperous, that more persons are employed today than ever before, that the sugar crop will yield 100,000 tons. He gives, however, no facts or figures to substantiate these assertions. They are, therefore, mere statements of an interested official. There is no more truth in them than in his first affirmation, that we were tax dodgers, objecting to the payment of our just share of taxation, and that the rest of the Porto Ricans were well satisfied with the situation. Now comes a Porto Rican labor leader, Santiago Iglesias, with a petition signed by 6,000 workingmen which declares that the condition of Porto Rico could not be worse. These people certainly are not tax dodgers. Governor Allen is apt to believe that everybody who criticises his administration is bad, but he cannot call his new critics tax dodgers, whatever else he may call them, since they have nothing that can be taxed.

"That Porto Rico is not as prosperous as he would like the people of the United States to believe is eloquently and conclusively shown by the customs statistics.

"Governor Allen states that never has there been the number of laborers employed as at present. He fails to offer the grounds for this belief. The production of the island does not show it. The alarming emigration of laborers to Ecuador, Cuba, Hawaii and Santo Domingo, which he admits is taking place, emphatically belies the governor's assertion in this respect.

"Governor Allen also says that the sugar crop will amount to 100,000 tons. He cannot know this to be a fact, as it has not yet been gathered. It is purely one of his optimistic opinions. The sugar planters of the island estimate the crop, if favorable weather continues, not higher than 70,000 tons, a very high estimate. Why does not the governor mention the other industries of the island? We answer, Because misgovernment has nearly wiped them out.

"The governor declares besides that if those provisions of the Hollander revenue law depriving a delinquent taxpayer of all right of redemption to his property in less than six months and giving the purchaser under a tax sale an absolute and indisputable title without recourse to the courts within this short period are bad it can be amended by the next legislature. For that matter, it can also be annulled. But we submit that it was his duty to veto a bad law and to withhold his signature to a measure, the most important in its character and effect of any that could be enacted in Porto Rico, without careful study of its provisions."

Emperor William an Author.

BERLIN, April 11.—Emperor William has written an account of the capture of the Taku forts, based upon the oral recital of the incidents of the battle furnished him by Captain Lans, who commanded the German gunboat Iltis. The imperial narrative dwells particularly upon the part taken by the Iltis in the engagement. The emperor has the whole collection of military and naval manuscripts, in the handwriting of those who originally prepared them, reporting upon the engagement.

Remey Sails For Australia.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Admiral Remey, commanding the Asiatic station, sailed from Cavite yesterday for Melbourne, Australia, where the Brooklyn is to represent the United States navy on the occasion of the opening of the first federal parliament in the presence of the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York. He should arrive at Melbourne about the end of the present month, which will be in ample season for the opening ceremonies.

Knox Assumes Office.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Attorney General Knox took formal charge of his office yesterday. During the afternoon the officials and clerks of the department of justice were presented to their new chief. It is said that Mr. Knox will spend a large part of the summer at his desk and that in all probability he will not accompany the president on his western trip.

Nine Out of Seventeen Ill.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., April 11.—Nine of the 17 children of Philip Babineau of Chicopee are sick with what is declared to be typhoid fever, and the board of health is taking precautions against the disease. It was at first thought the children were poisoned by eating canned tomatoes.

Morgan Reaches Queenstown.

QUEENSTOWN, April 11.—The White Star line steamer Teutonic, Captain E. R. McKinstry, from New York April 3, has arrived here. Captain McKinstry reports a stormy passage. Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan, who is on board, is well.

Pollution of Green Brook.

It may interest the members of the Plainfield Board of Health as well as the rest of the citizens of Plainfield to know that the existing statutes can easily be construed to mean that the dumping of waste paper in Green brook or any other stream is a pollution of those waters. Senator Charles A. Reed, who is counsel of the borough of North Plainfield, was consulted by the members of the Borough Board of Health on this question and gave an informal opinion.

The paper which has gathered in Green brook, either through the agency of man or the wind, is not clean white paper. Some of it has paste upon it, part of the paper is colored and part printed upon. The paste, coloring matter and printer's ink will all come out when the paper is soaked in water and pollution follows. The Board of Health has the right to act in the prevention of the pollution of streams.

Members of the city Board of Health have said that they would like to see the bed and banks of Green brook cleaned out. They have not explained why they do not take action. It has been said by some that the Board has no authority as it is private property on which the rubbish is collected.

If the North Plainfield Board of Health can act with success in the matter, why cannot the Board of Health on this side of the brook do the same? That is a question which many people are asking. A little moral suasion on the part of the Board would also do much to persuade the owners of property adjacent to the brook to remove or repair unsightly structures which now add to the general untidy appearance of the banks of the brook as viewed from the new bridge which connects Madison avenue and Duer street.

If the Plainfield Board of Health will act in the matter, they will add to their credit and assist in maintaining Plainfield's reputation as a beautiful city.

From some recent articles that have come to our notice, we are prompted to say that one of Plainfield's needs is the further cultivation of local pride, not only in doing and advancing local enterprise but in saying kindly and pleasant words of our city. It is quite as easy to say a good word to the stranger of our advantages as to speak deprecatingly of the city in which one lives. Let every citizen constitute himself an advance agent, a boomer, so to speak, and we will be astonished at the beneficial results that will follow. There are few places that can compare with Plainfield in the advantages which we offer to the cultured family looking for a home. Health, society, church and schools are all ours. Let it be widely told. The women of Plainfield, who add so much to the city's culture and attractiveness, may accomplish wonders in this direction. Why should not the Monday Afternoon Club, the Parliamentary Club, the Current Events Club and other of the organizations governed by the most cultured women of the city and borough, move in this matter?

The Somerset County Board of Freeheelders is still struggling with the tramp question. An attempt was made at the meeting of the board Tuesday to end the commitment of tramps to the county jail. It failed. The tramps have proved a source of considerable expense to the county of Somerset and the plan of locking them up does not seem to have any deterring effect on them. They flock to Somerset in as large numbers as ever. Union county makes no special provision for these unbidden guests and yet this county does not seem to be overrun with them.

If the local patrons of the Plainfield Water Supply Company want immediate relief from their present high water rates, they can secure it by inducing the company to make the use of water meters general. The company should hear from every consumer in regard to the subject.

Plainfield is comparatively little interested this year in the appointments which may be made at the Newark M. E. Conference, which is now in session in Hoboken. It is understood that there will be no change in any of the local pastorships this year.

There will be several suits as a result of that accident on the line of the Elizabeth, Plainfield and Central Jersey Street Railway Company a few weeks ago. Such accidents are expensive things for traction companies.

It is said that an Elizabeth man will probably be appointed court crier at the Union county court. Somehow, Elizabeth manages to get nearly all the plums that are distributed in this county.

The "club cars" are too comfortable and convenient to make it likely that the commuters who patronize them will give them up easily.

It is time that the street railway sprinkler was put in use again.

Local society folk are having a lively time of it this week.

Spring is rather slow about visiting this section of the land.

WHAT OTHERS SAY.

Clippings From Other Newspapers Which May Be Of Interest to Plainfield and Its Citizens.

It seems to be generally accepted as settled that Franklin Murphy is to retire as chairman of the State Republican Committee and conjecture is rife as to his successor. The choice of the committee will be awaited with interest by many others than thick and thin partisians, since it will in some degree indicate the future party policy. The selection of a man like Supreme Court Clerk Edward C. Stokes would do much to strengthen confidence in the party, while if the mantle of Mr. Murphy shall fall upon a machine politician like Samuel D. Dickinson the effect would be to deepen the distrust already implanted by recent legislation.—Newark Evening News.

HILLSIDE CLUB PLANS FOR COMING SEASON.

duced on members in competition failing to return a card. All scores in competition must be made against an opponent.

Although the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club is not a member of the East Jersey Golf League this year, the club will be represented on the links by one of the strongest teams in the State. There is some fine talent in the club and they will meet other teams from the representative clubs of this section. Dr. B. VanD. Hedges has been appointed captain of the team and will arrange the series of contests with the other teams.

It is possible that the Hillside Club may enter another league before the season is over. The Essex County Country Club and the Baltusrol Golf Club are understood to be in favor of forming a league of the few leading teams in this part of New Jersey. If they decide to organize the league, the Hillside Club will undoubtedly be invited to join it.

DUNELLEN.

Dunellen, April 11—A new order which has just been issued to the crews on the Plainfield trolley cars, prohibiting them from waiting at the terminus for the Middlesex and Somerset cars, even though it be but one minute, has been the cause of great annoyance to trolley patrons since it went into effect. The Bound Brook cars are invariably a few minutes behind time and the Plainfield crews have always waited thereby saving the passengers fifteen minutes. In the run to Plainfield the time was easily made up. With the new order, they leave the terminus on time, although the connecting car is but a short distance away. At one time yesterday, the Plainfield car started off when the Bound Brook car was less than 100 feet behind. The remarks of the passengers who were forced to wait fifteen minutes were anything but complimentary to the railway officials in general and the rapidly disappearing crew in particular.

Mrs. H. A. Bunker and sons, of Brooklyn, were in the borough, Tuesday, for the purpose of completing arrangements for the management of their farm on Greenbrook road, during the coming summer. It will be taken by J. A. Burke, of North Branch, who has already arrived in the borough.

Wm. Giddis is receiving many congratulations for his splendid showing in the junior championship contest held at the Plainfield Y. M. C. A. Tuesday. He finished fourth out of nine competitors.

The Watchung Water Company will shortly move from its present quarters in Garretson's and Gray's building to Dr. Whitford's old office on Washington avenue.

The contract case of H. C. Runyon, of Plainfield, against R. L. Pierce will be tried by jury before Justice Warden, Monday afternoon.

All members and those interested in the Board of Trade are requested to be present at this evening's meeting.

The Missionary Society of the First Presbyterian church met yesterday at the residence of Mrs. Jane Dunham.

New Market, April 11—The household goods of Mrs. Nalty at West Dunellen were disposed of by auction yesterday prior to her removal to New York. The sale was well attended and fair prices were realized.

A horse belonging to William Smith fell down on Main street yesterday breaking both shafts of the wagon. The fallen animal was raised with some difficulty.

It is said that a new tonsorial artist is about to locate in New Market with in a short time.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Holden have been visiting their daughter, Mrs. Arthur Tappen.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence.)

Scotch Plains, April 11—All persons interested in missions are invited to attend the service at the Baptist church Sunday evenieg and hear Miss Rachel Mair, a returned missionary from Africa. Miss Mair will tell of her work while in Africa for three years.

Rev. P. A. Bright, who has been the pastor of the Methodist church, is attending the Newark Conference. He does not expect to return to the pastorate of the church, but will probably go to Providence, R. I.

The Epworth League Bible study class met last evening in the Methodist church. There was a large attendance and the meeting was a helpful and interesting one.

William Lake has sold his house on the commons to Miss Sarah Jamison, who will soon take possession. Mr. Lake will move in his house on Bartle avenue.

Pastor Shott will teach the Sunday-school lesson tomorrow evening at the First Baptist church and a cordial invitation is extended to all.

Dr. Albert Moment, the Brooklyn pastor, about whom there has been much comment, is stopping with William Noon for the present.

At the next meeting of Fanwood Council, Royal Ascanum, it is expected that new members will be received.

Harry Gwynette has moved to Essex Falls, Essex county, where he will establish a stock farm.

Miss Dora Hollingsworth, of Brooklyn, is the guest of her cousin, Miss Lulu Hollingsworth.

John Bornman has completed the handsome new house which he has been erecting.

Miss Frentz has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Frank Putnam, of Plainfield.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD

(Special Correspondence.)

Nathan Blackford is much improved from his recent illness.

Mrs. Thomas VanNest is confined to the house by illness.

Adam Deikes is out with his newly-painted stage.

LAST OF SERIES.

Young Married Set of Society Folk Gave Dance at Casino Last Night.

The last of the series of the subscription dances, given by the younger married set of Plainfield society, was held in the Casino last evening.

Notwithstanding that many were detained from being present because of the Ackerman-Murphy wedding reception at Mrs. Rushmore's the attendance was very good. Sixty of the young people spent a merry evening at this final dance. The music was particularly good. A supper was served by Steward Ivany before midnight. The patronesses were the same as those who have acted at the previous dances.

ROBIN HOOD CAMP.

Woodmen of World Instituted Branch in This City Last Evening.

Robin Hood Camp, No. 6, Woodmen of the World, was instituted last evening in Odd Fellows' Hall, Babcock building, with sixty-four charter members, whose average age is 26 years. The new camp was instituted by Sovereign Deputy James Barnes, of Boston, assisted by District Deputy W. E. Carpenter, of Lynn, Mass.

The following officers were elected: Past Counsul Commander, Charles E. Hepburn; counsul commander, Wm. Newcorn; lieutenant adviser, Francis J. Blatz; clerk, Clayton M. Nagle; banker, Fred J. Huff; escort, George Keirstin; watchman, Walter L. Manning; sentinel, H. P. Greenwood; physician, Dr. A. H. Dundon; organizer, W. L. Hetfield, Jr.; Board of Managers, E. M. Laing, R. M. Clark and J. P. Powers. There were remarks by the officers, after which a banquet was enjoyed. The camp will hold its next meeting Monday evening, April 22, in Red Men's Hall.

Lost His Leg.

William Tobin, an employe at the Pond Tool Works, whose foot was crushed several weeks ago while he was working in the yard loading machinery on a flat car, underwent an operation yesterday to have his leg amputated. Great effort was made to save the foot and leg, but the physician finally determined that they would have to be taken off to save the life of the patient.

Masquerade Ball.

The W. S. S. will hold a masquerade ball in Central Hall Friday, April 19.

erintendent Squires, of Hope chapel; Rev. J. O McKelvey and Superintendent Andrews, of Warren chapel; and Rev. S. F. Tildon and Superintendent Ginna, of Bethel chapel, were present and spoke of the work among their respective congregations.

Mr. Ginna and Mr. Tildon both stated that the membership and work at their chapel had fallen somewhat during the year but that the spirit of progressiveness was still maintained and better results were looked for in the future. At Hope and Warren chapels, excellent progress was reported, especially at the former where the Sunday school members now numbers 592 officers and pupils.

Beside the review of the year's work the only matter of importance taken up was the election of three elders and two deacons. Of the former, A. J. Gavett, John Leal and Stephen Cahoone were re elected as were H. O Newman and John D. Miller also as deacons.

Calls Attention to Y. M. C. A Secretary From Calcutta Who Speaks Here Sunday.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—On Sunday Mr. J. Campbell White, secretary of the College Young Men's Christian Association at Calcutta, India, is to be in Plainfield and is to speak in the morning at the First Baptist church, in the afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. and in the evening at the Crescent Avenue church.

I have known Mr. White for many years and I feel that our people ought to have an opportunity to hear him and to know something of the work he is doing. The people generally do not know that there are 10,000 college students in Calcutta of the same grade as students of Yale, Harvard or Princeton. The association has the largest Sunday meeting of unconverted men in the world, it owns a 60,000 building and is doing a wonderful work. I write in this way because I believe our people would like to know that they are to have an opportunity to hear this man.

Lokal-Nachrichten aus der alten Heimath.

Aus der Rheinpfalz.

Speyer. Eine bedauernswerthe Maßregel mußte der Bau-Ausschuß der Protestationskirche treffen. Wegen Mangels an Baukapitalien wurde allen an dem schon ziemlich weit vorgeschrittenen Bau beschäftigten Arbeitern gekündigt. Die Bauthätigkeit kann erst nach Eingang genügender Gelder wieder aufgenommen werden.

Frankenthal. Der dahier wohnhaft gewesene Schlosser Secker trat im Herbst 1899 beim 18. Infanterie-Regiment ein, um seiner Militärpflicht Genüge zu leisten. Im Sommer v. J. meldete er sich nach China und wurde dem 4. Ostasiatischen Infanterie-Regiment zugetheilt. Jüngsthin traf nun die Meldung dahier ein, daß er in einem Gefecht gefallen sei.

Germersheim. Hier erschoß sich der Büchsenmachergehilfe Studinger vom 17. Infanterie-Regimente. Eine zu erwartende Strafe war das Motiv der That.

Ludwigshafen. Anhier wurde der aus Böbingen gebürtige Metzgergeselle und Viehtreiber Damian unter dem Verdacht verhaftet, zwei Mordthaten verübt zu haben.

Württemberg.

Stuttgart. Aus unbekannter Ursache entleibte sich der Forstdirektor Speidel.

Göppingen. Der seiner Zeit nach Verübung von Unterschlagungen und betrügerischen Bankerotts geflüchtete und in New York festgenommene Möbelfabrikant Roth von Göppingen ist anhängst dem Landgerichts-Gefängnisse in Ulm eingeliefert worden.

Langenau. In einer Sitzung der bürgerlichen Kollegien wurde der Vertrag der Stadt mit der Elektrizitätsgesellschaft „Helios" abgeschlossen, wonach unsere Stadt mit elektrischer Kraft und elektrischem Licht von dem Werk in Kleinkötz (Bayern) aus versorgt werden wird.

Möckmühl. Neulich wurde die neue Bahnlinie Möckmühl-Dörzbach eröffnet.

Ulm. Der Ankauf des Festungsgeländes durch die Stadt Ulm hat hier ziemliche Unzufriedenheit hervorgerufen. Das Gelände wurde vom Reiche gegen einen Kaufpreis von 4,600,000 Mark abgetreten, an dem die Stadt Ulm mit 3,800,000 Mark und die württembergische Bahnverwaltung mit über 600,000 Mark betheiligt sind. Die Stadt Ulm erhielt die Vergünstigung, den Betrag in 20 unverzinslichen Jahresraten zu bezahlen, und leitete auch die Schaffung eines Gesetzes, kraft dessen 900,000 Mark des Kaufpreises auf die im bisherigen Rayongebiet begüterten Grundbesitzer umgelegt werden sollen, in die Wege. Der letztere Schritt rief in den Reihen der betreffenden Grundstücksbesitzer starke Gährung hervor, die sich zum großen Theil überhaupt gegen den nunmehr dem württembergischen Landtag vorliegenden Gesetzentwurf, zum Theil gegen einzelne Bestimmungen desselben richtet und allmälig auch in die übrigen Kreise der Bürgerschaft gedrungen ist.

Baden.

Karlsruhe. Vor einigen Jahren wurde hier eine „Wittwen- und Waisenkasse altkatholischer Geistlicher Deutschlands" gegründet. Nach dem neuesten Ausweis sind dieser Kasse seit ihrem Bestehen ungefähr 36,000 Mark zugeflossen.

Brötzingen. Hierorts geriethen mehrere junge Burschen in Streit, wobei der 17 Jahre alte Otto Schöninger von seinem gleichaltrigen Kameraden Hubbuch mehrmals gestochen wurde. Einer der Stiche durchbohrte die Schädeldecke und traf das Gehirn. Schöninger erlag seinen Verletzungen.

Freiburg. Hier ritte der 13jährige Volksschüler A. Jünger mit eigener Lebensgefahr ein neunjähriges Mädchen, das in die Dreisam gefallen, vom Tode des Ertrinkens.

Heidelberg. Die Bibliothek des verstorbenen Physikers Bunsen wurde von dem bekannten Erfinder des Glühlichts, Dr. Auer in Welsbach, Provinz Sachsen, angekauft.

Pforzheim. Der Abgeordnete Opfricius und der Goldarbeiter Eberhard, Vorstände des hiesigen Lebensbedürfniß-Vereins, wurden unter dem Verdachte der Unterschlagung verhaftet.

Elsaß-Lothringen.

Mülhausen. In Dornach fand man vor 16 Jahren auf der Straße einen Erschlagenen, dessen Mörder unermittelt blieb. Kürzlich legte in einem hiesigen Spital ein Mülhauser Händler auf dem Todtenbette das Geständniß ab, daß er jenen Mann bei einer Rauferei getödtet habe. Er ging nach der That nach Paris, wo er in einer Zeugdruckerei Arbeit fand. Dort verlor er schon am dritten Tage durch einen Betriebsunfall eine Hand.

HAPPY LITTLE BABIES.

How Children Are Cared For in a New York Institution Which Is a Model of Its Kind.

One of the prettiest and most comforting sights in New York city during the hot weather is to be seen in the Mothers' and Babies' hospital, at Lexington avenue and Fifty-second street, where from 30 to 35 little babies are being taken care of according to the Golden Rule. At any rate, whether they would put it that way at the hospital or not, it seems to a visitor that "Do unto a baby as you would be done by" is the true secret of their success.

Mrs. Lucy Robinson, the head nurse of the hospital, says there are just three important points in the care of the baby—food, dress and handling.

In the first place, if the baby is being fed from a bottle, the milk given it should always be pasteurized—and that word means, as we have explained before, that the milk should be put through a purifying process which was originated by a man named Pasteur. Every two hours between three in the morning and nine at night the baby should have its milk, but during the night it should have nothing except a drink of cold water, now and then. She says few people seem to realize that babies get thirsty, just like anyone else, and that, unless they have plenty of water, they are sure to be feverish and fretful. It must be water that has been boiled, though, and the bottles that hold the baby's milk must be boiled, too, after each usng, so that any possible germ of dsease will be destroyed. Then the little one's mouth should be washed out with water that has boracic acid in it, every two hours; there must be two baths a day in luke warm water, and the baby must not flounder about nor get frightened, but be carefully held in the water a few moments and then wrapped in a soft, fleecy blanket and patted—not rubbed—until the blanket has taken up all the moisture. Next, a nice powdering, all over, with corn starch, and then some comfortable, plain garments put on over the feet—never over the head to bother a baby and get it to crying. No stiffly starched embroidery, no thick seams to cut the soft flesh, no shoes, no stockings on the little chubby feet; the "little colties go bare, bare, bare," and kick to their heart's content.

Mrs. Robinson says, too, that children have been deformed and crippled for life by being held in wrong positions when they were little. The baby's head must never hang down, nor must the weight of the body be allowed to come upon the delicate muscles of the stomach and bowels. The little head and back must be supported, and the hips should rest firmly in nurse's hand. It is a good plan, however, to consult the baby's own taste in this matter of position. The little girl in our picture, for instance, is never more happy than when laid over her nurse's shoulder and held there with strong gentle hands. But another baby might not agree with her at all.

A small Chicago maiden, who visited the Mothers' and Babies' hospital in New York, this summer, has come back to her family of dolls with new ideas. She allows no one to hold them except in proper fashion; she puts on their clothes over their feet; makes a pretense of bathing them twice daily, and talks a great deal about pasteurizing milk and boiled water. It sounds amusing, now, but, after all, perhaps some warm day, a long time from now, a little jolly, crowing baby will lie and wave his dimpled feet in comfort and joy all because his mamma went to visit that hospital when she was a little girl and practiced on her dolls the good things she learned there, so that she never forgot them.—Chicago Little Chronicle.

Nice Wash for Dry Hair.

For hair that is dry an oily wash should be used about once a week or oftener. It should be rubbed into the scalp with a piece of flannel, a superfluity of oil being avoided and only sufficient used to moisten, not drown, the roots of the hair. The application of the oil must be accompanied by friction with the flannel. It is a mistake to suppose that dry hair will be really benefited by oil being poured on to it and brushed through it merely. To do permanent good, it is necessary that the fatty preparation should be rubbed into the skin of the head; a very small quantity will suffice to be of benefit. Violet or jasmine oil is nice. Dry hair should be washed with an egg julep preparation.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

PARK AVE. AND RAILROAD

A company of thirty-three business men made a two weeks' trip in Pullman cars through the far Western States and had for one of their number the secretary of a Philadelphia fire insurance company. Before leaving Philadelphia a friend of this gentleman bought him a physicians' size bottle of Ripans Tabules. He laughed when he received the present, but afterwards had occasion to be very grateful, for soon was he not only using the Tabules, but the members of the party became his regular patients and now they every one regard Ripans Tabules as mighty handy things to have along on an extended railway journey.

WANTED—A case of bad health that RIPANS will not benefit. They banish pain and prolong life. One gives relief. Note the word RIPANS on the package and accept no substitute. RIPANS, in four cents, may be had at any drug store. A PRESS WANT AD.

A Woman DRAMATIC EDITOR

"If women could only get away from the decorative and the spectacular in their organizations and be more mutually helpful in the things that make for bread and for character building!" writes Lida Rose McCabe. Miss McCabe, herself the dramatic editor of a prominent daily, has organized among the newspaper women of her city the Scribblers' club along lines at once original and practical. "Practical work" is the motto of this women journalists' society, not junketing or dressing or rummaging libraries to cook up dull papers of fearful length. Miss McCabe's club has no officers and no fees, to begin. A club can do very well without officers.

Newspaper women of the Scribblers' club will meet to improve themselves in their profession. Experts in every department of preparing matter for the press will talk to the girls, each on his specialty. For instance, the best proofreader to be found will tell them how to secure mechanical correctness, perfect grammar, spelling, punctuation, etc., which too many writers consider of little consequence.

A university professor, one of the few who themselves know how to write good English, will instruct the lady members in literary style. The successful managing editor will tell them how to manage, and so on throughout each branch. "It is hoped," writes Miss McCabe further, "to make each meeting so helpful that the workers will take away with them something to put to account in their everyday work."

Miss McCabe herself is an Ohio girl and has been writing for the press almost ever since she can remember. Her first magazine article was published in The Popular Science Monthly when she was a mere girl. In the beginning of her journalistic career she wrote to many editors, asking them for work. Instead of work they gave her advice gratis, and it all harped on one moldering string—namely, she should get the maggot of writing out of her head and "stay at home with her good parents." If George Eliot had heeded the advice of experienced editors, I reckon it that she would never have written a line, but would have staid at home with her good parents. But George Eliot did not accept the advice. Neither did Lida Rose McCabe.

For so young a woman Miss McCabe has done a great amount of writing, which has been published in newspapers, magazines and books. At the beginning of her journalistic career she went as a correspondent to Paris. Here she remained a year and a half, living ten years in one, it was said, so far as getting knowledge of Paris and of the French language and ways was concerned. In Paris she was the first correspondent to send to America a detailed account of Mme. Emma Eames' debut as Juliet in the Paris Grand Opera House.

Returning to her native land, Miss McCabe broke into general journalism, doing, as she says, "everything under the sun" for newspapers here and there, wherever she could place her work. This doing everything under the sun on a newspaper is the best possible preparation a young journalist, man or woman, can have.

After her return from Europe Miss McCabe spent considerable time in New York, then set out on a series of journeyings throughout the land, visiting women's colleges and making careful note of the courses of study and of the health and physical training of the students. Her observations were published in a book called "The American Girl at College." Another of her books is "Occupations and Compensations of Women," published in a new edition under the name of "What Women Can Earn." She herself is a notable example of what women can earn with the pen. Among her books is a history of Ohio, with a unique name, "Don't You Remember?" She also lectures on art and is preparing, besides, at present a set of newspaper articles dealing with the business openings for young men in the city of her home. JANE STORY.

New Battleship "Ohio" to Be a Superior Boat

She Will Outclass in Many Ways the Other Big Ships of the United States Navy

ON May 11 the Union iron works, of San Francisco, will launch the battleship Ohio, another notable addition to their already long list of warships for the American navy, which will be a longer stride toward perfection than even her famous predecessors, the Oregon and Olympia.

The ceremony will be witnessed by the president of the United States and cabinet, and the occasion will be seized to attract attention to the Pacific slope and its industries. A committee from Ohio will have among its number Mrs. Worthington E. Babcock, daughter of Gov. Nash of Ohio, who will christen the state's namesake with a bottle of wine made on Middle Bass island near Put-in-Bay.

NEW BATTLESHIP "OHIO" AS IT WILL APPEAR WHEN COMPLETED.

In appearance, the Ohio is identical with the Illinois up to the top of the superstructure; above that the arrangement of the stacks and military-masts brings them in strong contrast with the latter ship's. In gaining the increased speed, the necessity of larger heating surface and boiler-room necessitates the use of three smokestacks placed forward and aft along the center line of the ship, to give the extra draught needed, while in the earlier ships the two stacks are placed side by side.

So far as the armament of the Ohio (and the other two ships, Maine and Missouri,) is concerned, this battleship will be practically identical with the Illinois in its fighting outfit. She will carry four 12-inch breech-loading rifles, paired in Hichborn elliptical turrets forward and aft; 16 six-inch rapid-fire guns in broadside batteries; 24 rapid-fire and machine guns in the secondary battery, mounted at various points throughout the ship as follows:

On the forward bridge, four, placed without exceeding the total weight of engines, boilers and coal, or the space allowed therefor as provided in the department's plans and specifications.

The result was highly satisfactory. The designs submitted after some revision provided in effect an 18-knot vessel 20 feet longer and of 1,000 tons greater displacement, but in other respects conforming to the original plans and specifications, excepting, of course, the changes in design of boilers and engines to meet the additional requirements of power on the weight allowed.

The hulls of the ships are substantially similar to the Illinois type, refined by the added length of 20 feet amidships. The inner bottom extends fore and aft throughout the major length of the vessels and reaches from the keel up to the lower edge of the armor belt, four feet below the normal load water line of 23 feet 6 inches. This double bottom space is divided into the usual watertight subdivisions and is under the reasonable control of powerful pumps. The interior of the vessels is also well cut up by the usual watertight subdivisioning, which is likewise under thorough pumping and drainage control.

The ships have a free-board forward of 19 feet and freeboard aft of 11. The upper deck reaches from the stem aft to the after turret, and as the bow is flared out to a considerable extent. The main purpose is to make the ships drier in a head sea but incidentally it affords ample deck room for various purposes, and more space on the deck beneath.

One very important improvement in the new battleships will be the installation of under-water torpedo tubes. There will be two of these submerged tubes in a single compartment fitted up for the storage of eight 17-foot two on either side of the pilot-house; four on the after bridge, on either side of the boat-deck amidship; two in each of the broadside aft on the lower or berth-deck; one in each broadside forward on the gundeck, and two in each of the fighting-decks, making 20 rapid-fire and machine guns on set mounts, with machine and Colt guns to the number of four. The submerged torpedo tubes are so placed that any accident from a chance shot striking the torpedo when placed in the tube will be next to impossible. For armoring these ships the original 16½-inch Harveyized plating is used, which admits of a broader and longer belt for the same weight of steel.

Believing that the Illinois class represents an efficient type, the department in issuing circulars and plans for the three vessels appropriated for concluded practically to duplicate that class as regards size, speed, armament, etc. It was decided, however, to invite bidders to submit their own designs, offering preference—other things being equal—to bids guaranteeing the highest rate of speed and greatest coal endurance, torpedoes and appliances for handling and operating the same. The war heads will be conveniently stowed in a separate compartment.

The principal dimensions and general features are:

Length on load water line	388 ft. 00 in
Beam, extreme	72 ft. 2.5 in
Draught, at normal displacement	23 ft. 6 in
Displacement, normal	12,500 tons.
Indicated horse power	16,000
Speed, maximum	18 knots.
Coal bunker capacity	2,000 tons.
Complement, officers, seamen and marines, about	600

Considered as a whole, the new designs for battleships, with the slightly lengthened hull and general arrangement of the "Illinois" class with the immense addition in engine power, and with the improved armor and armament likely to be fitted—certainly embody the very best features known to naval science.

It is of special importance that the improvements in design have been accomplished with practically no sacrifice in draught, in which respect these ships will have an advantage of from 18 inches to two feet over vessels of their same class and size in Europe.

Journalistic Changes in Chicago and What They Mean

It takes money and lots of it to start a metropolitan paper; it takes money to run one, and it sometimes costs money to own one. Metropolitan newspapers may be either Anaconda gold mines in disguise, or they may be worked-out Klondike claims. It is when they prove to be the latter that it costs money to own them, and yet even those that do not pay are valuable. There is a certain indescribable something connected with them that is valuable, and it is seldom that a big paper gets so far down in the scale of patronage but that a purchaser can be found for its franchises and good will if they are put on the market.

A Victim of the Latest Trust.

Chicago awakened a few days ago to find that during the night one of its greatest morning dailies had ceased to exist. Where they had been five the day before there were but four of them left. The populace were unable to exactly determine which one was missing at the time, and have not yet fully determined whether it was the Record or the Times-Herald that went out of existence. Mr. Victor S. Lawson, in a neatly-worded announcement, stated that he had become weary of the task of managing two great newspaper properties, and that it was a relief to him to transfer his interests in one of them to Mr. Herman H. Kohlsaat. Mr. Kohlsaat, in another announcement, stated that he had taken over the business, franchises, etc., of the Chicago Record, and that he would consolidate it with the Times-Herald under the heading of the Record-Herald.

"What does it mean?" asked the public, and they received no answer to their query. But the wise ones say, and in the case of newspapers the wise ones usually know, that it is a combine—a trust—in which Mr. Lawson and Mr. Kohlsaat are the principal stockholders. That Mr. Lawson's money remains while his individuality is transferred entirely to the News, and that Mr. Edward B. Noyes, of the Washington Star, whom Mr. Kohlsaat announces has become associated with him as publisher of the consolidated paper, is but the personal representative of Mr. Lawson.

Other Changes Possible.

There might have been, and there still may be, more surprises in store for the Chicago public along the same line. It is said by the wise ones that the combination of the Times-Herald and Record under one management was to be but the first step towards a general combination of Chicago morning papers; that the scheme was to have been carried to the point where there would not be more than three, and if possible but two distinctly morning papers left in the field. The prophets predicted the absorption of the Inter Ocean in the combine with the Herald and Record, or if not that the Inter Ocean was to combine with the Tribune, and efforts were being made to get the Chronicle into the Record-Herald combine. But politics, it is said, prevented the last feature of the programme being carried out, while Mr. Yerkes objected to the first. He owns the Inter Ocean, and proposes to give to it a bit of his own individuality. In a recent interview he stated that he had disposed of his street railway holdings, and proposed to give his attention to the publishing of his newspaper. At the same time, and for the same reason he said he intended to remain a citizen of Chicago, that he would live where he could give his newspaper property his close personal attention.

Unprecedented Circulation the Result.

The case of the former street railway magnate is but another instance of the rich man becoming fascinated with the journalistic bee. Whether the amusement that the bee is affording him is expensive or not is a question probably no one but Mr. Yerkes or some of his business employes could answer intelligently.

Some Reasons for It.

The greatest reason assigned for this combine of Chicago newspapers by the wise ones is the desire to prevent other ambitious publishers from entering the field which is already greatly overcrowded.

Pulitzer Would Come to Chicago.
